Carta Regis Edwardi Tertii, pro Abbate Abbatiæ de Croxton, per Pestilentiam desolatæ, de eo et Conventu ejus a Collectione Decimæ exonerandis.

[Fœd. et Convent. vol. v. p. 729. A. D. 1351. ann. 25 Edw. III. Claus. 25 Edw. III. m. 5.]

Rex, venerabili in Christo patri, G. eadem gratiâ, episcopo Londoniensi, salutem.

Quia ex testimonio quorundam, quibus fidem adhibemus, accepimus quod abbatia de Croxton, ordinis Præmonstratensis, à jurisdictione episcopali exemptâ, nuper per incendium ecclesiæ, et aliarum domorum ejusdem abbathiæ, in non modicâ parte destructa fuit, et per pestilentiam postmodum de hiis, quorum scientiâ et abilitate illa tunc gubernabatur (abbate et priore loci illius duntaxat exceptis) eadem abbatia totaliter extitit desolata.

Quodque dictus abbas, jam nimia infirmitate corporis sui detentus existit, et, quatenus poterit, circa agenda sua dictæ abbatiæ dirigenda, dictusque prior, circa regimen cultus divini et novitiorum, ibidem post dictam pestilentiam, in conventum ibidem receptorum, in tantum sunt occupati, quod idem abbas (quem collectorem decimæ, jam nobis concessæ, in comitatibus Leycestriæ, Northamtoniæ et Bedfordiæ, constituistis) ad decimam illam colligendum, absque subversione dictæ domus, intendere non potest quovismodo.

Quo prætextu, ac pro eo quod dicta abbatia ita ruricalis est, et quasi in deserto sita, quod de salva custodia denariorum, dictam decimam concernentium, facienda timendum esset in eventu,

Ipsos abbatem et conventum, tam pro indempnitate nostra, quam sua, ac aliis quibusdam de causis, de collectione hujusmodi ad præsens volumus exonerari,

Et ideo vobis mandamus quod alium, idoneum et sufficientem, ad dictam decimam, ad opus nostrum, colligendum assignetis; nos de nomine sic per vos assignandi certificantes indilatè;

Et hoc, sub periculo quod incumbit, nullatenus omittatis.

Teste rege, apud Westmonasterium, decimo sexto die Novembris.

Abbey of Leystone, in Suffolk.

THIS Abbey was built by Ranulph de Glanvill, the founder of Butley Priory, A.D. 1182, to the honour of the Virgin Mary. Herein, says Tanner, were fourteen or fifteen Religious, who had yearly revenues at the Suppression worth clearly 181*l.* 17*s.* 1¼*d.*[a]

The Site, with the greatest part of the manors, rectories, and lands belonging to this Monastery were granted, 28th Hen. VIII. to Charles Duke of Suffolk, in whose family the patronage or foundership of this House had been for several generations. The first habitation of the Abbat and Canons being near the sea and inconvenient, Robert de Ufford Earl of Suffolk, about A.D. 1363, built a new Abbey at about a mile distance upon a better situation, which was unfortunately all consumed by fire before A.D. 1389. But, being rebuilt, continued in a flourishing condition till the general Dissolution, when here were fifteen monks.[b] The old Abbey also continued to that time, and had some Religious in it.

Taylor in the Index Monasticus, p. 101, says, This Abbey was endowed with the appropriate Churches or Portions of Aldryngham, Middleton, Leyston, Corton, Theberton, Culpho, Kettleburgh, and the Chapel of Sizewell; and with manors in Leyston, Darsham, Pettaugh, Laxfield, Middleton, and Gleveringhall in Hacheston; a rabbit warren in Leyston, and a mill at Glevering.

Taylor quotes a Manuscript REGISTER of this House in the hands of Mr. Jermyn. There is another Register in the Cottonian Library, Vespas. E. XIV., a small quarto volume of eighty-three leaves.[c]

Taylor says, the old Site of this House is occupied at present by a more recent edifice, the residence of William Tatnall, Esq. The new Site by Lord Huntingfield. Some interesting remains of Leyston Abbey are still standing, chiefly converted into offices of a farm.

There are no Ministers' Accompts of this Abbey in the Augmentation Offic.

Carta Regis Ricardi Secundi, Donationem Manerii des Leystone per Radulfum de Glanvilla in fundatione ejusdem confirmans, &c.

[Pat. 12 Ric. II. p. 1, m. 19.]

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Supplicarunt nobis dilecti nobis in Christo abbas et conventus de Leystone, ut cum tempore præclaræ memoriæ domini Henrici secundi, quondam regis Angliæ, progenitoris nostri defuncti, Radulfus Glanvylla, fundator abbatiæ prædictæ, dedisset eidem abbatiæ, in fundationem ejusdem, manerium de Leystone in comitatu Suffolciæ, cum pertinentiis, unà cum certis ecclesiis, et aliis possessionibus. Habendum et tenendum quondam abbati et conventui loci prædicti, et successoribus suis, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam imperpetuum: ac postmodum dictus progenitor noster, donationem ipsius Radulphi, in hac parte factam, per diversas cartas suas concessisset et confirmasset præfatis nuper abbati et conventui, et successoribus suis, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam imperpetuum. Et jam ita sit, quod advocatio dictæ abbatiæ, per forisfacturam Michaelis de la Pole, nuper comitis Suffolk, qui advocationem prædictam optinuit de dono nostro, in manum nostram devenit; velimus, ex benigna et habundanti gratia nostra, dono dicti fundatoris, et confirmatione præfati progenitoris nostri consideratis, concedere et confirmare eisdem nunc abbati et conventui, et successoribus suis, manerium prædictum, et omnes alias possessiones dictæ fundationis suæ: habendum et tenendum in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam imperpetuum; et ulteriùs concedere præfatis nunc abbati et conventui, et successoribus suis imperpetuum; quod exnunc, in qualibet vacatione dictæ abbatiæ conventus loci illius, pro tempore existens, ad electionem suam convenire, et unum novum abbatem liberè eligere, et ipsum sic debitè electum in abbatem, et pastorem loci prædicti, habere et tenere possint: absque licentia et regio assensu nostro, vel hæredum nostrorum, aut alterius patroni dicti loci pro tempore existentis: Et insuper concedere, quod temporalia abbatiæ prædictæ, de cætero in aliqua vacatione ejusdem in manum nostram, vel hæredum nostrorum minimè capiantur, aut seisiantur; nec quod aliquis vicecomes, escaetor, aut alius officiarius, ballivus, seu minister noster vel hæredum nostrorum, in aliquo se intromittat de abbathia prædicta in aliqua vacatione ejusdem, nec de temporalibus bonis et possessionibus abbatiæ antedictæ; immo, quod dictus conventus et successores sui imperpetuum omnia temporalia dictæ abbatiæ, in qualibet vacatione ejusdem in manibus suis propriis liberè et pacificè habere et tenere, et inde ad voluntatem suam, pro commodo domus prædictæ liberè disponere et ordinare possint, absque impedimento nostri vel hæredum nostrorum, justiciariorum, escaetorum, vicecomitum, aut aliorum ballivorum, seu ministrorum nostrorum, vel hæredum nostrorum quorumcunque, aut alicujus alterius patroni ejusdem abbatiæ pro tempore existentis imperpetuum. Et quod dicti nunc abbas et conventus, vel successores sui, non teneantur dare aut concedere aliquod corrodium sive pensionem, aut aliud hujusmodi onus quodcunque in futurum, alicui personæ, ad mandatum, præceptum, vel rogatum nostrum, vel hæredum nostrorum, aut alicujus alterius patroni ejusdem loci, pro tempore existentis; set quod ipsi et successores sui, de omnibus hujusmodi pensionibus, corrodiis, et aliis hujusmodi oneribus quieti sint et exonerati imperpetuum.

Nos precibus ipsorum nunc abbatis et conventus favorabiliter inclinati, de gratiâ nostra speciali, et de assensu consilii nostri, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, concedimus et confirmamus præfatis nunc abbati et conventui, et successoribus suis, manerium prædictum, et omnes possessiones dictæ fundationis suæ. Habendum in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam imperpetuum. Volentes quod exnunc, in qualibet vacatione dictæ abbatiæ conventus loci illius, pro tempore existens, ad electionem suam licitè convenire, et unum novum abbatem liberè eligere, et ipsum sic debitè electum in abbatem et pastorem loci prædicti habere, et tenere possint, absque licentiâ, et assensu nostro regio, vel hæredum nostrorum, aut alterius patroni dicti loci, pro tempore existentis; et quod temporalia abbatiæ prædictæ de cætero in aliquâ vacatione ejusdem in manum nostram, vel hæredum nostrorum non capiantur, aut seisiantur, nec quod aliquis vicecomes, escaetor, aut alius officiarius, ballivus, seu minister noster, vel hæredum nostrorum in aliqua se intromittat de abbatia prædicta, in aliqua vacatione ejusdem, nec de temporalibus bonis et possessionibus abbatiæ antedictæ; immò, quod dictus conventus et successores sui imperpetuum omnia temporalia dictæ abbatiæ in qualibet vacatione ejusdem in manibus suis propriis licitè et pacificè habere, et tenere, et indè pro commodo domus prædictæ, ad voluntatem suam, liberè disponere et ordinare possint, absque impedimento nostri vel hæredum nostrorum, justiciariorum, escaetorum, vicecomitum, aut aliorum ballivorum, seu ministrorum nostrorum quorumcunque, aut alicujus alterius patroni ejusdem loci, pro tempore existentis, imperpetuum: Et quod nunc abbas et conventus et successores sui non teneantur dare aut concedere aliquod corrodium sive pensionem, aut aliud hujusmodi onus quodcunque, in futurum, alicui personæ ad mandatum, præceptum, vel rogatum nostrum vel hæredum nostrorum, aut cujuscunque alterius patroni ejusdem loci, pro tempore existentis; set quod ipsi et successores sui, de omnibus hujusmodi pensionibus, corrodiis, et aliis oneribus quieti sint et exonerati imperpetuum. Carta Ranulfi de Glamvillâ, de Fundatione Abbathiæ de Leestune.

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, præsentibus et futuris, Ranulfus de Glamvilla, salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, me dedisse et concessisse Deo, et ecclesiæ in honore beatæ Mariæ apud Leestune constructæ, et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, professis, ibidem Deo servientibus, ad abbatiam ibidem construendam, ad ministrandum ibidem imperpetuum, totum manerium de Leestune possidendum in liberâ et purâ, et perpetuâ elemosinâ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et cum ecclesiâ beatæ Margaretæ de Leestune, et cum ecclesiâ S. Andreæ de Aldringeham; quas ecclesias priùs dederam canonicis de Buttele, unde ipsi habent cartam meam et confirmationem domini mei Henrici regis secundi, quas ipsi canonici de Buttele resignaverunt ipsis canonicis de Leestune, coram domino Johanne Norwicensi episcopo, et coram me, et Walkelino archidiacono, et Galfrido capellano, Huberto Walteri, magistro Renerio de Hecham, et magistro Roberto de Waxtone, et Jordano de Ros, et magistro Lamberto, et Simone de Scales, et magistro Waltero de Calnâ, et Rogero de Glamvilla; et Osberto et Gerardo; et Galfrido filio Petri, et Alano de Valeines, et aliis multis. Quod manerium venerabilis dominus meus rex Anglorum Henricus secundus mihi dedit pro servicio meo. Quando autem eosdem canonicos ibidem fundavi, concesserunt, et in veritate promiserunt, quod nullam terram ement vel in vadium, vel ad firmam, vel aliquo alio modo recipient, nisi quæ eis grata collata fuerint in liberâ elemosinâ: et quod non capient, vel auferent ab aliquo hominum, qui tunc temporis, quando eos ibidem fundavi in eadem villa manserunt, vel â successoribus suis aliquid de aliquo tenementorum suorum, quod tunc temporis tenuerunt; sed omnia tenementa sua, eis et successoribus eorum pertinentia, tenere benè et in pace, per servicia ad ipsa tenementa sua pertinentia. Hanc autem donationem feci eis, pro salute memorati domini mei illustris regis Henrici, et pro salute animæ meæ, et Berthæ uxoris meæ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum nostrorum. Quare volo et concedo, quod præfati canonici, totum præfatum manerium de Leestune, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et cum præfatis ecclesiis, habeant et teneant in libera et pura et perpetua elemosina, benè et in pace, liberè et quietè, et integrè, et honorificè, et plenariè; in boscis et plano; in pratis et pascuis; in stagnis, et molendinis; in piscariis, et turbariis, et mariscis, et juncariis; in viis et semitis, et omnibus aliis locis, et aliis rebus, cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus ad ipsum manerium pertinentibus. Confirmatio Ricardi Cantuariensis Archiepiscopi, Cartam Regis Ricardi primi recitans.

Ricardus Dei gratia Cantuariensis archiepiscopus, totius Angliæ primas, universis Christi fidelibus salutem in Domino: Noverit universitas vestra nos inspexisse, et nostris manibus bajulasse cartam domini Ricardi regis Angliæ, sub hac forma. "Ricardus Dei gratia rex Angliæ, dux Normanniæ, Aquitanniæ, comes Andegaviæ, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, ministris, et omnibus ballivis suis totius Angliæ, Francis et Anglicis, præsentibus et futuris, salutem. Sciatis nos, ad petitionem fidelis nostri Ranulfi de Glanvilla, concessisse et hac præsenti carta nostra confirmasse donationem, quam idem Ranulfus fecit Deo et ecclesiæ, in honore beatæ Mariæ, apud Leystone constructæ, et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis ibidem Deo servientibus, ad abbathiam ibidem construendam, ad ministrandum ibidem imperpetuum, de toto manerio de Leystone possidendo, in libera et pura et perpetua elemosina, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et cum ecclesia beatæ Margaretæ de Leystone; et cum ecclesia S. Andreæ de Aldringeham; quas ecclesias præfatus Ranulfus prius dederat canonicis de Buttele, unde ipsi habent cartam ipsius Ranulphi, et cartam confirmationis nostri patris, quas ipsi canonici de Buttele resignaverunt ipsis canonicis de Leystone; quod manerium pater noster priùs dederat memorato Ranulfo de Glanvill, fideli nostro, pro bono servicio suo. Concedimus et confirmamus concessionem et promissionem, quam præfati canonici de Leystone fecerunt eidem Ranulfo, quando eos ibidem fundavit; scilicet, quod nullam villam vel terram ement; vel in vadium, vel ad firmam, vel aliquo alio modo recipient, nisi quæ eis gratis collata fuerit in liberâ elemosinâ. Et quod non capient, vel auferent ab aliquo hominum, qui tunc temporis, quando eo fundavit, in eadem villâ manserunt, vel successoribus eorum aliquid de aliquo tenementorum suorum, quod tunc temporis tenuerunt; sed omnia sua, eis et successoribus eorum permittent tenere benè et in pace, per servicia quæ ad ipsa tenementa pertinent. Præterea concessimus, et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Leystone, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes donationes terrarum, et hominum, et elemosinarum, quæ eis rationabiliter factæ sunt in ecclesiis, et omnibus aliis rebus et possessionibus. Quare volumus, et firmiter præcipimus, quod prædicti canonici, et eorum homines, omnes terras et possessiones et elemosinas suas habeant et teneant cum socâ et sacâ, et tol et theam, et infangenetheof, et cum omnibus aliis libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus, et quietantiis suis, in bosco et plano, et pratis et pascuis, in aquis et molendinis, in viis et semitis; in stagnis et vivariis, et mariscis et piscariis, et grangiis et virgultis, infra burgum et extra, et in omnibus rebus, et in omnibus locis, solitas libertates, et quietas de sectis schirarum, et hundredorum, et placitorum, et querelarum; et de pecuniâ dandâ pro forisfacto de murdre; et wapentachiis; et de scutagiis; et de geldis et denegeldis, et hidagiis, et assisis; et de operationibus castellorum, et parcorum, et pontium, et calcetorum, et de fredwite; de hengenewitâ; et de flemenesfrentâ; et de hamsocnâ, et de warpani; et de averpani; et de blodwite; et de fredwitâ, et legwitâ; et de hundredepani; et de tetingpani, nisi in introitu. Et sint quieti ipsi et homines sui per totam terram nostram de omni theloneo, et de omnibus rebus, quas ipsi canonici, vel homines sui poterint assecurare, quod emant vel vendant eas ad proprios usus canonicorum ipsorum, vel hominum suorum, absque venditione ulteriùs faciendâ. Et de passagiis, et de pontagiis; et de lestagiis et stallagiis, et de omni seculari servicio et opere servili, et exactione; et omnibus aliis occasionibus, et consuetudinibus secularibus, exceptâ solâ justicia mortis et membrorum. Hæc omnia eis concessimus in perpetuam elemosinam pro Dei amore, et salute animæ nostræ, et anima regis patris nostri Henrici, et omnium antecessorum suorum, et successorum nostrorum. Testibus, H. episcopo Dunelmensi, Ric. Londonensi, God. Wintoniensi, Huberto Saresburiensi electis: Willielmo comite Arundeliæ, Willielmo de Sancto Johanne, G. filio Petri, Hugone Bard. Privilegium Lucii Papæ.

Lucius episcopus, servus servorum Dei, dilectis filiis Roberto abbati S. Mariæ de Leestone, ejusque fratribus, tam præsentibus quàm futuris regularem vitam professis imperpetuum. Religiosam vitam eligentibus apostolicum convenit adesse præsidium, ne fortè cujuslibet temeritatis incursus, aut eos à proposito revocet, aut robur (quod absit) sacræ religionis infringat. Ea propter dilecti in Domino filii vestris postulationibus clementer annuimus, et præfatam ecclesiam vestram, in qua divino mancipati estis obsequio, sub beati Petri, ac nostra protectione suscipimus, et præsentis scripti privilegio communimus. Inprimis siquidem statuentes, ut ordo canonicus, qui secundùm Deum et beati Augustini regulam, atque institutionem Præmonstratensium fratrum in eodem loco institutam esse dinoscitur, perpetuis ibidem temporibus inviolabiliter observetur. Præterea quascunque possessiones, quæcunque bona eadem ecclesia vestra in præsentiarum justè et canonicè possidet, aut in futurum, concessione pontificum, largitione regum vel principum, oblatione fidelium, seu aliis justis modis, præstante Domino, poterit adipisci, firma vobis, vestrisque successoribus et illibata permaneant; in quibus hiis proprios duximus exprimenda vocabulis. Locum ipsum in quo præfata ecclesia sita est, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; ex dono Ranulfi de Glamvilla totum manerium de Leestune, cum omnibus pertinentiis et consuetudinibus, sicut ejusdem Ranulfi donatoris carta testatur.

Sanè novalium vestrorum, quæ propriis manibus, aut sumptibus colitis, sive de nutrimentis animalium vestrorum, nullus à vobis decimas exigere vel extorquere præsumat. Liceat quoque vobis clericos vel laicos è seculo fugientes, liberos et absolutos ad conversionem vestram recipere, et eos in monasterio vestro, sine contradictione qualibet retinere.

Prohibemus insuper, ut nulli fratrum vestrorum, post factam in loco vestro professionem, fas sit, absque abbatis sui licentiâ, de claustro vestro discedere; discedentem verò, sine communium literarum cautione retinere. Cum autem generale interdictum terræ fuerit, liceat vobis, clausis januis, exclusis excommunicatis eti nterdictis, non pulsatis campanis, submissâ voce divina officia celebrare. Paci quoque et tranquillitati vestræ paternâ solicitudine providere volentes, auctoritate apostolica constituimus, ut nullus infra ambitum locorum, seu grangiarum vestrarum, furtum, vel rapinam committere, violentiam facere, ignem apponere, seu hominem capere, vel interficere audeat. Obeunte verò te nunc ejusdem loci abbate, vel tuorum quolibet successorum, nullus ibi qualibet subreptionis astutia, seu violentia præponatur, nisi quem fratres, communi consensu, vel fratrum major pars consilii sanioris, secundùm Dei timorem, et beati Augustini regulam providerint eligendum. Sepulturam quoque ipsius loci liberam esse concedimus, ut eorum devotioni, et extremæ voluntati, qui se illic sepeliri deliberaverint, nisi fortè excommunicati vel interdicti sint, nullus obsistat; salva tamen justicia illarum ecclesiarum à quibus mortuorum corpora assumuntur. Decernimus ergo, ut nulli omnino hominum liceat præfatam ecclesiam vestram temerè perturbare, aut ejus possessiones auferre, vel ablatas retinere, minuere, seu quibuslibet vexationibus fatigare, sed omnia integra conserventur, eorum, pro quorum gubernatione ac sustentatione concessa sunt, usibus omnimodis profutura; salva sedis apostolicæ autoritate, et diœcesani episcopi canonica justicia. Si qui igitur in futurum ecclesiastica, secularisve persona, hanc nostræ constitutionis paginam sciens contra eam temere venire temptaverit, secundò, tertiòve commonita, nisi reatum suum digna satisfactione correxerit, potestatis, honorisque sui dignitate careat, reamque se divino judicio existere de perpetrata iniquitate cognoscat, et à sacratissimo corpore et sanguine Dei, et Domini redemptoris nostri Jesu Christi aliena fiat, atque in extremo examine divinæ ultioni subjaceat. Cunctis autem eidem loco sua jura servantibus, sit pax Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatinus et hic fructum bonæ actionis percipiant, et apud districtum Judicem premia æternæ pacis inveniant; Amen.

Abbey of Beauchief, in Derbyshire.

TANNER calls this Abbey De Bello Capite, or Beauchief, near Norton; and says it was founded for Premonstratensian or White Canons, A.D. 1183, by Robert fil. Ranulphi, lord of Alfreton, one of the executioners of Thomas Becket archbishop of Canterbury,[a] to whom, canonized, this Monastery was dedicated.

Dr. Pegge, a learned and laborious antiquary, has written the History of Beauchief Abbey in a quarto Volume: and he controverts Tanner's testimony as to the founder being one of the murderers of Thomas Becket. It is very clear, he adds, that the House was founded between the years 1172 and 1176; for Becket, the patron saint, was not canonized before the former year, and Albinus abbat of Derby, who is one of the witnesses to the charter of foundation, was dead in 1176. The House, he continues, was not sacred solely to St. Thomas; for, as was usual, the Virgin Mary was associated with him.

The original canons of this House, Dr. Pegge says, were brought from Welbeck; they appear to have been thirteen in number. He also gives an Account of the Patrons, and

The following is Dr. Pegge's List of the

Dr. Pegge gives an account first of the spiritual, then of the temporal estate of this House, both in very minute detail,[a] to which the reader is referred.

Abbat Sheffield surrendered this Abbey to King Henry the Eighth, 4th February, 27th Hen. VIII. A.D. 1536. In the Valor Ecclesiasticus of the preceding year the revenues of this House are thus summed up: "Monasterium Sancti Thomæ Martyris de Bello Capite fundat. per Antecessores Johannæ Fitzwilliam, dominæ Annæ Meering, et Thomæ Babyngton. Summa totalis Spiritualium et Temporalium 157*l.* 10*s.* 2*d.* Summa totalis Resolutionum 31*l.* 6*s.* 11*d.* Summa totalis de claro 126*l.* 3*s.* 3*d.*"[b]

The Site of Beauchief was granted in the 28th Hen. VIII. to Sir Nicholas Strelley. The successors in its possession will be found in Pegge.

Two SEALS of this Priory are extant; both of an oval form. One represents two figures in gothic niches, evidently of the Virgin Mary and Becket, with the half figure of an Abbat with his crozier in the exerque: circumscribed, SIGILL . ABBATIE . DE . BELLO . CAPITE. The other containing in the area a representation of Becket's murder, with another half figure of an abbat below: inscribed, S. COM . . . . TI . THOME . MARTYRIS . DE BEAVCHEF.

The REMAINS of Beauchief Abbey are small and imperfect; consisting chiefly in a portion of the Abbey Church.

De Fundatione ejusdem.

[Ex Collect. S. Low Kniveton, arm.]

Robertus filius Rannulfi, dominus de Alfretona, Nortona, et Marnham, fuit unus de quatuor militibus, qui beatum Thomam, Cantuariensem archiepiscopum martirizavit; et postea monasterium de Bellocapite fundabat, in expiatione hujuscemodi facinoris, tempore regis Henrici secundi.

Istius Roberti filius fuit Willielmus, dominus et baro de Alfreton, Norton, et Marnham, tempore regis Ricardi primi; qui genuit Robertum de Alfreton, baronem de Alfreton, qui per Agnetem uxorem ejus habuit exitum Thomam filium et hæredem, baronem de Alfreton; qui sine prole defunctus, reliquit hæreditatem suam tribus sororibus; videlicet, Aliciæ, uxori Gulielmi de Cadurcis militis, filii Gulielmi de Cadurcis (vulgò Chaworthe), Amiciæ nuptæ Roberto filio Ricardi Lathom, domino de Lathom in comitatu Lancastriæ, antecessori comitum Derbiæ, et Leticiæ, quæ obiit sine prole.

Abbey of Blancland or Alba landa, in Northumberland.

THIS House was founded, according to the Chronicle of Mailros, in 1165, by Walter de Bolebec, to the honour of the Virgin Mary. Tanner says, Herein were fourteen canons just before the Dissolution, when its yearly income was taxed according to Speed, probably the gross income, at 44*l.* 9*s.* 1½*d.*; according to Dugdale at 40*l.* 9*s.* It was surrendered to the King 18th Dec. 31 Hen. VIII. The Site was granted in the 37th Hen. VIII. to John Bellow and John Broxholm.[a]

There are some small REMAINS of this Abbey, beside an ancient Gateway, still existing.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem per Walterum de Bolebec.

[Cart. 54 Hen. III. m. 13. per Inspex. Vide Cart. 9 Edw. II. n. 54.]

OMNIBUS, &c. Walterus de Bolebek salutem. Notum vobis facio me concessisse et dedisse, et hac meâ cartâ confirmâsse Deo et S. Mariæ Virgini et conventui xii. canonicorum ordinis Præmonstratensis, nisi consilio domini episcopi et advocati ejusdem loci, ultra prædictum numerum aliquis ibidem recipiatur, totam terram inter has divisas; scilicet à Derwenta per burnam de Akedene, contra montem, usque ad parvam Akedene; et inde per parvam Akedene, contra montem, usque ad capud Widenes; et inde usque ad Carres; et de Carres, per capud Bradeshagh, usque in Silvedene-Burneham; et ex alterâ parte, per Silvedene-Burneham, contra montem, usque ad vadum viæ Corbrig; et sic contra vallem, per viam Corbrigiæ, usque in Derwentam; et inde per Derwentam, usque ad prædictam Akedene, in silvis, in planis, in pratis, in pascuis, in stagnis, in aquis, in molendinis ad faciendam abbaciam.

Præterea dedi eis duas ecclesias; scilicet de Herla et de Bywell, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; scilicet capellâ de Stiford, capellâ de Shotleya, et capellâ de Appeltreleya. Interim verò trado eis molendinum de Shotleya, ea conventione, ut cum reciperent ecclesiam de Bywell, reddant mihi molendinum. Concessi quoque eis decimas de villa Wilwardhope, et decimos pisces de stagno meo de Stiforde, soluta decima ad ecclesiam pertinente. Omnia hæc prænominata dedi eis et concessi, pro salute animæ meæ et antecessorum meorum in perpetuam elemosinam, ita liberam et quietam, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs et quietiùs dari vel teneri potest. T. domino Hugone Dunelmensi episcopo, G. priore et conventu Dunelm. Willielmo archidiacono, Simone camberlano, Adam de S. Egidio, Walkelino decano, Ricardo de Colinham, Willielmo de Hovedone.

Carta Hugonis de Bolebec, de Terris diversis, per metas concessis.

[Ibid.]

OMNIBUS, &c. Hugo de Bolebek salutem. Notum habeat universitas vestra, me dedisse, &c. Deo et S. Mariæ et abbatiæ meæ de Blancalanda, et canonicis et fratribus ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram, perpetuam, et liberam elemosinam, totam terram in usus proprios ad libitum suum excolendam, et ad omnia aisiamenta sua quæ in eam habere poterunt infra ista divisas; scilicet à Derwenta sicut Wlwardeshope cadit in Derwentam, et sic sursum ad rivulum usque ad capud de Wulwardhope; et de capite de Wulwardhope usque ad Sessinghopelowe, et de Sessinghopelowe, usque ad capud de Silvingdene; et inde descendendo, usque ad viam de Corebrigge, in augmentum terræ prædictæ abbaciæ in proprios usus antiquitùs optentæ, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs potest dari et quietiùs possideri. Et præterea concessi, et præsenti carta mea confirmavi prædictis canonicis et fratribus communem pasturam ad usum pecuniæ suæ, à Derewenta usque ad divisas de Slaueleye, in quantum terra mea extenditur in latum; et versùs orientem, usque ad terram domini Hugonis de Bayllol; et versùs occidentem, in quantum terra mea extenditur; scilicet in Harewode et in Redeleme, et in Tunge, cum pertinentiis in bosco et in plano et in morâ et ubique excepto Sessinghope; scilicet per has divisas, à capite de Langhevede usque ad Standandestane; et de Standandestane, per viam quæ ducit versùs occidentem usque in Beldene. Et sciendum est quod ego H. et hæredes mei, villa et ædificia et wannagia, ad libitum nostrum in illis terris prænominatis, scilicet in Harewode, et in Redeleme, et in Tunge, cum pertinentiis, faciemus. Et sciendum est quod ego H. et hæredes mei faciemus in Heselwode unam vacariam ad usus nostros proprios, et claudemus xl. acras terræ, ad excolendum, vel ad tensandum ad libitum nostrum, ita tamen quod prædicti canonici et fratres habebunt liberum inter . . . . . . ad usum pecuniæ suæ, mecum et cum hominibus meis, in suâ communi pasturâ prænominatæ terræ, excepto Sessinghope, per prænominatas divisas. Et sciendum est, quod prædicti canonici et fratres de . . . . villis et ædificiis et wannagiis, quæ ego H. et hæredes mei in illis prænominatis terris fecerimus, decimas et omnia jura ecclesiastica percipiant, salvo jure capellæ meæ et hæredum meorum. Abbey of Newbo, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this Newbo or Newboth. An Abbat and Convent of Premonstratensian Canons were placed here, A.D. 1198, by Richard de Malebisse, in a Monastery dedicated to the blessed Virgin. The advowson of this House, in the 5th Richard IId, appertained to the Honor and Castle of Eye Suffolk.[a] Herein, about the time of the Suppression, Tanner says, were eight canons, whose estate was valued, in the 26th Hen. VIIIth, in the gross sum, at 115*l.* 11*s.* 8*d.*; subject to reprises, at 71*l.* 8*s.* 1½*d.* per annum. The site was granted in the 29th Hen. VIIIth to Sir John Markham.[b]

The COMMON SEAL of this Abbey, with its counterpart, is engraved in Nichols's History of Leicestershire, vol. ii. pl. v. fig. 7.

Lavenden Abbey, in Buckinghamshire.

THE Premonstratensian Abbey of Lavenden was built and endowed by John de Bidun, to the honour of St. Mary and St. John Baptist, about the latter end of the reign of Henry the Second. Tanner says, herein were, a little before the Dissolution, ten or eleven canons, whose yearly income amounted in the gross in the 26th Hen. VIIIth to 91*l.* 8*s.* 3½*d.*; in the clear receipts to 79*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.* The site, together with the abbey manor, was granted in 1544 to Sir Edmund Peckham, who had for some years been lessee under the Crown; and afterwards to Sir Rowland Heywood. When the Messrs. Lysons wrote their Account of Buckinghamshire in the Magna Britannia, the abbey manor or Lavenden Grange was the property of the rev. Simon Adams.[a]

The following names of ABBATS of this House occur: Augustine, 1236. Jordan, 1254 and 1271. John de Lathbury, el. 1312. Robert Helmeden, 1478. William Curlew, 1491. William Calys, 1535.

There are no remains of the conventual buildings now existing, which, by the report of the Commissioners, appear to have been in ruins in 1534, before the Monastery was dissolved.

Wendling Abbey, in Norfolk.

WILLIAM DE WENDLING clerk was the builder of Wendling Abbey, for Premonstratensian canons, before the 52d year of Henry the Third. It was dedicated to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary. The different benefactions to this House were confirmed by King Edward the Third in 1332. Taylor says, to the endowment belonged six lordships, and the patronage, advowsons, &c. of eight churches. Among the benefactors were Sir Robert de Stotevile and Sir Jordan Foliot, knights, before 1273; the Lady Margaret Foliot, 1330; and Sir John Fastolf, knight, 1459.

This Abbey was dissolved by Pope Clement the Seventh's bull in 1528, and granted to Cardinal Wolsey toward the endowment of his new Colleges. After the Cardinal's fall it was granted in 1546, by King Henry the VIIIth, to Christ Church College Oxford, the dean and chapter of which are its present possesssrs. Tanner says the Site was granted, 35 Hen. VIII., to Robert Hogan, and in 16 Eliz. to Ed. Dyer and H. Cressener.[a]

No SEAL of Wendling has been discovered.

Abbey of Hagneby, in Lincolnshire.

THIS Abbey was built by Herbert fil. Alardi de Orreby and the lady Agnes his wife, A.D. 1175, for Premonstratensian Canons, and dedicated to the then new saint Thomas of Canterbury. Tanner says, here were, a little before the Suppression, nine Canons, whose possessions, in the 26th Hen. VIII., were valued in the gross at 98*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.*, in net income at 97*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* EDMUND TOFTE was the las abbat.[a]

NUM. I.

De Fundatoribus et præcipuis ejusdem Cœnobii Benefactoribus.

[Ex Chron. de Hagneby, in bibl. Cottoniana (sub effigie Vespasiana, B. 11.)]

ECCLESIA fundata est apud Hagneby, in honore beati Tho. martyris, et archiepiscopi Cantuariensis à dominâ Agnete de Orreby, tempore Henrici regis secundi, anno regni sui xxii.

[Ann. 6 Ric. I.]

[Ann. 16 Joh.]

Obitus Agnetis de Orreby fundatricis ecclesiæ de Hagneby, xvii. kal. Dec., et jacet tumulata apud Hagneby, in capitulo, juxta Herbertum virum suum.

[Ann. 3 Hen. III.]

[Ann. 23 Hen. III.]

Johannes de Orreby dedit ecclesiæ de Hagneby redditum quatuor solidorum.

[Ann. 41 Hen. III.]

[Ann. 52 Hen. III.]

Concessit dominus Ricardus episcopus Lincolniæ ecclesiam de Hancy, abbati et conventui ecclesiæ beati Thomæ martyris de Pratis, in proprios usus.

Ratificata est donatio domini Ricardi episcopi Lincolniæ super ecclesiam de Hancy, abbati et conventui de Hagneby, à decano et capitulo matricis ecclesiæ Lincoln.

[Ann. 57 Hen. III.]

Emit abbas de Hagneby, scilicet Johannes de Barwe, boscum de Thoresby à domino Philippo de Caletoft; et confirmata est per cartam domini Henrici de Lacy comitis Lincolniæ; pro cujus emptione vendidit dictus abbas, ex consensu conventus, domos quos habebat in S. Botulfo.

[Ann. 4 Edw. I.]

Johannes abbas de Hagneby acquisivit cartam libertatis à domino Philippo de Kyme, omnium terrarum quas habuerunt de feodo suo, die S. Margaretæ virginis, scilicet xiii. kal. Augusti, die Lunæ.

[Ann. 9 Edw. I.]

Facta fuit finalis concordia, in curâ regis apud Lincolniam, inter Hugonem de Fenneby, et Aviciam filiam Wigoti de Wald-Neuton, et abbatem de Hagneby, hoc modo. Hæc est finalis concordia facta anno ix. Edw. I. inter Johannem abbatem quærentem, et Aviciam filiam Wigoti de Wald-Neuton deforciantem, de tribus carucatis terræ cum pertinentiis in Hagneby, et Fuglestorpe, esse jus abbatis et ecclesiæ suæ.

Item terminata est lis, inter dominam Johannam de Steping, et Radulphum de Trihamton, de manerio de Stepinge, quod tenet de dono dominæ Agnetis de Percy sororis suæ.

Abbey of Le Dale, or de Parco Stanley, in Derbyshire.

TANNER says, Serlo de Grendon, temp. Hen. II.,[a] first placed a Prior and convent of black canons here in Depedale, from the Monastery of Calke, but they continued not long, and were succeeded by two sets of Premonstratensians, one from Tupholm, the other from Welbeck; but these, also, forsaking the old place, upon part of the neighbouring park at Stanley, William Fitz Rauf,[b] seneschal of Normandy, and Jeffrey de Salicosa Mara, who married Maud his daughter, founded, A.D. 1204,[c] an Abbey of the Premonstratensian Order, from Newhouse, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary. In the 26th Hen. VIIIth the clear value of this House was rated at 144*l.* 12*s.*[d]

The Abbats of Stanley, as recorded in the Cottonian Manuscript Vespas. E. xxvi. fol. 168, were Walter de Senteney the first abbat, for thirty-one years. William, two years. John Grauncorth, nineteen years and thirty-nine weeks. Hugh de Lincolne, fourteen years. Simon, five years and eleven days. Laurence, sixteen years and a quarter.[e] Richard de Normanton, eight years and ten days. John de Lincoln, six years. Richard de Normanton again, for one year and thirty-eight weeks. John Horsley, twenty-six years and forty-five weeks. John Wodhouse, fifteen weeks. William Horsley, twenty-one years and forty-one weeks. Roger de Kyrketon, three years and twenty-eight weeks. William de Boney, forty-two years and thirteen weeks. Henry Monyasche, for thirty-nine years and eleven weeks. John Spondon, thirty-three years. John Stanley, twenty-two years. Richard Notyngham, for nineteen years. Such is the Series of Abbats in the MS., comprising a period of three hundred and forty-three years nine weeks and twenty-two days.

John Stanton was the last abbat.[f] He, with sixteen canons of his House, surrendered this Abbey to the King, Oct. 20th, 1539.

The Site was granted in the 35th Hen. VIII. to Francis Poole.

There are two Manuscripts in the Cottonian Library in the British Museum relating to this Abbey: One, "Registrum Cartarum Abbatiæ," a quarto Manuscript on vellum of 190 leaves, the charters in which are arranged under the places to which they relate.[g] Toward the close comes the List of Abbats which has been already quoted; and in a later hand than the Register itself, the "Historia Monasterii de Parco Stanley," which forms the second Manuscript alluded to in the Volume Julius, C. vii. fol. 265. Both of these are noticed in Tanner's Notitia Monastica.[h]

The COMMON SEAL of Stanley Park, alias Dale, had for its Subject, the Blessed Virgin and Divine Infant, and underneath them a Monk praying, with this Legend, S . ECCLESIE . SANCTE . MARIE . DE . PARCO . STANLEE. An Impression of the reign of Hen. VIII. is in the possession of one of the Editors of this Work.

gentem elegit, et à quibus ante adventum nostrorum Præmonstratensium, inhabitatus fuit, et per quos vel quo modo, ordo noster hic primò dextera Dei plantatus fuerat, prout à prædecessoribus nostris et aliis, qui ea benè noverunt, quæ dicturus sum veraci relatione, cognovi, fideli stilo breviter commendare curabo, ut narrent posteri laudes Domini, et virtutes ejus, et mirabilia ejus, quæ fecit in isto loco. Sed precor te, quicumque hæc legeris, ne me reprehendas, quod istud opusculum intemptatum à tam præclaris viris, qui nos præcesserunt in via hac, qua ambulamus, attemptare præsumo; sed qua mente id facio agnoscas; non enim alicujus levitatis aut temeritatis ausu illud aggredior, sed vera humilitate et mera caritate, ut habeant minores nostri, et alii qui voluerint, notitiam de præteritis factis in loco isto, diebus patrum nostrorum prædictorum; quæ, si per negligentiæ vicium non forent scripto commendata, posteris essent incognita. Lege igitur patienter; et cum perlegeris, si in ipso opusculo aliqua certa repereris emendatione condigna, esto quæso caritativus corrector, et non præsumptuosus depravator; quia[1] nullo modo bonus esse poterit emendator, qui semper est sinistræ partis interpretator. Sed quia sunt plerique qui ipsorum scriptis, sine causa, derogare congaudent, ego invocata Spiritus Sancti gratia, talium oblatratus, non verens Syrenarum voces, Ulyssis exemplo, aure surda] pertransibo. Nomen meum meritis legentium conscribi faciat Altissimus in libro viventium. Volenti tamen illud scire, de facili constare poterit per literas capitulares.

Honorificum reor esse in exordio primi capituli, breviter aliquid in laude virorum fortium texere, qui me, vocante Deo, ad habitum regularem receperunt inter se; cur enim hoc eos non laudet in terris, quos vita sanctissima venerabilem duxit ad mortem, et Christus jam fæliciter in cœlis coronavit. Ego igitur inter pueritiæ juventutisque flores, à patre meo datus ad serviendum Deo, et piæ genitrici ejus virgini Mariæ in loco hoc habitum suscepi, ab abbate Johanne Grauncorth patre venerabili, Deo et hominibus amabili, qui socius erat specialissimus beati Augustini de Lavenden. Hii duo in diebus suis splendiderunt in ordine, ut Lucifer et Hesperus in cœli cardine. Fuerunt eo tempore istius sancti cœnobii viri sine querela, ante Deum degentes; splendidas virtutum vestes gerentes; vultum angelicum habentes; caritate mutua ferventes, Domino Jesu Christo devotè servientes. Quis fratris Galfridi de Gawell, fratris Rogeri de Derby, cæterorumque virtutes enumerare sufficiet? Talem patrem, tales decebat habere filios. In illorum magnitudine virtutum exprimenda, si mihi Homeri seu Maronis facunda adesset loquacitas, puto succumberet. Quatuor ante annos et amplius, inter eos, jam veterana in congregatione, cum nobilis matrona domina Matilda de Salicosamora, ecclesiæ nostræ fundatrix, cujus memoria in benedictione est, venerit ad nos de partibus Lindesey, senex et plena dierum; quia sciens tempus vocationis suæ ex hoc mundo celeriùs appropinquare, exitum suum orationibus tam sanctorum virorum Deo diposuerat commendare. Accersitoque coram eâ, quadam die, sacro conventu, spaciandi gratiâ, factâ mentione de primis hujus loci habitatoribus, sequentem coram omnibus intulit narrationem.

"Oris," inquit, "mei verba audite, filii me carissimi, et narrabo vobis fabulam; non fabulam, sed rem certissimè gestam. Fuit quidam pistor in Derby, in vico qui dicitur Sanctæ Mariæ. Habebat tunc temporis ecclesia beatæ Mariæ de Derby magnam parochiam, et ecclesia de Canore fuit ei subjecta et capella. Eratque dictus pistor altero modo Cornelius, vir religiosus et timens Deum, ita bonis operibus suis intentus, ut quicquid præter suum suorumque victum et vestitum, et domus necessaria per septimanam quærere posset, Sabato ad ecclesiam beatæ Mariæ deferret, et pauperibus pro amore Dei et beatæ Mariæ virginis erogaret. Cumque talibus piis exercitiis vitam duceret per plures annos, essetque Deo charus et acceptus, placuit Deo ipsum perfectiùs probare, et probatum gloriosiùs coronare. Accidit quoque, ut quadam die in autumpno, cum meridiano sompno se dedisset; apparuit ei in sompnis beata virgo Maria, dicens, 'Elemosinæ tuæ acceptæ sunt coram filio meo et me. Set modò si vis perfectus esse, relinque omnia quæ habes, et vade apud Depedale, et ibi servies filio meo et mihi vitâ solitariâ; et cum cursum tuum fæliciter consummaveris, habebis regnum claritatis, jocunditatis, et fælicitatis æternæ, quod paravit Deus diligentibus se.' Evigilans vir, et divinam erga se factam sentiens bonitatem, Deo et beatæ Virgini consolatrici suæ gratias agens, nemini hominum quicquid locutus est; relictis omnibus quæ possidebat, recessit continuò scienter nescius, ut legitur de beato Benedicto; scienter, quia nomen loci didiscerat; nescius, quia ubi locus esset penitus ignorabat. Vertens igitur iter suum versùs orientem, cum transiret per mediam villam de Stanley, audivit mulierem puellæ cuidam dicentem, 'Tolle tecum vitulos nostros, et mina eos usque Depedale, et festina revertere.' Quo audito, vir admirans gratiam Dei, et quasi propter se hanc vocem factam esse reputans, obstupuit; et accedens propriùs dixit, 'Dic mihi, bona mulier, ubi est Depedale.' Quæ respondit, 'Vade cum puellâ, et ipsa, si vis, ostendet tibi locum.' Quo cum pervenisset, invenit locum palustrem valdè, terram ibidem longèque ab omni habitatione hominum separatam, divertensque se ad euroclustum loci, sub montis latere excidit sibi in petrâ mansiunculam et altare versum ad austrum, quod usque hodie perseverat. Ibique Deo die noctuque serviebat in fame, siti, frigore, et inediâ.

"Magnæ autem potestatis homo quidam nomine Radulfus filius Geremundi, eo tempore dominus erat medietatis villæ de Okebruck, et de Alwaston, cum sokâ. Hic, cum vice quadam à Normanniâ reversus esset in Angliam, placuit sibi visitare terras et nemora sua. Cumque die quadam, ludum quærens, venisset cum canibus suis, venandi gratiâ in boscis suis de Okebruck, stipatus catervâ multâ, appropinquavit loco ubi degebat vir Dei, et videns fumum ignis de speluncâ hominis Dei ascendentem, indignanter præmirabatur, vehementiùs quâ temeritatis fronte auderet aliquis in bosco suo mansionem sibi facere, sine ipsius licentia. Accedens igitur ad locum reperit hominem veteribus panniculis et pellibus indutum. Cum sciscitatus esset ab eo, quomodo, unde, et ob quod ibi venisset; et ille sibi causam diligenter exposuisset, compunctus corde idem Radulphus filius Geremundi, videns ipsius hominis Dei calamitatem, concessit sibi locum: deditque ei decimam molendini sui de Burgo ad ipsius sustentationem. Et ab illo tempore, usque ad hunc diem, remansit ipsa decima fratribus apud Depedale Deo servientibus." Usque hæc verba, prædicta domina Matildis, alia quidem persecuta, quæ suis in locis competenter ordinabuntur.

Antiquus autem generis humani inimicus, mali artifex, videns Christi tironem diversis virtutum floribus vernare, cœpit ei, sicut et cæteris sanctis, invidere, cogitationibus suis crebriùs immittens sæculi vanitatem, vitæ suæ asperitatem, quasi intolerabilem, loci solitudinem, deferrique varias importunitates; sicut Humfridus, quem multi, qui adhuc supersunt, noverunt, non solum mihi, sed et multis aliis narrare consueverat. Hic Humfridus asserere consuevit vicinus fuerat Gome de la Dale, de qua in subsequentibus fiet mentio. Vir autem Domini prædicti serpentis tortuosi virus agnoscens, orationibus assiduis, crebris jejuniis, sanctis meditationibus omnia ejus temptamenta, per Dei gratiam, evacuabat, unde factum est, quod non solum clam, sed et palam totus grassaretur in eum, visibilem cum eo gerens conflictum. Et quia graves fuerunt ei indies assultus inimici ad tolerandum, inmensam sustineret aquæ inopiam, loca propinqua circuiens, non longè a suo loco, versùs occidentem, in valle reperit fontem, juxta quem sibi fecit tugurium, et oratorium in honore Dei, et beatæ Mariæ construxit, ibique vitæ suæ agonem in Dei servicio laudabiliter consumens, de corporis ergastulo fæliciter transivit ad Dominum.

Sed et illud memorabile patribus nostris notissimum, quod circa illa tempora, in loco hoc monstrare dignatus est Dominus, ipso opitulante, monstrabimus. Fuit quidam Uthlagus famosissimus, partes istas frequentans, propter iter commeantium inter Nottingham et Derby per forestam. Erat enim tota patria inter pontem Derby et aquam de Irrewysha, foresta eo tempore. Uthlagus igitur ille, cum in unâ dierum æstivi temporis, super Lyndrike (qui mons est extra portam monasterii nostri, ad occidentem) sederet, sociis suis circa se ludentibus, sopor gravis irruit in eum. Et cum obdormiret, videt in sompno crucem auream stantem in loco, ubi nunc fundata est ecclesia nostra, cujus cacumen cœlos tangebat; extremitates verò brachiorum, usque ad fines orbis terrarum, ex utraque parte se extendebant, de cujus claritatis magnitudine, totus mundus resplenduit; vidit autem, et ex diversis gentium nationibus, homines venientes, et crucem illam devotissimè adorantes. Expergefactus homo, et à sompno evigilans, convocatis sociis suis, narravit eis visionem à Domino sibi revelatam, adjecitque et ait, "Verè, socii mei dilectissimi, vallis ista, quam subter nos cernitis, et monti huic contiguè adjacet, locus sanctus est; verè (inquit) Dominus est in loco illo, et ego nesciebam; filii qui nascentur et exurgent enarrabunt filiis suis magnalia, quæ operabitur Dominus in valle istâ. Vallis (inquit) ista virtutum floribus erit dealbata, plena deliciis, et amœnitate. Venient enim, prout mihi est revelatum, de diversis nationibus, Dominum in valle istâ adoraturi, et ipsi usque in finem seculi, pro temporum successione servituri; et quia Dominus noster Jesus Christus tantum de secretis suis mihi peccatori ostendere dignatus est, ideo sciatis, quod me de cætero, nec socium, nec magistrum habere poteritis; sed, ipsius gratia adjutus, vitam meum ad ipsius voluntatem emendabo." Et osculatis omnibus decessit ab eis, sed quo devenit illis, eo tempore, fuit incognitum. Fuerant quidam, qui dixerunt ipsum apud Depedale ivisse, ibique Domino in secretâ conversatione suo perpetuo servisse, et fælici fine in Domino ibidem quievisse.

Dominus de Bradleye, Serlo de Grindon nomine, miles armis strenuus, divitiis potens, generis eminentiâ conspicuus, accepit in uxorem Margeriam filiam prædicti Radulphi filii Geremundi; et cum ipsâ medietatem villæ de Okebrucke, in liberum maritagium; de quâ genuit tres filias, scilicet Johannam, Isoldham, et Agatham; ad quas demum (proh dolor) descendit hæreditas. Genuit quoque quinque filios, Bertramum, postea canonicum nostrum; Willielmum clericum recolendæ memoriæ, advocatum nostrum; Fulcherum, Jordanum, et Serlonem. Postea accepit in uxorem Matildem nobilem progenie, sed moribus multò nobiliorem, dominam de Celston; de quâ genuit Andream de Grendon, et Radulphum dominum de Boteston, cæteris fratribus militibus. Genuit autem et Robertum, ex concubina; qui fuit armis potentior cæteris. Erant eo tempore Grendonenses famosissimi in terra hac, magnæque potentiæ viri; et habebat prædictus Serlo amitam unam, quæ et mater ejus erat spiritualis; eò quòd eum de sacro fonte susceperat. Huic dedit dictus Serlo, quoad viveret, locum de Depedale, cum pertinentiis; et totam terram cultam et incultam, quæ est inter semitam, quæ extendit à boriali portâ de Boyhag, versùs occidentem, usque ad le Gotkeysiche et Bronesbroke. Et quia tales matres spirituales Anglicè vocantur Gomes, ipsam, communi vocabulo, vocabant the Gome of the Dale. Hæc habebat filium nomine Richardum, bonæ indolis adolescentem, quem sacris literis eruditum, post sacros ordines ritè susceptos, ordinari fecit presbyterum, ut in capellâ suâ de Depedala ministraret in divinis; quod et fecit. Mansio autem ejusdem matronæ fuit in superiori parte orti nostri, versùs austrum, in loco ubi nunc est stagnum, quod vocatur fratris Rogeri de Alisby, ubi cum patres nostri fecerunt illud stagnum, invenerunt in fundo ipsius lapides plures sectos, qui olim fuerant de mansione supradictâ.

Eo tempore cum esset domus de Kalke; mater ecclesiæ de Rependon, volente Deo, qui omnia disposuit, suaviter locum de Depedale, gratiosus exaltare, prædictâ matronâ venerabili consentiente, quin potiùs procurante, dictus Serlo de Grendon convocavit canonicos de Kalke, et illis dedit locum de Depedale. Suscepit autem inter eos habitum regularem prædictus Ricardus capellanus, et sicut narravit mihi Humfridus (de quo superiùs memoriam feci) prior ipsorum canonicorum vocabatur Humfridus; fueruntque sibi socii Nicholaus et Symon, qui fuerat paulo ante conscholaris et sodalis Willielmi de Grendon, apud Parisios; et Ricardus capellanus prædictus, et duo alii, quorum nomina à meâ recesserunt memoriâ. Radicati igitur in eodem loco prædicti canonici et à Deo confortati, ædificaverunt sibi ecclesiam opere sumptuoso, et alias officinas. Humfridus verò prior eorum curiam adivit Romanam, et optimum privilegium, quod adhuc habemus penès nos, super loci confirmatione, sepultura, cantaria etiam tum interdicto supposita, et aliis libertatibus plurimis, impetravit. Tunc cœperunt non solùm de progenie Grendonensium, sed et alii plures nobiles et vulgares, locum de Depedala frequentare, de bonis suis largiter donare, et decedentes corpora sua ibidem requiescunt sepulta, militum ampliùs quam quadraginta, exceptis aliis nobilibus et ingenuis, sexus promiscui, et vulgari populo innumerabili. Requiescit autem ibidem Petrus Cocus de Bathley, anacorita loci illius, sanctæ recordationis, de cujus conversatione sanctâ, quam pro parte novi, et de ejus gestis ab eo et aliis mihi plenâ fide revelatis, in subsequentibus, opitulante Deo, solemnis fiet mentio; et ideo loco illi, ob ipsius sanctitatem, et tantorum Christi fidelium ibidem quiescentia corpora, devotus debetur honor et reverentia.

Multis igitur annorum curriculis, in loco prædicto commorantibus canonicis supradictis, cum essent longè segregati à sociali conversatione hominum, et illis privatim arrideret loci amœnitas, cœperunt remissiùs se habere in Dei servicio, et divinis observantiis; plus enim frequentabant forestam, quàm ecclesiam; plus scurrilitati, quàm animarum utilitati; plus venationi, quàm orationi vel meditationi intendentes: et cum esset tota patria foresta, ut supradictum est, rex audiens eorum insolentiam, eos propter venationem amoveri fecit de loco, illis ante, omnia quæ habebant in manus patroni resignantibus, et ad locum undè exierant regressis, licèt essent necessitate compulsi. Humfridus prior eorum apud le Magdalen secessit, ibique vitam heremiticam multis diebus exercuit. Ego verò credere non possum hoc casualiter factum; sed ipsius consilio, sine quo nec folium arboris ad terram defluit, nec unus passer ad terram cadit. O altitudo sapientiæ et scientiæ Dei! quam incomprehensibilia sunt judicia ejus et investigabiles viæ ejus! quis enim cognovit sensum Domini, aut quis consiliarius ejus fuit? Dominus autem locum, quem elegerat, non sic dereliquit desolatum, quia "Ludit in adversis divina potentia rebus:" paulatim enim cœpit ipsius clementia manum misericordiæ suæ, ad majora et mirabiliora extendere, evulsis sicamoris cedros immutaret, pro nigris recedentibus, albos huc adducens, et collocans Præmonstratenses, ut sequens capitulum declarabit.

Venerunt autem de Tupholme, quæ domus est ordinis nostri, sex canonici apud Depedale moraturi, per loci advocatum vocati; datus fuit verò eis parcus de Stanley in augmentum suæ possessionis; sed quomodo aut per quem, pro parte scio, sed omnino certus non sum; et incerta pro certis scribere, ubi cujusque rei veritas tractatur, absurdum esse censeo. Hoc tamen certissimè scio, quod quidam frater conversus, qui venit cum eis de Tupholme: primus construxit molendinum aquaticum in parco, et stagnum atrichiavit; cum ingenti labore et angustiâ. Prior eorum vocabatur Henricus; et esse eos oportuit, sicut et fuerunt magni laboris, quia multum onerati erant ex frequenti adventu forestariorum et aliorum; nec terram habebant cultam, præter illam quæ olim fuerat supradictæ Gome de la Dale, et Chachemor, unam parvam carucatam. Dominus enim de Okbruk retinuit sibi in dominico rusticos et villulam de Boyahag, quæ sita fuit loco, qui nunc dicitur Boyhag Meadow. Cum igitur moram septem annis in magnâ paupertate ibidem fecissent, summitates quercuum de parco, à medio succidentes, vendiderunt, et acceptâ pecuniâ apud Tupholme, regressi sunt, abbate suo ipsos revocante; sed prædictus Henricus prior eorum, quod subtilis erat valdè in fabricatione falsæ monetæ, secessit apud Totsweth, ibique cohabitabat cum quadam mulierculâ de Morley, quam antea fœtentis libidinis amore cognoverat. Quod audiens ejus abbas, sed et indignè ferens, cum fratribus ad ejus mandatum domum redire contempsit, misit, et per vim eum adduci fecit usque Tupholme; qui dolore cordis suscepto, adeo diabolico instigabatur consilio, quod in balneto calido, de utroque brachio sanguinem minuens, spontaneâ quin potiùs stultâ morte vitam finivit. Sedit igitur sola decolaratè fusca Sion filia, ecclesia de Depedala pristinis suis habitatoribus ad tempus orbata; sed Pater misericordiæ, et Deus totius consolationis, qui locum illum misericorditer elegerat, oculo clementiæ suæ respexit eum, et consolatus est. Ne igitur locus ille, Deo amabilis, et hominibus venerabilis, diutiùs divinis defrauderetur obsequiis, dominus Willielmus de Grendhon (cujus nomen propter suorum prærogativas meritorum, tanquam mel in ore dulcoratum) misit, et accersiri fecit huc canonicos quinque, de Welbeck, ordinis Præmonstratensium: prior illorum vocabatur Willielmus Bensyt sub abbate Ricardo de Suwell, viro utique in temporalibus et spiritualibus admodum experto, quem satis vidit postea apud Welbec domus illius priorem, frater Willielmus de Haynby tunc illius ecclesiæ canonicus, post verò prior sanctæ hujus congregationis, quando habitum suscepit religionis, qui multa de ipso, ædificandi gratiâ, nobis narrare consueverat. Manserunt autem hii prædicti quinque viri, ob ordinis asperitatem, in maximâ paupertate, multas interim et diversas perpessi adversitates. Cumque die quadam unus eorum lampadem ante altare dependentem dehorsum attrahere vellet, mirum in modum omnes in terram cadentes minutatim confractæ sunt: vocatoque priore in auditorio, et acceptâ licentiâ loquendi dicebat, inter cætera, "Eamus hinc, quia nihil nobis evenit prosperum, omnia vergunt in contrarium; et vera dico, quia Dominus nos loco isto indignos judicavit, aut aliis nobis melioribus fortè reservavit;" cujus verba vera facta sunt præsagia futurorum, prout postea rei probavit eventus, et sequens capitulum declarabit.

Post non multum temporis venit apud Depedale, sicut et ante fecerat, abbas memoratus, gratiâ visitandi fratres suos, volens omnia recta esse, et invenit eos pauperrimam vitam agentes, pauca in granario habentes ad pistrinum, pauciora ad camberariam. Quorum necessitatibus vir sanctus condolens, dicebat, molestum esse et injustum videri fratres suos fame et inediâ confundi in deserto, quibus satis sufficienter victus et vestitus necessaria domi providere poterat, secundùm regulæ et ordinis exigentiam. Dum igitur remeâsset ad monasterium, habito cum fratribus diligenti tractatu, ususque consilio saniorum, prædictos fratres apud Depedale commanentes, domi revocavit. Cum hæc agerentur, contigit quod Willielmus filius Radulphi (cujus superiùs memoriam feci) emeret villulam de Stanley, de Nicholao fratre Willielmi Child de Trowell, faciendo sibi servicium quartæ partis feodi unius militis, currente scutagio. Idem Nicholaus tenebat Trowell, Bocolscoute, Lamcotte, Lynsayam, de domino de Cayn, pro scuto integro, qualibet illarum villarum pro Homniis, Leston et Stanford, de quibus ad præsens melius subticere, quia ad propositum non pertinet, quam aliquid indè tractare disposui. Dictus vero Willielmus filius Radulfi, prædictam villam de Stanley dare cogitaverat Galfr. Sawcemere, cum Matildam filiam suam desponsaverit. Sed ipse Galfridus, et uxor ejus, ut Deo devoti, eundem dominum suum adierunt, dicentes, "Benè nosti, domine, quod simul stetimus in conjugio per septem annos, et amplius; et privavit nos Deus fructu uteri nostri, carentes solatio liberorum; et ideo summo opere precamur, quatinus villam de Stanley, quam nobis dare proponitis, Deo offerre et conferre velitis, domum religionis abbati ordinis Præmonstratensium in parco vestro ejusdem villæ fundare, ut ipse altissimus bonorum retributor, Deus, piam humilitatis nostræ devotionem respiciens, nobis optatæ prolis jocunditatem; et vobis ob tale commercium nobisque æternæ vitæ donet fælicitatem." Ut autem vir nobilis eorum corda et cordium suorum consilia à Deo integra et inspirata, eorum justis et honestis petitionibus libenter acquiescens decenter, Willielmum de Grendon, clericum, et sororis suæ filium, dominum de Okebrucke, vocari fecit ad se, et dixit ei. "Domum quandam ordinis Præmonstratensis per consilium amicorum meorum fundare propono in parco meo de Stanley; cui contiguè adjacet antiquus ille locus de Depedala, cujus es patronus, ubi etiam successivè floruit diversorum virorum religiosorum congregatio, qui omnes ingruente quin potiùs compellente eos intolerabili paupertate, locum relinquerunt desolatum; et certissimè scio quod locum illum novellæ plantationi meæ donare volueris, ita inter me et de terris et aliis possessionibus et bonis à Deo nobis concessis providebimus, si mihi Deus concesserit vitam prolixiorem, quod religiosos ibidem evocandos neque mendicare, vel locum mutare deinceps aliqua compellet egestas." Cui Willielmus de Grendon respondit, "Benedictus Deus qui tam pium nobis inspiravit propositum: et benedicti sint a Deo, qui tale nobis dedere consilium; et ideo quod proposuistis in nomine Domini fæliciter, et si placet velociter, cum homines fragiles simus et mortales, inchoetis. Et ego domum de Depedale, cum omnibus pertinentibus, quæ ad me dare pertinet, et quæ unquam aliquo tempore fuerunt nigrorum canonicorum vel alborum olim ibidem commorantium, loci habitatoribus, sub certa spe uberioris gratiæ vestræ novellæ, donabo; ita tamen, quod per unum sacerdotem illius congregationis, singulis diebus imperpetuum, in capellâ de Depedalâ, quam sustinebunt, divina celebrentur obsequia pro animâ meâ, et animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum, et pro animabus omnium ibidem in Christo quiescentium; et in refectorio super mensam majorem, ponatur quotidie una præbenda conventualis, panis et cervisiæ, et companagii pauperibus distribuenda." Cui vir nobilis avunculus suus gratias agens pro concessis, dixit; "Et ego ista omnia inviolabiliter supplebo, et procurabo fieri imperpetuum, et tam hujus rei, quàm de domus fundatione, quia in cismarinis, quàm in transmarinis, circa regia negotia occupatus, talibus vacare non possum, Galfridum de Salicosamarâ, et Matildam filiam meam, uxorem suam, hac in re facio executores, scilicet de loci fundatione et canonicorum revocatione."

Ad mandatum igitur, acceptis cartis, et aliis instrumentis ad domus fundationem necessariis, à prædicto nobili viro Willielmo, abierunt, ad ejus mandatum, dicti Galfridus et Matilda, apud Newhouse, ut indè educerent conventum; erant enim octo illius monasterii virtutum floribus fragrantes, utpote rosa, summæ patientiæ lilio, castitatis præcipuæ viola, cœlestis vitæ contemplatione, quos sic vitæ sinceritas et morum honorat honestas, ut à mari usque ad mare per omnes fines regionis Anglicanæ, illorum sanctitas redoleret.

Dum igitur Galfridus et Matilda, venientes apud Newhouse, invenerunt ibi abbatem, Lambertum nomine, virum totius prudentiæ, in sermone veracem, in judicio justum, in consilio providum, in commisso fidelem, in interventu strenuum, in sobrietate conspicuum, in universa morum honestate præclarum; qui sic suos subditos vitæ cœlestis dulcedine informaverat, ut veraciter dicere possent cum apostolo, "nostra conversatio est in cœlis." Susceptis igitur honestè, dictis Galfrido et Matilda à prædicto venerabili patre, expositoque negotio, et adventus sui causa, idem abbas, habito cum fratribus diligenti tractatu, concessit eis novem canonicos apud Depedale deducendos; et in hunc ordinem ibi instituendos. Fuerunt autem inter eos Walterus de Senteney, vir summæ religionis, qui antea duo loca, sanctam Agatheam, cum conventu de Newhouse exiens, ibidem ordinem fundaverat; et Johannes de Byford, filius Baldwini de Byford, qui fuit socius Petri de Gausela fundatoris domus de Newhouse; et Hugo de . . . . . . Memorandum, et posteris nostris perpetuæ memoriæ commendandum, quod iste est verus et perfectus numerus et ordo omnium abbatum istius loci ab initio fundationis, sibi invicem succedentium.

1. Pater Walterus de Senteney sanctæ recordationis primus abbas et vir summæ religionis, rexit xxxi. annis et uno quarterio.

2. Dompnus Willielmus vir totius prudentiæ rexit duobus annis et dimidio; et postea factus est abbas Præmonstratensis, et capellanus Romani pontificis.

3. Dompnus Johannes Grauncorth Deo et hominibus amabilis, qui in diebus suis splenduit in ordine nostro, ut Lucifer et Esperus in cœli cardine; rexit xix. annis et xxxix. septimanis.

4. Dompnus Hugo de Lincolne rexit xiiii. annis et medio et uno quarterio.

5. Dompnus Simon rexit quinque annis et xi. diebus.

6. Dompnus Laurentius rexit xvi. annis et uno quarterio.

7. Dompnus Ricardus de Normantone, qui fuit dilapidator in tempore suo; et nimis onerosus successoribus suis, primâ vice rexit viii. annis, decem diebus tantum exceptis.

8. Dompnus Johannes de Lincolnia rexit sex annis.

9. Dompnus Ricardus de Normantone secunda vice rexit uno anno xxxviii. septimanis.

10. Dompnus Johannes Horsley rexit xxvi. annis et xlv. septimanis, et certis diebus, qui senio confectus sponte in manus conventus resignavit.

11. Dompnus Johannes Wodhouse rexit xv. septimanis.

12. Dompnus Willielmus Horsley, in cujus diebus camera-lapidea apud Stanley Grange ædificata est, et multa alia firmissima ædificia, rexit xxi. annis, et xli. septimanis.

13. Dompnus Rogerus de Kyrketon rexit tribus annis et xxviii. septimanis.

14. Dompnus Willielmus de Boney honestæ conversationis prærogativa præfulgens admodum novus fundator, multa tenementa ruinosa reædificavit et rexit xlii. annis et xiii. septimanis.

15. Dompnus Henricus Monyasche in universo morum honestate præclarus rexit xxxix. annis et xi. septimanis.

16. Dompnus Johannes Spondone, recolendæ memoriæ, rexit laudabiliter gregem sibi commissum xxxiii. annis; et ædificavit tectum corporis ecclesiæ, et tectum capellæ beatæ Mariæ ubi antiphona cantatur; et plurima bona fecit in vitâ suâ, et obdormivit in Domino, cujus animæ propitietur Deus. Amen.

17. Dompnus Johannes Stanley pater venerabilis prudentiâ et scientiâ; qui claustrum domus nostræ fieri fecit, ac terras et tenementa antiquo tempore perdita, suâ prudentiâ et labore adquisivit. Et laudabiliter gregem sibi commissum rexit xxii. annis; et postea migravit ad Dominum.

18. Dompnus Ricardus de Notingham, pius pater, diversè virtutum floribus ornatus, ædificari fecit tectum summi chori, et plura alia ædificia et beneficia fecit huic monasterio. Et sicut bonus pastor oves sibi commissas fœliciter gubernavit xix annis; et tunc animâ solutâ à corpore vitam in pace finivit.

Abbey of Langdon, or West Langdon, in Kent.

THIS Abbey, situated in Bewsborough Hundred, was founded in 1192 by William de Auberville, to the honour of the Virgin Mary and St. Thomas of Canterbury, for Premonstratensian or White Canons, from Leyston in Suffolk. The founder's charter is given in the Instrument Num. I. In another charter, Num. II., Simon de Abrinciis, who was probably the superior lord of the fee, confirms de Auberville's foundation; as does Nicholas de Crioll knight, in a third charter, Num. III., dated 30th Edw. I. Nicholas de Crioll also confirmed to Langdon the advowsons of the churches of Walmere, Oxeney, Langedone, and Ledenne: and Gunnora de Soveldone and Dennise de Newesole confirmed the chapel of Newesole to the canons. See the charters IV. V.

Hasted, in his History of Kent, vol. iv. p. 18, conjectures that the endowment of this Abbey was not sufficient to maintain it as such: so that, being unable to support the expense and dignity of an abbat, it discontinued the election of one, and remained contented under the government of a prior as the head of it. In various deeds and instruments it is called Langdon Priory. In the 27th of Henry the Eighth, however, we find it again mentioned by its proper designation, when William Salter, the last abbat, with the religious of his House, surrendered it to the King on Nov. 13th. In the 26th Henry VIII. the clear value of the possessions of Langdon amounted to the annual sum of 47*l.* 6*s.* 10*d.* Hasted gives the following Names of the Abbats or Principals of Langdon Abbey: Richard, t. Hub. Archiep.

JOHN. ROBERT. WILLIAM, t. Hub. Archiep. WILLIAM, t. Bonif. Archiep. JOHN KENTWELL. JOHN BRONDYCH, 1473. WILLIAM WAYNFLETE, 1482 and 1488. RICHARD CAYLEY, 1494 and 1500. JOHN YORK. WILLIAM SAYER, last abbat; who with ten monks surrendered the Abbey into the King's hands.

The Site of Langdon was granted, in the 29th Hen. VIII., to Thomas archbishop of Canterbury, who, not long after, exchanged the manor of Langdon with the site of this monastery again with the crown, in which the fee remained till the 33d Eliz.

There are now but small Remains of this Monastery.

Hasted, p. 19, has engraved the SEAL of this Abbey. It represents, on one side, the figure of the Virgin Mary crowned, with the infant Saviour in her lap, in the centre of a gothic building, surrounded with this Inscription, SIGILL . COMMVNE . MONASTERII . ECCE . DE . MARIA . DE . LANGEDVN : on the other, the murder of Archbishop Becket within the church of Canterbury; with the Inscription, CAVSA . DOMVS . XPI . MORTEM . SI . . . .[a]

Carta Willielmi de Aubervilla, de Fundatione ejusdem.

[Ex Regist. de Langdone, in Scacc. penès Rem. Regis f. 2 a. Vide Pat. 3 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 12.]

UNIVERSIS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, præsentibus et futuris, Willielmus de Aubervilla salutem. Noverit universitas vestra me dedisse, et concessisse, et hac præsenti cartâ meâ confirmâsse Deo, et beatæ Mariæ, et beato Thomæ martyri, et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, consensu et assensu Matildis uxoris meæ, et hæredum meorum, totam villam meam da Langedone ad faciendum in eâ abbatiam ordinis Præmonstratensis, per manum Roberti abbatis de Leystone. Hanc meam villam dedi et concessi eis totam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in bosco, et plano, et pasturâ, et in omnibus aliis aysiamentis suis, ad eandem villam pertinentibus; et cum omnibus serviciis omnium hominum proborum in eadem villa manentium. Præterea eis dedi, et concessi ecclesiam beatæ Mariæ de eadem villâ, et ecclesiam beatæ Mariæ de Walemere; et ecclesiam sancti Nicholai de Oxeney; et ecclesiam beatæ Mariæ de Redene. Hæc autem omnia eis concessi, pro animâ cari domini mei regis Angliæ Henrici secundi, et pro animâ Will. filii mei, et Emmæ filiæ meæ; et pro animâ Hugonis patris mei, et Wynanc, matris meæ, et Ranulphi de Glanvilla et Bertæ uxoris suæ; et pro salute animæ meæ, et . . . . . uxoris meæ, et hæredum nostrorum; et pro animabus prædecessorum et successorum nostrorum. Quare volo, et firmiter præcipio, quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant omnia prænominata, quæ eis dedi et concessi, liberè, et quietè, integrè, et plenariè, et honorificè, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, libera et quieta ab omni seculari servicio et exactione; ita quod si aliquod erga eos servicium de prædicta villa exigatur, ego et hæredes mei dominium concedo, quod meum fuit in omnibus, erga omnes homines et fæminas acquietabimus, warantizabimus, et defendemus imperpetuum. Hiis testibus, Johanne Norwicensi episcopo; Huberto Sarum clerico, H. abbate de . . . G. priore de Buttele; R. de Glanvilla; Willielmo de Glanvilla, clerico; Ranulpho capellano; Alano de Waleines; Josepho clerico; Philippo capellano.

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, præsentibu et futuris, ad quos præsens carta pervenerit, Simon de Abrinciis salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, me inspexisse, et propriis manibus contrectasse cartam venerabilis militis mei Willielmi de Aubervilla, sub hac formâ. Universis, &c. Ego igitur Simon, petitione Hugonis . . . . Willielmi interveniente, supradictæ ecclesiæ, et canonicorum in eadem Deo ministrantium, securitati et tranquillitati in posterum, providere misericorditer desiderans, omnia quæ jam dicta et præscripta sunt . . . . sigilli mei appositione ratificavi et etiam confirmavi. Hanc autem confirmationem jam dictis canonicis feci, ut specialem memoriam mei et uxoris meæ, et prædecessorum et successorum nostrorum, in missis, et orationibus suis, habeant imperpetuum.

Abbey of West Dereham, in Norfolk.

HUBERT, A.D. 1188, says Tanner, then dean of York, afterwards bishop of Salisbury, and at last archbishop of Canterbury, built, at this the place of his nativity, an Abbey of Premonstratensian canons from Welbeck, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary.[a]

Blomfield is very minute upon the benefactions to this House; to whose details the reader is referred.

The following is a List of the ABBATS: Austin was the first. Ralph, t. Ric. I. and Hen. III. Remigius, 15 Hen. III. Angerius, 16 Hen. III. Roger, 32 Hen. III. Dionyse Walter, 14 Edw. I. William Makesley occurs 1482. John Martin, 1488 and 1504. John Wisbeach, 1506. William Norwich, adm. Nov. 30, 1511. Richard occurs in the Valor of the 26th Hen. VIII. Roger Forman, alias Formey, 1522. He was the last abbat, surrendered his Abbey at the Dissolution, and had a pension from the crown of 66*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* He died in 1548. The Compendium Compertorum charges various canons of this Abbey with crimes.[b]

The Site of this House was granted in the 31st Hen. VIII. to Thomas Dereham. It was lately in the possession of Thomas Kett, Esq.

The Register of West Dereham, mentioned by Tanner as formerly Mr. Astle's, is now in the Library of the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos at Stowe. See the Bibliotheca Stowensis, vol. ii. p. 141. Press III. No. LXXII.[c]

Taylor in the Index Monasticus says, The COMMON SEAL of this Abbey, in 1217, was oblong, a dexter hand holding a crozier erect, alluding probably to the founder, Hubert archbishop of Canterbury. The Legend was, ✠ SIGILL . ABBATIS . ET . CONVENTVS . DE . DERH. The Seal used in 1429, and t. Hen. VIII. was of an oblong form, and represented the Virgin Mary standing under an arch, holding in her arms the child Jesus, over her head a star, and on each side of her an angel with a palm branch. The Legend, SIGILLVM . ABBATIS . ET . CONVENTVS . SC̃E . MARIE . DE . DERHAM. A third Seal of this Abbey is engraved in the Vetusta Monumenta of the Society of Antiquaries, vol. i. pl. E.

The Valor Ecclesiasticus of the 26th Hen. VIII. makes the total of the revenue of West Dereham to have amounted to 252*l.* 12*s.* 11¾*d.*, the clear income to 218*l.* 0*s.* 0¾*d.*

[Cart. 1 Joh. p. 1, n. 156. Vide Pat. 19 Edw. II. p. 2, m. 16, et m. 20.]

JOHANNES Dei gratiâ, &c. Sciatis nos ad petitionem venerabilis patris nostri H. Cant. archiepiscopi concessisse, et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmâsse ecclesiæ Dei et sanctæ Mariæ de Derham, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in ordine Præmonstratensis ecclesiæ, subscriptam donationem, quam idem H. Cant. archiep. eis fecit in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam; scilicet integrè; et quicquid Gaufridus filius Galfridi habuit in villâ de Derham et pertinentiis ejusdem villæ, ut in advocationibus ecclesiarum, et in terris, et in tenementis, et redditibus, et in omnibus aliis rebus in villâ de Derham, et pertinentiis ejusdem villæ. Quæ omnia prædicta præfatus Gaufridus filius Gaufridi dedit et concessit jam dicto H. Cantuar. archiepiscopo, pro servicio suo et pecuniâ suâ. Præterea concessimus et confirmavimus eisdem canonicis quietanciam servicii, quam Walterus filius Roberti fecit prædicto H. Cantuar. archiepiscopo, et supranominato Gaufrido filio Gaufridi; et quam idem H. Cantuar. archiep. eisdem canonicis fecit; quod servicium debebatur prænominato Waltero filio Roberti, de terrâ de feodo suo de Derham: concessimus etiam et confirmavimus eisdem canonicis donationem, quam Adam filius Adæ eis fecit de ecclesiâ de Karkebi Malghedale; scilicet ecclesiam prænominatam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus ad eam pertinentibus, ad habendum eam in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam. Concessimus etiam et confirmavimus, quantum ad regalem pertinet dignitatem, quod præfati canonici præfatam ecclesiam cum pertinentiis suis in usus convertant proprios; salva tamen decenti et honorificatâ administratione ejusdem ecclesiæ. Præterea concessimus eis et confirmavimus, de dono Hugonis de Diva, ecclesiam de Katham, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam possidendam; necnon quicquid ad ipsum Hugonem pertinet in eadem ecclesiâ, tam in jure advocationis, quàm in aliis quibuscunque. Et ex dono Margaretæ filiæ Alexandri le Moine, et Rogeri Buche, feudum unius militis, cum pertinentiis in Waleton, quietum ab omni servicio seculari; salvo servicio dominorum illius fundi; et salvo forinseco servicio. De quo feudo unius militis placitum fuit inter eosdem Margaretam et Rogerum, in curiâ nostrâ, et quod feudum per concordiam et finem factum in eadem curia, de communi assensu dederunt eisdem canonicis in perpetuam elemosinam, sicut cirographum factum inter eos in curia nostra testatur. Et ex dono memorati H. Cant. archiep. et T. Walteri, fratris sui, terram de Iclinton, quam Hamo Walteri tenuit in eadem villa integrè, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, solutam et quietam ab omni seculari servicio. Exceptis xxx. solidis, quos moniales de Iclinton debent et solent indè annuatim percipere, et amodò percipient per manus prædictorum canonicorum.

Et ex dono ejusdem H. Cantuar. archiepiscopi totam terram et domos, quas tenuit in Oxonio, de feodo prioris de sancta Fredesuith; scilicet illam terram et domos, quæ fuerunt Hugonis de sancto Germano, integrè, cum omnibus ad ipsam terram et domos pertinentibus; salva tamen priori et conventui de S. Fredesuith dimidia marcata, quam annuatim percipere consueverunt de prædicta terra. Et ex dono Hamelini comitis de Warenna, et Ysabellæ uxoris suæ, et Willielmi filii eorum, redditum xl. solidorum, quem Willielmus le Curteis præfato comiti H. et Isabellæ uxori suæ, et Willielmo filio eorum, reddere consuevit, de medietate piscariæ de Merehenfen, singulis annis, ad tres terminos percipiendum; viz. ad Pentecosten unam marcam, et ad festum sancti Mich. unam marcam, et ad Purificationem beatæ Mariæ unam marcam, sicut idem redditus reddi consuevit. Et ex dono Henrici de Pomerai, et Walteri de Marmin, quicquid ipsi habuerunt in villâ de Smalgreg integrè, cum omnibus pertinentiis, sine ullo retenemento; reddendo annuatim præfato Waltero, et hæredibus suis, de suâ parte prædictæ villæ xx. sol. infra octabas Paschæ, pro omni servicio et exactione. Et ex dono Simonis Briton, ix. acras in Greva maris de Wrangle, mensuratas perticâ xx. pedum, ad salinas faciendas: et unam placeam ad domum faciendam, longitudine quinque perticarum, et latitudine trium perticarum, in tofto Gilberti filii sacerdotis, super ripam portus de Richflet, versùs boream. Et præterea pasturam in communi pasturâ de Wrangle xxxvi. bobus, ex dono ipsius Simonis. Et ex dono Rogeri de Paueilli xl. acras terræ in Hillinton, de dominio suo; illas scilicet, quas Rogerus de Etton tenuit, cum libertate habendi faldam suam; salvâ ipsi Rogero faldâ, quam habet in eadem villâ de Hillinton, liberas et quietas ab omnibus serviciis et exactionibus, præter duos solidos, reddendos eidem R. et hæredibus suis ad tres terminos; scilicet ad Purificationem beatæ Mariæ viii. denarios, et ad Pentecosten viii. denarios, et ad festum sancti Mich. viii. denarios. Et ex dono Hervei filii Petri redditum dimidiæ marcæ in villâ de Pleiford, scilicet homagium Willielmi de Roschemer, quantum ad ipsum H. pertinet; et homagium Alani filii Thurstani, et uxoris suæ, et filiorum et filiarum suarum omnium, cum toto tenemento suo quod de præfato H. tenuerunt in Pleiford, ita quod præfatus Willielmus persolvet præfatis canonicis, pro tenemento suo quod in præfatâ villâ tenet, xxxii. denarios annuos, pro omni servicio. Et prædictus Alanus quatuor solidos pro tenemento suo, quod in eadem villâ tenet annuatim, eisdem canonicis similiter, pro omnio servicio persolvet. Et hunc redditum præfati Willielmus et Alanus reddent ad duos terminos, ad festum sancti Edmundi medietatem, et ad Pascham medietatem, uterque eorum quantum ad ipsum pertinet.

Ex dono autem Walteri filii Petri de Wirham totam medietatem molendini de Aketon, integrè, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, solutam et quietam ab omni seculari servicio et exactione; ita quod prædicti canonici respondebunt prædicto Waltero, et hæredibus suis, de xvi. denariis ad scutagium, quociens scutagium dabitur per præceptum domini regis, sive plus, sive minus exigatur. Et ex dono Juliani de Elmingeham redditum xv. solidorum in molendino suo de Ringeland, scilicet v. solidos ad festum sancti Andreæ, et v. solidos ad Annunciationem beatæ Mariæ, et v. solidos ad festum sancti Michaelis. Et ex dono Willielmi Luvel de Iveri, dimidiam marcam de molendino suo de Tichewell, percipiendam singulis annis ad Pascham. Et ex dono Petri Walteri redditum dimidiæ marcæ in molendino suo de Isted percipiendum, ad emendum sibi vinum ad celebrationem missarum in ecclesiâ suâ. Quare volumus et firmiter præcipimus, quod præfati canonici habeant et teneant omnia prædicta, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, benè, et in pace, liberè et quietè, integrè et plenariè, et honorificè, in advocationibus ecclesiarum, et in terris, et tenementis, et redditibus; in bosco et plano; in pratis et pascuis; in aquis et molendinis; in vivariis et stagnis; in piscariis et turbariis mariscis, et rosariis; in viis et semitis; et in omnibus aliis locis, rebus, et libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, quieta ab omni servicio seculari et exactione, sicut carta domini H. regis Angliæ, patris nostri, et cartæ sæpedicti H. Cant. archiepiscopi et aliorum donatorum rationabiliter testantur.

Præterea concessimus eis, ut habeant, per omnes terras suas, et tenementa sua, soch, et sach, tol, et them, et infengenthef, et teneant terras suas quietas et liberas de sectis schirarum et hundredorum, et de placitis forestariorum, et querelis: et de pecuniâ danda pro forisfacto de murdro, et de wapetac, et de scutagiis, et geldis, et danegeldis, et hidagiis, et assisis, et operationibus castellorum, et parcorum, et pontium, et calcearum; et de ferdwitâ, et de leirwithâ, et de hundrespeni, et de thenigpeni, et de hengewithâ, et de elemenesfrethe; et de hamsok, et de wardpeni, et de blodwithâ, et de fithwitâ. Et sint ipsi et homines sui quieti, per totam terram nostram, de omni tolneto, et de omnibus rebus, quas ipsi canonici vel homines sui poterunt assecurare, quod emant vel vendant ad proprios usus canonicorum ipsorum, vel hominum suorum. Et de pontagiis, et passagiis, et de lastagiis, et stallagiis; et de omni seculari servicio, et opere servili, et exactione; et in omnibus aliis occasionibus, et consuetudinibus secularibus, excepta sola justicia mortis et membrorum. Et prohibemus me ponantur in placitum, nisi coram nobismet ipsis, vel capitali justiciâ nostrâ. Item concedimus eis et confirmamus, quod si aliquis hominum suorum pro delicto suo vitam vel membrum debeat amittere, vel fugerit, et judicio noluerit stare, vel aliud delictum fecerit, pro quo debeat catalla sua perdere, ipsa catalla prædictorum canonicorum sint, quantum ad nos pertinet, vel ad curiam nostram. Abbey of Bileigh, near Maldon, in Essex.

THIS Abbey, though said to be near Maldon, was in fact situated in that part of the town called Little Maldon, and was founded by Robert Mantell, A.D. 1180, by whom it was dedicated to St. Nicholas.[a] The monks or canons placed in it were brought from Parndon Magna in this county. The confirmation charter of King Richard the First recites the particulars of this endowment.[b]

Thomas Cok was elected abbat of this House in 1384. William Kirkby, 1478. Thomas Scarlet, 1500. John occurs May 29th, 1513. John Copshefe, or Copsherse, was the last abbat, 27th Hen. VIII.

In the 26th Hen. VIII. the total annual amount of the revenues of this House was 196*l.* 6*s.* 5*d.*: the clear income, 157*l.* 16*s.* 11½*d.* Tanner says it maintained nine canons.

The Site was granted, in the 32d Hen. VIII. to Sir John Gate.

The ARMS of this Abbey were, Ar. six fleurs de lis Gu. 3, 2, 1.

There is an Impression of the COMMON SEAL of Bileigh, otherwise Maldon, temp. Hen. VIII., in the Augmentation Office. It represents an abbat sitting in an ancient chair, mitred, with his right hand uplifted, in his left a crozier; beneath him, in a niche, a monk praying. Legend, S . ABBATIS . ET . CONVENTVS . DE . MALDONA.

Abbey of Sulby, in Northamptonshire.

WILLIAM DE WIDEVILLE, says Tanner, gave the church of Welleford and nine carucates of land in the adjacent parish of Sulby to Robert de Querceto bishop of Lincoln, in order to found an abbey of the Premonstratensian Order, about the year 1155, which was afterward much increased by Sir Robert de Pavely, kn^t., who bestowed the church and manor of Sulby and other estates upon this House. It was dedicated to the blessed Virgin Mary. The full particulars of its endowment, even to minute parcels of land, will be found in Bridges's Northamptonshire.[a]

Bridges has given the following names of the ABBATS of this House: John, who occurs in 1207. Walter, 1232. William. Hugh, elected 1276. Henry occurs 1301. John Coventre resigned 1447. William Knolles. John Halley, el. 1452. John Middleton occurs 1487. Robert Goodall. Ralph Armonte or Arnoute, the last abbat occurs, 1534. He had 50*l.* a year pension granted to him in 1538.

In the 26th Hen. VIII. this House was valued in the gross income at 305*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.* per annum; in clear revenue at 258*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.* The Site and possessions continued in the Crown till the 10th Eliz., when the site and demesne lands were granted to Christopher Hatton, Esq., afterwards Sir Christopher Hatton.

Concessionem, &c. quas Robertus, filius Ricardi de Thingden, fecit prædictis canonicis, de uno mesuagio, undecim acris terræ, et quinque rodis prati, et dimidia, cum pertinentiis in Thingden. Concessionem etiam et confirmationem, quas idem Robertus fecit eisdem canonicis de omnibus terris, &c. quæ iidem canonici habent, de feodo ipsius Roberti in Thingden et Burton. Concessionem insuper, et confirmationem, quas Willielmus de Harecourt, miles, fecit eisdem canonicis, de omnibus terris, tenementis, redditibus, et possessionibus, cum pertinentiis, quæ iidem canonici habent de donis antecessorum suorum, et liberorum hominum de feodo suo. Concessionem insuper, et confirmationem, quas Stephanus filius Roberti Rabaz, de Northkynilligwrth, fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, de omnibus terris, tenementis, redditibus, et possessionibus, cum pertinentiis suis, quæ iidem abbas et conventus habent de donis antecessorum ipsius Stephani de feodo suo in Nortkynillworth.

Donationem etiam, &c. quas Rogerus de Southkynilligwrth fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, de duabus rodis terræ, cum pertinentiis in Kyneligwrth. Remissionem, &c. quas Ricardus filius Rogeri de Southkinelingworth fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, de toto jure et clamio, quod habuit, vel aliquo modo habere potuit, in omnibus terris, tenementis, advocatione ecclesiæ, molendinis, redditibus, et possessionibus, cum pertinentiis, qui dicti abbas et conventus habent de donis antecessorum ipsius Ricardi et liberorum hominum suorum in Suthkynelingworth. Donationem, &c. quas Will. filius Roberti de Champayne fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, de libero introitu et exitu, transitu, et redditu, cum carectis, et equis suis, per viam, quæ est inter terram potestatis suæ de Craft, et forestam domini comitis Leicestriæ. Concessionem etiam, &c. quas Nicholaus filius Roberti de Campane fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, de una placea, cum vivario et gardino, cum pertinentiis; et de omnibus terris, tenementis, redditibus, et possessionibus, cum pertinentiis, quæ iidem abbas et conventus habent de donis antecessorum ipsius Nicholai in Craft et Merston. Donationem etiam, &c. quas Hugo de Merston fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, de libero introitu, et exitu, et transitu, cum carectis et equis, et aliis necessariis suis, per viam quæ est inter Crafte et Thurlesford; et per omnes alias vias quæ sint juxta terras ipsius Hugonis, sine aliquo impedimento. Donationem etiam, &c. quas Tho. de Estle fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, de libero introitu, et exitu, et transitu, cum carectis et equis suis, per viam quæ est in terra potestatis ipsius Thomæ inter Craft et Dunton; scilicet de Sutton, et de Brouton; et super capud stagni in Brouton, inter ipsum stagnum et gardinum, sine aliquo impedimento sui vel hæredum suorum. Quietanciam etiam theolonei, quam Robertus comes Leicestriæ fecit fratribus loci prædicti, de omnibus rebus, quas emerint vel vendiderint in Leicestria; vel per eam duxerint, quæ pertinent ad proprios usus suos. Quietanciam etiam theolonei, quam Rogerus comes de Clara fecit præfatis canonicis, de hiis quæ in proprios usus emunt et vendunt in foro ipsius comitis de Rowell, ratas habentes et gratas eas pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est; præfatis abbati et conventui, et eorum successoribus concedimus et confirmamus, sicut cartæ et scripta donatorum suorum prædictorum, quæ indè habent, rationabiliter testantur. In cujus rei, &c. Teste rege apud Suleby, xiiii. die Marcii.

Abbey of Cokersand, in Lancashire.

HERE, says Tanner, was first an Hermitage, and then an Hospital for several infirm brethren under the government of a Prior, dedicated to St. Mary, and subordinate to the Abbey of Leicester, founded perhaps, or howsoever chiefly endowed, by William of Lancastre, temp. Hen. II.;[a] but about the year 1190, it was changed into an Abbey of Premonstratensian Canons,[b] to which there seems to have been united another Abbey of the same Order, which Theobald brother to Hubert Walter archbishop of Canterbury some few years after[c] built, or designed to build, at Pyling, to the honour of the blessed Virgin. The Abbey of Cokersand consisted, about the time of the Dissolution, of twenty-two Religious and fifty-seven servants,[d] and was then found to be worth 157*l.* 14*s.* 0½*d.* per ann. Dugd.; 228*l.* 5*s.* 4½*d.* Speed;[e] 282*l.* 7*s.* 7½*d.* according to a second Valuation.[f]

The following names of ABBATS of this House occur in the archbishop of York's Registers: ROBERT, 1289. ROGER, 1311. ROBERT DE CARLETON. JORDAN, 4 May, 1354. THOMAS DE GRENE, el. 6 July, 1410. ROBERT EGREMOND, 1444. JAMES SKIPTON, 20 Dec. 1502. HENRY STAYNING, 7th Oct. 1505. JOHN CROUNE, 11th May, 1509. GILBERT AYNSWORTH, 25th March, 1531. ROBERT KENDALL, 16 Oct. 1531. ROBERT PULTON, 27 May, 1533.

The Site of this House was granted in the 35th Hen. VIII. to John Kechin.

The SEAL of Cokersand Abbey is engraved in Whitaker's History of Craven, p. 426.

Carta Regis Ricardi Secundi, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Cart. de ann. 7 et 8 Ric. II. n. 1.]

REX, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam, quam celebris memoriæ, dominus Johannes, quondam rex Angliæ, progenitor noster, fecit dilecto nobis in Christo abbati et conventui beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand, in hæc verba. Johannes Dei gratia, rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, dux Norm. Aquit. et comes Andeg. archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, forestariis, et omnibus ballivis et fidelibus suis, salutem. Sciatis me, pro amore Dei, concessisse canonicis de Cokersand, totam pasturam de Pilin, habendam et tenendam in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, cum omnibus aisiamentis suis. Confirmavimus etiam eis locum de Cokersand, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in quo fundati sunt, et omnes alias rationabiles donationes eis factas, undè cartas habent, sicut cartæ donatorum rationabiliter testantur. Quare volumus et firmiter præcipimus, quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant prædictam pasturam de Pilin, cum pertinentiis, et omnia sicut prædictum est, liberè et quietè, integrè, plenariè, et honorificè in perpetuam elemosinam, ab omni seculari servitio et exactione, sicut cartæ donatorum, quas habent, rationabiliter testantur. Testibus I. Norwicensi, M. Wygornensi, episcopis; R. comite Leicestriæ, R. comite Mellenti, Petro de Pratellis, Simone de Pateshulle. Data per manum H. Cant. archiep. cancellarii nostri, apud Gaytinton xiv. Mart. an. regni nostri ii.

Inspeximus etiam quandam aliam cartam, quam idem progenitor fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, in hæc verba. Johannes Dei gratia, rex Angliæ, &c. archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis nos intuitu Dei, et pro salute animæ nostræ, et animarum antecessorum et successorum nostrorum, dedisse, et concessisse, et hac præsenti carta nostra confirmasse Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand et abbati et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, duas carucatas terræ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, de dominico nostro de Newbigging, juxta Singleton, de quibus percipere solebamus per annum sexdecim solidos, per manum vicecomitis Lancastræi. Habendas et tenendas eisdem abbati et canonicis, de nobis et hæredibus nostris imperpetuum ad feodi firmam; reddendo indè nobis et hæredibus nostris, singulis annis viginti solidos, pro omnibus servitiis, et exactionibus, ad duos terminos anni; scilicet ad festum sancti Michaelis decem solidos, et ad Pascha decem solidos, per manum vicecomitis Lancastriæ apud Lancastriam. Quare volumus, &c. Data per manum magistri Ricardi de Mariscis cancellarii nostri, apud Fecham.

vicesimo octavo die Julii, anno regni nostri decimo septimo, &c.

Nos autem donationes, concessiones, libertates, franchesias, et quietas clamancias prædictas, et etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quam Henricus de Mellinc et hæredes sui fecerunt Deo et sanctæ Mariæ et Hospitali de Cokersant, de totâ suâ parte de plano, ab Henggeitha-laka, usque ad divisam de Bikerstot; et iterum de tertiâ suâ parte totius Kunnescogs, usque ad divisam de Mahgele, usque ad Henggeitha-laka, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, cum omnibus pertinentiis, cum communione suæ dimidietatis prædictæ villæ, liberè et quietè ab omni seculari servitio. Ac etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Johannes de Hakuneshou fecit Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand, et fratribus ibidem Deo servientibus, de tota tertia parte totius terræ suæ in Hakuneshou, et in Preshauethe, quam pater suus habuit, et ipse post ipsum, cum communione, et omnibus aisiamentis, et libertatibus, quæ continentur in carta domini regis, quam habuit, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè et quietè ab seculari servicio omni, et exactione imperpetuum. Ac etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Tho. filius Siwardi de Mellings, et hæredes sui fecerunt Deo, et sanctæ Mariæ, et dicto Hospitali de Cokersond, de tota terra, quæ est inter magnam stratam; et divisam à Symondeswode, quæ strata transit . . . . ad vadum quod est Melling, et Thorp tendens usque in Hengarthes-laka. Et de tota sua parte de plano, ab ipsa laka, usque ad divisam de Bikerstet; et iterum de tota parte sua totius Kunnescogs, usque ad divisam de Actun, et divisam de Mahgele; et de divisa de Mahgele, per mossam de Henggeithes-laka, cum omnibus pertinentiis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, cum communione suæ dimidietatis prædictæ villæ, liberè et quietè ab omni seculari servicio.

Ac etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quam Willielmus de Lancastre fecit Deo, et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersond, et fratribus ibidem Deo servientibus, de toto bosco suo de Forton, et toto dominico suo, cum servicio Henrici filii Will. et omnibus aisiamentis et libertatibus, quæ infra prædictam terram fuerunt, et fieri possent, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè, et quietè ab omni exactione, et seculari servicio, et sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs et quietius dari, vel concedi posset. Ac etiam concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Johannes Malherbe fecit Deo, et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand, et canonicis, ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, de totis holmis juxta maram de Torletun in Lailondesire,[a] cum omnibus pertinentiis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè, et quietè ab omni exactione seculari, et servitio, per assensum et consensum prioris, et conventus ordinis Cluniacensis, de Tefordia. Ac etiam donationem, et concessionem, et quietam clamanciam, et confirmationem, quas Helias, filius Rog. de Hotun, in Lailondschire, fecit Deo, et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand, et canonicis Præmons. ibidem Deo servientibus, de tribus carucatis terræ in Hottun, in Leylondeschire; scilicet, de tota villa de Hotun, sine aliquo retenemento, tam in servitiis, quàm in hominibus liberis, et nativis, cum omnibus aisiamentis, libertatibus, et communionibus, quæ in eisdem terris fuerunt, vel esse possent; videlicet, in bosco, et plano, in pratis, et pascuis, in moris, et mariscis, in piscariis, et piscationibus, in vivariis, et stagnis, in viis, et semitis, et in omnibus eidem terræ adjacentibus, eisdem canonicis, et successoribus suis. Habenda et tenenda imperpetuum quietis et solutis de se et hæredibus suis; ita quod nec ipsi, nec hæredes sui, aliquod jus, de eisdem terris, exigere possent, præter elemosinas et orationes: prædicti verò canonici facient forinsecum servitium domino regi, et dominis prædicti feodi, quantum pertinet ad . . . . . . carucatas terræ, undè decem carucatæ terræ faciunt feodum unius militis; pro qua verò donatione, et quieta clamancia, prædicti canonici de Cokersand dederunt sibi centum marcas esterlingorum; quam quidem donationem, et quietam clamantiam prædictus Helias, et hæredes sui warantizabunt prædictis canonicis, contra omnes homines imperpetuum.

Ac etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Willielmus de Lancastre, consensu hæredum suorum, fecit ecclesiæ sanctæ Helenæ de Garestang, et abbati et canonicis de Cokersand, de quatuor bovatis terræ in villa de Gairstang, à vado de Belamespoc, usque ad rivulum de Kinersic, et sic sequendo Kinersic linialiter, ultra mussam, usque ad vadum de Tillerdale-holme; et sic sequendo Wire, ex parte australi, usque in Belanespoc; et de terra illa, quæ est juxta ecclesiam, cum mortuo bosco de Kirkeland; et similiter concessionem, quam idem Will. de Lancastre fecit eisdem, et eorum tenentibus villæ de Gairstang, tam qui essent, quàm qui fuerunt de housabold et hoybold, cum omnibus aliis libertatibus eidem villæ pertinentibus, in bosco, in plano, in pratis, in pascuis, in mussis, et scalingis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberis et quietis ab omni servicio seculari. Ac etiam concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Henricus de Lascy, comes Lincolniæ et constabularius Cestriæ, fecit Deo et sanctæ Mariæ de Cokersand, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, de quadam carta Johannis de Lascy comitis Lincolniæ, et constabularii Cestriæ; per quam idem Johannes de Laci concessit et confirmavit Deo et sanctæ Mariæ de Cokersand et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, totam villam de Hoton, in Laylondschire, quam habent ex dono Heliæ filii Rogeri; scilicet, tres carucatas terræ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; scilicet in bosco et plano, in pratis et pascuis, in molendinis, et stagnis, in piscariis, et piscationibus, et in omnibus aisiamentis, et libertatibus, quæ infra divisas ejusdem villæ de Hoton fuerunt, vel esse possent, prout cartæ testantur, quas prædicti canonici habent de eodem Helia. Habendum et tenendum de ipso Johanne de Lascy, et hæredibus suis imperpetuum, liberè et quietè, de secta curiæ suæ, et pastu servientium suorum; salvo servicio domino regi, et cæteris servitiis suis. Ac etiam remissionem, et quietam clamantiam, quas idem Henricus de Lascy, de se et hæredibus suis, Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand et canonicis prædictis, de servicio domini regis, et cæteris servitiis omnibus, quæ prædictus Johannes de Lascy avus suus, per confirmationem suam, sibi et hæredibus suis reservavit, ita quod prædicti canonici totam villam de Hoton prædictam, cum suis pertinentiis, ut pleniùs supradictum est, habeant et possideant sibi et successoribus suis, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, quietam et solutam ab omni terreno servitio, seculari exactione, et demandâ imperpetuum.

Ac etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Henricus de Seston, clericus, fecit Deo et beatæ Mariæ, de Cokersand, et abbati et canonicis Præmonstratensis ordinis ibidem Deo servientibus, et eorum successoribus, de dominico totius villæ de West-Halton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sine aliquo retenemento, tam in escaetis, quàm wardis, releviis, homagiis, servitiis, redditibus, et in omnibus aliis rebus, quæ extunc quocunque modo, casu, vel ratione prædictæ villæ possent evenire, et pertinere, liberè et quietè à se et hæredibus suis, sibi et successoribus suis imperpetuum. Ac donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas idem Henricus de Seston fecit eisdem abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, de totâ tertiâ parte totius prædictæ villæ de Halton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, tam in boscis, quàm in planis, in moris, et mariscis, in pascuis, et pasturis, in vastis et pratis, in parcis, et assartis, in aquis et vivariis, in stagnis et molendinis, in melle et spervariis, in fecis, et ferinis, in pessonâ, et herbagiis, et in omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis, aisiamentis, libertatibus, et appruviamentis, quæ fuerunt, vel fiebant, vel extunc fieri possent infra villam de Halton, et extra, infra divisas et metas ejusdem villæ, sine aliquo retenemento; tenendum et habendum dictis abbati, et canonicis, et eorum successoribus imperpetuum, plenariè, integrè, liberè, quietè, benè et in pace, soluta ab omni seculari servitio, exactione, consuetudine, et demandâ. Ac etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Galfridus filius domini Johannis de Hacunshoo fecit Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis ibidem Deo servientibus, de quadam parte terræ suæ in territorio de Preshout, videlicet totâ terrâ infra has divisas, sine aliquo retenemento; scilicet de Lostockmepul, ubi crux sita fuit, rectâ lineâ extensâ in austro, usque ad crucem super le Tunge; et sic de illâ cruce, per quandam foveam, inter Karram et le Tunge, apud orientem, usque ad aliam crucem super le Blakelakebanke, sequendo le Blakelake, ex transverso le Tunge, apud austrum, usque in profundam mussam; et ex parte aquilonis de Lostockmepul, rectâ lineâ in sabulones; et sic per sabulones, versùs orientem, usque ad divisas dictorum abbatis et conventus.

Tenendas et habendas imperpetuum, dictis canonicis, et eorum successoribus, liberè, quiete, integrè, benè, et in pace; ita quod ad eorum libitum prædictam terram possent circumcludere, fossare, assartare, arare, et omnimoda eorum commoda indè facere, quæ sibi viderint expedire, sine contradictione sui, vel hæredum suorum.

Ac etiam concessionem, quam præfatus Galfridus, filius domini Johannis, similiter fecit eisdem religiosis, quod averia eorum tempore æstivo, vel quandocunque necesse haberent, seu vellent, possent super sabulones usque ad Kokir transire et requiescere, sine contradictione aliqua sui et hæredum suorum. Ac etiam donationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas dominus Edmundus de Nevill, chivaler, fecit Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Cokersand, et abbati, et conventui ejusdem loci, ibidem Deo servientibus, de tertia parte manerii de Middleton, in Lonsdale, cum pertinentiis; habendum et tenendum, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, præfatis abbati, et conventui, et successoribus suis imperpetuum. Ac etiam ratificationem, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Willielmus filius Johannis Haconeshowe, dominus villæ de Haconeshowe, et Preshowe, fecit præfatis abbati et conventui, et eorum successoribus, de quadam carta Galfridi filii domini Johannis de Haconeshowe, antecessoris ejusdem Willielmi filii Johannis, per quam idem Galfridus concessit et confirmavit ecclesiæ de Cokersand, et abbati et conventui ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes terras et libertates, quas pater suus Johannes de Haconeshowe, eis dedit in villa de Preshowe, et Haconeshowe, sicut cartæ ipsius testantur. Ac etiam concessionem, quam idem Galfridus fecit eisdem abbati et canonicis de tota tertia parte dominii sui in villa de Preshowe, et Haconeshowe, et extra, et per omnia, prout in carta domini regis, quam idem Galfridus habuit, continetur, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam; liberè, quietè ab omni seculari servitio et exactione, ratas habentes et gratas easdem omnes et singulas donationes, concessiones, libertates, franchesias, et quietas clamantias, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, dilectis nobis in Christo nunc abbati et conventui loci prædicti, et eorum successoribus approbamus, ratificamus, et confirmamus, imperpetuum, sicut tam cartæ dictorum progenitorum nostrorum, quàm dictæ cartæ personarum prædictarum, rationabiliter testantur.

Præterea volentes eisdem abbati et conventui gratiam in hac parte facere uberiorem, concessimus eis et eorum successoribus, et hac carta nostra confirmavimus, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, quod licet ipsi, vel prædecessores, aliqua vel aliquibus libertatum, franchesiarum, vel quietantiarum in singulis cartis prædictis contentarum, aliquo casu emergente, hactenùs plenè usi non fuerint; ipsi tamen abbas et conventus, et eorum successores, libertatibus, franchesiis, et quietanciis illis et earum qualibet, de cætero, plenè gaudeant et utantur, sine occasione, vel impedimento nostri, vel hæredum nostrorum, justiciariorum, escaetorum, vicecomitum, aut aliorum ballivorum, seu ministrorum nostrorum quorumcunque. Hiis testibus, venerabilibus patribus W. archiepiscopo Cantuariensi, totius Angliæ primate, R. London. W. Winton. episcopis, &c. Data per manum nostram apud Westmonasterium vii. die Aprilis.

Compositio de Decimis Parochiarum de Lancastre, Pulton, et Biscopheym.

[Ex ipso autogr. in bibl. Hatton.]

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, subdecanus Lincolniæ, prior et subprior sanctæ Katerinæ Lincolniæ, salutem. Ad omnium vestrum notitiam volumus pervenire, nos mandatum domini papæ Innocencii tercii, in hæc verba, suscepisse. "Innocencius episcopus, servus servorum Dei, dilectis filiis subdecano, priori, et subpriori Lincolniæ, salutem, et apostolicam benedictionem. Ex parte abbatis et conventus sancti Martini Sagii, recepimus quæstionem, quod abbas et canonici de Kokersand, Præmonstratensis ordinis, Eboracensis diœcesis, super decimis et rebus aliis injuriantur eisdem: Quocirca discretioni vestræ per apostolica scripta mandamus, quatinus partibus convocatis et auditis hinc indè propositis, quod justum fuerit, appellatione postpositâ, decernatis; facientes, quod decreveritis, per censuram ecclesiasticam, firmiter observari. Testes autem qui fuerint nominati, si se gratiâ, odio, vel timore subtraxerint, per censuram eandem, appellatione cessante, cogatis veritati testimonium perhibere. Quod si non omnes hiis exequendis potueritis interesse, duo vestrum ea nichilominus exequantur. Data Laterani xiii. kal. Junii, pontificatus nostri anno tercio decimo." Hujus igitur auctoritate mandati partibus in præsentia nostra constitutis, et quibusdam ad utriusque intentionis astructionem propositis, post etiam quasdam altercationes, lis inter eos, amicabili compositione conquievit, in hunc modum; videlicet, quod duas partes decimarum bladi in parochiâ de Lancastria, et de Pulton, et Biscopheym, super quibus controversia inter eos, auctoritate apostolica, coram nobis vertebatur, abbas et conventus Sagii percipient; tertia parte penès abbatem et conventum de Kokersand remanente; nec ipsi abbas et conventus de Kokersand, vel aliquis ex parte ipsorum, prædictas parochias abbatis et conventus Sagii, ad spiritualia conferenda, vel temporalia percipienda, sine licentia et consensu abbatis et conventus Sagii, indebitè ingredientur. Si autem dicti abbas et conventus de Kokersand post compositionem istam inter ipsos et abbatem et conventum Sagii factam, ex donatione aliquorum, vel alio justo titulo, terras aliquas vel possessiones infra limites prædictorum abbatis et conventus Sagii adquisierint, decimas dictis abbati et conventui Sagii jure parochiali persolvent, de jure communi persolvendas. Ad hæc sciatis, quod ex utriusque partis consensu, jurisdictionem partes ad istius compositionis observantiam cohercendi, si qua illorum contra illam venire voluerit, nobis reservavimus.

Facta fuit hæc compositio anno ab incarnatione Domini MCCXVI. In hujus verò rei testimonium, præsentis scripti paginam sigillorum nostrorum appositione roboravimus. Ad hoc sciendum quod abbas et conventus de Kokersand, super eadem causa, coram nobis impetratis et impetrandis renunciaverunt.

Compositio inter Priorem et Conventum Lancastriæ et Abb. et Conv. de Cokersand.

[Ibid.]

NOVERIT universitas fidelium; quod, cum inter priorem Lancastriæ agentem, nomine sui abbatis, et conventum Sagiensem, ex una parte; et abbatem et conventum de Kokersaund, ex altera, coram judicibus delegatis apud Lincolniam, quæstio verteretur; priore proponente, quod idem abbas et conventus, contra compositionem aliquando inter eos initam, quosdam parochianos dictorum abbatis et conventus Sagii ad sepulturam in eorum monasterio, et nonnullos qui ipsis abbati et conventui de Kokersaund servierunt, ad sacramenta ecclesiastica admiserunt, et ab eis oblationes et personales decimas receperunt, parte ipsius abbatis et conventus de Kokersaund se in hiis per privilegia apostolica excusante. Demùm partes in præmissis se voluntati domini archidiaconi Richemundiæ, commiserunt, ut ipse super motis quæstionibus inter eos, amicabiliter ordinet et componat. Qui inspecta compositione inter eos facta, et privilegiis antedictis, statuit, ut compositione, cui per privilegia nullatenùs derogatur, in suo robore duratura, pœnæ commissæ ab abbate et conventu de Kokersaund, pro eo quod contra ipsam compositionem venerant, hac vice penitùs relaxentur. Et quod ipsi abbas et conventus parochianos prioris Lancastriæ, sine ipsius licentia, ad sepulturam vel sacramenta ecclesiastica scienter, de cætero, non admittant. Si verò aliquis parochianus dicti prioris, apud monasterium de Kokersaund sibi elegerit sepulturam, solutis ecclesiæ, cujus est parochianus, juribus, quæ debentur; prior requisitus, tumulandi eundem, licentiam non negabit, sed ab ejus parochianis eorum servientibus per eos oblationes aut personales decimas capi de cætero non permittet. Si verò ipsos abbatem et conventum de Kokersaund contingat dictam compositionem scienter iterum violare, non solum ad pœnas ex ipsa violatione commissas, tenebuntur; sed etiam ad eas, quæ nunc sunt de gratia relaxatæ; nec credatur de parochianis prioris Lancastriæ in abbatia de Kokersaund continuè servientibus, quod emitti debeant pro spiritualibus capiendis; sed de illis duntaxat, qui in grangiis, videlicet de Karlton, et de Trefeld, de Staynhale, et de Preshesd, et de Estona, infra parochias dicti prioris constitutas servientes, die Paschæ et aliis diebus quibus offerri consuevit, non ad suas parochiales ecclesias, ut deceret, sed ad monasterium de Kokersaund se transferunt, et ibidem contra justitiam offerentes, et decimas dantes, defraudent proprias ecclesias, suo jure. Si verò contigerit dictos abbatem et conventum de Kokersaund, de cætero habere aliquas grangias sive mansiones infra dictas parochias de Lancastria et Pulton, servientes in eisdem, facient pro se plenariè in decimis, personalibus, et oblationibus, sicut et faciunt servientes in grangiis prænominatis commorantes. Et sciendum, quod ad omnis litigii amputationem dictus prior concessit abbati et conventui memoratis, quod ad solvendum decimas de oleribus, aut porrectis, crescentibus in clauso suo apud Carlton, decimas non exiget; si verò granum vel legumen aliud quodcunque severint in eodem, de ipsis solvent decimas fideliter, ut tenentur. Et acceptata est prædicta ordinatio à partibus; salvis eisdem abbati et conventui suis privilegiis, quoad omnia quæ in compositione prædicta non tanguntur. In cujus acceptationis testimonium, partes huic scripto cirographato signa sua, cum signo archidiaconi appenderunt. Actum apud Burton in Kendal, v. kal. Decembris, anno Domini MCC. quinquagesimo sexto.

Alia Compositio inter eosdem.

[Ibid.]

Noverit universitas fidelium, quod cum dominus Radulphus de Truno, prior Lancastriæ, tam titulo domini abbatis Sagiensis sibi specialiter commisso, quàm auctoritate ecclesiæ suæ de Pultona, ad dispersa, si qua fuerint colligenda, et super hiis modis quibus dictis abbaciæ Sagiensi, et ecclesiæ de Pulton utiliùs esse decreverit paciscendum constitutus, decimam parochialem de quadam pastura in parochia memoratæ ecclesiæ de Pulton, inter Colecross et exteriorem foveam occidentalem, versùs Preshou, quæ vocatur Stocpul, quam quidem pasturam abbas et conventus de Cokersand, ex collatione domini Johannis de Hacunshou, et Galfridi filii ejus, obtinuerunt, ab ipsis abbate et conventu postularet, die Jovis in vigilia Circumcisionis Domini, anno gratiæ MCC. septuagesimo primo, inter prædictos dominum priorem et abbatem et conventum, ita convenit, quod remissis ex parte dicti domini prioris dispendiis indè retro habitis, dicti abbas et conventus de Cokersand octodecim denarios ad festum sancti Michaelis, nomine decimæ, prædictæ ecclesiæ de Pulton, pro prædicta pastura annuatim persolvent imperpetuum: ita iusuper, quod si dicti abbas et conventus, dictam pasturam futuris temporibus colere voluerint, dicta ecclesia de Pulton decimam garbarum totius culturæ, quam in ipsa pastura fecerint, plenariè percipiet, unà cum xviii. denariis annuis supradictis. Et ut hæc compositio imperpetuum irrefragabiliter à partibus teneatur, utraque pars huic scripto hinc indè sigillum suum apposuit. Testantibus Galfrido de Hacunshou, Amauricio de Lechampton, Nich. de Prioratu, Will. de Benesty, Gilberto clerico, Rog. de Cokersand clerico, et aliis.

Beigham or Bayham Abbey, in Sussex.

BAYHAM ABBEY is situated in that part of the parish of Lamberhurst which lies in the county of Sussex.[a] It was founded at a place here called Beaulieu, about the year 1200, by Robert nephew of Michael de Turnham, for monks of the Premonstratensian Order, some of whom he removed from Brockley in Deptford hither for that purpose.[b]

These religious had been first settled at Ottham in the county of Sussex, by Ralph de Dene;[c] but finding that place very inconvenient for the purpose, they began an establishment at Brockley,[d] where they remained a very short time, before they quitted both those places, and removed hither, with the consent of Ela de Sackvile, the daughter of their founder Ralph de Dene, and of Robert de Turnham above mentioned.[e] For the above purpose Robert de Turnham had granted, with the assent of Richard earl of Clare, his lord, to these canons, all his land of Begeham, with its appurtenances, in pure and perpetual alms, free from all service and secular exaction, to build an Abbey here in honour of St. Mary.[f] Geoffrey de Sackvile confirmed to them this licence for their removal, as he did the grants which Ralph his grandfather, Robert his uncle, and Ela his mother had made to them;[g] as did Stephen de Turnham[h] all those of his uncle Michael, and his brother Robert. King John granted to them charters of confirmation in his ninth and twelfth years.[i] King Edward the Third confirmed their possessions in his sixth year:[k] having previously, in a patent in his second year, granted them free warren in their demesne lands, in Lamberhurst, Bayham, Cranbrook, &c.

Hasted says, This Abbey continued much in the same state till the reign of Henry the Eighth, when it was suppressed, under a Bull of Pope Clement the VIIth, among the smaller Monasteries which were appropriated to the endowment of Wolsey's two foundations at Ipswich and Oxford. Its spiritualities were then valued at 27*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* per annum; its temporal possessions at 125*l.* 2*s.* 8½*d.*; making a total of 152*l.* 9*s.* 4½*d.*

Hasted has preserved the following Names of the ABBATS of BAYHAM. Robert Frendsbury, 1405; John, 1413; Thomas Cotingham, 1475; Robert Hertley, 1478; Robert Nash, 1488; Richard Bexley, 1494 and 1522. From a Manuscript in Benet College Library, Cambridge, Num. 59, it appears in an Account of a Visitation of Bayham Abbey in 1315, by the abbat of Langdon, that Laurence, then abbat of Bayham, resigned his office and was succeeded by Lucas de Coldone.

The Sackvile family were the patrons of this Monastery.

Henry the Eighth's grant of Bayham Abbey, with one or two of the smaller Kentish Monasteries to Wolsey, was dated Feb. 8th, in his seventeenth year: four years afterwards they fell again to the Crown, in which Bayham appears to have remained till Queen Elizabeth made a grant of it to Anthony Browne, Viscount Montague.

The Site was sold in the reign of King George the First to John Pratt, Serjeant at Law, of Wilderness, in the county of Kent, Esq., whose descendant, John Jefferies, the Marquess Camden, is the present owner.

The Cottonian REGISTER of Bayham Abbey, formerly Otho A. II., from which so much was copied by Dugdale, was burnt in the fire at Westminster in 1731, almost to a crust. A very large portion of its leaves, however, in 1826, were washed and restored, so that much of this Manuscript will still be found useful. The Donation Manuscript in the British Museum, 6037, contains an abridged Transcript of this Chartulary, folio, in forty-seven pages: entitled "Chartularium Abbatiæ de Beigham in manu domini Roberti Cotton militis et baronetti in quarto; manu domini Edwardi Dering militis et baronetti transcriptum, et deinde ipsius curâ sumptuque rescriptum A°. 1627." This Manuscript is mentioned in Tanner as, in his time, in the Surrenden Library.[l]

No SEAL of Beigham has been discovered.

The Ruins of Bayham Abbey are still among the richest of those which remain in the county of Sussex. They consist of a Gateway, the nave of the Church, part of the Refectory, and apparently a portion of the Cloisters: the architecture of the greater part is of the thirteenth century. The interior of the Church and Cloister is laid out as a pleasure garden.

NUM. I.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, per Radulfum de Dena.

[Ex cod. MS. in bibl. Cotton. (sub effigie Othonis A. 2.) f. 17.]

Notum sit omnibus, tam futuris quàm præsentibus, sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, quod ego Radulfus de Dena dedi et concessi Deo et sanctæ Mariæ et sancto Laurentio de Hotteham, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, ordinis Præmonstratensis, ad abbatiam construendam, totum dominium meum de Hotteham, cum capella ejusdem loci, et cum omnibus ad dominium ipsum pertinentibus, et homines meos de Dudintune, scilicet Gladuwine fratrem Speg, cum v. solidatis terræ, et Johannem Cnokedune, Gilebertum Carpentarium, Willielmum Cnokedune, Hugonem, Tho. de Farnstrete, cum terra sua, et Robertum Bunt, Wlfi Wiuer et hæredes suos, et hæredes fratris sui Grig; et Sewalum, et Wlwardum, et Walterum; et terram quam Fulkeri tenet de me in Seford, de qua reddit annuatim i. libram piperis, et viii. libras ceræ. Et præter hæc mariscum de Begham, sicut Radulfus avunculus meus eum tenuit; et totum mariscum quod fuit Wlrici, et novum mariscum quantum ad me pertinet, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam. Quare volo et præcipio, ut prædicti canonici hanc donationem habeant et teneant, liberè et quietè, in bosco et plano, pascuis et pratis, aquis et mariscis, et cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus, quibus aliquo tempore liberiùs et quietiùs illa possedi. Hoc autem feci, concessu et assensu Roberti filii et hæredis mei, pro salute corporis et animæ meæ, et pro salute corporis et animæ dicti Roberti et hæredum meorum: et pro salute corporis et animæ domini mei regis Henrici et liberorum ejus; et pro animabus patris et matris meæ et omnium antecessorum meorum; necnon et successorum meorum, in liberam elemosinam. Hiis testibus, Rogero filio Reimfrei, Ricardo filio Willielmi, Willielmo de Warenne, Adam de Puninges, Jocelino filio Reimfrei, Michaele de Turneham, Galfrido de Saccavile, Roberto de Hicclesham, Radulfo clerico, Henrico clerico, Heustachio de Monte, Will. de Sancto Albano.

NUM. II.

Alia Carta præfati Radulfi de Dena.

[Ibid.]

Notum sit omnibus, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quod ego Radulfus de Dena dedi et concessi Deo et ecclesiæ sancti Laurentii de Ottheham, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram, et liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam, totum dominium meum de Ottheham, cum capella ejusdem loci, et cum omnibus ad ipsum dominium pertinentibus, et homines meos de Dudintone, cum tenementis suis; et terram quam Fukeri tenet de me in Seford et in Alurichestune, unde reddit mihi annuatim unam libram piperis, et viii. libras ceræ. Et præter hoc dedi eis mariscum de Begeham, et hidam de Ambefeld, quam teneo de Ricardo de Horsenden. Quare volo, quod prædicti canonici hæc tenementa habeant et teneant benè et in pace, liberè, et quietè, sicut eas meliùs et liberiùs tenui. Hiis testibus, Ricardo filio Willielmi, Rogero filio Reimfredi, Willielmo de Warenne, Jocelino filio Reimfredi, Michaele de Thurne, Radulfo clerico, Eustachio de Monte, et aliis.

NUM. III.

Carta Roberti de Dena, de Terris in Telletone.

[Ibid.]

Notum sit, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quod ego Robertus de Dene do et concedo Deo et canonicis de Ottheham, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, totam terram quam habui in Telletone, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et insuper piscariam meam in marisco, cum pertinentiis suis. Hoc autem ita concedo, ut prædicti canonici tale servicium inde faciant, sicut ego inde faciebam. Sub hiis testibus, Rob. de Gattun meo avunculo; Rogero Anglico; Manasse Aguillun; Gaufr. de Saukeville, Rolando de Asquitade, Ric. Buissun, Will. Insteur, Alexandro Tripe, Reinaldo de Sancto Albano, Rad. Esquines, et multis aliis. Hoc donum ut ratum habeatur sigilli mei munimine roboravi.

NUM. IV.

Confirmatio Galfridi de Saukeville.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Galf. de Saukeville, concessi et præsenti carta confirmavi Deo et canonicis de Begeham donationes quas Rad. avus meus, et Robertus avunculus meus, et Ela mater mea eis fecerunt, videlicet ex dono Rad. avi mei, totum dominium de Otteham, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et cum capella ejusdem loci, et terram quam Fukeri tennit de eo in Sefford. Ex dono Roberti avunculi mei, totam terram de Teletune, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Ex dono Elæ matris meæ totam terram quam habuit apud Thorn, et terram de Twisel, et terram de Farestrete, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Quare volo quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant omnes prædictas terras liberè et quietè ab omni servicio et consuetudine, quantum ad me vel ad hæredes meos pertinet, sicut cartæ donatorum, quas inde habent, testantur, salvo forinseco servicio. Hiis testibus, Will. Maufe, Ric. de Cumba, Galfr. de Sancto Leodegario, magistro Egidio Burna, Ric. Branche, Rad. de Sancta Brigida, Martino filio Henr., Adam de Strodes, et multis aliis.

NUM. V.

Carta Elæ de Saukevile, de Translatione sedis Abbathiæ de Otteham usque ad Begeham.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Ela de Saukeville, filia Radulfi de Dene, in viduitate et ligia potestate mea, divinæ pietatis intuitu, concessi abbati et canonicis de Otteham, propter magnas et intolerabiles inedias loci de Otteham, quod transferant sedem abbatiæ de Otteham usque ad Begeham, qui dicitur Beuliu; salva reverentia et dignitate advocationis, quam mihi et hæredibus meis, tam in vita quàm in morte, tenentur exhibere. Præterea confirmavi eisdem canonicis omnes donationes, quas pater meus eis dedit; videlicet totum dominium de Otteham, cum capella; et terram de Dudintone, et de Thorne. Quare volo, quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant omnes prædictas terras, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, liberè et quietè ab omni servicio et seculari exactione. Item confirmavi eisdem canonicis totam terram de Telletona, cum hominibus et aliis pertinentiis suis, quam Rob. de Dene frater meus eis dedit; habendam et tenendam liberè et quietè ab omni servicio et seculari exactione, quæ ad me vel ad hæredes meos pertinent; salvo servicio domini regis. Hanc autem concessionem feci eis pro salute mea, et pro animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum, ut honestiùs et liberiùs ibi Deo valeant perpetuò ministrare. Hiis testibus, Roberto de Boxley, Will. de Ponte, Rob. Willielmo de Cumbwelle, abbatibus: Wandr. de Curtellis, Waltero de Hanley, Reginaldo de Clifton, Hugone et Reginaldo de Fokintun, Randulfo de Haia, Galfrido de Sancto Leodegario, Radulfo de Sancta Brigidia, Martino filio Henrici, Simone de Trusseville, et multis aliis.

NUM. VI.

Alia Carta ejusdem Elæ, super Translatione sedis Abbathiæ prædictæ.

[Ibid.]

Sciant presentes et futuri, quod ego Ela de Saukeville, filia Radulfi de Dene, in viduitate et ligia potestate mea, divinæ pietatis intuitu, concessi abbati et canonicis de Otteham, propter magnas et intolerabiles inedias loci de Otteham, quod transferant sedem abbatiæ de Otteham usque ad Begeham; salva reverentia et dignitate, quam mihi et hæredibus meis, tam in vita quam in morte tenentur exhibere. Præterea concessi et præsenti carta confirmavi eisdem canonicis, omnes donationes, quas pater meus eis dedit; videlicet totum dominium de Otteham, cum capella ejusdem loci, et terram de Dudintun, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et terram quam Fukeri tenuit de patre meo in Sefford, et mariscum de Begham, sicut Radulphus de Dene, avunculus patris mei, eum tenuit. Et totum mariscum, quod fuit Wlurici; et novum mariscum, quantum ad prædictum Radulfum de Dene pertinebat. Quare volo, quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant totas prædictas terras, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut carta patris mei, quam inde habent, testatur. Item concessi eisdem canonicis totam terram quam habent ex dono Roberti fratris mei in Teletone, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; tenendam liberè et quietè, quantum ad me vel ad hæredes meos pertinet, faciendo inde regale servicium, sicut Robertus frater meus inde faciebat. Præterea dedi et concessi eisdem canonicis, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, totam terram quam habui apud Thorn et apud Twiseley, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, ad unam lampadem tenendam semper ardentem ante altare sancti Laurentii de Otteham; et terram de Farstrete cum pertinentiis, tenendas liberè et quietè, salvo forinseco servicio. Item dedi et concessi eisdem canonicis, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, totam terram quam Alirinus Crop tenuit de patre meo, in marisco. Et ego et hæredes mei warantizabimus prædictis canonicis omnes prædictas terras contra omnes homines et omnes fœminas. Hiis testibus, Roberto de Boxley, Willielmo de Ponte Roberti, Willielmo de Cumbwell abbatibus; Galfrido de Saukeville, Wandr. de Curtellis, Randulfo de Haia, Galfrido de Sancto Leodegario, Henrico de Cobeham, Radulfo de Sancta Brigidia, Ricardo filio Walteri, et multis aliis.

NUM. VII.

Carta Gilleberti de Aquilâ.

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Gillebertus dominus de Aquila, concessi et præsenti cartâ meâ confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ sancti Laurencii de Otteham et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram, liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam, omnes donationes, quas Radulfus de Dena et Robertus de Dena, filius et hæres suus, eis rationabiliter dederunt, sicut cartæ eorum testantur; scilicet totum dominium suum de Oteham, cum hominibus et redditibus et cum omnibus ad ipsum dominium pertinentibus, et capellam ejusdem loci, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et mariscum de Begeham; et totum mariscum quod Wluricus tenuit, et novum mariscum, et terram de Teletone, cum hominibus et aliis pertinentiis suis. Præterea concessi et firmavi eisdem canonicis donationes quas Rikewardus Brade et Randulfus Brade eis dederunt; scilicet ecclesiam de Hellinges cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut cartæ eorum, quas canonici inde habent, testantur. Quare volo et firmiter concedo quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant hæc et alia tenementa sua et elemosinas de feodo meo, quæ eis datæ sunt, rationabiliter et imposterum dabuntur, benè et in pace, liberè et quietè, sicut cartæ et cyrographa donatorum suorum testantur; salvo servicio quod ad me et hæredes meos pertinet. Hanc concessionem et confirmationem feci eis pro salute animæ et corporis domini regis mei Johannis, et pro salute animæ et corporis mei et uxoris meæ, et liberorum nostrorum, et pro animâ Richerii patris mei, et pro salute dominæ Edelinæ matris meæ et Richerii fratris mei; et pro animabus omnium antecessorum meorum et successorum meorum. Hiis testibus, dominâ Edelinâ matre meâ, Richerio fratre meo, Engenulfo clerico, fratre meo; Willielmo de Caines, Hugone de Hassaham, Willielmo Maufe, Johanne de Auurichestune, et aliis.

NUM. VIII.

Carta Roberti de Turneham.

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Robertus de Turnham, assensu et voluntate domini mei Ricardi comitis de Clare, dedi et concessi et præsenti cartâ confirmavi Deo et sanctæ Mariæ et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, qui manserunt apud Brokeley, et successoribus suis, totam terram meam de Begeham, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam et quietam ab omni servicio et seculari exactione, ad abbatiam ibidem construendam in honore Dei et beatæ Mariæ. Item dedi eisdem canonicis, in puram, liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam, totam terram de Brokeley, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; habendam et tenendam de Galfrido de Say et hæredibus suis, liberè et quietè. Reddendo inde eis annuatim apud Grenewicum xii^{d}. pro omni servicio et seculari exactione, et terram de Kingeswude in Sandrig, quam emi de Willielmo de Kaio. Has prædictas terras cum omnibus pertinentiis suis dedi eisdem canonicis, assensu et voluntate dominorum meorum; habendas et tenendas, sicut prædictum est, liberè et quietè ab omni servicio et seculari exactione, sectà, consuetudine, et demandâ, quæ super terram eveniunt vel evenire possunt, sicut aliqua elemosina meliùs et liberiùs dari potest. Præterea dedi eisdem canonicis, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, terram quam habui apud Rokeland de monachis sancti Martini de Bosco; reddendo inde annuatim eisdem monachis v. solidos pro omni servicio et seculari exactione ad festum sancti Michaelis. Item dedi eisdem terram de Grimbroc, quam tenui de monachis sancti Pancracii de Lewes; reddendo eisdem monachis ii. solidos ad festum sancti Michaelis pro omni servicio: item dedi eis terram, quam emi de Gunnora et de filiis suis in Sandrig, juxta abbaciam, versùs aquilonem; reddendo eisdem annuatim duos solidos per omni servicio. Præter has prædictas donationes concessi et præsenti cartâ confirmavi prædictis canonicis, omnes donationes, quas Michael de Turneham avunculus meus eis dedit; videlicet terras de Blechinden, et de Winbrig, et de Estelrige, et de Matefeld, et de Faukerige, et Wichilinden, et terram quæ vocatur terra Nicholai; et totum manerium de Rokeley, et Grimbroc, et Childherst, cum hominibus et redditibus: et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis; habenda et tenenda in perpetuum liberè et quietè, integrè, et plenariè, sine aliquo retenemento, sicut prædictus Michael vel ego illa unquam meliùs et liberiùs aliquo tempore tenuimus. Has prædictas donationes et confirmationes feci eisdem canonicis pro animâ domini mei regis Ricardi, et pro salute domini mei regis Johannis, et liberorum suorum; et pro salute meâ, et pro animabus omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum; et ego et hæredes mei warantizabimus eisdem canonicis omnes prædictas donationes et confirmationes contra omnes homines et omnes feminas.

NUM. IX.

Alia Carta præfati Roberti de Turneham.

UNIVERSIS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos præsens carta pervenerit, Robertus de Turneham, salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me, intuitu divinæ pietatis, concessisse et præsenti cartâ confirmâsse abbati et canonicis de Otteham, propter magnas et intolerabiles inedias loci de Otteham, quod transferant sedem abbatiæ de Otheham usque ad abbatiam de Begeham, quæ dicitur Beuliu. Quare volo, ut prædicti abbas et canonici de Oteham et de Beuliu et successores eorum habeant et possideant omnes res et possessiones et tenementa, quæ eidem ecclesiæ de Begeham à me vel ab aliis collata sunt, benè et in pace, liberè et quietè, sine aliquo impedimento vel molestia. Et ut hæc mea concessio in omnibus, sicut supradictum est, firma et stabilis perseveret imperpetuum, præsenti carta, cum sigilli mei impressione, eam confirmavi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. X.

Carta Stephani de Turneham.

[Ibid.]

UNIVERSIS, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Stephanus de Turneham salutem æternam in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra, me divino intuitu, et pro salute domini mei regis Ricardi, et pro salute domini mei regis Johannis, et pro salute antecessorum meorum concessisse, et hac carta nostra confirmasse Deo et beatæ Mariæ et abbatiæ de Begeham et canonicis Præmonstratensis ordinis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes donationes quas habent ex dono Michaelis de Turneham avunculi mei, et Roberti de Turneham fratris mei: scilicet terram de Begeham ubi abbatia sita est, cum hominibus et redditibus et cæteris omnibus ad eandem terram pertinentibus; et terram de Brokele, cum suis pertinentiis; et Flodham, et Wigodesmerse; et terras videlicet de Wichilinden, et de Blechelinden, et de Wimbrigge, et de Faukerigge, et de Estelrigge, et de Matefeld, cum pertinentiis, et terram quæ vocatur terra Nicholai, et totam terram quam idem Robertus habuit in villa de Lamberhurst, cum pertinentiis; et pratum de Waestede; et totam villam de Rokeley, quæ fuit ejusdem Roberti, cum pertinentiis suis; et Childherst, et Grimbroc, et totam terram quam idem Robertus tenuit de monachis de Lewes juxta Grimbroc, cum pertinentiis suis. Concessimus etiam et confirmavimus eisdem canonicis terram de Waldelinetune cum pertinentiis, quam habent ex dono Will. de Detling, et terram de Nodingeford, quam Simon de Nodingeford tenuit de eisdem canonicis, quam habuit ex dono Roberti de Glotingeham, et unam virgatam terræ in Oxeneia, quam habent ex dono Michaelis de Codham. Quare volo, quod prænominati canonici de Begeham habeant et teneant omnia prædicta tenementa et omnia alia quæ habent de feudo meo, benè et in pace, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, liberè et quietè, firmabiliter, sicut cartæ donatorum, quas canonici indè habent, testantur. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XI.

Carta Walkelini Maminot, de Terra de Brocele, quam dedit Michaeli de Turneham.

[Ibid.]

WALKELINUS MAMINOT omnibus hominibus et amicis suis, Francis et Anglicis, salutem. Notificetur tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quod ego Walkelinus Mâminot recognovi et dedi et concessi Michaeli de Torneham, terram de Brocele, cum omnibus pertinentiis, pro servicio suo, liberam et quietam et hæreditariè tenendam de me et hæredibus meis, reddendo mihi annuatim xii. denarios infra octabas sancti Michælis, pro omni servicio. Pro hac autem terrâ prædictâ, et pro hac concessione, devenit Michael prædictus homo meus, et dedit mihi xl. solidos. Quapropter præcipio hæredibus meis, et amicos meos precor, ut prædictus Michael teneat terram prædictam, cum pertinentiis, liberè et quietè, et integrè, in boscis et in planis, in pascuis et mariscis: et omnibus aliis locis; et prohibeo ne aliquis de terrâ prænominatâ eum vexet vel disturbet; nec aliquis aliquod aliud servicium petat ab eo præter illos xii. denarios prænominatos. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XII.

Carta Roberti de Turneham.

[Ibid.]

ROBERTUS DE TURNEHAM omnibus hominibus suis et amicis salutem. Sciatis me dedisse et concessisse terram de Roceland, Michaeli fratri meo, hæreditariè tenendam ei et hæredibus suis, de me et hæredibus meis; et hanc terram reddo ei pro servicio suo, et ipse homo meus est pro hac terra prædicta. Servicium hujus terræ tale est, quod Michael faciet mihi sextam partem unius militis: quapropter volo, quod ipse teneat firmiter, et liberè, pro servicio prædicto. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XIII.

Carta Galfridi de Say.

[Ibid.]

NOTIFICETUR tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quod ego Galfridus de Say dedi et concessi, et hac carta mea confirmavi, sicut dominus fundi et advocatus, Deo et sanctæ Mariæ de Brocele, et fratribus Præmonstratensis ordinis ibidem Deo servientibus, totam terram de Brocele de baronia mea, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut carta domini Walkelini Maminot, antecessoris mei, testatur, Michaeli de Turneham; tenendam hæreditariè, liberè, quietè, et honorificè, et pacificè, per xii. denarios; reddendos mihi annuatim et hæredibus meis, infra octabas sancti Michaelis, pro omni servicio. Etiam ego G. de Say confirmo donationem et confirmationem Julianæ comitissæ, ad eundem locum, et ad sæpe-dictos fratres ibidem Deo servientes, sicut carta prædictæ Julianæ comitissæ testatur, de emptione facta de eodem feudo inter comitissam Julianam et Michaelem de Turneham. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XIV.

Carta Julianæ Comitissæ de Brocele.

SCIANT omnes sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filii, tam præsentes quàm futuri, quòd ego Juliana comitissa dedi et concessi, et hac mea præsenti carta confirmavi, pro salute animæ meæ, et pro animabus patris et matris meæ, et dominorum meorum, Hugonis Bigoth, et Walkelini Maminot, et pro animabus omnium antecessorum meorum, in perpetuam elemosinam, Deo et sanctæ Mariæ de Brocele, et fratribus Præmonstratensis ordinis ibidem Deo servientibus, totam terram de Brocele, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in bosco et plano, terris et pascuis, pratis et mariscis, viis et semitis; quam videlicet terram vendidit mihi Michael de Turneham, sicut suum liberum gavilikinde, et stockikinde, ad fundandum ibi domum religionis, concedente Stephano de Turneham nepote ejus; et in tenemento de Declinges terram de Waldeminton, quam vendidit mihi Johannes de Stanham, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in bosco et plano, et pastura; et terram Walteri de Grenewich, et Flodham, et redditus Stephani de Kinarditune, scilicet duos solidos. Quare volo et firmiter præcipio, ut ecclesia præfata et præscripti fratres habeant et teneant et possideant benè et in pace, et honorificè, liberè, et quietè, et absolutè ab omni servicio et consuetudine et exactione ad me vel hæredes meos pertinente, sicut aliqua elemosina quietiùs et liberiùs possideri potest. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XV.

Item Confirmatio Galfridi de Say, de Ecclesia de Grenewich.

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Galfridus de Say concessi, et præsenti carta confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ sanctæ Mariæ de Begeham, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram, liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam, donationem quam pater meus Galfridus de Say, et Aliz mater mea, assensu Gilberti Roffensis episcopi, eis dederunt quando manserunt apud Brocele; scilicet ecclesiam sancti Nicholai de Grenewich, cum omnibus ad eandem ecclesiam pertinentibus. Quare volo, quod prædicti canonici et successores sui habeant et teneant prædictam ecclesiam de Grenewich, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, liberè, integrè, et quietè, sicut carta prædicti episcopi, quam jam dicti canonici inde habent, testatur. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XVI.

Carta Ricardi de Clare, de Pannagio.

[Ibid. fol. 39 b.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Ricardus de Clare, comes Herefordiæ, concessi, et præsenti cartâ confirmavi Deo et canonicis ecclesiæ sanctæ Mariæ de Begeham, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, viginti quinque porcos annuatim in foresta mea de Tonebrug, ex parte australi, quietos ab omni pannagio. Et ut hæc concessio firma et inconcussa permaneat, præsens scriptum sigilli mei munimine roboravi.

NUM. XVII.

Confirmatio Johannis Regis Angliæ.

[Ibid. fol. 58 a. Vide Pat. 6 Edw. III. p. 2, m. 30. per Inspex.]

JOHANNES Dei gratiâ rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, dux Normanniæ, et Aquitanniæ, comes Andegaviæ, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, præpositis, et omnibus ballivis et fidelibus suis, salutem. Sciatis nos intuitu Dei et pro salute animæ nostræ et animarum antecessorum et hæredum nostrorum concessisse, et hac carta nostra confirmasse Deo et beatæ Mariæ et abbatiæ de Begeham, et canonicis Præmonstratensis ordinis ibidem Deo servientibus, totas subscriptas terras, quas habent de dono Roberti de Turneham; scilicet terram de Begeham, ubi abbatia sita est, cum hominibus et redditibus, et cæteris omnibus ad eandem terram pertinentibus: et terram de Gingeswude in Sandrigge, quam idem Robertus emit de Willielmo de Kaou; et terram quam idem Robertus emit de Gunnora de Sandrigge, et filiis suis, juxta abbatiam versùs aquilonem. Et totam terram de Brokele, cum suis pertinentiis; et Flodham, et Wigodesmerse; et terras videlicet de Wichelinden, et de Blechinden, et Wimberigge, et Faukerigge, et de Estelrigge, et de Matefeld, cum pertinentiis; et terram quæ vocatur terra Nicholai; et totam terram quam idem Robertus habuit in villa de Lamberhurst, cum pertinentiis; et pratum de Watstede; et totam villam de Rokeland, quæ fuit ejusdem Roberti, et Gildherst, et Grimbroc; et totam terram quam idem R. tenuit de monachis de Lewes, juxta Grimbroc, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Concessimus etiam et confirmavimus eisdem canonicis, terram de Waldelincton, cum pertinentiis, quam habent de dono Willielmi de Declinge, et terram de Nodingeford, quam Simon de Nodingeford tenuit de eisdem canonicis, quam habent de dono Roberti de Glotingeham; et duas acras terræ juxta abbatiam suam, quas habent de dono Emmæ de Creuquer; habenda et tenenda in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, benè et in pace, liberè, quietè et integrè, sicut cartæ prædictorum donatorum, quas inde habent, rationabiliter testantur. Quare volumus et firmiter præcipimus, quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant omnia prædicta tenementa, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus suis, in omnibus locis et rebus ad ea pertinentibus, sicut supradictum est, &c. Dat. per manum Hug. de Welles archid. Wellensis apud Merleberg xvii. die Martii, anno regni nostri nono.

NUM. XVIII.

Alia Carta præfati Johannis Regis Angliæ, Concessiones plurimorum Donatorum confirmans.

[Vide Pat. 6 Edw. III. p. 2, m. 30. per Inspex.]

Johannes Dei gratiâ rex Angliæ, &c. omnibus fidelibus ad quos præsens carta pervenerit, salutem. Sciatis nos, intuitu Dei, concessisse et hac cartâ nostrâ confirmâsse abbatiæ de Begeham, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnia tenementa subscripta, et subscriptas concessiones; scilicet de concessione Elæ de Saukeville translationem sedis abbatiæ de Oteham, factam, usque ad Begeham, quæ dicitur Beuliu; et omnes res et possessiones et tenementa, quæ præfati canonici tenent de feodo ipsius Elæ. Item de dono ejusdem Elæ, totam terram quam Alwinus Crop tenuit de Radulfo de Dene patre suo, in marisco de Pluenham. De dono Willielmi de Kaieu, totam terram, quam idem Willielmus habuit in Sandrigge de feodo de Ailesford. De dono Michaelis filii Johannis de Tonge x. acras terræ, cum pertinentiis, in Tonge, scilicet medietatem totius terræ de Tonge. Carta Regis Edwardi Secundi, diversas Concessiones Abbati et Canonicis de Begeham factas, confirmans.

[Pat. 6 Edw. III. p. 2, m. 30.]

Edwardus Dei gratiâ rex Angliæ, &c. Sciatis quod cum celebris memoriæ dominus Henricus, quondam rex Angliæ, avus noster, sexto die Marcii, anno regni sui tricesimo quinto, concesserit et carta sua confirmaverit dilectis nobis in Christo abbati et canonicis de Beggeham, ordinis Præmonstratensis, quod ipsi et successores sui imperpetuum haberent unum mercatum singulis septimanis per diem Jovis apud manerium suum de Rokelaunde, in com. Sussexiæ; et quod haberent ibidem unam feriam singulis annis duraturam per tres dies, viz. in vigilia, et in die, et in crastino sancti Joh. Bapt.; nisi mercatum illud et feria illa essent ad nocumentum vicinorum mercatorum et vicinarum feriarum, prout in carta prædicta pleniùs continetur: Ac præfati abbas et canonici dictis mercato et feria, juxta tenorem cartæ illius, jam per aliquod tempus usi non fuerint, sicut dicunt; et nobis supplicaverint, ut eo non obstante, velimus eis concedere, quod ipsi et eorum successores prædicta mercatum et feriam habere possint in forma supradicta. Nos præfatis abbati et canonicis volentes in præmissis gratiam facere specialem, concessimus et hac carta nostra confirmavimus eisdem abbati et canonicis, quod ipsi et successores sui imperpetuum habeant prædictum mercatum singulis septimanis per diem Jovis apud prædictum manerium suum de Rokelande, et prædictam feriam ibidem singulis annis per prædictos tres dies duraturam, videlicet in prædictis vigiliâ, die, et in crastino sancti Johannis, nisi mercatum illud et feria illa sint ad nocumentum vicinorum mercatorum et vicinarum feriarum, eo non obstante quod prædictis mercato et feriâ usi non fuerint, sicut prædictum est. Quare volumus, &c. Data per manum nostram apud Mersefeld vicesimo tercio die Sept. anno regni nostri decimo nono. Nos autem concessiones et confirmationes prædictas; necnon ordinationem, quam Johannes de Wanton miles, per scriptum suum fecit eisdem abbati et conventui, super possessione et usu communiæ et brueræ de Ferenthe. Ratificationem etiam, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas Will. fil. et hæres Gunnuldæ filiæ Will. Abbey of Barlings, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER[1] calls this Barlings or Oxeney, an Abbey of Premonstratensian Canons, dedicated to St. Mary, founded A.D. 1154. It was first situate at the place which was after called Barling Grange; but Ralph de Haya having given these Religious a place called Oxeney in another part of this town, the Abbey was removed thither. Hence it was sometimes called the Abbey of Oxeney or De Oxeniaco, but generally Barlings. The revenues of this House were rated in the 26th Hen. VIII. at 307l. 16s. 6d. in the whole, and at 242l. 5s. 11½d. clear. The Site was granted to Charles Duke of Suffolk.

The Cottonian Manuscript Faustina B. I. fol. 30—278. contains a Register of Barlings, imperfect both at the beginning and the end.[2]

Among Tanner's Principals of Religious Houses we have the following List of the ABBATS of Barlings: Akarius, 1190. Robert, 1205. Ingeramus, 1267. Richard, 1300. Thomas de Maryng, 1307 and 1334. Alexander de Ramsey, 1350. Matthew Makerell was the last abbat, and a suffragan bishop in the diocese of Lincoln. He was imprisoned in the Tower.

The Harleian MSS. 6952. p. 206. mentions another abbat, William Lincoln, elected 9th May, 1459.

There is a Drawing of the SEAL of Barlings Abbey in the Duke of Buckingham's library at Stowe.

The Abbey Church of Barlings was built in the form of a Cross. The Tower as it stood in 1710 was forty feet square and a hundred and eighty feet high. The length of the Church was a hundred yards. The east window forty feet high.

Abbatia de Barlings, in agro Lincolniensi.

Stemma Willielmi Longspe Comitis Linc. et Sarum, ab Osberto de Casneto Domino de Cavenby et Glentham deductum; et de terris, &c. in eisdem Maneriis, Cœnobio de Barlings concessis.

[Ex Cod. MS. ad Abb. de Barlings quondam spectante; nunc vero penes Remem. Regis in Scacc. in baga notata "Tenures et Inquisitions."]

Dominus Osbertus de Casneto, diu ante adventum Willielmi conquestoris, dominus de Cavenby et de Glentham, fundavit ecclesiam S. Nicholai, infra manerium suum principale de Cavenby; cui contulit in ipsâ primævâ fundatione omnes decimas provenientes de prædicto manerio, ubicunque fuerint, infra parochiam vel extra; viz. bladi, granorum, feni, animalium, ovium sive jumentorum, lanæ, agnorum, vitulorum, et pullorum, cum omnibus aliis decimis, tam personalibus quàm prædialibus, provenientibus de dicto manerio, atque omnibus ejusdem tenentibus, infra dictam villam de Cavenby. Tunc, tempore W. conquestoris, dominus Willielmus de Casneto, dominus de Cavenby et Glentham, qui genuit de Constanciâ uxore suâ unicam filiam, Adelidem nomine, quam tradidit nuptui domino Osberto de Cundi, de quibus Roberto et Adelide, Rogerus filius et hæres, qui dedit fratribus ordinis Præmonstratensis de Lyskes, toftum suum quinque acrarum, cum duabus bovatis terræ, et pasturam septingentarum ovium in Glentham et Cavenby, cum chaceâ et rechaceâ de unâ ad aliam, quandocunque eis placuit, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, &c.

Waltero filio domini de Clifford. Iste Walterus Clifford, de assensu et consensu Agnetis uxoris suæ, confirmavit abbati et conventui de Oxiniaco, sive Barlyngs, toftum cum terris et pasturâ supradictis, in Glentham et Cavenby, medio tempore per abbatem et conventum perquisitâ, de abbatibus de Lykes et Neuhus, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, pacificè, honorificè, absque omni exactione et seculari servicio, possidenda; prout prædicta confirmatio testatur. Qui etiam contulit, in quandam recompensationem, pro decimis et pasturâ supradictis, infra parochiam de Glentham, certas decimas infra parochiam de Cavenby, per rectorem de Glentham percipiendas, et perpetuò possidendas, de concensu et assensu rectoris tunc de Cavenby; prout evidentiæ inter dictos rectores factæ, magis lucidè testantur.

De quibus Waltero et Agnete supradictis, Walterus Clifford filius et hæres, ac miles, vocatus junior; de quo Matildis filia unica, in vero matrimonio procreata, quam accepit in uxorem dominus Willielmus Longspe, comes Lincoln. et Sarum, et dominus de Cavenby et Glentham jure Matildis uxoris suæ, filiæ domini Walteri Clifford junioris. Iste dominus Willielmus Longespe, miles strenuissimus, de consensu Matildis uxoris suæ, contulit domino Galfrido Bussy de Thornton, militi suo speciali, messuagium suum, &c. in Cavenby, cum certis terris et redditibus in Cavenby, &c. de quibus decima concessa priùs fuit ecclesiæ de Glentham per dominum Walterum Clifford seniorem, et Agnetem uxorem suam, in recompensationem decimarum suarum de manerio suo infra parochiam de Glentham, pertinentium à primævâ fundatione ecclesiæ S. Nicholai de Cavenby, prout prima donatio manifestè testatur, &c. reservando sibi et Matildæ uxori suæ, principale dominium utriusque, scilicet Cavenby et Glentham, quia manerium integrum in se postea Will. Longspe et Matildis contulerunt abbati et conventui de Barlings, dominium principale de Cavenby et de Glentham, cum omnibus suis pertinenciis, infra villas et extra, cum wardis, releviis, escaetis, homagiis, redditibus, servitiis, warennâ; cum wayf, et stray, et omnibus aliis libertatibus regalibus, sicut prædicti dominus Will. Longspe, et Matildis uxor sua habuerunt et tenuerunt integrè, liberè, et pacificè, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosynam, &c.

Præterea prædicta Matildis Longspe contulit abbati et conventui de Barlyngs in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosynam, advocationem ecclesiæ S. Nicholai de Cavenby, infra manerium suum principale situatum, &c. Et quoad advocationem ecclesiæ de Glentham, cum juribus suis, ante istam donationem factam per Matildem Longspe, monasterio de Barlynges data erat per dominum Walterum Clifford seniorem, patrem Walteri Clifford junioris, et patris Matildis Longspe, Philippo Aungevyn; postea per maritagium descendit Ricardo Aliton; et sic successivè venit Thomæ Snartford et Joh. uxori suæ; et per ipsos ad ecclesiam cathedralem Lincolniæ devenit, cum temporalibus eorundem, prout omnes evidentiæ antiquæ testantur.

Premonstratensian Nunnery of Brodholm,

IN NOTTINGHAMSHIRE.

AGNES DE CAMVILLE, says Tanner, wife to Peter Gousla,[a] (the founder of Newhouse for Premonstratensian canons), placed here a Prioress and Nuns[b] of the same Order,[c] about the latter part of the reign of King Stephen. This small Monastery (situated upon the borders of this county next Lincolnshire) was dedicated to the blessed Virgin Mary, and had possessions, 26 Hen. VIII. rated, according to Dugdale and Speed, at only 16*l* 5*s.* 2*d.*[d] per annum. According to Leland at 18*l.* The Site was granted in the 6th Eliz. to John Coniers and William Haber.

The Harleian charter 44 H. 29. has an Impression from the SEAL of Brodholm Nunnery appendant. It represents the Virgin and Child, seated; the Virgin holding a sceptre in her left hand, inscribed, S . CAPL'I . SOROR . S . MARIE . DE . BRODEH.

Tanner's References to Records concerning this House are below.[e]

[a] So Leland, Collect. vol. i. p. 94. In the Charter Num. I., appended to the present Account, Sara, daughter to this Agnes and Peter, seems to have been the greatest benefactress, and confirms the gifts of her father and mother; but there is no mention of either of them being founders.

[b] The Chief of this House, Tanner says, was always called Prioress, and is generally joined with "moniales." But some charters run "Fratribus et sororibus de Brodholm."

[c] So Pat. 13 Edw. I. and Regist. Institut. Norvic. vol. x. p. 25. But there is no mention of this House in the Visitation Book of the Præmonstratensian Order in England, MS. Ashmol. 1519. And it is said to be of the Order of St. Austin, in the Benet Coll. MS.

[d] This is the clear valuation, but the gross one is 18*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.* MS. in Offic. Primit.

Corham, or Coverham Abbey, in Yorkshire.

TANNER says, In the latter part of the reign of Henry the Second, Helewisia daughter of Ranulph de Glanvill lord chief justice of England, founded, at Swainby in the parish of Pickhall, a Monastery for Canons of the Premonstratensian Order, who were removed, 14 Joan., to Corham by her son Ralph Fitz Robert lord of Middleham. The note in the Monasticon, he adds, making the first foundation at Swainby in the year 1190, cannot be right; because that was after the death of K. Henry the Second; for his confirmation of several grants made to these Canons is recited in the charter of King Edward the Third.[a]

Burton in the Monasticon Eboracense, p. 419—421, has given an alphabetical list of the places wherein the lands of this Abbey lay, with the names of its benefactors, to which the reader is referred.

In the 26th of Hen. VIIIth the revenues of Corham Abbey amounted in full to 207*l.* 14*s.* 8*d.* The clear receipt to 160*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.*

Willis says that in King Henry the Seventh's time here were twenty Religious in this House.

The following ABBATS of this House occur in the Registers of the See of York: JOHN, 1300; WILL. de ALDEBURGH, 16 kal. Jul. 1331. CUTHBERT de RIDMERE, 21 May, 1414. JOHN BROWNFLETE, 20 June, 1470. JOHN ASCOGH, 18 Dec. 1488. THOMAS SIDDEN, May, 1511. CHRISTOPHER SALLEY, 26 March, 1519. CHRISTOPHER HILTON, 1521. CHRISTOPHER ROKESBY, 1528.

Burton was unable to discover to whom the Site of this Monastery was immediatly granted; though he found property belonging to it alienated in the time of Queen Elizabeth. Tanner also is silent as to the time when the Site was granted out. From the Abstracts of the Originalia Rolls in the Museum it appears to have remained in the Crown till 3 and 4 Phil. and Mary, when the Site was granted to Humphry Orme and his wife Cecilia.

The Site is at present a part of the possessions of the Duke of Northumberland.

No REGISTER of Corham has yet been discovered. Tanner has References to different Manuscripts and Records relating to it, to which a few editions will be found in the Note below.[b]

There is an Impression of the COMMON SEAL in the Chapter-House, Westm., representing an Abbat with his crozier, standing under a gothic canopy, and on each side of him a smaller religious figure. Legend, S . COE . CAPITVLI . DE . COVERHAM.

Historia Fundationis ejusdem.

[Ex vet. Rotulo in turri beatæ Mariæ Ebor.]

HELEWISIA filia et hæres Ranulphi de Glanvilla, baronis et justiciarii capitalis Angliæ, temporibus regum Henrici secundi, et Ricardi primi, assensu Walranni filii et hæredis sui, tunc viventis, fundavit monasterium canonicorum ordinis Præmonstatensis apud Swayneby; et obiit xi. die Martii, anno gratiæ MCXCV. Et à Swainbye postea translata fuerunt ejus ossa, et sepulta in domo capitulari apud Coverham. Sed fundatio prima apud Swainbie fuit anno gratiæ MCXC. Ut patet per bullam Clementis papæ tertii, eidem Walranno concessam.

Radulphus filius Roberti, domini de Midelham, et frater ejus et hæres Walranni, multis habitis altercationibus, inter ipsum et canonicos de Swaynbye, amovit eos, et fundavit apud Coverham, juxta Midelham, et contulit eis ecclesiam de Coverham et plura alia terras et tenementa, per finem in curiâ regis Johannis anno regni sui xiiii. Et obiit anno gratiæ MCCli. Et apud Coverham sepelitur.

Stemma Dominorum de Midleham Fundatorum Prioratus de Coverham.

[Ex præfato Rot. in turri beatæ Mariæ Eboraci.]

Sciendum est, quod non habemus, nisi tantum istas duas carucatas, in nullo loco, ex antecessoribus dominæ de Tatershall, quæ est domina de Welle, et de Snape, et uxor Roberti de Tatershall; cujus soror Maria primogenita est domina de Midelham, quondam uxor Roberti de Novavilla junioris; quarum pater vocabatur Radulfus filius Ranulfi; pater Ranulfi fuit iste Robertus filius Radulfi, cujus est ultima hæc charta præcedens. Hic Robertus fundavit domum de Midleham. Pater hujus Roberti vocabatur Radulfus filius Ribaldi, cujus est carta penultima præcedens. Quis fuit pater Ribaldi ignoratur. Dicitur, quod ille natus fuit in partibus transmarinis. Et sic patet breviter de antecessoribus Radulfi filii Ranulfi, cujus hæreditas dividebatur inter duas filias suas (scilicet), Mariam primogenitam, dominam de Midleham, quæ ex viro suo præfato habet tres filios, Ranulphum scilicet de Nevile primogenitum, ad quem, præter hæreditatem matris, spectat hæreditas Roberti de Nevile adhuc superstitis. Soror Mariæ junior, uxor Roberti de Tatershall, vocatur Joanna.

Abbey of St. Agatha, at Easby.

THIS House, called St. Agatha at Richmond by Tanner, was founded by Roald constable of Richmond Castle, son of Emsart Mesard, the first grantee of the estates formerly belonging to Tor, under the Earls of Richmond, about the year 1152. Roald flourished under Alan, the third earl, and the fee of Tor descended in his line to the reign of Edw. III., when it was sold by Thomas de Burton, then representative of the family, to Henry le Scrope, lord of Bolton, in consequence of which the Scropes were respected as founders, and were interred at Easby from this period to the Dissolution. In the 16th Ric. II., Richard le Scrope of Bolton meditated a magnificent donation to this House, for which he obtained a licence in that year. This was no less than a rent-charge of 150*l.* sterling upon the manors of Brignale, Caldwell, Clyff upon Teese, Thornton, Seward, Middleton, Quernow, &c. for the support of ten additional canons and two secular chaplains, to pray for the good estate of the founder and his heirs while living, and for their souls when deceased, as well as those of their ancestors. To this was added a condition, that the Abbey and Convent should also sustain twenty-two poor persons within the Abbey for the good of the same souls. Thirteen years before, the same patron had already bestowed upon this house the manor of Brompton upon Swale, then valued at 10*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* per annum.[a]

In the 26th Hen. VIIIth, the total of the revenues of this House amounted to 188*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.* per annum. The clear income to 111*l.* 17*s.* 11*d.* The site was granted, in the 4th and 5th of Phil. and Mary, to Ralph Gower, and 14th Eliz. to John Stanhope.

Torr Abbey, in Devonshire.

MR. OLIVER, in his Historical Collections relating to the Monasteries in Devon, says, Of all the Premonstratensian Houses the one at Torre, dedicated to the honour of the Holy Saviour, the Holy Trinity, and the blessed Virgin, was undoubtedly the richest.[a] It was founded by William Briwer, A.D. 1196: the enumeration of the possessions with which he endowed it will be seen in the foundation deed.[b]

According to Browne Willis, the name of the first abbat was Adam.[c] Simon occurs in 1251. Mr. Oliver adds the following Abbats from the Registers of the See of Exeter. Brian, confirmed on Whit Sunday, 1264. Richard, admitted 1270. Simon de Plympton, instituted Sept. 7, 1330. John, confirmed 21st May, 1349. John Cras, 6th December, 1351. Richard. John Berkedene, 1372. William Norton, confirmed 27th July, 1382.[d] Matthew Yerde, succeeded 19th July, 1412. William Mychel, confirmed 19th March, 1414. John Lacey, inst. 31 Jan. 1442. Richard Cade occurs abbat in 1463. Thomas Dyare in 1502. Simon Rede, elected and confirmed in August, 1523. He was the last abbat, and with fifteen of his Religious surrendered his Monastery to the King, 23d Feb. 1539. He received a pension of 66*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* The annual revenues of the Abbey just before the Dissolution amounted to 396*l.* 0*s.* 11*d.* The Abbat's house in Exeter was in St. Paul's Street.

[c] Mit. Ab. vol. ii. p. 65.

[d] Mr. Oliver says, "This exemplary abbat was maliciously charged with having murdered and beheaded Simon Hastings, a canon of the abbey. Bishop Brantyngham, on 14th Aug. 1390, pronounced the accusation to be a most infamous falsehood. He declares, that the canon, said to be murdered and beheaded, was then actually alive. He bears the strongest testimony to the irreproachable character of the abbat, and issues the sentence of excommunication against his defamers." Registr. Brantyngham, i. fol. 211.

to the grant of the Site of this Abbey from the Crown, subsequent to the Dissolution. Mr. Oliver gives a more correct statement than either. He says, " King Henry VIII. by letters patent, dated 20th Jan. 34th year of his reign, granted to John St. Leger, Esq. the dissolved Monastery of Tor. John St. Leger, by deed, dated 14th June, 35 Hen. VIII., granted it to Sir Hugh Pollard. Hugh Pollard, grandson of the said Sir Hugh, by deed dated 2d April, 22 Eliz., granted it to Sir Edward Seymour, knight. Edward Seymour, son and heir of the said Sir Edward, by deed, dated 18th Nov. 41 Eliz., sold it to Thomas Ridgway, Esq., ancestor of the Ridgways, afterwards Earls of Londonderry, with whom it remained until the year 1653 or 1654, when it was sold to John Stowell, Esq. from whom it was purchased in 1662 by Sir George Cary. In this ancient and respectable family it still continues."[a]

The reverend R. Lane, of Coffleet near Plympton, possesses a REGISTER of Torr Abbey among his title deeds.[b]

Nothing, Mr. Oliver says, can exceed the beautiful situation of this great Abbey; and, if we may judge by the remains of the Church, of the Chapter-house, and other buildings, the magnificence of the fabric did honour to the situation. When Leland visited the Abbey, three fair Gateways were standing. One Gateway remains. The Arms of the Brewers, Mohuns, Spekes, and of the Abbey, appear in the Arch.

There is an Impression of a SEAL of Torre Abbey in the Duchy Office of Lancaster.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, per Willielmum Briwere.

[Ex Regist. Abb. de Torre in Scacc. penès Remem. Regis fol. 4 a. Vide Cart. Antiq. G. n. 16. Pat. 32 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 3. Et Pat. 6 Edw. IV p. 3, m. 10. Et. Pat. 9 Edw. II. p. 2, m. 17.]

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos præsens carta pervenerit, Willielmus Briwer, salutem in Domino sempiternam. Universitati vestræ notum facio, me caritatis intuitu, et pro salute domini Ric. regis Angliæ, et pro salute Henr. regis patris sui, necnon pro salute meâ, et pro animarum omnium antecessorum, et successorum meorum, dedisse, et concessisse, et hac præsenti cartâ meâ confirmâsse, pro me et hæredibus meis imperpetuum, Deo et ecclesiæ Sancti Salvatoris de Torre, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, ordinem Præmonstratensem professis, ipsum locum ad abbatiam construendam, ubi ecclesia Sancti Salvatoris fundata est; scilicet, culturam quæ dicitur Rowedon in villâ de Torre, per metas et terminos subscriptas; scilicet per viam quæ venit de Kokington usque in villam de Torre, sic ante portam quæ fuit Richardi, tunc personæ de Torre, per viam quæ descendit usque in mare, et sic à mari usque ad calcetum; et à calceto usque ad viam præfatam, quæ venit de Kokington per certam terram cum fonte qui vocatur Efrideswelle; et quicquid infra præfatas metas continetur; et talem libertatem piscandi, et sagenam trahendi in mari de Torre, qualem ego habeo, vel habere potero, vel hæredes mei. Dedi etiam et concessi eis, ecclesiam de Torre integrè, cum omnibus pertinentiis et libertatibus suis; et similiter pasturam centum ovibus in eadem villâ, ut prædicta persona eam habuit, et habere debuit. Dedi etiam, et eis concessi totam villam meam de Woleburgh, cum advocatione ecclesiæ ejusdem villæ, et cum omnibus pertinentiis et libertatibus suis, sicut Willielmus de Brywere eam mihi dedit, pro homagio et servitio meo, et pro quadraginta marcis argenti, quas eis dedi. Concessi etiam eis, et confirmavi totam terram meam de Grendel, quæ est de manerio de Wodebery, cum omnibus pertinentiis et libertatibus suis, quam Reginaldus de Albamara mihi dedit. Dedi etiam eis, et concessi unum ferlingum terræ in Uggeburgh, cum pasturâ, et communâ moræ de Dertemore, ad præfatum manerium pertinentem; et cum omnibus libertatibus et pertinentiis suis; et unum ferlingum terræ in Braworthi cum omnibus libertatibus et pertinentiis suis; et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ de Bradeworthi, cum capellâ de Prankardeswike, cum omnibus pertinentiis et libertatibus suis. Dedi etiam, et concessi prædictis canonicis, molendinum præfatæ villæ de Bradeworthi, cum totâ sequelâ moltæ hominum meorum ejusdem villæ, et omnium aliorum, qui prædictum molendinum sequi solebant, dum fuit in manu meâ, et cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus ad prædictum molendinum pertinentibus. Concessi verò, quod dicti canonici stagnum suum prædicti molendini possint emendare de terrâ meâ, liberè, et sine impedimento mei, vel hæredum meorum, ex illâ parte aquæ, quâ mea terra jacet.

Præterea dedi, et concessi memoratis canonicis, totam terram de Northschillinford, cum omnibus libertatibus et pertinentiis suis, quam emi de Will. de Traci, pro quatuor viginti marcis argenti. Item dedi eis, et concessi quandam partem terræ in villa mea de Coleton, quæ jacet infra hos terminos; scilicet, per viam quæ venit de Torre, per la Wyngate, versùs villam de Coleton usque ad aliam viam, quæ venit de eadem villa de Torre; et sic ascendendo per eandem viam, usque ad terram de Karswille, cum monte qui vocatur Kyngesdon, et inde redeundo per boscum de Kokington, et per terminum qui dividit terram de Kokington et terram de Coleton, usque ad præfatam villam, quæ venit per la Windgate de prædicta villa de Torre. Præterea dedi, et concessi prænominatis canonicis, quod faciant stagnum, et unum vivarium ex parte de Northwille de Torre, ad aquæ-ductum faciendum, ad officinas, et alia aisiamenta sua, sicut sibi meliùs et utiliùs viderint expedire, et liceat eis facere conductus, et ductus aquarum, per omnes terras meas usque ad officinas suas, ab omnibus fontibus, quos ad aquam ducendam aptos invenerint, sive in terris nostris; sive aliorum, à quibus licentiam aquæ ducendi poterunt impetrare. Quare volo et firmiter præcipio, quod sæpedicti canonici habeant et teneant omnes prædictas terras, et tenementa præscripta, cum omnibus libertatibus, et pertinentiis suis, necnon et omnia supra memorata benè et in pacè, liberè et quietè, honorificè, integrè, et plenariè; in bosco et plano; in viis, et semitis, et exitibus: in pratis, pascuis, et pasturis, et communis; in ecclesiis et ecclesiarum advocationibus, in turbariis, juncariis, et piscariis; in aquis, et aquarum ductibus, et cursibus, in stagnis, et vivariis; in molendinis, et situ molendinorum; et in omnibus aysiamentis suis, cum omnibus libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, ad prædictas terras, et tenementa pertinentibus, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, solutè et quietè ab omni seculari opere, et consuetudine, et seculari exactione, sectis, et demandis imperpetuum. Et si aliqua libertatum, per me eis concessarum,

Carta Domini Regis Johannis, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Adhuc ex præfato Registro de Torre, fol. 7 b. Vide Pat. 32 Hen. VI. p. 1, m. 20.]

JOHANNES, Dei gratiâ rex Angliæ, &c. Sciatis nos, ad petitionem dilecti et fidelis nostri, Willielmi Briwere, concessisse et præsenti cartâ confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ et ecclesiæ Sancti Salvatoris de Torre, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, de ordine Præmonstratensis ecclesiæ, subscriptam donationem, quam idem Willielmus eis fecit in puram, et liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam; scilicet locum in quo situm est monasterium de Torre, et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, integrè, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et ex dono ejusdem Willielmi, villam de Woleborga, et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et ex dono ejusdem Willielmi, terram de Coleton, et villam de Grendil, et unum ferlingum terræ in Uggeburgh, cum communiâ pasturæ de Dertemore, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Ex dono ejusdem Willielmi, unum ferlingum terræ, cum pertinentiis, in Braworthy, et ecclesiam ejudem villæ, cum pertinentiis. Et ex dono sæpedicti Willielmi, et Willielmi de Trasci, et Drogonis de Mungiroun, villam de Northschillyngforde, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, ut in terris, et tenementis, et in advocationibus ecclesiarum, redditibus, et in omnibus aliis rebus. Et ex dono Johannis de Toriton, villam de Haggeleghe, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et ex dono Walteri filii Ivonis, unam virgatam terræ et dimidiam, cum pertinentiis; scilicet in Nywenham. Et ex dono Walteri de Vascy terram de Kyngeswere, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Quare volumus, et firmiter præcipimus, quod præfati canonici habeant et teneant omnia prædicta, et omnia quæ imposterum perquirere poterunt, rationabiliter, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, benè, et integrè, et in pace, liberè, et quietè, et plenariè, et honorificè, in advocationibus ecclesiarum, in terris et tenementis, et redditibus, in bosco et plano, in pratis et pasturis, in vivariis, et stagnis, in aquis et molendinis; in mariscis et turbariis; in viis, et semitis, et in omnibus aliis locis, rebus, et libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, quieta ab omni servicio, et seculari exactione, sicut cartæ donatorum vel venditorum rationabiliter testantur.

Præterea concessimus eis, ut habeant, per omnes terras et tenementa sua, sokam, et sakam; et tol, et theam; infanginthef, et utfangenthef, et teneant omnes terras suas liberas, et quietas de sectis schirarum et hundredorum, et de placitis forestæ; et de querelis, et de pecuniâ dandâ pro forisfacto de murdro, et wapintake; de scutagio, geldis, denegeldis, hidagio; assisis; operationibus castellorum, parcorum, pontium, calcearum, ferdwite, leyrwite, hundredpeni; tethingpeny; hengwite; flemesfret; hamsokyn, warpeny; blodwite, richtwite. Et sint ipsi et homines sui quieti, per totam terram nostram, de omni theloneo, de omnibus rebus, quasi ipsi canonici vel homines sui poterunt assecurare, quod emant vel vendant ad proprios usus ipsorum canonicorum vel hominum suorum; de pontagio, passagio, lastagio, stallagio, et de omnibus rebus, et aliis occasionibus; exceptâ solâ justiciâ mortis et membrorum. Et prohibemus ne ponantur in placitum de aliquo, nisi coram nobismetipsis, vel capitali justiciario nostro. Item concessimus eis et confirmavimus, quod si aliquis hominum suorum vitam et membra debeat amittere, vel fugerit, et judicio stare noluerit; vel aliud delictum fecerit, pro quo debeat catalla sua perdere, ipsa catalla ipsorum canonicorum sint, quantum ad nos vel ad curiam nostram pertinet. Hiis testibus, &c.

Carta Beatricis de Valle, Uxoris Willielmi Bruere.

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Beatrix de Valle salutem. Universitati vestræ notum facio, me divinæ caritatis intuitu, pro salute domini R. regis Angliæ, et H. regis patris sui; necnon et pro salute domini et sponsi mei Willielmi Briwere, et meâ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum nostrorum, concessisse et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse donationem et concessionem, quam Willielmus Brywere, dominus et sponsus meus, fecit et concessit Deo et ecclesiæ Sancti Salvatoris de Torre, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, ordinem Præmonstratensem professis. Inprimis locum ipsum qui vocatur Rowedone, ubi ecclesia Sancti Salvatoris fundata est, per metas et terminos subscriptos; scilicet per viam quæ venit de Cokyngton, usque ad villam de Torre; et sic ante portam Ricardi Briwere, tunc personæ ecclesiæ præfatæ villæ, per viam quæ descendit usque in mare; et sic à mari usque ad calcetum; et à calceto ascendendo usque ad viam præfatam, quæ venit de Cokyngton, per cartam terram cum fonte quæ dicitur Esidewelle; et quicquid infra præfatas metas continetur; et talem libertatem piscandi, et sagenam trahendi, in mari, qualem præfatus dominus meus eis concessit et carta sua confirmavit. Concedo etiam eis ecclesiam de Torre, cum omnibus pertinentiis et libertatibus suis, perpetuo possidendam; et pasturam in villâ de Torre; et unum ferlingum terræ in manerio de Uggeburgh, cum pastura, et communa ejusdem manerii, et moræ de Dertemere, ad præfatum manerium pertinente. Et situm stagni et vivarii, ex parte de North præfatæ villæ de Torre, ad aquæductum faciendum ad officinas suas; et alia aisiamenta sua, sicut eis meliùs et utiliùs viderint expedire. Hæc autem omnia Deo et ecclesiæ Sancti Salvatoris de Torre, et prænominatis canonicis concedo et confirmo, sicut dominus meus Willielmus Briwere illis ea concessit, et carta sua confirmavit. Hiis testibus, &c.

Carta W. Briwere junioris, de Terra de Coleton et Ylsham.

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Willielmus Briwere salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, me divinæ caritatis intuitu, dedisse, concessisse, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ Sanctæ Trinitatis de Torre, et canonicis Præmonstratensis ordinis, ibidem Deo servientibus, pro salute animæ meæ, et Johannæ uxoris meæ, et pro animabus domini W. Briwere, patris mei, Beatricis matris meæ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum, cum corpore meo, totam terram meam de Ylsham, et de Coleton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et totum pratum meum, quod jacet in occidentali parte calcetæ, quæ descendit de abbathia de Torre, usque ad mare, inter prædictam calcetam et pratum de Cokyngton. Habendum et tenendum prædictæ domui de Torre, et canonicis prænominatis, totam prædictam terram, in liberam elemosinam, liberè, quietè, integrè, pacificè, benè, et in pace; cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, ad dictam terram pertinentibus; in bosco, in plano; in pratis, in paschuis; in viis, in semitis; in aquis, in molendinis; in stagnis, in moris, et turbariis; in liberis introitibus et exitibus, et in omnibus aliis locis et rebus ad prædictas terras pertinentibus, quietam imperpetuum ab omni seculari servicio et exactione. Ego verò et hæredes mei totam prædictam terram cum omnibus pertinentiis suis prædictæ domui de Torre, et canonicis prænominatis contra omnes mortales imperpetuum warantizare debemus. Et ut hæc donatio, et præsentis cartæ meæ confirmatio, perpetuæ firmitatis imperpetuum robur optineant, huic præsenti scripto sigillum meum apposui, &c.

Confirmatio Reginaldi de Mohun, de bonis per Fundatores concessis.

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, hoc scriptum visuris vel audituris, Reginaldus de Mohun salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, me, caritatis intuitu, et pro salute animæ meæ, et animarum antecessorum et successorum meorum, confirmâsse, pro me et hæredibus meis, imperpetuum, donationes omnium terrarum et tenementorum, possessionum, reddituum, et ecclesiarum, cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus, et omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis, quas Willielmus Briwere avus meus, et Willielmus Briwere filius ejus, avunculus meus, fecerunt Deo et ecclesiæ Sanctæ Trinitatis de Torre, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in ordine Præmonstratensi; habendas et tenendas eisdem canonicis et successoribus suis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, solutè et quietè ab omni servili opere, et consuetudine, et seculari exactione, sectis, et demandis imperpetuum; sicut meliùs et quietiùs eisdem donationibus, cum omnibus aliis prædictis, prædicti canonici, tempore prædicti avunculi mei et tempore meo hactenus usi fuerunt. Ut autem ista confirmatio perpetuæ firmitatis robur obtineat, eam præsenti scripto, et sigilli mei impressione, roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

Conventio facta inter Abbatem et Conventum de Torre, et Reginaldum de Mohun, super Capella per ipsum Reginaldum, pro se et Familia sua, apud Torre, erigenda.

Convenit die Martis proximâ ante Pascha floridum, anno regni regis H. filii regis Johannis xxxvi. inter Simonem abbatem et conventum de Torre, ex unâ parte, et dominum Reginaldum de Moun, ex alterâ; videlicet quod dictus abbas et conventus concesserunt dicto Reginaldo et hæredibus suis, erigere capellam in curia sua de Thorre, in quà sibi et liberæ familiæ suæ, per capellanos suos divina faciant ministrari; ita quod in dictâ capellâ nullum sit baptisterium, nec aliquod jus parochiale excerceatur; nec etiam parochiani in eadem capellâ ad aliquod ecclesiasticum admittantur. Servientes verò curiæ, qui non fuerint de libera familia domini, parochialem ecclesiam excerceant. Dictus verò Reginaldus concessit, pro se et hæredibus suis, imperpetuum, quod dictus abbas et conventus de Thorre percipiant medietatem omnium oblationum et obventuum prædictæ capellæ, undecunque et quibuscunque modis advenerit. Capellani verò dicti Reginaldi et hæredum suorum poterunt celebrare in parochiali ecclesia, et percipere medietatem omnium oblationum et obventuum dicti Reginaldi et hæredum suorum, et hospitum, et liberæ familiæ suæ, quousque capella in dicta curia erigatur. Et si contingat, quod aliqui de libera familia dicti Reginaldi, vel hæredum suorum vel hospitum, capellanis dictorum abbatis et conventus, in matrici ecclesia, aliquid obtulerint, medietas ejusdem oblationis liberabitur capellanis eorundem Reginaldi, et hæredum suorum. Iidem autem capellani, sacramentum dicto abbati præstabunt, de indempnitate matricis ecclesiæ, in prædictis conservanda; et quod fideliter medietatem omnium dictarum oblationum, sibi vel certo suo assignato, liberabunt, sive in capella, sive in ecclesia celebraverint. Si verò capellani dicti Reginaldi vel hæredum suorum, contra formam prætaxatam aliquo casu venerint, et convicti fuerint, vel deprehensi, licebit dicto abbati ipsos suspendere ne celebrent in parochia de Thorre, quousque de offensa rationabiliter fuerit satisfactum. Hanc autem conventionem fideliter, et sine dolo, tenendam, utraque pars, sub suæ fidei religione promisit; et ad majorem securitatem huic scripto, in modum cirographi, confecto, alternatim sigilla sua apposuerunt. Hiis testibus, &c.

Abbey of Hales, or Hales-Owen, in Shropshire.

KING JOHN, in the sixteenth year of his reign, gave the manor and advowson of the Church of Hales to Peter de Rupibus bishop of Winchester, for the endowment of an Abbey of Premonstratensian canons, which, says Tanner, seems to have been begun and finished at the charges of the Crown, though the bishop of Winchester had the patronage.[a] It was dedicated to the blessed Virgin Mary and St. John the Evangelist, according to a MS. in the Ashmole Library, but was usually called St. Mary of Hales.

King Henry the Third confirmed his father's donation. His charter, with various others of a later date, will be given presently,[b] with an abstract of the possessions of the House as returned in the 26th of Henry VIIIth, when the gross income of the Convent was rated at 337*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.*, the clear receipts at 280*l.* 13*s.* 2½*d.*

A detailed Account of the Foundation and revenues of this Abbey by Dr. Littleton lord bishop of Carlisle, with a large assemblage of Charters subjoined, will be found in the Appendix to the second volume of Nash's Historical Collections for Worcestershire, p. xix.—xlii.

In the 4th Edw. IVth the little Priory of Dodford, near Bromesgrove, in Worcestershire, was united to this Abbey.

Tanner mentions, "Registrum (hujus Abbatiæ) olim penes Hen. Littleton bar.," with a bailiff's Accompt of the Abbey estate in the library of the Society of Antiquaries. The Register, however, had disappeared from the family of Littleton, before the bishop of Carlisle wrote his Memoir upon the place. Tanner gives other References chiefly to public Records concerning this Monastery, some additions to which will be found below.[c]

Appropriatio ejusdem Ecclesiæ, et Ordinatio Vicariæ per Rogerum Cov. et Lich. Episcopum.

[Ibid.]

UNIVERSIS Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Rogerus Dei gratia Coventrensis et Lichfeldensis episcopus, et Ricardus thesaurarius Lich. salutem in Domino sempiternam. Noverit universitas vestra, quod cum Henricus, Dei gratia, rex Anglorum illustris, abbati et conventui de Hales, Præmonstratensis ordinis, quorum ecclesiam pater ejus fundaverat, patronatum ecclesiæ de Waleshale contulisset; optans quod ecclesiæ fructus in usus cederent eorundem; iidem abbas et conventus ordinationi nostræ se supposuerunt, quoad ecclesiam antedictam et pertinentias ejus, secundùm quod in eorum literis patentibus, super hoc confectis, pleniùs continentur. Nos igitur domini regis affectum pium in Domino commendantes, desiderantes etiam profectum dictorum religiosorum, quibus propter confluentiam hospitum, ut dicitur, propriæ non suppetunt facultates, divinæ caritatis intuitu, et ob ejusdem dicti domini regis reverentiam, et ad ejus instantiam, de consensu capituli Lichfeldensis, ordinando decrevimus, quod cum magister Vincentius rector ecclesiæ de Waleshale, ipsi cesserit, vel decesserit, dicti abbas et conventus, dictam ecclesiam de Waleshale habeant, cum pertinentiis, et fructibus ejus, in usus proprios convertendis. Salva tamen vicaria tresdecem marcarum assignandarum vicario, per viros fideles et discretos, ad hoc per episcopum deputatos, in certis obventionibus ecclesiæ; qui etiam aream et ædificia ecclesiæ divident inter prædictos religiosos, et vicarium, secundùm quod, ratione prævia, viderint expedire.

Vicarius autem, qui pro tempore fuerit, onera episcopalia, et archidiaconalia consueta et debita sustinebit. Ad onera verò capellarum ecclesiæ de Waleshale consueta; scilicet de Wodnesburi et de Rushale, et servicia sibi debita sustinenda, habeat idem vicarius, præter tresdecem marcas sibi, secundùm quod dictum est, superiùs assignandas, omnes obventiones capellarum earundem, præter garbas. Quæ quidem obventiones, si ad servicia et onera in prædictis capellis, in forma præmissâ sustinenda non sufficiant, in aliis ejusdem ecclesiæ proventibus, unà cum eisdem obventionibus, per viros suprascriptos dicto vicario provideatur; undè in prænominatis capellis eadem servicia et onera honestè valeat sustinere. Alia verò onera abbas et vicarius, simul, pro suis portionibus sustinebunt. Salvo etiam, quod abbas et conventus sæpedicti, singulis annis solvant ecclesiæ Lichfeldensi sex marcas, quod ad petitionem dictorum abbatis et conventus duximus ordinandum, ad eorum perpetuam pacem, super ecclesia sæpedicta, in qua se dicebat aliquando Lichfeldensis ecclesia jus habere. De dictis autem sex marcis, sexaginta solidos deputavimus ad sustentationem operis ecclesiæ Lichfeldensis. Residuos verò xx*s.* vicariis, qui ad missam beatæ Virginis, vicissim, per annum, secundùm quod moris est, fuerint deputati, per capellanum beatæ Virginis ipsis dicta pecunia tribuenda; cui dum viginti solidi solvi debent; sexaginta verò solidi, ipsi qui ad custodiam fabricæ fuerit deputatus terminis infrascriptis; ita scil. quod tres marcæ solvantur apud Lich. in festo sancti Michaelis; tres verò residuæ in festo resurrectionis dominicæ persolvantur. Jurabit etiam dictus abbas de Hales, qui pro tempore fuerit, se dictas sex marcas, dictis terminis fideliter soluturum. Non licebit autem decano et capitulo Lich. in alios usus, quàm supradictos, convertere pecuniam memoratam. In præmissorum autem testimonium et munimen, præsentem paginam sigillis nostris, et sigillis decani et capituli Lichfeldensis, et abbatis et conventus de Hales, in consensus sui testimonium, fecimus roborari; salvo Conventrensis et Lichfeldensis ecclesiæ jure pontificali et parochiali. Ordinatio Vicariæ de Hales per Godefridum Wigorniensem Episcopum.

[Ibid.]

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos præsentes literæ pervenerint, Godefr. permissione divina, Wygornensis ecclesiæ minister humilis, salutem in Domino sempiternam. Sacrorum canonum statuta, per quæ genus humanum regitur in terris, vias prælatorum ad disponendum in ecclesia Dei, tam de regimine quàm regentium vita suo periodo ordinant et disponunt; quæ, dum inter cætera ipsorum statuta vicariis in ecclesiis parochialibus residere constringunt, nos eis de victus necessariis, de bonis ecclesiæ, cui vice regentis præsunt, competenter providere compellunt. Hinc est, quod nos, considerata animarum cura ecclesiæ parochialis de Hales, Wygorn. diœcesis, quam religiosi viri abbas et conventus monasterii de Hales, ordinis Præmonstratensis, in proprios usus optinent, et onera curæ ejusdem, tam in temporalibus quàm in spiritualibus, statuimus et diffinivimus, quod in dicta ecclesia perpetuus sit vicarius nobis et successoribus nostris per dictos religiosos præsentandus, qui de animarum cura nobis respondeat et obediat, ut subditus, et nostris successoribus in futurum; cui de dictorum religiosorum consensu expresso, nomine vicariæ, decem marcas sterlingorum singulis annis de camera dicti abbatis, per duos terminos anni, propositione dimidia et æquali; scilicet quinque marcas in festo S. Michaelis, et residuas quinque marcas in Pascate dominicæ resurrectionis fideliter persolvi præcipimus et ordinamus. Insuper assignamus eidem vicariæ mansum cum ædificiis, orto, et gardino, quæ vicarius habere consuevit, ad inhabitandum, cum herbagio cymiterii. Et iidem religiosi de suis stipendiis presbyterum alium secundarium invenient, in eadem ecclesia ministrantem, et omnia onera ordinaria et extraordinaria, qualitercunque fuerint imposita, sustinebunt. In cujus rei testimonium, has literas nostras patentes sub sigillo nostro fieri fecimus communiri. Data apud Hemburi in salso marisco xi. kal. Assignatio unius Capellani Canonici, ad celebrandum pro animabus Joh. de Hamptone, et Alianoræ uxoris ejus.

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos hoc præsens scriptum pervenerit, frater Thomas, permissione divina, abbas de Hales, et ejusdem loci conventus, salutem in Domino. Noveritis nos concessisse dilecto nobis in Christo Johanni de Hamptone, pro beneficio nobis et successoribus nostris in adquisitione manerii de Rowley impenso, quod unus capellanus canonicus assignetur ad celebrandum divina pro anima prædicti Johannis et Alianoræ uxoris ejus, et puerorum suorum, patrum, matrum prædictorum Johannis, Alianoræ, fratrum suorum, antecessorum suorum; et pro anima Ricardi de Hamptone fratris prædicti Johannis, et pro animabus omnium fidelium defunctorum, cum pleno servicio mortuorum. Et quod dictus Johannes et hæredes sui imperpetuum præsentent ydoneum et aptum canonicum ad stallum suum defendendum, et ad officium prædictum exequendum, qui ad præsentationem ipsorum successivè, sine contradictione admittetur, dummodo tamen dictum manerium de Rowley, in manibus nostris et successorum nostrorum pacificè exstiterit absque perturbatione regia, vel secta cujuscunque alterius, aliquid juris in prædicto manerio vendicantis. Concessimus etiam eisdem, post decessum eorum, quod nomina eorum in martilogio nostro scribantur; et quod in anniversariis suis plenum pro eis servicium fiet. In cujus rei testimonium sigillum nostrum commune præsentibus est appensum. Datum apud Hales die Martis in ebdomada Paschæ, anno Domini m.ccc.xxxi.

Omnibus Christi fidelibus ad quos hoc scriptum pervenerit, Johanna Botetourt domina de Weleye, salutem in Domino. Cum nuper optenta licentia à domino nostro Edwardo, illustri rege Angliæ, tertio, post conquestum, per quandam indenturam, dedisse et concessisse dilectis michi in Christo abbati et conventui de Hales-Oweyn, manerium de Werveleye cum pertinentiis in comitatu Wigorniæ; habendum et tenendum sibi et successoribus suis, et ecclesiæ suæ sanctæ Mariæ de Hales-Oweyn, de domino rege et hæredibus suis, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, ad certas cantarias, elemosinas, et alia, in forma qua in prædicta indentura pleniùs continetur, facienda. Ac etiam per eandem indenturam obligâssem me et hæredes meos, ad warantizandum præfatis abbati et conventui, et eorum successoribus, prædictum manerium, cum pertinentiis suis, contra omnes gentes imperpetuum. Noveritis me, nunc inspecta indentura prædicta, prædictas donationem, concessionem, et warantiam de prædicto manerio, in omnibus ejus membris et parcellis, messuagiis, terris, pratis, boscis, moris, pascuis, et pasturis, vivariis, stagnis, serviciis, redditibus, revertionibus terrarum et reddituum, et tam in servitiis et redditu Ricardi de Wyreleye, quæ perquisivi de Adam de Whatecroft, quàm cæteris parcellis manerii prædicti universis, prædictis abbati et conventui, et eorum successoribus, pro me et hæredibus meis confirmâsse imperpetuum, ad prædictas cantarias, elemosinas, et alia, ut præmittitur, faciendas. In cujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum meum apposui. Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Joh. Botetourt, dominus de Weleye, intuitu Dei, et pro salute animæ meæ, et animarum antecessorum et hæredum meorum, dedi, concessi, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Hales-Oweyn, abbati et conventui ejusdem loci, ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, duas acras terræ, cum pertinentiis in Clent, et advocationem ecclesiæ de Clent et Rouleye, cum capellis suis; habendas et tenendas prædictis abbati et conventui, et eorum successoribus, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, imperpetuum. Concessi etiam, pro me et hæredibus meis, eisdem abbati et conventui, et eorum successoribus, quod ipsi prædictam ecclesiam de Clent et Rouleye, cum suis capellis, cedente vel decedente persona ejusdem, in proprios usus habeant et teneant similiter in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam imperpetuum. Et ego verò prædictus Joh. et hæredes mei, prædictas duas acras terræ, et advocationem prædictam, cum suis capellis, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis præfatis abbati et conventui et eorum successoribus, contra omnes gentes warantizabimus, acquietabimus, et defendemus imperpetuum. In cujus rei testimonium hanc præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus. Joh. de Sutton, domino de Duddeleye; domino Rogero Hillary; domino Johanne de Stafford; domino Henrico de Burmyngham; domino Henrico de Bissheburi, militibus: Riccardo Frebodi; Henrico atte Hurst, et aliis. Data apud Weleye, die Martis in festo S. Ambrosii episcopi, anno regni regis Edwardi, post conquestum, tertii, quartodecimo.

Ordinatio Vicariæ de Clent per Wolstanum Wigorniensem Episcopum.

[Ibid.]

Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, præsentes literas inspecturis, frater Wolstanus, permissione divina Wygorn. episcopus, sempiternæ salutis fælicitatem in Christo. Ad perpetuam futurorum memoriam, quæ ad Dei laudem salubriter processerunt, volumus scripturarum evidenciis roborari, ne de cursu temporis labilis priventur memoria, et sub dubio casualiter revocentur. Cum itaque parochialem ecclesiam de Clent, cum capella de Rouleye, eidem annexa, seu dependente ab eadem, nostræ diœcesis, assensu capituli nostri Wygorniæ, concurrentibus omnibus, qui de jure requiruntur in hac parte, religiosis viris abbati et conventui monasterii de Hales-Oweyn, ordinis Præmonstratensis, nostræ diœcesis, ipsorumque monasterio, certis et legitimis de causis appropriaverimus; ac ipsam, appropriationis titulo, eisdem in usus proprios perpetuis temporibus concesserimus possidendam, congrua portione perpetuo vicario earundem ecclesiæ et capellæ, qui inibi curam habeat animarum, per nos vel successores nostros, in certis fructibus proventibus, et obventionibus ipsarum ecclesiæ et capellæ, eisdem assignandis, quam ad decem libras sterlingorum æstimavimus et taxavimus plenariè reservatâ. Nos in sollicitudine pastorali cupientes incœptum negotium tam salubre effectum prosperè mancipare, ac ecclesiæ et capellæ prædictarum indempnitati, animarumque parochianorum eorundem salubriter prospicere, ut tenemur; hujusmodi procurationem, pro vicario perpetuo in ipsis ecclesiâ et capellâ ministrante, qui curam habeat animarum earundem, ejusque successorum, in vicariâ dictarum ecclesiæ et capellæ, qui pro tempore fuerint, imperpetuum, de concensu ac voluntate expressis dictorum religiosorum, ac domini Johannis Audre, dictarum ecclesiæ et capellæ de Clent, et de Rouleye, perpetui vicarii, ordinamus, assignamus, et stabilimus, ac consistere volumus in fructibus, proventibus, et obventionibus dictarum ecclesiæ et capellæ infrascripta, ac ipsos fructus, proventus, et obventiones, juxta inquisitionem legitimè factam in hac parte, ad decem libras sterlingorum æstimamus, et eos tantum annuatim valere decrevimus et declaramus per decretum.

Inprimis quidem statuimus, et ordinavimus, quod vicarius qui pro tempore fuerit in dictis ecclesia et capella, curam animarum parochianorum eorundem sustineat; et quod eisdem ecclesiæ et capellæ, ac parochianis earundem, in divinis obsequiis et officiis ministret, seu faciet suis sumptibus congruè et honestè ministrari.

Item volumus et statuimus, quod idem vicarius, qui nunc est, et successores sui, qui pro tempore fuerint, habeant illud mansum sive messuagium, juxta cimiterium dictæ ecclesiæ de Clent, ex parte australi, cum curtilagio adjacente; quod quidem mansum sive messuagium, de dote dictæ ecclesiæ esse dinoscitur; in quo manso sive messuagio, præfati religiosi pro statu dictæ vicariæ ædificia competenter construi faciant ista vice, ad quorum constructionem seu reparationem, postquam semel sic constructa, sive ædificata fuerint, prædictus vicarius, qui pro tempore fuerit, tenebitur, et nullatenus ipsos religiosos volumus onerari.

Item ordinamus et statuimus, quod idem vicarius et sui successores habeant et percipiant decimam vitulorum, porcellorum, agnorum, aucarum, ovorum, pullanorum, lanæ, lactis, casei, ceræ, mellis, apium, gardinorum, curtilagiorum, piscariarum, piscium, columbarum, molendinorum, lini, canabi; silvæ, tam ceduæ, quàm non ceduæ; arborum, fructuum, pascuarum, et feni, et cæteras minutas decimas, infra dictam parochiam provenientes, exceptis decimis bladi cunctique generis: et extra decimis provenientibus de mansis, terris, pratis, et pascuis ad dictos religiosos et eorum monasterio, nomine dotis dictæ ecclesiæ seu capellæ pertinentibus, et nutrimentis animalium eorundem ibidem: quas quidem decimas de dictis locis, ut præmittitur, provenientes, sive minutæ fuerint sive majores, unà cum redditibus et serviciis temporalibus quibuscunque tenentium dictæ ecclesiæ, licet ea dictos tenentes, per viam oblationis, præfatæ ecclesiæ solvere contingat, unà cum oblationibus de majori capella de Kelmestowe obvenientibus, penès ipsos religiosos et eorum monasterio, volumus integraliter permanere. Abbey of Langley, in Norfolk.

TANNER says this Abbey was built and endowed, A.D. 1198, by Robert Fitz-Roger Helke, or de Clavering, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary.[a] Blomfield enumerates among its possessions the manors of Langley,

Thurton, Burgh cum Apeton, Mundham, Raveningham, Iyseland, Asheby, Winston, Rockland, Poringland, Framlingham, Strotesham, Kirkeby, Trous, Bowthorp, Whetacre, Rushale, Heckingham cum Rochehage, and Hales.[a]

Tanner refers to a Register of Langley, imperfect, consisting of a hundred and forty-seven leaves of vellum, formerly in the possession of Dr. Moore bishop of Ely, now in the public library at Cambridge. There is another imperfect Register of this Priory, upon fifty-six folio leaves of vellum, forming the Donation Manuscript 5948. in the British Museum.[b]

Tanner also refers to "Annales Abbatiæ de Langley, MS. in bibl. Cotton." quoted by Weever, p. 825, with "Excerpta ex eisdem, MS. in bibl. Harleiana 972. p. 79." His references to public records concerning this House are very numerous.[c]

The continuator of Blomfield has preserved the following Names of ABBATS of this Monastery: Gilbert, probably the first abbat; he occurs in 1202 and 1209. Hugh, in 1233, and again in 1246. Simon de Middleham, 1254 and 1267. Richer de Massingham, 1269. Thomas, about 1280. Adam de Filby, 1290. Jeffrey, 1324. Robert, 1340. John de Strumpeshagh, 1340 and 1363. Geoffrey, 1367. Peter, 1375 and 1382. John de Norwich, 1392. John Walsham, 1395. John Waterden, 1422. Nicholas, 1428 and 1463. Nicholas Wameston, 1467 and 1474. John, 1482. Walter Alpe, 1488 and 1500. William Kirslow, 1500. John, 1513. Robert Walkingtone, 1517.

About the time of the Dissolution, here were fifteen Religious. In the 26th Hen. VIII. the yearly revenues of this House were valued in the total at 128*l.* 19*s.* 9½*d.*; in clear income at 104*l.* 16*s.* 5½*d.* The site was granted in the 38 Hen. VIII. to John Berney, Esq.

The continuator of Blomfield, vol. iv. p. 1138, describes Abbat Simon's Seal, appended to a deed of the year 1267.

Tanner, from Blomfield's information, Pref. p. xxxii. says this Monastery bore for ARMS a pastoral staff, with a hand issuing from either side of the shield and holding a sword.

Johannes, Dei gratiâ, &c. Sciatis nos ad petitionem fidelis nostri Roberti filii Rogeri, concessisse, et hac præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmâsse donationem, quam idem Robertus fecit Deo, et ecclesiæ, in honore beatæ Mariæ apud Langele constructæ, et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, ad abbatiam construendam, ad ministrandam ibidem imperpetuum, de toto manerio de Langele possidendo, in liberâ, et purâ, et perpetuâ elemosinâ, cum ecclesiâ ejusdem villæ, et cum marisco de Ravenefnesse, et cum omnibus pertinentiis ejusdem manerii.

Præterea concessimus, et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus Deo, et sanctæ Mariæ de Langele, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes donationes terrarum, hominum, et elemosinarum, quæ eis rationabiliter factæ sunt, in ecclesiis, et in omnibus aliis rebus, et possessionibus. Quare volumus, et firmiter præcipimus, quod prædicti canonici, et eorum homines, omnes terras, et possessiones, et elemosinas suas habeant et teneant, cum socâ, et sacâ, thol, et theam, et infangenetheof, et cum omnibus aliis libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, et quietanciis suis; in bosco et plano; in pratis, et pascuis; in aquis, et molendinis; in viis, et semitis; in stagnis, et vivariis; in mariscis, et piscariis; et grangiis, et virgultis, infra burgum et extra; et in omnibus rebus, et in omnibus locis, solutas, liberas, et quietas, de scotis scyrarum, et hundredorum; et placitis, et querelis; et de pecunia danda, et forisfacto; et de murdro, et wapentaciis, et de scutagio, et de geldo, et de danegeldo; et hidagio et assisis; et de operationibus castellorum et parcorum, et pontium, et calcetarum; et de fredwite, et engoneswita, et de flemenessefreuth; et de hamsoka, et wardpeni, et de averpeni, et de blodwita, et frietweita; et de leirwita, et de hundredespeni, et de tringpeni, ...; et sint quieti ipsi et homines sui per totam terram nostram, de omni theloneo, et de omnibus terris, quas ipsi et homines sui poterunt assecurare, quod emant, vel vendant eas ad proprios usus canonicorum suorum, vel hominum suorum, absque venditione ulteriùs facienda; et de pontagio, et passagio, et lastagio, et stallagio; et de omni seculari servitio et opere servili, et exactione; et omnibus aliis occasionibus et consuetudinibus secularibus, exceptis sola justitia mortis, et membrorum. Hæc omnia eis concessimus in perpetuam elemosinam, pro Dei amore, et salute animæ nostræ, et domini regis Henrici patris nostri, et antecessorum nostrorum, et successorum nostrorum. Hiis testibus, E. Eliensi et S. Bathon. episcopis; Willielmo comite de Arundell; Ranulpho comite Cestriæ; Willielmo Marescallo, comite Penbrokiæ; Roberto filio Walteri; Ada de Portu; Saiero de Quency; Alano Basset. Abbey of Tichfield, in Hampshire.

PETER DE RUPIBUS, bishop of Winchester, having obtained of King Henry the Third a grant of the manor of Tichfield, built an Abbey there for Premonstratensian canons, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary, A.D. 1231.[a]

At the Suppression there were an Abbat and twelve Canons in this House, which was endowed with an income amounting in the gross to 280*l.* 19*s.* 10½*d.*: in clear receipts to 249*l.* 16*s.* 1*d.* The Site was granted, in the 29th Hen. VIII., to Sir Thomas Wriothesley, who built here "a right stately house,"[b] chiefly with the materials of the Abbey.

Carta Regis Henrici Tertii facta Petro de Rupibus Winton. Episcopo, de Manerio de Tichfeld, ad fundandam ibidem Abbatiam prædictam; necnon de diversis privilegiis Canonicis ejusdem loci, per eandem, concessis.

[Ex magno Rotulo Pipæ, de anno Regis Edw. Secundi nono, post Nova oblata. Suthamptonscire. Vide Pat. 6 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 10.]

ABBAS de Tychefeud dat dimidiam marcam, ut scribatur carta sua in magno rotulo; cujus tenor talis est: Henricus Dei gratiâ, rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, et dux Norm. et Aquit. et comes Andeg. archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, prioribus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, forestariis, vicecomitibus, præpositis, ministris, et omnibus ballivis, et fidelibus suis, salutem. Sciatis nos, intuitu Dei, et pro salute animæ nostræ, et animarum antecessorum nostrorum, et hæredum, dedisse, concessisse, et hac cartâ nostrâ confirmâsse, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, in perpetuum, venerabili patri Petro episcopo Wintoniensi manerium nostrum de Tichefeud, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, ad fundandam, in eodem manerio, quandam abbatiam sanctæ Mariæ, de ordine canonicorum Præmonstratensium. Concessimus etiam, et hac cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quod abbas, et canonici, ibidem Deo servientes, habeant, per omnes terras, et tenementa sua, in eodem manerio de Tychefeud, cum pertinentiis, et in terris suis de Swanewyk, et de Porcestre, quas habent de dono ejusdem episcopi Winton. et confirmatione episcopi Abricensis, et in terris suis de Walesworth, et de Cosham, quas habent de dono prædicti episcopi Wintoniensis, thol, et theam, infangenethef, et unfangenethef; et quod ipsi, et successores eorum, et omnes homines eorum, de eodem manerio, et de terris prædictis, sint quieti imperpetuum erga nos et hæredes nostros, et erga vicecomites, constabularios, præpositos, et omnes ballivos nostros, per totam terram nostram, de thelonio, passagio, pontagio, lestagio, talliagio, stallagio, et conductu thesauri, et de operationibus castellorum, domorum, murorum, fossatorum, pontium, et calcetorum, vivariorum, stagnorum et clausuum parcorum; et de omnibus aliis operationibus, et de sectis schirerorum, hundredorum, de auxiliis vicecomitum, et ballivorum suorum; et de murdro, et francoplegio, et de visu franciplegii, et de misericordiâ, et de finibus, pro transgressionibus et misericordiis; et pro licentia concordandi, de escapiis latronum, et de robberiis; de seisina, et de placitis, et querelis, et exactionibus omnibus, ad nos et hæredes nostros, et vicecomites, constabularios, vel aliquos alios ballivos nostros pertinentibus.

Concessimus etiam eisdem abbati, et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, quod nullus vicecomes, constabularius, aut aliquis alius ballivus noster, ingressum, vel posse habeat in prædicto manerio, cum pertinentiis; set totum ad eosdem abbatem et canonicos, et successores suos, et eorum ballivos pertineat; præter attachiamenta de placitis coronæ; ad quæ quidem, cum coronatores venerint, facienda, ea ita facient, quod, in nullo lædatur libertas prædictorum abbatis et canonicorum, et successorum suorum. Omnes autem prædictas libertates concessimus; ita quod omnes homines sui, de eis tenentes, in eodem manerio, et in terris prædictis, subsint, et respondeant, et satisfaciant prædictis abbati, et canonicis, et eorum successoribus; et nulli alii, nisi de voluntate eorundem abbatis et canonicorum, et successorum suorum, de omnibus prædictis, præter attachiamenta de placitis coronæ, sicut nobis, aut hæredibus nostris, aut vicecomitibus, aut constabulariis, aut aliis ballivis nostris, suberint, et responderent, et satisfacerent de eisdem, si ad nos dictum manerium, et terræ prædictæ, cum pertinentiis, pertinerent. Concessimus autem eisdem abbati, et canonicis, quod ipsi, et eorum successores distringere possint omnes homines suos de prædicto manerio, et de terris prædictis, ad omnia prædicta, præter attachiamenta de placitis coronæ, sicut nos ad eadem eos distringere possemus, aut hæredes nostri, aut vicecomites, aut constabularii, aut aliqui alii ballivi nostri, si prædictæ libertates, aut quietanciæ concessæ non fuissent. Concessimus etiam eisdem abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, quod omnes homines eorum de prædicto manerio, et de terris prædictis, sint liberi et quieti in perpetuum de omnibus juratis et assisis, et recognitionibus faciendis, præterquam in attingendis propriis dominicis nostris, si opus fuerit, infra comitatum ubi manentes sunt, si fortè contentio inter nos ipsos, et alios oriatur; ita quod occasione alia jurare si fortè evenerit, per vicecomites, vel alios ballivos nostros, non occasionentur, nec libertas eorundem abbatis et canonicorum, vel successorum suorum, in aliquo lædatur.

Concessimus insuper eisdem abbati, et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, quod si aliquis hominum suorum de manerio illo, vel de terris prædictis, pro delicto suo, vitam aut membrum debeat amittere, vel fugerit, et judicio stare noluerit, vel aliud delictum fecerit, pro quâ catalla sua debet perdere, ubicunque justicia fieri debeat, sivè in curia nostra, sivè in alia curia, omnia catalla illa sint prædictorum abbatis et canonicorum et successorum suorum; et liceat eis sine disturbatione vicecomitum, et quorumcunque ballivorum meorum, et aliorum, ponere se in seisinam de prædictis catallis, in prædictis casibus, et aliis, quantum ballivi nostri, si ad nos pertinerent catalla illa, in manum nostram ea seisire possent, et deberent.

Concessimus præterea eisdem abbati, et canonicis, quod quotiescunque aliqui malefactores capti fuerint in prædicto manerio, vel in terris prædictis, cum pertinentiis, per ballivos eorundem abbatis et canonicorum, vel successorum suorum, de quibus non possit vel non debeat fieri judicium in curiâ eorum, vicecomites et ballivi nostri recipiant prædictos malefactores, sine difficultate, et dilatione, super forisfacturam nostram, quandocunque ballivi prædictorum abbatis et canonicorum, vel successorum suorum, dictos malefactores, prædictis ballivis nostris liberare voluerint. Concessimus etiam prædictis abbati et canonicis, et successoribus suis, quod habeant in perpetuum omnia amerciamenta, de omnibus hominibus suis ejusdem manerii, et prædictarum terrarum, cum pertinentiis; quæ quidem amerciamenta, ad nos vel hæredes nostros, vel ad vicecomites, aut constabularios, aut ad aliquos alios ballivos nostros possent pertinere, si ipsa amerciamenta eis concessa non fuissent. Et quod ipsi abbas et canonici, et eorum successores, habeant potestatem ad distringendum omnes prædictos, ad amerciamenta eis reddenda. Prohibemus insuper, super forisfacturam nostram decem librarum, ne quis de prædictis amerciamentis colligendis, vel recipiendis, sine districtione indè facienda, nisi pro voluntate eorundem abbatis et canonicorum, et successorum suorum, se intromittat. Concessimus eisdem etiam, quod habeant in prædicto manerio, et in terris prædictis, cum pertinentiis, omnia averia, quæ vocantur wayf.

NUM. II.

Carta Regis Edwardi Secundi, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Pat. 11 Edw. II. p. 1, m. 4. Vide Ibid. m. 7.]

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam, quam Eva de Clinton, filia et hæres Rogeri de Escuers, fecit Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis ibidem Deo servientibus, in hæc verba.

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Eva de Clinthon, filia et hæres Rogeri de Escures, in legitimâ potestate viduitatis meæ, dedi, concessi, et præsenti cartâ confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis ibidem Deo servientibus, et imperpetuum servituris, et eorum successoribus, totam terram meam de Cadelawe, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et totam terram meam de Huthe, et totam terram meam de Stanewode, et totam terram meam de Wudecote, et de Felde; et totam curiam meam de Cadelande, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Habendum et tenendum prædictæ ecclesiæ, ct prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute animæ meæ, et pro animabus omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum imperpetuum, liberè, solutè, et quietè ab omni servicio, consuetudine, exactione, et omni seculari demandâ, ad me vel ad hæredes meos pertinente, salvo forinseco servicio. Ego autem Eva et hæredes mei prædictæ ecclesiæ et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, omnes terras prædictas, cum prædictâ curiâ, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, sine aliquo retenemento, et reclamatione mei, vel hæredum meorum, sicut prædictum est, contra omnes gentes warantizare, acquietare, et defendere debemus imperpetuum. Et si contingat, quod ego Eva et hæredes mei, omnes prædictas, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut prænominatum est, prædictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, warantizare non poterimus, faciemus eisdem, sine aliquâ contradictione, rationabile escambium ad valentiam omnium prædictarum terrarum in manerio meo de Wycham. Ut autem hæc mea donatio, concessio, et præsentis cartæ confirmatio perpetuæ stabilitatis robur optineat, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione communivi. Hiis testibus, domino Emerico de Sacy; domino Will. de Sancto Claro; domino Thoma de Gunynges, domino Henrico de Ferlee; domino Johanne Lancelenee; domino Hugone de Hoyvile; domino Galfrido de Rupibus; Rogero de Merlay; domino Thoma de Venuz, Ricardo Fuillet; Rogero de Hardel, Johanne de Brunnewiz, Rogero Markes, Johanne le Brut, Isaac Lancelevee, et aliis.

Inspeximus etiam quandam cartam, quam Reginaldus de Albamara fecit Deo et ecclesiæ prædictæ, et præfatis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, hanc cartam inspecturis vel audituris, Reginaldus de Albamara, salutem æternam in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra, me intuitu Dei, et pro salute animæ meæ, et animarum omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum, concessisse et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse, pro me et hæredibus meis in perpetuum, Deo et ecclesiæ sanctæ Mariæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis Præmonstratensis ordinis ibidem Deo servientibus, et imperpetuum servituris, et eorum successoribus, subscriptam donationem, quam Eva filia et hæres Rogeri de Escures, in legitima potestate viduitatis suæ, eis fecit; totum viz. manerium de Cadelande, cum molendinis, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, et totam terram, quam habent de Thoma de Escures in eodem manerio, ex dono prædictæ Evæ de Escures. Et insuper totam terram de Huthe; et totam terram de Staneswode; et totam terram de Wodeton, et de Felde. Ex dono ejusdem Evæ, totam curiam de Cadelande, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Habend. et tenend. omnia prædicta prædictis ecclesiæ, abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, absque omni retenemento, reclamatione, vel vendicatione mei vel hæredum meorum, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè, solutè, et quietè, ab omni servicio, consuetudine, exactione, et omni seculari demanda ad me vel hæredes meos pertinente, salvo forinseco: Ego autem Reginaldus et hæredes mei tenemur warantizare prædictæ ecclesiæ, abbati et canonicis memoratis, et eorum successoribus, hanc meam concessionem, et confirmationem, per omnia, prout superiùs est expressum, contra omne hominum genus imperpetuum. Et ut hæc mea concessio, et confirmatio, perpetuæ stabilitatis robur optineat, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione communivi. Hiis testibus, domino Galfrido de Lucy; domino Will. de Gardinis, militibus; Rogero Markes, Roberto de Sutton, Ricardo de Heyhirde, Ricardo de Swanem; Rogero de Hardeleye; Willielmo Cornays; Mathæo Oysel; et aliis.

Inspeximus etiam quandam cartam, quam Thomas de Escures fecit Deo et ecclesiæ prædictæ, et præfatis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Noverint universi, præsentes, et futuri; quod ego Thomas de Escures dedi, concessi, remisi, quietum clamavi, et præsenti carta mea confirmavi, pro me et hæredibus meis, Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, et eorum successoribus, totam curiam meam, et domos, cum omnibus ædificiis ibidem constructis, et redditus et omnes terras meas et salinas, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quas habui in Cadelande, et in parochia de Faleleye. Habenda et tenenda de me et hæredibus meis, prædictæ ecclesiæ et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, liberè, quietè, solutè, et in omnibus, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, absque aliquo retenemento, et reclamatione mei, vel hæredum meorum imperpetuum; ita scilicet, quod dicti abbas et canonici et eorum successores debent invenire unum canonicum, qui singulis diebus imperpetuum celebrabit divina, pro animâ meâ, et pro animâ Johannis fratris mei, et pro animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum in ecclesiâ conventuali de Tychefeld, ad altare Sanctarum Virginum, versùs austrum ubi corpus meum debet sepeliri. Et ego Thomas de Escures et hæredes mei, prædictam curiam et domos, cum omnibus ædificiis ibidem constructis, et redditus, et terras, et salinas, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, contra omnes gentes warantizabimus, acquietabimus, et defendemus imperpetuum. Ut autem hæc mea donatio, concessio, remissio, quieta clamantia, et præsentis cartæ confirmatio, perpetuæ stabilitatis robur optineat, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, Johanne de Wyta, tunc seneschallo Novæ Forestæ; Ricardo Fullet; Roberto de Faleleye; Rogero de Hardeleye; Reginaldo Buthe; Ricardo de Tribus Aulis; Will. Cornays, et aliis.

Inspeximus insuper quandam cartam, quam Baldewinus de Ripariis, dominus de Insula, fecit Deo et dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba: Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Baldewinus de Ripariis, dominus de Insula, concessi, remisi, quietum clamavi, et præsenti cartâ, pro me et hæredibus meis confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, et imperpetuum servituris, omnes terras et possessiones, cum molendinis, salinis, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, quas habent et tenent de dono dominæ Evæ de Clynton filiæ et hæredis Rogeri de Escures, de feodo meo de Cadelande. Et omnes terras cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quas habent in Huthe, Staneswode, Wodynton, et de Felde, de dono ejusdem dominæ Evæ de Clynton, de eodem feodo. Et totam terram cum curiâ, salinis, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, quam habent de dono Thomæ de Escures, in prædictâ villâ de Cadeland; de quibus memoratis terris, possessionibus, molendinis, salinis, curiâ, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, habent confirmationem domini Reginaldi de Alba Mara, domini quondam prædictarum terrarum. Tenenda et habenda omnes prædictas terras, cum curiâ, molendinis, salinis, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati, et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, liberè, et quietè, benè, solutè, et integrè, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute animæ meæ, et animabus antecessorum et hæredum meorum imperpetuum; faciendo indè michi, et hæredibus meis, dicti abbas et canonici et eorum successores, in scutagio et rationabili auxilio, ad filium meum primogenitum militem faciendum, et filiam meam primogenitam maritandam, quantum pertinet ad tertiam partem feodi unius militis, pro omnibus serviciis, et secularibus demandis; ita quod ego Baldewinus, et hæredes mei, nichil ampliùs, de cætero, de prædictis terris, curia, molendinis, salinis, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, ac præfato abbate et canonicis et eorum successoribus, præter prædictum scutagium, et rationabile auxilium, sicut prædictum est, quando acciderit, poterimus exigere, vel habere, ut homagiis, releviis, custodiis, auxiliis, escaetis, sectis curiæ, visu franci plegii, fidelitatibus, ac omnibus aliis casibus supervenientibus imperpetuum. Et si contingat quod prædicti abbas et canonici, et eorum successores, per hæredes prædictæ Evæ de Clynton, vel hæredes præfati Reginaldi de Alba Mara, seu per aliquos alios, ad solvendum prædictum scutagium, seu aliquod auxilium, prout superiùs distinctum est faciendum, distringantur; ego Baldewinus et hæredes mei, prædictos abbatem et canonicos, et eorum successores, contra omnes gentes acquietabimus et defendemus; et de omnibus supradictis imperpetuum. Ut autem hæc mea concessio, remissio, quieta-clamancia, et præsentis cartæ confirmatio perpetuæ stabilitatis robur optineat, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, dominis Will. de Insula; Will. de Gloumorgan; Will. de Pageham, Will. de Stratton, militibus, domino Martino Chamflur; Ricardo de Astton; Henrico Trenchard; Johanne de Bronewiz; Willielmo Markes, et aliis.

Inspeximus etiam quandam cartam, quam Gilbertus le Mansel fecit Deo et ecclesiæ prædictæ, et præfatis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Sciant presentes et futuri, quod ego Galfridus le Mansel dedi, concessi, et hac præsenti carta, pro me et hæredibus meis, confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, et in perpetuum servituris, totam terram meam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quam habui et tenui de feodo domini Rogeri de Someri, in villa de Ingepenne, per servicium feodi unius militis. Habendum et tenendum dictæ ecclesiæ et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, totam præfatam terram, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, liberè, et quietè, solutè, et integrè, bene et in pace, jure hæreditario, in omnibus; ut in homagiis, fidelitatibus, releviis, wardis, et escaetis, dominicis, redditibus, boscis, pratis, pascuis, pasturis, viis, semitis, et omnibus aliis aisiamentis, et libertatibus, infra villam et extra, ad eandem terram pertinentibus, absque ullo retenemento, vel reclamatione mei vel hæredum meorum imperpetuum; faciendo indè memorato domino feodi, servicium quod ad prædictam terram pertinet.

Dedi insuper, et concessi dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et conventui, et eorum successoribus, totum jus et clamium, quod habui, vel habere potui in tota terra, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quam domina Hawisia, quondam uxor domini Walteri le Mansel fratris mei, de me tenuit, nomine dotis, in eadem villa; ita quod post decessum dictæ dominæ Hawisiæ, tota prædicta terra, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sine aliqua diminutione, vel impedimento, et contradictione mei, vel hæredum meorum imperpetuum, ad prædictam ecclesiam, et prædictum abbatem, et canonicos, et eorum successores, debet reverti. Et ego prædictus Galfridus le Mansel, et hæredes mei, totam prædictam terram, cum prædicta dote, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, contra omnes gentes warantizabimus, acquietabimus, et defendemus in perpetuum. Pro hac autem donatione, concessione, et præsentis cartæ confirmatione, acquietaverunt me prædicti abbas et canonici versùs Abraham de Brechamstede Judæum, de nonies viginti libris sterlingorum; et michi dederunt centum libras sterlingorum; et singulis annis, quoad vixero, viginti libras sterlingorum, ad duos terminos anni. Ut autem hæc mea donatio, concessio, et præsentis cartæ confirmatio, pro me et hæredibus meis, futuris temporibus firma et stabilis permaneat, præsens scriptum sigilli mei impressione communivi. Hiis testibus, domino Nicholao de Henreth, tunc vice-comite Berksiræ, domino Rob. de Herpenham; Nic. filio Gervasii de Ingkepenn; Alano de Englefeld; Ric. de Waleton; Galfrido Pozard; Hugone de Inglefeld; Petro clerico: Johanne le Povere, et aliis.

Inspeximus insuper quandam cartam, quam Petrus de Sukemund de Ingepenne fecit Deo et dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Sciant præsentes, et futuri, quod ego Petrus Sukemund de Ingepenne dedi, concessi, et presenti carta confirmavi, Deo et dictæ ecclesiæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis Præmonstratensibus ibidem Deo servientibus, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, totam terram meam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis in Ingepenne. Tenendam et habendam dictæ ecclesiæ et dictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, liberè, quietè, et integrè, benè, et in pace, jure hæreditario, et in omnibus libertatibus, in bosco et in plano, in pratis, pascuis, et pasturis, in aquis, stagnis, et vivariis, in viis et semitis, in redditibus, releviis, et homagiis; wardis, et escaetis; serviciis, heriettis; et omnibus aliis exitibus, et consuetudinibus, ad eandem terram pertinentibus: faciendo indè pro me et hæredibus meis domino feodi illius, servicium dimidii militis; et michi et hæredibus meis unum par calcarium, vel tres denarios sterlingorum, ad festum sancti Michaelis, pro omnibus serviciis, consuetudinibus, exactionibus, et seculari demanda, ad me vel hæredes meos pertinentibus. Et ego Petrus Sukemund, et hæredes mei, debemus warantizare, acquietare, et defendere totam prædictam terram, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis prænominatis, dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, contra omnes gentes imperpetuum. Ut autem hæc mea donatio, concessio, et præsentis cartæ confirmatio perpetuæ stabilitatis robur optineat, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, domino Walt. Mansel, milite; Sewale de Esvile; Nich. filio Gervasii de Ingepenne; Ric. de Haveringe; Rob. de Herpenham; Joh. Belet; Will. de Hame; Galfr. Pochard, Will. Buggi; Nich. clerico, Philippo clerico de Hungerford; Petro Farman; Will. le Chapeleyn, et aliis.

Inspeximus etiam quandam cartam, quam Rogerus de Someri fecit ecclesiæ prædictæ, et præfatis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Sciant præsentes, et futuri, quod ego Rogerus de Someri concessi et hac præsenti cartâ confirmavi, pro me et hæredibus meis, Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tychefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, et eorum successoribus, omnes terras, et possessiones, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quas habent de feodo meo, de villa de Ingepenne. Habendas et tenendas dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus in perpetuum, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, &c. Hiis testibus domino Johanne filio Galfridi; domino Will. de Eboraco; domino Jeremia de Claxton; domino Rogero de Turkildeby; domino Galfrido de Lucy; Roberto Passelewe; Ricardo de Lucy; Roberto de Bello Alneto; Petro de Itingeden; et aliis.

Inspeximus etiam quandam cartam, quam Petrus Wynton. ecclesiæ minister, fecit Deo et ecclesiæ prædictæ, et præfatis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Universis Christi fidelibus, ad quorum notitiam præsens carta pervenerit, Petrus, divina miseratione, Wyntoniensis ecclesiæ minister humilis, æternam in Domino salutem. Noveritis nos, divinæ caritatis intuitu, dedisse, concessisse, et præsenti carta nostra confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tychefeld, et abbati et canonicis Præmonstratensis ordinis, ibidem Deo servientibus, et eorum successoribus, totam terram nostram, quam habuimus in Cornhampton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sine aliquo retenemento, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam; quam quidem terram emimus de Ada de Cornhampton. Dedimus etiam prædictæ ecclesiæ, abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, totum boscum nostrum cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, qui vocatur Cherlewode, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, quem emimus de Jordano de Wakervile. Et ut hæc nostra donatio, concessio, et cartæ hujus confirmatio, imposterum perseveret, præsenti scripto sigillum nostrum apponere dignum duximus. Hiis testibus, magistro Alano de Sancta Cruce; Will. atte Hene; Ada de la Berre; Emerico de Sace; Regin. de Cunde; Galf. de Rupibus; Jac. de Northampton; Henr. de Wodecote; Ric. de Cardevile; Thoma de Gumminges; Joh. de Clifford; Thoma Thable, et multis aliis.

Inspeximus insuper quoddam scriptum, quod Will. de Clare fecit Deo et prædictæ ecclesiæ, et dictis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Noverint universi, præsentes pariter et futuri, quod ego Will. de Clare concessi, et præsenti scripto, pro me et hæredibus meis, confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tychefeld, et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis ibidem Deo servientibus, et eorum successoribus, totam tertiam partem manerii de Cornhampton, cum suis pertinentiis, quam habent de dono domini Petri quondam Wynton. episcopi, sicut in carta, quam habent de dicto episcopo, continetur: quam quidem terram idem episcopus emebat de Ada de Cornhampton. Habendum et tenendum, de me et hæredibus meis, dictæ ecclesiæ, et præfatis canonicis, et eorum successoribus, tertiam partem prædicti manerii de Cornhampton, cum suis pertinentiis, liberè, quietè, integrè, in homagiis, redditibus, dominicis, villenagiis, serviciis, in boscis, pasturis, &c. Pro hac concessione, et præsentis scripti confirmatione, dederunt michi prædicti canonici decem libras sterlingorum, præ manibus, et tertiam partem prædicti molendini de Cornhampton. Et ut hæc mea concessio, et præsentis scripti confirmatio, pro me et hæredibus meis firma et stabilis in perpetuum perseveret, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione feci roborare. Hiis testibus, domino Petro de Nereford; domino Henrico de Sullye, militibus, &c.

Inspeximus etiam quandam cartam, quam Will. de Rayni, filius et hæres domini Willielmi de Rayni, fecit Deo et ecclesiæ prædictæ, et præfatis abbati et canonicis in hæc verba. Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Will. de Rayni miles, filius et hæres domini Willielmi de Rayni, dedi, concessi, et hac præsenti carta mea, pro me et hæredibus meis, vel meis assignatis, confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tychefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis, ibidem Deo servientibus, et in perpetuum servituris, totam terram meam de Stubynton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quam habui et tenui de feodo domini Johannis de Mohun, filii et hæredis domini Johannis de Mohun; habendum et tenendum dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, totam præfatam terram, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, liberè, et quietè, solutè, et integrè, benè, et in pace, jure hæreditario, in omnibus; ut in homagiis, fidelitatibus, wardis, escaetis, &c. Ut autem hæc mea donatio, concessio, et præsentis scripti confirmatio, et omnia prædicta, prout superiùs, pleniùs sunt distincta, perpetuæ stabilitatis robur optineant, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, dominis Hugone de Hoyvile, et Philippo filio suo, Will. de Stratton, et Will. le Fauconer, militibus, &c. Inspeximus etiam quandam cartam, quam Matildis Bret, filia Johannis Bret, fecit Deo et prædictæ ecclesiæ, et præfatis abbati et canonicis, in hæc verba. Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Mat. Bret, filia J. Bret, dedi, concessi, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Tichefeld, et abbati et canonicis ordinis Præmonstratensis ibidem Deo servientibus, et imperpetuum servituris, totam terram meam, quam emi et habui de Roberto Bret fratre meo in Chark, viz. totam illam croftam, cum suis pertinentiis, quæ vocatur Sudkyngeslond, cum domibus super eandem ædificatis: Et totam illam croftam, cum suis pertinentiis, quæ vocatur Northkyngeslond: Et totam illam croftam, cum suis pertinentiis, quæ vocatur Sudwyggestighele: Et totam illam croftam, cum suis pertinentiis, quæ vocatur Northwyggestihele: Et totam illam croftam, quæ vocatur Popescroft: Et octo acras et dimidium, cum suis pertinentiis, quæ jacent in aquilonari parte prati de Chark. Et totam illam croftam, cum suis pertinentiis, quæ vocatur Westrode. Et unam acram terræ, quæ jacet in australi parte, proxima juxta viam quæ ducit de villâ de Chark, versùs curiam de Lye. Et duodecim denarios de annuo redditu, quod Johannes Bret, filius Roberti Bret, fratris mei, pro quadam terrâ, quæ vocatur la Strode, reddere michi debuit annuatim. Habendum et tenendum omnes prædictas terras cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, liberè, quietè, benè, solutè, integrè, et pacificè, in omnibus, &c. et omni jure et dominio, quod habui, vel habere potui, in magnâ viâ quæ ducit de Lye versùs domum Willielmi Markes; et omnimodis aisiamentis, et proficuis aliis, quæ michi aliquo casu accidisse possent imperpetuum in terris vel in redditu supradictis. Reddendo inde annuatim Willielmo Breton, et hæredibus suis, duos solidos ad duos anni terminos; videlicet ad Pascha duodecim denarios, et in festo sancti Michaelis duodecim denarios: Et eidem ad eundem terminum sancti Michaelis, pro quadam dimidiâ acrâ, jacente in Popescroft, superiùs nominato, juxta fossatum de la Blakelonde, unum denarium; et Roberto Bret, fratri meo prædicto, unum denarium, pro omnibus serviciis, sectis curiæ, &c. Pro hac autem donatione, &c. dederunt michi dicti abbas et canonici sex marcas sterlingorum ad acquietandum terram prædictam de Judaismo, in quo fuit impignorata per Robertum fratrem meum supradictum. Concesserunt etiam dicti abbas et canonici, per cartam suam, quasdam portiones michi et Willielmo filio meo, et Aliciæ et Sabillæ, filiabus meis, quoad vixerimus, inveniendas, sicut in scriptis inde confectis pleniùs continebitur. Quare ego prædicta Matildis et hæredes mei volumus et debemus omnes prædictas terras, cum ædificiis in prædictis terris existentibus, redditibus, et omnibus aliis pertinentiis et rebus superiùs distinctis, dictæ ecclesiæ, et prædictis abbati et canonicis, et eorum successoribus, contra omnes homines, tam Christianos, quàm Judæos, warantizare, acquietare, et defendere imperpetuum. Ut autem hæc mea donatio, concessio, et præsentis scripti confirmatio, perpetuæ stabilitatis robur optineant, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, domino Will. de Straton, et Philippo de Hoyvile, militibus, &c.

Inspeximus etiam quoddam scriptum, quod Johannes de sancto Johanne, dominus de Baysinge, fecit præfato abbati et conventui monasterii de Tychefeld, in hæc verba. Omnibus Christi fidelibus præsens scriptum visuris vel audituris, Johannes de sancto Johanne dominus de Basynge, salutem in Domino sempiternam. Noverit universitas vestra, quod ego remisi, et omnino quietè clamavi, pro me et hæredibus meis, abbati et conventui monasterii de Tichefeld, ordinis Præmonstratensis, et eorum successoribus, omnes sectas, et servicia, et districtiones, quas ego et antecessores mei aliquo tempore ab eisdem abbate et conventu exigere consuevi, seu exigi consueverunt, de terrâ quam prædicti abbas et conventus tenent in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, per feoffamentum quoddam Willielmi de Regni in villa de Stobynton; quam quidem terram dominus Johannes de Moun de me tenet; ita quod nec ego Johannes, nec hæredes mei, de cætero aliquam districtionem facere possumus, nec debemus super prædictos abbatem et conventum, aut eorum successores, in villa de Stobynton, pro aliquibus sectis, vel serviciis, quod dictus Johannes de Moun michi facere tenetur de feodo, quod de me tenet in villâ de Stobynton prædictâ. Et ut hæc mea quieta clamantia stabilis permaneat imperpetuum, huic scripto sigillum meum apposui. Datum apud Basynge vicesimo primo die mensis Octobris, anno regni regis Edwardi filii regis Edwardi tertio.

Nos autem donationes, concessiones, remissiones, quietas clamancias, et confirmationes prædictas ratas habentes et gratas, eas pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, dilectis nobis in Christo abbati et conventui loci prædicti, et eorum successoribus, concedimus et confirmamus, sicut cartæ et scripta prædicta rationabiliter testantur. In cujus, &c. T. rege apud Westm. x. die Jan.

Abbey of Home Lacy, or Hamm, in Herefordshire.

TANNER, from Mr. Mat. Gibson's View of Door, &c. p. 118, says, "William Fitzwain founded an Abbey here in the beginning of the reign of King Henry the Third, for Premonstratensian canons, to the honour of the blessed Virgin and St. Thomas Becket, and endowed the same with lands in Hamm, and the manors of Albriston and Hudlesfeld, and the rents and services thereto belonging."

Gibson, in his Appendix, Num. V., has given the foundation charter: but says, "So subject are all things to destruction by time, and chance, that where this Abbey was either built, or how long it stood, or whither it was removed, I have in vain endeavour'd to find out."

[Ex Orig. penes Dominam Vicecomitissam Scudamore, A.D. 1727.]

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis præsentem cartam visuris vel audituris, Willielmus fil. Warin. salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me divinæ karitatis intuitu dedisse, concessisse, et præsenti chartâ meâ confirmasse, pro salute animæ meæ et Agnetis sponsæ meæ et omnium antecessorum et successosum nostrorum, Deo et beatæ Mariæ et ecclesiæ sancti Thomæ Martyris et fratri Augustino abbati et conventui ordinis Præmonstratensis et eorum successoribus in perpetuum, totam illam terram cum bosco quam emi de domino Waltero de Lacy in Hamma, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis et libertatibus, sine aliquo retinemento, ad construendam et sustentandam abbatiam in manerio de Hamme, scilicet ordinis Præmonstratensis, prædictis abbati et conventui ibidem moram facientibus et Deo servientibus, tenend. et habend. totam prædictam terram cum bosco, abbati et couventui prænotatis, cum omnibus pertinentiis et libertatibus, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, absque omni impedimento et contradictione mei vel hæredum meorum, salve forinseco servitio, secundùm tenorem cartæ quam habui de domino Waltero præfato. Et ego prædictus Willielmus et hæredes mei prædictam terram cum bosco et cum omnibus pertinentiis suis et libertatibus supradictis abbati et conventui et eorum successoribus contra omnes gentes warantizabimus in perpetuum. Et ut hæc mea donatio, concessio, et confirmatio rata et stabilis perseveret, præsentem cartam sigilli mei munimine corroboravi. Hiis testibus, dom. Fulcone fil. Warin. dom. Horneby, in Lancashire.

TANNER calls this "an Hospital or Cell of a Prior and three Premonstratensian Canons to the Abbey of Croxton in Leicestershire, of the foundation[a] of the ancestors of Sir Thomas Stanley, Lord Mountegle, to whom the site and demesnes of this Priory (as parcel of Croxton) were granted, 36th Hen. VIII. It was dedicated to St. Wilfrid, and endowed with lands to the value of 26*l.* per annum."[b]

In a Note, he adds, "So Mr. Burton's Leicestershire, p. 80. Leland, Collect. i. p. 72, and the patent roll, 36 Hen. VIII. p. 10; but the Prior and Convent's surrender of this House under their common seal, in Rymer's Fœdera, vol. xix. p. 557, three years before the surrender of Croxton, seems to make it a distinct House."[c]

The Surrender, bearing date 23 Feb. 27 Hen. VIII., is in the Augmentation Office, with the COMMON SEAL thereto attached; but the Impression is so defective that but little of the subject can he made out, and no part of the Legend.

Premonstratensian Nunnery of Irford, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this a small Priory for Nuns of the Premonstratensian Order, founded by Ralph de Albini temp. Hen. II. It was dedicated to the Virgin Mary, and had in it six or eight Religious about the time of the Dissolution, when the revenues were reckoned in the total at 14*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*, in clear income at 13*l.* 19*s.* 9*d.* The Site was granted in the 31st Hen. VIII. to Robert Tirwhit. Dugdale in the former edition of this Work, vol. i. p. 545, gave the name of the founder of this Priory only.[d]

The Surrender of this Abbey is in the Augmentation Office, and bears date 8 July, 31 Hen. VIII. Attached to it is the COMMON SEAL, having the Virgin crowned, and bearing a Sceptre, with the divine Infant in her lap. Legend very imperfect; no more of it remaining than........ ORIS . ET . Abbey of Dureford, in Sussex.

DUGDALE in the former edition of this Work, vol. i. p. 545, quoted the short notice of Dureford given in Leland's Collectanea, viz. "Durford Abbat. Henricus Husey miles primus fundator, Henricus Guldeford miles præcipuus benefactor." Tanner says, "Henry Hoese the elder, before the year 1169, built and endowed here an Abbey of Premonstratensian Canons, from Welbeck, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary and St. John Baptist."

The Cottonian Manuscript Vespasian E. XXIII. contains a REGISTER of DUREFORD, a quarto Volume, written on a hundred and thirteen leaves of vellum; from which Dugdale, in the Appendix to the present notice, has made copious extracts.

From Peck's MSS. vol. ii. p. 11. it appears that upon the death of WALTER abbat of Dureford, in 1465, an election took place, at which time Nicholas Husey, Esq., the modern founder or Patron of Dureford wrote the following Letter to the abbat of Welbeck:

"Worschypfull and reverente Fadyr in God, Y recommaunde me unto you. Tanner says, "In this Monastery were about seven Religious, who had possessions rated in the 26th Hen. VIIIth in gross income to the amount of 108*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.*, clear of reprises at 98*l.* 4*s.* 5*d.* per annum.

NUM. I.

Carta Henrici Hosati Domini de Herting in Com. Sussexiæ, de Fundatione Abbatiæ de Dureford, et aliis Donis.

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Henricus Hosatus dedi et concessi et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ et sancti Johannis Baptistæ de Dureford, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, ab omni servicio et seculari exactione quietam, donationem illam quam Henricus Hosatus pater meus dedit ad abbatiam construendam; viz. ipsum locum de Dureford, cum molendino de Dureford, et pratum de divisa Hamtesire, usque ad pontem de Dureford, et pasturam omnibus nutrimentis animalium, ovium, pecorum, ac jumentorum suorum ex parte aquilonis aquæ quæ vocatur Schire, per omnia tam in bosco quàm in plano, et brueriam ad omnia eorum negotia, quantum eis opus fuerit: et pratum de la Wisse: et apud Standenam terram Vure: quam duo fratres Ranulfus et Seech tenuerunt; et capellam meam de Standene, cum tertiâ parte omnium decimarum dominici mei de Standene: et unam virgatam terræ apud Bugesgate ad eandem capellam pertinentem cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, tam in bosco quàm in plano: et totam decimam essarti mei de Standene; et decimam pannagii mei de Herting in denariis et porcis; et totam decimam casei qui venit de dominicâ pasturâ meâ de Herting, præter unam peisiam quæ ad ecclesiam de Herting pertinet. Et triginta sex acras terræ in dominico meo de Redeland; et unam virgatam terræ apud Hagebedene à la Sande, quam Alwinus tenuit. Et unam croftam quam Robertus filius Seman tenuit juxta heisiam de Demesford. Præterea dedi in perpetuam et puram elemosinam ad dotandam prædictam ecclesiam de Dureford, in die dedicationis ejusdem, viginti solidos de molendino de Haggebedene, quod dedi Nicholao Blundell pro servicio suo. Et prædicti canonici concesserunt, quod singulis diebus celebrabunt missam ad altare Sanctæ crucis pro fidelibus. Et de eodem molendino dedi eis quinque solidos administrandum lampadem ardentem die ac nocte ante majus altare; qui viginti quinque solidi reddentur annuatim prædictis canonicis per manum N. Blundel et hæredum suorum vel successorum qui illud molendinum tenebunt, ad duos terminos; scil. ad nativitatem Domini xii^s. et vi. denar. et ad nativitatem S. Johannis Bapt. xii^s. et vi^d. Dedi etiam prædictis canonicis ad dotandam ecclesiam de Dureford in die dedicationis ejus totum nemus meum quod est in occidentali parte per viam Londoniensem, quæ tendit de Dureford usque ad Styngel. Et confirmavi eis terram quam Clemencia uxor mea eis dedit de libero maritagio suo, scil. totum tenementum quam Ernaldus le Burgunnum tenuit de feodo Johannis de Port patris sui in magno vico Wynton. Et prædicti canonici concesserunt, quod singulis diebus celebrabunt missam de Sancta Maria solempniter ad altare ejusdem virginis. Præterea dedi eisdem in dotem prædictæ ecclesiæ de tota annona mea, scil. guannagii mei, quæ expenditur in domo meâ ad panem faciendum, decimum quarterium ubicunque residencia mea fuerit in maneriis meis; et decimam de carnibus larderii mei. Et quia non potest de facili certa summa teneri de emptis, loco illarum assignavi eis in manerio meo de Littleton xv. sol. de molendino quod Edmundus Lubin tenuit, qui reddantur annuatim à quocunque molendinum illud teneatur, ad duos terminos, scil. ad nativitatem Domini, et ad nativitatem S. Johannis Baptistæ, prædictis canonicis. Et volo, quod denarii expendantur in coquina refectorii per manus duorum canonicorum, quos ad hoc conventus elegerit. Cætera servicia prædicti molendini remanebunt mihi et hæredibus meis. Quare volo, et firmiter præcipio hæredibus meis, et hominibus meis, ut prædicti canonici teneant præscriptas donationes in pace, liberè, et quietè, et honorificè, in bosco et plano, in pratis, et pasturis, in viis et semitis, et in omnibus locis, et in omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus liberæ elemosinæ congruentibus.

Præterea concessi et confirmavi, quod donationes subscriptas, quæ à liberis hominibus meis eis rationabiliter datæ sunt; scil. ex dono Walteri de Stapulford terram quam Walterus Caterarius tenuit. Ex dono Walteri de Wateligh quatuor acras terræ in Rideland. Ex dono Walteri Hosati terram de Stathorp. Præterea quicquid prædictis canonicis rationabiliter datum fuerit in elemosinam à liberis hominibus meis de feodo meo, concedo et confirmo, salvo tamen servicio domini regis. Præcipio etiam hæredibus meis, et hominibus meis, ut ipsi prædictam ecclesiam diligant et protegant et manuteneant; et prædictas donationes concedant et confirment. Et ut omnes prædictæ donationes stabiles et firmæ permaneant imperpetuum, eis præsenti carta, et sigilli mei munimine roboravi, pro anima regis Henrici et regis Ricardi, et W. comitis de Arundel; et pro animabus patris mei et matris meæ, et pro salute animæ meæ, et uxoris meæ, et liberorum meorum et prædecessorum et antecessorum meorum. Carta Regis Henrici Secundi, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

HENRICUS Dei gratiâ rex Angliæ, et dux Normanniæ et Aquitanniæ, et comes Andegaviæ, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, ministris, et omnibus fidelibus suis totius Angliæ salutem. Sciatis me concessisse, et præsenti carta mea confirmasse Deo et ecclesiæ S. Johannis Bapt. de Dereford, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes donationes subscriptas, quæ eis rationabiliter datæ sunt, et cartis donatorum confirmatæ. Ex dono Henrici Hose donationem quam pater suus eis dederat ad abbatiam suam construendam; viz. ipsum locum de Dereford, cum molendino de Dereford, et pratis de divisa de Hamteshire usque ad pontem de Dereford; et pratum de la Wysse et augmentum; et donationem terræ quam eis dedit, sicut divisarum illarum portio designat: et apud Standenam terram de Hurâ quam duo fratres tenuerunt; et decimam pasuagii sui apud Herting in nummis et in porcis. Et residuum decimæ casei præter id quod ad ecclesiam pertinet. Et viginti acras terræ de dominico suo in Ridelonde et in Wellegarston; et unam virgatam terræ apud Haggebedene à la Sande, quam Alwinus tenuit. Et unam croftam quam Robertus filius Semanni tenuit juxta Heysam de Demesford.

Ex dono Jocelini fratris reginæ unam virgatam terræ in Hetshyle, cum servicio Willielmi Clerici de terrâ quam tenet de dono ejusdem Jocelini in Tolliton. Ex dono Gaufridi de Sartilli dimidiam virgatam terræ apud Ebintone. Ex dono Willielmi comitis Glocestriæ partem suam moræ, quæ est divisa inter tenementum Peteresfeld et villæ de Herting. Et tres acras terræ in longum juxta prædictam moram. Et quietantiam in villâ de Peteresfeld de omnibus achatis suis, quæ pertinent ad victum et ad vestitum eorum. Ex dono Radulfi de Meyswyle tres solidatas terræ in manerio de Subertone, quas Ulfus tenet. Ex dono Gernagani et Basiliæ uxoris suæ terram Alwini Bulluc cum eodem Alwyno. Quare volo et firmiter præcipio, quod præfata abbatia et canonici ibidem Deo servientes, omnia prænominata habeant et teneant benè, et in pace, liberè et quietè, integrè et honorificè, in bosco et plano, pratis et pasturis, in aquis et molendinis, in vivariis et stagnis, in viis et semitis, et in omnibus aliis locis, et aliis rebus ad ea pertinentibus sicut cartæ donatorum testantur. Carta Henrici Hosati, de Ecclesiâ de Rogate.

[Ibid. p. 16.]

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis ad quos præsens carta pervenerit, Henricus Hosatus, salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra, me assensu et voluntate diœcesani episcopi, intuitu caritatis, quantum ad laicam personam pertinet, donasse et concessisse in puram et perpetuam elemosinam ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ et Sancti Johannis Baptistæ de Dureford, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in proprios usus, ecclesiam Sancti Bartholomei de Rogate, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; salvo monachis Sagiensibus annuo beneficio viginti quinque solidorum à prædictis canonicis percipiendo. Hanc verò donationem elemosinæ feci eis pro salute meâ et uxoris meæ et hæredum meorum, et pro animabus patris et matris meæ et antecessorum meorum, immo et successorum meorum. Et ut hæc donatio et confirmatio stabilis et inconcussa permaneat præsentis cartæ et sigilli mei eam munimine roboravi. Testibus, &c.

Confirmatio Hillarii Episcopi Cycestrensis de Situ Abbatiæ.

[Ibid. p. 30.]

HILARIUS Dei gratiâ Cicestrensis episcopus, omnibus matris ecclesiæ filiis ad quos carta ista pervenerit salutem. Notum sit universitati vestræ, quod Henricus Hosatus assensu nostro concessit Berengario abbati de Welebec terram quandam in loco qui dicitur Dureford, ad ædificandum ibi locum religioni, ad instituendos canonicos regulares ordinis Præmonstratensis, et eundem locum ditavit possessionibus et rebus multis mobilibus et immobilibus. Nos verò eandem donationem et ordinis institutionem in manu nostra suscepimus tuendam et protegendam. Et per omnia quod ad rationem officii nostri pertinet rationabiliter manutenendam. Et indè est quod regia carta et Henrici confirmatione ad ipsum locum et ordinem pertinentia roborata esse cognoscuntur, nos præsentis scripti auctoritate roboramus et confirmamus, et imperpetuum illibata esse præcipimus. Valete.

NUM. VI.

Confirmatio Seffridi Cycestrensis Episcopi de Terris à Dominis de Herting, et aliis concessis.

SEFFRIDUS Dei gratiâ Cycestrensis episcopus secundus, universis Christi fidelibus æternam in Domino salutem. Ad universitatis vestræ notitiam volumus pervenire nos bonæ memoriæ prædecessoris nostri Johannis Cycestrensis episcopi vestigiis piè inhærentes, præsentis scripti auctoritate confirmâsse dilecto filio nostro abbati de Dureford et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnibusque eorum successoribus canonicè substituendis, ecclesiam sanctæ Dei genitricis Mariæ et Sancti Johannis Baptistæ de Dureford, in quâ sunt divino mancipati officio, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; viz. ex dono Henrici Hosati locum ipsum de Dureford, cum adjacentiis suis, sicut terminorum designat positio; ex dono Gernegan et uxoris ejus terram illam quam Alwynus Bulluc tenuit. Ex dono Walteri Hosati de Stapulford terram quam Walterus Cartarius tenuit. Ex dono Jocelini Castellani unam virgatam in Hetshite, quam Willielmus Albus tenuit. Et servitium Willielmi Clerici de terrâ quam tenuit ex dono ipsius Jocelini in Tolliton, id est, duo messuagia et dimidiam virgatam terræ, et octo acras, unde reddidit annuatim prædictæ ecclesiæ unam libram piperis. Ex dono Jocelini nepotis Castellani unum masagium in Arundell, quod Aldiht Falsa tenuit. Ex dono Alani la Zuche duas solidatas terræ, scilicet essartum quod Robertus Martin tenuit. Ex dono Willielmi de Sancto Johanne unum masagium in Cycestriâ. Ex dono Willielmi de Elleste, de assensu et benevolentia Roberti hæredis sui, terram illam quæ Wykes appellatur, quæ est apud Wyh. de tenemento de Ellestede. Ex dono Galfridi de Sartilli dimidiam virgatam terræ in Ebintone. Ex dono Simonis de Waura unum masagium in Midhurst. Ex dono Willielmi de Braosa unum tunellum vini rubei de tribus modiis et dimidia in villa de Sorteham ad missas celebrandas. Ex dono ejusdem Willielmi unam salinam quam Swtric de la Lye tenuit, quæ Herdopure vocatur. Ex dono Radulfi Sanzaver tres solidatas terræ in tenemento de Budintone, quas Edwinus tenuit ex dono Willielmi de Altaripa, totum tenementum suum de Bedifeld, quod Rogerus de Meiwyk tenuit. Ex dono Willielmi Waissebre totam terram quam Radulfus Gardinarius tenuit de eo in Midhurst. Ex dono Hugonis Buci quartam partem salinæ de Bedlingetone. Ex dono Roberti Agnill decimam molendini sui de Merdone. Ex dono Willielmi comitis de Arundell secundi unam marcam argenti in Merdone de terra quam Godwinus Stille tenuit.

Præterea confirmavi eis donationem Henrici Hosati secundi; videlicet, xx. acras terræ in dominico ipsius in Ridilanda in Welgarston, et unam virgatam terræ in Hagebedene à la Sonde, quam Ailwinus tenuit. Et unam croftam quam Robertus filius Semanni tenuit juxta heisam de Demesford. Et decimam pannagii sui in denariis et porcis; et decimam casei sui de Herting, præter unam peisam quæ pertinet ad ecclesiam de Herting. Præterea confirmamus eis subscriptas donationes quæ datæ sunt prædictæ ecclesiæ in dotem nobis præsentibus, in die dedicationis ipsius. Ex dono ejusdem Henrici viginti quinque solidos annuatim de molendino de Haggebedene, et totum nemus suum in occidentali parte per viam London, quæ tendit de Dureford usque ad Singel. Et decimam domus suæ, scilicet de pane et de carne et de pisce. Et sexdecim acras terræ de dominico suo in Rideland in Wilgarstone. Ex dono Willielmi de Wateligh quatuor acras terræ in eodem campo. Ex dono Basiliæ de Wenham croftam quæ est juxta terram quam Walterus Cartarius tenuit, et pratum de la Wesse, quod jacet juxta aquam à parte aquilonis. Hæc et alia omnia, quæ in episcopatu nostro justis et rationabilibus causis in posterum ipsis obvenerint, ipsorum usui perpetuo profutura concedimus et confirmamus. Quod etiam ex privilegio Romanæ sedis eis indultum est, ut quisquis de episcopatu Cycestriæ apud ipsos se sepeliri delegerit, nisi excommunicatus vel interdictus fuerit, liberè ibi sepeliatur annuimus; salva tamen justitia illius ecclesiæ à qua mortui corpus assumitur. Ad hæc etiam confirmamus eis; ex dono personæ de Ellestede Ricardi, consensu Roberti fratris sui, omnes decimas de terra sua, quas habent apud Wyhuse. Reddendo inde annuatim dimidiam libram liberi incensi ecclesiæ de Ellestede in festo Sancti Michaelis. Ex dono Alani de Sancto Georgio quinque solidos annuatim recipiendos de terra quam Ricardus de Stanleg tenuit; et de homine illo quicunque ipsam terram in posterum tenuerit, sicut donatorum cartæ testantur. Testibus, &c.

[Ibid. pag. 193.]

Galfridus de Mandevill comes Glocestriæ et Essexiæ dapifero suo, et omnibus hominibus suis, tam præsentibus quam futuris, tam Francigenis quàm Anglicis, salutem. Sciatis me, intuitu Dei, assensu et voluntate Isabellæ uxoris meæ, concessisse, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ et S. Johannis Baptistæ de Dureford et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, ab omni servicio et seculari exactione quietam, omnes donationes et libertates, quas Will. comes Glocestriæ et Hawysia comitissa, et Almaricus comes Glocestriæ eisdem canonicis dederunt in tenemento de Mapulderham; scilicet totam partem moræ quæ est inter tenementum de Peteresfelde et villam de Hertinge; et tres acras terræ in longum juxta prædictam moram: et quietanciam de teloneo in villa de Peteresfeld, et octo solidatas terræ; scil. totam terram quam Thomas filius Ailwyni tenuit, cum ipso Thoma, et cum sequela sua. Et totam terram quam Ricardus Makuhus tenuit: et totam terram quam Robertus de Wyerowe tenuit, cum ipso Roberto et tota sequela sua. Et sexdecim acras terræ et essarti de Nutstede ad hostias in prædicto loco consecrandas. Et aliud assartum, quod jacet inter essartum meum dominicum, et essartum prædictorum canonicorum, sicut carta prædicta comitis Almarici, quam inde habent testatur. Et pasturam boum suorum, cum bobus meis dominicis, quamdiu prædictam terram arabunt. Hanc vero confirmationem feci eis pro salute animæ meæ, et Isabellæ uxoris meæ, et pro animabus patrum et matrum nostrarum, et antecessorum et successorum nostrorum. Et ut hæc concessio et confirmatio stabilis et inconcussa imperpetuum perseveret, præsenti scripto et sigilli mei pressione eam confirmavi. Testibus, &c.

Abbey of St. Radigund, alias Bradsole, near Dover,

IN KENT.

HASTED, in his History of Kent, vol. iii. p. 361, in the Account of the Parish of Polton, says, "The manor of Bradsole, which lies in the north-east part of this parish, was given by Walter Hacket and Emma his wife, with the consent of King Richard the First, and of Walter de Polton, then mesne lord of the fee, and Stephen his son and heir, to the canons of the Church of St. Radigund of Bradsole, who had settled there in the year 1191, being the third of that prince's reign;[a] which gift was confirmed by King John in his first year, viz. of the Site itself of Bradsole, and all the lands and tenements granted to them as well by King Richard his brother as by others.[b] This Abbey was of the Premonstratensian Order of White Canons; and though there was a design, anno 9 Joh., of translating it, probably on account of the inconvenience of its situation, to the church of River, yet it never took place;[c] and the revenues of it were at different times increased by succeeding benefactors, and by the CELL of BLAKEWOSE in this neighbourhood (which was a Cell to the Priory of Lavinden in Berks) being united to it at the instance of the Barons of Hythe on account of its poverty and ruinated state."[a] The Abbat of St. Radigund was summoned to Parliament among the Barons of the realm at the latter end of the reign of K. Edward the First. The following are the NAMES of the ABBATS preserved by Hasted: Hugo, the first Abbat, A.D. 1191. Henry. Richard. John. Henry, 54 Hen. III. William, 31 Edw. I. Robert, t. Edw. II. William, 11 Edw. II. Gilbert, 2 Edw. III. John Newington, 8 Hen. VII. William, 14 Hen. VIII.

[a] Tanner says, that it was founded by K. Richard I., or Jeffry earl of Perch and Maude his wife, the parents of Henry de Wengham, or some other charitable and pious persons. Leland, in his Collect. vol. i. p. 88, says it was founded by Hugh, a canon, the first Abbat of it.

[b] Regist. Abb. Sci Radig. cart. 4 et 87. Thomas earl of Perch, paramount lord of the Seignory, confirmed the grant which Geoffry his father and M. his mother had made to these canons, viz. of the whole land of his fee of Bradsole, which Walter Hacket and Emma his wife, with the consent of William de Polton and Stephen his heir, had given to them, together with his whole land within that manor, on the north part of it as far as the mennes. Stephen de Polton before mentioned, the son of William, confirmed the same.

St. Radigund's was suppressed in the 27th Hen. VIIIth among the lesser Monasteries, when the total of its revenues amounted to 142*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*; the clear income to 98*l.* 9*s.* 2½*d.* Thomas Dale, then Prior of this House, by whom it was surrendered into the King's hands, had a pension granted to him of twenty marks per annum.[b]

The Site was granted Nov. 30th, 29 Hen. VIIIth, with a large portion of its lands and possessions, to the archbishop of Canterbury and his successors for ever: but these were again exchanged with the Crown, and the Site transferred to Thomas Cromwell afterwards earl of Essex, among whose estates it is presumed to have been forfeited in the 32 Hen. VIIIth. Hasted has given the subsequent descent of the Abbey estate to 1790.

The REMAINS, in part converted into a farm-house, situated upon a hill about two miles and a half south-west of Dover, are sufficient to indicate that St. Radigund's Abbey was one of considerable extent.

No SEAL of this Priory has yet been met with by the Editors.

Carta Regis Henrici Tertii, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Cart. 8 Edw. II. m. 17. n. 33. per Inspex. Vide etiam Cart. 11 Hen. III. p. 1, m. 18.]

Henricus Dei gratiâ rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, &c. Sciatis nos intuitu Dei et pro salute animæ nostræ, &c. confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Radegundis de Bradesole, et abbati et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus et servituris imperpetuum, locum ipsum de Bradesole, omnesque terras et tenementa, eis collata, sicut cartæ donatorum suorum rationabiliter testantur. Concedimus etiam et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, prædictis canonicis, centum acras terræ ex dono domini Ricardi illustris regis Angliæ, avunculi nostri, in wastinâ supra montem quæ terræ eorum de Bradesole contiguatur; videlicet inter terram prioris et monachorum de Dovoria, et terram prædictorum canonicorum de Bradesole, et crucem in viâ quæ protenditur à Dovore usque Bradesole, quantum ad nos pertinet. Concessimus etiam eis et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus centum acras, tam de terrâ quam de bruscià, de manerio de Riveria, quæ jacent inter terram quæ vocatur Manessa et aquam de Riveria, de dono piæ memoriæ J. patris nostri regis Angliæ. Concessimus etiam eis et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus totam terram illam de dominico nostro in villâ quæ dicitur Riveria juxta Dovoriam, quæ jacet in occidentali latere montis qui vocatur Spiltrindone, inter terram prioris Dovoriæ et terram Fulberti de Dovoria, inter easdem terras claudens suam latitudinem; et quæ protenditur in longum à bosco de Poltone usque ad viam quæ dicitur Latinè Alba-via, Anglicè Whiteweye, et ibi terminatur. Concessimus etiam eis et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus ecclesiam S. Petri de Riveria, quæ fuit de donatione antecessorum nostrorum, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, ut eis cedat in proprios usus, ad sustentationem suam et pauperum peregrinorum ibidem confluentium; et quod præfati canonici eandem ecclesiam habeant et teneant in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, &c. Concessimus etiam eis, &c. ecclesiam S. Nicholai de Porteslade, quam habent de dono Huberti de Burgo comitis Kanc. justiciarii Angliæ.

Concessimus etiam eis et præsenti cartâ nostrâ confirmavimus ecclesiam S. Clementis de Leisdone in Scapeya, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, de donatione Roberti Arsiche, et concessione et confirmatione Stephani archiepiscopi Cantuar. Concessimus etiam, &c. molendinum situm propè curiam manerii de Riveria cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et alias terras, quas habent ex venditione Alani Corbel. Concessimus etiam, &c. terram quam habent ex donatione Steph. de Polton in villâ de Polton, cum capellâ ejusdem villæ; et duas acras terræ et dimid. quæ aliquando fuerunt Brittunæ et Malotæ mulierum; et unam acram terræ juxta illos proximò jacentem; et totam terram quæ jacet sub gardino eorum; et novem acras terræ et unam virgatam terræ jacentes in occidentali parte nemoris de Poltone, et unam acram terræ jacentem sub eodem nemore in parte boriali; et tenementa et homagia quæ Walterus Parmentarius et Osbertus Swystth tenuerunt, et campum qui dicitur Deltegee, et Sudholefeld, et Nordholefeld, et Eldemede, et in Wemede, et Grenesale; et duas acras terræ jacentes in longum fossati de Aldemede. De dono ejusdem Stephani de Poltone tres acras quæ jacent ante portam prædictorum canonicorum. Quare volumus, &c.

Inspeximus etiam cartam, quam Philippus filius Philippi de Columbariis fecit præfatis canonicis, in hæc verba. Omnibus, &c. Philippus de Columbariis, filius Philippi de Columbariis, æternam in Domino salutem. Noverit universitas vestra me, intuitu Dei, et pro salute animæ meæ, &c. concessisse et hac præsenti cartâ meâ confirmâsse, quantum ad me dominum fundi pertinet, ecclesiam de Postlinges, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, Deo et canonicis ecclesiæ S. Radegundis de Bradesole, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, ad sustentationem fratrum ibidem Deo famulantium, et pauperum et peregrinorum ad eos confluentium, &c. Hiis testibus, Willielmo de Columbariis, Simone sacerdote de Stanford, &c.

Inspeximus insuper cartam quam Henricus de Wengham quondam decanus S. Martini London, fecit abb. et conventui loci prædicti, in hæc verba. Omnibus, &c. Henricus de Wengham decanus S. Martini London. salutem in salutis Auctore. Noverit universitas vestra, quod ego ecclesiam S. [a] The state of this Cell at the time of the grant will be seen in the Instrument Num. VI. It had five canons and a lay brother, who having no superior, and wandering about the country, brought disgrace upon their Order: whence a General Chapter of the Premonstratensian Order made it a Cell to the Abbey of St. Radegund, the Abbat of which recalled the Canons, paid their debts, repaired their buildings, and augmented both their House and estate: but the wars which followed reduced it again almost to nothing. Upon which the Abbat again restored it to its former state, and the General Chapter, at the instance of the Barons of Hythe, united it to the Abbey of St. Radigund, with liberty to continue it as such, or to convert it into a Grange or Farm; which latter they did, removing the canons and other members of it to their own Abbey.

[b] Tanner, among his References to Records concerning this House, mentions two Registers; "Cartularium penes Hen. Hamon de Selyng in com. Cant. arm." and "Cartularium in bibl. dom. Cholmondley Dering apud Serenden." Neither of these has fallen in the way of the present Editors.

[Ibid. p. 258.]

Viro venerabili, domino abbati Præmonstratens. barones domini regis Angliæ de Hee salutem. Est quidam locus apud nos, qui dicitur Blakewose, quem aliquando vidimus subjectum domui de Lavendene, quæ est de vestro ordine, et fuerunt ibi tunc temporis quinque canonici et unus conversus; qui quidem locus eorum non potuit eos exhibere, et ipsi penitùs oculo pastoris longè posito destituebantur et auxilio, per provinciam inordinatè vagantes sanctæ religioni et maximè ordini vestro multimoda scandala generabant. Quod quidem postquam capitulo vestro fuit præsentatum, locum illum quia pauper et personis oneratus, et sine custodiâ, contulerunt ecclesiæ S. Radegundis quæ satis est vicina. Abbas verò S. Radegundis dictos fratres de Blakewose ab obedientiâ abbatis de Lavendene per præceptum ordinis absolutos, ad obedientiam suscepit, et dispersos revocavit; domus eorum reparavit, debita solvit; et locum tam in spiritualibus quàm temporalibus, nec sine propriæ domus gravi dispendio laudabiliter ampliavit. Tandem tamen ingruente guerrâ, quæ patriam nostram penitùs vastavit, locus ille ad nichilum valde redactus est: quem quidem domus S. Radegundis postea de bonis suis plurimum restauravit, et supra priorem statum, in possessionibus, redditibus, et ædificiis locupletavit, unde rogamus attenciùs, et in Domino consulimus, quatenus non sciat vestra discretio, quod dicta domus S. Radegundis dicti loci de Blakewose aliquatenus privetur possessione, quia semper vidimus dictam domum S. Radegundis dictum locum de Blakewose in spiritualibus ampliantem, et domum de Lavendene eundem locum utrisque spoliantem. Satis autem vestra novit discretio, quod sacro docemus evangelio, quod auferendum est talentum à pigro servo, qui non fecerit fructum, et dandum servo bono, qui studuerit illud multiplicare. Valeat sanctitas vestra in Domino.

Abbey of Egleston, in Yorkshire.

THIS Abbey, in the Deanry and Archdeaconry of Richmond, was dedicated to St. Mary and St. John Baptist, and is believed to have been founded by Ralph de Multon, in the latter end of the reign of King Henry the Second, or the beginning of that of King Richard the First. Tanner says, this Multon was perhaps the same with the founder of the Spital on Stainmoor. The Lord Dacres, who married the heiress of the Multons, was patron of this House at the Dissolution, and a great while before, which makes it more probable that it was founded by Ralph de Multon, as the Ashmole MS. saith, than by Conan earl of Richmond (who died A. D. 1171) as Camden, Speed, &c. have it. Gilbert de Leya gave these canons (who seem to have been settled here before) the manors of Egleston and Kilvington, to which grant Ralph de Multon is witness.

Burton has arranged the possessions of this House alphabetically, according to the parishes in which they lay, not omitting even the smallest portions of land. The Church of Bentham was appropriated to Egleston in the 31st of Edward the Third.[a]

Tanner has given a few references to Records concerning this House, to which the reader may have recourse.

The following Names of ABBATS of EGLESTON have been chiefly obtained from Dr. Hutton's Excerpts from the Registers of the See of York. The three first are from Cole's MSS. Collections, vol. xxvii. fol. 101 b. ROBERT, 1210. HAMO, 1235 (not, as in Willis, 1355). JOHN, ob. 1297. THOMAS DE DUNELME, elected 1307. WILLIAM, 1308. BERNARD DE LANGTON, el. 10 kal. Jan. 1313. THOMAS DARNETON, 21th May, 1519.

In the 26th Hen. VIII. the yearly value of the revenues of this House was rated in the whole at 65*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.*, the clear receipts at 36*l.* 7*s.* 2*d.* The Site was granted in the 2d Edw. VI. to Robert Shelley or Strelley.[b]

Carta Conventionis inter Johannem de Britanniâ Comitem Richmundiæ, et Abbatem et Conventum de Egleston, de inventione sex Capellanorum in Castro Richmundiæ.

[Ex Collect. Ric. S. George eq. aur. Clarencieux Regis Armorum.][c]

ANNO gratiæ MCCLXXV. ita convenit inter nobilem virum dominum Johannem de Britaniâ comitem Richmundiæ, filium ducis Britanniæ ex parte unâ, et abbatem et conventum de Egleston, ex alterâ; videlicet, quod idem abbas et conventus concesserunt, et se et successores suos obligaverunt dicto domino Johanni, et hæredibus suis ad inveniendum sex canonicos capellanos, de ecclesiâ de Egleston, divina celebrantes in castro Richemundiæ imperpetuum; videlicet, unum celebrantem de die, vel de festo instanti, vel de Spiritu Sancto, cum notâ; secundum de beatâ Virgine, cum notâ; [illegible] tertium pro animâ dominæ Beatricis quondam consortis dicti domini Johannis specialiter; ita quod, cum ipse dominus Johannes obierit, idem capellanus pro animabus, scilicet defunctorum domini Johannis, et dominæ Beatricis, conjunctum officium defunctorum, specialiter celebrabit; quartus et quintus de beatâ Mariâ Virgine, sine notâ celebrabunt; sextus pro animâ dictæ dominæ Beatricis, usque ad obitum dicti Johannis, et post obitum ejus pro animabus utriusque et omnium fidelium defunctorum celebrabit. Et prædicti canonici erunt residentes in Castro Richemundiæ, Deo imperpetuum servituri. Et si forsan aliquotiens aliquis prædictorum canonicorum, [illegible] à se debitam non celebraverit, [illegible] suum impedimentum se habere prætendens, [illegible] et sine conscientiâ [illegible] celebrare, quod contra eum [illegible] de negligentiâ possit haberi suspitio: in quo casu ad [illegible] ballivi, abbas defectum et negligentiam hujusmodi faciet emendari; et ratione istorum sex canonicorum, non decrescet numerus illorum tresdecem canonicorum, qui solebat esse in monasterio de Egleston. Et pro istâ concessione, et obligatione dictorum abbatis et conventus prædictus nobilis dominus Johannes comes Richemundiæ dedit, concessit, et hoc præsenti scripto, pro se et hæredibus suis seu assignatis confirmavit, eisdem abbati et conventui de Egleston et eorum successoribus, pro sustentatione dictorum sex capellanorum, capitale messuagium in Multon, et omnes terras suas dominicas; et totum pratum suum dominicum, in campo et territorio ejusdem Multon, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et octo bovatas terræ in eodem territorio, jacentes propinquiùs juxta terram Symonis de Multon, quam emit de Thoma Ukkerly, ex parte aquilonali, cum prato, et omnibus aliis dictis bovatis terræ pertinentibus; et quatuor tofta, et unum cotagium in eadem Multon, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, illa scilicet, quæ jacent propinquiùs prædicto capitali messuagio, ex utraque parte itineris, a portu prædicti Symonis usque ad caput villæ versus orientem, una cum corporibus tenentium dictas bovatas terræ, et cum omnibus sequelis eorum

Gilbert de Leya gave these canons (who seem to have been settled here before) the manors of Egleston and Kilvington, to which grant Ralph de Multon is witness.

Burton has arranged the possessions of this House alphabetically, according to the parishes in which they lay, not omitting even the smallest portions of land. The Church of Bentham was appropriated to Egleston in the 31st of Edward the Third.[a]

Tanner has given a few references to Records concerning this House, to which the reader may have recourse.

Carta Conventionis inter Johannem de Britanniâ Comitem Richmundiæ, et Abbatem et Conventum de Egleston, de inventione sex Capellanorum in Castro Richmundiæ.

[Ex Collect. Ric. S. George eq. aur. Clarencieux Regis Armorum.]

Premonstratensian Cell of Dodford, in Worcestershire.

KING HENRY IId was the founder of this small Priory for Austin Canons, which being so reduced as to consist only of one canon, was granted, in the 4th Edw. IV., to the abbat and convent of Hales-Owen, who established here a Cell of their own Order. Nash dates the first foundation between 1184 and 1191. The lands annexed to this Cell lay dispersed in Bromesgrove, where it was situated, and in the adjoining parishes. William de Stutevill, with the consent of his wife Margery de Say, in a deed without date, granted part of his wood of Cranfeld, held in fee of Wichebond, to the prior and canons of Dodford. His gift was afterwards confirmed by Hugh de Mortimer, son and heir of Margery de Say. At the same time Hugh conferred other lands upon the Priory which lay on the side of the way which led from Fockebur at Timberhongle.[a]

At the Taxation of the Religious Houses in 1291 this Priory was exempted from burden in consequence of its poverty. The rents then amounting to no more than 4*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.*

OSBERT was the first Prior of this House; THOMAS TYPTON the last, elected in 1463.

The lands of this Priory increased very much in value after they were appropriated to Hales-Owen. In the 15th Hen. VII. the annual rent amounted to 15*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.*

The Site was granted in the 30th Hen. VIII. to John Dudley; it was alienated in Queen Elizabeth's reign to the family of Fownes.

"The Walls of a Farm House now exhibit the only Remains of the Cell of Dodford."[b]

Cell of Kalenda, or Kaylend, in Northamptonshire.

THIS Cell was situated in the parish of Cottesbrook and Hundred of Guilsborough. The following is the Account of it given by Bridges, vol. i. p. 577, under Cottesbrook: "In a part of this Lordship, still retaining the name of Kalendar Meadow, was a place called Kaylend, given by William Buttevillan to the Abbat and Convent of Sulby,[a] who placed here a Cell of Premonstratensian Canons, dedicated to St. John. This ground contained fifty-two acres and one rood of land. To this donation were added four virgates, three tofts, and two crofts in Thurnby by Arnulph de Putti; with four virgates of land in Thurnby by Peter de Goldington, and one virgate in Wathford by Eustachius the son of Eustachius de Wathford."[b] Of this Cell we find no distinct charge in any ecclesiastical Taxation; but by the Survey of the Revenues of Sulby Abbey in 1535, 26 Hen. VIII. their possessions in Kalendar and Slefford's Hill were valued at xxx*s.* yearly.[c]

In the 33d Hen. VIII. lands called Callandry, and Sleford's Hill in Cottesbrook, Navesby, and Thurnby were granted to Francis Pygot with other possessions.[d] These lands, containing sixty acres of pasture, came soon after into the hands of Francis Catesby, Esq., from whom they descended in the 4th and 5th of Philip and Mary to Thomas his son, a minor three years old.[e] John Reade lord of Cotesbrooke manor died possessed of them in the 2d James I., and left them to his daughters. Large foundation stones have within these few years been dug up in Kalendar Meadow, and the Cell when standing appears to have been moated round.[f]

The following Instrument is to be subjoined to those which have been already given in the Appendix to the Monastery of NEWBO in LINCOLNSHIRE.

THE ORDER OF SEMPRINGHAM.

THE precise year when the Sempringham or Gilbertine Canons were instituted by St. Gilbert, is not ascertained.

The Derley Annals date the beginning of this Order in 1131: the Peterborough Chronicle and Reyner say in 1148. The Houses, however, both of Sempringham and Haverholm are expressly stated to have been founded in 1139.

This Order received a Bull of confirmation from Pope Eugenius the Third.

St. Gilbert, as he is called, or, as Tanner names him, Sir Gilbert, son of Sir Josceline de Sempringham, rector of the Church of St. Andrew there, composed his Rule out of those of St. Austin and St. Benedict, the Women following the Cistercian regulation of St. Benedict's Rule, and the Men the Rule of St. Austin; to which the founder added some especial Statutes of his own.

The habit of the Gilbertine Canons, according to Dugdale, was a black cassoc with a white cloak over it, and a hood lined with lamb's skin. Though some assert that their dress was the same with that of the Cistercians.[a]

This Order consisted both of Men and Women, who lived in the same Houses, but in such different Apartments that they had no communication with each other: though some of the Houses were for Canons alone.

St. Gilbert himself founded Thirteen Monasteries of this Order; four for Men alone, and nine for Men and Women together, which had in them seven hundred brethren and fifteen hundred sisters.

The Order was governed by a MASTER or PRIOR GENERAL. In the Latin Account of these Religious, we read "Summus Prior Ordinis de Sempingham curam omnium gerit." No action at law could be brought or defended without him. He only could admit the members; he appointed the Officers in every House; and no deed of any Prior and Convent, unless he joined in it, was valid. The Lincoln Registers supply proof that he generally joined with particular Priors and Convents in their presentations to benefices; and he also, in the 30th Hen. VIIIth, joined in the respective surrenders of the Gilbertine Houses.

[a] Fosbrooke, in his British Monachism, edit. 4to. p. 384, is minute upon the particulars of the habit both of the Gilbertine Nuns and Canons.

There were, altogether, Twenty six Houses of this Order in England. At Chicksand in Bedfordshire; at Cambridge, Fordham, and Mirmaud at Welle in the Isle of Ely, in Cambridgeshire; at Hitchin in Hertfordshire; at Alvingham, Bullington, Catteley, Haverholm, Holland Brigge, Lincoln, Newstede on Ancolm, North Ormesby, Sempringham, Sixhill, and Tunstall, in Lincolnshire; at Shouldham, in Norfolk; Mattersey, in Nottinghamshire; Clattercote, in Oxfordshire; Marlborough, and Pulton, in Wiltshire; at Erleton, Old Malton, Overton, Watton, and St. Andrew's York, in Yorkshire. Of these, Tunstall in Lincolnshire was, at a very early period, united by the son of its founder to Bullington. Of the remaining twenty-five Houses, four only ranked among the greater Monasteries, that is, whose income exceeded two hundred pounds a year. The total of the Gilbertine revenues in England, at the time of the Dissolution, amounted to no more than £2421 13*s.* 9*d.*

VITA S. GILEBERTI CONFESSORIS.

[Ex cod. MS. in bibl. Cotton. (sub effigie Cleopatræ, B. I.) f. 37 b.]

ORIENS splendor justiciæ, qui illuminat omnem hominem venientem in hunc mundum, et ad agnitionem sui nominis vult venire; orbis occidui partes occiduas, novis lucis suæ radiis tempore occiduo illustravit: cujus jubare cælitùs immisso, velut infusum sydus æthereum fulsit, sub noctis nostræ tenebris, vir vitæ admirabilis, nomine Gileb., qui electus Dei famulus in Angliæ partibus, loco, qui dicitur Sempringham, spectabili, quod solet et debet esse incitamentum virtutum, prosapia genitus, prærogativa morum genus vicit et seculum: Pater ejus, Jocelinus nomine, miles strenuus, et vir bonus et opulentus, Neustrigena natione, plures habens possessiones in partibus provinciæ Lincolniæ; mater verò ortu Anglica, a parentibus fidelibus, non inferioris tamen conditionis originem trahens. In medio populi sui habitantes, totam suam progeniem tanti filii illustrârunt generatione, cujus futuræ magnitudinis gloria, tali, ut fertur, revelata est matri, vel præsagio vel inditio. Nam priusquam infans nasceretur, visum est ei in somnis, quod quasi descendentem à supernis lunam suscepisset in synum; hoc nimirum præsignante, ut post claruit visione, prolem illam, tanquam lucernam mundi à Deo paratam, assiduis in posterum profecturam incrementis. Scintilula etenim priùs latens in cinere, super candelabrum posita, magnum luminare emicuit, ad lucendum omnibus, qui in domo Dei sunt.

Nec immeritò lunæ comparavit eum Spiritus Domini, quia membrum ecclesiæ, quæ est luna perfecta in æternum, in principio sui quasi modicæ formæ apparuit; sed inter mundanas varietates mutuato à sole Christo lumine, post alterna detrimenta, fælicibus proficiens augmentis, tandem decidit in synum matris divinæ pietatis; ac deindè susceptus est in secretâ requie Jerusalem supernæ matris: Nempè in primævo sui tempore, sicut ætate, ita noticia et virtute modicus, adeo erat abjectus in domo patris, ut nobis narrare consueverat, quod nec famuli domus dignarentur cum eo cibum sumere: porro corporali scemate incompositus et incultus, nulla quæ adhuc emineret redemit vitium exterioris deformitatis animi virtute: erat tamen intrinsecùs latens, in bono scilicet eximiæ naturæ: quicquid post modum, adveniente gratia esse poterat vel fuit, in majori ætate tanquam lampas contempta apud cogitationem divitum, parata in tempus statutum. Sic Dominus supernæ gratiæ, non humanæ efficatiæ, suarum volens attribui dona virtutum, pauperem facit et ditat, humiliat et sublevat; suscitans de pulvere egenum, et de stercore erigens pauperem, ut sedeat cum principibus, et solium gloriæ teneat. Sic educit nubes ab extremo terræ, qui vocat ea quæ non sunt, tanquam ea quæ sunt, infirma mundi eligens, ut fortia quæque confundat.

De Adolescentia ejus.

IGITUR non sine dispositione divina, cujus melior est misericordia super vitas, in ætate parvula traditus est literis; eò quòd, ut credi fas est, in hoc vivendi genere ampliora bona, ex hoc vase electionis et armario Spiritus S. fuerant proferenda. Inprimis tamen segniter usus, et exiliter institutus est rudimentis puerilis doctrinæ, quam cum deterreret teneros annos labor discendi, qui graviùs solet affligere pueros, modicum adhibuit ei cura parentum juvamenti ad disciplinam, donec vehementer correptus à suis super inertia sua, pudore nescio an timore, patriam suam deserens, in Galliarum se transposuit regiones, ubi dum esset in se reversus, cœpit evacuare quæ erant parvuli, et pristinam exuens socordiam, institit sollicitè arti litteratoriæ, non tamen multa suffultus amicorum stipe.

Adolescens autem bonæ spei, in scola virtntum didicit maturiùs morum disciplinam, et cujus postea erat magister, cœpit mox totius honestatis fieri discipulus. Institutus est itaque tam diu liberalibus et spiritualibus studiis, donec magistri nomen mereretur et gradum. Sanè, quoniam mores ornant scientiam, et sine virtute vidua est omnis sapientia, studuit liberali scientiæ maritare disciplinam probatissimæ vitæ; immunis siquidem ab his quas ministrat mundus viciorum illecebris; jam tunc quendam religionis, ad quam aspiravit, respiravit odorem; illâ nempè ætate quâ juxta corpus corruptibile aggravat animam, æstus ferventior libidinum graviùs depascit corda mortalium; in quâ etiam pugnâ plerumque succumbunt seniores et docti, ille vas suum ita Domino sanctificabat, ut magisterio spiritus intùs cohibente, nec ingenitæ cederet carnalitati, nec exteriores expleret voluptates; nam nec illum tetigisse mulierem, ab ineunte ætate usque ad finem vitæ quisquam unquam audivit; jam tunc martyr effectus, holocaustum se Domino exhibebat; undè factum est, ut quia se mundum servavit, ferre vasa Domini usque ad centesimum vitæ annum mereretur; et quia graviùs adolescentiæ certamen superaverat, ad forcius infirmioris sexus regimen, haut inmeritò postmodum assumptus est.

Qualiter rexit Scolas.

REVERSUS denique à Galliis ad natale solum; de talento scientiæ, quod copiosiùs acceperat, negotiari cœpit, et tradidit illud pueris et puellis provincialibus, ex quibus reportavit postea maximum lucrum ad mensam Domini sui. Hii sunt enim primitivi illi, in quibus fundatus est ordo de Sempingham, quos adhuc secularis, et ipse habitu secularis, non modo scolaribus rudimentis, sed et moralibus et monasticis instituit disciplinis, ita quod pueros à jocandi et vagandi libertate cohercitos, cogeret secundùm statuta monasteriorum silere in ecclesiâ, cubitare simul, quasi in dormitorio; non nisi locis statutis loqui et legere, et alia honestæ vitæ experiri insignia. Hoc enim erat ei à puerilibus annis summum studium; hic labor continuus; hæc indefessa sollicitudo, quod in virtutibus æstimatur optimum, animas scilicet lucrifacere Deo; et quibuscunque poterat verbo, et opere proficere et exemplo. Ipse verò immaculatum se custodiens ab hoc seculo, semper honestis et spiritualibus negotiis se tenuit occupatum.

Habitu tantum et fronte populo conveniens, intus habuit omnia dissimilia; prætiosis et nitidis, secundùm natalium suorum dignitatem, utens indumentis; ducens cultum incontemptum usum pociùs et formam eorum, quantum potuit, ad humilitatis modum convertit. Justiciæ et veritatis amator, castitatis et sobrietatis, cæterarumque virtutum sedulus cultor enituit; propter quæ venerabilis et laudabilis omnibus factus, omnium sibi favorem comparavit et gratiam: sed et pater ipsius super probitate filii admodum gavisus, paterno cœpit juvenem confovere affectu, et de propriis diviciis ministravit ei necessariorum sufficientiam. Demùm ad vacantes ecclesias parochiales de Sempingham, et de Tiringtona, in suo dominio fundatas, ex more patriæ, personam illam episcopo loci præsentavit; licèt, ut aiunt, renitentem, sed ut tueretur jura patris in eisdem ecclesiis, vix consentientem, ad quas legitimè admissus est, et canonicè institutus: Post multos autem et molestos causarum conflictus, quas ei intenderant adversarii, nitentes tollere patri patronatum, et sibi personatum; tandem pacificè possidens ecclesiasticum beneficium, satis suum exsolvit pro officio debitum, tàm misticè quàm materiali, congruum exhibens ecclesiæ ministerium.

Qualiter rexit Ecclesias.

MANSIONEM habens in atrio ecclesiæ beati Andreæ de Sempingham, solus cum capellano, vitæ probatæ, Galfrido nomine, et ipse vitam satis duxit laudabilem: prius enim apud quendam patrem-familias simul hospitati sunt in villâ; sed cum super formâ filiæ hospitis, quæ eis sedulo ministravit, occulta utrique surreperet contagio, visum est Gilberto in somnis, quod manum suam in synum prædictæ puellæ injecisset, nec inde eam extrahere posset: quod somnium vehementer expavescens vir castissimus; ne fortè, ut est humana fragilitas, futurum fornicationis crimen portenderet, confestim suam sacerdoti exposuit, cum somnio, temptationem; cui ille itidem eadem se fatigari molestiâ confessus est; undè consilium apostoli sequentes, velocius se ab illo hospicio removerunt, et in cymiterio ecclesiæ domum sibi ædificaverunt, in quâ postpositâ frequentiâ vici, semper circa ecclesiam pariter commorati sunt. Veruntamen hæc somnii visio, non futuri peccati, sed gloriosi meriti fuit præfiguratio: hæc enim virgo postmodum una erat de septem illis primitivis, in quibus idem pater inchoavit totius ordinis sui congregationes; in cujus synum, quasi in secretum et requiem ecclesiæ, cujus fuit fundamentum, manum immisit pastor et amicus diligentissimus, nec avelli poterat; quia ad ædificandum ei bonæ conscientiæ et perpetuæ pacis archanum, totam operationem suam et virtutem ministravit; nec ab ejus sollicitudine vivus erui poterat, nec à protectione defunctus: igitur in ecclesiâ, sacris meditationibus assiduus, familiæ dominicæ tritici mensuram, tanquam fidelis dispensator, et prudens, instanter erogavit; et auditores suos ita instructos reddidit, ut magnâ ex parte regulam monasticæ vitæ servarent etiam seculares; enimverò à commessationibus et impudicitiis, a spectaculis et potationibus publicis abstracti, opera misericordiæ exercere, et ecclesiasticos census ritè persolvere didicerunt: nam quocunque basilicam intrâssent, discerni poterant a cæteris parochianis de Sempingham per orationum devotionem, et inclinationum humiliationem, quas eos docuerat prælatus eorum Gilebertus.

Quoniam autem vulneribus saucii, nunc vinum, nunc oleum infundere debet Samaritanus, qui interpretatur custos, studuit pro loco et tempore medicus iste animarum, utroque uti genere medicamenti. Quam severus enim extiterit in corripiendo rebelles, sicut justis nutibus, et subditis mansuetum se exhibuit in exhortando, docet unum ex factis ejus, quod non pro miraculo, sed pro recti operis ponimus exemplo. Quidam ex parochianis suis fraudem fecerat de decimis frugum suarum, in collectione earum, et quas in partes ecclesiæ debuerat sequestrâsse, cum reliquo blado domum allatas, reposuit in horreo suo, propriis usibus profuturas: quod ut novit rector ecclesiæ concitò compulit rusticum illum, totum bladum suum ex grangiâ ejicere, et per singulos manipulos coram se numerare; quorum totam decimam partem, quæ sibi et ecclesiæ videbatur competere, in unum acervum congestum, in mediâ plateâ vici, accenso rogo, fecit consumi; detestationem utique tanti criminis, et ad terrorem aliorum; arbitrans indignum cedere in usus hominum quod Deo et sanctæ ecclesiæ furtivè fuerat sublatum: erat enim vir magnanimus, et rerum dispendia parvi pendens, dummodo æquitatis ordo et jura ecclesiastica servarentur.

Qualiter conversatus est in Curia Alexandri Episcopi.

INTERIM accessit ad obsequium diœcesani sui pontificis, Roberti videlicet cognomento Bloet, Lincolniensis episcopi, in cujus domo primò clericus ministravit: deindè post decessum ipsius, in curia Alexandri successoris ejus, sine querela conversatus est: bonum enim judicavit sub episcopali regimine degere, et episcopum se intendentem intendere, quam more acephalorum huc illucque dissoluta libertate discurrere: sed licèt curiæ implicaretur inquietudine, nunquam tamen prætermisit officium pastoralis curæ, quin pociùs sui primò et præcipuè agens solicitudinem, quicquid de debitis redditibus, vel annuis pensis, aliisve justis acquestibus habere poterat; totum, præter stipendia vitæ, quæ tamen ex ecclesia de Sempingham consecutus est: nam de illa de Tiringtona nichil in suos usus convertit; in sumptus pauperum servavit et dedit. Cumque proprio abesset hospicio, circa episcopum commoratus, Deum in eo suscepit et retinuit hospitem, in orphanis et viduis, senibus ægris et debilibus, quos propriis agriculturis et ecclesiarum obventionibus aluit et vestivit.

Quanta autem ferveret in eo erga Deum dilectio, qui præcepta caritatis ita servavit ad proximos, testatur crebra orationum instancia, et frequens in precibus mentis devotio: nam quamvis vita et moribus oraret omni hora, quandocunque potuit secretò furabatur orandi horas; hoc autem fecit, non motis tantum ut plerique labiis, nec corde in diversa disperso; sed mente, cum manibus et oculis in superna erecta, tunsione pectoris, et genu-flexione interioris hominis desiderium indicavit; ad quod probandum, aliqua ponantur exempli gratiâ. Invitavit aliquotiens unum de condecurionibus suis clericum ad orationem; qui cum starent pariter ante gradus altaris, decantantes Psalmos Davidis, ubicunque occurrit nomen Domini vel Dei, vel si quid tale in Psalmo, ad prolationem dictionis, humi stratus genu-flexit Gilebertus: ad cujus exemplum, cum idem faceret clericus, id tam diu egit, donec adeo fessus factus est, ut juraret se nunquam amplius cum eo oraturum. Alio tempore, cum quidam episcopus, à domino suo susceptus hospitio, in camerâ episcopi, ubi Gilebertus de more dormiebat, jaceret vigilans, vidit idem episcopus in pariete, opposito ad lumen lucernæ, effigiem hominis, per totam noctem, nunc ascendentem, nunc descendentem, in umbra; et ignorans quid hoc esset, putans autem fantasma esse, in magnum incidit mentis stuporem: investigans tamen diligentiùs quid hoc esset, invenit virum Dei ante suum grabatum stantem et orantem, et manus sursùm, genua deorsùm crebro ponentem deprehendit; quod manè facto, referens episcopus, arguit jocosè hospitem suum, quia saltatorem haberet in thalamo, qui eum nocte præteritâ ita terruerat. Hæc ideo ponimus in exemplum; quia sicut quandoque suis protestatus est magis dum esset in curiâ quam postea jejuniis, vigiliis, et orationibus, cæterisque spiritualibus exercitiis corpus suum edomabat: ut enim sui referunt domestici, arguit quandoque seipsum, quia magis ante conversionem, quàm post conversionem corpus suum afflixerat; cum tamen post susceptum sanctæ religionis habitum satis suæ videtur carni adversari. Si quid tamen talium minus peregisset, quando positus custos in vineis, vineam suam non ita custodivit; hoc non torpori et negligentiæ, sed necessariè et caritativè rei familiaris occupationi est imputandum, cum et beato Martino minorem post episcopatum, quam ante episcopatum fuisse virtutem legatur.

Quod primò Clericus ordinatus est.

QUUM igitur in sortem Domini vocatus est, et dispensator domus Dei constitutus, consensit ecclesiasticorum ordinum insignibus signari, ubi singulis officiis, quantum humana permittit fragilitas, se coæquavit, et crescente dignitate graduum crevit et sanctitas vitæ; dignum sibi invenit, immo præparavit Spiritus Sanctus in eo habitaculum, ut manifestum esset ipsum cum caractere rem percepisse sacramenti: illi enim, ut testatur auctoritas, in quorum mentibus diffusa est septiformis gratia Spiritus Sancti, cum ad ecclesiasticos ordines accedunt, in ipsa spiritualis gradus promotione ampliorem gratiam percipere creduntur: hunc itaque Dei ministrum, ex digno digniorem, et ex sancto efficit sacrum collatum sanctiorem. Vestis illi non lasciva, sed moderata et clericalis, cibus sobrius et potus parcus, corona patens et tonsura conveniens, modestia in verbis, gravitas in incessu, ut jam tunc non clericus secularis, sed canonicus regularis putari potuisset.

Quod Presbyter invitus factus est.

TALEM ergo, tantumque virum, cum fama admirata adverteret, quod cognoverat de eo circumquaque diffudit, et apud aures omnium sanctum et sapientem prædicavit: ipsi quoque præsuli, cujus venerat vitam imitari, factus est norma et exemplar justiciæ: et ex discipulo factus est magister, in via morum pontem fecit pontifici. Quocirca, attendens pontifex ejus prudentiam, simul et justiciam, dignum duxit et necessarium claves ei committere ligandi et solvendi, eo quod per sanctitatem posset, et per discretionem nôsset judicium ecclesiæ rationabiliter exercere: voluitque illum, tam suorum quam totius populi delictorum judicem ac conscium constituere: quod factum est. Cui tamen rei vehementer obnitebatur vir sanctus, tanto sacramento se reputans indignum, et in accepto gradu stare, nimis arduum arbitrans fore: consideravit enim ministerii magnitudinem, ministerii dignitatem, humanæ actionis imperfectionem, percepti muneris reddendam rationem, et quam periculosum sit constitui mediatorem, qui opus habet intercessore: consideravit sacramentorum altitudinem, quam qui nasciscitur, vel utitur indignè, se facit inferiorem. Ab altiori semper nocivior est ruina, et quod delictum videtur in gradu infimo, crimen judicatur in summo: aggravat enim culpam gradus eminentior, et prærogativa ordinis præsumptorem dejicit elevatum; copiosiorique debito obligatur copiosiùs mutuans; et cum fœnore exigit quod commodat Dominus.

Actam videns præses ecclesiæ utilitatem, et personæ gratiam, piè nolenti, piam intulit violentiam, et juxta exemplum beatorum Valerii et Epiphanii, licèt invitum, presbyterum ordinavit. Honos autem impositum, quia sic opportuit, piè tulit; quia reverentia, quæ honorem fugiendum dictavit, eadem persuasit esse amplectendum pro obedientiâ. Sic suam agnovit infirmitatem; sed præpositi præposuit voluntatem, qui subditorum sæpè solet meliùs nôsse qualitatem. Sic, et in hoc quod voluit, et in hoc quod noluit, utrobique meruit; quia nolle ejus prætendit reverentiam, velle autem prætulit obedientiam. Sic centurio, Domini præsentiâ se æstimans indignum, laudatur, et Zachæus, eundem hospicio suscipiens, benedicitur: Petrus autem, dum se peccatorem fatetur, miraculum expavescens piscium, Christum repellit, et vituperatur: Judas verò, quia irreverenter sumere non timuit, condemnatur.

Quantum sprevit Divitias Seculi.

FACTUS ergo presbyter, pristinis spiritualibus exercitiis adjecit instantiam; maturior in moribus, crebrior in doctrinâ, efficatior in exemplis, ut tam nominis quâm officii sui, non voce sed vita loqueretur interpretationem; ut qui non nôsset auditu, posset visu verum Domini cognoscere sacerdotem: ita transcensis septem gradibus altaris, septem donis divini doni donatum, demonstravit caritas nunquam ociosa: Quoniam igitur inchoatio bonorum, est contemptus malorum, et vitiorum abjectio virtutum solet esse exercitatio, priùs studuit se immaculatum ab hoc seculo custodire, ut quicquid post ageret, religionem mundam et immaculatam Deo deferret. Sprevit se, suaque, cum mundo, ut abjectis impedimentis expeditus, posset sequi crucifixum. Sprevit dico, quoniam etsi mundialibus usus est propter vitæ necessitatem, postposuit omnem superfluitatem, et hærentem habendi cupiditatem. Accepit viaticum, tanquam peregrinus in via; nec subsidium viæ computavit præmium patriæ. Quantum satis esse judicavit, satisfecit naturæ, ut quod ipse reliquerat, alteri posset esse supplementum indigentiæ. Hinc est, ut quod quidam archidiaconatus ecclesiæ Lincolniensis, operibus et honoribus præpollens ei fuisset oblatus, noluit recipere; dicens, non se nôsse aliam promtiorem et paratiorem viam esse ad interitum. Viam dixit non causam, sed occasionem, quoniam non cogit administratio peccare; sed difficile est absque peccato hujusmodi administrare. Bonum est ministerium ecclesiæ, et utile benè ministranti; sed pauci sunt qui causas agunt causa animarum; multi verò causa pecuniarum: timuit ergo ne augmentum culparum foret incrementum divitiarum; et si plus sumeret de fonte pecuniæ, non posset quandoque saciari ex situla avaritiæ. Maluitque paucas animas, quibus præerat benè procurare, quam multis commissis non posse, quod debuit, impendere.

Sanè quia justiciæ pars est mala vitare, profectus autem bona perpetrare et non sufficit aliena non rapere vel appetere, nisi studeamus nostra largiri, studuit sollicitè verus sacerdos ligna cotidiè subjicere sacro igni, qui ardebat in tabernaculo pectoris sui; in quo et seipsum cremavit Domino holocaustum, ad hoc autem non cæca præsumptione, nec inconsideratis motibus utebatur; sed quia meritorum summam voluit apprehendere quis modus melior, quæ via verior esset ad perfectionem diligenter investigavit, et eam arripuit. Primum ergò operationis fundamentum hujus jacit in alto humilitatis, quæ est propriæ excellentiæ contemptus, cujus locus in summo cœlorum est: omnium itaque terrenorum, quæ falsò excellentes et vere dejectos faciunt, amputavit materiam, cum interiorum bonorum extollentia; vocem Domini audiens, "Si vis perfectus esse, vade et vende omnia quæ habes, et da pauperibus, et veni sequere me." Dispersit ergò, dedit pauperibus, non respectu vanitatis, sed intentione caritatis, unde et justicia ejus manet in seculum seculi. Cumque propria decrevisset communicare pauperibus, tales elegit pauperes, quorum paupertas, timore Dei pariter et amore, esset honesta; ut seminans in benedictionibus, de benedictionibus et meteret.

De Exordio Ordinis de Sempingham, et Inclusione Monialium.

ERANT tempore illo, regnante in Angliâ Henrico primo, ut idem ait in libro quem de constructione scripsit monasteriorum, puellæ quædam seculares in villa de Sempingham, quarum mentes semen verbi Dei, quod ipse sæpiùs ministraverat, susceperant, et jam albæ ad messem, et rore et calore germinabant. Hæ sexum cum seculo vincere cupientes, cœlesti sponso sine impedimento optabant adhærere: Quod videns sanctus Gilbertus, Dei caritate plenus, cum prætaxatas ecclesias de Sempingham, et de Tiringtona, divino cultui mancipare, et sua egenis largiri disposuisset, cum non inveniret viros, qui tam districtè vellent pro Deo vivere, in usus talium sua omnia conferre dignum duxit, quæ verè pauperes spiritu, et sibi et cæteris possent cœlorum regnum vendicare: Fecit ergò amicos de mammonâ iniquitatis, qui eum in æterna reciperent tabernacula. Non tamen mares primò sibi fecit amicos, sed mulieres, ad congaudendum de dragma inventa convocavit amicas, quæ multos et postea in sua castitate genuerunt amicos. Infirmioribus autem libentiùs benefaciendum, et compatientis naturæ ratio dictat et consilium admonet divinum, et merces uberior indè speratur.

Virginum verò fructus est centesimus; ideo propter earum statum conservandum, sua relinquens, centuplum recepit, et vitam æternam possidet. Præterea recto ordine dandi, sua justis contulit, secundùm illud, "Da bonis et ne receperis peccatores." Septem itaque ex hiis virgines, ad cœleste desiderium accensas, septiformi spiritui templa dicavit, ut fieret virginitas earum meritoria, si fuisset virtutibus adornata. Quid enim prodest lampas ab oleo vacua; quid caro integra mente corrupta, corpus mundum et cor maculatum: sic essent virtuosi infideles, quorum tota vita peccatum est. Ut autem fierent sanctæ mente, et corpore instrumenta sanctitatis, eis præparavit et proposuit, quibus suam ipsarum operarentur salutem: et quia nemo militans Deo implicat se negotiis secularibus, ut ei placeat cui se probavit, et virginitas tenera facilè solet temptari ab astutia serpentis, si passim pateat omnibus, quod patet in Dina, seclusit eas à strepitu mundi, et ab aspectu hominum, ut regis ingressæ cubiculum, solius sponsæ solitariè vacarent amplexibus. Cumque non sufficiat ad salutem abstinere à malis, nisi bonorum operum sequatur effectus, legem sanctimoniæ eis dictavit, et docuit, qua cœlesti sponso placerent, et factæ dilectæ castis ejus amplexibus semper inhærerent. Dedit ergo eis præcepta vitæ et disciplinæ, et castitatem, et humilitatem, obedientiam et caritatem; cæterasque vitæ vias servare suasit et jussit: quæ omnia gratanter susceperunt, et devotè impleverunt.

Fulsit enim in earum mente species preciosæ mârgaritæ, pro qua et se et sua dederunt et eam comparaverunt. Ad hæc, licèt in carne essent, sed præter carnem viverent: tamen, quia in carne erant, et extra carnem vivere non poterant, omnia quæ carnalis indigentiæ conditio exigit, in victu et vestitu et ædificiis, cæterisque vitæ necessariis, secundùm modum et mensuram discretæ dispositionis eis ministravit ad usum. Hoc modo constructis ritè domibus religioni competentibus, et claustro circumquaque clauso, inclusit ancillas Christi solitariè victuras, sub pariete ecclesiæ beati Andreæ apostoli in vico de Sempingham, ad aquilonalem partem; habito auxilio et consilio venerabilis Alexandri antistitis; fenestra tamen patente, per quam necessaria intromitterentur. Voluit immundositas extra mundum ponere, et à terra sua et cognatione, et paterna domo relegare, et quatinus ad modum ecclesiæ, immo ecclesia factæ populi sui et paternæ domus oblitæ, id est ab omni curiositate et concupiscentia et ambitione egressæ, summo regi facerent suæ speciei concupiscentiam. Voluit, inquam, per hanc corporum incarcerationem animarum ad Dominum ostendere, immo facere relegationem, eo quod frequentia mundi multùm soleat plerumque separare à familiaritate Dei. Et quia quoquam eis egredi non licebit, etiam pro administrandis vel adquirendis sibi necessariis, deputavit obsequio earum, puellas aliquas pauperculas, in habitu seculari servientes, quæ per fenestram illam, quæ danda erant vel accipienda, prout oporteret, trahi curent: illud enim tantum foramen reliquerat apertum, tempore tantum congruo aperiendum, quod etiam perpetuò obserasset, si homines sine rebus humanis vivere potuissent: Nam ostium erat, sed nunquam nisi ad ejus nutum reseratum; non per quod illæ egrederentur, sed quo ille ad eas, cum opus esset ingrederetur; cujus ostii ipse claviger et hostiarius: quocunque enim pergeret, vel ubicunque maneret, clavem illius ostii, ceu signaculum fortis zelotis secum ferebat.

Vocatio Sororum laicarum.

PORRO paci et quieti earum providens, ne quid extrinsecùs perturbationis accederet, didicit à viris religiosis et prudentibus, non esse tutum juvenculas seculares, circumquaque vagantes, ministrare religiosis; ne quia corrumpunt mores bonos colloquia mala, aliquid nuntiarent vel agerent rerum secularium, quod animos offenderet monialium. Undè factum est, persuasu et consilio ipsorum, ut habitum, cum vita religionis peterent prædictæ famulæ sibi dari, quo possent in paupere vita sed honesta Christi famulabus famulari. Ecce granum frumenti cadens in terram, in aliam spicam pullulavit: quod videns beatus Gilbertus, corde lætatus est ob fidei devotionem; sed inexpertis, et præsertim simplicibus et ydeotis, quæ plerumque promittunt quæ non intelligunt, et plura quam possunt, noluit eis citò, vel leviter grave jugum voti imponere, ne fortè postmodum pœnitudine ductæ abjicerent illud, ad majorem sui ruinam, et sanctæ religionis subversionem: Probandi sunt enim spiritus neophitorum, ne se transfiguret Sathanas in angelum lucis, ne pellem ovinam lupus, pennas accipitris strucio, membraque leonis induat asellus agrestis. Ut ergo intelligerent quod agerent, et ætatem habentes pro se responderent, prædixit eis, et præstruxit omnem monasticæ disciplinæ asperitatem, vivendique modum, quam noverunt unquam vel viderant uspiam arctiorem: prædicavit eis mundi contemptum, et omnis proprietatis abjectionem, suæ voluntatis restrictionem, et carnis mortificationem; laborem continuum, et quietem raram; vigilias multas, et somnum tenuem; jejunia prolixa et cibaria vilia; vestem asperam et cultum nullum; claustri carcerem, ne mala vel prava agerent, et silentii vicem ne eadem dicerent: orationis et meditationis frequentiam, ne illicita cogitarent: quæ omnia sibi placere pro Deo asserebant, et duritiam pro mollitie, laborem pro quiete, molestias pro dulcedine computabant, dummodo possunt consequi quod optarunt. Compulit eas tamen paupertatis necessitas, et labor mendicitatis, ardua velle subire, dummodo de perpetuo vitæ stipendio fierent securæ.

Illexit interim Dei amor et animarum salus, quo possent per temporalem laborem æternam mereri quietem: sicque ex necessitate facta et virtus; et licet finis cœptæ intentionis minus fortè in quibusdam esset à perfecto; non impedivit tamen, sed adquisivit consummationem operationis bonæ. Sed nec sic voluit vir providus eas adhuc astringere voto, propter ritum probationis: verùm anni transeuntis indixit illis expectationem, ut etiam ex dilatione cresceret desiderium.

Conversio laicorum Fratrum.

SANE quoniam sine solacio virili parum proficit sollicitudo fœminea, assumpsit mares, et eos exterioribus et gravioribus illarum præfecit operibus, quos habuit domus suæ et agriculturæ famulos: quosdam autem ab infantiâ suis sumptibus nutritos, et quosdam à dominis suis transfugas, quos nomen religionis emancipavit; quosdam verò pauperrimos et mendicantes. Erat enim servus evangelicus, qui ad præceptum Domini, exiit in vicos et plateas civitatis, et quoscunque invenit pauperes et debiles, cæcos et claudos, compulit intrare, ut impleretur domus Domini: qui et ipsi, tum ex inopiâ humanæ, tum ex ardore cœlestis vitæ, idem quod conversæ laicæ appetierunt et petierunt, circa quos eodem modo quo circa illas operatus est; et tandem tam hiis quàm illis quendam signativum humilitatis et renunciationis mundi tradidit habitum. Indixitque illis gravia multa, et pauca levia, quæ supra memoravimus, præter ea quæ sunt animæ propria; ut est humilitas, obedientia et pacientia, et hujusmodi, quorum est actus difficilis, sed merces multa, quæ omnia libentissimè concesserunt, et servare sub voto sposponderunt. Ecce talentum duplicatum, quod quasi simplum accepit in fœminis, et quasi duplum ex fœminis simul et maribus adquisivit. Ecce junctura fœminum sponsæ quasi monilia, quæ fabricata sunt manu artificis.

Propagatio Monasteriorum.

JAM tempus advenit, ut egrederetur dilectus cum dilectâ in agrum mundi, ut commorarentur in villis et civitatibus populorum. Jam dies instabat, quo vinea, cujus plantavit Dominus radices, impleret terram, expanderet palmites suos usque ad mare, et usque ad flumen propagines ejus: processu ergo temporis, volente Domino dilatare semen, quod ipse seminaverat in illis primis hujus vitæ parentibus; multi divites et nobiles Angliæ, comites et barones, videntes et approbantes opus quod inchoavit Dominus, et quæ sequerentur bona prævidentes, fundos et prædia, possessionesque plurimas sancto patri optulerunt, et monasteria multa per multas provincias, sub ejus regimine ædificare cœperunt; inchoante ipso episcopo Lincolniensi Alexandro, et consummante illustri rege Anglorum Henrico secundo; quæ omnia vir Domini, cum timore et tremore, et quadam coactione accepit; plurima autem refutans, et omnino contemnens, eò quòd honestam paupertatem semper diligeret, et numerositatem subditorum nævum timeret elationis, secùndum illud; "In multitudine populi, gloria regis." Nam primitùs primis illis septem inclusis: plures, illis viventibus, super apponere non arbitrabatur; sed cum videret opus Dei in multiplicitate monasteriorum multiplicari, noluit Dei voluntati obviare, devotionem largitorum præpedire, sustentationem servorum Dei negligere; sciens hanc esse Dei virtutem, non suam; profunditati consiliorum Dei omnia committens, qui bonorum et malorum benè semper ad suum libitum utitur ministerio.

Quod adiit Dominum Papam Eugenium.

VIDENS ergò filios Dei cotidie succrescentes, et de die in diem proficientes, donec magni fierent valdè; putavit se, ut est bonarum mentium, ad tantam sullimitatem indignum; quia sensit infirmum, cogitavitque hoc onus simul et honorem à propriis humeris exuere, et alicujus vel aliquorum, quos adhuc inveniret aptiores et validiores, committere potestati, tanquam alter Moyses diceret Domino, "Obsecro, Domine, mitte quem missurus es, et quem dabis, Domine, ut præsit huic multitudini maximè, quam incœpisti facere in gentem magnam. Tu nosti, quod ex quo locutus es ad servum tuum, ut præcessem populo huic, factus sum inferioris vitæ, utpote homo secularis horum respectu, quos deberem meritis sicut et gradu præcedere: Scio enim grave judicium hiis qui præsunt; et timeo ne si non fuero grege melior, fiam ante te ex priore posterior." Tunc adiit capitulum Cisterciense, ubi fortè tunc aderat bonæ memoriæ Papa Eugenius, ut curam domorum suarum manciparet custodiæ monachorum Cistertiæ: hos enim cæteris habuit, ex frequenti hospicii susceptione, familiariores, quos et judicavit aliis religiosiores, quia erant recensiores et regulæ arctioris; undè et tutius credidit illos suo operi præficere, eò quòd rigor ordinis et novitas eorum conversionis conversationem illam, quam ille excogitaverat districtius, faceret custodiri. Dominus autem papa et abbates Cisterciæ, dixerunt sui ordinis monachos aliorum religioni, et præsertim monialium, non licere præesse; et sic quod optavit, non optinuit, sed ad imperium apostolici, et consilium sanctorum jussus est, quod inchoaverat prosequi in gratiâ Christi. Noluit Dominus congregationem de Sempingham proprio privare pastore, qui melior erat ei futurus, quam decem alii: cujus etiam meritum disposuit perducere ad centesimum fructum in collectione, quod adhuc restabat alterius conditionis hominum: Soror nempè nostra, congregatio scilicet adhuc parvula est, et ubera non habet præpositorum et prædicatorum, qui eam lacte nutriant, solido cibo sustentent, interiùs disponant, exteriùs protegant, undique et ubique confirment.

Quod commissum est ei à Domino Papâ Regimen Ordinis sui.

DATA est igitur et injuncta beato Gileberto à sancto Papà Eugenio collecti gregis custodia, quia non inveniebatur, nec inveniri poterat melior conservator, quàm is qui fuerat conquisitor, nec fortior esse poterat boni status zelator; quàm qui primus et summus fuerat ad statuendum laborator. Verumtamen vir sanctus, ad tanti pondus regiminis virgentis ætatis causabatur importunitatem, ad honorem; indignitatem, ad magisterium; imperitiam ad prælationem suam prætendit humilitatem. Timuit namque suam, quibus præferendus erat imparitatem: timuit placidè mentis suæ soliditatem dissipandam: timuit dilecti sui secreti et assiduæ contemplationis dulcedinem debellaturam occupationem: quæ omnia devotæ humilitatis apologetica intellexit, ut erat vir prudens dominus apostolicus, et eò proclivius et securius pastoris ei deputavit officium, quo nullum vidit illi inesse prælationis appetitum: propositum enim ejus erat semper humilibus adhærere (vel humilia appetere) et Domini fuit voluntas, illum se semper humiliantem ampliùs exaltare.

Cognoscens autem beatus Gilebertus divinum circa se exactum judicium, non est ausus diu supernæ reniti dispositioni, quæ illud ad hoc opus asciverat; sed ne cæteris, quibus pollebat, se privaret virtutibus, si pertinaciter obsisteret, amplexatus est devotè obedientiam Dei, ejusque vicarii papæ, ampliorem indè sperans mercedem, quia nullam ex hoc habuit delectationem; suique, solius postposuit utilitatem, ut multorum adipisceretur salutem. Contemplationis studiis jamdudum eruditus, piæ actionis nunc consensit inservire operibus, ut utriusque vitæ meteret fructus: Porro licitè poterat earum rerum fieri dispensator, quarum pristinus fuerat possessor, quoniam pauperibus ea conferens, et ipse pauper effectus, ut minister sibi credita, non ut dominus propria gubernavit. Propter hæc et hujusmodi sanctitatis signa, et multorum consona testimonia, doluisse fertur Papa Eugenius, quoniam virum antea non novisset, eo quod voluisset, ut dixit, illum sullimâsse in archiepiscopum Eboracensem, cujus sedes tunc vacabat, si fama meritorum ejus illi priùs innotuisset. Beatis quoque Malachiæ, Hyberniensi archiepiscopo, et Bernardo Clarevallensi abbati, in illo itinere adeo factus est familiaris, ut illis solis præsentibus, ipse quoque præsens adesset, ubi per orationem eorum fertur sanitas collata cuidam ægroto. Insignia etiam amoris, baculum scilicet tam præsulis, quàm abbatis, accepit ab utroque; in quibus quædam factæ sunt virtutes; et orarium cum manipulo ei dedit abbas in monimentum sui.

Ordinatio Canonicorum.

Reversus denique ad sua pater Gilbertus, quoniam suo proposito defraudatus est, quo per humilitatis intentionem pastoralis curæ, pondera refugiens congregatarum ecclesiarum, magisterium gubernationi monachorum Cisterciæ subdere decreverat, nec impetraverat: hac itaque divinâ ordinatione, ut credi fas est, commonitus, hac necessitate compulsus, vocavit in partem sollicitudinis, et omnium quos adunaverat regimini præfecit viros, ut literatos, et ecclesiasticis ordinibus insignitos; viros, ut possent, literatos, ut possent regere cæteros: ordinatos, ut ecclesiæ jure valerent præesse: viros, qui tuerentur mulieres; et literatos, qui tam viris quàm mulieribus viam panderent salutis; clericos, qui omnibus pastorale officium exhiberent. Hoc autem nutu Dei, et consilio fecit virorum sanctorum et sapientum; quoniam sicuti patrum decreta diffiniunt, necesse est ut monasteria puellarum, præsidio et administratione monachorum vel clericorum regantur, eò quòd salubre sit Christo dicatis virginibus, si patres eis spirituales eligantur, quorum non solum gubernaculis tueri, sed etiam doctrinis possint ædificari.

Separatio Conjunctorum.

Verum quoniam sacri inhibent canones, ne monachi vel clerici habitent cum mulieribus, sed remoti ab earum familiaritate; nec usque ad vestibulum habeant accedendi familiare permissum, eandem secutus est dominus Gilebertus sententiam, quo nemo unquam fortiùs zelatus est castitatem; et habitacula clericorum procul sisti statuit à domibus monialium, tanquam in uno vico vel in unâ civitate diversas mansiones religiosorum, ita quod canonici longiùs ab illis remoti, nullum ad eas haberent accessum, nisi pro administrando aliquo divino sacramento, sub multorum testimonio: basilica tantum, quâ divina celebrantur, communis est omnibus, sed non nisi tantum in missarum solemniis, semel scilicet vel bis in die, pariete undique intercluso, non visis maribus, nec auditis mulieribus: Nam est suum canonicis oratorium, in quo divina complent officia. Quociens autem ad eas ingredi urgentior causa compulerit, nemini licet nec omnium presbytero visitandi gratiâ intrare, nisi sub plurium comitantium testimonio: sed et tunc audiri possunt quæ loquuntur; videri autem à quoquam masculo detectâ facie, omnino non possunt: si quid verò à foris, intro vel deintus foras oportet significari, quatuor specialiter ad hoc deputantur, duo senes, scilicet probati extrinsecus, et duæ sorores maturæ interiùs, per quos tantum se audientes, et non mutuo videntes quicquid necesse est nuntiatur.

De Regulis Omnium.

Hiis ita dispositis, quoniam omnes, tam mares quam fœminas in unitatem societatis et vinculum pacis vocaverat, ut per unum in uno omnes perduceret ad unum, multitudinis fecit cor unum et animam unam in Deo, singulis pro sexu, ætate, et gradu certum vitæ modum præsignans, et metam, ultra quam citraque nequit procedere rectum: ut autem superiori niteretur auctoritate, ne arrogans aut præsumptuosus judicaretur, si abjectis alienis sua impudenter ingereret; cum tamen magisterium haberet Spiritus Sancti: cæterùm ut subditi præostensam sibi viams olicitiùs servarent, duplicem monasticæ vitæ imposuit suis disciplinam; monialibus regulam beati Benedicti, clericis verò regulam S. Augustini tenendam proponens; omnibus autem Christi et sanctorum exempla, et evangelicam, apostolicamque doctrinam annuntians, quatinus dum in subditis, tam monachalem quam clericalem justiciam haberet, ipse in se à nullâ monasterii perfectione discreparet.

De Scriptis.

Et quia pro locis et temporibus, personisque, ex causis incidentibus variantur, et mutari oportet jura constitutionum, ea quæ minùs in illis regulis invenit, ad sic datam normam sufficientia, à multarum ecclesiarum et monasteriorum statutis et consuetudinibus, quasi flores quosdam pulcherrimos excerpsit, collegit, et præelegit, quæ magis necessaria et competentiora sic infirmatis hominibus judicavit; in quibus eruendis et explanandis, tanta in eo viguit sollicitudo, ut non solum magna et maximè necessaria, verùm etiam minima quædam et abjecta, quasi verus angelus super scalam Jacob ascendens et descendens non omisit, ne ipse imperfectæ doctrinæ, vel subditi ignorantiæ legis, rei arguerentur. Hæc omnia, ut pro lege haberentur, et magis vitaretur transgressio, quoniam lex est constitutio scripta: hæc, inquam, omnia ad memoriam in posterum literis mandavit, et appropriato vocabulo Scripta vocavit; ut nomine sicut et sensu, quantum reverentiæ et obeditionis eis debetur, indicaret. Horum omnium tenorem, et omnem de omnibus factam institutionem, scripto innotuit Papæ Eugenio, ut si quid fuerat emendandum corrigeret, quicquid verò rectum et rationabile, ratum faceret, quatinus omnis vox calumniæ auferretur, et securitas ea servantibus condonaretur, si summi pontificis fuerint communita consensu; qui diligenter singula perlegens, et nichil reprehensibile inveniens, perpetuâ commendavit ea firmitate, et misso privilegio suo, quicquid sancitum fuerat à patre Gileberto, vel foret sanctiendum, de hiis quæ ad cultum religionis pertinent, decrevit æterna debere subsistere stabilitate. Hoc idem à successoribus ejus Adriano et Alexandro, cæterisque Romanis pontificibus robustiùs confirmatum est, cum illustrium cardinalium subscriptione.

Commendatio Ordinis.

His rationibus fretus, his auctoritatibus suffultus, pater Gilebertus filios Dei à quatuor ventis collegit, et in unam fabricam domus Dei in quatuor parietibus compegit, quadris lapidibus super humile fundamentum compositis, ipso summo angulari lapide Christo Ihesu. Hic est discus Petri quatuor lineis de cælo summissus, omnigenis animalibus plenus, quæ mactavit à viciis seculi, et in corpus ecclesiæ transjecit. Hic Petri vicarius et imitator. Hic est currus Dei decem milibus multiplex justis, humilibus et quietis, quòd se vehementem in se locum interminalem provehit; Dominus milia habet diversarum conditionum, sexuum, ætatum et linguarum, spe futurâ et caritate gratuitâ letantium, quia in eis est Dominus in Synai sancto, id est in mandato suo impleto et implendo. Hæc est quadriga Aminadab, id est spontanei populi; voluntariorum scilicet pauperum Christi, quæ duo habet latera; unum videlicet virorum, alterum mulierum; rotas quatuor, duas masculorum, clericorum, et laicorum; et duas fœminarum litteratarum, et literas nescientium: jumenta duo quadrigam trahentia, clericalem et monachicam disciplinam. Clericatui beatus præsidet Augustinus, monachatum præcurrit sanctus Benedictus: quadrigam ducit per aspera et plana, alta et profunda, pater Gilebertus. Via per quam incedunt, angusta est semita; bravium autem vita æterna.

Videntem hunc currum talibus ministris et ministeriis procurrentem, exclamare libet etiam malevolum quemque et invidum cum Balaam, “Quam pulchra tabernacula tua Jacob, et tentoria tua Israel!” et qui fausta optat cum Jacob et Heylâ, “Castra Dei sunt hæc:” quid enim videbis in Sunamitæ, hac nuper conversâ nisi choros castrorum: castra propter hostium repulsionem, choros propter Dei glorificationem; castra propter acerrimum congressum, choros propter fælicem de triumpho exultationem. Quid enim majorem, vel tantam faciat hosti invidiam; quid tantum vel talem adquirit de hoste trophæum, quam ut discordantium tot differentiis hominum, una sit concordia morum. Ibi habitat lupus, quondam in seculo raptor, cum agno miti quovis et mansueto; et pardus pecorum, maculis varius, cum hedo accubat, qui se despicte et peccatorem fatetur. Ibi vitulus, corde contritus, et leo olim severus; et ovis innocentiâ simplex simul morantur; et puer parvulus, Christus videlicet, sive sanctus iste humilis minat eos per ardua disciplinæ ad gaudia vitæ. Ibi rinoceros docet ovem mansuetudinem, et juvencus indomitus sponte subjicit jugo cervicem: ibi damula canem, et alauda venatur accipitrem, et testitudo aquilam comitatur ad astra. Ibi vulpis nescit astucias, et corvus contemnit cadaver ablatum. Ibi juvenes et virgines, senes cum junioribus laudent nomen Domini; quia omnis ætas, omnis conditio, et uterque sexus exaltant ibi, non suum, sed nomen Domini solius. Quinni Spiritus ejus congregat dispersos, qui quamlibet morigeratos diversè inhabitare facit unius moris in domo: adeo caritas tollit invidiam, et jocunditas socialis facit habitare fratres in unum. Quid tam unum quàm unumquemque magis rem communem curare quàm propriam, omnis ab uno, et ex uno vitæ sumere necessaria; omnia sub pondere, numero, et mensurâ pro singulorum gradibus sine murmure distribui? Quid tam unum, quàm omnes ecclesias, ubique terrarum distantes, in victu et vestitu personarum, cæterisque vitæ contingentibus, à se non distare? Quælibet persona totius ordinis, quamlibet domorum æquè habet sibi debitam, nec aliquid in aliqua vendicare licet alicui, nisi quod a prælato omnium cujusque fuerit indultum potestati; ita uni capiti omnia compaginantur, et subjacent membra, ut ejus magisterio singula singulis compatiantur et congratulentur, et sive in vitâ sive in morte: unumquodque extat alterum alterius, omnia autem insimul Domini.

Mirabilis hæc unitas, tam personarum, quàm ecclesiarum, et inaudita rerum omnium communio, quæ sic unum omnia, et omnia unum efficit, in tot cordium et tantorum monasteriorum diversitatibus: præter illam enim, quam caritas texit cordium unitatem, quæcunque instituta virorum, apta sunt vitæ mulierum, vel quæ à mulieribus ad viros transferri possunt, salvâ honestate et regularum quas professi sunt tenore, propter pacem et concordiam, jussit altrinsecus observari: undè patet quantæ fuerit vir iste scientiæ et discretionis, qui sic cuique sua distribuit, ut omnibus idem adaptaret: sed et proindè, quantæ fuerit constat sanctitatis, quia nisi esset hic homo à Deo, non posset facere quicquam, nec potuit aliter docere, quàm vixit, cum doctrina ejus opus operata sit in hiis, quos docuit: doctrina enim illius suam expressit sanctitatem, et sanctitas adquisivit doctrinæ effectum. Cui enim nisi supernæ pietati, et magnis meritorum titulis est ascribendum, quod vir humilis, de plebe electus, infra paucos annos tanta opera tam strenuè consummavit: nam præter pauperum et infirmorum, languidorum et leprosorum, viduarum et orphanorum xenodochia, quæ stabilivit et gubernavit, tresdecem ecclesias conventuales, cum pertinentiis, quatuor scilicet canonicorum seorsum commanentium, et novem monialium, cum suis rectoribus et fratribus degentium, in vitâ suâ, non sine magno labore et industriâ constituit; in quibus, ut æstimamus, duorum milium et ducentorum virorum, et religiosarum mulierum collegia, in obitu suo reliquit, præter innumeros antea defunctos; undè liquidò constat, quod fuit Dominus cum eo, per quem erat vir in cunctis prosperè agens: liquet etiam hunc Dei docibilem eo per magisterium unius magistri Christi, et unctionem Spiritus Sancti fuisse edoctum, quod tot Deo famulantibus, utriusque sexus, hominibus vitæ formam et vivendi exempla præstiterit, quæ ab homine non didicit: nullus enim ordinis illius inventor, sed nec ordo ipse ante illum fuit inventus.

Ratio contra detrahentes.

QUOCIRCA obstruitur os cuilibet ingrato et invido, qui cum vitam non possit, ejus doctrinam reprehendere conatur; cum ex vitâ laudabili non possit doctrina vituperabilis oriri: sanè, nec bonis moribus vita, nec fidei catholicæ obviat ejus doctrina, cum fides per dilectionem tanta in eo operata sit bona; undè et nec aliqua ab eo constituta consuetudo est retractanda: sed nec universali ecclesiæ officit, immo plurimùm præfuit hæc novellæ religionis adinventio, cum non omnis novitas, sed tam profana debeat vitari, et doctrinæ religionis, ut ait beatus Augustinus, congruentes sint verborum novitates. Porro nec legibus humanis, nec divinis abrogat hæc recens constitutio, nec sacros canones offendit, sed statuit; quandoquidem à principibus seculi veneratur, à pontificibus provinciarum acceptatur, à Romanis præsulibus imperpetuum corroboratur; per totum orbem, quo ejus fama pertingit, maximâ laude celebratur; et quod hic est ampliùs, signis et miraculis Deo placita comprobatur: quæ, cum ita sint, ut facta clamant, et orbis perhibet testimonium, qualiter se gesserit in pastorali officio pater Gilebertus, ad Dei laudem, et illius gloriam, et auditorum utilitatem deinceps declarabimus.

Qualiter se habuit in Prælatione.

POSTQUAM beatus Gilebertus iterum parturiens filios, in evangelio, “bonum illud et jocundum quod est habitare fratres in unum,” opitulante Deo, peregerat, factus est barba veri sacerdotis Aaron decore, fortitudine et alacritate virtutum, et tanquam hora indivisibilis tunicæ Christi, quæ est ecclesia, per os suum, extremo hoc tempore introduxit Christum in domum suam, per fraternam, quam ipse sarcivit, concordiam: et quia suscepit unguentum gratiæ spiritualis, quod descendit à capite Christi, omni floruit virtutum experientiâ, ut dignus esset cæteris præponi in exemplum vivendi: nam ut arbor bona fructus bonos faceret, et à radice firmâ, solida pullularent germina, studuit omni custodiâ servare cor suum, ne unquam illud cogitatio immunda macularet; nec delectatio prava ad consensum peccati pertraheret: eandem nempè quam ab utero matris contraxerat, illibatam custodiens carnis integritatem; muliebris spurcitiæ incitamenta, aliquotiens acriter à muliere pulsatus contempsit, ut esset mundus qui ferret vasa Domini, et manus impolita quæ alienas sordes habuit detergere. Et ut boni pastoris impleret officium, præter ea, quæ sunt virtutum opera, utpotè pietas et humilitas, misericordia et veritas, quæ puræ mentis exhibent efficatiam, extitit in corporali exercitatione laborator strenuissimus; nam pro adquirendis vel tuendis subditorum necessariis, regum, et pontificum palatia, et procerum curias, ultra citraque mare frequentiùs adibat, ubi multa incommoda, pro commissâ sibi ecclesiâ, multotiens sustinuit, ita ut invisibilis hostis instinctu, qui ejus actus semper nisus est impedire, à visibilibus inimicis, non modo verborum, sed etiam verberum aliquotiens contumelias subiret.

Omnes ecclesias æqualiter dilexit; et ideo circa omnium negotia æque solicitus fuit: omnium verò graviores esse, et singulorum majores culpæ semper reservabantur ejus examini, unde et plus omnibus laboravit. Cum autem intermisso itineris labore, ad aliquod monasterium, visitandi gratia devenisset, panem ociosus non comedit, sed præter viatorum negotiorum consilia et auxilia manibus suis aliquid, quod conferret, laboravit. Scripsit quandoque libros, et multa alia opera in suppellectibus variis, et ædificiis construendis ipse confecit: inter hæc agendum cum hominibus quidem erat silentium, cum Deo vero clamor cordis immensus, et motus labiorum in Psalmodia et oratione continuus. Hinc factum est, ut cum loqui necesse esset, ex habundantia cordis et concordia operis loquebatur; quia sicut inspiratus est edidit, et ut docuit sic fecit; verba ejus nichil aliud quam sermonem sapientiæ et scientiæ sonuerunt: sapientiæ quidem, in docendis vel discendis supernis et cœlestibus, scientiæ in disponendis et dispensandis temporalibus; sapientiæ in exortatione virtutum et abdicatione viciorum; scientiæ in correptione perversorum et laude bonorum. Hæc omnia, adeo caute, adeo discrete gerebat, ut sive taceret, sive loqueretur, et sermo ejus utilitatem, et silentium haberet discretionem: nam secundùm sapientiam a Deo sibi concessam, contra singula vitia, congruam opposuit correptionis mensuram.

Monialium quandam impatientis igne libidinis, per maligni hostis machinamenta succensam, aspera castigatione sanavit; et fratrem quendam iræ stimulis adeo agitatum, ut a monasterio vellet recedere, levi ictu baculi sui, in maximam mansuetudinem statim convertit. Hoc enim semper tenuit in castigando moderamen, ut et culpas ad plenum purgaret; et caritatem, tam süi in illos quos arguit, quam illorum in se illæsam conservaret. Viderunt qui affuerunt in sui sanguinis proximos atrociùs eum desevire, cum peccarent, ita ut rebelles quosdam et perversos, ut omnimodam exhiberent, cum summa humilitate, satisfactionem, à sua vellet præcidere societate: prætulit autem illis extraneos quoslibet benè agentes, quos recto ordine sanctior copula caritatis ei fecerat propinquiores, et quos tenebatur diligere ex paterna conditione, dupla amplexatus est propter justiciam affectione. Vidimus, quod precibus et præmiis multimodis divitum et magnatum denegabat; hoc simplici fratrum vel unius alicujus, quem vita commendaverat annuere petitioni: erat enim homo hylaris et urbanæ eloquentiæ; nec habens quicquam in eloquio reprehensibilitatis admixtum, unde et miro affectu, tam à suis quam ab alienis diligebatur.

De Asperitate Vitæ ejus.

EXTERIORI quoque scemate conformis, immo forma fastus gregis ens in illis, quasi unus ex illis, omnia quæ minoribus imperavit, in se priùs, quantum decuit, excepit: non vestis nitidior, non cibus accuratior, non sequester in illo tempore dormiendi locus, nec mensa, nisi propter hospites, et hoc rarissimè, et quasi necessariò diversa. Equitatura simplex, et comitatus honestus, non in multitudine equorum et famulorum, sed uno de laicis conversis, duobus vero de clericis honestioribus semper actus ejus intuentibus. Viam equitando, non fabulosis sermonibus, sed psalmodiis et orationibus seminavit; semper aliqua deferrens, quæ occurrentibus pauperibus erogaret. Hospicium satis frugi, et habundans, et expensæ nec pares prodigis, nec hæredem avaris. Cum comedebat, non quod sibi sumeret, sed potius quod cæteris tribueret voluit apponi. Hylaris conviva, quod escis non poterat, vultu satiabat. Interim aliis largus, satis sibi parcus apparuit. Conquestus est multotiens, surgens à mensa, quod deliquisset in crapula, cum mirarentur sodales tam parvo cibario vitam posse transigi humanam: si quid enim sapidè suavitatis sensisset in dapibus, quod gustatum appetitum provocaret, vel quasi sanum et benè paratum laudaretur a circumsedentibus, volentibus sic persuadere ut comederet; mox ipsi laudatori, vel alicui alii transmissum à se amovit, ne videretur offendere, si vel modicam haberet inde voluptatem.

A carnibus et carnium nutrimentis, omni tempore, nisi in maximo languore abstinens: ab esu etiam piscium per totum Quadragesimæ, et dominici tempus adventus temperavit. Olea et legumina, et hujusmodi vilia, frequentiùs et libentiùs sumens. Piscium et hujusmodi, quo ne nimia debilitate deficeret, aliquantulum lautius, nescienti et nolenti parabantur; primam partem Deo, reliquam fere totam commensalibus communicavit. Erat omni cœna præ oculis mensæ suppositum vas quoddam, quod discum Domini Ihesu appellavit; in quo non modo ciborum reliquiæ, sed et primitiæ et partes præcipuæ ad opus pauperum imponebantur. Vidimus, cum ad mensam accederet, vel sederet, lacrimas eum fudisse inter epulas, quod pro humana conditione urgeretur satisfacere cotidianæ necessitati. Vasis ligneis et testeis et coclearibus tantum corneis utens, omnem exclusit mundi vanitatem, et metallorum illecebrosam superfluitatem. Post refectionem magis mentis, ex verbo divino, quam ventris ex corporali cibario, quod modicum temporis labori surripere potuit; lectioni et orationi, sacræque meditationi indulsit. Toto anni circulo æqualibus utens indumentis, nec plura in yeme, nec pauciora æstate quæsivit. Una tantum tunica contentus, usum pelliceæ penitus refutavit. Mirari posses et misereri, si videres senilis corporis membra vix ossibus cohærentia, concussis humeris, et collisis dentibus, subtracto tam naturali, quàm accidentali calore, multotiens contractà. Inter linum et cilicium, mediam lanam propter subditorum conformitatem, et popularis auræ fugam, pocius utendam censuit. Cum nocturna quies ad stratum membra vocaret, dictis prius quibusdam Psalmis familiaribus, pro se, suisque, pro regibus et pontificibus, pro fidelibus vivis et defunctis, post completam septimam horam, super lectum totâ nocte non jacuit, sed sedit; non depositis diurnis vestimentis, nec adjecto capiti plumari sustentaculo; sed quia à tergo non erat quod occiput sullevaret, sopor irruens pendulum caput nonnunquam in anteriora depressit, ut sic somnium fugaret, et orationi pernoctans vacaret.

Lectisternio laneo mediante sic super stramenta residebat, nichil cuiquam usque manè locuturus. Post nocturnas laudes, recitatis sanctorum passionibus, et absolutis defunctis, tam pro se, quam pro cuncto sibi grege commisso, humilem et prolixam edidit confessionem; petiitque à fratribus, et suam dedit tam absentibus quam præsentibus culparum omnium absolutionem; conferens postea benedictionem, quasi more beati Job, singulis diebus offerens holocaustum per singulos filiorum. Diei autem nichil passus est præterire ociosum; sed orationi, lectioni, contemplationi, justæque actioni vicissim incumbens, temporum vices temperanter distribuit. Singulis vicissitudinibus, non singulatim sed simul se totum impendit; nec tamen aliquid debitæ curæ succedentis operis derogavit; nec propriam salutem propter aliorum sollicitudinem omisit: nec divina propter humana prætermisit; nec internorum curam, propter externorum occupationem diminuit. Cunctis compassione proximus, præ cunctis contemplatione suspensus. Flebat multotiens in ymnis et canticis, suave sonantis ecclesiæ vocibus vehementer illectus, verborum tamen sententiis magis delectatus; nam ne quis forinsecus eventus, vel internus cogitationis occursus mentem suam à sapore et intelligentiâ divini verbi averteret, cum illud protulit vel audivit; composuit sibi signa quædam in digitis, et singulis articulis singula verba vel orationes deputans, tali artificio infixit animo tenaciùs dictorum memoriam.

Defecatæ mentis hoc docuit devotio, quæ soli sponso speculando suasit vacare, et ipsum in membris ejus amplectens omnia effudit viscera caritatis: sicut enim ex devotione, præ amore Dei, gaudendo plorabat, ita ex compassione proximi lacrimando miseris condolebat. Vidimus cum quis gravius usque ad separationem deliquisset, cum rediret ad veniam, durus primitus et pene inexorabilis obstitit, ut contritionem pœnitentis probaret, et culpam ad plenum excoqueret, timoremque cæteris incuteret; sed cum veram et plenam intellexit emendationem, lacrimas fudit coram cunctis, et pro ove vel dragmâ perditâ, sed inventâ, convocans fratres et amicos, ipse ubertus gaudebat, et omnes congaudere fecit. Sic se affligendo, afflictisque compatiendo, cum cruce Jesum sequebatur: sic se bene regens cæterorum fuit rectissimus rector, et quæ sunt boni pastoris per omnia agens, summi regis meruit membris honorabilioribus adnumerari: sic Dominum diligens, dilectus est a Deo et hominibus, adeo ut illi, quibus quasi necessario præerat, utpote primus pater et omnium fundator, susceptor et institutor, ardenti desiderio perpetuum sibi, si fore posset prælatum illum adoptârunt; unde dux constitutus, licèt ipsum non constituissent ducem, sed ipse omnes suo ducatu instituerat, cum per omnia esset in illis quasi unus ex illis, exteriùs quoque habitus signaculum non refugit suscipere, ut omnimodam gregis haberet conformitatem.

Usque ad id enim temporis, habitu canonico, quem tradiderat, non erat usus, nec speciale votum fecerat alicui regulæ, sed grisiis, quas dicunt, vestibus utens, fucatos fugit pannorum colores: quam profitendi dilationem, ut credimus, ideo subintulit, quoadusque novella sua plantatio caperet incrementum et solidamentum; timuit tamen ne arrogantiæ notaretur, si ipse suis adinventionibus, licèt à Deo essent, sollemne votum deferret: sed præcaventes discipuli perniciosum esse, si alterius habitus homini profiterentur, ne fortè post obitum illius, extraneus aliquis posset loco ejus, vi, vel potestate principum, ut solet, substitui, si ille, cui prima facta est professio, de suo numero non esset; petierunt, et probabilibus rationibus persuaserunt, ut habitum illius ordinis, quem præesse cæteris statuerat, ipse susciperet; quatinus viam, quam præmonstraverat ingrediens, suo exemplo alacriores duceret et securiores; quorum precibus et monitis permotus; maximè quia divino consilio viderat opus suum et inchoari, et eatenus perduci, cum non tantum sua, sed et Romana accessisset auctoritas, devotè assensit facere quod postulaverunt.

Quod suscepit Habitum Canonici.

ERAT quidam ex primoribus canonicis, nomine Rogerus, origine Sempinghamensis, præpositus ecclesiæ Maltonæ, vir prudens et probatæ per omnia religionis, quem ferè omnium monasteriorum congregationes successorem beati Gilberti desiderabant habere. Hunc etiam ipse, præ nota probitate, talem esse arbitrans, sicut et erat, qui merito vices ejus, si sic contingeret, agere posset, ex filio patrem, et ex discipulo magistratum sibi præfecit, et obedientiam illi, professionem verò loco et ordini de Sempingham ritè devovit; et sic de manu ejus habitum canonicum apud Bullingtonam suscepit. Huic postmodum tantum detulit, quoad vixit, insignæ humilitatis honorem; ut cum ipse omnibus, ille verò sibi præesset, nichil ferè de agendis suorum, sine ejus consilio et assensu disponeret; nichil quod ille ageret non haberet. Credidit namque ejus fidelitati, et præsumpsit de illius prudentia, undè fidelem servum et prudentem primò super se, deinde super familiam suam constituere proposuit.

Confirmans igitur et corroborans omnibus, quæ ad tantam Dei ædificationem videbantur necessaria, cum quatuor prætaxatos parietes in quadratis lapidibus videret hostis antiquus contra se erigi, et tam solido bitumine caritatis compingi; et ne quando solverentur tam strenuo servatore muniri; sed et magis dolens, alterum ejus supparem et coadjutorem, ad perpetuum illius domus firmamentum provideri, curâ itaque prospiceret omnia impedimenta sua, quæ contra hanc domum ab initio objecerat, cassari; quia principia ejus destituere non poterat jam erectam et perfectam fabricam dejicere, vel saltem in aliquo lædere machinatus est. Veruntamen hæc ejus perversa cogitatio, qui semper vult nocere in aliquo, Dei fuit recta dispositio; et qui novit benè uti malis, et quod ille paraverat ad perniciem, hoc Dei clementia vertit ad utilitatem. Erat enim ecclesia jam facta et oculis ejus bene placita; et ideo decrevit eam ecclesiastico more exercere. Quam frequens est et familiare fluctibus tundi, et flatibus adversitatum jactari, sed tandem illæsam portum subire salutis. Voluitque Dominus, sicut antea, multis eam probaverat, dum construeretur assultibus, et semper inexpugnabilem invenerat, unde et debitam meruit accipere perfectionem. Voluit, inquam, Dominus jam consummatum examinare, ut firmaret si immobilem videret; quatinus, sicut per primam constantiam suam adquisierat staturam, ita per jugem perseverantiam æternam sortiretur stabilitatem.

De Constantiâ ejus.

Efferbuit illo in tempore, diebus scilicet Anglorum Henrici Secundi, notissima illa persecutio, quæ in beatum Thomam, Cantuariensem archiepiscopum, pro divinis legibus et libertate universalis ecclesiæ stantem grassabatur. Hujus gloriosæ victoriæ, noluit divina providentia beatum Gilbertum, ejusque ecclesiam esse exsortem; sed ut inter filias naturalis ecclesiæ digna esset computari, fecit eandem, simul cum matre legitimè certare et beatè triumphare. Igitur, cum in excidium ecclesiæ et beati Thomæ, tota fere Anglia conjurâsset, nec inveniret ubi requiesceret pes ejus; obstantibus, junctis et insidiantibus ut eum comprehenderent, et regis traderent voluntati; susceptus est pacifice in monasteriis et mansionibus patris Gileberti, et acceptis ex fratribus ejus comitibus et ministris, itinera ejus et latibula satis circumspectè sunt directa: sed ingravescente malitia, cum idem beatus antistes ad regem Francorum Lodowicum, exul ab Anglia confugisset, notatus est dominus Gilebertus et sui, quod post relegationem illius, multam et trans mare pecuniam misissent, et quibus indiguerat contra regis præceptum ministrassent: Quod, licèt falsum esset, quia tamen ita creditum est à fidelibus regis et ministris, coacti sunt, tam ipse, quàm omnes omnium cœnobiorum suorum præpositi et procuratores judicibus regis coram assistere, ut si rem ita se habere convinceretur, omnes pariter subirent exilium: miserentibus ergo judicibus, quia ejus sanctitas nota erat omnibus, oblatum est ei, ut, præstito sacramento, fidem faceret falsum esse quod suggestum est, et ita cum suis indemnis ad propria remearet.

Quod vir sanctissimus et sapientissimus, quamvis integra fide et consona veritate facere potuisset, quia id tamen in injuriam ecclesiæ redundaret, renuit, dicens malle se subire exilium quàm tale præstare juramentum. Consideravit enim, quod quamvis rei veritas aliter se haberet quàm putabant, et verum jurare non noceat juranti, si compellitur, licèt à malo sit exigentis potius quam præstantis, contra fidei tamen et pietatis justiciam agere videretur, si juraret, et pravum posteris præsentibusque relinqueret exemplum, quasi impium esset et sacrilegum pastori et ecclesiæ, sub tali casu succurrere, cum magis prophanum sit in hoc articulo ecclesiam pro viribus non defendere. Simili modo, sub Machabæis, senex Eleazarus, nec propter timorem mortis carnem suillam comedere, nec propter amorem vitæ, et veterem virorum amicitiam voluit simulare se comedisse, ne triste viventibus senex daret exemplum, quod pro metu mortis patrias leges violâsset. Ita et senex noster, nec indefensam ecclesiam, dum potuit relinquere, nec se quasi reliquisse voluit fingere; ne apud homines factus enervis cæteros enervaret; et apud Dominum, tanquam pro facto, incurreret offensam: itaque suspensa Domini sententia, cum nec ipse se hoc modo purgare adquiesceret, et judices illum condemnare timerent, apud urbem Lundoniarum cum suis moratus est, præstolando quid ei mandaretur à tribunalibus, paratus semper ad omnia pro veritatis constantia. In qua expectatione, cum nimio timore desolarentur omnes sui, utpote jam jamque et genus et patriam relicturi; ita, ut quidam eorum sane se jurâsse posse arbitrantes et impium esse ducentes, loca suæ professionis pro tali causa deserere, juramentum illud præstare essent parati, ille ita terrenum oblitus est timorem, quod in curia, cum suis cunctis merentibus residens, ludicra quædam fusilia deferente puero emisset, ad nullam aliam utilitatem vel usum, nisi ut jocum faceret sociis, et quantum causam tristiciæ eorum parvi penderet, ostendit.

In hospicio quoque suo majori, jocundabatur, in illa mora, letitia; et inter divina sollemnia mirationem fecit omni populo, super dulcissono spiritualis chori illius concentu: omne enim gaudium æstimabat, cum in tribulationes varias incidisset. Die igitur ultimo, cum ab auditione mala cuncti timerent, ut sine dilatione et obstaculo intentatum præciperentur subire exilium, advenerunt de transmarinis regii ad judices nuncii, qui eis ex parte regis mandaverunt, ut questionem magistri Gileberti et suorum differrent, quousque rex ipse pleniùs cognovisset de causa. Illico dimissus est in pace, et cum suis omnibus ad sua redire permissus. Tunc cum ab omni exactione et coactione solutus esset, nec opus haberet quicquam inficiari, vel confiteri, dixit manifestè judicibus, sed nec tactis vel inspectis sacris, nec sub conditione litis, verbis tamen quibus benè crederent, quod objectæ falsitatis penitùs esset immunis. Undè mirati sunt universi constantiam viri, quod nec in tantâ minarum asperitate, et sui suorumque periculo id agere vellet coactus; quod tamen tam tutè agere posset quod post egit spontaneus.

Vexatio falsorum Fratrum.

Videns igitur hostis inquietus, se in præmisso temptandi genere defecisse, et virum cum suo populo gloriosiorem reddidisse, acriori sævit invidiâ; et si quo modo alio, aliave causâ, vel aliis instrumentis opus divinum subvertere posset, exquisivit: quia enim prædicta juvare non poterant, ad alterius modi se contulit negotii sui expedimenta: in prædictâ enim temptatione causam habuit illum criminandi pietatis defensionem, modum, potentiam magis quàm justiciam, instrumenta extera et affectata; quæ omnia quæ magis prodesse poterant quàm obesse illi, contra quem parabantur, sine magnâ difficultate poterant adnichilari. In hac autem temptatione se convertit ad contrarium, et causam temptandi adinvenit religionis impugnationem; et modo quo hoc prosequeretur, justiciam, instrumenta, ex proprio domo illius sibi assumpsit. Dixit enim per os mendacium quorundam, ipsum esse sacri ordinis, et ecclesiasticarum institutionum subversorem, quæ causa facile posset movere contra eum universos; et ut cautiùs hoc probaret, juris ordinem et justiciæ processum servavit in lite, et quo veraciùs credi faceret quod intendit, de suis domesticis actores constituit et testes. Quis non contra eum in hac causa se erigeret? Quis sanctæ religionis subversionem pateretur multam? Quis non justam causam crederet illum habere, qui in sua causa tam justè vellet procedere? Impetraverat enim per suos satellites, laicos scilicet conversos, à principibus tam secularibus quàm ecclesiasticis, quos adversùs eum commoverat, monita et præcepta multiformia, ad judices satis constantes, quorum examini, secundùm tenorem legum et canonum, commisit suæ causæ cognitionem.

Quis autem non crederet dictis proximorum, et sibi indivisibiliter cohærentium zelum Dei, quantum videri poterat, et formam pietatis habentium? Hæc erant quæ temptationem graviùs urgebant; quia rationem major comitatur virtus quàm violentiam. Accedit ad pondus gravaminis, quod homines pacis suæ, in quibus speravit, qui edebant panes suos, et quos maximè dilexerat, ampliaverunt adversùs eum supplantationem, undè magis doluit. Rursum, præter senectutis incommoda, debilitate corporis vexabatur. Cum tamen procul, et in ultimis finibus Angliæ, in causarum ventilationibus cogeretur, multotiens in propria persona apparere. Item quod super omnia gravat servi dominum, dispicabiles conspicuum, ignoti nobilem impetere præsumpserunt; "et quorum patres," ut ait Scriptura, "non dignabatur ponere cum canibus gregis sui," nunc in eorum canticum versus est, et factus est in proverbium. Quippe forma erat hæc primæ persecutionis primitivæ ecclesiæ, in quam surrexerunt quidam de synagoga libertinorum, id est manumissorum, qui primò fidei Christi restiterunt; quæ omnia, qui pleniùs cupit cognoscere, ex beati viri dictis pleniùs addiscet in scripto illo, quod de fundatione monasteriorum reliquerat, ubi sic ait: "Hujus dissidii et discordiæ exstiterunt caput duo fratres laici, quibus commiseram, præ cæteris, curam omnium domorum nostrarum. Eis verò associati sunt alii duo, quorum unum ferè mendicantem suscepi, victum quæritantem arte textrina; et alterum, Oggerum Fabrum nomine, quem puerum suscepi non fabrum, cum tribus fratribus suis, arte imperitis, et patrem ejus pauperrimum, et ferè decrepitum; et matrem ejus vetulam, cum duabus filiabus suis mendicantibus, et diutina infirmitate languentibus. Oggerum verò, et alium de fratribus suis, arte fabrili, à nostris permisi instrui, et alios duos arte carpentaria. Hii verò prædicti, associatis sibi aliis fratribus, insurrexerunt adversùm me et canonicos nostros, Deus scit, mentientes, et diffamaverunt nos per multas regiones.

"Ipsum etiam dominum Papam Alexandrum, magnæ sanctitatis virum, et curiam Romanam adversum nos concitaverunt. Ipse verò dominus Papa, credulus verbis prædicti Oggeri, nimis severum mandatum et sententiam crudelem adversùm nos dedit, et post pauca, veritatem, teste Deo, dicam, et non mentiar. Hæc fuit causa insaniæ Oggeri de Gerardi, qui aggregaverunt sibi proprietates furto, sequentes proprias voluntates, à professione et religione sua devii, proprios habentes palefridos, cursitabant huc et illuc, minus parcentes castitati et honestati, in subsannationem et derisum facti sunt clero et populo. Quod cum audirem, et eos ab errore ad viam veritatis revocare vellem, ab infamia ad bonam famam, ab incontinentia ad castitatem, contempta correptione nostra et nostrorum; diffamaverunt me et canonicos nostros, et facti sumus in admiratione et fabula per diversa locorum spacia."

Hiis verbis suam deplorat vir patientissimus molestiam, quam nisi naturali sentiret affectu, non ex hoc . . . . . reretur; sed quia omnia constanti tolerantiâ superavit, magis eorum plangit perditionem, ut asseveravit, quia magis doluit, quàm suum laborem: nam cum perversi illi scismatici, furtim asportantes possessiones domorum, auribus summi pontificis multa falsa instillassent, et literas suæ voluntatis efficaces, tacita veritate impetrassent, omnem exhibuit apostolicis mandatis, licèt sibi perniciosis obedientiam; et nunciis, quamvis adversariis suis reverentiam. Igitur in illarum causarum conflictibus, sæpè in jus vocatus, et coram pontificibus et prælatis pulsatus, cum multa in eum intenderentur, ille immobilis animi constantiam servans, nec timore pœnarum, nec suasu judicum à recto proposito deviare consensit, ita ut priùs secandum guttur assereret, quàm primam eorum professionem et ordinis institutionem immutaret, quæ multorum privilegiis apostolicorum fuerat sancita, et per longum tempus eatenus servata: Cumque in probationibus eorum, quæ objecerant, omnino deficerent, nec vi vel arte obtinere possent quod optabant, contulerunt se ad preces, veniam postulantes, et suppliciter duntaxat deprecantes, quatinus pauca de proposito rigore temperaret. Quos omnes in filios, sicut vir mansuetus, in osculo pacis benignè suscipiens, in temperandis nimis asperis, et emendandis ordinis institutis, auctoritate domini Papæ, et virorum religiosorum consilio promisit, prono animo se in omnibus pariturum. Solus tamen Oggerus, viri sancti, ut ita dicam, malleus, in sua perstitit malitia, nec fratrum suorum precibus, nec judicorum vel assessorum commonitionibus motus, redire voluit ad ordinis unitatem, nisi sæpedictus magister ad arbitrium ejus novas in ordine conderet institutiones: quod quia noluit, non enim expedivit, ille in sua pertinacia abscessit, et ferè usque ad diem obitus, tam sui, quàm beati Gileberti illum impugnare non destitit; parùm tamen vel nichil profecit; nam semper juxta nominis sui interpretationem interclusus recessit,

Cujus perversitas, quantum Deo displiceret, non sine evidenti inditio præterivit; namque in posteritate carnali, qua caruit, puniri, ut plerique non potuit, in sua radice damnata reprobus ostensus est. Pater siquidem ejus, carnalis viciis filii non renitens, sed fortè consensciens, et condelectans, quotiens sacramentum dominici corporis percepisset, dictu mirum, et terribile aspectu, dedignatus Dominus indigni hospicii habitaculum, quandoque per os, quandoque per nares, aut aures sive oculos illud ejecit, ostendens manifestè non esse participem communionis ecclesiasticæ, quam, quantum in ipso erat, deciderat, qui sacramenta unitatis ecclesiæ retinere non poterat; qui et ipse, morte improvisa defunctus est. Complicum etiam suorum, qui principalis illius scismatis extiterant conditores vel factores, vix aliquis decenti obitu diem clausit extremum. Revelata tandem sua et complicum ejus nequitia, cum in hoc omnino sanctus satis esset probatus, et pacem reddere ecclesiæ decrevisset pietas superna; penè omnes episcopi Angliæ cæterique prælati, qui vel ex propinquitate, et confrequentia, vel ex famæ præconio, eum noverant, scripta sua, cum sigillis et nuntiis omnem rei veritatem continentia, ad dominum Papam Alexandrum direxerunt, quibus Deo dignam magistri Gileberti personam, ejusque opera mirifica, et laudabilem subditorum gregem satis magnificè commendaverunt, et illorum rebellium insolentiam dilucidè et veraciter innotuerunt; supplicantes unanimiter, ut memoratum virum in suo proposito, quod à Deo erat, stabiliret, et inviolabiliter roboraret; necnon et scismaticorum insidias eluderet. Ipse quoque illustris rex Henricus secundus, suum scriptum idem testificans, idemque obtestans, cum regiis nunciis transmisit, et in fine firmissimè contestans, quod si rusticorum illorum, et qui erant, ut ait, ascripticii glæbæ machinationibus, ordo ille mutaretur, dominia et possessiones, quæ ob religiosam ibidem conversantium devotionem, cum suis proceribus contulerat, omnino retraheret: quod si præfatum ordinem, et primam institutionem debito rigore faceret Papa observari, ipse, quantum ad secularem justiciam pertinet, eum pro posse suo manuteneret, et in maximo honore et reverentia, sicut consueverat, haberet.

Indulgentia Domini Papæ.

Quibus beatus Papa commonitus testimoniis, precibusque commotus, apostolicam Scripto remisit auctoritatem, indulgens beato Gileberto, et successoribus ejus, ut nulli liceat religionem eorum, et jura, vel rationabiles institutiones, sine majoris et sanioris partis consilio et consensu corrigere, vel mutare, vel aliquam superaddere, quod prædictæ religioni eorum, et salubribus institutionibus videatur obviare: sed quæcunque in ordine illo, de cætero emerserint, corrigenda, ille vel successor ejus, ea cum consilio priorum ejusdem ordinis, secundùm statuta sua corrigere et emendare, secundùm quod magis viderint expedire, reforment. Alias etiam plurimas immunitates et dignitates, ad perpetuum firmamentum dominus Papa Alexander sancto patri Gileberto, successoribusque ejus, et sancto conventui de Sempingham dedit et concessit; quæ et à successoribus suis Romanis pontificibus plenius et robustiùs confirmatæ sunt, quatinus imposterum tollatur omnis malignandi occasio, suoque robore gaudeat hic ordo, et illæsus consistat.

Item alia Temptatio.

In hac igitur pugna gloriosus victor, pater Gilebertus, semper seipso robustior apparuit; et quantò arctiùs impetebatur ab hoste, tantò fortiùs, viriliusque restitit, et fœliciùs vicit: nam instar beati Job, tot hactenus, extra accidentibus periculis, nichil detrimenti passus, eo graviori, quo propinquiori et diuturniori fuerat certamine interrogandus; ut tanquam aurum, quod per ignem tertiò probatur, et quasi argentum purgatum septuplum, Christi diademati infigeretur. Devictus enim bellis multis, tam extraneis, quàm civilibus, sibi ipsi ipsemet objicitur superandus, ut nullo genere victoriæ privaretur: nam præter naturalem corporis imbecillitatem, quantum morborum molestia, tum senectus importuna, tum labor citius senectam importans inflixerat. Corporalis visus incurrit caliginem. Quam temptationem virum naturæ deficienti, an casui sive inimico prosequenti attribuam, ignoro: talis etenim erat complexio corporis naturalis, quæ visus aciem maximè in tanta ætate diutius non poterat conservare; sed si casu vel violentia hoc contigit illi, nescimus, cum crebris lacrimarum inundationibus, dum mitteret semina sua, eosdem oculos novimus eum debilitâsse, et multas ventorum, pulverum, et vigiliarum, aliorumque incommodorum pertulisse injurias. Si autem spiritualis hæc fuerat percussio incertum est; quocunque tamen modo, vel Dei judicio hoc ei evenerit, non inde erubescemus, cum idem Ysaac et Jacob, multisque aliis acciderit sanctis: si ex hoc ampliùs gratulamur: quia non hoc iram et indignationem, sed Dei scimus fuisse clementiam.

ACCREVIT enim illi virtus ex defectione, et pro lumine corporis amisso, majore et meliore meruit gratia spiritus illustrari; nam vigorem animi, licèt decripitus, licèt ægrotus, licèt visu privatus, in nullo relaxavit, immo quantum zelum et fervorem habuit curæ pastoralis in minori ætate, tantum quoad vixit indefessè servavit. Quam vigil sensus, discretia ratio, docile ingenium hærens memoria ei fuerit, mirati sunt quotquot viderint: auditus penetrabilis, lingua diserta, manus intremula, pes solidus, suum officium alteri caleph non denegebant. O quantus fervor divinæ dilectionis! quantum studium fraterni amoris in illa mente resedit, cum ejus cordi et ori Christus nunquam defuit; ejus linguæ et manibus semper inerat quod proximis profuit! Jugis oratio, juge suspirium, et lachrymarum crebra inundatio; quid mens senserit interiùs non potuerunt celare: et quia speculator constitutus à Domino domus Israel, super speculam suam per se stare, prout oportuit, non potuit, oculos, manus, et pedes, id est ministros qui horum gererent officium, loco suo præparavit. Sollicitudinem omnium cœnobiorum, prætaxato domino Rogero, priori Maltonæ, commisit, ut consilio suo majora tractaret: sub eo verò singulis gradibus marium et fœminarum, unum vel duos, quos circatores, vel summos scrutatores appellant, qui omnium domorum statum diligenter inspicerent, et ut opporteret corrigerent; graviora autem semper ad ipsum referrent: ipse verò caput omnium, utpote sensu et sanctitate præminens omnibus, omnium ad se causas detulit, et manuscriptas omnium professiones, quoad vixit, suscepit. Quocirca, ut nichil de partibus officii sui amitteret, quia equo non poterat, gestatorio se fecit semper per singulas domos circumferri.

In itinere, hospicio, mensa, et lecto, et cæteris omnibus locis regularibus et horis, eandem quam priùs; immo rigidiorem tenuit disciplinæ censuram: nam rebus secularibus, pro carentia visus, exemptus et absens, totus in cœlestibus, habitavit; et post justos sanctæ actionis labores, dulcis contemplationis meruit deliciis indesinenter confoveri. Toto spacio diurno, præter corporalium indigentiarum supplementa, aut lectioni aurem inclinavit; aut mentem, manusque et os precibus accommodavit; aut spirituali fratrum confabulationi indulsit. Nichil autem inter loquendum ei placuit, vel patienter audire potuit, nisi quod de Deo et vera vita sonuisset: pauca tamen et brevia, licèt essent sancta et utilia, edidit verba; memorans illud Psalmistæ, "Obmutui et humiliatus sum, et silui à bonis." Nam mox mentem ad cœleste desiderium et votum, in preces convertit, dicens hæc et hujusmodi, "Usquequo Domine oblivisceris me in finem," &c. et "Heu me! quia incolatus meus prolongatus est." Cumque quiescentem dormitare putaremus, manus sub pallio, cum oculis ad cœlum erectis vidimus, et divina verba secum inmurmurantem, porrectis auribus deprehendimus. In mediis autem sermonibus, cum se fortè vel circumsedentes excessisse in verbis arbitraretur, mox confessionem ecclesiasticam magna cum devotione protulit, se petens humiliter absolvi, et suam subdens absolutionem. Nocte nichilominus pristinas servavit in orationibus vigiliarum excubias, latenter, ut potuit, se deponens de grabato, ut ante lectum quas posset facere genuflexiones. Cumque à comitibus sic jacens repertus fuisset, quasi culpavit eos, quod stratum ejus vespera malè paravissent: solum enim Dominum et sanctos ejus, cum quibus nocte confabulatus est, hujus rei desideravit habere conscios et testes.

De Abstinentia ejus.

QUID de ciborum loquar parsimonia, cum etiam in maximo morbi languore, qui senium solet comitari, nec fratrum precibus coactus in suo adquievit comedere dormitorio: nunquam enim, quantum in ipso erat, à fratrum mensa voluit separari, licet cubiculum ejus à publico refectorio procul distaret, et gradus plurimi difficultatem facerent ascendendi in cœnaculum. Rogatus enim à fratribus, ut suæ parceret aliquantulum infirmitati, respondit substomachando; dicens, "Non erit Gilebertus exemplum successoribus suis comedendi delicias in camera:" et sic utroque latere manibus fratrum portatus, magno cum labore accessit ad mensam, ubi corpusculum magis inedia affecit, quàm refecit; nunquam vasis dominici et fratrum memoriam prætermittens. Surgens à mensa et reportatus ad cubiculum, quod reliquum erat diei in similes usus expendit.

De Magnificentia ejus.

HIC est beati patris Gileberti vitæ excursus, vivendi modus: hæc virtutum experimenta, et morum insignia, quibus et potentissimorum principum factis magnificis supergressus est magnitudinem, et sanctissimorum hominum, non solum imitatus est, sed etiam imitandum, in se exhibuit exemplum. Quis enim optimatum seculi, regum dico vel pontificum, tantam tantorum operum potuit in nostris temporibus summam adæquare; cum ille pauper, ut dicitur clericus, primò totum patrimonium suum, omnia scilicet quæ habuit, largitus, ex diminutione incrementum, et ex paupertate tantas congregavit divitias. Sed, quod magis arbitror mirandum, homo secularis et in curia ministrans, monasticæ disciplinæ normam, ab homine non didicit, quam tamen tenuit; nec solum ipse servavit, sed multis custodiendam contradidit. Undè præ sanctitate Deo amabilis, et ex magnificentia hominibus factus est admimirabilis; ex utroque autem omnibus venerabilis. Reges et principes illum honorabant; pontifices et prælati devotè suscipiebant; propinqui et extranei valdè diligebant; omnis plebs ut sanctum Dei colebat. Vidimus episcopos, genibus ejus provolutos, benedictionem suam petere, et de extraneis regionibus, in quibus fama sanctitatis ejus personuerat, quosdam episcopos adventantes aliquid de vestimentis ejus postulare, quod in terris suis locis celebribus suspenderent pro reliquiis.

De eo quoque quidam præsules, in suis scriptis et sermonibus popularibus, illud propheticum interpretati sunt, "Erubesce Sydon, ait mare;" se Sydonem, illum verò mare appellantes, eo quod homo secularis, et nullius ecclesiasticæ dignitatis, summos ecclesiæ pastores, non modo æquiparare, verùm etiam superare in promotione ecclesiæ videretur. Rex etiam inclitus Henricus secundus, tantum ei detulit munus honoris, ut illum ad curiam pro negotiis ecclesiæ venientem, non sit passus ad se venire; sed ipse magis ad illum in hospicio suo audiendum, cum proceribus suis ire non erubuit, et benedictioni ejus se humiliter submittere, et monita salutis ab eo audire non recusavit. Regina quoque Alianora, filios suos, reges futuros, ab eo gaudebat benedici: statum enim regni sui, et rerum successum vitæ illius præsentiæ et precum ejus obtentui deputabant; undè, cum postea nuntium obitus illius idem rex Henricus audiret, cum impugnaretur à filiis, graviter ingemescens ait, "Verè cognovi illum migrasse à seculo, nam ideo invenerunt me mala ista, quia non superest ipse." Loquebatur ex magnitudine doloris et amoris; quam si rationem vis doloris admitteret; scire poterat, quod efficaciùs in cœlestibus, quàm in terra pro eo intercederet: quod ut ei ab assidentibus proceribus suggestum est, tandem consolationem recepit.

De Miraculis in Vita sua factis.

TALITER novit Dominus glorificare sanctos suos, apud homines; qui quos justificat, hos et magnificat; et qui lucernam accendit, et in abscondito non ponit, sed super candelabrum, ut qui ingrediantur lumen videant. Quales quoque apud se illos habeat, etiam in conspectu hominum manifestat, qui futuræ in eis dignitatis gratiam præire facit miraculis, quatinus quam teneant homines viam agnoscant, et de spei veritate securi fiant, ut ad vitam perveniant. Simili pietate, et circa hunc sanctum suum, usa est bonitas divina, gratiam primitùs infundendo qua meritis eniteret, et misericordiam postmodum augendo, qua eadem merita virtutibus illustrarent. Hæc sunt igitur, quæ per beatum patrem nostrum Gilebertum, adhuc in carne positum, operatus est Deus mundo miracula.

Licet enim non sunt hæc tempora signorum, juxta illud, "Signa nostra non vidimus, jam non est prophetia;" et ipse magis moribus studuerit quam miraculis, in attestationem tamen piorum operum, et confirmationem sermonum, præter multarum quæ fecit lucra animarum, quæ præjudicant miraculis, quædam per eum divinitùs facta sunt signa, quibus et sanctitas vitæ ejus, et sinceritas doctrinæ commendatur. Sic enim revelatum est cuidam viro nobili et fideli, totam scilicet terram per eum lætificandam; Adam de Amundavilla hic erat, miles opulentus et fide dignus. Vidit hic per somnium, quasi in medio populorum multorum, in quadam planitie consistentium, descendere pontificem quendam, pontificalibus ornatum: quem cum interrogasset quis esset; "Nonne," inquit, "me nôsti, qui jam in meo servicio bis fuisti?" Fatenti se nescire, respondit præsul, "Ego sum Thomas Cantuariensis archiepiscopus, quem Sanctum Thomam appellant." Gavisus ille et admiratus; "Gratias," inquit, "Deo, qui tanta pro te domine operari dignatus est: nam nunquam fuit, nec erat aliquis, ut putamus, in terra nostra, de quo tanta oriatur letitia." Ad quem ille; "Erit, inquam, quærenti nomen ejus, sanctus," uno verbo respondit, "Gilebertus," quem non alium nisi hunc nostrum præsumimus esse Gilebertum. Quod enim nondum talis fuerit, certi sumus: quod autem nec futurus est, per hæc colligimus; nam præterea, quæ futura speramus gaudia, quæ de quo major poterit esse lætitia, quàm de viro, qui tot hominibus, et animarum et corporum providit stipendia. Quæ major letitia in terra nostra, quam quod eam tantorum operum magnificentia, et tanta signorum honorat frequentia? Quæ major letitia, quàm quod non solum suam regionem, verùm totum orbem Romanum sua illustrat gloria? Quæ major letitia, quàm quæ hominibus simul, et angelis collata est? Videmus eam jam et tenemus, et præ gaudio, quæ novimus silere non possumus, sicut nec debemus.

PERFECTIS igitur, tam suæ perfectionis meritis, quam suarum congregationum necessariis instrumentis, cum disponeret Dominus labores illius æterna requie munerare: appropinquante tempore vocationis suæ cœpit plus solito lacessere; pronuntiavitque se in hac vita diutiùs non posse subsistere, quia totius naturæ corporalis amminiculis destituebatur: morbo nempè et senio confectus: hinc compellitur migrare, et morbus quidem ex proprietate inhæsit naturæ, nam solet semper senium comitari; sed senectus ex dono duravit gratiæ, quam mirabile fuit, hominem tot pœnis attritum, hiis diebus, cum tanto corporis vigore posse pervenire ad centennium, et cum ipse centenariam excesserit ætatem, membris omnibus sui corporis, præter visum oculorum incolumis. Sed voluit Dominus multis eum exercere laboribus, et complere labores illius, quatinus merces ejus multa esset in cœlis. Non est ergo de quo queratur natura; non est in quo derogetur gratiæ, quam utrique satisfacere paratus est ipse: naturæ quidem, ut desinat vivere; gratiæ verò, ut si expedierit, vitam velit protelare. Mox igitur insinuavit per literas omnibus ecclesiis sui resolutionem imminere; orans, ut orationibus suis, exitum ejus munirent; et relinquens post se benedictionem, omnes, qui post ejus decessum futuri essent ordinis amatores, et unitatis congregationum defensores, absolvit ab omnibus contra regulam et instituta præsumptis excessibus: machinantibus autem dissidium et discordiam contestatus est, suam non posse prodesse absolutionem, cum in conspectu Dei non pœnituerint, constet eos penitùs esse reprobatos. Instante itaque tempore, quo sancta illa anima, carnis erat relictura hospicium; nocte qua natus est Dominus, apud monasterium quod est insula de Kadeneia, extremæ unctionis, dominicique corporis munitus est sacramentis; et sic horam exitus, qua decuit et oportuit, expectavit devotione: sed cum necdum carnis vinculis solveretur, accepto tempore opportuno, quam citiùs potuerunt comites et capellani ejus, illum indè removerunt; et timentes ne fortè à potentibus seculi, per quos erat transiturus, raperetur, aut vi retineretur, in suis ecclesiis aut monasteriis sepeliendus; divertentes à recto itinere, quàm occultè, quàm velociter potuerunt, ad Sempingham detulerunt, ut ibi sepulturam acciperet, ubi caput constituerat monasteriorum: in quo spatio sibi divinitus indulto, accedentes ad eum, omnes ecclesiarum ejus prælati (vel præpositi) et plures alii ejus discipuli, benedictione ejus et colloquiis sunt armati; et de pace, et de unitate, ordinisque rigore, post dies suos servando sollicitiùs admoniti et instructi. Ultimo autem die vitæ ipsius temporalis, cum omnes abscessissent à domo, qua jacebat, agens in extremis, solus ante grabatum ipsius resedit, qui ei successit in officio.

Cumque diu antea siluisset, utpote in extremo alitu constitutus; nec quisquam aliquid ei fuisset locutus, neminem videns, neminem audiens; in spiritu tamen, ut intelligimus, assidentis intelligens præsentiam, morosè, distinctè, et apertè hunc versiculum Psalmi inmurmuravit, dicens; "Dispersit, dedit pauperibus, et repetivit," quasi exponens, Dispersit multis, dedit non vendidit; pauperibus non divitibus; et subnectens, "Tibi," inquit, "amodo incumbit;" quædam alia, quæ non novimus subjungens. Quorum sententiam verborum absque sanioris interpretationis præjudicio eidem ipsi maximè arbitror convenire, qui sua omnia multis, quos ad Dei servitium adunaverat dispersit, et respectu caritatis dedit, non pro terrena aliqua recompensatione vendidit pauperibus, scilicet qui eum recipiant in æterna tabernacula; non divitibus, quibus dare superfluum est, et non meritorium, cum et ipsi difficile intravit in regnum cœlorum; undè pro hiis in fine mercedem recepturus exultat, et ei, quem sibi successurum prædicit, similitudinem agendi indicit. Sic gloriatur Paulus in his, undè magis confidit, cum tempus resolutionis suæ instat; dicens, "Bonum certamen certavi, cursum consummavi, fidem servavi; de reliquo reposita est mihi corona justiciæ, quam reddet mihi Dominus in illa die justus judex." Et David, Scottorum rex sanctus, cum mors esset ei in januis, septies hunc versum Psalmi, ubi spem suam posuerat, repetivit, dicens; "Feci judicium et justiciam, non tradas me calumniantibus me."

De Obitu ejus.

POSTERA die, qua præteriri non poterat, illuxit Sabbatum; tempus scilicet, quo requiesceret a laboribus suis: nox præcessit; dies autem appropinquavit, quia dicere potuit, "Non me tenebræ comprehendent, nec conculcabunt me;" hora erat Matutinarum Laudum, et hora exitus matutini; nec deerant qui Dominum laudabant astra matutina, dicat quod sequitur. Vix aliquid dicere poterant, qui interfuerant: singultus enim et lachrimæ adhærere fecerunt linguas suas faucibus suis; lachrimosa enim illa dies, quæ tulit nobis patrem et pastorem nostrum, germanum et amicum; nec qualem patrem habent vel amittunt cæteri in monasteriis subditi; sed qui omnes nos, quotquot fuimus, quotquot fueramus genuit in verbo evangelii, et fovit, ut nutricius, quemadmodum gallina congregare pullos suos sub alas. Cæterum, quid faciemus, te facto de medio, Domine? Ad quem ibimus? Quem sequemur? Timemus enim te percusso dispergi, sicut oves errantes absque pastore; nam non oportet flere super te, sed super nosmetipsos et super posteros nostros. Sed non est, quod queramus de tempore, nec quod doleamus de casu; quia extunc cœpit consolatio nostra, et tibi provenit gloria sempiterna: non est ergo, quod pro te, non est quod pro nobis lugeamus, sed potiùs tibi congaudeamus, et omnes nobis. Hoc enim seculum est. Sabbato ergo illo, pridie scilicet nonas Februarii, anno ab incarnationis dominicæ MCLXXXIX. Cum nox immutaretur in diem, dum celebrarentur Laudes à conventu, à tenebris hujus seculi et laboribus mundi, ad veram lucem requiemque æternam migravit, plusquam centennis senex et plenus dierum, habitaturus in domo Domini, et Deum in secula laudaturus; ubi in ordine suo, ut dignus erat, sicut cuidam postea revelatum est. Credimus enim inter agmina virginum beatam sedem percepisse à Domino: non enim defuerant manifestæ visiones et revelationes, personis fide dignis factæ, quibus certissimè colligatur, ipsum sanctorum consortio conjunctum esse in cœlis.

Visio cujusdam Præpositæ.

Nam nocte eadem, qua migravit à seculo pater Gilebertus, visio talis apparuit uni ex non suis, sed ex alterius ordinis monialibus, Agneti nomine præpositæ de Apeltona, quod est monasterium virginum in provincia Eboraci. Vidit illa, quasi in loco amœnissimo ecclesiam magnam, et ab occidente ipsius, domum spaciosam, in qua parabantur exequiæ velut alicujus magnatis; feretrum scilicet pannis sericis ornatissimum, cum crucibus et candelabris, et cæteris ministeriis solemnibus. Admirata tantum apparatum, quantum non viderat uspiam circa defunctum, quæsivit à quodam è turba, quæ ibi erat copiosa, quisnam esset defunctus, cui tanta obsequia deferebantur. Tunc responsum est, magistrum Gilebertum de Sempingham migrasse de mundo, et eum cum tanta veneratione debere sepeliri. Nec mora, erexit se in loculo, qui intus jacebat, et sumpta in manu virga pastorali, inchoavit voce altiori et dulciori, quod unquam illa audierat, hunc versum sequentiæ ita modulando, "Puræ mentis gaudia ostendamus, eya in vocis melodia." Omnes etiam, qui aderant, elatis in cœlum vocibus, concinebant cum eo, et cantantes processerunt versus basilicam. Videns illa viventem, qui dicebatur mortuus, indignata respondit ei, qui rem sibi indicaverat, "Putas me non nôsse magistrum Gilebertum; novi enim optimè; et jam non est mortuus iste. Quem dicis ipsum esse?" Ad quem ille, "An ignoras quid contigit beato Johanni evangelistæ. Sicut enim ille matrem Domini accepit in sua: ita iste eam imitantes sumpsit in custodiam." Tunc illa, "Novi," ait, "quia dominus meus est, et advocatus hujus loci; et vitam ipsius ferè totam memoriter teneo." Mox ille, "Sicut," inquit, "actum est ei, ita fiet et isti." Procedentibus igitur cunctis, interrogavit illa, quonam erant processuri, et responsum est, omnes mundi processiones, illi processioni obviaturas. Ingredientibus autem illis in ecclesiam, et ante magnam crucem consistentibus; ecce, ex omnibus mundi partibus innumeri populi confluentes, præcedentibus choris et altissonis concinentibus plures confecere, quarum quasdam noverat processiones. Videns illa tantas turbarum multitudines, timens ne ab eis comprimeretur, exivit; et statim excusso somno, tantam sensit in naribus odoris suavitatem, quod toto die, et multo tempore sequenti, retinens fragrantiam miro modo reficiebatur. Tunc pulsatum est ad Matutinas, et veniens in basilicam, innuit circumstantibus sororibus magistrum Gilebertum de Sempingham certissimè obisse, ut cognoverat in somnis: accepto quoque post modicum, mortis ipsius nuncio, collegit ipsam fuisse transitus ejus noctem et horam, qua hæc visa ei paruerunt.

Alia Visio.

Similià, et si non eadem, vidit mulier ingenua, et optimis moribus instituta, uxor viri boni Radulfi de Hauvilla. Videbatur sibi videre et audire in somnis multitudinem angelorum, cum immensis laudibus, et concentibus dulcissonis, ascendentem in cœlum. Postquam ascenderunt aliæ duæ turmæ spirituum beatorum oppositis vultibus: ferentes intra se tres pueros in lintheamine. Medius à cingulo sursum apparebat, calvus capite, puer tamen facie; duo circa residentes, ab humeris sursum eminebant multùm eo inferiores. Querenti qui essent, responsum est, medium illorum esse magistrum Gilebertum de Sempingham, qui mortuus mundo, iturus erat ad Deum. Putanti, et percunctanti, si alii duo essent ordinis illius canonici; dictum est, non eos esse canonicos, bonos tamen et sanctos ad Dominum suum transferendos. Hæc vidit mulier fidelis illa nocte obitus ejus, et experrecta retulit visionem marito: annotansque diem, invenit ipsam esse, qua sanctus migravit è seculo. Quo autem portaretur, vel ubi reponeretur, revelatum est postea cuidam ex suis canonico: nam non multo tempore post decessum sancti elapso, vidit in somnis quidam canonicus ordinis de Sempingham, unum ex fratribus suis, nuper antea defunctum: quem, cum de pluribus interrogasset, et ille suis interrogationibus satisfecisset, de statu etiam magistri, ubi esset, vel quid ageret, ut pateretur sciscitatus est. Ad quem ille; "Non est," inquit, "nobiscum, altior enim locus tenet eum; nam ex quo migravit è seculo, statim inter choros virginum collocatus est." Non abhorret à vero ista visio, quam si, ut credimus, redditur unicuique secundùm opera ejus, et teste veritate, amici de mammona iniquitatis facti, factores recipiunt in æterna tabernacula. Justè virginibus est adunatus, qui et virgo corpore et mente, carnis scilicet et fidei integritate sanctus permansit in ævum; et omnia sua virginibus largiens, pro multarum servanda virginitate tota vita sua laboravit; undè, sicut qui recipit justum in nomine justi, mercedem justi accipit, ita qui recipit non unam, sed quamplures virgines, in nomine virginum, mercedem virginum meritò accepit: sed et prælatus multarum ecclesiarum, hominum præcipuè continentiam voventium, dignè fructum centesimum percepit, qui debetur virginibus, et martyribus, et prælatis.

De Sepultura ejus.

Hæc circa sanctam animam illam gesta fuisse credimus officia cœlestia; circa corpus verò exanime, ritè per quatriduum celebratæ sunt exequiæ, donec mandati omnes ordinis priores et præpositæ, ad tanti patris funus convenissent, qui eo die, cum reliquis omnibus ejusdem professionis secum annumeratis, plusquam duo millia ducenti inventi sunt. Quarta die, hæc est feria tertia, astantibus quibusdam abbatibus, et tam de suis quam de aliis cœnobiis et ecclesiis præpositis multisque utriusque sexus religionis personis; necnon et nobilibus et divitibus seculi, cum innumero populo, qui audito transitu sancti, undique confluxerant, completis missarum sollemniis, venerabile illud corpus, prius aqua perlotum, quæ multis ægrotis postea data in potum, profuit ad salutem; sacris et sacerdotalibus vestimentis involutum, in loco sepulchri, inter majora altaria, scilicet beatæ Mariæ, et beati Andreæ apostoli, cœnobii de Sempingham, quasi in spelunca duplici, ubi ex utraque parte parietis interclusi, hinc a viris, illinc à mulieribus possit cum veneratione adorari, honorificè collocatur: nec tamen lapis foveæ supponitur, donec omnes, qui affuerant, tanquam ultimum vale dicentes, sanctum et dilectum corpus, qua quisque poterat parte contingere, amplexati certatim oscula infigerent: Nec erat alicui etiam pueris et puellulis horror inextincti cadaveris deosculatione; quia fides tangendi præbuit ausum, et devotio indidit amoris indicium. O quantus luctus omnium! quanta præcipuè lamenta clericorum et virginum chori, cum primum et præcipuum amitterent pastorem, nec similem post eum se habiturum sperarent! sed qui in electo famulo suo opera sua omnia operatus est Deus, per quem erat vir in cunctis prosperè agens; nec operarium mercede, nec opera debita defraudavit consummatione, quod è vicino sequentia signa manifeste declararunt.

Substitutio primi Successoris ejus.

Maximum enim et mirandum contigit ipso die humationis ejus miraculum, quod scilicet tradito sepulturæ corpusculo, mox contra spem omnium, consensu et petitione omnium, absque omni obstaculo et contradictione omnium, ab utroque sexu, et ab omnibus personis, pater et pastor, qui nunc præest, eligitur, et in caput, quod membra regat, disponat et contineat, sullimatur: à nonnullis enim, et ferè ab omnibus comprovincialibus, quasi certum præsumebatur, quod ex quo tam strenuum decideret caput, illicò contingeret à domo de Sempingham membrorum suorum dissessio. Undè stupentibus cunctis, et quid egissent mirando, secum conferentibus, non erat aliud respondere, nisi quod, qui semper paci studuerat, dum viveret, pacem quoque perpetuam, mox ut in conspectu Dei venerat, suis impetravit. Secuta sunt et alia innumera, cum hiis quæ subjecta sunt, et miraculorum insignia; quibus non modo humanorum corporum, verùm et cordium curantur dispendia, dum per eorum exhibitionem et operum ejus emuli confunduntur, et de gloria dubii absolvuntur, et factorum expressioni derogantibus ora clauduntur. Ipse nobis meritorum suorum interventu, et precum obtentu, vitia compescat, adversitates depellat, virtutem subministret, profectum et augmentum veræ religionis suæ et universali ecclesiæ conferat, et fines nostros pacem æternam disponat, præstante Domino nostro Jhesu Christo; cui, cum Patre et Spiritu Sancto, honor et gloria in secula seculorum. Amen.

Incipit Canonizatio beati Gilberti.

Quantum apud se magnificaverit beatum Gilebertum gratia superni Conditoris, qui viventi, in omnibus cooperatus est, etiam defuncti gloriam confirmare dignatus est sequentibus signis; quorum veritas manifesta, qualiter in lucem venerit, ne quis præsentium vel futurorum de ea possit ambigere, breviter rei ordinem, prout gesta est, retexemus. Cum igitur vir Domini Gilebertus migrâsset è seculo, ad declarandum Deo accepta fuisse ipsius merita, cœperunt primo depositionis suæ anno, et deinceps ad tumbam ejus crebro fieri virtutum insignia: sed fratres Sempinghamensis cœnobii, ut religiosorum mos est, secreta quærere, et mundi gloriam fugere, ea palam facere neglexerunt, ne suas viderentur velle philacterias dilatare, si ea quæ per suum institutorem patrata sunt, divulgarent. Evolutis denique ab obitu ipsius plusquam xi. annis; cum multa multis in locis per eum facta fuissent miracula; adverterunt quidam ex fratribus per illam factorum occultationem Dei et sanctis ejus; necnon et ecclesiæ sanctæ honorem non revelari, et sapientum freti consilio, ad virum sapientissimum Hubertum Cantuariensem archiepiscopum rem detulerunt: qui tot et tantis auditis mirabilibus, abortis præ gaudio lacrimis, gratias Deo exsolvit multiplices, qui talia illis temporibus pro viro indigena operari dignatus est. Et licet de ejus sanctitate, quem benè noverat, et cujus honestas et opera tam latè claruerant, non dubitaverit; ad ingerendam tamen aliorum mentibus pleniorem certitudinem, celebri decrevit investigatione audita perquirere: mittensque ad quosdam provinciæ illius abbates, mandavit per literas suas, ut diligentem, super hiis, facerent inquisitionem; et inquisita, suis scriptis ei notificarent, quatinus de hiis omnibus pleniùs instructus, ad celebrandum illius sancti canonizationem apostolicæ sedis, securiùs posset petere auctoritatem.

Abbates autem, quæ jussa fuerant exequentes, adjunctis secum plurimis, tam secularibus quàm religiosis, ecclesiasticis personis, pariter accesserunt ad domum de Sempingham ix. die Januarii, anni incarnationis Domini MCCI. quo die inclitus rex Anglorum Johannes, cum suis proceribus, domum illam visitavit; et omnia, quæ ibi invenerant, de miraculorum eventu, sub districta examinatione discusserunt; suisque scriptis, tam illi, quam domino papæ significaverunt. Dominus autem Cantuariensis, ea quæ acceperat ad Romanam curiam nunciavit; directisque epistolis personam sancti, et magnifica opera, digna laude, commendavit; ejusque revelationem, prout justum fuerat, postulavit. Ejus etiam hortatu, plures ex episcopis et sullimioribus abbatibus Angliæ; plurimique priores et prælati ecclesiarum, literas commendativas, et idem petentes transmiserunt: sed et illustris rex Anglorum Johannes, cum quibusdam suis proceribus, eadem nichilominus prosecutus est. Proficiscentes igitur duo ex literatis fratribus, cum omnibus hiis testificationibus, necnon et scripto, seriem vitæ et operum ejus continente, Romanam curiam adierunt; in quibus illud, non sine miraculo contigit, quod in maximo æstivi temporis caumate, quando pestis plurimos peremerat, redierunt incolumes, inter medios hostes, qui eis insidias tetenderant, quasi acroisia percussos, ad instar Helysei, transierunt illæsi.

Redeuntes autem à curia, mandatum apostolicum ad memoratum archiepiscopum Cantuariensem, et ad episcopum Eliensem, et de Burgo, et de Wardonia abbates reportaverunt; quo injunctum est eis, quatinus ad locum sepulturæ ejus pariter accedentes, triduanum jejunium toti collegio ipsius ordinis sollemniter indicerent; ut universi fratres orantes et rogantes ab eo, qui est via, veritas, et vita, postularent et implorarent aperiri viam inveniendi super hæc veritatem ad vitam: ac deindè, non solùm per testimonia, sed per testes, per famam quoque vulgatam, et scripturam autenticam, de virtute morum, et de virtute signorum, operibus videlicet et miraculis, certitudinem inquirerent; cunctaque fideliter conscribentes, sub testimonio sigillorum suorum, per viros ydoneos, qui etiam sub hiis fidem facerent, in præsentia domini papæ jurati, ad sedem apostolicam destinarent. Quæ omnia, juxta formam mandati apostolici ritè peracta sunt. Nam vi. kal. Octobris sæpedictus archiepiscopus, cum Eliensi, Batoniensi, et Bangoriensi episcopis; abbates quoque de Burgo et de Brunna, quia ille de Warduna ad capitulum Cisterciense fuerat profectus. Priores etiam plurimi, et quidam archidiaconi; necnon et canonici et officiales Lincolniensis ecclesiæ; famosique magistri multi, cum multa turbarum frequentia, domum de Sempingham advenientes, post celebratum triduanum jejunium, invocata primitùs Spiritus Sancti gratia, testes juratos; tam religiosos, quam seculares; tam clericos, quam laicos; tam viros, quam mulieres, super virtute signorum quæ facta sunt, præstito priùs sacramento diligentissimè examinaverunt: quorum attestationes fideliter in scripturam redactas, sub sigillis suis, clausas, domino papæ transmiserunt; adjicientes insuper de vita et conversatione ejus, et fama vulgata audita testimonia: ubi, dum per quatriduum morarentur aperta, et divinitùs veritas, quam quærebant per quoddam insigne miraculum, ad sepulchrum sancti tunc factum, de curato juvene quodam, jugem capitis rotationem, et vicariam mentis alienationem, per angustia morbi patiente: qui non multò post, ad hoc testificandum Romam missus, sanus perrexit, sanusque repedavit. Nam missi sunt illicò Romam quinque canonici sacerdotes, et sex laici seculares, quorum quidam, per merita sancti à suis incommodis fuerant liberati: quidam illorum et aliorum interfuerant curationibus, ut quod antea fuerat per literas domino papæ suggestum, modò per vivam præsentium vocem fieret indubitatum.

Pergunt igitur dicti nuncii, alacres, itinera sua de Dei et sancti, propter quem ierant confisi suffragiis; maximè cum læta quædam somnia, et ante profectionem suam, et in profectione, visa, et itineris prosperitatem, et negotiorum perfectionem sibi promisissent: et non cum magna difficultate venientes quo tetenderant; licèt Sathanas, vel ad modicum iter eorum impedire conaretur, secundo kal. Januarii venerunt Romam, et quarto nonas ejusdem, Anagniam, ubi tunc fortè dominus papa morabatur. Tantam autem dedit eis Dominus gratiam in oculis summi pontificis et cardinalium, quod decimo die adventus sui, impetratis gauderent postulationibus: habito namque coram apostolico inter cardinales super hiis deliberativo tractatu; inspectisque testimoniis quæ attulerant, et juratis testibus qui venerant, et diligenter examinatis, cum maxima in omnibus inveniretur concordia, et pro humana ratione rem debere perfici potuisset judicari: placuit tamen divinæ dispositioni suam enodare censuram, et ipsi domino papæ divinum consilium super hiis flagitanti, quæsitæ rei taliter innotuit veritatem, Nocte quadam, infra decem dies illos, post adventum eorum ad curiam, jacuit plus solito dominus papa pervigil in lecto, et cœpit secum cogitare de S. Gileberti, quam petebatur, canonizatione; rogavitque Deum, ut ei aliquo indicio revelare dignaretur, quid esset indè acturus, et si id foret agendum, suum largiretur auxilium. Intercepit illicò somnus cogitationem; et in somnis talis visio apparuit. Vidit præ oculis turrim ingentem et eminentem; in quam volens ingredi, manibus constipantium, ex more, introductus est; invenitque in ea lectum, stratum, et ornatum pulcherrimum; et circa lectum cortinam sericam et preciosam appensam, sanctorumque iconiis insignitam.

Admiratus decorem et splendorem cortinæ, quia talem circa lectum suum, cum esset serica, non haberet; nitebatur ad se eam trahere, et cœpit quasi suere, ut illam super suum grabatum adaptaret: interim divertentes in aliam cameram, quæ propè videbatur, et reversus quæsivit secum attentiùs, quidnam esset acturus de negotio canonicorum de Sempingham, et de canonizatione sancti illius, quam petebant. Vox ergo de sursum lapsa est, dicens ad eum, "Michael Archangelus erit adjutor tuus in illo negotio." Expergefactus summus pontifex, de tanta et tam manifesta revelatione exhilaratus, intellexit apud divinum arbitrium illud perfectum esse negotium, et à se apud homines esse perficiendum; statimque specialem orationem de eo composuit, quam et secretam et postcommunionem, quas postea edidit, decrevit in commemorationem ipsius esse dicendas. Oratio autem hæc est, Plenam in nobis, &c. Secreta, Accepta sit tibi, &c. Postcommunio, Quod ad te Domine, &c. Porro vir cautissimus omni certitudine fieri volens suffultus, interpretationem somnii quæsivit à viro quodam sanctissimo et eruditissimo, abbate Reinero, qui solitariam in montibus agens vitam, prænota sanctitate et scientia, tam papæ quàm toti ecclesiæ habebatur venerandus. Hunc ergo ascitum jussit dominus apostolicus de somnio cogitare, et significationem illius enodare. Cui ille, spiritu Joseph, sive Daniel repletus. "Non est," inquit, "diu super hoc cogitandum, quoniam somnium et interpretatio ejus manifesta sunt. Turris enim alta et eminens, quam vidisti, papalis est excellentia; in quam, ut volebas, ab aliis esse delatus; quoniam non tu eam arripuisti sed alii te ad illam elegerunt: lectus ornatus, conscientia est munda, in qua velut in lecto pausandum, juxta illud Psalmistæ, Lectum meum lacrymis meis rigabo. Cortina circa lectum, ymagines habens sanctorum, commemoratio est sanctorum, quæ ornat conscientiam; dum corde et opere eorum retinetur memoria. Suere cœpisti in eo, dum de hoc sancto, de quo agitur, tractasti; qui et meo judicio inter sanctos deinceps est commemorandus. Quod petisti vigilans, dormiens postulasti, et annuit Deus voto tuo, dum Michael Archangelus promittitur tibi adjutor, nec immeritò; Michael enim præpositus est Paradysi, et princeps constitutus à Deo super omnes animas suscipiendas; qui et hanc sanctam animam inter sanctorum animas suscepit; et in illa superna curia spirituum beatorum, cui præsidet Michael, decretum est, et istum nomine sancti, et honore debere amodo censeri. Insue ergo illum, ut dignus est, cortinæ illi; id est sanctorum commemorationi adjunge."

Placuit pontifici sententia abbatis; nec mora, convocata omni curia Romana, quæ tunc erat ibi benè generalis, præsente archiepiscopo Remensi, qui magnum sanctitati beati Gileberti, quem noverat, dum juvenis esset in Anglia, tulit testimonium, coram omni clero et populo, circumsedentibus omnibus, solis nunciis illis stantibus, papa ipse grandem et prolixum texuit sermonem, super meritis et miraculis S. Gil. et testimoniis acceptis, testibusque admissis; multisque propositis rationibus et allegatis, quæ necessariæ erant quampluribus causis, canonizavit eum de communi assensu totius ecclesiæ; memoriamque ejus inter sanctos celebrandum esse decrevit.

Facta est autem hæc canonizatio beati Gileberti, exigentibus propriis meritis, attestantibus miraculis multis, suadentibus revelationibus plurimis, sanctorum cathalogo ascripti, anno ab incarnatione Domini M.CC.ii. tertio idus Januarii; sexta videlicet ætate seculi; sexta die apparitionis Domini, et feria sexta, hora sexta diei, anno sexto decem novenalis cicli, sexta litera alfabeti dominicali, apud Anagniam, à domino Innocentio papa tertio, per generalem curiam Romanam; regnante in Anglia Johanne, Henrici regis secundi, filio; pontificante sedem Cantuariæ Huberto; imperante ubique Domino Jesu Christo, cui est honor et gloria in secula seculorum. Amen.

De Translatione S. Gileberti Confessoris.

REVELATA igitur beati Gileberti gloria, et canonizatione ejus in principali sede, ut prædictum est, sollemniter celebrata, summus pontifex sua direxit scripta ad archiepiscopos Angliæ, et ad capitulum ordinis de Sempingham, omnia in eis retexens, quæ à principio primæ inquisitionis signorum et sanctitatis ejus facta sunt; quamque maturè et discretè eatenus processum esset ostendens; demandans in fine, quatinus ipse sollemniter et cautè statuerat illi humiliter et devotè conservarent; facientes festivitatem ipsius per suas provincias sollemniter celebrari: archiepiscopo autem Cantuariensi dedit in mandatis, ut cum à fratribus illius ordinis fuisset requisitus, quia in sua provincia tumulatus est sanctus, corpus confessoris ejusdem, cum honore debito et reverentia elevaret. Quod mandatum, tanquam de cœlo missum, tam prædictus archiepiscopus, quàm fratres ordinis prædicti implere cupientes, præparatis quæ necessaria erant, elevando corpori quam totiùs instituerunt. Licèt enim, sicut in antiquis, et quondam ignotis sanctis, quod ipsa vetustas, vel hominum incuria, seu inscitia, diu occultaverat, nulla visio præmonuerit hanc facere translationem; sufficere sibi tamen credebant, ad hoc opus aggrediendum, primò per Deum, postea per homines ita manifestè factam ejus revelationem; præsertim cum mandatum super hoc apostolicum suscepissent, cui tanquam divino præcepto obedire censuerunt. Et quoniam à summo pontifice adhuc superstite, et ipsi viventes ad hoc incitabantur, timentes moram fore periculo, quæ jussi fuerant, absque tarditate executi sunt.

Anno igitur Domini MCC.ii. memorati fratres, in vigilia S. Crucis, tam dictum archiepiscopum, per magistrum suum, et majores ordinis convenerunt; instantes, ut die dominica proxima post festum S. Dionysii, translationem beati Gileberti confessoris perageret: quod devotus annuit et libens, et pro sollemnitate, quam tanti processus negotii desiderabat. Hoc, omnibus coepiscopis suis, per Angliam constitutis, denunciare curavit, mandans et exhortans, ut omnes qui possent, unà cum ipso, ad diem prædictum interessent; et per diœceses suas id publicari facerent, quatinùs diem tantæ sollemnitatis notum haberent, qui vellent ejusdem sancti limina visitare: die igitur præfixo, hoc est iii. idus Octobris, negotium istud executioni demandatum est; nec defuit gloria supernarum revolutionum, cum attestationibus divinis manifestata: tempore enim illo, dum de hiis tractaretur, apparuit cuidam consorori suæ dormienti, altera quædam illius ordinis monialis, eodem anno defuncta; quæ inter cætera, quæ cum ea habuit colloquia, hoc etiam asseruit; quod in cœlestibus facta est generalis citatio sanctis, ut die statuto, quem prædiximus, ad translationem beati Gileberti convenirent. Adjecit etiam, quod omnes ordinis illius defuncti, qui in purgatoriis suæ salvationis tempus expectabant, ab hora citationis illius, eis factæ, usque ad diem illius celebritatis, nullam pœnam sustinerent: nec enim debet esse ambiguum beatos spiritus ibi tunc fuisse præsentes, sicut manifesta quædam signa declarârunt: nocte enim hujus elevationis, quæ dominica habebatur, cum sæpedictus archipræsul, cæterique episcopi et ministri, mausoleum, quo sacra pignora condebantur aperuissent, et ea honorificè elevassent, ut sic lota, suis locis collocata, absque mora possent, in crastino, in sacrata capsa decenter componi, dum hoc ministerium ageretur, cum ymnis et canticis spiritualibus; viderunt quidam religiosi, et cum eis seculares plurimi, globum igneum immensum, quasi candelas multas, ut dicebant, simul accensas, seu velut stellam magnam vibrantem, semel et secundò et tertiò de cœlo descendere, et rursum ascendere super tectum basilicæ contra sepulchrum: tertiò autem impetu facto, quasi penetrare culmen ecclesiæ et intrò cadere videbatur: quod videntes aliqui, invitabant alios exire ad videndum, ut dixerunt, luminare Christi super ecclesiam.

Similia viderunt quidam excubantes in orationibus ante sepulchrum sancti, quadam nocte ante translationem; lumen scilicet immensum per vitrinam, propè tumulum tertiò intrare, et tertia immissione in fossam, ut sanctus jacuerat, descendere: mira etiam odoris fragrantia implevit nares omnium, qui aderant, cum removerent artifices aliquantulum mausoleum à spelunca, ubi priùs steterat, ut pararetur locus feretro ibidem componendo: nec solum ista, sed et alia apparuerunt divinæ illustrationis testimonia; amoto enim lapide à monumento, inventus est rubicundus pulvis carnis liquefactæ, qualis esse dicitur virginum defunctorum.

De Casulâ.

CASULA quoque serica, in qua corpus humatum erat involutum, incorrupta reperta est: extractis igitur sacris reliquiis, et ablutis, venerabilis antistes, cum lecto paululum pausasset, arripuit eum gravis infirmitas, et ita vehementer afflixit, quod sacrum officium, quod incœperat, propter quod tot reverendas personas et tantam plebum convocaverat, explere desperaret. Super quo, magis quam de suo incommodo contristatus, cum nil proficeret adhibitis humanis amminiculis, quæ profutura credidit ad salutem, preces supplices fundit ad Deum, et ad S. Gilebertum, quatinus virtus ei donaretur per merita sancti, exequendi, quod incœperat, eorum obsequium. Vix preces complevit, et tota illa incommoditas concitò evanuit, majusque robur ei accrevit, quam habuerat ante tempus doloris. Tunc statim pulsatum est ad nocturnale officium, et ille gratias agens et acturus cum suis clericis, præsentavit se officiis canonicorum in conventu, quæ pro honore et amore sancti, de quo agebantur, cum magna devotione sollemniter celebravit. Manè facto, convocatis majoribus ecclesiæ, sanus et hilaris, quod sibi acciderat exposuit, laudans Dei et sancti ejus virtutem, quam in seipso tam manifestè probaverat affuisse: hora igitur competenti diei, sacris insistens obsequiis, benedicta aqua episcopali, et dedicata theca reliquiarum, impositaque humeris quorundam principum et majorum Angliæ, qui affuerant, sollemnis processio ordinatur; præcedente clero, et subsequentibus ante pontifices, cum innumero populo, nobilibus multis tam sacras reliquias, quam sacratam capsam deferentibus; ubi quidam ægroti propriùs accedentes, et sancta illa contingentes, à suis periculis, ut pro certo cognovimus, eadem hora salvati sunt. Facto itaque ab archipræsule eo sermone de sanctitate et signis beati Gileberti, et de totius hujus processu negotii, missa de ipso sancto altisonè celebratur: circa cujus finem, sumpta scilicet eucharista, ante cantatam communionem, venerandæ reliquiæ in bysso mundo, infra pannum sericum preciosum, quæ dominus archiepiscopus ad hæc dederat, involutæ in vase dedicato, reconduntur; ubi carta, seriem vitæ et miraculorum ejus; necnon et canonizationis et hujus traslationis summatim continens, signis pontificum et abbatum sibi assistentium, munita, simul cum lamina plumbea ad perpetuam memoriam, eadem præstruente reposita est. Clausa autem theca et supra marmoreum parietem, in loco ubi priùs sanctus jacuerat erecta; missaque completa, et omnibus ritè peractis, ad sua singuli cum gaudio sunt reversi.

Laminæ autem plumbeæ Scriptura, hæc est.

Hic jacet sanctus Gilebertus, primus pater et institutor ordinis de Sempingham, translatus in hunc loculum, domino Huberto, Cantuariensi archiepiscopo, per mandatum Innocentii papæ tertii, iii. idus Octobris, anno ab incarnatione Domini mcc.ii.

Rescriptum Cartæ, in Feretro positæ, hoc est.

In hac capsa continentur reliquiæ beati Gileberti presbyteri et confessoris, primi patris et institutoris ordinis de Sempingham; cujus vitam, licèt multa præclaram reddiderint et commendabilem; hoc tamen præcipuè eum insignivit, quod spontaneam eligens paupertatem, omnia temporalia, sibi à Deo præstita, fratrum et sororum, quos sub regulari disciplina prudenter instituit et sollicitè custodivit, necessitatibus deputavit: cui processu temporis tantam Deus adauxit gratiam et virtutem, quod quatuor canonicas regulares, et ix. monasteria sanctimonialium construit: in quibus eo tempore, quo migravit ad Dominum, præter innumeros antea defunctos, circiter septingentos viros religiosos, mille et quingentas sorores jugiter Deo famulantes reliquit. Obiit autem in senectute plusquam centenaria; anno incarnationis Domini mc.lxxxix. pridiè nonas Februarii, tempore incliti regis Anglorum Henrici secundi. Exigentibus verò propriis meritis, attestantibus miraculis multis, et suadentibus revelationibus divinis canonizatus, cathalogo sanctorum est ascriptus à domino papa Innocentio tertio, per generalem curiam Romanam, apud Anagniam, coram clero et populo, anno Verbi incarnati mcc.ii. tertio idus Januarii, anno regni illustris regis Johannis tertio, præsidente sedi Cantuariæ venerabili archiepiscopo Huberto; qui de mandato memorati summi pontificis Innocentii tertii, cum collegis suis Heliensi episcopo Eustachio, et abbate de Burgo, Achario, diligentem super miraculis per eum divinitùs patratis fecerat inquisitionem, et ipsi eorum attestationes fideliter in scripturam redactas, sub sigillis suis, clausas, ad sedem apostolicam transmiserunt: undè certioratus dominus papa de sanctitate ejus, et signis, ipsum sanctis Domini decrevit annumerandum, anno pontificatus sui quarto. Et eodem anno per mandatum præfati papæ, à prædicto archiepiscopo Huberto translatus est in hunc loculum tertio idus Octobris, assistentibus viris sibi venerabilibus Norwicensi, Herefordensi, et Landavensi episcopis; et abbatibus, aliisque ecclesiarum prælatis plurimis, cum majoribus et nobilioribus Angliæ, magno ibi præsente cœtu cleri et populi: ad cujus rei perpetuandam memoriam, jam dictus archiepiscopus, et coepiscopi sui, et abbates, sua signa huic scripto appenderunt, et in hoc loculo reposuerunt.

Incipiunt INSTITUTIONES beati Gileberti, et Successorum ejus, per Capitula Generalia institutæ, et de Exordio et Ordinatione Ordinis Canonicorum, Sanctimonialium, Fratrum, et Sororum Laicarum Ordinis de Sempingham, et de Electione Magistri, et ejus Auctoritate.

[Ex vet. Cod. MS. penès Rog. Twysden de East-Peckham, in Com. Cantii, Baronettum.]

I.—De Inicio Monialium, et Sororum et Fratrum, et Victu et Labore eorum.

Ad honorem Dei omnipotentis, Patris, et Filii, et Spiritus Sancti, cupiens ego Gilebertus de Sempingham, quod nos docet divina pagina, et ortodoxorum patrum hortantur monita alios instruere, ut declinarent à malo et ea facerent, quæ Deo fuerint placita; caventes tortuosi serpentis insidias, qui bonorum operibus insidiatur, ut dissipentur et pereant; habui in possessione libera duas ecclesias et quamplurima de jure patrimonii mei, quæ divino mancipare cultui summo desiderio curavi, et paupertatem, pro Deo eligentium sustentationi; set, cum non invenirem viros, qui pro voto meo districtæ vitæ vellent pro Dei amore colla submittere, inveni virgines, quæ sæpiùs instructæ à nobis, postpositis secularibus curis divino famulatui, sine impedimento, optarent intendere. Quia igitur virginitas grata est Deo, quas habebam divino amore succensas, ædificatis domibus et claustro earum, per dompnum Alexandrum Lincolniensem episcopum septem inclusimus, nusquam postea, juxta propositum quod tunc habebam, egressuras; nam plures illis viventibus superaddere non arbitrabar. Quia verò periculosum erat seculares mulierculas huc illucque cursitantes, quæ possent internunciæ fieri, potiùs mali quam boni, religiosis ministrare; consilio abbatis primi Rievallis, per me transeuntis, et propositum meum laudantis, mercenarias meas multa devotione flagitantes licere sibi in habitu regulari, in paupere victu, et vestitu, ministrare inclusis Christi: ministerio illarum velatas deputavi; proponens eis legem qua viverent, dicens: "Oportet vos Deo vovere castitatem, humilitatem, caritatem, obedientiam in bono, et perseverantiam: abrenunciare mundo, et omni proprietati, propriæ etiam voluntati: et cætera quæ conveniunt religioni." Ad cibum verò et potum libram panis, et duo pulmenta et potum aquæ, et nichil ampliùs ipsis constitui. Panem etiam dixi eis vilem et rusticanum. Vestimenta abjecta, et lectisternia similiter. Vigilias et labores multos, et quietam rarissimam. Similiter, cum non haberem nisi seculares qui præessent substantiæ domus meæ et agriculturæ: simili modo et ordine per omnia in labore multo, et victu pauperrimo, ut prædixi, de laicis sororibus; assumpsi mihi mercenarios, dans eis habitum religionis, qualem habent fratres Cistercienses.

II.—De Exordio Canonicorum, et Provisione quatuor Procuratorum.

Procedente verò tempore multis præclaris divitibus approbantibus vitam et conversationem sanctimonialium, quas Deo incluseram; dederunt mihi loca ad ædificandum eis mansiones, quisque in suo proprio. Cum ergo multiplicatæ in sancto proposito proficerent, nec essent mihi religiosi literati, ad earum custodiam et laicarum regimini necessarii, capitulumque Cisterciense præsente Papa Eugenio, viro magni consilii et sanctitatis, adissem, ut domos nostras et ancillas Christi fratresque nostros eorum regimini manciparem: omnino repulsam sustinui: qua necessitate cogente associavi mihi clericos ad regimen et custodiam earum et eorum, qui laboribus exterioribus se dederant, ut in vigiliis et jejuniis vitam secundùm regulam Sancti Augustini tenerent, et remoti à sanctimonialibus nullum accessum ad eas haberent, nisi ad illas, quæ morti proximæ, unctione et viatico indigerent. Set et hoc fieri non permittitur: nisi in locis ad hoc opus cauciùs provisis, pluribus ex utraque parte præsentibus. Nam missarum sollempnia celebrantur, pariete interposito, ne videant vel videantur mares à fœminis. Oratorium verò canonicorum et domus et claustrum eorum longiùs à curte, et clausura sanctimonialium disjunguntur, et excluduntur, quemadmodum et conversorum.

Victus eciam omnium et vestitus custodiæ sanctimonialium, quemadmodum argentum, si eis fortè datum, vel de propria substantia adquisitum fuerit, et cætera hujusmodi quæ licitè possunt earum sollerciæ committi, decrevimus in perpetuum observari. Ad custodiam verò universæ substanciæ, quæ virorum custodiæ jure debetur, et eorum quæ vendenda vel emenda sunt, quatuor viris discretis committi decrevimus; videlicet priori et cellerario et duobus illiteratis, quibus omnibus assensus præpositarum et aliarum, quæ eis associatæ fuerint, discretè convenit adhiberi. Nec illis contradicentibus super præmissis, quisquam sibi potestatem usurpet. Hiis ità dispositis, diffinitum est in communi capitulo, si quis, quod absit, inter fratres laicos et canonicos et moniales, vel inter canonicos et moniales, vel inter moniales et fratres laicos discordias maliciosè seminaverit, ut dissidium fiat, annuatim in communi capitulo corpus ejus Sathanæ in interitu carnis tradatur, ut spiritus salvus sit in die Domini, nisi per misericordiam Dei resipiscat et congrua satisfactione pœniteat.

De Nuncio misso Domino Papæ.

De victu vero et vestitu canonicorum, monialium, fratrum et sororum, et singulis institutionibus nostris, scripto innotuimus bonæ memoriæ Papæ memoriæ. Qui omnibus diligenter perlectis remisit nobis scriptum, sine reprehensionis nota, privilegio et auctoritate sua corroborans, quicquid de hiis, quæ ad cultum religionis pertinent, fuerat à nobis institutum, vel de cætero à nobis et successoribus nostris rationabiliter instituendum. Idem postmodum factum est à summis pontificibus Adriano, Alexandro.

III.—In quocunque loco contigerit magistrum ordinis de Sempingham migrare de sæculo, deferatur corpus ejus apud Sempingham, et nuncietur obitus ejus festinanter omnibus ordinis per priorem domus, in qua moritur; convocenturque apud Sempingham, per mandatum prioris domus ejusdem, omnes priores ordinis, quolibet priore domus conventualis secum ducente tantùm unum canonicum maturiorem domus suæ, vel duos, et circator ordinis, et pater confessionis, et duæ priorissæ de qualibet domo, cum matura moniale, et sorore layca ad ipsarum ministerium deputanda, et scrutatrices de careta. Quibus ibidem congregatis, prior de Sempingham corpus magistri defuncti, cum debita sollempnitate tradat sepulturæ. Quo facto, statim procedatur ad electionem alterius magistri præficiendi, sub forma subscripta. In cujus electione, non tantum quæratur profunditas scienciæ litterarum, vel generis nobilitas, quantam cultus religionis et morum disciplina, discretionisque subtilitas. Quia si non sit affabilis et institutionum ordinis diligens executor et virtutum amator, non est admittendus, set omnino reprobandus. Similiter quicumque prece vel precio, arte vel studio magisterii prælationem arripere contenderit, reprobetur.

Forma verò eligendi magistrum, talis est; primo per universitatem eligendi sunt quatuor viri Deum timentes et ordinem zelantes, qui inspectis sacrosanctis jurabunt, quod assument ad se ix. viros; scilicet quinque priores et quatuor claustrales, scilicet alios canonicos, quos vita commendat honesta et fama integra; videlicet de maturioribus et secundùm suam conscientiam de melioribus ad capitulum consistentibus: et cum istos ix. elegerint et eorum nomina scripto commendaverint, recitabunt quatuor electores nomina novem virorum quos elegerint coram universitate, ut si major pars et sanior universitatis quenquam velit recusare, causam assignando recusationis, à numero electorum excipiatur, et alius loco refutati per prædictos quatuor eligatur, et iterum nomina ix. electorum coram universitate publicentur; et tociens, donec in eos à parte saniore consenciatur. Et cum in eos sic fuerit consensum, intrabunt omnes priores et claustrales in capitulum monialium, et exponetur illis forma talis eligendi magistrum, ut præbeant assensum. Et postea jurabunt omnes isti tresdecim, quod quem magis æstimaverint ydoneum ad regimen ordinis suscipiendum; sive de ipsis tresdecim, sive de aliis ad idem capitulum constitutis, postpositis amicitia, et odio, et familiaritate, et omni gratia et respectu, et quodcumque humanum judicium pervertere possit, in patrem eligent et rectorem. Præstito ergo sacramento, postea recedent hii xiii. per se seorsum, super tam arduo negotio tractaturi; et reliquus conventus canonicorum missam de Sancto Spiritu cum magna sollempnitate et devotione, dum alii tractant de magistro substituendo, celebrabit; fratribus, monialibus, et sororibus interim in oratione persistentibus. Post missam decantatam et negotium expeditum, omnes in capitulum monialium redibunt, et iterum compromittent omnes se ratam habituros electionem; et sic manifestetur ab aliquo tresdecim electorum, qui fuerit in magistrum electus; qui dicet, "Ecce hunc in timore Domini vobis elegimus magistrum." Tunc iniciato altissima voce Te Deum laudamus, ducatur ad altare, et inde in capitulum monialium, coram quo statim legantur in audientia omnium distinctè et apertè ad intelligendum statuta ordinis personam magistri contingencia, modum vitæ ejus, et formam regiminis ordinis continentia. Quibus perlectis et ab ipso intellectis juret, inspectis sacrosanctis, quod libertates ordinis et instituta, jam lecta; necnon et alias rationabiles institutiones usitatas et approbatas, pro posse suo diligenter servabit; et sibi subditos ad earundem observationem, secundùm ritum religionis, monitis, et exemplis, et per censuram disciplinæ regularis, cum necesse fuerit, efficaciter informabit. Quibus per ordinem ritè consummatis, statim fiat ei ab omnibus more solito obedientia.

Summus prior ordinis de Sempingham, qui curam omnium gerit, non cum pluribus quam sex equis, qui bigam si voluerit habere, licebit, ita tamen quod numerus prædictus equorum non excedatur, sibi deputatis assiduè proficiscatur. Qui non bigam propriè sibi assignatam, vel famulum assiduè equitantem, set duos summarios et duos honestos canonicos, comites sui itineris habeat, usque ad annuum capitulum, ibique mutentur, si magis necessarii reperiuntur communi consilio majorum ordinis, et fratrem laicum sibi utilem et necessarium ad serviendum promptum, non famulum assiduè equitantem. Perutile etiam fore constat, ut duos fidelissimos prior omnium collaterales habeat, ne pro graviori pondere quasi Moysi ipsius brachia deficiant; et quasi Amalech malignus prævaleat injustorum certamine. Unus quorum, cum viderit necessarium, poterit mitti in scrutinium. Quem si fortè aliquando miserit summus prior de una domorum nostrarum transiturus ad aliam, fidelissimum canonicum de illa domo secum ducat, quem prior domus noverit castitatis et ordinis amatorem. Ingressurus verò clausuram vel domos sanctimonialium, ipsum secum ducat cum illo quem continuum socium itineris duxerit, ad religionis custodiam et ad bona ordinis melioranda. Qui jussu ipsius ad propriam domum revertatur peracto negocio quod itineris sui fuit causa. Dum autem fuerit in via, aures habeat ad audiendum, oculos ad videndum, os ad loquendum, archam cordis quæ fideliter custodiat secreta quæ cognoverit usque ad tempus congruum. Quod si fortè inter sorores aliquid emerserit quod soli priori notum fieri oporteat, mares longiùs discedant, ne audiant, set videant et à conventu videantur ad sedes proprias celeriùs reversuri, completo sermone secreto. Si fortè in aliqua domo non invenerit itineri suo congruum, illum secum ducat comitem, quousque alium ydoneum inveniat; vel illum, quem in scrutinium miserit, resumat. Dum verò duos sibi deputatos secum habuerit, aliquem alium sumere non oportebit.

Hoc quoque magnopere considerandum est, ut ipse prior omnium, quicquid agendum est consilio sapientum, fratrum, literatorum, qui ei assignati fuerint, dispenset et ordinet; et illis nescientibus nichil quod eis celari velit vel studeat, de rebus monasterii quavis occasione eroget vel facere præsumat, ne extirpator ecclesiarum non pater judicetur. Quod si huic institutioni obviare attemptaverit, vel, quod Deus avertat, super incontinentia aut alio criminis eventu suspicione manifesta denotatus fuerit, vel bonorum ordinis dilapidator extiterit, aut in perpetuam corporis invalitudinem deciderit; seu senio impotens corpore vel sensu effectus fuerit, ita quod officium suum per ordinem equitando, ut decet, complere non possit, trina ammonitione præmissa, infra annum, per quatuor priores ordinis vel alios discretos canonicos ordinis disciplinam et rigorem, secundùm Deum zelantes, ad proximum generale capitulum apud Sempingham, si gratis cedere renuerit; ab officio ministerii sui per universitatem ordinis ibidem præsentem deponatur, et alius ydoneus loco ipsius incontinenti, per eandem universitatem electione canonica substituatur; provisa illi sic deposito competenti et honesta sustentatione in aliqua domorum ordinis, cum debito unius canonici vel duorum, et unius pueri ministerio, secundùm administrationis suæ merita. Justum est enim et necessarium, ut si hic, cui cura totius ordinis, simul et religionis principaliter committitur, formam humilitatis in potestatem dominationis verterit, et ordinis observantiæ contemptor effectus, parentibus suis indiscretè munificus extiterit, voti sui et professionis oblitus, potestate sua careat, et alius substituatur, qui ad ea quæ Dei sunt et cultui religionis necessaria fructuosè pro viribus et diligenter intendat. Hoc idem servetur de circatoribus et domorum procuratoribus, in utroque sexu. Ipsi namque priori omnium incumbit necessitas omnium saluti et ordinis rigori diligentiam impendere, errata corrigere, bonos ad meliora incitare: priores domorum deponendos vel substituendos ad generalia capitula cum consilio deponere vel substituere, alios universos sicut diffinitum est in scriptis canonicorum, capitulo IX. cum viderit necessarium et utile, de loco ad locum transmittere et mutare, prout viderit expedire, ad profectum domorum in exterioribus seu ad bonum pacis vel discordiæ finem, et prout delictum exigit correctione digna castigare. Nec quis audeat adversùs eum superbia vel invidia inflatus insurgere, vel qualibet maligna machinatione eum fatigare. Incorrigibiles et inobedientes correctionem ejus in contemptu habentes, bonorum consilio traditos Sathanæ, quousque pœniteant, deputare.

Nec aliquis prior vel alicujus conventus, seu domus nostræ professionis procurator, rem aliquam ad domum aliquam nostri ordinis spectantem, sine speciali ipsius auctoritate, vel jussione, coram quibuscumque judicibus, agendo, vel defendendo deducat. Verumptamen si fortè acciderit aliquid, quod ad profectum ordinis et religionis, vel domorum, vel, quod absit, in contrarium, domibus vel ordini esse creditur, in hiis non exequendis, et quibus causa rei committitur terminanda undè necessarium habeant providendum est. Hoc enim universis domibus professionis de Sempingham incumbit, et non aliunde. Ita tamen, ut et domus, quæ paupertate gravantur, et quibus minor est possessio non opprimantur graviori pondere, set sicut decet sanctos in caritate teneant, quod scriptum est, "Alter alterius onera portate;" et sic caritas fulgeat et religio proficiat et omnia moderentur pio moderamine. Quibuscumque verò discretis prior omnium hujus expensæ moderationem injunxerit, in vi obedientiæ omnes assensum præbeant. Si verò, quod absit, aliquis eorum, qui substantiæ domorum præsunt, in prædictis expensis reddendis non obedierint, potestate sua priventur, et in altera domo, prout justum fuerit, digna castigatione corripiantur.

SUSCEPTIONEM canonicorum et omnium, ad magistrum pertinere decernimus: ita quidem quod canonicos et fratres laicos, consultis prioribus et conventibus canonicorum; moniales verò et sorores, consultis prioribus et cellerariis, præpositis et conventibus monialium suscipiet: set et institutionem nostram, de numero suscipiendarum, in singulis domibus ordinis, ubique per omnia firmiter observet. Nec aliquis recipiatur ab aliquo, ut vestiatur à domo, nisi per priorem omnium: receptus nullus habeat proprietatem.

Nec mittantur libri, qui de jure sanctimonialium sunt, de una locorum nostrorum ad alium, nisi per priorem omnium vel per circatores, vel per priorem canonicorum, si prior omnium vel curatores viderint expedire, et hoc assensu monialium. Majores etiam culpæ et minores omnium nuper à sæculo ad conversionem venientium, magistro in prima conversione sunt denudandæ, vel cui ipse hoc opus injunxerit. Et quicumque postposuerit, ex negligentia vel contemptu illi confiteri usque ad egressum vitæ, servitium quod debetur fratribus vel sororibus, non fiet pro eo sicut pro fratre vel sorore; nec in martyrologio scribatur. Rationabili tamen impedimento excusari poterit non confitentis transgressio. Alioquin sicut extraneo fiat ei sepultura et servitium. Priores ordinis nostri, de licencia magistri, generalem habeant auctoritatem omnium canonicorum et fratrum domorum suarum, quorumcumque delictorum confessiones audiendi, et pœnitentias eisdem injungendi. Summus verò scrutator eandem, et eodem modo auctoritatem habeat priorum et omnium canonicorum et fratrum totius ordinis confessiones audiendi et pœnitentias injungendi. Sacerdos autem confessionis omnium generaliter, tam virorum quàm mulierum, confessiones audiat et pœnitentias injungat; primæ confessiones omnium excipiuntur, et alia manifesta, quæ ob sui gravitatem vel enormitatem, vires aliorum excedunt, et à magistro sunt examinanda et terminanda. Pro mortis verò periculo singulis subveniatur.

VI.—De Rebus non emendis sine Magistro et Cartis sigillandis, et sine ejus Præsentia non sigillandis, et Sigillis habendis.

TERRÆ vel nemora, vel aliquid aliud quod trium marcarum excedat precium, sine assensu prioris omnium non emantur, nisi fortè eo absente circatores et cæteri perutile fore viderint et necessarium, et non facere culpa sit. Nichil ponderis vel virtutis discernimus habere, aliquod scriptum vel cyrographum, signatum quolibet sigillo domorum nostrarum, nisi fuerit signatum sigillo prioris omnium. Qui verò contra hoc ire præsumpserit, nesciente priore omnium, nisi fortè manifesta necessitas coëgerit, et communi consilio utriusque sexus ad tempus hoc factum fuerit, videlicet usque ad præsentiam prioris omnium, furti judicio puniatur, et in ultimo gradu pœniteat, nunquam ad superiorem ascensurus. Similiter qui se fecerit tributarium vel firmarium cuilibet legi nostræ, vel religioni adversario. Nullæ cartæ sigillentur in domibus nostris sigillo capituli, nisi in capitulo præsente conventu. Insuper de consilio generalis capituli firmiter inhibetur, ne unquam carta aliqua robur vel virtutem perpetuitatis habitura, sigillo capituli alicujus domus, in absentia magistri, signetur. Attamen si ipse in remotis partibus fuerit, et dampnum alicui domui propter ejus tunc absentiam in hujusmodi imminuerit, negotium illi sub celeritate significetur, et sic de assensu ipsius fiat quod faciendum est. Omnes autem cartæ, quæ dantur de domibus nostris, scribantur dupplices in modum cyrographorum, et altera pars remaneat penès domum sigillata sigillo accipientis. Præter sigilla capitulorum, magistri ordinis, priores, summi scrutatores, sacerdos confessionis, subpriores, cellerarii sigilla habeant, et nulli alii.

TRANSEUNTE priore omnium inclinetur ei, ut ordo exigit. Qui verò scriptis vel mandatis prioris omnium inobedientes fuerint, et causam ei festinè indicare tardaverint, quasi excommunicati habeantur, quousque ab eo absolvantur. Hoc idem statuimus de his, qui in contemptu summos scrutatores, vel scrutatrices, habuerint; vel rationabilibus mandatis eorum non obtemperaverint, vel necessitatibus eorum subvenire contempserint. Hæc eadem obedientia debetur singulis prioribus domorum, sicut prior omnium viderit expedire. Et eo absente separetur inobediens à mensa, vel etiam ab oratorio, si major fuerit culpa. Incorrigibilis autem de ordine dejiciatur. Caveant etiam fratres ne graviori vindictæ subjaceant, si in agendis cellerario obtemperare contempserint.

VIII.—De Procuratoribus Domorum magnis et parvis, intus et extra per Magistrum constituendis.

PRIOR, subprior, cellerarius, procurator, grangiarius abbatiæ, major bercarius, custodes operum et ovium monialium, per priorem omnium in singulis domibus ponentur, et cum oportuerit, deponentur. Subcellerarius fratrum Lincolniæ, et custos infirmariæ similiter. Cæteri verò obedientiarii omnes, inter canonicos et fratres per priores domorum constituentur, et cum oportuerit, deponentur. Item in singulis domibus monialium tres præpositæ, et subpræposita, et celleraria, et scrutatrices claustri, et custos laboris sororum, per magistrum statuentur, et cum oportuerit, deponentur. Cæteræ verò obedientiariæ per præpositas domorum statuentur, et cum ratio dictaverit, deponentur. Auctoritas tamen et potestas prioris omnium super omnem potestatem priorum et præpositarum est, ut omnes obedientiarios magnos et parvos, prout viderit, expedire discretè disponat, si oportuerit.

SACRARUM canonum statutis obtemperantes, detestabilem execramus symoniæ hæresim, sub anathemate prohibentes, ne ab aliquo viro, seu muliere inter nos suscipiendo, pro ingressu monasterii aliquid exigatur; set si quid fuerit sponte oblatum, suscipere licebit, omni illicita pactione, sive exactione exclusa. In aliis quoque rebus et negociis spiritualibus, idem symoniæ vicium inhibemus, et eum, quicumque fuerit aggressus, parti Symonis primi, hujus sceleris auctoris, cum sua pecunia in perditione deputatum denuntiamus.

INCIPIUNT CAPITULA DE SUMMIS SCRUTATORIBUS.

I.—De summis Scrutatoribus constituendis, et eorum Auctoritate.

Si is, qui prior est omnium, aliqua occupatione, vel necessitate detinetur, ne possit visitationi singularum domorum, tam frequenter, prout oportet, intendere, licet ei duos probatæ religionis et discretionis canonicos et fratrem unum laicum discretum eligere, consilio majorum ordinis, qui vices ejus suppleant in his tantum, quæ ipse dictaverit. Non licet eis aliquem vel aliquam in novicium suscipere, vel benedicere, aut deponere, nec domos vel curtem sanctimonialium ingredi, nisi cum fidelibus testibus, necessitate cogente, nec domorum pecuniam, in auro et argento ad deferendum, quoquam vel dividendum sibi assumere. Unus quoque, cui prior omnium injunxerit et ratio dictaverit, principaliter potestatem loquendi habebit de hiis, quæ ad cultum religionis et ordinis causarumque et rerum disponendarum pertinere videntur; et in hiis omnibus fratrum conviatorum utatur consilio et auxilio. Poterit tamen, qui voluerit, alteri canonico confiteri. Eandem licentiam et potestatem alter habebit, si fortè solus licenter ierit, cum fratre laico vel alio literato. Si prior domus aliqua causa defuerit, in capitulo et ubique vices prioris tenebit. Præsente priore domus in ecclesia, et in omnibus locis conversionis suæ, locum tenebunt, nisi dignitas sacerdotii eos ad superiorem gradum promoverit. In unaquaque domo ad minus per unam ebdomadam moram faciant, vel ampliùs, nisi causa necessaria impedierit; et sciant tam de grangiis, quam de abbatia quomodo religio proficiat et substantia domus crescat.

Cupientes igitur unitati domorum nostrarum, et stabilitati religionis ordinis nostri salubriter providere, statuentes præcipimus, in nomine Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatinus unus vel duo canonici Deum timentes, et ordinis et institutionum nostrarum amatores, et frater laicus ad obsequium prædictorum canonicorum et solatium, eligatur per priorem omnium et majorum ordinis, ac discretorum consilio, qui circueant omnes domos nostri ordinis, et corrigenda corrigant, nescientes instruant, ad sanctiora et utiliora aspirantibus vires administrent: et quod vires eorum excesserit vel corrigere non poterint, ad generale referant capitulum, ut ibidem insolertia delinquentium digna castigatione emendetur. Similiter in fœmineo sexu tres fidelissimæ, duæ literatæ et tercia illiterata, ad famulatum duarum illarum et solatium. Viri sæpiùs per annum singulas domos visitabunt. Sorores verò semel per annum, quia vehiculo trahendæ sunt, vel bis eundo, scilicet et redeundo, et non ampliùs, nisi manifesta necessitas et ratio hoc fieri faciat. Quod si necessitas, vel utilitas, vel profectus religionis et pacis postulaverit, potest transmutatio fieri super hiis circatoribus, et ad alios, prout prioris omnium et ejus consilii ratio dictaverit, et onus laboris et solicitudinis eorum, aliis Deum timentibus, imponi poterit. Similiter et de circatricibus. Singulæ duarum circatricum singulis ebdomadibus, ad invicem præponantur. Ipsi verò scrutatores utriusque sexus ab omni munere manus excutiant, ut liberè, quæ corrigenda sunt, corrigere queant.

III.—De Vestibus Circatorum et Circatricum, et Capellanorum Magistri certis Locis recipiendis.

Assignentur singulis circatoribus et singulis circatricibus nostris et capellanis magistri et sacerdoti confessionis singulæ domus religionis nostræ, undè vestes et calciamenta, cum opus habuerint, accipiant ibidem, relinquentes vetera, quæ deponunt pro novis. Nec quisquam pro se loquatur, set alter alterius necessitatem indicet subveniendi potestatem habentibus. Quod si numerus domorum numerum præfatorum vestiendorum præcesserit, digno moderamine in caritate ratio dictet, ne una domus plus altera gravetur.

IV.—De Pitantia Circatorum, et aliorum Ordinis supervenientium.

Cum circatores ad aliquam domorum nostrarum venerint, si conventus domus pitantiam non habuerit, tamen dabitur circatoribus; si verò habuerit, sufficiat eis quod satis est conventui. Hoc idem teneatur de omnibus supervenientibus nostri ordinis, exceptis prioribus et præpositis aliarum domorum, si casu supervenerint. Summis etiam scrutatricibus, quæ semel vel bis singulis annis singulas domos visitaverint, si quid superadditur, quod religioni conveniat, sustinemus.

V.—De Itinere summi Circatoris, et Sacerdotis Confessionis.

Summus scrutator canonicorum, et sacerdos confessionis, simul eant per domos, si convenienter fieri possit; et dum confessor moratur in cœnobio, scrutator per grangias eat cum canonico vel fratre, quem prior domus ei assignaverit, et interim expectabit eum confessor; et in recessu suo de una domo ad alteram, habebit equum ad pannos suos portandos, usque ad primam domum; et statim remittetur.

VI.—De summis Circatricibus, et qui et quot cum illis in Itinere ire, et quomodo se ad invicem habere; et unde necessaria Itineri accipere debent.

Cum omnium domorum circatrices, de una domo ad alteram fuerint profecturæ, priores et cellerarii, procuratores et grangiarii, vel quicumque præsunt domibus nostris diligenter provideant, ut ad minus duo viri, videlicet canonicus et frater honesti et fidelissimi de nostro consortio eant cum monialibus, quæ scrutinium faciunt in anno per singulas domos nostras, usque ad locum determinatum celeriùs reversuri. Qui fideliter in itinere eis serviant, in hiis quæ regulariter oportet et decet. Qui autem neglexerit et aliter quam oportet, et statutum est, fecerit, et earum mandatis justis in necessariis inobediens extiterit, tanquam transgressor ordinis et professionis suæ, in ultimo gradu pœnitebit quadraginta diebus, bis unaquaque ebdomada in pane et aqua. Hoc autem dicimus ad profectum ordinis et pacis. Dum verò ipsæ in procinctu itineris fuerint prædictis canonico et fratri, cum ipsis loqui interdicimus, præcipuè in occulto, nisi manifesta necessitas postulaverit; videlicet propter imminens mortis periculum, vel dampnum incendii vel furti, vel aliam justam necessitatem et hujusmodi quæ casu contingere possunt. Cum autem necessario oportuerit una earum potest loqui de necessariis, quasi ad terciam personam, aliis audientibus, dum fuerint in via. Similiter unus de fratribus, cum conviatore, de necessariis loquatur paucis verbis, set raro. Cum vero tempus venerit transeundi de una domo ad aliam, sine murmure et dilatione, quæ necessaria fuerint summis speculatricibus, in itinere ordinentur à prioribus domus vel cellerariis, grangiariis, vel procuratoribus. Similiter et cæteris, si fortè de uno locorum ad alterum ordinata consideratione transitum habere contigerit, virorum religiosorum hospitium omnino caveatur à nostris monialibus, propter linguas malignantium, nisi ibi fuerit habitatio fœminarum, nostris grangiis exceptis, ad quas declinare licet, cum justa causa postulaverit. Omnino inter fratres et sorores vel moniales in via confabulationes interdicimus; nec ullus sermo fiat ad moniales qui non audiatur simul à canonico et fratre. Aliter facientibus communicatio corporis Christi interdicatur, quousque priori omnium manifestetur.

Prior omnium et summæ speculatrices, in singulis domibus monialium, tres vel quot sufficere possint sorores eligant probatæ religionis et discretionis, ut earum consilio et sollicitudine errata domus corrigi valeant, et quæ bona sunt meliorari, prioris omnium præsidio et speculatricum amminiculo. Ipsæ verò, cui prior omnium jusserit, confiteantur et venias sumant, vel cui speculatrices præviderint, ne, quod absit, præpositæ potestas libertatem earum in rebus corrigendis opprimat. Silentium tamen tenebunt, et ordinis rigorem per omnia, ut vita earum exemplum bene vivendi sit cæteris. Præpositæ etiam in omnibus debitam reverentiam et obedientiam exhibeant. Bis vel ter in anno priori omnium, si fortè affuerit, vel quibus ipse jusserit, ad sermonis fenestram errata domus manifestabunt; et teporem ordinis et præpositæ, vel aliarum negligentiam. Quod si earum correptio parvipenditur, transgressio graviùs emendetur.

Per speculatrices mittantur libri necessarii foras, cum quæsierint canonici domus. Similiter per speculatores mittentur sororibus cum opus habuerint, et hoc per fratrem fenestræ; set et hoc rarò, videlicet cum manifesta necessitas postulaverit, præsente tamen summo speculatore; eo absente, per scrutatorem anni illius qui de domo illa non fuerit.

Singulis annis mittantur scrutatores utriusque sexus, literati et illiterati, ad singulas domos nostras, quorum vita et mores testimonium bonum perhibeant religioni domus suæ; ne sit confusio hiis, de quibus exierunt, tam prælatis quàm subditis. Qui aliter fecerit in area refectori comedat sine mapula et mensa; vi. feria in pane et aqua; de alia verò domo non de ea ad quam veniunt, erunt scrutinium facientes in domo sua de qua exeunt. In virtute etiam sanctæ obedientiæ sub voto et professione Deo facta præcipimus, ut canonici singulis annis ad scrutinium mittendi, et à scrutinio reversuri pannos suos in præsentia priorum suorum vel alicujus discreti per eos ad hoc assignati, involvant et consuant. Quod si in absentia priorum vel eorum assignatorum factum fuerit, panni turpiter coram eisdem prioribus dissuantur; et si quid ibidem inordinatè involutum fuerit repertum, scrutatores eo careant, et culpam inobedientiæ verbere gravi et jejunio luant; ut cæteri timorem habeant, et sibi caveant. Eadem, et eodem modo fratres scrutatores in præsentia grangiariorum abbaciæ faciant. Quod si contempserint, graviùs puniantur. Similiter fiat de canonicis, et fratribus de loco ad locum mittendis. Moniales verò et sorores ad scrutinium annuum mittendæ, vel à scrutinio reversuræ, in præsentia duarum præpositarum, et unius speculatricis claustri, pannos suos involvant et consuant, nichil omnino inter eos involventes vel consuentes, præter illa solummodo, quæ ad ordinatum habitum monialium et sororum regulariter pertinere dinoscuntur. Quod statutum quæcumque literata vel illiterata contempserit, et pannos suos in absentia prædictarum involverit, vel consuevit, et res quantulascumque ad habitum suum regulariter non spectantes incluserit comperta, recellis illis turpiter spolietur, in ultimo gradu pœnitens, à corpore Christi per septem annos privata, nisi pro mortis periculo ad aliam domum mittatur, disciplina regulari et jejunio castiganda ad domum undè exiit nunquam reversura. Caveant verò præpositæ, ne si contra prohibitionem promissam alicui literatæ vel illiteratæ, licenciam dederint rem aliquam vel librum sustollendi à potestate sua indecenter depositæ, ultioni graviori subjaceant. Si autem magister ordinis sarcinulas scrutatorum et scrutatricum super præmissis suspectas habuerit, carretas hernesiorum ad aliquem locum ydoneum, extra curtem monialium diverti, et singulas sarcinulas per summum scrutatorem et sacerdotem confessionis vel suos capellanos diligenter faciat perscrutari; ut si quid contempta prohibitione fuerit attemptatum, digna castigatione valeat emendari. Canonici et fratres annuum scrutinium facturi et à scrutinio reddituri, cum prioribus vel cellerariis domorum eant et redeant, non cum monialibus, neque cum ductoribus monialium. Idem inter moniales et sorores suo modo firmiter observetur.

Cum mittuntur scrutinium facientes de sua domo ad aliam, pannos et cetera necessaria de propria domo sumant et secum ferant. De illa tamen domo, ad quam transeunt, sument victui necessaria, et acus et fila, et undè emendentur scissuræ pannorum et calciamentorum, et sufficiant eis in aliena domo, quæ sufficerent in sua. Quicumque mittuntur do una domo ad aliam, ut ibi maneant, similiter fiat.

XI.—De eisdem et eis necessariis providendis, et per quos debent provideri. Et Itinere eorum per Annum prohibito.

Si prior et cellerarius, procurator et grangiarius, non providerint scrutatoribus suis quæ sufficiant eis per annum in vestitu et calciamentis, cum venerint ad capitulum de suo vestitu et calciamentis eis ibidem assignetur ad plenum, ne pro inopia occasionem habeant remeandi vel vagandi ante annuum capitulum. Quod si secum non adduxerint scrutatores de sua domo, singulis diebus, sumpta venia in capitulo, potu careant, quo inebriari possint, contenti uno pulmento, nisi ratione dictante, occasio conveniens in aliquo mitigaverit transgressionis pœnam. Hoc idem servetur in fœmineo sexu. Caveant qui præsunt domibus nostris, ne occasione aliqua distorta, aliquem vel aliquam mittant ad scrutinium, contra quod de scrutatoribus scriptum est. Qui verò regulariter eligitur ad scrutinium, si refutaverit, ab ordine et communione, et pitantia privetur, usque ad condignam satisfactionem. In omnibus hiis potestas et justicia summis attribuitur circatoribus, absente priore omnium. Licet etiam litteratis scrutinium facientibus per omnes officinas fratrum, sicut ipsi priori domus occulta et manifesta sagaci inquisitione scrutari, si ipsos scrutatores discretos et moribus maturos fore constiterit: laicis verò per omnia in suo ordine. Similiter et scrutatricibus per officinas monialium et sororum in una conclavi ordinatè morantium. Prohibemus autem ne scrutatores annui quoquam eant equo vel navi nisi per licentiam magistri, vel summorum scrutatorum, nisi fortè priores domorum eos secum duxerint.

Fratres et sorores, qui scrutinium faciunt, caveant sibi, ne aliquid maliciosè componant adversùs aliquem vel aliquam mentientes. Quicumque hoc fecerint, convicti, sceleris nefandissimi vindictæ subjaceant. Set potiùs sorores ex parte sua patefaciant priori omnium delictum et delicti probationem in præsentia discretarum sororum. Similiter fratres, coram discretis viris, quorum consilio tractetur culpa et culpæ pœna. Quicumque verò scrutinium faciens celaverit delictum, vel ordinis transgressionem aut teporem, et hoc revelatum fuerit et probatum, convictus gravi pœna puniatur, videlicet quasi excommunicatus xl. diebus sedebit in area refectorii ad reficiendum vel potandum. Et in omni loco per totum annum gradum tenebit ultimum. Si verò litteratus fuerit, nullum in ecclesia complebit officium. Similiter nec laicus in ordine suo, nisi manifesta ratio vel necessitas culpam utriusque aliter puniri postulaverit. Si quis autem aliquid quod regulariter emendatum fuerit ex malevolentia publicaverit vel clamaverit, vel falsò priori vel conventui crimen adinvenerit, gravissimæ vindictæ anathematis subjaceat.

XIII.—De Scrutatoribus ad Domum suam reversuris.

Omnes scrutinium facientes, finito generali capitulo, ad domum unde exierunt redeant, nisi manifesta infirmitas ad tempus impedierit, vel prior omnium aliud magis expedire viderit. Qui verò contra hoc murmuraverit, et alibi aliqua arte remanere temptaverit, in ultimo loco hujusmodi pœnitere convenit, donec contrito corde et humiliato de tanta transgressione se pœnitere indicaverit. Si verò alterius instinctu, tantam transgressionem incurrerit, simili vel graviori pœna culpam luere convenit, cujus instinctu hoc factum fuisse constiterit.

XIV.—De Punitione persequentium Ordinis Amatores.

Caveant omnes nostri, ne ullo modo odio persequi præsumant, vel calumniis, aut querelis, aut accusationibus injustis perturbare fratrem fidelem, qui reprehenderit vel restiterit hiis qui operantur contraria religioni et institutionibus nostris; vel quia priori omnium fratribusve scrutinium facientibus transgressiones indicaverit, ut corrigantur. Hoc autem facientes contra se testimonium perhibent religioni se adversari, et ad sinistram declinare. Quod si hujusmodi culpa priores domorum maculaverit, in inferiori gradu eos pœnitere decernimus, ubi et prout prior omnium discretorum consilio viderit expedire. Si verò in subditos culpa redundat, in ultimo gradu sub gravi pœna pœniteant, ut cæteri caveant sibi.

INCIPIUNT CAPITULA DE QUATUOR PROCURATORIBUS DOMORUM.

I.—De Quatuor Procuratoribus in singulis Domibus constituendis, et Concordia inter eos servanda.

In singulis domibus nostris iiii. viri, Deum timentes, ordinis et religionis nostræ amatores, discreti et pacifici; videlicet prior et cellerarius, procurator, et grangiarius, vel alius discretior, ad quorum curam et dispensationem, universa substantia, quæ ad viros pertinet, eis ordinanda, et distribuenda præcipuè committitur. Nec quisquam aliquid de substantia domus eroget, sine eorum assensu, vel contra eorum assensum, vel mandatum; nec potestatem sibi assumat. Ipsi verò quæque necessaria sunt monialibus, sine murmure vel dilatione providere, et administrare satagant. Quod si fortè necessitate cogente communi consilio fratrum, cellerarius vel procurator profecturus sit ad aliquid magni precii vendendum vel emendum, vel aliquid hujusmodi, assignetur cuilibet eorum per priorem domus fidelissimus frater, qui ad fenestram sororum, ipso præsente, pecuniam recipiat, receptam ferat ad ejus imperium, cum quo ierit, ubi justum fuerit, distribuat. Redeuntibus illis quod reponendum est ad fenestram sororum, per priorem domus reponat. Nec inde discedat quousque depositum in earum custodiam veniat, in quarum custodia pecunia servatur. Quod si fortè cellerarius et procurator, ratione dictante simul ierint, frater laicus pecuniam, si expedit, ferre poterit. Et quicquid de pecunia domus emptum vel emendum fuerit, præpositæ et cæteris majoribus domus manifestum fiat. In omnibus quæ agenda vel disponenda sunt, prædicti quatuor concordes esse laborent, prout ordo et ratio et religio dictaverit. Et si tres eorum in aliquo consentiunt, quartus eis adquiescat, vel reservetur actio præsentiæ circatorum aut prioris omnium, si aliorum consilio fratrum utiliter non poterit fieri; si quis verò eorum omnem potestatem eis creditam sibi arripuerit, confratrum contempto consilio, aut castigatus desistat, aut removeatur, et alius loco ejus substituatur prioris omnium consilio.

Nullius domus prior in negociis suæ domus, quoquam longiùs iturus, sine canonico vel fratre laico vel seculari fideli proficiscatur; nisi immoderata paupertas aliter eum facere compellat. Causam verò sui itineris, subpriori domus et cæteris procuratoribus manifestat. Nec aliquis prior binariam equitaturam, nisi evidenti causa cogente, excedat. Set priores longiùs ituri vel cellerarii jussu eorum equum habeant, ad pannos suos et alia necessaria in itinere ferenda, excluso omni pomposo apparatu. Omnibus autem nostri ordinis professis famuli equitantes generaliter interdicantur, et etiam magistro. Quæ verò agenda vel disponenda, tractanda, vendenda, vel emenda sunt prioris sanioris consilio fiant; et omnes ei debitum honorem et reverentiam exhibeant, et in bonis obedientiam. Nec ipse sine consilio prioris omnium et fratrum aliquid agat, quod eis velit vel studeat celari, et præcipuè tribus sibi associatis. Similiter nec quisquam substantiam domus, aliqua arte erogare studeat, ut eum lateat, vel alicujus operis vel itineris potestatem sibi arripiat, sine ejus assensu utili et discreto. Ipse prior principalium festorum missas et præsentium defunctorum exequias compleat. Quod si defuerit, præcentor provideat, qui absentis vices suppleat, nisi prior omnium præsens extiterit, ad cujus dignitatem ista pertinere dinoscuntur. Præsente magistro, nulli priori liceat dare licentiam alicui canonico, vel fratri quoquam eundi, nisi in negociis domus, nec alicui mulieri seculari intrandi ad moniales. Prior verò, vel vices ejus agens det habitum noviciis venientibus ad ordinem, tam canonicis, quàm fratribus, cum secularem habitum exuerint. Et cum scriptum sit, qui bene ministrat gradum sibi bonum adquirit, priores nostri, qui aliquamdiu in officio sui prioratus fructuosè pro viribus et ordinatè ministraverint, si senio confecti vel corporis impotentia coacti beneficium remissionis à suo prioratu obtinuerint, ab illa, cui bene præfuerunt, domo, dum poterant, effecti debiles non amoveantur; set potius majori munere misericordiæ et honoratiore sustentationis subsidio debitè venerentur; providentes ne contemptus vel inquietudo, inobedientia, et irreverentia erga sibi substitutos tantam gratiam demereatur. Una missa specialiter dicatur pro priore in conventu singulis annis in anniversario prioris in prioratu suo defuncti, in domo cujus fuerit prior. Quacumque verò hora prior obierit post signum ad matutinas, habeat plenariè vigiliam suam tota nocte sequenti.

III.—De Loquela Prioris et Cellerarii, et de Subpriore et Subcellerario.

Duobus principaliter loquendi potestas conceditur inter nostros videlicet priori et cellerario, in exterioribus domorum negociis. De interioribus verò quemadmodum alibi distinctum est in diversis capitulis, teneatur. Quod si prior quoquam abierit, subprior vel alius, quem ipse assignaverit, si subprior abest, vices ejus suppleat, in hiis quæ ipse dictaverit, et ratio permiserit. Subprior verò, priore absente, vel in infirmitorio existente, nullum nostrorum canonicum aut fratrem, in seculum eundi, vel alicubi equitandi, nisi pro domus negocio licentiabit, capitulum tamen tenebit. Infirmos canonicos et fratres visitabit, canonicis et fratribus infra abbatiam licentias ordinatas loquendi dabit et minuendi. Venias sumet, et de venialibus confessiones audiet. Delicta cotidiana, sine quibus in religione non vivitur, emendabit; et cætera religioni decentia, prout ordo permiserit et ratio postulaverit habito discretorum consilio disponet. Priore absente, pro negocio domus pedes vel eques, ubi necesse fuerit, ire poterit. Priore infirmante, mulieribus ad moniales intrandi, masculis cum monialibus alicubi loquendi, canonicis aut fratribus extra portam quoquam egrediendi, sine assensu prioris, licentiam dare non præsumat. Priore in conventu existente, nullius confessionem audiat, periculo mortis excepto, nisi ab eo jussus vel permissus. Quod si hujusmodi institutionis contemptor inventus fuerit, corripiatur semel et secundò; et nisi ordinatè emendaverit, ab officio deponatur. Caveant etiam priores, ne si potestatem subpriorum suorum inordinatè arctaverint, vel si canonicis suis aut fratribus eundi ad grangias solummodo comedendi aut bibendi causa licentiam dederint, similem inobedientiæ pœnam incurrant. Secum verò ad grangias ordinatè ducere canonicos et fratres pro loco et tempore prioribus non prohibemus. Subcellerarius verò et grangiarius, et qui variis sunt officiis deputati, locis et temporibus, de quibus et cum quibus ordo permiserit, prioris assensu loqui poterunt; videlicet de pertinentiis ad officia sibi credita.

IV.—De Ingressu Prioris et Cellerarii in Capitulum Monialium.

Priores vel subpriores, prioribus absentibus, vel vices eorum agentes, absentibus utrisque associatis sibi duobus canonicis, ætate moribusque maturis, et uno fratre laico maturo et honesto, personas auctenticas et alios ex bonis sibi collatis aliquid inclusis Christi et sponsis caritativè daturos; necnon et eos, qui ex devotione pecierint participes orationum et beneficiorum nostræ religionis fieri, sive religiosos sive seculares in capitulum monialium reverenter introducant, et ordinatè reducant. Completo etiam sermone qui ad introductos pertinet cum egredientibus egrediantur, nostri nichil loquentes vel significantes cum sanctimonialibus. Nec de nostris aliqua eo tempore stando loquatur cum aliquo in capitulo, si rationabiliter vitari poterit.

Si fortè aliquos de consanguineis priorum vel majorum aliorum utriusque sexus nostri ordinis, in congregatione nostra suscipi contigerit, in illa domo, cui præsunt, non suscipiantur, nec remaneant nisi ratione dictante necessitas postulaverit. Nec tamen sine consilio circatorum, et jussu prioris omnium hoc fieri permittatur. Verumptamen, pro instanti necessitate, morti proximos parentes, ad horam suscipi sustinemus, et permanere quousque de infirmitate convalescant.

VI.—De Potestate Procuratorum, et etiam Monialium Scrutinium faciendi in Grangiis nostris, ubi venerint. Et de Virgulto et Melle.

Prior vel cellerarius, procurator vel grangiarius veniens ad quamlibet grangiarum suarum, potestatem habet, et debitum est illi per singulas domos, cum omni diligentia perscrutari, et videre omnia quæ ibi habentur victui necessaria, in manifesto posita, vel in abditis locis abscondita, et quæ justè debentur et quæ injustè habentur ad monasterium sanctimonialium transmittere. Hoc idem debetur nostris sanctimonialibus, casu vel rationabiliter illuc venientibus. Hoc enim eis debetur et firmiter teneatur. Universa etiam substantia domus, præpositis et cæteris majoribus, quæ sub ea fuerint, curam domus gerentibus, manifesta fiat ab hiis, qui exteriorum curam habuerint. Nec quisquam audeat contra earum assensum aliquid erogare. Quod si aliquis contra hoc murmuraverit, tanquam infidelis, ab eodem loco removeatur et digna castigatione culpam luat, ut de cætero caveat. Virgultum verò, si fecerit fructum, prout prædicti procuratores providerint, aliqua pars fructuum fratribus ibidem manentibus remaneat, et reliqua mittatur sanctimonialibus. Similiter fiat de melle, si fortè ibi apes habentur. Nec fructus de virgulto colligere, vel de alveolis favos mellis extrahere, nisi aliquis procuratorum affuerit, vel aliquis ab eis ad hoc transmissus.

VII.—De Computatione singulis Mensibus facienda, et coram summo Scrutatore; et qui interesse habent Computationibus. Et de Expensis Grangiarum sciendis.

Prædicti procuratores, vel qui vices eorum illis absentibus tenuerint, annuo scrutatore literato præsente, ad minus singulis mensibus conferant de sumptibus domus, et scripto sororibus notificent, et usque ad annuum capitulum propriæ domus, intus et extra, reserventur scripta. Similiter et summis scrutatoribus supervenientibus bis vel ter in anno manifestentur. Contempnentes per mensem unaquaque ebdomada duobus diebus in pane et aqua pœniteant. Infortunium tamen grave reos poterit excusare. Custodes etiam ecclesiarum et firmam recipientes et magister bercariorum et sutorum, et fratres molendinarii interesse debent computationi, et computationem reddere coram summis scrutatoribus. Priores verò et cellerarii omnem diligentiam adhibeant scire expensas, quas grangiis per annum impendunt; et quantum commodi inde percipiunt, ut anno finito conferri queant, quia in annuis capitulis singularum domorum, computari debet in publico, quid singulæ grangiæ in expensis perceperint in anno præterito, et quid commodi abbatiæ fecerint.

Prior et cellerarius, procurator, et grangiarius curam ovium et animalium habeant, et numerum eorum sciant; et sine assensu prioris domus, nullus inde vendere aliquid præsumat nisi manifesta necessitas compellat, plurimorum et majorum consilio. Quod si custos pecudum aliquid amiserit, in præsentia eorum pœniteat. Quod si celaverit vel in contemptum duxerit eis certum numerum, vel quod amissum est, confiteri, suspectus habeatur et furti pœna puniatur. Grangiarii etiam, quemadmodum et opiliones curam habeant et diligentiam adhibeant, per omnia, in hiis quæ ad sustentationem ovium pertinere noscuntur; et conscii sint per dicam de hiis, quas vendi contigerit, vel in alios usus expendi. Prohibemus insuper omnibus modis ne aliquis præsumat per se vendere lanam domorum nostrarum, sine communi consilio quatuor procuratorum domus.

Ad vitanda scandala et malorum opprobria perutile est cor apponere. Ea propter si fortè moniales cervisiam non habentes necessitate ad potum aquæ declinaverint; justum est, ut majores domus, qui copiæ communicant, communicent et inopiæ; ut vera fraternitas fulgeat in domo Domini, et eorum obturentur labia, qui parati sunt maledicere, et bonorum operibus obviare. Indè est, quod in vi obedientiæ statuentes præcipimus, quod quocienscumque moniales, ex negligentia vel incuria procuratorum, aquam potaverint, prior et cellerarius, procurator, et grangiarius socientur eis in potu ubicunque fuerint, nisi fortè mare transfretaverint, vel ordinis majoris scandali occasio impedierit. Cum potatur, sobriè et cautè fiat, videlicet quando necessitas postulat, ne quid amplius. Communis sterilitas terræ suam excusationem habet, et culpam procuratorum delet.

Cellerarius profecturus alicubi, causam sui itineris notificet priori. Subcellerarius nusquam eat absente cellerario; nec cellerarius, eo absente, sine jussu prioris, priore absente, qui præest majorum domus utatur consilio. Absente verò cellerario et procuratore, et subcellerario, nisi priore jubente, non dentur denarii foras, ab aliqua; nec cuiquam eorum soli. Quod si necessitate cogente sine dampno non possit omitti, quin oporteat dari, aliorum trium fratrum seu literatorum seu illiteratorum, qui ad hoc assignati fuerint, testimonio dentur, et absentibus, cum redierint, ratio dari notificetur. Et ipsi redeuntes similiter notificent ipsis et priori, quicquid emerint vel vendiderint, vel quolibet modo ab eis vel per eos expensum fuerit: Nec cuiquam eoram liceat longiùs vel equo vel navi vel etiam pedes sine assensu prioris et majorum domus ire. Contra hoc agentes ab officio sibi credito removeantur, si sine dampno majori fieri possit. Cellerarios tamen nostros latores denariorum esse prohibemus, nisi fortè ratione vel necessitate cogente aliquis hoc faciat, prioris sui mandato, vel conventus sui communi consilio canonico, vel fratre comite. Tamen si quoquam ierit expensas ad necessarios usus in via licitè ferre poterit.

XI.—De Mercenariis conducendis, et Parentibus non retinendis, et de Pectentibus.

Nomina mercenariorum et mercedum quantitas diligenter annotetur à cellerario, infra primum mensem, quo fuerint conducti; tam domi, quàm per singulas grangias. Quod si steterit per cellerarium viii. diebus comedat in area refectorii. Si per grangiarium xv. diebus eodem modo pœniteat. Mercedes non distribuantur nisi in præsentia prioris per manum cellerarii; nec aliis quàm ipsis clientibus et in cœnobio. Poterunt tamen clientes in grangiis valdè remotis ibidem accipere per cellerarium. Caveat quoque cellerarius, et omnes ordinis nostri, ne aliquis conducatur mercenarius in domo, ubi de nostris propinquos habuerit, nisi per priorem omnium vel summos scrutatores, necessitate aut utilitate cogente, vel ratione dictante. Si fortè necessitate cogente conducantur mercenarii ad pectendum lanas, quæ gravioris laboris esse noscuntur, et vires sororum ad hoc opus defecerint, apponatur fidelis frater ad custodiam laboris mercenariorum, ne qua fraus prævaleat, ut omnino seculares mulieres excludantur ab ingressu ad moniales vel sorores laborandi causa.

XII.—De Subcellerario, et Fratre Fenestræ, et Hospicii ei subjectis; et ejusdem Officio. Et de Blado per Dicam recipiendo.

Cellerarius solatium habeat alium canonicum mansuetum et providum, qui vices ejus suppleat in cibis et potibus suscipiendis, et distribuendis; et ceteris rebus quæ ad familiarem curam domus pertinere noscuntur. Qui nusquam longiùs iturus est, nisi ad grangias casu pro veniis fratrum accipiendis, si prior ad manum alium discretum non habuerit. Qui sollicitos faciat fratres de caseis et ovis, et cæteris, quæ necessaria sunt sanctimonialibus et fratribus hospitibus. Habebit etiam duos fratres, moribus maturos, discretos, pacificos, sermone blandos, castos, de quibus nulla sit mali opinio. Unus quorum subcellerario subjectus fenestræ sororum præponatur, qui fidelissimus et discretus in omnibus, quæ mandantur sororibus, vel ab eis mandata fuerint inveniatur. Ipse etiam in hiis, quæ ad officium sibi creditum pertinent, prout ordo permiserit, et ratio dictaverit, hospitali fratri solatium præstabit, cum opus habuerit, et licenter poterit. Alter verò hospicio præerit, qui sermone tacito à subcellerario, vel à fratre fenestræ quærere poterit, quod signo nescierit, in loco terminato, et à fenestra semoto. Negligentes in pane et aqua pœniteant ut corrigantur. Quicquid autem ferri vel calibis adquiritur sub custodia cellerarii et subcellerarii in cellario eorum, vel in alio loco apto servetur, ut per priorem, vel per cellerarium, vel ejus solatium, cum ipse defuerit, ad quæque necessaria discretè dividatur. Subcellerarius autem portet claves cellarii in minutione, si oportunè et sine gravamine poterit: Si autem propter infirmitatem non poterit, alius assignetur per priorem domus, qui ipso dictante suppleat vices ejus. Si ipse vel alius canonicus per priorem, vices ejus supplens, panem mercenariorum debita hora de pistrino non dederit, ad grangias, vel ad hospicia, vel ad portam, vel quibuscumque dari oportet, jejunet eo die in pane et aqua vel sequenti. Panis verò regularis dabitur per manus sanctimonialium. Eandem pœnitentiam faciat frater, si panem alicui de pistrino, subcellerario absente, tribuerit. Subcellerarius verò solus clavem habeat de pane. Ipse quoque vel alius canonicus, à priore assignatus, cum fratre fideli recipiat annonam, quæ venit de grangiis; et ipse scripto et frater in dica memoriter teneat quantitatem, ut sciant inde rationem reddere.

Ad majorem hospitum venerationem constituantur duo ad custodiam hospitii; unus canonicus, videlicet subcellerarius, si sine detrimento fieri possit vel alius discretus et providus, si ipse convenienter non potuerit: et unus frater laicus, qui sciant quomodo tractandi sunt hospites. Neuter eorum præsumat sibi aliquid retinere de hiis, quæ ad hospites pertinent; nec studeant occultare aliquid nesciente priore et cellerario, undè graventur moniales et alienentur ab hiis, quæ eis jure debentur. In hospitio domorum nostrarum omnibus nostris cibum et potum sumere prohibemus, exceptis hiis quibus potestas regulariter attribuitur, cum hospitibus magnæ auctoritatis comedere vel bibere; videlicet archiepiscopis et episcopis. Hiis verò licet obedire, et semel vel bis, si jusserint, potum gustare. Nec sit nostris consuetudo carnes hospitibus dare, exceptis archidiaconis et episcopis et ægrotantibus. Et si hujusmodi potestas advenerit cui carnes oporteat dari, à suis non à nostris præparari debent. Intra monasteria namque nostra nullus vescatur carne, aut sanguine, nisi præpotens et omnino infirmi, et artifices conducti. Similiter nec intra curtes grangiarum, nisi propter easdem causas et propter mercenarios.

Cellerarius et procurator, cum multa sollicitudine curent et provideant, ut fratres pelliparii, congruo tempore, circa nativitatem Sancti Johannis Baptistæ vel citiùs habeant unde pelliceæ et pennæ sanctimonialibus et sororibus canonicis et fratribus fiant de optimis agninis pellibus. Negligentes verò pellibus vel pelliceis careant yemali tempore; vel per singulas ebdomadas à festo Omnium Sanctorum usque ad cathedram Sancti Petri, binæ disciplinæ subjaceant, et uno pulmento binis diebus careant.

XV.—De Rebus Monasterii, sine Consilio Procuratorum non erogandis; et de Expensis in Grangiis faciendis.

Omnino sub anathemate omnibus interdicimus, ne quislibet vendat, vel eroget, vel distribuat seu accommodet pecuniam domorum sanctimonialium, seu quadrupedia vel annonam, et hujusmodi, sine voluntate et assensu prioris et cellerarii; nec quis illorum, inconsultis aliis procuratoribus domus. Verumptamen quia casu sæpiùs multa intercurrunt infortunia in domibus et in grangiis nostris majora et minora correctione digna, si grangiarium aliquid facere vel dare oportuerit pro emendatione domorum vel sepium, murorum vel fossarum, vel pro aliquo profectu domus, consilio fratrum secum morantium, vel fidelium mercenariorum si solus fuerit hoc faciat, priori et cellerario factum et causam facti quàm citiùs ostensurus. Quod si fecerit, ab anathemate se liberabit. Caveat etiam super omnia, ut nunquam aliquam partem bladi vendat, vel det sine speciali præcepto prioris vel cellerarii, ne pœnam furti incurrat.

XVI.—De Pueris Procuratorum, et aliis Pueris propriis, vel Rebus non habendis. Et de Pecunia ad Fenestram recipienda, et intromittenda, et in Itinere ferenda; et de Expensis intus et extra notificandis.

Nullus nostrorum, præter procuratores domorum, habeat proprios pueros, viatores, vel equos, vel sellas, vel hujusmodi; set quos priores sui eis ad tempus assignaverint, alicubi profecturis: Nec etiam bercarii, vel sutores, vel magistri operum, nec stabularii, nisi per priores. Et cum omnes proprietarii in generali capitulo sint excommunicati, prohibemus omni modo, ne aliquis claustralis habeat phaleras, scilicet sellas, frenos, et calcaria, et cappas, et hujusmodi alia ad equitandum. Hujus mandati transgressores pœniteant in jejunio multiplicato et verbere; vel de potestate deponantur, si obedientiarii fuerint. Quod si aliquis procuratorum, communi consilio, profecturus sit, ad aliquid magni precii comparandum vel vendendum, unus de fratribus ad hoc electus, pecuniam ad fenestram suscipiat præsente priore vel cellerario, vel ejus solacio. Susceptamque ferat, et ad jussum illius, cum quo ierit, distribuat. Nam prælatos domus, latores denariorum non esse decernimus, nisi ratio vel necessitas postulaverit; set de tribus, qui ad hoc electi fuerint alternatim unum, sive literatum sive illiteratum, vel alium discretum. Cum verò pecunia ad sorores intromittitur, vel ab eis emittitur, aliquis frater à priore electus discretus, nisi alia causa magis necessaria impedierit, interesse debet, ut sciat omnem pecuniæ expensam. Tres verò fratres, quibus injunctum est intromittere ad sorores quicquid auri vel argenti earum custodiæ decretum est committi, inde dicam habeant; et medietas ejus custodiæ sororum deputabitur, quas præposita et celleraria viderint cautiores et magis fideles. Cum verò fratres aliquid intromiserint, vel sorores emiserint, in dicis eorum, et eorum memoriæ commendetur; similiter et in rotulo cellerarii, vel illius qui ad hoc assignatus fuerit, si fortè ipse defuerit, et prædictarum sororum memoriæ scripto commendetur; ut cum de pecunia discussio facta fuerit in præsentia curatorum et discretorum fratrum uniuscujusque domus, rotuli et dicæ utcunque consonent et concordent, vel non manifestum fiat.

INCIPIUNT CAPITULA DE CANONICIS ET NOVICIIS, ET EORUM ÆTATE; ET LAICIS CANONICIS.

I.—De Institutione Canonicorum, et Numero eorum in Domibus Monialium; et de Officio ecclesiastico, Cantu, Silentio, Labore eorundem.

In unaquaque domo sanctimonialium septem canonici ad minus, si possessio domus permiserit, vel plures; videlicet secundùm loci illius facultates; ita tamen, ut in nulla domo eorum numerus tridenarius excedatur, nisi habundatiores facultates superaddantur, quæ sufficiant ad opus canonicorum, ne sanctimoniales graventur. In monasterio, officium clericorum, in missis et horis teneant. Organum tamen et decentum, fausetum et pipeth, omnino in divino officio omnibus nostris utriusque sexus prohibemus. Excedentes, in crastino statim in capitulo vapulent: Et qui audierit, et indè non clamaverit, similiter puniatur. Secundùm arbitrium prioris domus et cantoris æqualiter ordinentur fratres in utroque choro, sine murmure; ita videlicet, ut de canonicis à priore æqua divisione facta, præcentor partem, quam sibi elegerit, retineat. Qui verò murmuraverit, in ultimo gradu pœniteat in pane et aqua bis in ebdomada, usque ad adventum prioris omnium, nisi circatores, ratione dictante, maculam culpæ aliter salubriùs delendam decreverint. In claustro, in choro, in capitulo, in auditorio, in refectorio, in dormitorio, in . . . . silentium, et easdem ordinum leges, quas sanctimoniales servabunt in hiis, quæ ordo canonicorum secundùm regulam sancti Augustini permiserit. Operentur, quæ necessaria sunt in claustro, in horto, in virgulto et intra curtem, ubi non videantur à monialibus; nec audiantur, nec à secularibus, si congruè vitari potest, inquietentur. Super omnia cavendum est ne videantur vel audiantur à monialibus nisi in missis et in cæteris, quæ non oportet omitti; et ne sponte eas videant vel audiant, nisi oportuna occasio vel necessitas hoc fieri faciat. Nullus verò puerorum doceatur literas intra monasterium, vel in locis monasterii, nisi sit novitius, vel receptus in probatione novitii; quibus tempore lectionis discretè licet. Et notandum, quia nullum nisi post quintum decimum ætatis suæ annum, in probatione nobis ponere licet: Nec infra vicesimum annorum spacium in canonicum suscipere. Novicius susceptus in capitulo, ante festum sancti Michaelis, compleat numerum psalteriorum, sicut et cæteri. In unaquaque domorum nostrarum licèt duos laicos magnæ auctoritatis, inter canonicos suscipi, vel plures. Suscepti, in ecclesia ultimum locum tenebunt, nisi aliquem pro culpa sua in ultimo loco satisfacere ad tempus contingat. Si verò quis illorum laicorum cautus, providus, et discretus in religione profecerit, hic tales vices cellerarii, si absens fuerit, vel horis canonicis interfuerit, supplere poterit in hiis quæ cellerarius ipse dictaverit. Poterit etiam, si prior omnium perutile judicaverit, tonsura clericatus suscepta, cellerarius fieri.

II.—De Rebus Secularium venientium ad Conversionem erogandis, ante Habitus Susceptionem. Et de Susceptorum Custodia et Termino Professionis, et Professione. Et Noviciorum et aliorum Canonicorum Communione.

Cum aliquis veniens ad conversionem nostri ordinis, recipiendus est in capitulo, antequam recipiatur, donationem faciat de rebus suis nichil recepturus de omnibus quæ Deo vel religioni dederit, aut secularibus reliquerit, si, quod absit, temptatus, recesserit. Receptus verò sub voto de se ad altare oblationem faciat, ut sibimet abeundi omnem occasionem auferat. Nec quisquam recipiatur, nisi priùs ei hoc fuerit apertè demonstratum. Hoc idem in susceptione laicorum fratrum servetur susceptis canonicis, statim assignetur aliquis vir ordinatus, et ordinem zelans, qui ipsos diligenter instruat officium ecclesiasticum, et ordinis instituta doceat. De Dei timore et dilectione sollicitos reddat, errantes corripiat et corrigat. Majores ætate verbis, minores verò verbis et verberibus, cum oportuerit, justi moderaminis hinc indè tenens temperiem. Canonici verò, ante habitus susceptionem, coram monialibus non suscipiantur; set postmodum ad petitionem prioris et conventus canonicorum, cum aliquandiu inter eos fuerint conversati. Qui priùs habitum susceperit prior sit. Novicii ad nullum officium ecclesiasticum scribantur; nec mensæ lectores sint, nec servitores. Lectiones in ecclesia non legant; responsoria non incipiant, nec versum cantent; set responsoriola et versiculos dicant. Lectiones matutinales de beata Maria legant, et lectiones pro defunctis in directo et non sollempniter. Legant etiam aliquando ad collationem et in capitulo; set non assiduè. Ad missas conventuales, ut privatas, ut servitores ministrent, similiter ad mensas surgentes, cum necesse fuerit. Ad laborem continuè, donec servitium suum reddiderint, et scierint, non exeant. Sacerdotes, dum novicii fuerint, missam non celebrent. Psalterium cum canticis et ymnarium sufficienter scientes, cum antiphonarium et gradale cordetenus reddiderint. Si citra triginta annos ad conversionem venerint, more debito profiteantur. Si triginta annos ætatis vel ampliùs habentes ad conversionem venerint, ad omnia præmissa non cogantur, nisi habilioris et subtilioris ingenii fuerint, ita ut præmissa sine magna difficultate complere possint, set de consilio magistri cum eis dispensetur. Regula beati Augustini et institutiones ordinis, noviciis ante professionem inspiciendæ, et bis, vel ter, vel sæpiùs perlegendæ committantur. Et siqua sibi in illis obscura fuerint, vel minus intellecta, ab aliquo sciente ipsis pleniùs exponantur, ut sciant et intelligant ad quæ observanda ex voto professionis suæ teneantur. Conventus canonicorum tempore professionis canonici capis utatur lineis. Canonicus tunc professus, ad eandem mensam communicet. Magistri noviciorum, pro excessibus discipulorum, in capitulo corripientur; non novicii, nisi fortè inobedientes fuerint aut rebelles. Post professionem sub custodia suorum erunt magistrorum xl. diebus vel paullò plus. Interim in capitulo non clament nec clamentur, set custos eorum, nisi in capitulo deliquerint vel culpas suas audientes veniam sumere neglexerint. Venias tamen gratis sumere possunt culpas suas confitentes, vel misericordiam petentes. Professi, qui ad sacros ordines fuerint promovendi, per magistrum promoveantur. Promoti in sacerdotium, ad jussum priorum suorum celebrent. Nec fiat in novarum missarum celebratione onerosum convivium, vel inutilis convocatio secularium: set in hujusmodi voluntate pareant priorum suorum. Omnes canonici, qui sacerdotes non fuerint, omni die dominica habent communicari, vel alio die in ebdomada. Similiter quociens sacris vestibus induti, dupplicibus festis vel principalibus altari ministraverint, exceptis missis mortuorum. Canonici verò valetudinarii professi, tam sacerdotes, quàm inferioris ordinis, semel in septimana habent communicari; et omnes generaliter quotiens infirmitatis gravitas compulerit. Novicii quoque canonicorum post confessionem magistro factam octies in anno, quando scilicet fratres communicant, et insuper quociens infirmitate cogente opus fuerit, communicabunt. Qui se propria voluntate subtraxerit de corpore Christi, nullus ei communicet, nisi hoc emendaverit. Illis diebus quibus communicandi sunt, possunt ad privatas missas communicari ministri.

Canonici hoc modo vestiantur. Tunicas tres habeant et unam pelliceam, de adultis agnis, et pallium album ante, ad latitudinem quatuor digitorum consutum, et pelles vilosas ad cooperiendum vel induendum, si pallia forata non fuerint, et caputium agninis pellibus foratum, et duo paria caligarum, et pedulum, et sotulares diurnos et nocturnales. Habeant et capam lineam, in hiis tantum quæ ad divinum officium spectant. Nec recipiatur quis in canonicum, nisi cum cæteris pannis suis capam habeat lineam propria provisione, vel alicujus caritativa collatione. Capis enim lineis omnes canonici professi in divinis utuntur officiis. Canonici, videlicet per se manentes, omnibus festivis diebus ad primas Vesperas et ad Matutinas ad Primam et missam matutinalem ad Tertiam et altam missam, et ad secundas Vesperas prædictis capis utuntur. Set in domibus monialium ad primas Vesperas et ad Matutinas, ad altam missam et ad secundas Vesperas tantum eisdem festis ipsis capis utuntur. Nam et in claustro, et in refectorio, et omni tempore lectionis utentur palliis prædictis. In tempore laboris scapularia habeant alba, quemadmodum pallium eorum. Lectisternia, sicut monachi Cisterciensis ordinis. Cum scriptum sit, "qui mollibus vestiuntur, in domibus regum sunt," monasterium ista non decent. Ponamus igitur vestes delicatas, ita ut nullus nostrorum pannis subtilioris fili aut coloris preciosi, vel hujusmodi, neque novis neque veteribus ullo modo utantur. Set vestitus simplex sit, et penitùs qualis regula beati Augustini describit. Caveant etiam tam priores quam cellerarii, et cæteri qui præsunt domibus nostris, ne superfluitate vel varietate vestium, vel calciamentorum, aut etiam ciborum suorum conturbent fratres suos infirmos; ne murmur inde vel discordia excitetur, quia piorum bonitas abjectiore habitu et victu dinoscitur et potestas roboratur. Similiter et omnium prælatorum. Statutis quidem temporibus distribuantur panni canonicis et fratribus, videlicet fratribus laicis suo tempore et canonicis determinato sibi tempore: et de eodem panno et non subtiliori fiant vestimenta omnium, nisi aliqua manifesta necessitas infirmitatis vel ratio impedierit; nullus verò vestimentum novum à monialibus ad fenestram vel alibi recipiat, nisi priùs vetus reddiderit vetustate consumptum et inutile factum. Et aliquis assignetur per priorem domus, qui vetera recipiat, et nova liberet fratribus, præsente priore et cellerario et grangiario et procuratore, vel duobus ex illis, si fortè alii defuerint, et veteres sororibus tradantur canonicis, præsente priore vel ejus solatio. Quod si aliquid vetustum jussu prioris vel præpositæ datum fuerit, vel intus retentum, intus et extra memoriæ commendentur.

CAVEANT in domibus nostris, ne lanæ diversi coloris ad opus nostrum studiosè misceantur. Ad opus verò magnorum virorum, qui sunt potentes in seculo, si prior omnium jusserit, studiosè misceantur. Qui aliter fecerint, in communi capitulo degradentur, vel terciò vapulent ibidem. Tonsi panni in domibus nostris ad nostrorum opus non fiant. Si verò nostris fuerint dati, vel communi domus substantia empti, ipsis utantur; non tamen sine assensu prioris omnium vel scrutatorum vel scrutatricum. Similiter coopertoria licet honesto panno, non nimis precioso cooperiri. Si verò dantur coopertoria, canonici et moniales eis utantur, nisi, quod absit, suberbia indè inolescat. Pannis tamen datis vel precio comparatis nemo de nostris utatur, nisi prior omnium et major domus, ordinata consideratione viderint licere. Ad lectisternia tamen licet fratribus nostris viles tonsos pannos emere, vel ad eorum opus parare.

SI quis verò de nostris vestem refutaverit, vel pro deformitate coloris, vel quia nimis curta vel minùs ampla fuerit, per totum annum ipsum ea carere decernimus; nec detur ei priusquam ad audientiam prioris omnium vel communis capituli veniat, nec tunc sine correptione gravioris culpæ. Nec aliquis excambire præsumat pannos vel sotulares, vel hujusmodi. Licet tamen priori cum aliquo, qui de domo suo fuerit, commutare, et deteriorem sibi reservare. Pelles et pelliceæ omnium, antequam dividantur, in custodia sororum veniant, ne privilegium contempnentes furti judicio puniantur, et gladio anathematis à domino Papa feriantur, et quæ magis eis necessariæ fuerint, sibi retineant. Pelles quidem et pelliceæ ad minus septem annis vel octo habeantur, si de adultis agnis fuerint et convenienter fieri possit. Et si diutiùs durare poterint, nemo eas mutare præsumat, cum non dentur ad cultum, set ad necessitatem.

VI.—De Amissione Vestium.

SI quis nostrorum indumentum quodlibet vel vestem, sua incuria vel negligentia perdiderit, eodem panno per totum annum carebit; excepto quod canonicus pro pallio vel capa linea, tunica vel pellicea carebit; frater pro caputio pedulibus, et terciò in capitulo vapulabit si cultellum, per unum mensem carebit. Quicunque verò pannos suos ex negligentia in curtem nocte reliquerint, trinæ disciplinæ subjaceant. Moniales pro cuculla vel scapulari perdita; soror pro pallio vel caputio, tunica vel pellicea careat.

PRIORES et cellerarii ad equitandum singulos sotulares habeant ultra genua paululum pertingentes, non altiores, ad modum crepitarum, ante consutos; set non dupplici margine. Sint etiam duo paria vel tria ejusdem modi in dormitario à dortorario equitaturis tradenda, et à redeuntibus eidem reddenda. Omnium autem canonicorum regulares sotulares, tam diurni, quàm nocturni, rubei corei sint, et moderatæ altitudinis. Quisquis sotularibus nocturnalibus, vel ad equitandum factis, in alia forma, quàm quæ per capitulum statuta est, formatis fuerit usus, vel culcitra, aut pannos pictos, qui vocantur chaluns, loco lectisternii habuerit, quam citius ea deponat. Post auditum verò statutum capituli, qualibet vi. feria jejunet in pane et aqua, donec ea deposuerit. Summus verò prior in hiis et hujusmodi, prout ratio dictaverit, poterit dispensare. Hoc quidem scriptum de sotularibus, non observantes, ultimi sint in ordine usque adventum magistri.

VIII.—De Pannis abluendis.

NEMO de nostris arripiat sibi potestatem abluendi pannos suos, vel licentiam quærere, sed eorum providentiæ hæc cura dimittatur, quibus hæc obedientia à prælatis attribuitur, et à sororibus caritativè abluantur, et emendentur, ut in XVIII. capitulo ablutionis pannorum monialium continetur. Pedules tamen, et capitum ligamenta, et cætera minuta excipiuntur, in tempore lectionis; in tempore laboris non.

IX.—De Canonicis ad nova Loca mittendis; et aliis de Locis ad Loca removendis, et Itinere eorum.

DUODECIM canonici, cum priore tertiodecimo, ad cœnobia nova transmittantur, nec tamen illic destinentur, donec locus ille libris, domibus, et necessariis aptetur. Libris duntaxat missali, regula, libro usuum, psalterio, ymnario, collectaneo, antiphonario, gradali; domibus quoque oratorio, refectorio, dormitorio, cella hospitum, et portarii necessariis et temporalibus: ut honestè vivere et regulam ibidem statim valeant observare. Si verò aliquis mittendus est canonicus ad alium locum ibidem mansurus, quæque necessaria in vestitu et calciamentis ei provideantur à priore et cellerario domus unde exiit, prout convenit. Cum etiam quis canonicorum de una domo ad aliam est removendus, discretè et cum consilio discretorum ordinis, disciplinam zelantium removeatur, ut sic saltem de suis excessibus corrigatur; vel meritis suis exigentibus alicujus dignitatis officio præficiatur. Gravamini quoque singulorum, et tedio magister per remotionem, cum necesse fuerit, vel alio modo ut expedire viderit, remedium consolationis et quietis affectu paternò, studiosè providere procuret, uniuscujusque contradictione remota. Caveant etiam priores et cellerarii, et cæteri, ne eorum incuria, fama ordinis alicubi maculetur, vel scandalum incurrat; quia Væ soli scriptum est; unde ex generalis provisione capituli statutum est, ut cum removendo mittatur alius discretus canonicus, qui ostendat priori domus, ad quam venerit, quod ordinatè sit vestitus. Pelles ejus et pellicea tales sint, ut per biennium ei possint sufficere. Supervenientes canonici ad domos nostras, si post primum diem capitulo et horis regularibus non interfuerint, non indè recedant, nisi sumpta venia pro tali excessu in capitulo. Cyrotecarum et mittannuarum omnis superfluitas et ociosa vanitas ab omnibus nostris communiter caveatur. Licet tamen istis uti in itinere et labore nostris concedatur; in claustro et capitulo et dormitorio et infirmitorio ociosis penitus prohibentur. Cætera de itinere canonicorum et termino redeundi quærantur infra in scriptis de fratribus.

X.—De Rasura Canonicorum.

CANONICI radentur vigilia natalis Domini, et ad festum sancti Hylarii, et ad purificationem beatæ Mariæ, et kalendas Marcii, et kalendas Aprilis; vel medio tempore inter kalendas Marcii et kalendas Aprilis; vel medio tempore inter kalendas Marcii et Pascha, si prolixitas temporis illius quinque septimanas compleverit. Et ad Pascha. Item medio tempore inter Pascha et Pentecosten, et ad Pentecosten, et kalendis Junii, vel medio tempore inter Pentecosten et festum apostolorum, si prolixitas temporis quinque septimanas compleverit; et vigilia apostolorum, et ad festum sancti Jacobi, et vigilia assumptionis sanctæ Mariæ, et ad nativitatem ejusdem, et ad festum sancti Michaelis; et ad translationem beati Gileberti; et vigilia Omnium Sanctorum, et vigilia sancti Andreæ.[a]

In omnibus officinis tam sutorum quam pellipariorum et aliorum artificum, aliquis discretus canonicus fideliter assignetur hiis qui præsunt artificiis, ut discretè distribuantur quæ distribuenda sunt, et scripto memoriæ commendentur, ut priori et cellerario nota fiant in singulis domibus nostri ordinis. Qui contra hoc egerit, pro fure habeatur, et furti pœna puniatur. Literatos enim conscios factorum laicorum esse statuimus, in omnibus officinis et operibus eorum, tam in grangiis, quam in abbatia. Similiter aliquem de laicis conscium esse volumus in hiis, quæ aguntur à clericis, et expenduntur ex substantia domus.

XII.—De Officio Ecclesiastico Canonicorum, et eorum Capitulo, et Regula legenda, et Expositione ejusdem. Et de revelantibus Secreta Capituli, et de Confessione privata.

A kalendis Novembris usque ad Pascha, privatis diebus ad vigilias, et ad cæteras horas diei prosternat se conventus ad orationem et Gloria Patri, et Filio, et Spiritui Sancto, scilicet super formas, et ad Kyrielison; et preces post horas, exceptis festis sanctorum et festivis octavis, et diebus ix. lectionum, et trium lectionum. In istis enim diebus incurvabunt se inclinando ad prædictas orationes sine prostratione. Dictis verò matutinis, statim conventus de choro exeat, et ordinatè in dormitorium eat. Ibique qui voluerit, ad intervalla quietiùs oret, vel accenso lumine à sacrista legat in loco congruo à priore proviso; scilicet à festo Omnium Sanctorum usque ad cathedram sancti Petri, feriis tantum. Nec sedeant in angulis legentes, set in uno loco simul. Qui taliter habeant caputia in capitibus, ut possint agnosci si dormiant an non. Et sic exeant de choro, ut primus exeuntium dicat ultimum Amen in choro. Apparente autem die, pulset signum sacrista ad primam, nec illud dimittat quousque prior faciat sonitum ad orationem faciendam. Hoc eodem modo pulsatur ad tertiam, ab idibus Septembris usque ad Pascha, quando laboramus et jejunamus. Modus iste in domibus canonicorum per se manentium servetur. In domibus verò monialium, signum earum sequantur canonici horas diei et noctis, locis debitis et horis persolventes. Facta oratione super formas, aut misericordias, si tale tempus fuerit, signantes se inclinent, et similiter faciant ad omnes horas post factam orationem. Dum autem sacerdos finierit Deus in adjutorium, ad Gloria Patri, incumbant super formas, aut incurventur, si tempus dictaverit; et similiter ad omnes horas diei faciant.

Dicta itaque prima, cantetur missa, et post missam dicant sacerdotes missas privatas ante terciam, vel post, si tempus ante non suffecerit, petita licentia. Post, ut tempus dictaverit, pulsato signo ad terciam canonici intrantes ecclesiam aspergant se aqua benedicta, et dimisso signo fiat oratorio sicut ad vigilias. Cantata tertia eant in capitulum. Hoc eodem modo fiat diebus festis quibus laboramus toto spacio temporis præscripti. A Pascha verò usque ad idus Septembris privatis diebus tenetur capitulum post primam, et celebratur missa conventualis post terciam; et inter primam et terciam vadit conventus in laborem. Festivis autem diebus, tam in yeme, quàm æstate, post missâm matutinalem, pulsetur signum ad convocandum conventum in capitulum; nec dimittat illud donec data sit benedictio. Diebus quas canonici et moniales tantum feriant, pulsetur campana, more feriali. Omnes verò audito signo conveniant in capitulum, inclinantes ante sedes suas; et cum sederint, humilient se mutuò. Veniente autem priore, vel quolibet alio, qui capitulum tenere debet, assurgant ei omnes inclinantes tantum priori transeunti; eodem residente resideant. Set ille, qui juxta priorem sessurus est, humiliet se profundo de loco suo versùs illum, nec tamen super genua vel articulos, et sic resideat; et ita faciat in omnibus locis, qui juxta eum sedere voluerit, excepto in ecclesia; non enim ibi sibi supplicant, neque ad mensas, set nec nocturno tempore.

Lector verò veniens ante analogium, aperiat librum et inclinet se ad benedictionem. Post primam lectionem non dicat, Tu autem Domine. Set postquam perdixerit, et aliorum plurimorum surgant, et vertant se ad orientem dicentes versum, qui in collectaneo habetur, id est, Præciosa in conspectu Domini, sacerdote ebdomadario incipiente. Qui cum dixerint Gloria Patri, prosternantur super sedes superiores; aut incurventur super genua secundùm tempus, dicentes Kyrielison. Illi autem qui sedent juxta ingressum, hinc et indè prosternant se versùs orientem ad terram. Incurvi verò sint, sicut illi qui in sede sunt. Cæteri autem incurventur ex adverso. Et quando sacerdos dixerit, Et ne nos inducas, erigantur donec sacerdos dicat Dirigere et sanctificare, tunc incurventur. Quæ incurvatio æqualiter fiat omni tempore. Lector quoque ita se incurvet, vel prosternat ante analogium, sicut illi qui sunt juxta ingressum capituli. Dicto autem, Qui fecit cœlum, &c. resedeant; ita tamen ut priùs assideat, qui tenet capitulum; qui cum resederint, non humilient se ad invicem, sicut priùs. Postquam autem omnes resederint, incipiat lector lectionem de regula. Feria secunda legatur in capitulo, Ante omnia; feria tercia, Qui aliud; feria quarta, rursus; etiam feria quinta, in oratorio; feria sexta, Qui infirmi sunt. Sabbato, Sane, usque Non sit notabilis. Quod restat legatur Sabbato ad prandium. Qua finita dicat, Tu autem Domine, et accipiens tabulam legat breve, si ipso die legendum fuerit.

Quod si subprior capitulum tenet, et qui legit prior ipsius fuerit, si eum pronuntiaverit, fratrem eum nominet; et sic etiam seipsum nominet. Et dum breve recitatur, qui nomen suum intellexerit inclinet. Cui ebdomada aliqua ascripta fuerit, si intelliget se illam propter quamlibet incommoditatem non posse complere, potest misericordiam indè in presenti in capitulo quærere; nam extra non debet. Quod tamen si pro gravi necessitate fieri contigerit, in sequenti capitulo veniam petat, et necessitatem intimet: lecta itaque tabula, pronuntietur commemoratio defunctorum nostri ordinis, deinde dicat qui tenet capitulum, Requiescant in pace. Et dicto Amen, inclinet lector et offerat librum priori, si festum fuerit, qui illum accipiat et exponat vel alii deferendum innuat, cui lector ostendat sententiam, quam exponere debet; et sic eat in locum suum; ubi cum advenerit non inclinet ante sedem; set postquam resederit, humiliet se sicut alii fecerunt quando primo consederunt. Quod si à sinistra parte ad dextram; vel à dextra ad sinistram transiturus est, cum venerit ante analogium, humiliet se ad orientem: et tunc transeat ad locum suum. Et dicto Benedicite ab illo qui capitulum tenet, exponatur sententia. Cotidiè enim potest exponi aliqua pars regulæ. Quod si aliquis advenerit, antequam Benedicite dicatur, humiliet se ante sedem suam; et cum resederit inclinet sicut faceret si primæ confessioni interesset. Si autem post occurrerit, dum assidens inclinaverit, dicat Benedicite submissa voce, ita ut illi possint respondere Dominus, qui circa eum sedent. Exposita verò sententia, nemo loqui præsumat neque veniam petat, donec ille qui capitulum tenet dicat, Loquamur de ordine nostro.

Denique si aliquid breve pro defuncto legendum fuerit, legatur à cantore, si ante non fuerit lectum. Quo pronunciato, dicat prior, Requiescant in pace, et dicto ab omnibus Amen, instituat, quod ei visum fuerit pro anima ejus. Postea verò petat veniam, qui se reum in aliquo noverit. Deindè fiant clamationes, si faciendæ sunt. Qui autem clamaverit, non quærat circuitiones in clamatione sua, set apertè dicat, Ille fecit hoc. Set qui clamatus fuerit, mox ut audierit nomen suum, non respondens in sede sua petat veniam. Tenenti capitulum eumque interroganti, Quid dicis? respondeat, Prostratus mea culpa: et ad jussum illius erectus, si reus fuerit humiliter culpam suam confiteatur, et de reliquo emendationem promittat. Si autem culpabilem se non intelligit, qui eum clamaverit ipsam clamationem non repetat, nisi interrogatus; alius tamen, si noverit, quod culpabilis sit, potest illud dicere. Et sciendum est quod qui clamatus fuerit, non faciet clamorem ipsa die super eum, qui eum clamaverit; quando autem aliquis surgit in judicium clamatus ab alio quociens clamabitur in ipso judicio, totiens satisfaciat veniam repetendo. Qui dum in terra jacuerit, nemo loquatur, et postquam erectus fuerit dicatur de eo in ipso judicio, quod dicendum est, ne compellatur surgere postquam resederit, nisi rationabilis causa in ipso capitulo contra eum postea succreverit. Si quis sponte sua in judicio venerit, sub una venia confiteatur omnes negligentias, quas confessurus est. Quòd si alias eum clamando surgere compulerit, illo clamore pertractato, si clamatus aliud de seipso dicere voluerit, iterum petat veniam. Porro si plures insimul fuerint in judicio, qui prior fuerit stet in medio, et priùs loquatur; et cum locutus fuerit statim judicetur, et de judicio dimittatur, nisi fortè prior eum ibi manere fecerit, vel quemlibet ex ipsis cæteris dimissis, ut majus judicium sustineat, si majorem quàm cæteri culpam habeat. Similiter cæteri judicentur singulariter, et singulariter dimittantur, nisi eandem culpam omnes habuerint, ut simul dimittantur. Dimissi verò de judicio per postantes redeant ad sedes suas.

Nemo etiam ampliùs quàm à tribus clametur, nisi fortè ab eo qui capitulum tenet; et nisi etiam in ipso capitulo postea aliquid deliquerit, vel inordinatè locutus fuerit. Nec pro uno clamante quis plusquam unam veniam petat, licet plures culpas super eum loquatur, nisi rursus, sicut exceptum est in eodem capitulo, aliquid excesserit. Cum aliquis clamatur in capitulo, hoc solum respondeat, Mea culpa, emendare volo, vel hujusmodi. Si verò se nescierit reum, dicat, Non recordor, nichil amplius locuturus nisi à priore rogatus. Qui verò clamatus vel non clamatus in capitulo injuriosè vel maliciosè locutus fuerit, bis in ebdomada in pane et aqua pœniteat; vel bis in capitulo vapulet. Similiter puniatur, qui egressus de capitulo, vel auditorio murmuraverit, vel significaverit de aliquo. Cum aliquis murmuraverit, quando alius in capitulo clamatus fuerit, judicetur quasi conscius alicujus privati sceleris. Nemo præsumat loqui in ipso capitulo, nisi clamando alium, aut clamatus ab alio; vel quando quis aliquid perdiderit, præter tenentem capitulum, et quosdam de senioribus quibus consenserit, nisi fortè jussus vel interrogatus, aut aliquis aliquid de ordine quæsiturus. Quod si fortè aliquis jussus salutationem domini papæ capitulo præsentaverit, assurgendo conventus inclinet profundè. Ad salutationem regis, episcopi, abbatis, et aliarum quarumlibet sublimium personarum, sedendo profundè inclinentur. Similiter inclinent quando prior indicit eis facere aliquam communem orationem. Similiter inclinent quos voluerit promovere vel degradare; vel in gradum suum restituere, seu quos decreverit ligare per pœnitentiam vel absolvere. Et similiter omnes quibus aliquid jusserit facere.

Nullus faciat clamationem super aliquem ex sola suspitione, nisi de hoc quod audierit vel viderit. Quando clamatio facta fuerit de aliquo, si in ipso juditio verberandus fuerit, caveat ille, qui capitulum tenet, ne ab eo verberetur qui eum clamavit. Qui verberandus est, postquam exui jussus fuerit, mox assideat in ipso loco in quo stat; et exuens vestimentum, evertat pallium ultra caput suum, si canonicus, vel capam, si frater laicus fuerit. Per caputium verò tunicæ exeant brachia et totum corpus denudans usque ad cingulum; et sic consistens, inclinato capite, nichil dicat, nisi tantùm, Mea culpa, ego emendabo, quod crebriùs repetat. Set neque alius interim loquatur, nisi fortè aliquis de prioribus pro eo humiliter intercedat. Qui autem eum verberat, non cesset à verbere usque ad jussionem prioris. Qui dum quieverit, adjuvet illum frater alius ad induendum. Qui indutus est et erectus, non se moveat donec prior dicat, Vade fessum; et tunc inclinans eat in locum suum. Hoc quoque sciendum est, quod ille qui inferioris gradus est, non debet verberare superiorem; id est diaconus sacerdotem, set æqualis æqualem, vel superior inferiorem. Hoc etiam caveatur ne aliquis extra capitulum loquatur alicui vel significet de culpis seu de secretis causis quæ in capitulo pertractantur. Quicunque revelaverit secreta capituli nostri, undè scandalum oriatur, excommunicetur; et si deprehensus fuerit extra capitulum sit, et ubique in ultimo gradu sedeat, et ab officio ecclesiastico suspendatur, usque ad adventum magistri.

Quod si episcopus vel abbas canonicorum regularium, seu monachorum, vel etiam rex aliquando intraverit capitulum; assurgentes ei omnes inclinent, cum ante eos transierit. Quod si societatem quæsierit, assurgentibus omnibus dicatur psalmus, Ecce quàm bonum; Kyrielison; Pater noster; Et ne nos; Salvum fac servum; Mitte ei; Esto ei Deus; Nichil proficiat; Domine exaudi; Deus vobiscum; Oremus; Deus qui per diversitatem gentium, &c.: et sic concedatur ei fraternitas, manibus libro appositis. Et responso, Amen, similiter ab eo quærat prior partem beneficii sui. Qui postquam demoratus fuerit, quantum tenenti capitulum placuerit, deducat eum ad hospitium prior, vel cui jusserit ipse, antequam conventus egrediatur, nisi usque in finem capituli eum retinere voluerit. Quod si clericus vel monachus vel etiam laicus fuerit, sedendo, concessa ei societate ab aliquo fratre deducatur. Si quis enim ex quo ingressi sunt capitulum, indè exierit, nisi jussus vel permissus; aut sanguinem de naribus fluens, vel etiam vomens, sive pro tabula ad legendum afferenda, satisfacere debet. Set nec licentiam exeundi quis quærat, nisi obediencialis fuerit aut necessitas naturæ compulerit, vel cui prior ante indixerit, aut qui in via dirigendus fuerit. Isti namque cum necesse habuerint, solent pro officio suo signo exeundi licentiam quærere.

Tractatis igitur quæ tractanda sunt, surgentes omnes vertant se ad orientem, et sic qui tenet capitulum dicat, Adjutorium nostrum in nomine Dei. Et responso ab omnibus, Qui fecit cœlum, &c. inclinent ad orientem; et exeant omnes nisi aliquis remoretur causa confessionis vel infirmitatis. Quamdiu tamen aliquis confitetur, nullus ibi remaneat, nisi qui simili occupatur opere. Nam tempore lectionis non nisi tantùm ante prandium et etiam in intervallo post primam possunt ibi confiteri. Postquam verò resederint, dicat prior Benedicite, et responso Dominus, subsequatur prior Deus sit nobiscum. Et responso Amen, confiteatur breviter culpas pro quibus veniam petiit. Quibus dictis, statim subsequatur, De hiis et de omnibus aliis meis peccatis me reum esse confiteor et veniam deprecor. Tunc prior, facta super eum absolutione, dicens, Indulgeat tibi Deus, injungat ei pœnitentiam. Deinde potest eum confortare, vel monere, vel increpare, prout viderit expedire, si voluerit, breviter tamen. Si quis causa confessionis aliquem, post signum missæ detinuerit, vel de missa evocaverit, in capitulo eum ducat, et stando breviter confiteatur.

In domo capituli, teneatur silentium, sicut in dormitorio, excepta hora qua tenetur capitulum. In cotidianis capitulis lectis anniversariis dicatur psalmus, scilicet, De profundis, cum Kyrielison. Pater noster, collecta. Absolve Domine, et Fidelium Deus, pro hiis quorum anniversarium legitur. Si verò præsens obitus ibi fuerit recitatus, dicatur responsorium, Subvenite. Kyrielison. Pater noster. De profundis, collecta. Tibi Domine commendamus. Absolve. Fidelium Deus.

XIV.—De Claustro Canonicorum, et Gestu eorundem in Claustro habendo, et de petente Librum; et Vultu iracundo, et Signis iracundis prohibitis.

Egressi verò de capitulo sedeant ad lectionem in claustro, exceptis procurantibus officia, quibus legere non vacat. Qui tamen postquam expleverint, redeant ad lectionem. Tempus verò lectionis non amittat conventus, nisi messionis tempore, vel manifesta necessitas hoc fieri compellat. Ad orationem verò possunt professi ire ad ecclesiam canonicorum; non solum tunc, set omni tempore lectionis, præter intervalla nocturna. Et cum opus Dei in ecclesia celebratur, ita caputia habeant in capitibus, si necessitas compulerit, ut cujuslibet facies apertè pateat intuenti: nec ibi legant præter illos, qui Psalterium nesciunt; et qui ad præsens opus prævidere, legere, aut cantare aliquid necesse habuerint. Qui verò in claustro sederint, religiosè se habeant, singuli in singulis libris legentes, exceptis illis qui in antiphonariis, ymnariis, gradalibus cantaverint; et illis qui lectiones suas præviderint, quos auscultet cantor, vel quilibet frater, ad hoc ydoneus; ab ipso præmonitus. In quocumque latere claustri sederint, collaterales sedeant, nec fronte opposita, set tergo unius alterius vultui verso; nisi fortè in eodem libro lecturi sint vel inspecturi. Neque inquietent se ad invicem in quæstionibus faciendis, nisi de productis et correptis accentibus, et de dictione quam legere ignorant, et de principiis lectionum ad mensam, et ad collationem, et ad vigilias, cum necesse fuerit, quæ brevissimæ fiant. Si quis caputium habuerit in capite, dum legerit, taliter habeat ut possit perpendi si dormiat. Quod si aliquis necesse habuerit divertere alicubi, librum suum in armariolo ponat: aut si in sede sua eum dimittere voluerit, faciat signum fratri juxta se sedenti, ut illum custodiat; quod signum etiam post Vesperas licet facere. Porrò si aliquis ab aliquo librum, in quo legit, vel cantat, accipere voluerit, necesse habens in eo videre, tradat ei alium, et ille cui alium tradiderit, in pace ei dimittat: quem si ei accomodare noluerit, ille qui petit in pace ferat, donec super eo in capitulo indè proclamationem faciat. Caveatur etiam ab omnibus, ne quis iracundo vultu, vel torvo aspectu, in claustro vel extra, alteri significet.

Quicunque verò in hoc viciosus repertus fuerit, corripiatur semel et secundò, et nisi sufficienter emendaverit, ter in capitulo vapulet, et tribus diebus in area refectorii comedat, ut confundatur, et pœniteat. Ita se habeant dum sedent. Dum verò ambulant, humiliter incedant et discooperto capite supplicantes invicem obviando. Quod si priori obviaverint, divertant se in partem supplicantes ei. Quod supplicatio ubique fiat extra dormitorium, quociens illi vel sibi obviaverint. In labore tamen, cum sibi invicem obviant, nec mutuò sibi supplicent, nec Benedicite dicant. Et notandum, quod nulli supervenientium in claustro inclinatur, nisi sicuti ad invicem; nisi illi tantùm, qui sedem prioris tenet, et proprio priori. Caveant omnes significare in claustro, sicut in dormitorio, nisi necessitas aliqua hoc postulet fieri. Quod si aliquis viciosus insignis ociosis et hujusmodi deprehenditur, in capitulo culpa puniatur, ut deleatur. Nemo per caputium alium capiat, nec quis vocet aliquem à longe per vocem vel per sonum. Et notandum quod omni tempore lectionis possunt esse in nocturnalibus. Si quis aliquo modo alium scandalizaverit, dicatur priori, et tunc si prior jusserit, vocato illo, tamdiu ante pedes ejus prostratus jaceat, quousque ille placatus erigat eum.

Quia antecessores nostri et patres de ecclesia de Sempingham exierunt, quæ in honore Dei et beatæ Mariæ et sancti Andreæ apostoli et aliorum sanctorum est dedicata, unde et nos exorti sumus, iccirco decernimus ut omnes ecclesiæ nostræ ac successorum nostrorum, in memoria ejusdem cœli et terræ reginæ, sanctæ Mariæ, et aliorum sanctorum fundentur atque dedicentur, nisi aliqua necessitas aliter fieri compellat. Et ut in omnibus abbaciis ordinis nostri, unitas indissolubilis perpetuò perseveret; stabilitum est, ut âb omnibus regula sancti Augustini et beati Benedicti uno modo intelligantur, uno modo teneantur: dehinc ut idem libri, quantum dumtaxat ad divinum officium pertinet, idem victus, idem vestitus, idem denique per omnia mores inveniantur. Missale, epistolare, textus, collectarium, gradale, antiphonarium, regula, ymnarium, psalterium, lectionarium, kalendarium ubique uniformiter habeatur.

XVI.—De Superpelliceis, et Stolis, et Calice. Et faciente Fallaciam in Officio divino.

Ministris altaris fiant superpellicea cum caputiis, quæ caput et colli nuda protegant, cum sacerdotalibus vestimentis induendi fuerint. Et propter inoportunitates, etiam caputia vel scapularia habeant circa collum sub superpelliceis. Sacerdotes verò in missis stolam habeant, in modum crucis in pectore. Et nullus nostrorum præsumat privatas missas cantare ad altare, quod in custodia sororum fuerit. Quod si fortè necessitas compulerit, præcipiente priore, duobus aliis præsentibus cantet. Completo officio, simul omnes discedant. Si verò calix aureus, vel argenteus fuerit in ecclesia, completo officio in præsentia sacerdotis missam celebrantis, vel communicantis, ponatur in vasculo et in sororum custodia relinquatur. Calix verò canonicorum in oratorio eorum à priore fideli sacristæ eorum committatur. Qui autem fallatiam faciunt in divino officio, tussi vel signo vel verbo moneantur, ut repetito versu corrigant verbum, in quo erraverunt. Qui verò ex indignatione, vel contumacia, vel negligentia repetere noluerint, in capitulo vapulabunt.

XVII.—De Sermone Verbi Dei Monialibus faciendo.

In festis celebribus fiat sermo verbi Dei ad conventum in ecclesia monialium, panno appenso inter mares et fœminas. In capitulo quoque monialium nullus sermonem faciat, nisi veneranda et autentica persona, cui obedire oporteat; videlicet legatus, archiepiscopus, episcopus, archidiaconus, cancellarius, abbas, vel prior magnæ auctoritatis; et nullus alius alterius religionis, in capitulo monialium vel extra, nisi de speciali licentia magistri.

XVIII.—De Sacerdote infirmante ad Missam, et aliis infirmantibus in Choro et Claustro.

Si sacerdoti ad missam de naribus sanguis fluxerit, afferatur ei aqua in presbiterium â servitoribus, ad sanguinem recipiendum et ad se levandum. Quod si ministris contigerit, extra chorum similiter eis serviatur. Aliàs autem, quociens hæc vel etiam vomitus contigerit, frater, cui hoc opus injunctum est, sequatur eum euntem in claustrum, et si nox fuerit, assistat ei cum lumine, et serviat donec ablutus in ecclesia revertatur. Quod si Venite exultemus, vel primus psalmus alterius horæ tunc in ecclesia canitur, ad Gloriam revertatur, ministrans in chorum. Qua dicta, citius ad eum redeat. Ille verò ad Gloriam si non fuerit, et in conventu hoc ei contigerit, non quidem ad gradum satisfaciat, set veniens per medium chorum ante priorem, facto signo necessitatis suæ, in stallum suum redeat.

Continue scribentibus misericordia aliqua dormiendi præstetur, cum opus fuerit; similiter et minuendi, si manifesta necessitas postulaverit. Si quis scripserit et alteri occultè demonstraverit, quod priori et cæteris majoribus celari voluerit; in capitulo culpam luat, et diebus septem in area refectorii comedat, uno contentus pulmento, et vi. feria in pane et aqua, et de ordine suo degradetur dimidii anni spacio, vel regulari disciplinæ subjaceat. Qui verò scripturus est literas, simpliciter scribat, et omnino caveat vanitatem profundi vel pomposi dictaminis. Quod si quis contra agere inventus fuerit, graviùs corripiatur. Nullus de nostris præsumat libros aliquos, vel etiam orationes, vel meditationes scribere, vel scribi facere, sine assensu prioris domus, vel scriptores conducere et retinere in ecclesiis monialium. Quod si aliquis contra hoc facere præsumpserit ordinis vel potestatis suæ, si officialis fuerit, periculo subjaceat; et flagello gravioris culpæ reatum luat, et quod scriptum est ad voluntatem prioris domus, in communes usus domus cedat; et ipse qui scripsit vel scribere fecit, illo scripto in æternum careat. Nemo nostrorum librum sibi assumere præsumat, quem alter habuerit. Si verò valde ei necessarius fuerit, à priore, vel à subpriore, vel præcentore cautè petatur, ne frater offendatur. Libros tamen ad divinum officium ebdomadariis sibi assumere licet. Nullus ex nostris proprium librum habeat; nec de aliqua domo librum amoveat, sine licentia magistri. Collectaria, kalendaria, et breviaria omnia, magna et parva, sint in custodia præcentoris, et omnes libri. Nec aliquis librum vel sigillum vel kalendarium ad zonam deferat, cum domi fuerit. Qui hoc servare contempserit, separetur à communione altaris usque ad adventum magistri.

Volumus ut refectorium canonicorum et fratrum, ea ratione construantur, ut victualia utrisque à monialibus et sororibus ministrentur per fenestras versatiles. Quarum altitudo vix unius pedis et dimidii fiat, per quas reliquiæ fideliter ad sorores remittantur; nec alibi dividantur. Hiis fenestris nunquam singulariter ministrabunt aliquæ, set sepiùs alternatim plures. Tempore verò congruo, ab hiis quæ intus sunt fideliter reserentur et firmentur. Horum refectoria in tantum dividantur; ut si convenienter fieri possit spacium sufficiat fabricæ magnæ fenestræ versatilis; per quam ea, quæ intus mittenda sunt, emittantur. Quæ cum facta fuerit, sanctimonialis aliqua, vel soror fidelis, poterit ministrare canonicis et fratribus, ad tempus, quamdiu visum fuerit expedire, vel etiam plures. Hoc etiam firmiter teneatur, ut in refectoriis canonicorum et fratrum, in ea parte fenestræ versatilis, quæ viris committitur in custodia, fenestræ parvulæ fiant; et seris firmiter muniantur. Et quemcumque prior viderit fidelem et discretum et pacificum, tutelam refectorii illi assignet, et claves prædictarum fenestrarum illius custodiæ committat. Hoc autem dicimus de refectoriis, in quibus cybaria ministrantur maribus à fœminis nostri ordinis pro silentii custodia. In domibus monialium duo maturi canonici refectorio præponantur, quorum alter sine altero, vel alius solus nunquam ibidem esse præsumat. Et si uterque simul interesse non poterit, aliquis alius alteri eorum assignetur.

Refectorium nullus ingrediatur præter horas constitutas, exceptis refectorariis, et mensæ servitoribus pro officio ministerii sui; et illis quos ad se adjuvandum refectorarii casu vocaverint; et cæteris omnibus petita ordinatè licentia, cum bibere indiguerint; et servitore ecclesiæ pro salicio, vel cum prior vel ejus solatium aliquos auctenticos viros ad potandum duxerit. Mensæ sic exaltentur, ut desubtus pateat accessus et recessus, cum opus fuerit. Nullus etiam canonicus in domo sua sedeat ad mensam prioris; nec superveniens canonicus accedat, nisi vocatus à priore. Propter nimietatem frigoris in yeme, licet ignem accendi in refectorio. Duæ etiam vaginæ vel tres serventur ad opus canonicorum in refectorio, si quoquam fortè ierint, quas revertentes ponant in locum suum cum cultellis. Et non sint vaginæ delicatè compositæ neque cultelli. Coclearia refectorii et cultellos et cyphos refectorarius per mensas discretè distribuat. Nec aliquis aliquid de suppellectili refectorii, ipso inconsulto, efferre præsumat.

XXI.—De Mixto Canonicorum, et Mixtum Sumpturis et Mensura Mixti.

Debilitati plurimùm nostrorum gratia misericordiæ condescendentes, canonicos permittimus mixtare quousque xxx. annos ætatis compleverint. In majori verò ætate id fieri omnino prohibemus, nisi ordinatè in capitulo, petita misericordia alicujus infirmitati à priore ad tempus condescendatur. Nec sumat mixtum aliquis sacerdos, nisi priùs petita misericordia in capitulo, nisi servitor mensæ fuerit vel lector. Mixtum sumentibus panis et cervisia detur, et nichil melius, nisi fortè, necessitate cogente, alicui misericordia impendatur ad tempus præcepto prioris. Adolescentiores, quibus diebus jejuniorum mixtum sumere conceditur, semper ante Tertiam in æstate, ante Sextam in yeme illud sumant. In æstate similiter ante prandium ea hora, qua viderit prior. Illi quidem, quibus ob minorem ætatem vel misericordiam mixtum sumere conceditur, statim post capitulum in tempore yemali mixtum sumant, set mensæ lector vel servitor quando ad mixtum pulsatur, qui audito signo veniant in refectorium. Quod si alter defuerit, qui præsens est, non eum expectet. Si ambo affuerint, qui inferioris gradus est dicat Benedicite; qui majoris, Benedicat. Mensura mixti sit quarta pars libræ panis, et tercia pars eminæ potus. Sumpto itaque mixto, si quid residuum fuerit, referant panem in archa, et potum in vas. Et sciendum quòd à capite jejunii, usque ad Pascha, exceptis dominicis diebus, et tribus diebus rogationum, et quatuor temporum, et vigilia Domini, et sanctorum, mixtum non sumitur, nec pulsatur.

XXII.—De Refectione Canonicorum, et Modo se habendi ad Mensam, et de Modo ministrandi, et de Pitancia, et Exitu à Prandio, et de Officio Mortuorum post Prandium dicendo.

Accedente autem hora refectionis, prior pulset signum, vel cui injunxerit ille. Quod si per negligentiam, cybus nondum paratus fuerit, non pulsetur donec paratus sit, nec abluant manus, set interim sedeant in lectione dum signum pulsetur. Quod et ad omnes refectiones similiter teneatur. Ablutis igitur manibus et detersis, intrent in refectorium, et venientes ante sedes suas inclinent se versùs principalem mensam. Deinde erigantur, et sic stent, donec prior venit. Si autem prior diu demoratus fuerit, quod omnino cavere debet, sedeat interim qui voluerit. Cum ergo prior advenerit, assurgant ei. Qui prior inclinet se ante sedem suam; antequam pulset campanam. Quæ tamdiu pulsetur ad utramque refectionem ut Miserere mei Deus totus psalmus possit dici. Campana dimissa dicat conventus Benedicite, et dicto versu cum dixerit Gloria Patri, incurvetur chorus contra chorum, dicens Gloria Patri, Kyrielison, et sub silentio Pater noster. Cum autem sacerdos dixerit, Et ne nos, erigat se et stans versùs principalem mensam, dicat Oremus. Benedic, Domine, dona, &c. faciens unam crucem, et sic compleat totam benedictionem. Qua completa, erigant se et prior vel subprior, vel cui injunxerit, vel prior ordine conversionis, cæteris absentibus, det benedictionem lectori, et sic omnes ingrediantur mensas, et incœpta lectione, et uno versu finito discooperiant panes, priore tamen priùs hoc faciente. Deinde pulmentum à servitoribus per mensas deferatur, hoc ordine, primò magistro, si præsens fuerit, vel priori ipso absente, vel subpriori priore absente; vel vices eorum supplenti, ipsis absentibus. Deinde duæ scutellæ ponantur in dextra parte primò; et duæ in sinistra, nisi magister præsens fuerit, tunc enim primò ponentur scutellæ ex parte ejus, et sic duæ hinc et duæ inde usque ad ultimum. Apposito itaque communi cibo, si aliquid alicui de misericordia superaddendum fuerit, à servitore deferatur. Hoc idem fiat et minutis.

Exhinc nullus exeat de refectorio, nisi necessitate compulsus, nullus incedat comedendo; nullus cultellum mapula tergat, nisi priùs cum pane terserit. Si aliquis de uno pulmento non potest comedere, de alio comedat; quod si de neutro, detur ei aliquid, quod non sit delicacius. In domibus verò monialium singulis diebus cum fuerint dandæ pitanciæ, sive canonicis sive fratribus, et quæcumque sunt victui necessaria, à sororibus quæ ministrant fenestræ, dentur per prædictam fenestram, ad hoc opus præparatam, justo pondere et mensura, et si quid fortè loquendum fuerit, cum fratre communis fenestræ, servitores loquenda breviter loquantur, quæ signis indicare nescierint. Si aliquis autem ex alia provincia, vel de itinere, vel semel vel bis in anno; vel de alia domo, vel de aliquo remoto loco venerit, potest ei dari pitancia si conventus pitantiam non habuerit, set non exigat. Contra hoc facientes, tribus diebus in pane et aqua pœniteant. Licet ei dare proximo sedenti sibi ad dextram et ad sinistram partem ad primam refectionem tantùm. Quocienscunque pitantia conventui datur, sufficiat eis unum pulmentum.

De pitanciis priorum et circatorum qui superveniunt, sicut superiùs in communi capitulo statutum est, teneatur. Si verò facultas domus permiserit, et paupertas non impedierit, licet conventui aliquam pitanciam dari cotidiè. Canonicis quidem propter reverentiam ordinis, licet quandoque aliquam exhibere misericordiam, si quid in domo habetur, unde misericordia exhibeatur. Et si omnes communiter habere non possint, auctoritas etiam personæ magni nominis vel religionis, si supervenerit, honore digna est et veneratione obsequii, prout tempus postulaverit, et ordo religionis permiserit. Die verò qua canonicis pitantia non datur, licet infirmioribus, vel senio aut languoris debilitate laborantibus, aliquid apponi, ipsis solummodo non aliis ad solatium vel ad remedium. Qui voluerit sal accipere, cum cultello accipiat. Qui bibit duabus manibus teneat cyphum. Si quis viderit aliqua deesse alicui, quod habere debeat, requirat à servitore, vel à cellerario. Qui aliquid apponit, et cui apponitur, invicem sibi inclinent. Cui autem aliquid prior miserit priùs inclinet deferenti; deinde assurgens humiliet se versùs priorem. De cybo communi nemo dividet, quod si aliquid quod alicui superadditum fuerit, nisi pro minutione vel pro infirmitate ei datum fuerit, à cellerario tantum potest dari, juxta se sedenti ad dextram et ad sinistram. Illi verò nulli dare debent. Si autem uni tantùm dederit, ille potest dare juxta se posito, set ultra non procedat. Si quis de comedentibus vel de servitoribus offenderit aliquo modo, petat veniam ante gradum. Et facto sonitu à priore cum cultello, surgat et inclinet et redeat ad locum suum.

Remotis scutellis colligat servitor coclearia; priùs à dextra parte incipiens à priore, dehinc à sinistra, incipiens juxta priorem. Cum prior voluerit finiri lectionem, lectori dicat, Tu autem. Et respouso Deo gratias, cooperiant quod superest de pane. Iuclinato lectore repulset prior campanam, et mox surgentes stent ante mensas eo ordine quo ante refectionem steterint, dicentes versum, quem cantor incipiat, campana dimissa. Quo dicto, inclinent, et exeant cantantes, Miserere mei Deus, quem incipiat cantor, illis cum eo cantantibus qui stant in dextro choro. Secundum versum dicat sinister chorus. Et sic cantent cæteros alternatim, bini et bini euntes, minoribus scilicet præeuntibus; et ita tamen ut prior vel quilibet conventum tenens solus eos sequatur in medio utriusque chori: set si prior aliquis superveniens affuerit, simul eant, sin autem, solus, si duo fuerint, eant simul. Itaque intrantibus eis ecclesiam, qui priùs chorum intraverit, si hoc convenienter implere possit, pulset signum. Hoc fiat in domibus ubi canonici per se conversantur. Ingredientes verò chorum ordinentur sicut ad missas, versis vultibus ad altare usque ad Gloria Patri, et tunc prosternantur super formas; vel si tale tempus fuerit, inclinent, et post resedeant super misericordias. Finitis gratiis, surgentes inclinent, et sic dicto officio mortuorum in yeme, recedant tamen cum reverentia sic quoque refecti ut in claustro lectioni vacent, vel in dormitorio, si tale tempus fuerit, sompnum meridianum sumant. Prohibemus modis omnibus ne seculares aliqui in refectoriis nostris comedant, nisi de licentia prioris vel subprioris, si prior defuerit. Nec etiam licentia priori datur id faciendi, nisi de honestis personis tantùm, quarum servientes alibi comedant.

Si fortè in refectorio alicui ex infirmitate vomitus contigerit, vel sanguis de naribus alicujus effluxerit, vel alia quælibet infirmitas acciderit, servitor mensæ inde non exeat, set cellerario vel alicui alii, ut eum adjuvet, significet. Ille verò, si antequam conventus exeat ad mensas redierit, quod comessurus erat comedat; quem nec conventus expectet, nec ipse, si surrexerint, propter hoc comedere desinat. Quod si postquam conventus exierit, revertitur, non servitores expectet, set statim comedat, et dicto versu, sub silentio discedat. Si contigerit ut aliquem vomentem aut sanguine fluentem servitor eorum non viderit; significet ei, quicumque viderit.

Si quis ad initium benedictionis mensæ non occurrerit, orationem faciat ante gradum; et sequenti die venia sumpta in capitulo causam confiteatur. Quod si ex negligentia suo contigerit ipsa die, antequam accedat ad mensam, prostratus in area refectorii jaceat, quousque prior, secundùm quod pœnitentis culpa poposcerit, aliquo signo eum satisfecisse judicet; si tertiò perdiderit, secundùm regulam sancti Benedicti pœniteat, videlicet ultimus residens reficiat, ablato ei potu vini vel cervisiæ, usque ad dignam satisfactionem vel emendationem. Cellerario occupato in aliquo, et aliis simili de causa occupatis parcatur. Negligentes verò in pane et aqua et verbere pœniteant. Egresso conventu post prandium, vel cœnam ad gratias, conveniant servitores mensæ in refectorio. Qui congregati, dicant versum mediocri voce. Absente priore et subpriore, qui prior est ordine conversionis, nisi ibi sit aliquis superioris gradus, det benedictionem mensæ, lectori dicenti Jube Deus, &c. Idem lector dicat lectionem, ante et post refectionem. Quod si ipse lector superioris gradus fuerit, aliquis alius ab eo petat benedictionem, et dicat utramque lectionem. Si verò nullus canonicus literatus ibi fuerit, laicus petat benedictionem, et ipse lector dicat benedictionem, et lectionem. De pitanciis sicut suprà ordinavimus fiat, excepto eo quod si in illa parte refectorii nullus præter eum fuerit, licebit ei transire in aliam partem, et dare cui voluerit.

Post refectionem dicta lectione, versum dicant ibidem, voce mediocri, adjungentes Miserere mei Deus, versis vultibus adinvicem, nullo tempore se ibidem prosternentes. Sicque finitis graciis, cum cæteris, lectioni vacent, nec pulsentur Vesperæ donec et ad necessaria ire, et lectiones providere, si hora permiserit, possint. In quacumque verò domo octonarius numerus canonicorum defuerit, unus poterit legere et mensæ ministrare, nisi fortè junior canonicus professus, mixtum sumens assit, qui ministret vel legat, vel utrumque faciat, quocienscumque necessitas hoc postulaverit. Cum autem bis in die comeditur æstivo tempore, lector et mensæ servitores ante prandium missa finita reficiant, ne meridianus eis sompnus minuatur, et vagandi opportunitas tribuatur, et pitancia canonicis illa die danda eis non subtrahatur. Moniales et sorores et fratres sub eodem mandato tenentur. Cavendum summopere est, ne ebdomadarius missæ diei, vel defunctorum mensæ, lector fiat æstivo tempore. Ebdomadarius tamen defunctorum summo mane, si tempus permiserit, debitum missæ persolvere poterit, et sic ministret, si necesse fuerit.

Vini potum, ad nostrorum opus, nisi ad missas, vel pro defectu cervisiæ, à nostris vel de nostro emi omnino prohibemus. Quod si fortè necessitate cogente vini potus non possit omitti, non potetur nisi aqua bene misceatur, si poterit haberi. Sufficiatque in die emina vini. Cui superapponatur et intermisceatur de aqua quarta pars eminæ, ne sitienti minùs sufficiat, vel potantem apostatare faciat. Si vero persona, cui obedire convenit, vini potum porrexerit, semel vel bis gustare modicè sustinemus, si declinare convenienter non potest frater fidelis. Qui in area comedent, sine mapula et mensa comedant; et semel in die, nisi aliter injungatur.

XXVI.—De Diebus in Cibo Quadragesimali jejunandis.

In toto adventu, excepta prima Dominica. In vigilia Pentecostes. In jejuniis quatuor temporum, in Septembris. In vigiliis sanctorum, Johannis baptistæ, Petri et Pauli, Laurentii, assumptionis sanctæ Mariæ, Mathæi apostoli, Symonis et Judæ, Omnium Sanctorum, Andreæ apostoli, quadragesimali tantum vescimur cybo; exceptis infirmis, qui si voluerint, album comedere poterunt, in adventu, et feria secunda, et feria tercia ante cyneres; set non carnes, nisi gravis infirmitatis aut debilitatis necessitas compulerit. Necessitas enim legem non habet.

XXVII.—De Reliquiis Canonicorum, et aliis Victualibus à Refectoriis non efferendis: et de licito Ingressu Subcellerarii in Refectorium Fratrum.

Reliquiæ canonicorum et fratrum fideliter remittantur custodiæ monialium, per easdem fenestras, per quas victualia ministrantur canonicis et fratribus in eorum refectoriis, et nunquam per hostia. A subcellerario, vel ab ipso qui vices ejus tenuerit, cum ipse non poterit, numerus comedentium in refectorio canonicorum, et à fenestrario vel ab aliquo alio fratre fideli in refectorio fratrum comedentium, numerus nuncietur cotidie monialibus quæ ministrant victualia canonicis, et fratribus et reliquias recipiunt, nec dent foris cybum vel potum, nisi numerum comedentium præscierint. Subcellerarius et frater prædictus, liberum ingressum habeant in refectorio prædicto, sine aliquo murmure. Refectorarii verò nichil sumant de reliquiis canonicorum, vel fratrum, nec quicquam portent, vel distribuant, set reliquiæ omnium remittantur ad sorores. Præcipimus omnibus modis, ne ullus quicquam eorum, quæ mandi vel potari possunt, de refectoriis nostris efferat, vel efferri faciat: set omnia victualia, per fenestras versatiles, ad sorores remittantur: et sic ab illis aliàs efferenda recipiantur. Nec manducetur aliquid, vel bibatur, præter aquam, nec coquatur, quod non monialibus tradentibus per fenestram earum tribuatur. Nec aliquis præsumat in refectoriis nostris cybos sumere saginatos, videlicet de substantia carnis minutæ decisa vel detrita. In domibus verò canonicorum per se manentium, residuum omnium victualium ad cellerarium reportetur, exceptis reliquiis pulmentorum. Hujus præcepti transgressores tribus diebus in pane et aqua, in area refectorii pœniteant.

XXVIII.—De Prohibitione comedendi extra Refectorium; et Pœnâ ebriorum. De Esu Carnis prohibito, et de Metis comedendi.

Non licet alicui nostrorum extra refectorium suum comedere; nec etiam priori omnium, nisi honestiores hospites supervenerint, quibus honor et reverentia debeatur impendi, vel alia causa oportuna compulerit, vel fortè cum aliquis majorum tardiùs de via redierit, vel ante prandium iturus sit. Nullus tamen sine jussu prioris omnium, vel prioris domus, vel subprioris, si prior defuerit, occasione peccandi remota.. Quilibet vero de nostris quoquam egredientes eodem die reversuri, nusquam sine licentia comedant vel bibant, nisi ad grangias nostras, nisi de causa rationabili, ut si calor vel labor longioris viæ postulaverit, vel prior jusserit vel permiserit. Set et hoc in vi obedientiæ prohibemus, ne usquam extra domos nostras scienter mensuram et dimidiam potus domorum nostrarum per diem excedat, si potaverit, quo inebriari poterit; quia ad ebrietatem potare omnibus nostris, sub pœna graviori, prohibemus. Nephandum enim et execrandum æstimamus opinionem bonæ religionis, propter gulæ intemperantiam infamare. Ea propter hoc facienti per xl. dies aquæ potus sufficiat. Aquæ verò potum, vel de quo non inebriari quislibet potest, tempore et loco congruo nulli prohibemus. Nullus verò carnes comedere præsumat, nec etiam in refectorio religiosorum vel alibi, nisi archiepiscopo, vel episcopo, vel legato, vel rege præcipiente. In nostris tamen infirmitoriis, infirmi ordinatè carnes comedant. Nec ullus de nostris comedat infra duas leucas à domibus nostris; nec in villâ ubi grangiam habuerimus, nisi fratres ei denegaverint hospitium. Qui autem denegaverit, mittendus est pedes veniam petiturus ad domum illam, ubi moratur, qui repulsam sustinuerat.

Alicui de via redeunti, de omnibus quæ audierit, vel viderit, religionæ nostræ contraria, loqui interdicimus. Priori verò et cellerario, de hiis quæ prodesse poterunt, loqui non prohibemus. Quod si aliquis rumigerulus, quod absit, inter fratres fuerit, de hiis quæ audierit vel viderit, per xv. dies in ultimo gradu pœnitebit, bis in ebdomada in pane et aqua, et vapulabit terciò in capitulo. Et cum hostis antiquus dampna sibi in capitulo illata in auditorio proponat restitui, rarum ingressum set necessarium nostris concedimus in auditorium; videlicet pro veniis sumendis, cum ratio permiserit. Et siqua loquenda sunt quæ signis indicari nequeunt, vel si quid fortè emerserit, quod consilio tractari opus sit. Si qui aliquo opus habuerint, quærant signo ad hostium; et tunc, si concessum fuerit ingrediantur, ubi non loquantur plures quàm duo simul cum priore, tempore lectionis nisi fortè prior vel subprior eo absente, pro aliqua necessitate vel solatio, plures ibi convocandos judicaverit. Completo pro quo ingressi sunt, citò exeant, nisi detineantur. Cum summis etiam scrutatoribus vel aliis maturis, vel si quis nobilis fortè supervenerit secularis vel religiosus, nostræ vel non nostræ professionis domesticus, ut loquatur sustinemus. Furtiva colloquia duorum sine regulari teste, et ea frequentare curantes, in omni conventu bonorum viles habeantur, et à consortio fidelium projiciantur. Qui infringit silentium manifestè jejunet in pane et aqua, vel vapulet in capitulo. Qui autem fuerit incorrigibilis, interdicatur ei accessus ad corpus Christi. Quod si quis viciosus deprehensus fuerit, de infractione silentii, post trinam correptionem, ei in capitulo factam, si se non correxerit, jejunet omni vi. feria, in pane et aqua, usque ad adventum magistri, et tunc ei manifestetur, ut culpa dignè puniatur.

Calefactorium nullus ingrediatur, nisi præcipiente vel permittente priore, vel ejus solatio, cum ipse defuerit; excepto præcentore ad planandam tabulam, quam non scribat tempore laboris; et ad calefaciendum in caustum, et scriptoribus ad siccandum percamenum; et sacrista vel quolibet alio pro accendendo lumine in ecclesia, vel prunis in thuribulo, vel patella imponendis; et exceptis illis qui minuendi sunt. Pulsante signo ad collationem omnes canonici, qui infra curtem abbaciæ sunt, in claustro conveniant, nisi fortè aliqui de itinere venientes tunc temporis reficiant. Quibus congregantibus, præcentor præparet librum collationi. Finita verò lectione collationis, quam legere debet mensæ lector ebdomadæ præcedentes, vel cui ipse signaverit, non mutet locum suum qui legerit, quousque prior dicat, Adjutorium nostrum. Si aliqui canonici, ulla occupatione impediente benedictionem sua incuria perdiderint, eodem modo satisfaciant, quo et cellerarius, si omnino collationi defuerit; videlicet inchoante ymno completorii ad gradum ibunt: eodem modo se habentes quo illi de choro se habent, quousque hora terminetur, et oratio quæ sequitur, nisi hora de sancta Maria ad stalla reos vocet. Collationi enim et capitulo omnes omni tempore interesse debent, exceptis infirmis in infirmitorio jacentibus. Qui autem aliqua occasione defuerit, in sequenti capitulo satisfaciat. Dicto completorio nullus ante Primam loquatur, nisi pro imminenti periculo mortis, vel incendii, vel furti, vel alicujus similis periculi.

XXXI.—De Dormitorio.

Dormitorium ingrediantur canonici, quociens opus habuerint. In quod intrantes ponant caputia sua in capitibus suis. Intrantes autem domum necessariam, quantum possunt, abscondant vultus suos, in caputiis suis. Si quando verò sederint in scapularibus, nichilominus quantum poterint se ab anteriori parte cooperiant. In dormitorio non sedeant, exceptis intervallis, in tempore yemali, ut supradictum est; et quando se calciant et discalciant; vel quando mutant tunicas; et tunc in lectis suis vel in subpetaneis exuentes, et induentes se honestè et cautè faciant, ne nudi appareant. Quod non extra dormitorium, set ad lectum suum facere solent, et qui extra jacent similiter ad lectos suos. Hoc etiam provideant, ut ad minus, quàm poterunt, sine scapulari sint; nam sine illo cingere se cuiquam non licet. Nullus in lectu ascendat rectus, set de sponda divertat pedes suos in lectum suum. Nec jaceant super cotos, præter minutos et infirmos, qui extra chorum sunt, quos possunt omnes in æstate in perticis ponere, si voluerint. Nullus ibi executiat indumenta, vel faciat signa, nisi fortè cum priore; seu quando quis vocat alium ex parte prioris.

Lecti singulorum à fidelibus, quos prior ad hoc assignaverit, scrutentur; et si quid occultatum fuerit repertum, patrator tanti criminis pœnam furti facientis, in verbere et jejunio exsolvat, nam res singulorum et quibuscumque vestimur vel induimur, in manifesto et in loco munito poni debent, et non occultari. Cum ergo abluuntur pulvinaria, distribuantur communiter à canonico, ad cujus officium, ex præcepto prioris, hoc pertinere dinoscitur; nullius considerata persona, exceptis manifesta infirmitate oppressis, et sanie vel sanguine fluentibus. Omnes qui pulvinaria sibi credita perdiderint, vel asportaverint, vel negligenter et inordinatè tractaverint, furti judicio puniantur, vel verbere et jejunio castigentur, et per annum careant. Si verò novicii pulvinaria non secum portaverint, vel sibi à suis data non fuerint, ex gratia subveniatur non habenti. Hoc idem inter fratres et sorores diligenter servetur. Non fiant perticæ vel aliquid aliud circa lectos canonicorum, vel fratrum, vel monialium, vel sororum in dormitorio, quò minùs pateat visus intuentium per omnes lectos dormitorii. Firmiter obserentur hostia dormitorii, et omnia hostia ambitus claustri nocturnis temporibus ab aliquo cui prior injunxerit, et ponantur claves omnium exituum, quaque nocte, in custodia prioris vel subprioris, priore absente.

Quociens aliquis exierit de choro, pro infirmitate, in sequenti capitulo veniam petat inde, etiam si jussus fuerit remanere: et dicat causam exitus sui. Ad horas diei, privatis diebus, sicut cæteri prosternantur in chorum redeat ad quamlibet horam noctis, vel diei, qua voluerit, sive etiam ad missam. Cætera verò per omnia, sicut minutus, dum extra chorum est, agat, excepto quod mixtum non sumat, et in capitulo sponte veniam petat. Quod si aliquis talem ac tam apertam infirmitatem habuerit, ut videri vel intelligi evidenter possit, quod nec conventum tenere, nec in infirmitorio proficere valeat, ejus infirmitas in capitulo manifestetur; et exhinc sit in ecclesia ubi et quomodo prior viderit, cantet, legat, et operetur, prout infirmitas ejus permiserit. Cæterum, qui certam non habet infirmitatem, si post unum aut duos dies non convaluerit, ingrediatur infirmitorium.

Infirmarius infirmorum ministerio diligenter intendat, necessitates eorum procuratoribus domorum efficaciter ostendat, qui ipsis, prout facultas domus permiserit, necessaria caritate fraterna devotè procurent, aliis providentes ut sibi provideri affectant. Priori namque et subpriori, cellerario et subcellerario specialiter incumbit infirmos visitare et consolari ex parte virorum, illud evangelicum attendentibus, "Infirmus fui et visitâstis me." Infirmarius conversum aliquem vel famulum secularem in solacium habeat, si necesse fuerit, vel gravitas infirmitatis aliquorum hoc exegerit. Corporis Christi et sanguinis communio nulli nostrorum, viro vel mulieri, pro gravitate morbi alicujus, veluti lepræ, vel epilensis denegetur. Verumptamen vomitus frequens caveatur; et epilentici, die quo morbo suo laboraverint, à communione abstineant. Et his infirmitatibus laborantibus provideatur calamus argenteus, et calix stagneus ad communicandum. Idem inter moniales et sorores teneatur. Sustinemus etiam, ut agentes longiùs itinera à domibus nostris infirmitatis necessitate cogente, reficiant, eodem modo sicut facerent in propriis infirmitoriis nostris, si infirmarentur. Quod si fiat, magistro notificetur, et aliter fieri sub anathemate prohibemus.

Canonici et sanctimoniales in tempore missionis, et in adventu et in quadragesima et per tres primos dies Natalis Domini, Paschæ et Pentecostes, et quando secunda vel tertia die præcipuum jejunium evenerit, minui non debent. Similiter qui extra chorum pro infirmitate est, donec chorum intraverit. Ebdomadarius verò missæ aut lectionis mensæ non se minuant, nisi pro gravi infirmitate misericordiam in capitulo petentibus confessum fuerit. Reversus verò de via, eodem die, non se minuat, nisi consilio prioris. Et si fieri convenienter potest, his minuatur mensibus, Februario, Aprili, Septembri. Quarta verò minutio circa festivitatem sancti Johannis Baptistæ fiat. Cum autem pars conventus minui debuerit, dicat prior in capitulo, illi qui sedent ad illam, et ad illam mensam minuantur. Caveatur ne secunda vel tertia seu etiam quarta die duodecim lectionum veniat dies. Erit tamen in prioris arbitrio propter hoc non dimittere, quin illi de quibus judicaverit minuantur. Observet tamen ut hii minuantur sine quibus possint vigiliæ competenter celebrari. Si tempus fuerit prandii, inter tertiam et sextam; scilicet post evangelium vel ante, si necesse fuerit. Si dies jejunii, inter sextam et nonam. In utroque enim tempore post nonam, si necessitas exigerit, accenso igne in calefactorio, ab eo cui prior jusserit, præparent se ad minuendum. Interim veniat minutor, jussu prioris. Qui minuti fuerint pergant in refectorium, si voluerint, et spacium habuerint.

Ex hinc omni tempore lectionis vel laboris potest minutus, aut jacere in lecto suo, aut sedere in capitulo, et in claustro, donec ingrediatur chorum. Similiter dum extra chorum fuerit, non legat vel cantet, claustrum non ingrediatur, nec aliud quid faciat aliquis de obedientia sua, nisi prior aut sacrista vel cellerarius, vel magister noviciorum. Si obedientiam habuerit, solatium ejus, vices ejus suppleat. Quod si cantare aut in ecclesia, aut extra ecclesiam legere, vel mandatum pauperum, vel aliud quid facere debet, significet de eo alicui, et ille faciat quamdiu extra chorum fuerit. Ebdomadarium tamen invitatorii de officio suo, nullum signum facere oportebit; neque ebdomadarium missæ de suo, nisi de missa tantùm. De cætero minuti, quamdiu extra chorum fuerint, et quando lectioni vacant, die tertio, tempore laboris non significent, nisi de confessione, de missa auscultanda, vel etiam de bibere. Ad horas ingrediatur minutus capitulum; statim assidens cum venerit in primo ingressu; et post orationem significet se sedens. Deinde non prosternat se, nec inclinet ad Gloriam, nec stet nisi ad Magnificat et ad Te Deum et ad Evangelium et ad Benedictus. Ad privatas tamen missas, si necesse fuerit, potest rogatus adjuvare, et ad hoc in aliam partem per ante chorum transire.

Ad missas autem communes, quando conventus deerit, potest adjuvare. Post horam verò, ante alios egrediatur. In refectorio vero, sicut cæteri se habeant; de cibo suo nichil distribuat. Nam in yeme prima die dabitur ei dimidia libra albi panis præter communem, cum una pitancia, in secunda et tercia die ad mixtum post terciam dabitur ei, cum una pitancia integra libra albi panis, cum pane communi. Ad secundam vero refectionem dabuntur ei pulmenta communia. In quarta autem die, tam yeme, quam æstate, unà cum pulmentis detur ei pitancia. In æstate verò per tres dies dabuntur ei ad prandium pulmenta communia, et libra albi panis, præter communem panem cum una pitancia. Ad cœnam vero, per tres dies qualiscumque dabitur ei pitancia. Cui panem inscidere et alia ministrare servitor, vel qui juxta eum sedet, potest, si necesse fuerit, et hoc tantùm die prima. Ad horas diei divertat in capitulum. Si æstas fuerit, post nonam præcedat euntes in refectorium ad bibere; et intrante priore, stet donec ille resideat. Post collationem intrante conventu in chorum, in loco solito divertens sedeat, et signans se post orationem, egrediatur, si voluerit, in capitulum vel alium locum ad hoc assignatum cantare completorium. Quo cantato, et oratione finita, signans se et aspergens aqua benedicta revertatur ad lectum, vel ad oratorium, si voluerit. Ante alios tamen ingrediatur dormitorium.

Pulsato signo ad vigilias, ingrediens in infirmitorium, sive in capitulum, vel in ipso dormitorio, cantet vigilias, prout ordinatum fuerit. In hiis vigiliis possunt breviores quàm in conventu lectiones fieri, et sub una benedictione tres lectiones legere. Qui prior sacerdotum ordine conversionis ibi fuerit, totum officium, si complere potest, compleat; excepto quod ad ministerium prioris attinet, si affuerit. Lectiones tamen alii, si affuerit, qui legere possit injungat. Totum etiam officium, si complere non poterit, compleat cui ipse innuerit. Absentibus sacerdotibus, aliorum graduum clerici idem inter se observent. Et sciendum quod officium defunctorum vel aliud quid cantari hic non permittitur, nisi sint præcipua defunctorum officia. Si verò solus sive in infirmitorio, sive in capitulo fuerit, si fieri potest solatium, quod eum adjuvare ad officium complendum possit, provideatur. Quo completo, eat dormitum; nam cæteras horas diei non extra cantare, set intus ex integro auscultare debent. Ad primam minuti revertantur in ecclesiam. Diebus verò festis dum signum capituli pulsatur ingrediantur capitulum sicut et cæteri, aliis verò diebus similiter, ubi non petant veniam nec clamentur. Si dies jejunii fuerit, secundo et tercio die accipiant post terciam mixtum in refectorio. Tertia die ingrediantur in chorum omnibus diebus ad primam, tam in æstate quam in yeme. Tertia nocte intersint vigiliis, sive feria, sive festum fuerit. Quarto die, sicut cæteri ad laborem se præparent. Quibus tamen prior, pro minutione sua, aliquem minorem laborem debet injungere vel laborem omnino remittere. Idem prout decet et fieri poterit, firmiter inter fratres, moniales, et sorores teneatur.

XXXV.—De Minutione, et Loco, et Tempore Minutionis.

Nullus canonicus vel conversus minuat, nisi ad abbacias nostri ordinis; nec ad grangias, nisi gravis necessitas incubuerit. Omnes etiam nostri ordinis, qui voluerint, minuantur. Canonici laici et fratres omnes, præter officiales, die sancti Stephani et in crastino Paschæ minuant. Moniales verò laicæ, quæ in ecclesia officium non complent, et sorores omnes, præter officiales, die sancti Johannis evangelistæ minuant; et feria tercia post diem Paschæ, et aliis temporibus, nunquam nisi festus dies, in quo non laboratur, intervenerit, in minutione earum; nec fratres nisi pro infirmitate. Canonici et moniales quater in anno minuantur, si volunt fratres et sorores ter, nec pluries nisi ex misericordia, et gratia, vel infirmitate: infirmi enim sub hac lege non tenentur. Quot præposita voluerit simul minuantur; sive sorores, sive moniales. Hoc idem teneatur à prioribus inter canonicos, et grangiariis inter fratres; nec quis proprio arbitrio minuatur. Quæ minuit, et quæ minuitur, in scapulari sint ; et postea sumant cucullas monachæ; mares et sorores pallium. Minuti caveant ne mutuò inordinatè significent, vel loquantur. Minutis enim, quandocumque minuti fuerint, colloquia interdicimus, nisi de licencia prioris, vel subprioris, vel vices eorum agentis. Qui minuti fuerint, omnes stabunt ad Deus in adjutorium, et ad evangelium, nisi minima debilitas sit impedimento. Quæ verò horam dixerit ad collectam stabit. Minuti vel minutæ, in loco eis statuto persolvant debitam orationem. Qui verò vel quæ minuit, custodiat ligamenta brachiorum. In æstate si minuti vel minutæ mixtum sumere necesse habuerint, de pane regulari detur eis et cervisia. Minutis per misericordiam ab exaltatione Sanctæ Crucis usque ad Pascha, cœnam interdicimus, volentes ut mane mixtum sumant, et postea cum conventu reficiant, vel cum servitoribus, nisi compellente alicujus manifesta imbecillitate, prior aliter fieri discernat. Fratres laici et sorores conversæ, suo modo et suis temporibus minuantur; et in abbacia semper et non extra. Officiales sorores, si minutæ fuerint, post tertiam diem minutionis ad officium suum redeant, et fratres similiter. Minuti verò vel minutæ, omnes die tercia possunt clamare, vel clamari in capitulo. Ubi minutæ completorium dixerint, ibi orationem faciant post completorium, et ad matutinas nisi altare privatum habuerint. Et propter juvenculas, tres ad minus intersint horis dicendis. Quæ verò minuta fuerit, in infirmitorio horas dicat, cum opus fuerit, et ipsa poterit.

Ad suscipiendum episcopum, convocentur omnes in chorum campana. Tunc sumat aliquis aquam benedictam nutu cantoris; quo præcedente, sequatur prior; deinde conventus et novicii bini et bini, sacerdotibus præeuntibus, eo ordine quo in choro stant. Cunctisque egressis et stantibus ordinatim ante fores monasterii; portarius vel alius quislibet ad hoc ydoneus, à priore jussus interim obviam eis adducat episcopum. Quo appropinquante, flectant omnes genua ante eum. Quibus erectis, porrigat prior episcopo spersorium osculans ei manum; deinde textum ad osculandum. Quo thurificato, incipiat cantor vel alius responsorium, Honor virtus, vel Summæ Trinitati, vel Sint lumbi, vel Cives apostolorum. Et incipiente cantore responsorium revertatur conventus ad ecclesiam, quam introeant primùm novicii; deinde cæteri, laicis canonicis præeuntibus, ita ut prior eat posterior manutenens episcopum. Cum autem venerint in chorum episcopo incumbente orationi, prior stans juxta eum, cæteris post eum sicut ad missam ordinatis; percantato verò responsorio dicat prior versum, Salvum fac servum tuum Domine. Oremus. Omnipotens sempiterne Deus, miserere huic famulo tuo N. episcopo nostro, et dirige eum, &c. Postea prior erigens episcopum, et data benedictione osculetur eum: post quem omnes alii, si osculum eis obtulerit. Deinde ducatur in capitulum, sermonem facturus si voluerit, vel ad suum hospitium, si capitulum intrare noluerit. Sciendum autem, quod ad nullum recipiendum vadit conventus, nisi ad proprium episcopum et archiepiscopum, et sedis apostolicæ legatos, et regem et dominum papam et magistrum de novo creatum. Nulli horum omnium nisi domino papæ, plusquam semel hæc fit processio nisi proprio episcopo, à transmarinis reverso.

Quæcumque scripta sunt fratribus vel canonicis quæ vitæ et religioni sanctimonialium vel sororum prodesse cognoscuntur, fideliter ab eis serventur, et è converso.

INCIPIUNT SCRIPTA DE FRATRIBUS.

I.—De Institutione et Ordinatione Fratrum, et eorum Vestibus.

Eo tempore quo inchoata est monacharum de Sempingham religio, venerunt monachi de ordine Cisterciæ in equitatu et apparatu humillimo, et abjecto cultu, contenti victu paupere. Cum quibus venerunt laici ad laborem promptissimi, in vestitu paupere, contenti victu pauperum; olera et legumina computabant divitias, et aquæ potus erat satis placidus, grangiis morantibus; et nichil amplius ex ordine. Quod audientes plurimi de communi laboriosorum genere nobis servientes in victu paupere, obtabant Deo vivere apud nos in eorum ordine. Nos verò eorum desideriis disponentes satisfacere, ad salutem animæ concessimus, et indè est quod scripsimus. Fratres nostri laici in modo victus et vestitus sequantur formam fratrum ordinis Cisterciæ, qui morantur in grangiis, nisi aliqua nova primò rigori ordinis eorum obviantia succreverint. Si verò contempta professione et voto quod sponte voverunt, declinaverint ad ea quæ voto et professioni eorum sunt contraria, à communione corporis et sanguinis Christi priventur, quousque pœnitentes de tanta transgressione satisfacere curaverint. Præter hæc laicis fratribus nostris hujusmodi gratiam superaddere curavimus. Fratribus nostris cujusquam ætatis, magna et manifesta infirmitate laborantibus, concedimus pro una tunica pelliceam unam de pellibus arietinis. Pellicea verò illa non fiat ad formam aliarum pellicearum, set aperta erit in anteriori parte, et corrigiis constringetur circa mediam partem ventris, sicut solet fieri in veste lactentis pueri, quæ vestis Anglicè solet vocari flage. Et firmiter prohibemus, ne plures quàm quatuor pelles in illa pellicea ponantur, si ex tot aliquo modo convenienter fieri possit. Singuli verò fratres nostri ordinis tres tunicas albas habeant; et pallium de griso panno, usque ad medias tybias pertingens foratum de grossibus pellibus et simplicibus, et capam de griso panno non omnino ad calcem pedis pertingentem; et caputium, scapulas, et pectus tantummodo cooperiens. Bubulcis, tamen et quadrigariis, et pastoribus ampliorem mensuram providere poterit prior. Nec curetur vel causetur de cujusmodi colore, dummodo veræ religioni conveniant, capæ vel caputia fratrum fiant. Habeant etiam duo paria caligarum et pedules. Solis verò fabris conceditur habere camisias, scilicet rochet; nec tamen nisi nigras et rotundas. Quicquid superiùs dictum est in scriptis de vestibus canonicorum, quod inter fratres possit observari, firmiter inter eos teneatur.

II.—De Sotularibus Fratrum.

De optima parte corii fiant sotulares fratrum fortes; quos habeant per annum integrum, si fieri potest. Quod si fortè scissi et vetustate consumpti induruerint, licet sutori solas novas imponendo renovare; sicut melius viderit expedire. Quod si reparari non poterint, consilio prioris aliquo modo subveniatur non habenti. Sutor et cæteri fratres diligenter studeant explorare, si quis negligenter sotulares vel vestes suas tractaverit; et negligentem graviter arguant; et pœna multetur, si clamatus non emendaverit.

III.—De Ablutione Pannorum Fratrum.

Si desunt fullones, abluant fratres pannos suos, cum justum fuerit; vel janitor ab aliquo pauperum faciat ablui. Panni lavandi non nisi pede laventur. Quicquid superiùs statutum est in scriptis de vestibus canonicorum, eodem modo per omnia inter fratres teneatur.

IV.—De Susceptione Fratrum, et eorum Capitulo, et Professione, et Libris ab eis non habendis, et Noviciis quoquam non mittendis.

Fratres ad conversionem venientes, à magistro in capitulo monialium recipiantur, ante secularis habitus susceptionem; set non minùs quam viginti quatuor annos ætatis habentes admittantur; nec priùs conventui fratrum jungantur, quàm recipiantur in capitulo monialium, quod hac de causa qualibet die potest congregari, ubi demonstretur eis quid facere, quid omittere, quomodo vivere debeant, sicut in susceptione canonicorum scriptum est: fratres de consensu et voluntate prioris et conventu canonicorum suscipiantur; suscepti statim laboribus certis assignentur; carucis videlicet, et hujusmodi laboriosis. Deputetur autem noviciis magister, qui ydoneus sit ad mores instruendos, et docendum ordinem. Omnibus festivis diebus et dominicis, pulsante sacrista campanam ad capitulum, conveniant fratres in capitulum canonicorum, et lectionibus assuetis intersint, et sermoni quem prior vel alius qui capitulum tenuerit, vel cui ipse signaverit ad ædificionem animarum illis faciet; quo finito et subjuncto ab omnibus Amen, dicat is qui capitulum tenet, Loquamur de ordine nostro. Ad quod verbum discedant novicii. Quo dicto, si recipiendus est aliquis novicius, quod non sit, nisi in præsentia summi prioris, et post annum inter fratres nostros completum, dicat frater cui hoc pertinet, Recipiendus est novicius. Tunc summus prior diligenter inquirat de ejus vita et de moralitate: et sic si fuerit recipiendus jussu summi prioris adducat eum frater aliquis. Cui petita venia, astanti ante eum, exponat breviter asperitatem et rigorem ordinis. Deinde oret pro perseverancia ejus; et dicto ab omnibus Amen, discedat novicius in capitulum monialium, professionem facturus. Ipso amoto, cæteri fratres petant venias, clament, disciplinas sumant, si quæ sumendæ fuerint: in omnibus quantum decet laicos, eundem modum et eandem formam observantes, quam superiùs canonicis in capitulo existentibus scripto commendavimus. Quibus pertractatis, subjungat is, qui capitulum tenet, indulgentiam et remissionem, &c. Et sic recedentes, quieti et orationi vacent; exceptis his quibus officium aliquod à priore injunctum, necessitate cogente, quietem negaverit.

Finito denique capitulo, ad jussum magistri veniat novicius in capitulum monialium, coram illo, ubi faciat professionem hoc modo. Imprimis prostratus petat misericordiam Dei, et sanctæ Mariæ et magistri et tocius congregationis, faciendi professionem, et perseverandi in ordine usque ad finem vitæ suæ, ubi doceatur ut in prima susceptione; deinde inprecetur ei gratiam Dei et perseverantiam in bono. Et sic responso ab omnibus Amen, flexis genibus coram magistro, ponat manus suas junctas inter manus magistri in libro, et ore proprio renunciet diabolo et omnibus operibus et pompis ejus, seculo et actibus ejus, propriæ voluntati et omnimodæ proprietati; et promittat humilitatem et castitatem, obedientiam, fidelitatem et perseverantiam et ordinem fratrum se servaturum, pro posse, usque ad finem vitæ suæ, secundùm statuta beati Gileberti et successorum ejus. Deinde orari faciat magister pro ejus perseverantia, dicens, Det tibi Deus meritis et precibus beatæ Mariæ et beati Gileberti et omnium sanctorum perseverantiam in bono. Et responso ab omnibus Amen, promittat ei obedientiam in bono. Dehinc, secundum morem ordinis, votum de se faciat super altare. Iste modus semper servetur in susceptione omnium canonicorum, monialium, fratrum et sororum. Exhinc in ordine nostro non fiet frater canonicus. Quod si suadente diabolo, de ordine exiens monachi vel canonici, regularis habitum à quolibet acceperit, deposito habitu in conversum accipiatur, nisi fortè ordines acceperit, quos si acceperit, deinceps non recipiatur. Nullus enim conversorum nostrorum habeat librum: nec discat aliquid, nisi tantùm Pater noster, et Credo in Deum, et Miserere mei Deus; et cætera quæ debere dici ab eis statutum est, et hoc non litera set corde tenus. Novicius nunquam ad aliquid vendendum vel emendum solus mittatur, nec fiat grangiarius vel alicujus negocii præpositus. In hospicio tamen hospitali fratri solatium esse poterit per priorem, si necessitas exposcit.

Tam ad vigilias, quàm ad horas diei, faciant orationes suas sicut mos est, post erectionem autem et signaculum, si duo aut plures fuerint, dicat prior illorum, Deus in adjutorium meum intende. Et respondentibus omnibus, Domine ad adjuvandum me festina; ad vigilias subjungat prior illorum, Domine, labia mea aperies, cæteris eundem versum respondentibus, quod usque terciò dicat. Deinde dicant sub silentio, Pater noster erecti. Quo dicto, dicat prior illorum, audientibus omnibus, Gloria Patri, et Filio, et Spiritui Sancto. Qui cum dixerit, tam ipse quam cæteri curventur. Eoque dicto, erigantur omnes dicentes, Sicut erat totum, et hoc usque vigies faciant. Post vicesimum autem Sicut erat, subjungant omnes, priore eorum incipiente, Kyrielison semel, Christielison semel, Kyrielison semel. Tunc prior eorum dicat in audientia totum Pater noster; tam ad vigilias, quàm ad omnes horas adjungens, Per Dominum nostrum Jhesum Christum, &c. cæterique respondeant Amen. Deinde adjungat, Benedicamus Deo, aliisque respondentibus, Deo gratias. Ad horas diei post Deus in adjutorium, incurvis omnibus, dicat prior eorum, Gloria Patri et Filio et Spiritui Sancto. Cæterisque respondentibus, Sicut erat, &c. fiant, sicut supra diximus, excepto quod in Laudibus et ad Vesperas, decies dicent Pater noster, cum Gloria Patri. Ad cæteras verò horas, quinquies. Hic ordo psallendi omni tempore teneatur, nisi quod in festivitatibus xii. lectionum dupplicabuntur ad nocturnos tantùm Pater noster, cum Gloria Patri, ut sint xl.

Quando soli, vel in ecclesia fuerint, hoc totum singuli dicent sub silentio. Notandum etiam, quia cum intersint horis monacharum, ad eas Glorias tantùm inclinent, ad quas et monachæ. Ab idibus Septembris usque ad cœnam Domini, privatis diebus et festis, quibus laborant, pulsetur campana specialiter ad excitandum fratres: quâ pulsatâ surgant, nec ante, nisi permittente priore vel necessitate cogente. Factis orationibus Vigiliarum et Laudum et etiam Primæ, si tempus permiserit, exeant ad labores sibi injunctos, silentium servaturi usque ad signum primæ, nisi pro inevitabilibus causis vel manifestis dampnis. Alias horas diei solvant ubicumque laboraverint, tam yeme, quam æstate. A Paschâ usque ad idus Septembris, privatis diebus, et festis quibus laborant, dormiant usque ad Laudes; quia meridianas non habent ex institutione, set ex gratiâ, videlicet qui in abbaciâ sunt, à Paschâ usque ad tempus fœni. Qui verò in grangiis a festo Sanctæ Crucis, usque ad eundem terminum. Omnibus festivis diebus quibus non laborant tam yeme quam æstate, surgant ad vigilias quando et monachæ. Idem firmiter inter sorores observetur. Ab idibus autem Septembris usque ad Pascha, conversi de abbaciâ eant sicut reliquo tempore tantùm dominicis diebus et festis, quibus non laborant, ad utrumque completorium. Privatis autem diebus et festis, quibus laboramus, operibus suis intendant, quamdiu lumine diei operari possint. Et tunc aliquis frater conversus, cui injunctum fuerit, ad finienda opera eorum tabulam pulset; quâ pulsatâ, ab operibus eorum se disjungant, et completorium cantent. Et fratres qui in grangiis fuerint, â kalendis Novembris usque ad cathedram sancti Petri vigilent circa quartam partem noctis; et a cathedrâ usque ad Pascha, et ab idibus Septembris usque ad kalendas Novembris, sic surgant, ut ante lucem perficiant orationes Vigiliarum et Laudum. Quibus transactis, laborent quod necesse fuerit. A Paschâ usque ad supradictas idus, incipiente luce surgant ad laborem. Et sciendum est quod non est nostræ consuetudinis conversum prostratum toto corpore jacere in oratione; set super genua vel stando. Et ab octavis Pentecostes usque ad Natale Domini, et ab octavis Theophaniæ usqur ad Pascha, omni sexta feriâ accipiant disciplinas; nisi aliqua fuerit festivitas qua non laborant. Quod si aliqua impediatur negligentia, die qua prius expedierit, restauretur.

VI.—De Festis feriandis, et non feriandis.

In hiis sollempnitatibus non laborant conversi. In die nativitatis Domini, et quatuor diebus sequentibus. In circumcisione Domini. In epiphania Domini. In purificatione beatæ Mariæ. In die sancti Gileberti. Mathiæ apostoli. In Parasceve. In die Paschæ, et secunda feria. In Ascensione. In die Pentecostes et secunda feria. In sollempnitatibus sanctæ Mariæ, Philippi et Jacobi. In nativitate sancti Johannis baptistæ, apostolorum Petri et Pauli. Translatione sancti Thomæ martyris; sanctæ Mariæ Magdalenæ; Jacobi apostoli. Ad vincula sancti Petri. Sancti Laurentii. Bartholomei. Decollatio sancti Johannis baptistæ. Mathæi. In inventione et exaltatione Sanctæ Crucis. Michaelis. Translatione sancti Gileberti, Symonis et Judæ, omnium sanctorum. Martini episcopi, Hugonis episcopi, Andreæ apostoli, Thomæ apostoli. In dedicatione ecclesiæ qui in monasterio morantur. Et in hiis tamen ipsi, si quid necessarium fuerit, faciant quod fuerit imperatum. In quibus autem sollempnitatibus conversi laborant, et monachæ feriant; conversi qui in abbaciâ sunt priorem tantùm missam audire poterunt; et sic exire ad opera sua. Dies festi duodecim lectionum, in quibus fratres laici laborant, hii sunt. Sancti Silvestri. Octavarum Epiphaniæ; festum sanctorum Fabiani et Sebastiani. Agnetis virginis. Vincentii. Sanctæ Agathæ. Cathedræ sancti Petri; Gregorii papæ. Ambrosii episcopi. Octavis ascensionis: Commemoratio sancti Pauli: Octavis sancti Johannis et apostolorum. Invencio sancti Stephani. Octavis sanctæ Mariæ et Augustini episcopi. Mauricii cum sociis suis. Dionysii cum sociis suis. CeciclIæ virginis. Clementis papæ, Nicholai papæ. Luciæ virginis. Cum inter sæculares morantur fratres, festos dies, quos universaliter venerantur laici, propter scandalum venerentur in publico, et ipsi fratres nostri, qui in abbatiâ morantur omnibus festivis diebus, et cotidie per Quadragesimam, et quociens præsentis defuncti corpus fuerit in ecclesiâ, missarum intersint celebrationibus, in capis. Set in feriis et festis quibus laborant in Quadragesima et etiam in cœna Domini, unam tantùm missam audiant, nisi obedientia aliquibus credita aliud exigat, vel prior aliter præcipiat; quia ista præmissa non præcipiuntur, set permittuntur. In ecclesiâ verò, et in itinere, et ubicunque cum canonicis fuerint, in inclinationibus et erectionibus et cæteris ordinatis observantiis, habeant se sicut canonici se habent. Ad aquam verò benedictam, sicut permiserit positio uniuscujusque oratorii, ita accedant.

Fratres qui infra octo dies, post diem suæ communionis non venerint, trinæ disciplinæ in capitulo subjaceant, nisi gravis infirmitas, aut excusabilis necessitas eos impedierit. Valde remoti à domibus propriis ad propinquiores domos nostri ordinis accedentes hoc sacramentum percipiant et non ad alias. Similiter et cineres pro quorum negligentiâ ejusdem temporis similiter punientur. Dies Paschæ excipiatur, si volunt. Octies tantùm in anno communicabunt fratres laici, nisi magistro crebriùs vel rariùs de certâ causâ accedere judicaverit. In nativitate Domini. In purificatione. In assumptione. In nativitate sanctæ Mariæ. In cœna Domini. In die sancto Paschæ. In die Pentecostes. In sollempnitate omnium sanctorum. Novicii vero fratrum et sororum ter in anno; scilicet die natalis Domini, die absolutionis, et die Paschæ; et quociens pro infirmitate opus habuerint. Licet etiam novicios conversos, prout prior viderit expedire, dividere per altaria ad communicandum. Qui verò supradictis festis, occupatione vel obedientiâ impediente, communicare non poterit, die qua competenter occurrere poterit communicabit. Communicent verò fratres, qui intra ambitum cœnobii fuerint, ad missam matutinalem, nisi necessaria causa ab ea abesse cogantur; et tunc ad majorem missam hoc faciant. Similiter et qui per negligentiam se absentaverint ad majorem missam communicent, ita tamen ut pro negligentia usque ad nonam jejunent vel cencies Miserere mei Deus dicant.

VIII.—De Silentio Fratrum generaliter servando, et Capitulo vespertino, et Colloquio prohibito, et Officinis non intrandis; et de Vehiculis Carri.

In quibuscunque officinis teneant silentium fratres; nec aliquam officinam ingrediantur, sine licentia. Insuper in suo dormitorio et refectorio omnino silentium teneant, et præter hæc in omnibus aliis locis, nisi fortè jussu prioris de necessariis loquantur, vel etiam ipsius cellerarii, si tamen hæc potestas cellerario data fuerit. Sutores ubique silentium teneant, in invicem ad omnes, nisi prior fortè eis aliquem locum extra operatorium determinaverit, ubi inter se tantùm loquantur de necessariis artis suæ breviter; nec aliter quam stando. Similiter faciant omnes artifices monasterii, pistores videlicet, textores, pellifices, et cæteri. Solis tamen fabris intra officinam suam, potest locus determinari, ubi de necessariis modo prædicto loquantur; quia vix sine detrimento operis sui possunt in labore silentium tenere. Capitulum vespertinum fratrum laicorum, qualibet septimana, per annum celebri festo carente, teneatur feria quarta post Vesperas in yeme, post cœnam in æstate, à priore vel à subpriore, vel ab alio vices eorum gerente, adjunctis sibi duobus vel uno ad minus canonico. Ad hoc capitulum tenendum per aliquem fratrem à priore domus ad hoc assignatum, præmuniantur. Qui negligens aut obliviosus in hoc repertus fuerit, in crastino in pane et aqua jejunet, vel in proximo capitulo sequente vapulet. Tempus fœni colligendi et Augusti excipitur. Post capitulum vespertinum laicorum fratrum omnino prohibemus fabulationes, vel signa fieri inter fratres, nisi pro inevitabili causâ, videlicet incendii, furti, vel hujusmodi; set mox post capitulum dicto completorio, eant dormitum. Similiter faciant ea die qua capitulum non tenetur.

Hospitales tamen fratres, et grangiarii, et bubulci, et stabularii sub hac lege non tenentur, cum necessitas eas excusaverit. Diebus verò quibus feriatur, ad completorium sanctimonialium, fratres laici interesse licentiam habebunt. Similiter qui in grangiis sunt silentium teneant in dormitorio, in refectorio, in calefactorio, intra metas ad hoc deputatas. Alibi possunt loqui cum grangiario suo de necessariis suis, et hoc stando, et duo tantùm simul. Et sciendum quia sine caputiis eis loqui non licet. Pastores tamen et bubulci, cum junioribus suis: et juniores cum ipsis loqui possunt, in labore suo, de necessariis. Salutantem resalutent, et viatorem, si viam interrogaverint, verbis breviter doceant. Quod si de alia re eum alloquatur, respondeat sibi ampliùs non licere loqui. Hæc etiam cuilibet inquietanti se et instiganti, ad loquendum respondeant. Frater, qui in itinere est, teneat silentium in omnibus ecclesiis, et in refectione sua, et post completorium, et habeat se in omnibus sicut mos est. In viam directus non cogitur jejunare, nisi eo modo quo fratres jejunant in grangiis. Qui veniens ad monasterium vel ad grangiam nostri ordinis, teneat per omnia ordinem sicut fratres illius loci. Poterit tamen loqui cum fratre stabulario, de necessariis, ut est de ferrandis equis, et quando tribuit eis præbendam et fœnum; et hoc stando.

Conceditur enim haberi stabularium et ipsum loqui cum fratribus nostri ordinis, sicut cum cæteris hospitibus, ubi multitudo hospitum exigit. Quod si cum canonico proficiscitur, habeat se secundùm quod ei præceperit. In vi obedientiæ prohibemus, et sub anathematis interminatione interdicimus, ne fratres conveniant ad colloquium, vel in domo vel extra, nisi per priorem de necessariis, eo præsente, vel per eum cellerario vel grangiario, seu procuratore. Quicumque verò deprehensus fuerit hanc institutionem nostram præterire, toto anno pœniteat, bis in ebdomada in pane et aqua, et ultimum locum teneat in ecclesia et in refectorio, similiter internuncius alicujus scandali inter domos, qui deprehendi poterit. Caveat ipse prior, ne incidat in eandem culpæ pœnam, si fuerit negligens in observancia hujus justiciæ et ordinis. Nullus fratrum præsumat, sine licentia prioris, vel grangiarii, vel cellerarii, vel procuratoris ingredi domos sutorum, fabrorum, vel fullonum, vel hujusmodi, exceptis prænominatis, et subcellerario et scrutatore, et qui ad hæc opera designantur.

Ingressi prædictas officinas, nisi permissione prioris nichil loquantur, set signo, quæ necessaria sibi fuerint, quærant. Quod si quis aliter fecerit, graviter clametur et puniatur verbere et jejunio. Si fratres alicubi ierint, unus discretus provideatur, qui respondeat alloquentibus. Nec aliquis loquatur cum aliquo, nisi qui associatus ei fuerit, vel ad quadrigam vel hujusmodi. Associato sibi loqui poterit, si necessitas laboris postulaverit. Si quis fratrum nostrorum quoquam iturus vehiculum carri, vel quadrigæ refutaverit, ut honestiùs caballo insideat, et equitet; pro culpa insolentiæ, per annum integrum equum vel equam non ascendat, set quoquam iturus ambulet pedes.

IX.—De Refectorio et Refectione; et Mixto Fratrum, et de Jejunio eorum in Grangiis, et de Reliquiis et Pitantiâ eorum.

Refectorium fratrum, et fenestra eo modo construatur, et custodiatur, sicut scriptum est in scripto de refectorio canonicorum. Convocatis itaque aliquo signo fratribus ad refectionem, dicant omnes simul, Benedicite, Kyrielison, Christeelison, Kyrielison, Pater noster. Deinde erectus grangiarius vel prior illorum dicat, Et ne nos, aliique respondeant, Set libera nos. Tunc prior illorum faciens signum manu dicat, In nomine Patris, et Filii, et Spiritus Sancti, aliis respondentibus Amen. Sicque resideant ad mensas secundùm ordinem suum, comedant et bibant communiter eis apposita, nisi alicui extraneo supervenienti vel gravi labori insistenti, vel domestico à remotis revertenti, vel debili vel infirmanti, aliquando in aliquo ex misericordia subveniatur. Et notandum quod non licet eis sine capa vel pallio, vel caputiis, nec in suis refectoriis, nec alibi comedere. Si fortè aliquis versum amiserit in area refectorii coram grangiario, prostratus satisfaciat; et ad signum grangiarii surgat. Si verò ter versum amiserit, ablata ei potione cervisiæ ultimus manducet. Et si aliquis potum vel pulmentum effuderit, prædicto modo coram sede grangiarii satisfaciat. Si verò manum secuerit, in communi capitulo veniam petat, et similiter si alicubi infortunio quoquo modo se læserit.

Peracta itaque refectione surgens grangiarius, vel prior illorum, incipiat Miserere mei Deus, dicatque totum versum, et omnes alii alium. Sicque alternatim dicant alios versus, subjungentes Gloria Patri; Sicut erat; Kyrielison; Christeelison; Kyrielison; Pater noster. Deinde dicat prior illorum, Et ne nos, alii respondeant, Sed libera nos, subjungente illo, Benedicamus Domino, cæteri respondeant Deo gratias. Et signantes se discedant. Servitores verò in refectorio finient versum suum, et Pater noster dicent. In grangiis verò post cibum incipientes Miserere mei Deus, intrabunt oratorium. Conversi nolas non habeant in refectoriis, nec infra abbaciam. Post refectionem eant in oratorium. Nec ad grangias campanas habeant, set lignea balla ad convocandos fratres, ad horas diei et noctis; et ad refectionem. Si quos fratres laicos aliqua certa et nota occasione prior judicaverit oportere sumere mixtum, sumant. Mixti verò quantitas hæc sit; medietas libræ sui panis, vel major quantitas grossioris panis, et aqua. Qui verò in grangiis sunt, non jejunabunt, nisi in præcipuis jejuniis, et in Adventu et sexta feria ab idibus Septembris usque ad Quadragesimam, et habebunt singuli libram panis, et insuper de grosso pane quantum necesse fuerit.

De misericordia pitantiæ erga debiles et valetudinarios et supervenientes et de itinere redeuntes, et minutos, sicut superiùs scriptum est, in scriptis canonicorum eodem modo teneantur inter fratres, prout potest et debet fieri inter laicos; et omnia eadem præcepta, prohibitiones de cibis et potibus et reliquiis eorum inter eos teneantur. Si fortè fratrum multitudine, superveniente cura ministrandi, vires refectorarii excesserint, subveniant ei aliqui fratrum in ministerio cum silentio. Si quid verò loquendum est cum fratre communis fenestræ, servitores breviter et submissa voce, quæ signis nesciunt indicare, loquenda loquantur. In festivitatibus sanctæ Mariæ et sancti Benedicti, et sancti Johannis baptistæ; Circumcisionis; Epiphaniæ; et in festivitate Petri et Pauli, Andreæ apostoli, et Omnium Sanctorum; Symonis et Judæ, Mathæi apostoli, et aliorum apostolorum quibus feriatur; et beati Laurentii, et in festivitatibus beati Gileberti, et in festivitate dedicationis ecclesiæ, et dominicis diebus, licet pitantiam dari fratribus et sororibus, et tribus diebus minutionis eorum et quocienscumque communicantur, si facultas domus permiserit. Fratribus verò falcatoribus, aliqua pitantia detur per singulos dies laboris eorum, prout majores domus viderint necessarium.

Statuentes in vi obedientiæ præcipimus, ut unaquæque terra eo seminetur semine quod meliùs eis conveniat. Grangiarius verò, si scienter aliter fecerit, unaquaque ebdomada, quousque segetes metantur, solo pane clientium uno die reficiatur. In cibis et potibus et in aliis, quæ ad cibum pertinent et potum, in domibus nostris eadem consuetudo teneatur. Grangiarius autem, cum omni sollicitudine obedientiæ sibi creditæ cor apponat. Summis scrutatricibus, sine murmure et dilatione, necessaria ad iter earum inveniat, ne gravi pœna, si neglexerit, puniatur. Caveat etiam curtem monialium ingredi, et omnes alii nisi manifesta causa compellat mandato prioris, non tamen sine comite boni testimonii. Periculum verò incendii, et latronum crudelitas et hujusmodi excipiuntur. Omnibus est licitum, ut præbeant auxilium contra ignis incendium, furtum, et latrocinium et hujusmodi periculum.

Grangiarius potest loqui cum omnibus fratribus de labore et ambulando, si opus est. Non licet ei copiam colloquii fratribus dare, nisi de labore, necessitate cogente, vel etiam quoquam eundi extra curtem nisi ad laborem. Quod si fecerit, ab officio deponatur. Non licet ei aliquid dare fratribus, vel alicui sine licencia prioris domus. Potest etiam loqui cum servientibus in labore, si opus fuerit. Fratres verò non loquantur cum eo nisi stando; set non plures quam duo vel tres, et hoc de necessariis sermone brevi. Negligentes, in pane et aqua pœniteant. Grangiarius grangiæ habeat solatium, si necesse fuerit, qui videlicet provideat domui post eum, cui licet loqui cum familia et hospitibus de necessariis. Absente tamen grangiario cum omnibus ubique licet loqui. Præter hos nullus fratrum, nec intra curtem nec extra, potest loqui sine licencia prioris, nec inter se, nec cum illis. Omnino interdicimus ne grangiarius quoquam ire præsumat, nisi jussus à priore, magna et manifesta necessitate cogente; set obedientiæ sibi creditæ, cum omni diligentia intendat. De hiis quæ venduntur et emuntur nichil sibi assumere licet vendendo vel emendo aliquid, set aliquis alius assignetur à priore ad hoc opus, redditurus rationem grangiario super hiis, quæ vendiderit vel emerit; et conscius sit factorum grangiarii. Licet etiam grangiario ad fenestram accedere sub silentio, cum sorores opus habuerint de hiis quæ ad ejus curam pertinent et potestatem, non tamen nisi mandatur ab ipsis, vel manifesta necessitas hoc expectat.

Unicuique grangiariorum nostrorum associetur frater fidelis, qui conscius sit factorum ejus, cum præsentem non habuerint priorem vel cellerarium, propter suspiciosos. Qui hoc neglexerit, seipsum fratribus de infidelitate reddit suspectum, quamvis ipse sit fidelis. Si frater inobediens fuerit grangiario, ostendatur priori et cellerario. Et si perstiterit in inobedientia, ab ordine suo deponatur, et uno pulmento et pitantia careat, quousque ad audientiam prioris omnium culpa perveniat, nisi digna satisfactione pœnitere voluerit. Grangiarius verò graviùs judicetur, si priori non obediat in bono. Conversus etiam, qui cuilibet magistro sibi deputato inobediens fuerit, pro satisfactione in tribus diebus humi residens comedat coram fratribus in refectorio sine mantili. Fratres, ad quorum curam pertinet annonam cervisiæ et pulmentorum farinam præparare, si neglexerint, et in irritum duxerint, dimidio anno cervisia careant, nisi ratione dictante prior in aliquo viderit parcendum.

Sub professione et voto quod Deo voverunt prælati et subditi nostri ordinis, interdicimus ne procurator vel grangiarius vel quilibet alius emere vel vendere usurpet, nisi habeat comitem literatum à priore sibi associatum vel ab ejus solatio, si priore defuerit, qui videat et sciat quid emerit vel vendiderit, et assensum præbuerit mercimonio. Similiter si cellerarius vel alius de consortio literatorum ad hujusmodi opus mittitur, assignetur ei à priore vel ab ejus solatio, si ipse defuerit, de nostris illiteratis fratribus cautus et providus ad ejus famulatum, qui conscius sit et assentaneus in hiis quæ ipse vendiderit vel emerit, vel expenderit ad profectum domus, vel aliter, quod absit. Verumptamen licet priori, vel cellerario, per priorem quem viderit cautum, literatum vel illiteratum, ad minora mercimonia mittere comparanda, non tamen sine aliquo fideli. Quicumque de nostro consortio contra hæc agere præsumpserit, ab obedientia sibi credita removeatur: simplex canonicus vel frater in ultimo gradu satisfaciat verbere et jejunio castigatus ad plenum pro hujusmodi culpa. Licet emptori, quicumque ipse sit, præsente priore vel cellerario vel alio canonico per priorem assignato cum fratre fenestræ de pondere et numero eorum, quæ intromittit et recipit pauca necessaria loqui, nec à fenestra discedat, donec in custodia sororum veniat, quicquid ipse attulerit et intromiserit. Ipse enim aurum et argentum et quæque venalia recepturus est, vel intromissurus ad fenestram, set præsente priore vel cellerario, vel ejus solatio, vel aliquo alio per priorem assignato, intromittat et recipiat, et non aliter. Illis absentibus, vicariis eorum præsentibus, si necessitas incumbat, hoc idem faciat, et non nisi isto modo et pro tali occasione ad fenestram accedat.

Si cuiquam fratrum nostrorum attribuitur potestas emendi vel vendendi, vel hujusmodi, associetur ei frater fidelis, non unus singulariter, set de tribus ad hoc opus electis, alternatim unus, qui conscius sit et communicator factorum ejus, si prior domus literatum discretum ad manum non habuerit. Si refutaverit, ab ipsâ potestate privetur. Emptores verò si in emendis, vendendis, distribuendis, retinendis, et cæteris hujusmodi peccaverint, et graviorem reatum incurrerint, transgressiones graviores culpæ et dampni commissi priori omnium reserventur, et ejus absolutione purgentur, nisi mortis periculum ab alio reatum culpæ absolvi compellat. Fratres emptores et cæteri, cum venerint ad aliquam domorum nostrarum, silentium teneant, et sicut fratres illius domus se ordinatè habeant in omni loco, quamdiu ibidem fuerint. Quod si necessitas aliqua obedientiæ sibi creditæ postulaverit ut loquantur; cum priore domus vel cellerario quod loquendum est loquantur, vel quibus regulariter assignaverint ut loquantur. Cum puero suo etiam pedite licet eis necessaria loqui.

Nulli nostrorum quoquam eant vel ad vendendum, vel ad emendum, vel aliquid mutuent, vel accommodent, inconsulto priore, et cellerario, et grangiario, et procuratore, ne furti reatum vel pœnam incurrant. Quod si fortè licenter egressi ratione dictante aliter fecerint, quàm dispositum fuerat, domi revertentes prioribus indicent facti rationem. Quod si non fecerint, eadem pœnâ multentur. Si quis etiam vendiderit vel emerit aliquid, et priori et cellerario et cæteris majoribus celaverit, pro furto judicetur et puniatur, sicut ordinis et institutionum nostrarum contemptor. Similiter quicumque de nostris mutuatum aliquid ab aliquâ domorum nostrarum vel accommodatum fideliter reddere vel satisfacere retardaverit, acriore ultione puniatur in aliâ domorum nostrarum in ultimo gradu, ut cæteri caveant, et debitum restituatur, ut fraternitas non ficta perseveret in domibus nostris, et causa dissidii eliminetur. De mutuato ab extraneis et de eorum deposito hoc idem teneatur, ut omnis fraus excludatur. Quociens fratrum quilibet vendere vel emere mittendus est, per priorem, vel cellerarium, vel grangiarium, vel procuratorem mittatur, ne quis potestatem vendendi vel emendi sibi assumat, nisi missus ab eis ad hoc opus, vel prior omnium hoc injunxerit. Quod si fortè aliquis eorum absens fuerit, et necessitas ingruerit, aliorum consilio, quod faciendum est fiat. Cui associetur frater literatus vel alter fidelis.

XII.—De euntibus ad Nundinas, et quomodo ibi se habere debent. Et de Emptione Priori et Procuratoribus ostendenda, et Provisione Hospicii in Urbibus.

Quæcumque domibus nostris necessaria fuerint scripto notificentur fratribus, qui ad nundinas mittuntur, quibus cura emendi assignata est. Ad quod opus de unaquaque domo unum laicum disposuimus et sufficere credimus, et duos literatos tantùm discretos, et quot superaddiderit prior domus. Quicquid emptum fuerit ad nundinas ostendatur priori et cellerario, et procuratori et grangiario antequam tradatur monialibus; nec aliquid foras inde retineatur contra scriptum ordinis. Quicumque ergo conversus nostri ordinis ad nundinas venerit, quamdiu in nundinis fuerit, de nullâ domo religiosâ victum sibi vel equis suis accipiat; sed de suo magis vivat, et eâ mensurâ quâ decet virum ordinis sui. Non enim debet pro se superfluè pisces emere aut delicias quærere, set nec vinum bibere, nisi bene aquatum; et duobus pulmentis sit contentus. Ad opus secularium nec emat nec vendat aliquid; nec per conversum nec per aliquem hominem licet nobis vendere vinum ad tabernam, sive ut vulgò dicitur ad broccam; seu ut linguâ Tautonicâ dicitur, ad tappam, in nostris sive in domibus alienis, nec alicubi omnino. Si quis ad nundinas ierit, exceptis hiis quibus attributa est potestas prioris omnium consilio, reversus, pœnâ fugitivi puniatur, nisi forte consilio prioris domus et aliorum manifestâ necessitate compellente, et non propriâ voluntate rogatus hoc fecerit. Omnino etiam prohibemus ne fratres nostri in urbibus vel nundinis comedant, nisi ubi prior domus suæ vel cellerarius eis providerint et necessitas compulerit. Nec præsumant fratres nostri ordinis separatim hospitari vel cibare, vel potare, nisi communi consilio eorum fiat, necessitate cogente, quod et manifestum fiat in communi capitulo. Si verò aliter fecerint, graviorem pœnam inobedientiæ incurrant. Simili pœnâ puniatur, qui fratrem circumvenit in negocio, vel contumeliis affecerit. Hoc etiam cavendum est, ne quis nostrorum quoquam iturus cibos nostros non bene conditos gustare declinet, ut non longiùs illicitè liceat cibis conditis operam dare.

XIII.—De Serico non emendo.

Nichil de serico ematur à nostris, vel de nostro ad nostrorum opus, vel ad aliquid religioni contrarium et seculi vanitatibus amminiculum; nec etiam ad quodlibet sacerdotale indumentum, nisi constet esse necessarium. Si verò datur, secundùm arbitrium prioris omnium communi utilitati, et usui mancipetur. Hoc idem de yconiis vel aliis sculptilibus dicimus, quæ ad beatæ Mariæ virginis, vel aliorum sanctorum sunt fabricata memoriam. Quæ tamen gratis data, prout de serico prædiximus, ad sororum altare vel hospitum, vel alio apto loco honestè ponenda decernimus.

In vi obedientiæ, et sub anathemate mandamus et præcipimus, ut in unaquaque domorum nostrarum canonicus fratri ad custodiam lanæ associetur, ne aliqua divisio vel separatio lanæ, vel singulorum vellerum vel pellium fiat, antequam ad abbatiam veniat, nisi aliquis canonicus conscius fuerit in remotissimis grangiis, si ratio vel necessitas postulaverit separari. Prohibemus etiam, ne alicujus lana nostræ lanæ associetur, vel vendatur sub nostro nomine.

Non licet alicui fratrum cum aliquo loqui de alio præsente et audiente, undè scandalizetur: ut vitetur peccatum iræ vel odii vel scurrilitatis vel hujusmodi. Caveant artifices et omnes nostri ordinis, ne quis ex malevolentiâ in audientiâ fratris ad quamlibet personam loquatur, unde frater offendatur. Deprehensus in hujusmodi culpâ, in pane et aquâ tribus diebus pœniteat et trinæ disciplinæ in communi fratrum capitulo subjaceat. Fratres, artifices, et quicumque de nostris cystas, vel archas, vel alia servatoria licitè habent ad utensilia sua et recellas suas fideliter servandas, seras habeant, unicuique seræ duæ claves fiant; una quarum erit in manu et potestate prioris domus, ut ei liceat quando et per quoscumque voluerit fideles nostri ordinis scrutari et videre quæcumque continentur sub seris. Caveat tamen ne quis sumat, ipse, vel aliquis alius de omnibus quæ licitè sub illis habentur et continentur seris, sine assensu artificis et aliorum fratrum ad quos pertinent quæ ibidem habentur, sive præsentes sive absentes sint. Caveatur ubique ne quis artifex hospitalis frater fiat, artem suam exercens, nisi causa manifesta exigat summi prioris assensu. Non est congruum ut extra portas monasteriorum nostrorum aliqua domus ad habitandum construatur, nisi animalium, quia periculum animarum inde potest nasci. Quod si quis contra statuta capituli accipere, aliquid emere, vel aliqua ædificia sine consilio et licentiâ ædificare præsumpserit, remotâ omni dispensatione ædificia cadant, expensæ et opera pereant. Cementariis, carpentariis, cum sublime laboraverint, et hiis qui assiduè equitaverint, et canonicis nostris femoralia concedimus usque ad medias tybias, prout visum fuerit expedire; non tamen de panno subtiliori, set quali ratio vel religio postulaverit.

In natali Domini, usque ad octavas, et in Pascha et in Pentecosten similiter potest cervisia mitti fratribus ad grangias manentibus, et pitancia secundùm numerum eorum, qui ibidem fuerint, ut æqualitas omnibus in utroque servetur. Licet etiam superapponi eis duas mensuras vel tres, et tantumdem de pitanciis propter hospites, si supervenerint. In multùm remotis grangiis, cum de abbatiâ non potest haberi cervisia, ematur, prout prior et cæteri viderint religioni expedire. Dolia grangiarum, in quibus cervisia fratrum defertur, majoribus sollempnitatibus moderatæ capacitatis fiant, juxta numerum fratrum, ne mensura excedatur quæ in scriptis continetur. In grangiis nostris cervisiam fieri sine licentiâ magistri prohibemus, nisi aliqua magna potestas, cui nullo modo licet contradici, hoc à suis non à nostris vel per nostros faciat fieri, ad suorum non ad nostrorum opus, et necessitas facti communi capitulo notificetur et examinetur. Qui aliter fecerit, ab eucharistâ separetur, et in ultimo gradu pœniteat, usque ad adventum magistri.

XVII.—De Excussione Bladi, et Numero Ovium Fratribus assignando. Et de Fratre Hospitali, et de Fratribus hospitibus, et Mensura Præbendæ, et Sellis Grangiæ, et Dicis; et fidelibus Mercenariis; et de Decimatione Bladi et Mensuris æqualibus, et de Decimis Ecclesiarum et Blado aliorum.

Statim finito autumpno, provideatur frater fidelis et excussores, qui eant per grangias ad excutiendum de unoquoque blado, quantum toto anno conventui competit; in cæteris grangiis interim excussione cessante, nisi quantum ad seminalia pertinet. Hujus mandati transgressores in ultimo gradu usque ad adventum magistri pœniteant. Grangiarius verò abbatiæ sub hac lege non tenetur. Singulis annis mittendus est aliquis frater fidelis per grangias singulas, qui curam gerat de caseis et butiro, quæ ibidem fuerint, unà cum fratribus, qui ea faciunt. In remotioribus grangiis assignetur fratribus ibidem commorantibus certus numerus ovium ad opus eorum, qui ibidem fuerint mercenarii, secundùm quod mesga ibi habundaverit et secundùm numerum ibidem commanentium; omni superfluitate remotâ, ne ordo religionis vacillet, vel pereat, et abbacia monialium gravetur. Hospitalis frater grangiæ, cum omni diligentiâ curam habeat de anseribus et gallinis et de apibus, melle, et ovis, et de cæteris minutis et majoribus, et diligenter curet, ut et fideliter reserventur et mittantur sanctimonialibus, sicut decet dispensatorem Dei. Similiter canonicis de suis grangiis. Quod si fortè, quod absit, aliter inde fecerit inconsultis majoribus domus, sicut fraudator fratrum et sororum suarum deponatur, et reatum luat. Quod si bene in hiis ministraverit, et ordinem suum servaverit, locum sibi optimum adquirit à Domino Christo. Hoc idem dicimus de grangiariis, ut faciant de omnibus ad curam suam pertinentibus et cæteris fratribus cuicunque addicti ministerio fuerint, et sororibus similiter.

Conversi ad proprias grangias, venientes sicut fratres grangiarum, ita vescantur, nec loquantur cum fratribus nisi cum grangiario et hospitali. Quicumque de fratribus veniens ad aliquam domorum, vel grangiarum nostrarum, caveat ne ultra statutam mensuram præbendam quærat equis suis. Et si quæsierit, non detur ei, nisi primâ nocte, si de longinquo venerit: Venienti enim de longinquo licet aliquid apponi. Qui aliter fecerit, vel quæsierit, in pane et aquà pœniteat, et semel disciplinæ subjaceat, si convictus vel confessus fuerit. Similiter statuta mensura hospitum equis detur, nec superaddatur cuiquam sine consilio procuratorum domus, nisi præpotens vir, vel autentica persona, vel multùm familiaris, cui oportet dari, si supervenerit. In unaquaque grangiarum nostrarum duæ tantùm habeantur sellæ cum humili apparatu. Si verò multùm remota fuerit, tertiam viliorem ibi sustinemus haberi. Provideant etiam cellerarii et procuratores et cæteri, ad quorum curam spectat de subselliis, ut talia fiant, quæ sufficiant tueri læsuram equorum, ne pœnam lædentium equos incurrant.

Decernimus ut per priorem domus sanctimonialium vel canonicorum statuantur tres vel quatuor fratres vel mercenarii fideles, in singulis grangiis videlicet; videlicet grangiarius, hospitalis frater et bubulcus prudentior. Hii quoque quæcumque utiliora viderint mittere studeant ad opus canonicorum, sanctimonialium et fratrum abbatiæ; et quicquid annonæ miserint vel seminaverint, vel ibidem expenderint certo numero et mensurâ fideli. Dica illa dividatur in duo, et una pars deputabitur custodiæ hospitalis fratris, vel alterius ad hoc assignati, et altera grangiario. Et quia hospitalis frater continuè habet esse domi, si convenienter et sane fieri possit, in suâ custodiâ claves grangiæ fideliter serventur, vel in custodiâ alterius fidelis fratris, qui ad hoc propriè assignatus fuerit, et quæ distribuenda sunt, alterius istorum distribuantur testimonio. Opilio etiam, si propè est, potest admitti et admittatur, si fidelis probatur. Quod si fortè eorum aliquis absens fuerit, alii tres faciant quod faciendum est, et redeunti factum indicetur. Hoc idem servetur à priore et sibi associatis, in omnibus hiis quæ ad eos pertinent. Hæc diligenter serventur ab omnibus. Fratres verò qui hæc refutaverint, contemptibiles habeantur et ordinis consortio, nisi pœnituerint, sine misericordiâ priventur. Si verò fideles fratres non habundaverint, fideles mercenarii vices eorum suppleant. Quod si fuerint necessarii et fideles reperti, majori munere remunerentur et gratiâ. Quæcumque pertinentia ad abbatiam de substantia grangiæ facta fuerint, à grangiario, vel aliis fratribus, mercenariis fidelibus absentibus, ipsis notificentur. Similiter ipsis notificetur certus numerus ovium et ter vel quater in anno numerentur à pluribus eorum, ne quis eorum maliloquio possit depravari vel infamari ab aliquo.

Quicumque prædictos seculares in contemptu habuerit, vel eos testes habere refutaverit, vel eis injuriam irrogaverit in contemptu nostræ institutionis, factum priori indicetur, et severiùs puniatur ad terrorem aliorum. Institutio quoque nostri generalis capituli est, quòd in collectione omnium frugum præponantur fratres fideles, clerici vel laici, qui diligenter et fideliter deciment, tam blados quàm legumina; per grangias, et decimas ponant separatim, et cum de communi consilio fuerint excutienda, primo per aliquem fratrem fidelem clericum vel laicum ad hoc assignatum excutiantur decimæ; et summa inde proveniens annotetur dica inter fratrem prædictum et grangiarium. Deinde cum reliquæ fruges fuerint excutiendæ, quod semper et ubique de communi consilio fiat, provideatur fidelis unus et discretus, qui omnes circueat grangias et excussioni intendat, et singulas quarterias annotet fideliter per dicam, contra fratrem granarii abbatiæ. Et statim post autumpnum circueant procuratores omnes grangias, et videant omnes maias, et faciant implere usque ad summum quas potuerint; Nec sumat inde aliquis nisi de communi consilio, et per visum fratris excussioni assignati, qui nunquam aliquam maiam relinquat semi excussam, set si ipsum oportuerit, ab unâ ad aliam transire grangiam, maiam undè excussit impleat usque ad summum de aliquo, donec redeat ad excuciendum.

Provideatur etiam per commune consilium, quot equi necessarii sint ad grangias singulas ad habendum, et quæ mensura danda sit in præbendâ, et quot mensuræ faciunt quarteriam. Similiter provideatur de bobus, quot sint, et quot dabitur una garba; et quot garbæ faciunt unam quarteriam, et quo die incœperint dare; et quanto tempore dabunt. De hospitibus supervenientibus grangiis provideatur, quæ mensura dabitur eis; et diligenter notetur quot et qui fuerint, ut indè, sicut de omnibus supradictis, ratio in annuo capitulo domus reddatur. Institutum est etiam, ut diligenter, per dicam, notetur quantum ex omni genere bladi vel leguminis expendetur in semine. Quoniam scriptum legimus, "Pondus et pondus, mensura et mensura, utrumque est abominatio apud Deum;" in vi obedientiæ statuimus, ut modii et mensuræ, quibus annonæ et legumina mensurantur in abbaciâ, et in grangiis non discrepent, set omnino unitatem teneant, ut omnis fraus excludatur. Contra quod qui fecerit, deprehensus furti crimine judicetur, et ab ordine sine remissione removeatur, prout culpa et vita ejus exigit, nisi aliqua causa rationabilis culpam excusaverit. Cavendum summopere est ne decimæ ecclesiarum nostrarum cum alio blado nostro ponantur, ne ignoremus quid de labore nostro percipimus. Nullus suscipiat bladum alicujus secularis in custodiam alicubi, infra clausuras nostras, nisi per licentiam prioris et consilio majorum domus.

Fæmina non ingrediatur curtem grangiarum nostrarum, nisi præcepto prioris, nec loquatur aliquis solus cum muliere. Mulieres autem in campis non in domibus parietem habentibus mulgeant oves nostras, et quantum potest vitentur juvenculæ et formosæ. Nec ullo modo appropinquent eis fratres nostri, set habeant pueros fideles, qui videant et corrigant malè mulgentes. Illæ verò, quæ conductæ sunt ad metendum, nullo modo introire clausuras nostras permittantur, set habeant domum hostium deforis habentem. Frater verò, qui præest cibis earum, habeat aliquem fidelem mercenarium, qui ministret eis quæ ministranda sunt; et habeat foramen intra clausuram nostram breve et arctum, per quod introspicere tantùm possit et videre, qualiter ministraverit eis, et nichil ibi loquatur. Ille verò qui præest labori earum in campis, habeat aliquem maturum laicum, qui diligenter attendat labori earum, et corrigat, quæ corrigendæ sunt, sive de verbo inordinato, sive de negligentiâ operis. Hoc autem caveant fratres ne jungantur eis in aliquo labore, nec nimis in viciniâ earum laborent. Licet tamen fratri laboris, si viderit eis malè agentes, vel ociocè se habentes, cum laico qui præest illis de culpâ earum loqui, et arguere malè agentes verbo non verbere.

Decretalem epistolam bonæ memoriæ Alexandri papæ, necnon et domini Innocentii papæ sequentis, statuentes præcipimus, quod si quis ex professis nostris literatis vel illiteratis violentam manum in canonicum vel fratrem injecerit, et super hoc convictus, vel confessus fuerit, excommunicatus denuntietur, et pro excummunicato habeatur, donec à summo priore absolvatur, cui soli competit hujusmodi absolutio. Pedes etiam mittatur ad eum absolvendus. Si verò in virum alterius religionis violentas manus injecerit; per prælatos utriusque domus absolvendus absolvatur. Si in clericum secularem, sicut excommunicatus habeatur, usque ad adventum domini papæ vel legati in partes istas, prout magister ex consilio ordinis providerit, expectet. Nullus enim hujusmodi sacrilegos potest absolvere, nisi dompnus papa vel ejus legati, vel abbates, vel priores professionum à summo pontifice privilegiati. Nostros percussores esse omnino prohibemus, vel in aliquem verbere desævire, pueros tamen flagello corripere in caritate, cui licet, non prohibemus. Quod si aliquis nostrorum negligens vel contemptor hujusmodi mandati fuerit; et aliquem læserit verbere, vel graviore vulnere vulneraverit, et nos vel nostros in causam aliquis induxerit, pro hujusmodi crimine, omnino prohibemus, ne quis de nostris pro eo loquatur, quasi pro fratre; nec à nostris frater habeatur, vel ejus culpa tueatur. Et si quis eum vexare voluerit de culpâ quam commisit suâ dementiâ, à secularibus non à nostris quasi laicus tractetur judicetur.

XIX.—De Curtatione Equorum.

Omnes equi nostri custentur, qui destinantur ad quadrigas vel ad carucas. Curtentur etiam et circumtondeantur caudæ et colli comæ, ut despecti et deformes videantur. Qui verò neglexerit, inobedientiæ pœnâ puniatur, et pœniteat in pane et aquâ quarta et sexta feria. Similiter qui non tondendos totonderint.

XX.—De Læsione Animalium.

Quicumque de nostris, malevolentiâ, vel incuriâ, vel præsumptione, bovem vel asinum vel equum, vel pullos equorum nimio pondere vel indiscretè equitando læserit, vel quolibet alio modo in quadrigis vel aratris, aut hujusmodi afflixerit, ut moriantur, vel inutiles ad laborem reddiderit; quasi dissipator domus suæ in jejunio et verbere graviter pœniteat. Vera pœnitentis compunctio et humilitas et obedientia pœnitentiæ gravitatem poterit mitigare.

XXI.—De lædentibus seipsos.

Omnes qui nimio pondere, vel labore indiscreto vel immoderato se læserint, in pane et aquâ pœniteant; et in capitulo vapulent.

Qui non occurrerint audito signo ad furnum, suâ negligentiâ, uno pulmento careant, si non causa rationabilis iter impiederit. Nocturnum verò iter ad furnum interdicimus canonicis et alibi extra ambitum domorum nostrarum, nisi manifesta necessitas compellat. Nec minus pistor caveat tempore missarum pulsare tabulam ad furnum ubi multitudo fratrum affuerit.

XXIII.—De Secularibus rendutis.

Seculares qui se reddiderint in domibus nostris et omnem proprietatem reliquerint, propter Deum eligentes novissimum locum in domo Domini, in victu et vestitu sibi constituto, æqualem portionem habeant, quemadmodum et alii nostri ordinis conversi. Super eos fratribus nulla potestas attribuitur, set in labore æqualitas. Priori et cellerario et subcellerario eorum obedientia assignetur. Et cum dormierint in Domino, omnino eis officium exhibeatur per omnia, sicut pro canonico pro abjectiore vitâ, quam sibi eligerunt pro Christo. Quicunque nostrorum hæc vel alia nostri ordinis instituta in irritum duxerit, pro culpâ inobedientiæ graviùs judicetur.

XXIV.—De Prohibitione Causarum secularium et Negociorum, et Fidejussione non faciendâ. Et Parentibus non visitandis, et Familiaritate Mulierum et inclusarum vitandâ, et Ortu Infamiæ cavendo.

Caveatur ab omnibus nostri ordinis, ne quis secularium causarum ventilationibus vel judiciis intersit, aliquem juvans vel gravans. Prece verò non precio apud judicem vel adversarium quemlibet subvenire sustinemus. Verum etiam testimonium veritati perhibere, ubi ratio et religio permiserit, minimè contradicimus vel prohibemus, nisi justa occasio impediat. Mandatum domini papæ, et legati et episcopi diœcesani excipimus. Non enim licet cuiquam de nostris parentum vel aliorum secularium negociis intendere; nec voluptatibus nec vanitatibus seculi operam dantibus curam impendee, nec cujuslibet secularis fidejussor fieri, quin pociùs à causis et à negociis eorum, qui mundo nonà Deo militare gaudent, decet se alienos facere, quicumque Deo non mundo devotè student placere. Quicumque ergò hujusmodi vinculo fidejussorio se astringere, vel mutuare, vel accommodare, sine communi consilio domus suæ præsumpserit, alienatum se à tramite sanctæ religionis noverit. Prioribus enim verò et præpositis cæterisque omnibus nostri ordinis omnino interdicimus, ne quis eorum, pro cujuscumque debito accommodato, vel mutuato, fidejussoriâ sponsione intricare, vel illaqueare se præsumat. Nam ipsi priori omnium hoc minimè est licitum, ne domini papæ sententiæ obviare convincatur et graviorem ipsius sententiam incurrat.

Caveant omnes nostræ professionis et ordinis, exuta veste seculari, et habitu religionis induto, visitandi gratia parentes, ac notos seculares adire, nisi fortè ad aliquod opus necessarium mittantur, et via qua gradiuntur transitum præbeat nostris, per eos qui familiaritate eis juncti sunt. Nec apud eos pernoctare licet, nisi nox proxima hoc fieri postulet, vel infirmitas aut alia manifesta occasio compellat; seu data vel accepta regulariter licentia à prælato suo, culpam excuset. Illam verò domum, in qua mulieres fuerint, cum quibus aliqua fuerit copula voluptatis vel justa vel injusta, dum seculo fruerentur; omnem ingressam interdicimus et sermonem cum eis. Caveant etiam omnes nostri ordinis, si fortè venerint ad aliquam domorum, ubi fæminæ sunt, ne unquam solus cum sola aliqua hora scienter permaneat, vel cum ea sermonem habeat. Qui verò aliter scienter fecerit, timeat ne pro tanta transgressione anathema sit. Hoc idem dicimus tam de inclusis quam cæteris mulieribus, si quis nostrum arte vel studio peccandi fecerit vel deliberatione.

Penitus prohibemus ne aliquis ordinis nostri ad domos inclusarum, vel monialium alterius ordinis visitandi gratiâ ire præsumat; nec etiam pro domus suæ negocio absque convenienti testimonio, et tunc præcipiente priore. Et si, quod absit, alicujus nostrum de inhonestâ quarumlibet mulierum frequentatione, famâ laboraverit, in communi capitulo à priore ei ad domum illam omnis interdicatur accessus, ubi tam detestabilis inhonestas fieri perhibetur. Si verò huic interdicto obviare præsumpserit, indè convictus, tanquam de facto judicetur. Si quis verò ausu temerario importunus extiterit, et parentes suos seculares vel quoslibet alios visitare contenderit, nullus ei adquiescat, nec caballus nec quælibet viatoribus necessaria concedantur, nec quoquam longiùs ire permittatur sine fideli comite, ne quod ei non est licitum, licitum sibi faciat. Si verò prior domus vel quilibet alius assensum præbuerit ei, ut illicitum iter arripiat, in aliâ domo satisfaciat in ultimo gradu, secundùm quod in communi capitulo à majoribus diffinitum fuerit. Omnino etiam prohibemus, ne aliquis nostrorum petat per se vel per alium à prioribus vel ab aliis donari secularibus parentibus suis, aliquid de domibus nostris vel aliqua privata munuscula cuiquam transmittere. Hæc contra facientes, sicut ordinis transgressores, graviùs judicentur et puniantur verbere et jejunio, in loco inferiori. Priori tamen et cellerario manifestâ paupertate coactis, subvenire in aliquo non interdicimus.

Nostrarum domorum procuratores seculares viros et mulieres, bonæ vitæ, et honestæ famæ, corporis ægritudine detentos, nobis et nostris vinculo familiaritatis astrictos, in infirmitate visitare non omittant; verba consolationis et animarum salutis eisdem devotè seminantes. Necessitatibus verò eorum, et justis peticionibus honestis ac devotis benignum studeant et conentur impendere favorem, prout ordo religionis permiserit et ratio postulaverit, omni cupiditatis et avariciæ notâ postpositâ. Omnibus insuper tam pauperibus, quàm potentibus, apud nos sibi sepulturam eligentibus et petentibus, honorem sepulturæ volumus exhiberi, et concedimus unicuique modo debito et honesto, salvo jure quarumcumque matricum ecclesiarum.

Quoquam ituris canonicis et fratribus assignetur terminus rationabilis redeundi. Quod si aliquis longiùs vel alibi ierit, vel diuturniorem moram fecerit, quàm licentiam accepit, in ultimo gradu usque ad adventum magistri pœniteat, nisi rationabilis causa eum valeat excusare. Quicumque verò sine licentiâ vel prohibitus per se extra abbatiam eundi quoquam iter arripuerit, pro fugitivo habeatur et ad magistrum pedes mittatur. In itinere, quandocumque necesse fuerit, possunt preces ad horas breviari et solummodo "Salvos fac servos et ancillas" dici, et "Animæ fidelium" pro defunctis. Nullus hospitetur in vicinis burgis, nisi ad proprium hospicium domus suæ. Si tamen solus fuerit, poterit hospitari hospicio alterius domus, si ibi canonicum vel fratrem invenerit. Cavendum est summopere, ne aliquis nostræ professionis, nisi pro necessariâ causâ, vel per mandatum magistri, vel licentiâ prioris sui, ad festa dedicationum ecclesiarum ordinis nostri, vel alia minùs honesta ire præsumat; nec ibi comedere vel inordinatè bibere attemptet.

XXVII.—De Furtum vel aliud Flagitium facientibus.

Quicumque fratrum nostrorum manifestè deprehensi fuerint in furto, vel in conspiratione, vel in incendio, graviori culpæ subdantur vel ejiciantur. Quod si qui nostrorum cum aliquo sic ejecto exierint, vel pro talium defensione favore vel consensu projecti fuerint, nullatenus nisi sub eadem sententiâ recipiantur. Ipsa quidem sententia in unumquemque culpabilem, secundùm modum culpæ extendatur, vel aggravetur, ponderatis ubique discretè culparum modis et corporum valetudinibus. Vasa quibus excommunicatus usus fuerit frangantur, aut pauperibus erogentur. Set et antequam talis suscipiatur in capitulo, ante fores oratorii jaceat in terrâ discooperto capite per quantum tempus ei à magistro fuerit injunctum. Et sic similiter vapulet in capitulo. Hora prandii talium sit tardior, mensura cibi minor, hora quietis brevior, labor gravior, et ubique locus inferior, et status dejectior. Qui verò in leviori culpa sunt intra refectorium, loco, quo visum fuerit, comedere possunt, tenuiore cybo et parciore potu contenti.

Deliberamus, ut si quando contigerit, quod Deus avertat, quod ab aliquibus nostræ professionis, viro et muliere, mutuo fuerit perpetratum carnalis commercii flagitium, vir tanti criminis reus, mox ut fuerit deprehensus, omni occasione et dilatione postpositâ, etiam absente magistro regulari habitu exutus incarceretur, vel ab ordine ejiciatur, nunquam postea aliquatenus inter nostros recipiatur. Mulier autem propter vitandum ordinis scandalum, ne detur ei licentia vagandi in seculo, decernimus, ut in domuncula infra curtem monialium longè à cæteris habitaculis parata maneat inclusa, nunquam inde ante mortem exitura, set et ibi jejuniis et orationibus et cæteris gravis pœnitentiæ remediis tanti reatus maculas diluitura, secundùm provisionem prioris omnium per fenestram tantùm suæ vitæ accipiat ministrationem.

Si quis frater vel soror contumax fuerit, nec ullo modo regulari disciplinæ subjacere voluerit, et ita incorrigibilis permanserit, generali capitulo domus representetur, ibique frater regulari habitu exuatur, et à consorcio nostro ejiciatur. Quod si fortè à consortio nostro pro spe conversionis suæ non ejicitur, et ille incorrigibilis in malitiâ suâ perseveraverit, et morte præoccupatus fuerit, non fiat officium defunctorum pro eo, sicut pro fratre, vel sorore, nisi in infirmitate positus dicat devotè se pœnitere. Nec in martyrologio nomen ejus scribatur, quicumque ipse sit. Fiet tamen pro eo officium sicut pro hospite defuncto. Si quis autem nostrorum, ordinem vel institutiones nostras corrumpere præsumpserit, vel in deterius mutare, terciò ammonitus et correptus, si non resipuerit, exutâ veste regulari à consortio nostro ejiciatur. Quod si pœnitentiâ ductus ad januam perseveraverit, si recipiendus est, extra chorum primo anno pœnitebit, si clericus est. Secundè, in ultimo gradu, quousque prior domus eum superiori gradu judicaverit dignum. Noviciis verò post reversionem suam secundo anno prior erit. Si verò novicius fugitivus redierit et recipiendus sit, per totum annum iterum novicius permanebit. Clerico tamen, qui futurus est canonicus, poterit sententiâ moderari, si prior domus viderit expedire, et de culpâ fugæ satisfaciat. Si verò laicus, pro hujusmodi culpâ ejectus, pœnitens redierit; si recipiendus est, in ultimo gradu per annum satisfaciat, et abstinentiâ escæ, et verbere castigetur, caritate dictante.

Quicumque capituli nostri vel ordinis secreta, vel alicujus personæ, de nostris, occulta sive vera sive falsa fuerint, secularibus revelaverint, vel falso crimen priori suo, vel consocio, seu omnibus vel pluribus palùm imposuerit; vel apud seculares diffamaverit, undè scandalum ordini oriatur, excommunicetur, et ex quo id verum esse constiterit, tanquam excommunicatus extra capitulum sit; et ubique in ultimo gradu sedeat, et ab omni officio ecclesiastico suspensus, nec ante adventum summi prioris absolvendus. In adventu cujus eadem pœna puniatur, qua ille quem accusavit vel diffamavit puniendus esset, si de illo crimine convictus fuisset.

Quicumque canonicus, vel frater deprehensus fuerit in furto, vel de eo sufficienter convictus ejiciatur, in gradum pristinum nunquam recipiendus. Quicumque verò in incontinentia captus fuerit, vel super ea sufficienter convictus; vel qui sanguinem à canonico vel fratre violenter extraxerit, ad magistrum pedes mittatur. Quicumque autem frater immundicia convictus, vel publicè confessus fuerit, à consorcio nostro, numquam suscipiendus, expellatur.

XXXIII.—De Fugitivis et eorum Pœnis.

Fugitivi nostri ordinis, et furtum facientes, et infra xl. dies non revertentes, vinculo anathematis astricti habeantur. Si verò infra primam ebdomadam fugitivus pœnitens redierit, uno anno in ultimo gradu pœnitebit, secunda et quarta feria uno pulmento contentus, vi. feria in pane et aqua, nisi fortè festivitas celebris occurrerit, vel infirmitas, vel debilitas postulaverit. Et quot diebus fugitivus extitit, in communi capitulo domus tot disciplinis subjacebit. Completo anno, si prior domus viderit expedire, in gradu primæ conversionis suæ poterit restitui. Si secunda vel tercia vel quarta vel quinta ebdomada, vel etiam infra, pœnitens redierit, secundùm formam præscriptam pœnitentis, unius anni et moram reversionis suæ pœnitebit, excepto quod pro tanta transgressione quindecim disciplinis subjacebit, et communione privabitur, quousque in primum gradum restituatur, nisi pro imminenti morte ei subveniatur. Verumptamen, peracto primo anno, si de transgressione sua graviùs affligitur, et ordinis ac suæ professionis devotus executor extiterit, semel vel bis ad perceptionem corporis et sanquinis Domini per singulos annos poterit admitti, quousque in primum gradum restituatur. Quod si fortè completis xl. diebus pœnitens redierit, in ultimo gradu, secundùm formam prædictam pœnitentium pœnitebit, per omnia, excepto quod in ultimo gradu, quo pœnitens recipitur, perseverabit, pro sententia anathematis quam incurrere non formidavit; licet tamen verò pœnitentibus et de transgressione sua graviter dolentibus, misericorditer subvenire in omnibus et parcere; consilio tamen prioris omnium, vel eo absente, consilio discretorum ordinis nostri rigorem zelantium.

Hujusmodi etiam ad communionem potest admitti semel vel bis in anno secundo, pœnitentiæ anno peracto. Post secundum verò annum, sicut cæteri fratres, ad eukaristiam accedere licet; furtum verò vel rapinam, aut incendium, aut hujusmodi abhominabile quid facientes, in omnibus graviori vindictæ subjaceant; videlicet jejuniis, et vestitu et in cæteris, et alieni fiant â perceptione corporis et sanguinis Domini, nisi morti proximo misericorditer subveniatur, vel post plures annos certa pœnitentis religio communi consilio aliquam misericordiam mereatur. Hæc omnia fiant discreto moderamine, ne religio vacillet, vel pereat. Fugitivus etiam, quando recipitur, ubique erit ultimus omnium. Postea verò, si clericus est, poterit prior omnium licentiam cantandi et legendi ei dare, et in choro ultimum ponere in ordine clericorum vel sacerdotum, si sacerdos fuerit: si autem humiliato ei locum altiorem aliquando indulgere voluerit, computet tempus, quo foris moratus est, et tantum temporis semper amittat de ipso ordine, nunquam recepturus. Publicè pœnitentes de domo suâ remoti, non ponantur in aliquâ obedientiâ.

INCIPIUNT INSTITUTIONES AD MONIALES ORDINIS PERTINENTES.

FRATRES nostri primi et novissimi, qui vota Deo voverunt, et vinculo professionis nostræ religionis se astrinxerunt, cum omni sollicitudine, ancillarum Christi simul et sponsarum necessitatibus subveniant; ab ipso Christo, si fideliter eis ministraverint, misericordiam et gratiam recepturi. Negligentes verò et nostra instituta parvipendentes, à consorcio earum excludantur, et divinæ ultioni subjaceant, si non dignâ satisfactione pœniteant. Sollicicius curetur, ut omnia, quæ necessaria fuerint sanctimonialibus, celeriùs et fideliùs eis administrentur, et oratorium et cæteræ domus earum ornatiùs, accuraciùs et honestiùs quam viris præparentur et fiant; et quicumque hoc neglexerit, nisi ciciùs resipuerit, potestatis suæ dignitate careat, et per annum in ultimo gradu pœniteat, et singulis diebus Deus misereatur dicat, laicus verò, Pater noster.

II.—De Decimatione Agnorum, et totâ Substantiâ Domus sub Custodiâ Monialium servandâ; et Pannis Noviciorum, et de Lanâ ipsarum, et Custodibus Operum illarum, et de Firmis intromittendis.

STATUENTES præcipimus, ut singulis annis per singulas domos nostras agni nostri fideliter decimentur. Hæc decimatio assignetur fidelissimo fratri in custodiâ, qui studeat multiplicare fœtus. Et provideatur ei locus pascualis optimus, qui sufficiat illis ovibus. Si verò minus eis pascualia habundaverint, districtè et discretè cum aliis ovibus domus communicent in pasturis, et in cæteris necessariis. Lanæ quarum et lanæ precium non erit in potestate quatuor procuratorum domorum nostrarum, set in propriâ custodiâ sanctimonialium ad ædificia ecclesiæ et domorum suarum, cum multiplicata fuerit pecunia, et ad reparationem earum, et ad utensilia labori earum necessaria, et ad cæteras minutas necessitudines, quibus religio earum rationabiliter carere non potest. Quod verò superhabundaverit necessitatibus earum de pecuniâ illâ, assensu præpositarum et aliarum, curam domus gerentium, in necessarios usus pauperum Christi, qui hospicio suscipiuntur ad nocturnam requiem, ut habeant molliora strata, et unde cooperiantur, expendetur. Reliquum verò quod superhabundaverit de prædictâ pecuniâ, in necessarios usus domus assensu præpositarum et aliarum expendi debebit. Ad comparanda verò quæ necessaria fuerint sanctimonialibus, cum prædicta pecunia, vel ædificanda, provideantur fratres duo fidelissimi per magistrum, literatus et illiteratus, et cauti in vendendis et emendis, et faciendis et distribuendis, qui quæcumque fecerint de illa pecunia, notum facient procuratoribus domus et scrutatoribus, et utantur eorum consiliis in agendis, si ipsi, quod absit, non fuerint sororum rationabilibus desideriis impedimento. Et unus eorum, qui denariis earum servandis præponitur, denarios per fenestram illis tradat, præsente priore, vel vices ejus gerente. De prædicta verò pecunia caulæ ovium præparabuntur, et victus earum, cum hyemalis asperitas ingruerit, comparabitur, si prata sui juris non habuerint. Quod si fortè clade vel alio infortunio prædictis ovibus detrimentum contigerit, pelles et carnes earum reserventur ad dampni remedium, et ad nichil aliud. Hoc idem de cæteris ovibus domus fideliùs servetur.

Similiter statuimus notum fieri præpositis et cæteris de universa substantia domus per fenestrarios, et eos qui pecuniam prædictam earum distribuunt, et procurant à quatuor procuratoribus domus; quia universa pecunia domus in auro et argento, et in cæteris, quæ ad sollicitudinem earum pertinent, sub earum cura et custodia suis usibus et canonicorum et fratrum reservabuntur, sicut alibi decretum est. Ita quidem quod nichil auri vel argenti, pannorum vel victualium foris retineatur; nec aliquid de firmis vel redditibus expendatur, priusquam domi portentur et ponantur in custodia sanctimonialium. Set omnes firmæ et redditus, qui debentur domui, memoriæ commendentur scripto, intus et extra; et assignetur in singulis domibus canonicus fidelis, qui omnes firmas et redditus recipiat, et eos in præsentia prioris reportet, et coram eo et cæteris procuratoribus domus, vel vices eorum agentibus monialibus tradat. Sustinemus tamen ut singularum domorum monialium procuratores, triginta vel quadraginta solidos ad amplius à monialibus acceptos, ad minutas necessitates explendas, sub sua deforis custodia de consensu illarum vicissim reservari faciant et expendant, propter frequentes accessus ad fenestram evitandos. Caveant etiam sibi singuli et universi; quia privilegium meretur amittere, qui sibi concessa abutitur potestate.

Pannos quoque noviciorum, tam clericorum, quàm laicorum, et aurum, et argentum, et libros, et quaslibet reculas eorum, nullus præsumat extra clausuram earum retinere; set sub earum custodia serventur, exceptis femoralibus, et camisiis, et calciamentis, quæ secundùm dispositionem prioris et cellerarii distribuantur. Nec panes triticei ad furnum distribuantur, antequam moniales eos receperint. Quicumque de nostris contra hoc usurpaverit, et aliquid eorum, quæ sub custodia sanctimonialium esse decrevimus, ad comedendum vel potandum, vel aliter pro voluntate expendendum in earum detrimentum extra clausuram earum retinere præsumpserit, sicut privilegii domini papæ contemptor, et nostræ institutionis transgressor reatum luat, et furti pœna puniatur, et ita ut infidelis habeatur et judicetur, et qualibet vi. feria, in pane et aqua extra ordinem suum usque ad adventum magistri pœniteat; nam universa substancia domus de jure eis debetur. Hoc idem servetur in domibus canonicorum per se manentium, ut omnia scilicet sub certa serventur custodia.

PROVIDEANTUR ex parte sanctimonialium tres religiosæ, et discretæ personæ; quarum custodiæ sigillum commune et pecunia domus committatur, in auro et argento, et in cæteris, quæ sub manu sanctimonialium esse decrevimus, quæ habeant diversas claves diversis seris, ne possit archa pecuniæ aperiri, vel pecunia distribui, aliqua earum absente vel ignorante. Una earum pannos inscidere potest, et ad jussum præpositæ ordinatè distribuere. Ad quarum etiam curam spectat de pannis abluendis, et resarciendis vel mutandis. Quod si aliquid de auro vel argento, necessitate cogente, expensum fuerit à fratribus, antequam ad sorores intromittatur, præpositæ demonstrabitur in quibus vel qua necessitate expensum fuerit scripto vel mandato, et sororibus notificetur curam domus gerentibus. Similiter etiam in communi capitulo prioribus. Priore omnium præsente, nisi priùs circatoribus fuerit demonstratum. Quibus quæcumque venduntur vel distribuuntur demonstrari oportet, et nichil ex industria celari. Hoc idem inter canonicos seperatim habentes servetur. Quicquid auri vel argenti, vel pannorum, vel hujusmodi datum fuerit, vel à nostris adquisitum custodiæ sororum et dominio deputabitur, sicut et canonicis in domibus eorum. Universa etiam substantia domus præpositæ et cæteris majoribus, quæ sub ea fuerint, curam domus gerentibus, manifesta fiat ab hiis qui exteriorum curam habuerint. Nec quisquam audeat contra earum rationabilem assensum aliquid erogare super hiis omnibus, quæ custodiæ et dominatui earum debentur.

De denariis monialium ad includendum eas, fossa, et muro, vel sepi annuatim tres marcæ excipiantur donec inclusionis securitas fiat. Hoc namque summopere curetur vel per fossata et sepes vel per murata, vel quomodo meliùs fieri poterit, ne aliquis illicitus accessus pateat intrandi ad sanctimoniales vel exeundi. Nec parcatur sumptibus domus, quin excludantur visus et accessus omnium ab eis. Curtem earum nullus ingrediatur, nisi manifesta causa compellat, majorum ipsius domus præcepto. Qui verò proprio arbitrio domos vel curtem earum ingreditur, illis vescientibus, culpam luat in alia domo nostri ordinis in area refectorii; xl. diebus, sine mapula comedat, secunda, quarta, sexta feria in pane et aqua; cæteris diebus uno contentus pulmento sine omni pitancia. Ter in capitulo unaquaque ebdomada graviori puniatur verbere. Quod si ferre noluerit, habitu nostro expoliatus, à consortio nostro ejiciatur. Quod si aliquis majori dementia arreptus, mandata aut munuscula, vel scripta cuiquam sororum nostrarum, per aliquem vel per aliquam hospitum, occultè direxerit vel impertiri præsumpserit, vel ab aliqua nostrarum hæc vel hujusmodi aliqua arte susceperit; si quis reus super hoc deprehensus fuerit, in omnibus graviori vindictæ subjaceat, in alia domo in ultimo gradu pœniteat, prout prior omnium viderit expedire, ita ut alii timorem habeant et caveant. Quod si pœnitere renuerit, à consortio nostro cum omni dedecore pœnali, et notâ infamiæ, et improperii, quasi sacrilegus ejiciatur. Hoc idem fiat de sororibus, si ad aliquem vel aliquam, sive de nostris, sive alienis inconsulto priore omnium mandata inordinata direxerit. Excepto quod pro tali delicto, vel alio nulla de nostris propter scandalum ejicitur, set incarceratur, vel satis graviter alio modo punitur.

V.—De Prohibitione Loquelæ nostrorum cum Monialibus.

Si quis nostrorum, sive clericus sive laicus, matrem vel aliquam consanguineam in nostra congregatione habuerit, numquam cum eo loquatur, ne fiat nuncia malefida alicujus. Sub anathemate quoque prohibemus ne aliquis de nostris, cum aliqua nostrarum sermonem habeat, excepto priore omnium et fenestrario et sacerdote, dum ei curâ confessionis vel inunctionis injungitur, nisi præsente magistro vel viris venerabilibus in capitulo, vel pro negocio domus ad magnam fenestram, vel prædicando verbum Dei in ecclesia, pariete interposito inter viros et mulieres. Et si quis canonicus vel frater accesserit ad fenestram domus suæ sine assensu prioris domus, vel vices ejus supplentis, et ibi loquatur cum monialibus vel sororibus, tribus diebus in pane et aqua jejunet, et ter in capitulo vapulet. Eadem pœnitentia infligatur inordinatè dantibus licentiam. Quicumque sermonem habuerit cum aliqua sanctimonialium, vel sororum in curte earum, ab ordine suo in ultimo gradu pœniteat, castigatus cibo et verbere secundùm modum culpæ. Hoc idem teneatur tam de monialibus quam de sororibus, vel ad aliam domum transferatur monacha vel soror culpam luitura. Quæ loquenda sunt necessaria in utroque sexu ad fenestram versatilem, ubi victualia secularium ministrantur, loquantur fidelibus, prout convenit, testibus assistentibus. Furtiva verò colloquia duorum, sine regulari teste, et ea frequentare curantes, in omni conventu bonorum viles habeantur, et à consortio fidelium projiciantur.

VI.—De Constructione Fenestrarum versatilium, Portarum, et parvarum Fenestrarum; et Loquela ibidem; et Ingressu Domus Fenestræ prohibito. Et de Igne non petendo Nocte à Sororibus.

Fenestræ, per quas danda et recipienda dantur, et recipiuntur, ea arte fiant; ne viri à sororibus, vel sorores à viris videantur; fiat etiam janua quæ quadrigis et cæteris grandioribus pateat, et seris et fidelissimis custodibus intus et extra muniatur. Fenestra verò ubi sanctimoniales cum parentibus loquuntur, longitudinem unius digiti habeat et latitudinem, non tantum pollicis, et in circuitu ferri lamina muniatur. Similiter et fenestra confessionis fiat. Ibique nostræ cum parentibus loquantur, et cum propinquis secularibus vel alterius religionis, aliqua teste præsente, semel vel bis in anno, si ratio dictet. Omnes enim sui ordinis amatrices loqui possunt cum patribus et matribus, fratribus et sororibus secularibus, filiis et filiabus privatim ad fenestram; et etiam cum propinquis consanguineis suis maturæ ætatis, duabus testibus præsentibus et audientibus, semel vel bis in anno. Et si qua auctentica persona cum sanctimonialibus loqui voluerit, in communi capitulo loquatur, multis audientibus, cum nulla privatim, priore omnium absente, nisi ad fenestram, et hoc tantùm cum parentibus suis, si fortè aliquam cum nostris habuerint. Cum extraneis nostras loqui non permittimus, qui mares fuerint, nisi fortè in communi capitulo, cunctis audientibus, si necessitas compulerit, pro reverentia personæ magnæ auctoritatis vel potestatis. Fratres verò quibus custodia hospicii committitur, vel assistant fenestræ versatili, si assistere præsumpserint fenestræ parvulæ, quæ fabricatur ad loquendum cum sororibus, ut eas audiant vel loquantur cum ipsis, gladio excommunicationis feriantur, et gravi ultione pœnitentes culpam luant, si in ordine permanserint. Eadem pœna infligatur insidiantibus licitè loquentibus ad magnam fenestram de negociis domus. Similiter quicumque nostrorum ausu temerario contra hoc ire præsumpserint. Hoc idem teneatur in sexu fæmineo. Hostiis quidem et fenestris, magnis et parvis, per quas ingressus et accessus, vel visus patere potest ad sorores, apponantur seræ fidelissimæ intus et foris, quarum claves habeat soror cauta et fidelissima; cui associetur alia non minus cauta, nec minus fida, et è regione fidelis frater.

Horum sollicitudine fenestræ et portæ firmentur et reserentur, tempore congruo, propter illicitos ingressus et egressus nocte vel die. Fenestræ autem versatiles, per quas cybaria communiter emittuntur, vix duorum pedum fiant in altitudine vel in latitudine, videlicet trium digitorum latitudine ablatâ hinc et inde. Si ampliores repertæ fuerint, prior et cellerarius, grangiarius, et carpentarius, et eorum solacii, simul etiam quibus custodia fenestræ committitur, à perceptione corporis et sanguinis Domini priventur; et per totum annum singulis ebdomadibus duobus diebus in pane et aquâ pœniteant; canonicis verò et fratribus ingressum in domum fenestræ interdicimus,, nisi pro negocio domus; vel fortè cum conferendum fuerit de expensis domus in multorum et majorum præsentiâ; exceptis hiis qui deputantur ad fenestræ custodiam, quemamdodum moniales è regione deputantur ad eandem. Qui aliter fecerit, sicut de furto pœniteat. Subcellerario tamen licet ibi, sub silentio, juvare ad quæque pondera. Omnino prohibemus ne quis ignem nocte petet à sororibus, nisi fortè lumen fratrum casu extinctum fuerit, vel alia aliqua manifesta necessitas compellat; et tunc tribus præsentibus detur. Similiter et per fenestram versatilem nocte dari permittimus tribus præsentibus.

Duæ moniales ad minus moribus maturæ et religiosæ assignentur, et assiduè assistant magnæ fenestræ versatili; quarum una principaliter sermonem ibi habeat, et principalem potestatem super victualibus ibidem servandis et distribuendis. Habeat etiam claves archarum et armariorum ibidem constructorum, et fenestræ de nocte, quas inde recedens, alteri moniali ei assignatæ, ut audiat et intelligat quæ verbo vel opere ibidem fiunt, committat, non sorori. Una earum missis et capitulo una die intersit, alia altera. Nulli nostrarum ibidem loqui permittimus, nisi plures præsentes et audientes associatæ ei fuerint. Sorores aliæ, dantes vel recipientes aliquid ad magnam fenestram ibidem, nichil loquantur. Præpositæ et cellerario sine scrutatrice comite, non ingrediantur domum fenestræ nisi ad rationandum de expensâ pecuniæ, et hoc ubi versatiles habentur fenestræ. Soror autem fenestræ vel alia ad fenestram nichil loquatur, nisi altera monialium fenestræ assignatarum, vel aliqua præposita ibidem præsens fuerit et audiat. Attamen non duæ tantum, set plures præsentes et audientes erunt, et una loquatur. Ipsa absente solatium ejus vices loquenti suppleat. Monacha quidem et soror, quæ ad fenestram sermonem habent, cum fratre fenestræ loquantur, quasi ad tertiam personam et frater similiter cum eis. Ad fenestram verò sororum canonicis aut fratribus nichil detur, vel ab eis à sororibus recipiatur, absente fratre fenestræ, nisi magister fortè per priorem vel summum scrutatorem aliquod secretum mandaverit ipsis dari, vel dici. Ut autem sorores plures adesse deforis sciant, qui adesse de jure debent, certificentur verbo vel signo ab eis qui foris sunt.

VIII.—De Fratre Fenestræ et cujus Officio, et Silentio circa Domum ejus, et Cybis Clientium.

FRATER fenestræ non ingrediatur curtem sanctimonialium, nec loquatur cum sutoribus, vel fabris, vel pellipariis, nisi prior permiserit, vel ejus solatium, vel cellerarius cum ratio postulaverit. Iste verò frater, per quem, quæ intus mandanda sunt mandantur, et quæ danda sunt dantur, et recipienda recipiuntur cautus et discretus provideatur. | Similiter et è regione soror discreta, quæ non sit procax vel garrula, set benigna et curæ sibi creditæ intenta, nunquam ibidem locutura aliis absentibus sibi deputatis. Eodem modo, qui locum eorum tenuerint se habeant, illis absentibus. In circuitu quidem domus fenestræ sororum et ad fenestram illarum, intus et extra, omnibus loquendi potestas interdicitur, exceptis hiis quibus à priore omnium sermo conceditur. Terminato signo horæ, frater et soror, quibus datur sermo fenestræ, eodem tempore debitum horæ persolvant. Dicto completorio associetur fratri fenestræ alter frater fidelis, ut sciat quomodo se habeat in sermone vel opere, qui silentium teneat, nisi prior viderit expedire ut loquatur. Set de inordinatis, quæ audierit, vel viderit, vel cognoverit, cum tempus et locus congruerit, fideliter clamet. Quod si frater fenestræ absens fuerit in aliquo negocio intricatus, ille alter frater vices ejus suppleat cum oportuerit. Singulis verò diebus recipiat frater fenestræ, præsente cellerario vel ejus solatio, quantum sufficere crediderint ad victum et ad potum unius diei, tam hospitibus quam clientibus, et in domunculâ, ad hoc præparatâ, recepta reponantur. Si verò honestiores hospites supervenerint, licet cum tempus exegerit à sororibus superexigi quod eis conveniat. Victus et potus infirmantium, quandocumque opus fuerit, à sororibus petantur et dentur à quibus præperanda et danda sunt, quæ necessaria sunt, infirmantibus et valentibus.

SI fortè aliquid ortum fuerit de expensâ pecuniæ unde oporteat, ut collatio vel discussio fiat, inter fratres et sorores assensu prioris omnium, prior et cellerarius, procurator et grangiarius, et si quis alius necessarius inter nostros fuerit, in partetfenestræ, quæ viris patet, et discretæ sorores, quas præposita elegerit, in ea parte, quæ sororibus patet, conferant salubriter, de expensis pecuniæ, unus solus loquatur discretus et modestus, et una sola discreta et modesta, aliis audientibus et discernentibus intra se de hiis quæ audierint. Et unusquisque loquentium quasi ad terciam personam alternatim loquatur. Nec omittenda est hæc discussio pecuniæ.

DILIGENTER ab omnibus observetur, ne aliquis clausuram vel domos sanctimonialium ingrediatur, dum ipsæ debitum horæ persolverint, vel in refectorio curæ carnis necessariæ intenderint, aut in dormitorio debito sompno indulserint. Quod si fortè necessitas casu aliquo compulerit ingredi, plures ingrediantur, et peracto negocio simul egrediantur, caventes videre vel videri à sororibus. Si prior omnium curtem earum, casu solus, ingreditur, quod tamen cavendum decernimus, plures earum vicino pede ingredientem comitentur; videlicet tres vel quatuor ad minus, nec solus cum sola usquam maneat, nisi fortè aliqua privatim confiteri voluerit; quod bene licet, si plures in eadem domo affuerint, vel ad hostium domus videntes, si fortè ipsa domus minus ampla fuerit. Quæ verò in hoc negligentes fuerint, et aliquem solum cum aliquà scienter permiserint permanere, gravi verbere corripiantur, ut de cætero caveant. Eminens tamen periculum excluditur. Summa est prudentia et cautela laudabilis per omnia omni virtute delinquendi materiæ resistere, propter scandali periculum vel infamiæ opprobrium. Eapropter omnibus nostris, clericis et laicis, grangiariis, et cæteris clausuram sanctimonialium ingredi, sine mandato et assensu prioris vel ejus solatii, vel cellerarii, vel qui vices eorum tenuerint, si ipsi quoquam abierint, sub anathematis interminatione interdicimus. Verumptamen propter ignis incendium, vel mortis instantis periculum, vel propter furtum et latrocinium omnibus sustinemus introitum, ad earum præsidium et auxilium.

UNUM cellarium et una coquina erit omnibus, sub præpositæ curâ et sanctimonialium. Similiter et canonicorum separatim conversantium, ad quorum providentiam victus omnium et vestitus modus spectat et mensura, quemadmodum pecuniæ custodia et telarum et pannorum, tam veterum quàm novorum. Ipsis enim debetur dominium universæ substantiæ domorum, quæ | datæ sunt illis. Omnino interdicimus, ne aliquis laicorum sibi usurpet dominium in substantiâ domorum, quæ sanctimonialibus datæ sunt propriè; nec aliquid de universa substantia domus eroget, sine earum assensu, cum hoc literatis non liceat, ne gladio anathematis feriatur et pereat; et ab earum consortio omnino excludatur. Nec aliquis præsumat vendere vel distribuere caseos vel butirum, quæ extra curtem sanctimonialium fiunt, sine assensu præpositæ et cellerariæ. Contra hoc facientes, quasi de perpetrato scelere furti, vel rapinæ puniantur. Quicumque verò victualia domus, videlicet carnes, caseos, butirum, mel, pisces, et cætera, quæ mandi possunt, et ea quæ feruntur à grangiis, vel quæ emuntur intra| clausuram nostrorum vel extra distribuerint in cibos, vel aliquo alio modo, priusquam in custodia sanctimonialium venerint, graviori vindicta feriantur, et de potestate sua deponantur, et in aliqua alia domorum pœnitentia castigatione corrigantur, ut de cætero caveant. Si verò alicui dandum est aliquid ad grangias remotiores, causa necessaria cogente, de hiis, quæ mandi possunt de portione quæ assignatur grangiis, ad sustentationem mercenariorum detur; et quod datum fuerit notum fiat in communi capitulo domus, ut sciant majores utriusque sexus causam et rationem dati muneris; et si opus habuerint, restituatur eis, prout justum fuerit visum.

DE tribus præpositis, quæ præsunt singulis domibus nostræ professionis, hoc firmiter teneatur. Si qua earum, quod absit, ad exaltationem sui ipsius prælationem vel gratiam singularem à fratribus, vel à sororibus adquirere deprehensa fuerit, in aliquâ domorum nostrarum, prout prior omnium judicaverit, saniori consilio in ultimo gradu pœnitebit, ad suam domum de cætero non reditura. Similiter si ab advocatis domus suæ, vel à qualibet alia potestate, vel studio, vel munere, vel obsequio, vel blando sermone, vel per notos et amicos, vel per aliquem alium, singularem gratiam, vel prælationem, sibi ipsi adquisierit, pro hujusmodi causa eadem feriatur sententia. Tali etiam castigatione corripiatur quæcumque discordias vel disceptationes in conventu seminaverit. Hoc idem inter canonicos et fratres teneatur. Illa verò præposita, quæ sermonem et curam domus sua vice habuerit, primum stallum teneat; altera aliarum ad dextram; altera ad ejus stabit sinistram. Ipsa capitulum tenebit, culpas examinabit, pœnitencias injunget, quas neutra aliarum relaxabit, nec etiam quando vice sua illi succedet. Licentias omnes ordinatas dabit; non alia. Infirmas visitabit, vel ab aliqua sociarum suarum visitari faciet. Eadem potestas et dignitas erit omnibus, scilicet singulis suo tempore. Si qua tamen earum ratione et consilio præstantior fuerit, justum est, ut ejus perfruantur consilio, cum necessitas postulaverit. Cum aliqua earum obierit, de altera domo altera substituatur per priorem omnium, et circatrices, si fortè in domo illa ydonea reperta non fuerit, ne maligna machinatione alicujus, dissolucio vel divisio inter domos professionis de Sempingham contingat, vel possit contingere. Et si conventus sanctimonialium infra xv. dies secundùm ordinis formam præpositam ad mandatum magistri non elegerint, vel quam magister eis præpositam assignaverit, refutaverint, à communione et missa priventur, quousque pœniteant et satisfaciant.

Regularibus quoque disciplinis et mandatis præpositæ omnes aliæ obediant et reverentiam deferant. Solatium suum vel cellerarium non licet ei deponere, inconsulto priore omnium, vel communi assensu omnium et consilio, pro manifesto crimine. Victus verò et vestimenta omnium dispositioni præpositæ et cellerariæ pertinere decernimus. Victus per cellerariam distribuantur, vestimenta verò per præpositas inscidantur, suantur, et dividantur in sexu fœmineo. Non licet alicui præpositarum nostrarum, juxta aliquem in domibus nostris sedere, nisi aliqua discreta soror interposita sedeat; nec alibi, si convenienter possit vitari. Licet præpositis subpræpositam mittere in infirmitorium, ad sumendas venias, si ipsæ detinentur in aliquo negocio et opere. Studeat præposita sæpiùs visitare sorores, nisi fortè eam in coquinâ esse contigerit, vel infirmitate detenta fuerit. Si aliqua confiteri voluerit, significet præpositæ, si in claustro vel in oratorio fuerit, et illi confiteatur, vel cui ipsa jusserit. Diebus quibus feriatur licet præpositæ, quæ sermonem suâ vice ad omnes habet, mittere aliquam doctam cum libro ad sorores, quæ dicat eis aliquid de profectu animæ et ordinis rigore. Ipsa verò præposita intersit capitulo sororum, ut inferiùs in scriptis sororum dictum est, nisi ratio congrua impedierit, vel unaquæque præpositarum, ebdomadâ, quâ vice suâ sermonem habuerit, sæpiùs earum venias vespertino sumet in capitulo. In festivis diebus eas, cum tempus habuerit, visitabit, et de ordine et earum religione diligenter sollicitabit. Si qua verò monialis substituenda est ad venias sanctimonialium capiendas, et discutiendas, ad hoc opus à prædictis præpositis assignetur, quæ æqualiter ipsas diligat et ab ipsis diligatur sine simulatione.

In curtem sanctimonialium provideatur locus determinatus sanctimonialibus et sororibus ad loquendum cum præposita, et celleraria, et in omnibus officinis earum stando; et duæ tantum cum ea.

XV.—De Subpræpositâ.

De subpræposita non fiat præposita, nisi prior omnium vel speculatrices necessarium judicaverint. Non liceat subpræpositæ cellam noviciarum ingredi, nisi signo vocata à magistra earum, ad suscipiendas venias. Ipsa enim absentibus præpositis, si de aliquo locuta fuerit, nisi de labore, confiteatur in capitulo sermonem. Si fortè alia sermonem habuerit, absente præposita, subpræposita tamen venias sumat in capitulo et extra. Set non eat ad portam fenestræ sine matura comite.

XVI.—De Cellerariâ, et ejus Officio, et Sorore ei assignata; et de Domo Panis ad Furnum et Pistoribus, et Farina; et de Victualibus Custodiæ illius deputandis.

Celleraria, cum annuis scrutatricibus, quæ de alia domo fuerint, occultè non loquatur; nec cum aliqua alia de aliquo vel aliqua, ut scrutatrices audiant; nec in coquina serviat, subcelleraria verò serviat. Soror aliqua associetur cellerariæ in auxilium, cum qua loqui ei de necessariis licet apertè in cellario. Ipsa verò celleraria curam gerat de pannis refectorii abluendis. In cellario verò nulla loquatur nisi præposita et celleraria, et fenestraria, et hospitalis soror, et illa de coquina, et quæ deputatur cellerariæ in auxilium. In infirmitorio sororum celleraria sedendo non loquatur. In hoc si deliquerit, in capitulo delictum examinetur, et prout decet, justè puniatur. Fiat domus non longè à furno, ad quam sine periculo et visu hominum possint accedere sorores, ad cellarium panes portaturæ: in qua silentium ab omnibus omnino teneatur. Similiter in illa, per quam à viris panes sororibus traduntur. Et locus per quem panes trajiciuntur, cauta consideratione ea arte præparetur, ut visus et accessus virorum ad sorores impediantur, vel sororum ad viros.

Panes infirmantium et omnium, ad voluntatem et secundùm mandatum cellerariæ fiant: nec ullo modo retineantur vel dividantur alicubi, nisi priùs in custodia sanctimonialium venerint, et per fenestram dentur, per quam et alia dantur et recipiuntur, vel per illum locum, ubi et panes triticei ad furnum monialibus intromittuntur. Pistor verò farinam cellerariæ dare non differat, quocienscumque ipsa mandaverit. Ipsi etiam præpositæ, præ omnibus obediat, in hiis quæ ad moniales de pistrino pertinent. Una de cocis auxilium præstet cellerariæ ad panes vel ad potum in refectorium portandum. Cocæ verò referant reliquias pitanciarum in cellarium; et ipsæ sanctimonialibus ad cœnam serviant. Quibus post refectionem monacharum comedere convenit, et mixtum sumere licet quemadmodum servitricibus. Provideatur soror quæ serviat cellerariæ, et comedentibus cum ea, nisi fortè duæ sanctimoniales in coquina servierint. Quæ benedictionem dederit ad mensam servientium, ipsa, postquam refecerint, percutiendo super mensam, significabit ei quæ terminatura est lectionem. Omnia victualia canonicis et monialibus, fratribus et sororibus, pro locis et temporibus, tam sanis quàm infirmis eroganda, sub potestate cellerariæ, et custodia habeantur, et per eam universis et singulis more debito discretè distribuantur; videlicet panis, pisces, carnes, et potus, ova, lac, casei, et butirum, fabæ, sal, farina, et fructus. Nec aliqua literata vel illiterata, exceptis præpositis, aliquam sibi potestatem super hiis vel aliis cybariis, contra ejus assensum, sibi usurpare præsumat. Nec aliqua zenium aliquod sine licentia recipiat; vel receptum cuiquam eroget, vel inde comedat. Quod siqua super præmissis viciosa fuerit reperta, gravi disciplinæ et jejunio subjaceat, et nisi sufficienter emendaverit, tanquam excommunicata magistro præsentetur. Idem à cellerariis, et subcellerariis in domibus canonicorum per se manentium, ut decet, firmiter teneatur.

Monachæ nostri ordinis quinque tunicas habeant, tres ad laborem, et duas amplas, id est cucullas in claustro, et in ecclesia, et in capitulo, et in refectorio, et dormitorio, et scapulare ad laborem. Habeant etiam pelliceam de adultis agnis, et camiseam de grossiori panno, si voluerint, et mitras lineas, nigras et forratàs de agninis pellibus. Omnes panni, quibus capita earum involvuntur, nigri erunt et grossi. Similiter et vela earum. Caveant etiam præpositæ et omnes cæteræ pannos inscidentes, ne pallia vel tunicæ et alia indumenta canonicorum, fratrum, vel sororum, vel cucullæ sanctimonialium terram tangant, nimia sua longitudine; quia qui in hoc, vel in vestis specie gloriatur, a Domino proculdubio reprobatur. Si fortè culpa præpositæ vel incuria hoc factum fuerit, in communi capitulo in area comedet sine mensa et mapula duobus diebus. Si vero culpâ inscidentis hoc contigerit, ter in capitulo vapulet. Panni namque qui fiunt in domibus nostris, vel de substantia domus emuntur, intra claustrum monialium inscidantur, et suantur. Si vero dandi sunt panni mercenariis, vel aliis secularibus, detur unicuique pars non inscissa, secundùm quod debitum cujusque exigit. Nec suant sorores pannos quos non insciderint, sine jussu prioris omnium, exceptis pannis noviciorum, si inscidantur ab ipsis vel inscidi fecerint.

Vestimenta verò sacerdotalia alienorum, seu monachorum, seu canonicorum, non nostrorum vel secularium, non inscidantur, nec suantur a sororibus nostris, nisi per priorem omnium, vel communi assensu canonicorum et fratrum, si visum fuerit expedire, causa cogente fructuosa. Camisiæ etiam, vel femoralia nostrorum, vel aliorum a sororibus nostris non inscidantur, nec suantur. Præposita quidem vel aliqua alia non præsumat pannos vel aliquid alicujus precii extra domos suas dare, vel mittere, exceptis hiis, qui de propria domo sua fuerint cui præsunt, sine præcepto prioris omnium, et eorum earumque assensu, qui præsunt familiæ domus et substanciæ et religioni.

Cum abluendi sunt eodem tempore panni sanctimonialium et sororum, non dividantur in tempore ablutionis, set unaquæque caritativè alteri subveniat, cum opus fuerit. Similiter et indumenta canonicorum, per duos canonicos ad hoc deputatos, ad fenestram versatilem priorissis semel in mense, si abluenda sunt, tradantur; et eodem modo cum abluta fuerint recipiantur. Si verò diversis temporibus vel diebus laverint, sub hoc mandato non tenentur. Pulsatâ tabulâ à præpositâ post capitulum, si abluendi sunt panni linei, significet ipsa vel dicat de ablutione, quomodo fiat vel à quibus. Semel in annis tribus albas cucullas licet ablui nisi fortè aliquo casu accidenti maculatæ fuerint. Quæ tres tunicas habet, unaquæque potest semel in anno ablui; nec sæpius nisi manifesta necessitas casu postulaverit, ut fiat. Quicquid superiùs dictum est in scriptis de vestibus canonicorum, quod convenienter et rationabiliter in sexu fœmineo regulariter possit observari, inter sanctimoniales pro modo vestium illarum firmiter custodiatur; videlicet de vestium preciositate fugiendâ; et de distributione vestium, et de pœnitentiâ pro earum refutatione, et amissione vel oblivione, et de pannis non tondendis, et datis sine licentiâ non utendis, de pellibus et pelliceis, et de vestibus non excambiendis; et lanâ non studiosè miscendâ. Summus vero prior ordinis, prout ordo permiserit, et ratio dictaverit, in quibus oportet et decet, discretè dispenset.

Sacrista cum nocte surrexerit ad signum pulsandum, duas ad minus moniales secum habeat, quas ei præposita assignaverit. Nec ulla postquam pernoctaverit quoquam eat, vel maneat, nisi duas secum habeat, nisi forte manifesta necessitas imminente magno periculo fieri compulerit. Nec usquam duæ solæ ex industriâ maneant, nisi maturæ vitæ et probatæ virtutis, nec illæ sine jussu præpositæ ullo tempore. Ad sacristam verò pertinet pulsare signum ad capitulum, et ad omnes horas diei. Ipsa verò et solatium ejus aream ecclesiæ in vigilia Paschæ, et post sextam altare ornabunt. Ipsa etiam accendat lampadem in intervallo ad lectiones. Ipsius etiam est obedientiæ præparare carbones ad thuribulum et ad missas in yeme. Si enim intervallum contigerit inter nocturnum et laudes eo tempore quo laborare non licet, sine lumine non sedeant, nec in oratorio ex industriâ maneant ad orandum, minus quam iv. vel tres. Una tamen provectæ ætatis et probatæ religionis assensu præpositæ orationi vacare poterit, duæ tantùm, scienter nunquam poterunt. Omni vero tempore cum intervallum fuerit inter laudes et primam, in claustrum exeant festivis diebus; et tunc dicetur Pater noster antequam inchoetur prima. Ipsa quoque sacrista vel alia matura recipiat ad fenestram aquam benedictam, et lapidem pacis, quem circumferat monialibus et sororibus, incipiens semper pacem dare in dextro choro, sive præsente sive absente præpositâ. Siqua vero de nostris cum aliqua vel aliquo sermonem habuerit, pulsante signo ad aliquam horam, festinet ad claustrum omni morâ remotâ, nisi prior omnium affuerit, et festinantem ad claustrum modicùm retardaverit, sicut veritas religionis permiserit et ratio dictaverit. In domibus nostris de multitudine luminum non curetur, nisi tribus noctibus tenebrarum, et in die purificationis beatæ Mariæ Virginis: nec in sabbato Paschæ curetur de pondere cerei, set in omnibus caveatur superfluitas et vanitas, et nimia parcitas.

Sanctimoniales nostras cantare non permittimus; set omnino interdicimus, cupientes magis cum illa beata Virgine, perpetua Dei omnipotentis matre, et filiâ in spiritu humilitatis indirecto psallere, quam cum illâ Herodiadis filia lasciva modulatione infirmorum mentes pervertere. Sanctimoniales verò, quæ psalmodiam tenent, simul stent in choro, et aliæ seorsum in alio choro. Unaquæque teneat locum proprium suæ conversionis, nisi fortè aliqua ex negligentiâ psallere noluerit, et talis ultima ponatur in omni loco. Quæ doctæ fuerint, secundùm ordinem Psalmos incipiant ad jussum præpositæ. Nulla officium in ecclesia teneat, nisi bene exercitata priùs fuerit in refectorio et capitulo. In ultimâ parte chori stet aliqua monacha matura ad missas, ad explorandum, nequa inordinatè se habeat in choro. In æstate post tertiam, cum sacerdos sacerdotalibus induitur indumentis, non exeat aliqua de monasterio, nisi causa necessaria postulaverit; et quæ exterioribus officiis præsunt.

Sanctimonialis quæ collectam tenet, et aliud officium non potest implere, in præcedenti ebdomada, tempore lectionis providebit collectam, ne graviter clametur, si in ipsa erraverit. Quæ vero collectam tenet, non ministrabit ad biberes, post nonam. Junior serviat pro præposita ad biberes ante cœnam. Post biberes semel licet bibere, accepta licentia, æstivo tempore. Si celleraria, vel aliqua alia Psalterium sciens, extra chorum horas dixerit, et collectam vel capitulum nescierit, horam incipiet sicut in conventu. Completis Psalmis horarum, quemadmodum sorores, terminabit horam. Si verò cum aliqua sororum fuerit, ipsa incipiet et terminabit horam in omnibus, sequens consuetudinem sororum. Licet in Quadragesima vesperas psallere, in loco quo laboraverint, et nonam post festum Sanctæ Crucis, et vesperas in æstate. Sanctimoniales, quæ non possunt legere et officium in ecclesia tenere, in tempore lectionis laborabunt, quamvis Psalterium sciant. In tempore verò quo sanctimoniales scientes legere oraverint, possunt et ipsæ orare nocte et die: et omnes possunt stare vel sedere ad lectiones missæ.

Omnes moniales generaliter officium ecclesiasticum persolvere scientes, extra infirmitorium existentes, ad omnes horas regulares diei et noctis communiter accedant in ecclesia, nec inde exeant nisi necessitate excusabili compellente, exceptis certis laboribus et ordinatis officiis assignatis. Nec subcellerariæ, vel aliæ obedientiarum solatiæ, cum rationabiliter possint interesse, aliqua inutili occasione inde se absentare præsumant. Quæ verò in infirmitate vel debilitate manifesta cogente officium in ecclesia regulariter persolvere non possunt, illud eisdem horis in capitulo vel alio loco competente congregatæ, ordinatè persolvant. Si qua verò super hiis viciosa reperta fuerit, corripiatur semel et secundò, quod si non emendaverit, magistro præsentetur jejunio gravi et verbere punienda. Idem à canonicis ubique prout rationabiliter fieri poterit, firmiter teneatur.

Confitebitur in capitulo, quæ non occurrerit ad orationem ante horam primam in æstate, et terciam in yeme, et quando feriatur. Et quæ non occurrerit ad primum Gloria horæ privatis diebus, sumat veniam super terram. Si qua sanctimonialis ad primum signum nonæ in æstate, non surrexerit, sequenti die in capitulo confiteatur, exceptis hiis, quæ post conventum comederint. Sanctimoniales laicæ in stallis suis stent ad missas et ad gratias tantùm. Moniales quibus misericordia dormiendi præstatur, in utroque choro dividantur; et media pars in una nocte dormiet, et altera secunda nocte. Si duæ tantùm fuerint vel una, in infirmitorio dormiant. Ebdomadaria quoque psalterii, quod per domos nostras dividitur singulis diebus persolvendum in capitulo, die Sabbati legatur in tabula.

In vigilia Natalis Domini, cum legitur in capitulo Nativitas Domini nostri Jhesu Christi, omnes prostratæ dicant Pater noster. Siqua de gravi culpa convincitur rea, finito capitulo, in loco pœnali ponatur à præpositâ. Celleraria verò ministrabit ei quæ oportet, et prout delicti culpa requirit: si aliqua excommunicatur vel disciplinatur in capitulo, sumptâ veniâ, manifestet priori omnium, cum venerit in capitulo, causam excommunicationis vel disciplinæ, vel summis scrutatricibus, vel altera pro ipsa, si prout decet, ipsa nescierit. Super terram sedeat, quæ disciplinam susceptura est, privatim vel in communi. Omni die quo laborant, possunt et disciplinam sumere. Pulsato signo ad prandium, non detur cuiquam disciplina.

In virtute Dei et sanctæ obedientiæ districtè prohibemus ne aliqua monialis in conventu existens, ad corpus Christi accedat dominicâ, nisi ordinatè clamaverit in ebdomadâ, privatim vel publicè, si delictum privatim vel manifestum viderit, unde regularis clamatio fieri debeat; exceptis valdè juvenibus, vel valdè vetulis. Et si aliqua institutionis hujus observantiæ prætermissa à perceptione corporis Christi aliquâ dominicâ se subtraxerit, ab ejusdem sacramenti perceptione usque ad adventum magistri penitùs seperetur, nisi pro mortis articulo vel periculo amarè flenti et sufficienter pœnitenti misericorditer subveniatur; si qua verò inordinatè in capitulo locuta fuerit, vel in capitulo contenciosa vel contumax, vel inobediens, vel litigiosa, vel tumultuosa fuerit, vel præpositæ tenenti capitulum in aliquo casu inordinatè contradixerit, vel pro aliquâ ordinatè clamatâ, dum in judicio steterit, rogaverit, ut pœnitentiâ illi injunctâ relaxetur, vel aliquid sedens in audientiâ locutâ fuerit, nisi clamando, vel testimonium veritati perhibendo, vel aliquod necesse regulariter inquirendo, à corpore Christi seperata, nisi pro mortis periculo in ultimo gradu omni sextâ feriâ in pane et aquâ pœnitens, semel in septimana regulari disciplinæ subjacet, in adventu magistri illi præsentanda.

Idem et eodem modo, inter sorores laicas firmiter teneatur, ita quod quæcumque in ebdomadâ ordinatè non clamaverit, ut supra scriptum est, ab audicione divini officii, omni dominicâ et festo festivali usque ad adventum magistri seperabitur; et à corpore Christi, nisi pro mortis periculo. Caveant etiam summopere et summæ scrutatrices, et subpræpositæ, et omnes aliæ literatæ, et illiteratæ, ne similem vel graviorem pœnam incurrant, si aliquam professam, vel noviciam, vel juvenculam, gratiâ consanguinitatis, vel familiaritatis, vel alicujus obsequii, vel aliquâ aliâ de causâ inordinatè manuteneant, defendant, vel excusent, in capitulo vel extra. Quicquid superiùs dictum est in scriptis de capitulo canonicorum; scilicet de hora capituli, de modo et forma in capitulum veniendi et in eo loquendi, et venias petendi et clamandi, et in judicio respondendi, et sententiam exponendi, et de capitulo exeundi, quantum decenter convenit et congruit sexui fœmineo, secundùm regulam beati Benedicti, inter moniales diligenter custodiatur, nisi prior omnium aliquid alio modo ratione dictante, vel necessitate cogente, fieri judicaverit.

In domibus monialium xiv. processiones sollempnes fiant per annum; scilicet die Natalis Domini, Epiphaniæ, Purificationis, depositionis beati Gileberti, Annunciationis, Paschæ floridi, die Paschæ, Ascensionis, Pentecostes, sanctæ Trinitatis, Assumptionis beatæ Mariæ, Nativitatis ejusdem, translationis beati Gileberti et Omnium Sanctorum; et cum corpora mortuorum efferuntur ad sepeliendum, vel corpora sororum inferuntur monasterio à sororibus. Processiones verò hoc modo ordinentur. Præcedat aquæ benedictæ bajulus; deinde thuribulum ferens, post crux et candelabra; deinde diaconus, textum ferens et reliquias; quem è vestigio sequantur canonici, noviciis præeuntibus. Post seculares, si fuerint. Hos sequantur fratres, senioribus præcedentibus, exceptis duobus senibus, qui novicios sequantur. Deindè moniales præeuntibus præpositis, sequentibus cæteris, ordine conversionis senioribus. Deindè sorores, post noviciæ sanctimonialium; tunc noviciæ sororum; duæ tantùm maturæ, quibus præposita jusserit, post non velatas gradiantur, diligenter eas custodientes: Januæ verò inter altare sanctimonialium, et ipsas constructæ claudantur, in transitu virorum; ne videant vel videantur mares transeuntes à fœminis. Similiter per iv. angulos claustri vela ponantur; nec minus per singula latera claustri per ansulas cortinæ extendantur, ut superior pars claustri columpnarum cortinis texta vel velata illicitum auferat visum hiis, qui fuerint in diversis lateribus claustri. Hoc autem fideliter servetur, nisi aliquid magis servandum gratia Dei fuerit repertum vel revelatum, ad majorem cautelam. Post processiones dicatur collecta de festo illius diei, exceptis processionibus vigiliarum Paschæ et Pentecostes, quæ non fiunt in domibus sanctimonialium.

Festivis diebus, et feriis, tempore lectionis, omnes moniales, officialibus exceptis, orationibus in ecclesiâ, vel lectioni, seu meditationi communiter vacent in claustro residentes, sub voto et professione, quam Deo fecerunt. Quæ cum sederint in claustro, in quocumque latere sederint, collaterales sedeant non fronte oppositâ, set tergo unius alterius vultui verso, nisi fortè in eodem libro lecturæ sunt, vel inspecturæ, vel in uno eodem panno suere contigerit, et hujusmodi. Quod si minor ambitus claustri in oppositâ parte aliquas sedere compulerit, nemo accusare præsumat, quas necessitas excusat. Nulla sibi assumat licentiam dare cuiquam egredi de claustro, excepta præposita et subpræposita, nisi aliqua matura ad hoc deputata, si ipsa et subpræposita absentes fuerint. Egredientes sine licentia, exceptis officiis diversis deputatis, in capitulo vapulabunt, nisi manifesta necessitas culpam excusare sufficiat. Nulla transiens per claustrum, alicui sedenti inclinet, nisi præpositæ, cum interfuerit mandato et collationi. Nec ulli literatæ post Primam, sine libro, licet sedere in claustro. Si qua ociosa ad librum sederit, aliquod opus injungatur ei à subpræposita, vel à claustri scrutatrice. Licet omnibus mutuo honore inclinando capita sibi prævenire, ex quo dies illucesserit. Caveatur ab omnibus, nequa iracundo vultu, vel torvo aspectu, in claustro vel extra alteri significet. Quæcumque in hoc viciosa reperta fuerit, in area refectorii, sine mapula et mensa comedat, ut confundatur, et pœniteat. Caveant omnes significare in claustro sicut in dormitorio, nisi necessitas postulet aliqua hoc fieri. Quod si aliqua viciosa in signis ociosis, et hujusmodi deprehenditur, in capitulo culpa puniatur, ut deleatur.

Omnino prohibemus Latinam linguam inter omnes, nisi conveniens occasio compellat. Quæ autem fecerit, disciplinetur in capitulo, vel in pane et aqua pœniteat. Silentium vero firmiter ubique teneant, nusquam interloquentes, nisi ordinata licentia petita et accepta; congruis scilicet locis et temporibus. Quæ verò in infractione silentii viciosa fuerit reperta, monialis vel soror, ut suprascriptum est, in scriptis canonicorum capitulo xxix. plenè satisfaciat. Set siqua monialis vel soror sorori suæ maledixerit, vel aliquam opprobriis seu conviciis, aut criminum objectionibus, aut litibus inhonestis verbis vel signis affecerit, à perceptione corporis Christi privata, in ultimo gradu pœnitens magistro præsentetur, graviter et turpiter affligenda, ut cæteræ super delicto simili sibi caveant.

Et cum firma fidelitas inter omnes religiosos et religiosas debeat observari, et furtum arctiùs evitari, prohibemus sub anathematis interminatione, ne aliqua monialis vel soror rem aliquam grandem vel minimam non suam alicubi occultè capiat vel furtim subtollat; aut sublatam aliquatenus retineat. Quod quæ fecerit, et rem sublatam auditâ publicâ ammonitione renuerit, et clanculo vel publicè rem alienatam et quæsitam non rejecerit vel reddiderit, si deprehensa vel convicta fuerit, non fiat pro ea post ipsius obitum, sicut pro moniale vel sorore, nisi in extremis agens, vel ante publicè pœnituerit. Idem inter canonicos et fratres pro modo suo firmiter teneatur. Quicquid superiùs scriptum est de gestu canonicorum in claustro, quod deceat et convenienter possit servari, inter moniales firmiter observetur.

XXVI.—De Mandato Monialium, et Sororum in Cœna Domini.

In cœna Domini sorores cum monialibusi nteresse debent mandato. Ad mandatum pauperum non dicatur Miserere mei Deus. Panni verò manuum et pedum ad mandatum in claustro poni debent. Peracto mandato, non bibant sorores, nec venias sumant, set in cellâ suâ, dicto Completorio, eant dormitum. In cœnâ Domini servitrices lotricibus deputantur hoc modo. Præpositæ duæ, cæteris unicuique una, quæ aquam et linthea-mina sufficienter eis amministrent. Quociens autem subpræpositam transierint, tam præposita quàm ceteræ inclinent. Peracto itaque officio, præposita sibi servientium pedes lavet in capitulo; ceteræ sibi invicem lavent. Novissimè vero una de eis, quæ sibi servierint, videlicet in ordine senior, lavabit pedes præpositæ, et alia tergat et osculetur. Post hæc tam præposita quàm ceteræ sibi vicissim aquam in manibus fundant.

XXVII.—De Adoratione Crucis à Monialibus, et Sororibus in Parasceve, et Mundatione Areæ Ecclesiæ, Claustri, et Capituli.

In Parasceve aptetur convenienter locus in ecclesiâ sanctimonialium, ubi ponatur crux adoranda, quam ibi ponant duo maturi canonici. Quibus egressis, adorent duæ simul. Postquam verò omnes adoraverint, tam moniales quam sorores, sacrista percutiendo ad hostium inter chorum ipsarum, et chorum canonicorum firmatum canonicis notificet jam omnes adorâsse. Tunc duo prædicti canonici, accedentes ipsam crucem, elevent super altare monialium, eam collocantes discoopertam; et sic usque post Vesperas remaneat; et sic ipsis in chorum canonicorum revertentibus, adoratâ jam cruce ab omnibus, incipiant qui ad hoc assignati fuerint in choro canonicorum, Super omnia, &c. Crucem, quam adoraverint canonici et fratres, super altare canonicorum ponentes; ipso verò die Vesperæ tacitè dicantur. Completo officio, licet ablutos pedes pannis mandati tergere. Ipso die mundent aliquæ sororum aream ecclesiæ, dum moniales refecerint. Claustrum et capitulum, post Completorium. Idem faciant fratres ex parte canonicorum.

In Sabbato Paschæ non sternatur area capituli de aliquâ re antequam capitulum teneatur, nisi fortè madida sit area. In intervallo verò quod fit inter nonam et missam, subpræposita capitulum et claustrum ornabit.

XXIX.—De Tabulâ scribendâ, et Collatione, et Pœnâ amittentium Benedictionem Collationis.

Tempore laboris non scribatur tabula capituli, nisi occasio necessaria hoc fieri permiserit. Præcentrix quoque præparet librum collationi. Sanctimoniales, si aliqua occupatione impediente benedictionem collationis suâ incuriâ perdiderint, eodem modo satisfaciant, quo et celleraria, si omnino collationi defuerit; videlicet inchoante ymno completorii ad gradum ibunt; eodem modo se habentes quo illæ de choro se habent quousque hora terminetur, et oratio quæ sequitur. Quæ legerit ad collationem, non mutet locum suum, quousque dicatur à præpositâ, "Adjutorium nostrum in nomine Domini."

Cum præcentrix servierit in coquinâ, solatium ejus armarii clavem habeat. Armarium vero librorum semper firmetur cum lectionis tempus non fuerit. Præcentrix, finito xxx. die defuncti, notum hoc faciat in capitulo. Ipsa etiam et solatium ejus, in primâ dominicâ Quadragesimæ, finito capitulo, dividant libros ad jussum præpositæ. Post divisionem librorum sumant venias, quæ non perlegerint libros sibi traditos, in anno præterito. Deinde præposita statuet, quæ diligenti curâ custodiant claustrum et religionis rigorem. Postea orationem, quam facturæ sunt monachæ, per totam Quadragesimam injunget eis. Orationem verò, quæ conventui injungitur in initio Quadragesimæ, si cocæ, vel aliæ non persolverint ante tertiam in die dominicâ, non ideo venias sumant. Nulla vero de nostris librum sibi assumere præsumat, quem altera habuerit. Si verò ei valdè necessarius fuerit, à præpositâ, vel à subpræpositâ, vel præcentrice cautè petatur, ne fortè sanctimonialis offendatur. Libros tamen ad divinum officium sibi assumere ebdomadariis licet. Nulla etiam de nostris præsumat libros aliquos, vel orationes, vel meditationes scribere vel scribi facere, sine assensu prioris omnium, vel scriptores conducere et retinere in ecclesiis monialium. Quod si aliqua contra hoc facere præsumpserit, ordinis vel potestatis suæ, si officialis fuerit, periculo subjaceat, et flagello gravioris culpæ reatum luat. Et quod scriptum est ad prioris omnium voluntatem, ad aliam domum transmittatur; et ipsa quæ scripsit vel scribere fecit et domus illa illo scripto in æternam careat. Libri tamen ad divinum officium scribi permittuntur.

Ad hostium refectorii sedeat monialis fidelissima, quæ cum ingredientibus ad potum ingrediatur; videlicet cum minutis et non minutis. Quæ si defuerit minuta alteri significet, et cum eâ intret et egrediatur. Quæ autem legerit ad mensam monialium, ad mensam servientium dicat Jube Domine, ante benedictionem. Quæ prior fuerit in ordine dicat benedictionem. Si fortè ipsa prior fuerit, alia in loco ipsius legat; et ipsa dicat benedictionem. Et postquam comederint, ipsa semper terminet lectionem, Deus pacis, &c. si deest lectrix. Cum verò cervisia vel cicera defuerit, cocæ deferant aquam in refectorio. Quicquid superiùs dictum est de refectorio et refectione canonicorum, quod decenter conveniat, et possit juxta regulam beati Benedicti, inter moniales servari, firmiter custodiatur, excepto quod cibi et potus illarum per hostium possunt inferri et reliquiæ ad cellarium efferri; et campana ad servitrices convocandas post refcctionem conventus pulsabitur; et post earum refectionem similiter.

In virtute sanctæ obedientiæ, sub animarum periculo firmiter prohibemus, ne aliqua monialis, vel soror, panem vel pitanciam vel potum in refectorio capiat, sine licentiâ, vel efferat, aut efferri faciat, exceptis præpositis et cellerariis vel earum solaciis, quæ secundùm ordinem efferre debent. Nec duæ de uno pane comedant, alium panem integrum reservantes, ut illum pro voluntate alicubi erogent. Nec reliquias aucis vel gallinis, vel aliis avibus, aut canibus temerè distribuant. Minutæ micæ parvulis pullis gallinarum erogandæ excipiuntur. Panis verò penuria, duas de uno pane comedentes excusare poterit. Siqua autem literata vel illiterata, super aliquo prædictorum convicta fuerit, in ultimo gradu usque ad adventum magistri pœniteat. Quæ gratis fuerit confessa, corripiatur, et mitius cum illa agatur, si in posterum emendaverit.

XXXII.—De Loquela in Auditorio Monialium prohibita. Et de Veniis ipsarum et Sororum, in ipso sumendis; et de Confabulationibus prohibitis.

Cum hostis antiquus dampna sibi in capitulo illata in auditorio sibi proponat restitui; rarum ingressum, set necessarium, in auditorio nostris concedimus; videlicet pro veniis sumendis, cum ratio permiserit. Et siqua loquenda sunt, quæ signis indicari nequeunt, vel si quid fortè emerserit, quod consilio tractari opus sit, cum summis etiam scrutatricibus, vel alia matura; vel siqua fortè nobilis supervenerit, secularis vel religiosa, nostræ vel non nostræ professionis domestica loqui sustinemus. Quæ venias suscipit, si plures confitentes affuerint, sedeat. Sedeant etiam, quæ cum supervenientibus hospitibus loquuntur, vel cum scrutatricibus. Cæteræ stantes loquantur, nisi manifesta infirmitas et gravis necessitas misericordiam mereatur. Completo negotio, pro quo ingressæ sunt, citò exeant, nisi à præpositâ detineantur. Sorores sumentes venias, in auditorio vel in capitulo breviter sumant; videlicet quamdiu semel moderatè Miserere mei Deus, dici potest. Quo dicto ab aliqua, ipsa signum ictu faciat, et terminatur sermo in auditorio. Aliter facientes in pane et aqua pœniteant, cum eâ cui confitentur. Confabulationes enim et vaniloquia inter sorores, omnino interdicimus et condempnamus; similiter et inter fratres. Quæ viciosa in hoc reperta fuerit, verberibus et abstinentiâ escæ corripiatur, et contemptibilis ab omnibus habeatur et vitetur. Præpositâ loquente in auditorio cum duabus, nulla ingrediatur, nisi ab eâ vocata, causâ cogente aliquâ; si non vocata venerit, in capitulo vapulabit, vel in areâ refectorii in pane et aquâ pœnitebit, nisi ex ignorantiâ hoc contigerit. Similiter quæcumque ingreditur hospitium hospitium, sine ejus mandato, hospicii custodibus exceptis. In auditorio etiam, cui ipsi jusserit, moniales stando docere convenit expositionem regulæ. Quicquid superiùs scriptum est in scriptis de canonicis, de auditorio, calefactorio, dormitorio, infirmitorio, et infirmis, minutione et minutis, quod rationabiliter possit, et quod deceat religionem et fœminei sexus honestatem, firmiter suo modo inter moniales et sorores, pro loco et tempore teneatur; et è converso.

XXXIII.—De Cocis et Coquina Monialium; et de Cura Fratris Fenestræ, et Hospitalis, circa necessaria Coquinæ providenda, et Ingressu Coquinæ prohibito.

Si una sola monacha servitura est in coquinâ, cum illa benedictionem sumet, quæ in futurâ ebdomadâ serviet in coquinâ. Quæ vero exit de coquinâ, cum illa sumet benedictionem, quæ in præteritâ ebdomadâ servavit in coquinâ. Siqua etiam susceptura est benedictionem, alia pro eâ dicat Benedicamus in choro, si suum est dicere. Soror verò de coquinâ, et quæ deputantur ei in auxilium, completis matutinis suis yemis tempore festivis diebus, tali horâ de ecclesiâ exeant, ut ministerium de coquinâ eis deputatum bene valeant adimplere. Ipsa verò soror coquinæ mensæ sororum non ministrabit, nec illam horam inchoabit.

Cum autem sorores jejunabunt non ingrediantur coquinam servitrices ante horam primæ, yeme vel æstate. Caveant omnes ne sine permissione cellerariæ, propriam sequentes voluntatem aliquid in cellario capiant, ordinis contemptrices ne fiant. Exeuntes vero de coquinâ, vasa coquinæ cum scapulari tradant; recipientes, cum cucullâ recipiant. Sorores vero, quæ debilitate gravantur a coquina excludantur, et ab omni officio in ecclesia. Ad curam fratris fenestræ, et fratris hospitalis, et ortolani pertinet præparare quæ necessaria fuerint sororibus ad coquinam; videlicet aquam, igni materiam, et olera, et hujusmodi, quantum valetudo permittit et situs loci permiserit, cum opus habuerint. Nulla ingrediatur coquinam, exceptis præcentrice, ad planandam tabulam, ad calefaciendum incaustum, et scriptricibus ad siccandum percamenum, et sacrista vel qualibet alia pro accendendo lumine in ecclesia, vel prunis in thuribulo, vel patella imponendis, vel sale benedicendo. Set nec istæ intrare debent, si in calefactorio ignem sufficienter invenerint; et exceptis cocis et infirmaria, pro officio suo; et illa quam aliqua de cocis vocaverit ad ponendam super ignem caldariam, vel deponendam; calefactorium vero possunt ingredi, ad illa, quæ supradiximus facienda; et ad minuendum se ad calefaciendum. Notandum tamen, quia has officinas ingredi poterunt illæ, quæ secundùm regulam per annum circumeunt claustrum monasterii.

Quæ recipit hospites advenientes, ipsa sermonem hospitibus faciat. Si nocturnalibus calciatur, altera quæ non calciatur ad hospitium eas ducat. Panni ad pedes hospitum in hospitio serventur. Hospitium fæminarum curti sanctimonialium inclusum sit, viis et aspectibus earum exclusum. Nec ulla de nostris ingrediatur domum hospitum illis præsentibus, sine licentia, exceptis præpositis, et hiis quæ ad hoc deputatæ fuerint. Hospitales verò sorores, in oratorium introducere hospites possunt, hospitibus paratum; dum moniales debitum horarum persolverint, set reducant eas antequam de choro exeant. Provideantur discretæ et maturæ sanctimoniales, duæ vel tres, quæ hospicio præficiantur, et cum hospitibus honestis et nobilibus loquantur cum advenerint. Sorores tamen hospitibus serviant, et in hospitio ministrent; et res hospitii custodiant; et in hospicio jaceant cum opus fuerit, non moniales. Set si hospites quoquam intra curtem sanctimonialium ducendæ sunt, de licentia præpositæ à monialibus ducantur. Probibemus siquidem in virtute obedientiæ, ne aliqua literata vel illiterata præsumat alicui hospiti, nobili vel ignobili, dare carnes ad manducandum, sine speciali licentia magistri. Nec aliquam balneare, vel minuere, vel ultra unam noctem retinere, vel in refectorium aut infirmitorium monialium vel sororum ad manducandum vel potandum ducere sine licentia præpositæ: quod siqua fecerit, corripiatur semel et secundò, et nisi sufficienter emendaverit, ab obedientia sibi credita inhonestè deponatur, et præsumptionem suam gravi jejunio et verbere multiplicato luat. Ceteræ non egrediantur de claustro sine licentia.

Si verò aliqua hospitum cum parentibus suis nostri ordinis, masculis, vel cum suis, qui cum ipsa venerint, dum penès nos est, loqui voluerit, cum nostris ad magnam fenestram loquatur, vel in recessu suo ad hospitium foras, vel ad portam cum teste ordinato. Cum suis verò ad parvam fenestram, si nobiles fuerint, vel advocatæ, si prior viderit oportere. Præpositæ nostræ et cellerariæ, et quæ præsunt substantiæ domus, non loquantur cum parentibus, vel notis suis, nisi aliquæ aliæ maturæ præsentes fuerint, quæ audiant; videlicet summæ vel annuæ scrutatrices, vel claustri speculatrices, vel aliæ religiosæ zelum ordinis habentes. Licet tamen præpositæ in hospitio fæminarum, cum honestis mulieribus loqui cum testimonio aliquarum prædictarum, et non aliter. In hospitio hospitum moniales vel sorores cum licentia loquantur, et hoc rarò fiat, ratione cogente: scilicet ut declinetur offensio, dampnum, et odium magnatum fæminarum. Nullam de nostris permittimus cum peregrinis loqui mulieribus, hospitali sorore exceptâ. Nulla sanctimonialis à mandato hospitum excludatur, nisi infirmitate gravata. Nec pulsetur tabula ad mandatum hospitum, ante conventus ingressum in dormitorium. A custode hospitum tabula pulsabitur ad mandatum. Hospitalis soror, dum sola fuerit, cum hospite in hospitio pauca et honesta loquatur. Si altera matura præsens fuerit, sicut statutum est, cui silentium indicitur, illâ audiente loquatur cum hospite, quæ deceant, et alloquenti respondeat. Si fortè hospita puerum masculum in hospitium nostrarum secum casu duxerit, nulla de nostris, si scierit, ingrediatur. Ingressa festinè egrediatur, nisi puer masculus omnino excludatur. Quod si aliqua scienter contra hoc facere præsumpserit, trinæ disciplinæ in capitulo subjaceat, et tribus diebus in pane et aquâ pœniteat; et illud delictum priori omnium manifestum fiat.

Nulla loquatur cum parvulis, nondum noviciis, nisi præposita et earum magistra, vel cui præposita jusserit, magnâ et manifestâ necessitate cogente. Cæteras verò monachas cum noviciis loqui abhominabile judicamus, si sine dampno vel periculo potest vitari. Et quicquid super hoc faciendum est, in prioris omnium et majorum pendet arbitrio. Nulla recipiatur inter nostras, nisi priùs fecerit moram in hospicio sororum per aliquot dies; ut sciant et probent animum ejus, et cognoscant de sanitate corporis et mentis desiderio, ad pondus tanti laboris, et tam districtæ religionis. Et non cogantur aliquam recipere, quàm non suscipiendam probaverint. Noviciæ autem in capitulo suscipiendæ, à duabus monialibus introducantur, et scutellæ earum ab ipsis abluendæ sunt. Hospitalis soror, die quâ recipienda est novicia, in hospitio loquatur cum eâ, prout convenit. Præposita autem in auditorio, antequam introducatur in cellam noviciarum, omnia aspera ei prædicet, ut probet quanto desiderio ad pondus tanti laboris, et tam districtæ religionis aspiret, et ordinis gravitatem. Non admittatur aliqua in monialem, minus quàm plenè duodecim annos ætatis habens. Nec fiat novicia nisi adulta quindecim annorum. Nec admittatur ad professionem, donec psalterium, ymnarium, et cantica bene corde tenus scierit et antiphonarium cordetenus reddiderit, si citra viginti annos ad conversionem venerit. Si verò viginti annos ætatis habentes vel ampliùs ad conversionem venerint, ad omnia præmissa non cogantur, nisi habilioris et subtilioris ingenii fuerint, ita ut præmissa sine magnâ difficultate complere possint, set de consilio magistri cum eis dispensetur.

Nec eant ad laborem continuè noviciæ monialium, donec servicium suum reddiderint, et scierint. Magister ad altare monialium celebret, quociens noviciæ monialium professionem sunt facturæ sive festum sit, sive feria. Noviciæ monialium, post confessionem magistro factam, octies in anno, scilicet quando sorores communicant, communicabunt. Cætera verò quæ superiùs in scriptis canonicorum capitulo secundo continentur, inter moniales, prout decet, et potest fieri, firmiter et plenè custodiantur. In yeme introducantur noviciæ in cellam noviciarum ante missam, in æstate ante primam. Et ingredienti dicatur, "Ingredere soror si vis, aspera et dura pro Christi amore passura." Quibus licet, si præposita voluerit, albâ velâ habere, et in ecclesiâ ad missas in ultimo gradu, in stallis vacuis stare. Siqua venerit ad conversionèm, ut monacha fiat, et præposita vel magistra noviciarum viderit eam ad officium in ecclesiâ non posse doceri, antequam recipiatur dicatur ei, quod inter laicas monachas, sicut una earum ad opus manuum deputabitur, dum literatæ officium ecclesiæ prævidere studuerint. Quod si libens annuerit, ad monacham suscipiatur. Si verò renuerit, discedat, nisi ratio vel manifesta occasio faciat ne discedat. Licet noviciis, ante factam professionem, de vitâ sanctimonialium, ad sororum vitam laboriosam transire; de vitâ autem sororum ad sanctimonialium non licet.

Siqua magistra noviciarum servierit ad mensas, non loquatur interim cum noviciis; nec in earum cellam ingrediatur. Per hostium tamen licet introspicere et videre utrum se ordinatè habuerint. Non licet ei de aliquo opere faciendo licentiam illis dare, nec in cella earum post vesperas loqui, nisi casu aliquo tempus lectionis perdiderit. Nec venias noviciarum privatas sumere, nec eas disciplinare sine jussu præpositæ, nisi magister aliter jusserit; quo jubente, hoc ordinatè facere potest. In yeme, cum ratio exegerit, magistra noviciarum, noviciis quæ facturæ sunt professionem, regulam exponat ante terciam. Quod si fortè ante terciam non expleverit, post capitulum, licet ei cum cucullâ quod restat exponere. Rarò concedatur noviciis à magistro earum in auditorio residere, tempore sibi credito, ad novicias monachas de ordine instruere. Antequam pulsetur nola refectorii non dicant noviciæ Benedicite ad cibum, nec sorores, si eâ horâ refecerint, quâ et moniales, nec manus abluant antequam pulsetur à præpositâ. Si novicia infirmitate tacta de ecclesiâ egrediatur, quæ monachas infirmas sequitur, eam sequatur. Quæ autem infirmantur, non possunt, cum aliis noviciis esse, nisi velum vel paries interponatur. Illæ quæ ministrant infirmantibus, loquantur cum eis. Infirmæ autem cum ministrantibus sibi necessaria loquantur. Quicquid superiùs scriptum est in scriptis de fratribus de eorum capitulo, et horis, et festis, refectorio, infirmitorio, silentio, et aliis ordinis observantiis, quod rationabiliter possit in sexu fœmineo servari, firmiter inter laicas sorores observetur; et è converso.

INCIPIUNT INSTITUTIONES DE LAICIS SORORIBUS.

I.—De laicis Sororibus et earum Vestibus; et Lectis, et Horis, et Communione, et de totâ Serie Vitæ illarum.

Nulla ad habitum sororum admittatur, minus quàm viginti annos ætatis habens. Susceptæ, statim assignetur aliqua soror discreta, quæ ipsam ordinem vivendi et modum laborandi doceat. Et laboribus utilibus statim assignetur. Quæ cum illa, quæ ad ordinem illarum spectant, didiscerit, si obediens, humilis, et devota reperta fuerit, post annum plenè peractum in probatione vel ampliùs profiteatur. Cujus professionem magister in pallio existens, die feriali ad altare monialium accipiat. Professa, laboribus sibi assignatis diligenter intendat; obedientiam, devotionem, reverentiam et honorem monialibus semper impendat, et modis omnibus pro posse suo necessitatibus illarum in rebus, quibus illarum debilitas indiguerit, diligenter sine omni murmuratione aut contradictione devotè subveniat, ut à Deo remunerationem, et à suis superioribus gratiam valeat promereri. Prohibemus etiam in virtute obedientiæ districtè, ne sorores cervisiam facientes, vel in coquinâ existentes, vel aliis officinis servientes, in laboribus suis inchoandis moniales expectent, vel labores suos usque ad adventum monialium differant, set statim labores suos incipiant et faciant, quàm citius rationabile tempus affuerit, auxilium monialium accepturæ, ut à beato Gileberto institutum est; quibus et moniales temporibus congruis diligenter, ut decet, assistant, et auxilium devotè subministrent.

Sororibus cum palliis in ecclesiâ consistentibus, festivis omnibus diebus, quibus moniales non laborant, moniales ad aliquem laborem manuum nullatenus exeant, nisi laboris gravitas sororum vires excedat, vel temporis laboris brevitas auxilium necessario monialium exigat. Tunc enim oportet et decet ipsas illis auxiliari. Siqua verò soror laica, lixivium vel aquam calidam, vel utensile aliquod, vel aliud quid inopiæ monialium necessarium denegaverit, vel lixivium tempore meridiano vel tempore intervalli, vel post completorium, ut monialibus occultetur faciat, vel peplâ et velâ earum nigrare, vel alia minuta et ordinata, quibus ipsarum necessitas ordinata carere non potest, ipsis ministrare contempserit, corripiatur semel et secundò, et nisi emendaverit, in ultimo gradu pœnitens, omni sextâ feriâ, in pane et aqua à corpore Christi sepeteretur, nisi pro mortis periculo magistro præsentanda. Item si sorores ante tempus sibi statutum ecclesiam de nocte vel die sine licentia intraverint, vel ibidem diutiùs quàm sibi statutum est moram fecerint, semel et secundò correptæ, si non emendaverint, ab ingressu ecclesiæ per xxx. dies suspendantur.

Omni die festivali, quo moniales non laborant, assignetur soror una coquinæ, præter illas, quæ in ea ministrant, per ebdomadam in auxilium monialium, in coquina ministrantium; videlicet ad olera secanda, et alia necessaria facienda. Filum ad sutorium opus necessarium à sororibus assidentibus, magnæ fenestræ versatili fiat. Prohibemus item in virtute obedientiæ, ne sorores laicæ tunicas subtiles de sayo lude, pro infirmitate sui corporis habentes, eis manifestè in caputiis existentes, utantur, set sub aliis tunicis, vel sub earum palliis. Item capitulo sororum, quod omni dominica, et bis in ebdomada debet teneri, una præposita, vel subpræposita, cum annua scrutatrice, et una claustri speculatrice, vel alia moniale matura et ordinata intersit, ut testimonio illarum trium, si quid iu eo, quod Deus avertat, inordinatum emerserit; videlicet litis, murmuris, inobedientiæ, contentionis vel contumaciæ sufficienter possit probari, et probatum regulariter emendari. Scrutatrix quidem vel speculatrix non habent in illo capitulo potestatem clamandi, nisi aliqua inordinatè ibidem loquatur; set præposita et subpræposita et celleraria in eo clamare possent et debent.

Sorores operi assignatæ textrino, nichil inconsultis præpositis texant; vel telas textas in illarum absentiâ scindant; nec omnino aliquid de aliâ domo ordinis, sine licentiâ magistri texendum admittant. Nec aliquæ moniales vel sorores aliquid texendum ad aliam domum mittant; set siquæ filum ordinatè sibi adquisierint, ad aliquod necessarium sibi texendum, ea quibus regulariter indigent præpositæ suæ domus, sine difficultate texere faciant. Nec manutergia, vel pepla, vel vela, vel alia, quæque à nostris texta, sæcularibus sine ordinatâ licentiâ erogent, vel in sæculum vendenda mittant, sub pœnâ excommunicationis. Conversæ verò laicæ sorores vestiantur sicut monachæ, cucullis et scapulari exceptis; quorum loco habeant pallia de adultis agnis forrata; et caputia earum mamillas tegentia ad formam scapulariorum sanctimonialium, non caputiorum fratrum. Pallia eis pro coopertoriis computantur.

Omnes habeant mitras lineas de grossiori panno, vel vetustissimo, qui non sit ad vela ydoneus, nigras et forratas de agninis pellibus. Omnes panni, quibus capita earum involvuntur, nigri erunt et grossi. Similiter et vela earum. Lecti sororum sternantur, sicut et monialium, exceptis coopertoriis et culcitris. Licet omnibus, exceptâ licentiâ, minutas scissuras pannorum suorum resarcire, cum acus habeant, et sufficiant sanctimonialibus et sororibus duæ tunicæ, quousque fratres tres habeant. Cum surrexerint sorores à lectis, antequam aliquid operis faciant, dicant nocturnam synaxim; nec dicant primam antequam pulsetur. Quod si aliquod opus inchoaverint, antequam pulsetur, quælibet hora diei licet eis inchoatum opus finire, si sine dampno operis non possit differri. In die xii. lectionum, quâ laborant sorores, post sextum Psalmum excitentur à lectis. Ingressæ in monasterium, sedeant super misericordias; et dicant solitam orationem, quamvis monachæ stantes aliquid de divino officio persolverint. A festo Omnium Sanctorum, usque ad cathedram sancti Petri, omni die detur eis ante Laudes et Primam, sanctimonialium aliqua hora supplicandi, et devotioni intendere. A festo Sanctæ Crucis, usque ad festum Omnium Sanctorum tali horâ dicant Primam, ut possint mox transire ad opus manuum, dictâ Primâ.

Cum sorores dixerint horas, quamvis bis Pater noster perdixerint, potest aliqua absens ad horam ingredi. Si plures perdixerint, non ingrediatur, set per se debitum horæ persolvat. Siqua horam prolongaverit, vel nimis abbreviaverit corrigatur ab illâ, quæ labori earum præfuerit. Omnes sorores completorium dicant simul, exceptâ sorore fenestræ, et quæ cum ipsâ fuerint, vel aliis negociis necessariis, intricatæ, et tunc cum palliis, sicut in intervallo orationis. Omni verò tempore, dicta primâ et completorio, aqua benedicta se aspergant. Die verò qua sorores habent communicari, si monialis est communicanda, præcedat ad communionem. Sorores octies in anno communicabunt, sicut et fratres, et eisdem terminis. Noviciæ verò sororum ter in anno, scilicet die natalis Domini, die absolutionis, et sancto die Paschæ, et quociens pro infirmitate opus fuerit.

II.—De Noviciis Sororum, et earum Magistris, et Clamationibus Sororum.

Noviciæ sororum exeant de capitulo earum, ex quo audiant dicere, Loquamur de ordine nostro. Finito capitulo sororum ingrediantur noviciæ, et sumant venias suas, priùs sororibus egressis. Licet magistræ, quæ præest noviciis sororum, post vesperas sanctimonialium cum ipsis loqui de ordine, sedendo. Clamores verò sororum, vel de sororibus non admittantur fieri in capitulo monialium, nisi delictum publicè fuerit commissum, erga aliquam sanctimonialium. Soror tamen de coquina, si peccaverit, à celleraria clamabitur in capitulo.

III.—De Fratribus et Sororibus communicandis, post Professionem.

Si die laboris fecerint fratres vel sorores professionem, sequenti dominica eucharistiam accipiant, nisi aliqua causa impediat.

IV.—De Refectione Sororum, et earum Delicto in Refectorio corrigendo.

Antequam prior earum sedeat, sorores non resideant ad mensam. Soror, quæ dixerit horam, benedicat ad mensam, et Miserere mei Deus inchoet, et Kyrielison. Quod si subita infirmitate occupetur, quæ ei in ordine præest suppleat vices ejus. Si fortè nescierit, tunc illa quæ subest. Sorores ministrantes ad mensam in Quadragesimam, et cæteræ earum, quibus cum conventu non licet comedere, dictis vesperis, post nonam comedant. Soror quæ servit mensæ ministret ad potum. Si sorores deliquerint ad mensam, in capitulo vespertino indé venias sumant, vel satisfaciant, ut moniales. Si fortè aliqua perdiderit Benedicite ad mensam, pœniteat sicut moniales. In festivis diebus, quando moniales ad biberes vadunt, eant et sorores ordinatè ad suas biberes. Habeant et refectorium. Accepta licentia licet ipsis post vesperas bibere.

V.—De Labore Sororum.

Licet sororibus, quæ intendunt cervisiæ faciendæ, in ipsa domo horam matutinam persolvere. Si fortè sorores in exteriori labore fuerint, illa, quæ præest labori, habeat aliquam vetulam, quæ de re necessaria cuicumque sororum ipsa jusserit, cæteris audientibus loquatur. Soror custos laboris percuciet unum ictum, antequam dicat Benedicite ad mensam.

INCIPIUNT CAPITULA DE MONIALIBUS ET SORORIBUS INFIRMIS.

I.—De Sacerdote Confessionis.

Provideatur sacerdos discretus, castitatis et religionis amator; qui circumeat domos nostras, confessionem sanctimonialium et sororum suscepturus ad fenestram confessionis. Quo veniente ad aliquam domorum nostrarum, mandetur intus, "Sacerdos confessionis adest." Et si præposita viderit necessarium, ut aliqua confiteatur, mandetur foras, "Veniat ad confessionis locum." In domo verò ubi confitebitur, assideant duæ discretæ, semotæ à fenestra, ut videant qualiter se habuerit quæ confitetur. Ipse verò sacerdos caveat ne loquatur vana et religioni contraria, vel confessioni non necessaria. Nec quæstionem faciat, quæ sit, vel undè, vel alia hujusmodi; nec de se dicat quis sit, vel undè venerit. Hoc etiam observetur per omnia ab hiis quæ confiteri voluerint, et à cæteris. In parte verò qua sacerdos fuerit semotus, locus aptetur undè aliquis videri queat, quomodo se ad fenestram habeat. Fenestra verò confessionis ejusdem quantitatis fiat, quantæ et sermonis cum parentibus, si fortè ad fenestram sermonis congruè non possit teneri confessio. Nulla verô ei attribuatur obedientia, nisi confessionis. Peracto officio sibi credito, circumeat omnes domos nostras diligens executor obedientiæ sibi creditæ. Et à circatoribus provideantur ei quæque necessaria religioni nostræ congrua, unde possit haberi sine discrimine et omni molestia. Ad quamcumque domum venerit in caritate suscipiatur, et deferatur ei sicut Dei ministro. Ipse generaliter omnes ad confessionem admittat.

II.—De Fenestrâ Communionis, et de Communione, et Inunctione Monialium, et Sororum; et de Canonicis eisdem Officiis assignandis. Et de Loquelâ cum Monialibus Prioribus prohibitâ; et de Communione Infirmarum.

In unaquaque domorum nostrarum præparentur fenestræ cautè, ad communicandum moniales et sorores. Et provideatur locus in ecclesiâ, vel in infirmitoriis earum et inunguendum eas, ita ut in quantum rationabiliter potest, vitetur visus et propinquus accessus virorum, eo excepto qui officium est completurus. Ad excitandum vel convocandum conventum ad inunctionis officium pulsetur campana bis, cum moderato intervallo. Quo signo audito, conveniant omnes canonici et fratres in suâ ecclesiâ. Ex quibus quatuor canonici et unus frater laicus per priorem aut subpriorem assignati, intrent officium expleturi, cæteris in ecclesiâ remanentibus et septem psalmos dicentibus. Quibus perdictis, post paululum recedant. Sacerdoti hujus officii licet infirmæ confiteri si voluerit, unctio, quæ solet fieri circa umbilicum infirmorum, fiat in pectore sororum circa guttur. Unctio gulæ, in mento. Quod si fortè ad unctionis locum vitam finierit, pulsetur campana ter paulò prolixiùs quàm ad inunctionem, et cum paulo majori intervallo. Ad quod signum conveniant omnes festinanter dicentes, "Credo in unum Deum Patrem omnipotentem," ut inferiùs ordinatum est.

Interim defunctæ corpus deferatur in capitulum, vel ad alium aptum locum, ubi ornetur, prout decet, et ponatur in feretrum. Deinde deferatur in monasterium. Tres verò sacerdotes maturi, de quibus nulla sit mali suspicio, assignati sint per singulas domos nostras ad communicandum et inunguendum moniales et sorores, jussu prioris; et ad loquendum de confessione, si necessitas fuerit. Quod si nullus ex tribus nominatis adesse poterit, in dispositione prioris erit aliquem mittere maturum ad hoc opus et ministros assignare. Et si plures sacerdotes in aliquâ domo defuerint, unus maturus presbyter provideatur, de quo nulla sit mali suspicio ad hoc misterium, cui morti proximæ sorores confiteri poterunt. Ipsi verò priori domus, confiteri non licet. Omnis enim loquela adversus præpositas, vel quaslibet alias ordinis nostri prioribus interdicitur, nisi in communi audientiâ vel communi capitulo, cum necessitas vel ratio postulaverit. Sacerdos altari ministrans non communicet sorores; set unus prædictorum, quem prior domus jusserit et viderit expedire. Duæ verò moniales sub mento communicandæ teneant lintheum album, sicut mos est nostrarum.

Quæ infirmantur et ire possunt, in ordine suo eant ad communionem. Et quæ infirmantur post missam matutinalem, viaticum sumant à sacerdote missam celebrante, nisi fortè infirmitas impedierit. Similiter et hæ quæ officiis præponuntur. Hoc autem dico, si alius sacerdos non affuerit. Si verò plures affuerint; unus eorum, qui ad hoc assignati sunt, jussu prioris sacerdotalibus indutus, assumptâ stolâ, hiis quæ communicandæ sunt viaticum ministret. Quæ verò non possunt cum cæteris ad communionem ire in ordine suo, ad fenestram communionis, vel in ecclesiâ communionem accipiant. Quod si genus infirmitatis non permiserit ad fenestram plures efferri, duo de nostris literatis honestis, et castitatis amatores cum fratre maturo cautè ingrediantur, vitantes videre vel videri à sororibus, vel à claustralibus, in quantum licitè possunt, et ad hoc provideatur via congrua, si potest fieri, exclusa à visu et accessu claustralium.

III.—De Monialibus infirmantibus.

Quæ infirmitate tacta à choro exierit, præcentrix ei officium injunctum, cui voluerit, injungat. Nulla verò hora dicatur in infirmitorio, antequam hora in monasterio inchoetur, excepta hora sexta et vespertina sinaxy in Quadragesima. Quod si aliqua literata monacha infirmata fuerit, altera, sicut mos est, horas ei dicat, si literatæ habundaverint. Alioquin, sufficiat ei hora, quemadmodum sororibus.

IV.—De Infirmariâ Monialium, et ejus Solaciâ; et Loquelâ in Infirmitorio prohibitâ.

Licet infirmariæ monalium solaciam habere, mulierem laicam in albo velo, quæ ad nutum ejus infirmis diligenter ministret, cibos paret, pannos illarum abluat, impotentes portet, cæcas ducat, et alia quæque infirmis necessaria faciat. Pro ista fiet post obitum suum, sicut pro sorore, et communicabitur, ut soror novicia. Nullum officium deputetur infirmariæ vel ejus solaciæ extra infirmitorium, dum aliqua gravitur ægrotat. Licet moniali infirmariæ, usque ad postcommunionem missæ interesse, nisi aliqua infirmarum necessitas illam impediat. Nulla claustralis sine licentiâ ingrediatur infirmitorium, vel ibidem loquatur, nisi pro aliqua subita necessitate vocata fuerit. Si infirmaria non poterit indicare signo quod infirmæ optaverint, veniat ipsa celleraria in infirmitorio, et eâ audiente, dicat infirmaria quibus indigeat, et indigentibus in hiis quæ poterit clementer subveniat. Infirmaria non serviat in coquinâ, cum graviter infirmantes habuerit. Ipsa verò det pacem infirmæ, cum infirma dicat Confiteor.

Imbecilles extra infirmitorium existentes, licet non valeant interesse nocturnæ sinaxi, occurrant tamen orationi ante horam dicendæ. Similiter cæteris horis. Si non occurrerint, in capitulo confiteantur. Siquam tetigerit subita infirmitas, non societur conventui in labore, nisi priùs, sociata ei fuerit in divino officio. Quæ infirmantur, in refectorio, vel in infirmitorio tantummodo comedant et bibant. Hoc idem de præpositis venientibus ad capitulum, et cæteris omnibus fideliter servetur. Siqua infirmatur, quæ servire debeat, in ecclesia vel in coquina, vel alibi, cum convaluerit, non exigatur ab ea, ut debitum obedientiæ restituat, quod pro infirmitate non potuit adimplere. Quæ infirmantur non ingrediantur ecclesiam ad orandum, præsente conventu. Quæ infirmantur non significent ad mensas vel post Completorium, vel ante Primam, vel ad meridiem, nisi immoderata earum infirmitas compellat. Licet eis in infirmitorio aliquid laborare vel legere, quamdiu in æstate conventus comederit.

Quæ laboraverint, cum scapulari laborare possunt, et dormire per diem, nocte verò cum cuculla. Quacumque verò infirmitate tacta, de choro exierit, antequàm Venite finiatur, licitè infirmitorium ingrediatur. Licet infirmanti, quæ ambulare potest, cum supervenientibus parentibus suis loqui ad fenestram, si præposita viderit expedire, si ordinata fuerit. Moniales vel sorores in continuo languore decumbentes, carnibus assiduè non vescantur, set singulis majoribus et minoribus, bis vel ter vel quater in anno, si necesse fuerit, misericorditer subveniatur per xv. dies, vel paulò plus singulis vicibus. Omnes verò infirmantes, tam moniales quàm sorores, à lecto surgere valentes, simul comedant, suis locis et horis statutis, tam yeme, quàm æstate; et horas diei et noctis regulariter persolvant. Siqua verò negligens, vel viciosa super hiis fuerit reperta, corripiatur semel et secundò; et nisi emendaverit, tanquam contumax magistro præsentetur. Idem et eodem modo inter canonicos et fratres, prout decet et convenit, firmiter teneatur; et è converso.

INCIPIUNT CAPITULA DE OFFICIO MORTUORUM.

I.—De Morti proximis, et Officio mortuorum, Canonicorum et Monialum; Fratrum et Sororum; et eorum omnium Sepultura. Et de Obitibus mittendis, et de Missa pro eis celebranda; et de Horis sepeliendi mortuos.

Appropinquante hora mortis festinet unusquisque venire ad morientem, et in eundo dicat Credo in Deum; et repetat bis vel ter, si opus fuerit. Cum autem omnes illuc pervenerint, ibi circa illum expectent, et legantur ab aliquo passiones et evangelia. Et dicantur septem psalmi cum letania, et aliis consuetis et competentibus orationibus, si tam diu vixerit. Quo mortuo, pulsetur campana ter, cum aliquanto intervallo, ad excitandum vel convocandum conventum. Nec aliquis literatus vel illiteratus extra abbatiam quoquam eat, nisi à priore vel subpriore jussus, vel magna necessitate permissus, donec corpus defuncti sepulturæ tradatur: set omnes more debito exequiis et officio defuncti devotè assistant. Officium præsentium mortuorum priores compleant, qui si defuerint præcentores, prævideant, qui vices eorum suppleant. Sacerdos verò, qui officium commendationis, tam canonicorum quàm fratrum, et monialium sororumque implere debet, vestibus sacerdotalibus induatur. Dum lavatur corpus cantetur psalterium. Si tempus suffecerit ad cantandum Placebo et Dirige, in ecclesia cantetur. Sin autem, dum lavatur corpus, dicant Placebo et Dirige.

Cum monialis vel soror obierit, commendatio animæ fiat à sacerdote, ad altare, licet ipse, quavis causa assit morienti. Sorores autem faciant officium suum circa defunctam. Cum autem canonicus vel frater obierit, circa corpus fiet commendatio. Quæ verò collectam tenet, officium præsentis defunctæ, quantum ad moniales spectat, complebit. Si fortè ipsa nescierit, alia, quam jusserit præcentrix, officium faciat, vel ipsa præcentrix. Cum defunctæ sorores efferuntur de infirmitorio, præcedens aquam benedictam ferens; deinde luminaria ferentes, postea thuribulum; deinde crucem ferens, tunc sequatur corpus defunctæ, tunc præposita, et cæteræ moniales; deinde noviciæ; postea sorores; post quas noviciæ earum sequantur; et aliqua matura soror ultima sequatur ad earum custodiam. Eundem modum habeant canonici et fratres inter se cum aliquis eorum obierit.

Corpora sanctimonialium sororum, et omnium fœminarum ponantur in choro earum, dum vigiliæ et aliud officium pro eis celebratur. Set ante gradus altaris extra januas ponantur, dum pro eis missa celebratur in conventu, ut canonici et fratres licitè possint post missam accedere ad officium suum complendum absque visu monialium. Corpora canonicorum ponantur in choro eorum. Corpora fratrum in choro suo. Redditorum secularium ad altare secundum; circa defunctum vel defunctam dicatur Placebo et Dirige festinè; priùs à canonicis, si tempus congruerit; postea à monialibus si tempus suffecerit. Set numquam invitatorium pro defuncto, vel defuncta, nostræ professionis dicatur. Ad Psalterium circa defunctum vel defunctam in sellis sedeant omnes, tam canonici, quàm moniales, nisi infirmitas vel senectus interdicat. Dextra chorus canonicorum priùs vigilet, et dum canonici cantaverint, moniales taceant; et è converso. Non omittatur missa pro vivis, quamvis defuncti corpus interim fuerit in ecclesia. Ad quam dicetur una collecta pro defuncto.

Ad missam pro præsenti corpore, tres collectæ tantùm dicantur. Prima, Inclina Domine, vel Quæsumus Domine. Secunda Fidelium. Tercia Omnipotens. Ordine supradicto eant moniales ad corpus sepeliendum, præeuntibus tantùm canonicis; ita quod seniores præcedant: deinde fratres sequantur eodem ordine, præter duos senes, qui novicios sequantur. Post benedictionem tumuli, si monialis vel soror, vel alia fœmina fuerit, remotis viris, accedant sanctimoniales ad sepulchrum; et una monialis, et altera soror ponant corpus in sepulchro, et super extendatur velum dum corpus ponitur in sepulchro. Canonicorum verò corpora canonici in terram ponent; fratrum et aliorum virorum, fratres, semotis monialibus. Canonici cum tunica, caputio, et capa linea, et caligiis et sotularibus sepeliantur. Moniales cum tunica, cuculla, velo, et sotularibus. Fratres verò cum tunica, caputio, caligiis, et sotularibus. Sorores cum tunica, caputio, velo, et sotularibus. Novicii canonicorum sine capa. Noviciæ verò monialium et sororum, cum caputiis et albis velis. Cooperto verò corpore vel de lignis, vel de lapidibus, longiùs discedant fœminæ. Tunc accedat sacerdos secundùm morem, et aspergat aqua benedicta corpus et sepulchrum. Postea thurificet et projiciet ter de terra super corpus, dicens, Temeritatis est ut homo; set in hac collecta pro fœmina non dicatur Novus homo. Deinde fratres compleant opus sepulturæ.

Hiis peractis, revertantur omnes, primò canonici præeuntibus noviciis; deindè fratres eodem ordine. Post ex alia parte noviciæ sororum, quas sequantur sorores; tunc noviciæ monialium, quas sequantur moniales, et præposita ultima, et ea quæ ei associata fuerit in processione. Ad sepulturam verò non eant parvulæ nondum noviciæ. Et ita sepulto defuncto, conventus persolvat septem Psalmos redeundo in oratorium; ibique prostratus compleat. Et noviciæ in loco suo, quo faciunt orationem, post Completorium, et quæ infirmantur cum eis. Cum aliquis vel aliqua de nostris obierit, infra tres dies mittantur, qui scripta defuncti, per singulas domos nostras ferant. Qui hoc neglexerit, sive prior, sive cellerarius, aut subcellerarius, vel quislibet majorum, tribus diebus in pane et aqua pœniteat in conventu, nisi causa evidens culpam excusare poterit. Portitori brevium obituum nostrorum detur panis regularis, et potus per singulas domos. Cum obitus pro defuncto nostri ordinis recitatur in capitulo, dicatur pro eo in conventu quàm citiùs ordinata dici poterit. Nec differatur missa ultra octo dies, quamvis infra sollempnes octavas obitus venerit; exceptis octavis natalis Domini, et Paschæ, et Pentecostes; et scribatur nomen ejus in martyrologio, et fiet pro eo tricennale in singulis domibus; et unusquisque sacerdos dicet pro eo tres missas, et unusquisque inferioris ordinis unum Psalterium; fratres et sorores laicæ pro Psalterio septies viginti et decem Pater noster.

II.—De Horis sepeliendi mortuos.

OMNI tempore, quo jejunamus, tam in æstate, quàm in yeme, si ab inicio nonæ usque ad principium laudum obierit aliquis, dicta missa post primam sepeliatur. Si à laudibus usque ad finem primæ transierit, post tertiam sepeliatur. Si indè, usque ad tertiam mortuus fuerit, post sextam sepeliatur. Si à tertia, usque ad sextam obierit, dicta missa ante sextam, vel post; post primam refectionem sepeliatur. Si inter sextam et nonam, vel inter nonam et vesperas, dicatur missa ante nonam, et nona, si necesse est, differatur; post secundam refectionem sepeliatur. Tempore Quadragesimæ post nonam potest dici missa pro defuncto, et post primam refectionem sepelietur, si inter sextam et nonam obierit. Tempore autem, pro non jejunamus, si à prandio usque ad laudes sequentis diei obierit, post primam, dicta missa sepeliatur. Si à laudibus usque ad sextam, secundùm quod superiùs scriptum est fiat. Si à signo sextæ horæ usque ad refectionem obierit, hora et missa celeriùs dicantur; et post missam reficiant omnes; post nonam verò mortuus sepeliatur. Et sciendum est quod nunquam aliquis vel aliqua nostri ordinis sine missa sepelietur.

POST generale capitulum quod annuatim à nostris tenetur, terminato capitulo per singulas domos nostras, mox cum convenienter fieri poterit, obsequium defunctorum pluraliter, per singulas domos, per omnia fiat, sicut pro præsenti defuncto fratre nostro vel sorore singulariter; videlicet pro nostris, quorum nomina recitata sunt in capitulo; et pro hiis, quos prior omnium, vel priores domorum, consilio conventus sui, prece nobilium fieri sposponderunt. Et fiet unum tricennale per omnes domos ordinis, cum collecta, Deus veniæ. Et unusquisque inferioris gradus, post istud capitulum singulis annis dicet decem Psalteria, fratres verò et sorores laicæ suo modo decem Psalteria dicent. Sacerdotes nostri ordinis viginti missas generaliter, pro defunctis nostri ordinis, tam professis, quàm familiaribus dicent, post istud capitulum, cum collecta, Deus veniæ.

Item post aliud capitulum, quod tenetur in præsentia summi prioris ordinis, semel in anno, per singulas domos; super hiis, quæ in generali capitulo tractata, discussa, terminata sunt; videlicet de puniendis, vel de eradicandis, vel plantandis, ubi et recitabuntur omnia nomina defunctorum, quæ recitata sunt ad magnum capitulum; fiet obsequium defunctorum sollempniter sicut pro præsenti defuncto, et unum speciale, tricennale cum collecta, Inclina. Et singuli sacerdotes dicent tres missas cum collecta, Inclina, et unusquisque inferioris gradus unum Psalterium; fratres et sorores suo modo. Item post festum Omnium Sanctorum, fiet sollempniter obsequium defunctorum; sicut pro præsenti defuncto, cum collecta, Fidelium. Et iterum in crastino beati Eadmundi similiter fiet specialiter pro hiis, qui familiaritate nobis juncti sunt, cum collecta Omnipotens sempiterne Deus, cui numquam sine spe. Et iterum in anniversario regis Henrici secundi cum collecta, Præsta quæsumus omnipotens Deus. Et in anniversario H. Cantuariensis archiepiscopi, cum collecta, Deus qui inter apostolicos. Et in anniversario principalis fundatoris, et fundatricis, in domo quam fundaverunt. Et in anniversariis omnium magistrorum ordinis, et præterea quociens præsens mortuus fuerit in ecclesia.

QUOLIBET die per totum annum, quando non dicitur officium defunctorum in conventu, compleat illud ebdomadarius præcedentis septimanæ cum suis ministris eadem hora, qua dici solet in conventu, scilicet in yeme statim post prandium; in æstate statim post nonam. Istud verò officium omittitur in conventu, diebus principalium festorum, et die Parascevæ tantùm; set in ebdomada natalis Domini, et Paschæ, et Pentecostes, et in duplicibus festis; et per sollempnes octavas, in conventu dicatur. In hac ebdomada Natalis et Paschæ, et Pentecostes, et omnibus principalibus et duplicibus festis non dicimus De profundis post horas, nec Deus venerunt, ad missas. Qualibet septimana per totum annum præter sollempnes octavas, prima die vacante, dicetur missa in conventu, pro defunctis; scilicet Deus cui proprium, pro anniversario, vel Inclina Domine, pro præsenti obitu, si venerit, vel Deus veniæ, pro tricennali magni capituli, post octavas Sanctæ Trinitatis, vel Inclina: pro sollempni tricennali Inclina Deus.

V.—De susceptis in Morte, et eorum Debitis.

SUSCEPTUS quilibet in morte, in habitu canonici, vel fratris, per priorem et conventum alicujus domus, sine magistri assensu, in illa domo qua susceptus est, fiat pro eo sicut pro canonico vel fratre, excepto cibo xxx. dierum. Et mittetur obitus ejus cum obitu primi defuncti domus illius, post mortem illius: et sic fiet pro eo in aliis domibus, sicut pro familiari, et in tricennalibus ponetur. In domo verò, qua suscipitur, scribetur in martyrologio, et in brevibus mortuorum scribetur, ad succurrendum, si habitum habuerit. Set non mittentur brevia pro eo per se, nisi habuerit cartam magistri. Si quis verò mundum respuens, religionem desideraverit, et veniens ad aliquem de nostris desiderium suum intimaverit, sic se etiam ei vel alicui illius ecclesiæ reddiderit, hic talis, si ante petitionem suam in capitulo regulariter factam obierit, non pro novicio habeatur, set pro familiari.

PATRES et matres, fratres et sorores, et consanguinei defuncti fratrum nostri ordinis, in annuo capitulo in conventu nominatim debent absolvi. Similiter fiet in omnibus abbaciis nostri ordinis, post sollempnem absolutionem fratrum nostrorum, in retro capitulo uniuscujusque domus post generale capitulum; in quibus absolutionibus dicetur tantum, Requiescant in pace. Participes quoque fient omnium, quæ in generali capitulo statuuntur facienda pro fratribus. Pro eis quoque semel in anno communiter per omnes abbacias nostras præcipuum fiet officium sollempniter in crastino sancti Eadmundi. Quando verò aliquis quærit misericordiam pro patre et matre, fratre et sorore, filio et filia; quia pro aliis parentibus petere non licet absolvatur defunctus, in capitulo sic, Anima ejus requiescat in pace, et omnes præsentes canonici et moniales dicent pro eo septem psalmos pœnitenciales, cum collectis, Absolve, fidelium; fratres laici et sorores septies Miserere cum totidem Pater noster.

INCIPIUNT CAPITULA INSTITUTIONUM, COMMUNITER AD MONIALES ET SORORES PERTINENTIUM.

Nullus præsumat omnino aliquem, vel aliquam, vivum vel mortuum, in consortium sanctimonialium suscipere; vel eas sine assensu earum ut suscipiant compellere: suscepti vel susceptæ pecuniam foris retinere vel reticere. Reticere dico, si vel terra vel animalia dantur pro vivo vel defuncto funere.

II.—De Exitu Monialium et Sororum, ad Laborem penitùs prohibito.

Omnino prohibemus ne moniales vel sorores ad aliquem laborem exeant, nec etiam ad linum colligendum, sive mundandum, nec ad metendum, nec sotulares de cordewan ab aliquo accipiant, vel ad utendum, vel ad erogandum.

III.—De Calvatione, et Ablutione Monialium et Sororum.

Ad Pascha, et ad festum sanctæ Mariæ Magdalenæ, et ad festum Omnium Sanctorum ad minus decalventur sorores. Septies in anno licet sanctimonialibus lavare capita sua; nec ampliùs, nisi permittente præposita, si necessitas fieri postulet. Cum abluuntur capita earum, licet pannis mandati facies suas tergere. Nulli licet pedes abluere sine jussu præpositæ, nisi in luto vel palude nudis pedibus casu laboraverint et pedes defœdaverint. Panni verò manuum et pedum in claustro poni debent.

Siqua propria voluntate, à præposita quæsierit, de una domo ad aliam transmigrare, in ultimo gradu pœniteat per xv. dies, ter flagellata in capitulo, et omnino potestas denegetur ei abeundi alicubi. Hoc idem de fratribus inter fratres teneatur.

V.—De inobedientibus Monialibus et Sororibus.

Siqua inobediens, in quolibet negotio agendo alteri extiterit, in pane et aqua pœniteat, quousque delictum purgetur, vel corrigatur ad plenum. Similiter pœniteat quæcumque alteri inordinatè obedientiam injunxerit, aliter quam oportet et ordo requirit.

VI.—De singulari Familiaritate inter Moniales et Sorores penitùs prohibitâ.

Siqua singularem familiaritatem cum aliqua habuerit, si clamata non emendaverit, ad commune capitulum deducatur, ibi luitura culpam transgressionis, multarum consilio.

VII.—De Scriptis legendis Sororibus à Monialibus.

Quater in anno legantur scripta fratribus, et sororibus, et monialibus, non tamen omnibus simul; à canonicis fratribus, sororibus verò à monialibus, remotis secularibus, legantur.

VIII.—De Marsupiis non faciendis.

Non fiant marsupia à monialibus, vel sororibus nostris, nisi de coreo albo et sine seryco colorato: nec aliqua omnino opera sericata; nisi fortè ad corpus Domini et ad hostias et calices et corporalia; et ad alia divini cultus et librorum ornamenta.

IX.—De Discordia vitanda inter Canonicos, Fratres, Moniales, et Sorores.

Sanctimoniales et sorores nostras rogamus, in nomine Domini nostri Jhesu Christi, ut quietè se habeant erga fratres suos in Christo; et non quietent nec quærent improbè, quæ sunt vel non sunt quærenda, set cum omni humilitate et mansuetudine quærant quæ necessaria sunt. Et sciant illas esse fæliciores, quæ in sustinenda paupertate fuerint fortiores. Omnes illud apostoli audiant et sequantur, videlicet Supportantes invicem: et non contristetur quis adversus alterum.

X.—De Prohibitione Balnei.

INCIPIUNT INSTITUTIONES AD UNITATEM OMNIUM DOMORUM SERVANDAM PERTINENTES.

I.—De Unitate Domorum.

In verbo Dei prohibemus ne aliqua domus nostræ professionis insurgat adversùs alteram, vel possessiones ejus inquietet, vel opprimat; vel nimis in vicinia ejus quolibet modo aliquid sibi arripiat, unde illa domus vel possessiones ejus et pasturæ arctentur, vel aliquod dampnum sustineat. Quod si fortè aliquid datum fuerit, alteri domui, cujus possessione approximat, concedatur: et ipsa gratiam pro gratia ab illa domo recipiat, prout fideles fratres aliarum domorum justum judicaverint; nisi fortè assensu fratrum illius domus, sibi datum liceat possidere. Si verò ausu temerario aliter fecerit, quodcumque adquisitum fuerit, transeat in perpetuam possessionem domus illius, quam conturbare præsumpsit, sine restitutione impensæ pecuniæ domus suæ, vel laboris, et reus satisfaciat, prout culpa tantæ transgressionis postulaverit.

II.—De Mutua Misericordia invicem impendenda.

Siqua domus nostri ordinis graviori pondere paupertatis premitur, caritas subveniat, et misericordia aliarum domorum ordinis communi consilio et beneficio. Set pigra manus ad laborem caritatem impedire poterit; similiter et ordinis negligentia et dissolutio. Quicumque huic beneficio caritatis obviaverit, potestate et dignitate sua, translatus ad aliam domum, careat, et ad correctionem multorum pœniteat.

III.—De Terris non conducendis vel emendis; et Debitis ad Usuram non accipiendis: et Ecclesiis et Altaribus et Molendinis ad Firmam non dandis, sine Consilio.

Quicquid ad firmam temporalem habetur, vel perpetuam, de ipsâ re non aliundè fiat firma, et totus sumptus consilio prioris et majorum domus, omni occasione et necessitate exclusâ, ut sciatur, quid superhabundaverit. Similiter fiat de grangiis, et de ecclesiis, et molendinis. Nec emantur terræ, nec conducantur, nec in vadimonium accipiantur, vel ad firmam sumantur, nisi permissione magistri. Qui verò in veritate Deo militare cupiunt, caveant à secularibus terras vel pasturas sub annuâ pensione accipere, et eorum tributari vel firmarii fieri; nisi intollerabili paupertate vel necessitate cogantur. In virtute quoque obedientiæ inhibetur, ne aliquis omnino aliquod debitum accipiat ad usuram, nisi de licentiâ magistri. De cætero non dentur ecclesiæ nostræ nec altaria ad firmam; nec conducantur capellani habentes focarias; quod si habuerint, statim deponantur. Nec minus terras vel terræ colonos, vel nemora, vel ecclesiarum redditus, vel molendina, vel alia hujusmodi; nec nostris nec alienis pro denominatâ pecuniâ omnino committi inhibemus sine communi assensu majorum domus utriusque sexus. Qui contra hoc facere præsumpserit, in alterâ domo ordinis nostri, ad minus per annum pœniteat, ut de cætero caveat.

IV.—De Pane delicato à nostris non faciendo.

Sicut in ecclesiasticis, aliisque observationibus cavemus ne inveniamur discordes; sic etiam in victu cotidiano diversitas est cavenda; ne carnis, vel spiritus fragilitate victi, grossiorem panem abhorrere et lautiorem incipiamus desiderare. Ideo stabilimus, ne in cœnobiis nostris fiat panis candidus, ad delicias, nisi in præcipuis festivitatibus; set grossus, id est, cum cribro factus. Ubi frumentum defuerit, cum seatio licet fieri. Quæ lex infirmis non tenebitur. Set eciam hospitibus, quibus visum fuerit, album panem apponi decernimus et conventui in regulari minutione suâ, sicut in eorum sententiâ descriptum est. Cujus panis albi, viz. qui minutis apponitur, sicut et cotidiani, pasta in statera posita nequaquam plus ponderare debet, set æquâ lance appendi.

Quæcumque sororibus ab extraneis dantur, vel extraneis à sororibus data fuerint, quæ inter necessaria fuerint computanda, notificentur priori et procuratoribus, curam domus gerentibus. Hoc idem fratres sororibus faciant. Non facientes corripiantur; et in communi capitulo delictum examinetur et puniatur. Et quæcumque majoris precii, aliquibus à nostris, quacumque de causâ data fuerint, notificentur præpositis et circatoribus, vel priori omnium, ut rationem dati sciant, ne suspecti habeantur. Minora soli præpositæ notificentur: non enim licet cuiquam aurum vel argentum, vel pannos, vel sotulares, vel cultellos, vel zonas, aut aliquid hujusmodi dare vel accipere, sine prioris vel præpositæ assensu. Contempnentes, vel aliter præsumentes, prioris omnium judicio, pro tali præsumptione puniantur, ut cæteri caveant.

Nullus propriâ voluntate obedientiam sibi injunctam relinquat. Hoc facientes in ultimo gradu pœniteant, et à dominico corpore priventur, nisi pro imminenti morte pœnitenti subveniatur. Verumptamen verè et humiliato corde pœnitenti, cum prior omnium viderit expedire, sententia poterit mitigari. Prohibemus nequis canonicus vel frater, nec aliqua monialis vel soror de cætero aliquod depositum suscipiat, nec aliquid mutuo det vel accipiat, absque consensu et licentiâ prioris domus, vel procuratorum: quod si fecerit, tanquam furti reus ejiciatur.

INCIPIUNT INSTITUTIONES DE MAGNO CAPITULO.

I.—De magno Capitulo, et Personis Ordinis ad magnum Capitulum congregandis.

In ordine nostro, inter cætera, hoc decretum est; quod singulis annis semel conveniant omnes priores, et cellerarii cœnobiorum, quæ Dei gratiâ in diversis sunt ordinata provinciis; et duæ præpositæ singularum domorum, et circatores magni, et annui anni præteriti et futuri; et fratres, quos prior omnium et priores domorum providerint ad ecclesiam de Sempingham, quod ibi de observatione sanctæ regulæ et ordine totius vitæ suæ, ac indissolubili inter se pace custodiendâ diligentissimè tractent, ut tenor vivendi sæpius replicatus, ac divinarum scripturarum auctoritate corroboratus, non facilè tepere; set per diuturna plurimorum annorum spacia possit vigere. Hac ergo ratione, in loco prædicto congregati, hæc capitula instituerunt, et per universam congregationum nostrarum fraternitatem, tenenda decreverunt. Corrumpunt bonos mores colloquia mala. Et quia colloquia mala et sermones inutiles fructus proferunt non bonos; set religioni et animarum saluti contrarios; hoc vicium declinare cupientes, volumus Cisterciensis capituli vestigia sequi; in quo non admittuntur grangiarii, set omnino excluduntur; quod et nos decernimus in nostro generali capitulo diligenter observari, ne fortè grangiarii grangiarum nostrarum, sibi jure dicant deberi hoc iter ad capitulum. Et ut omnis suspicio mali et discordiæ excludatur, nullus nostrorum, præter prædictos, ad capitulum generale veniat; nisi fortè à priore omnium aliquis causa necessaria è nomine vocetur.

Sorores ordinis nostri iter agentes, vehiculo trahantur; nam equitare omnino prohibentur propter multa inconvenientia religionis vitanda, quæ solent vel possunt equitantibus accidere. Infirmanti et morti proximæ, prout caritas exposcit, et ratio dictaverit, subveniatur, in lecticâ vel alio modo; ut arrogantia et vanitas excludatur per omnem modum. Nulla etiam de nostris reversura ad propria, sine assensu præpositæ domus ingrediatur cellarium, vel aliquid inde sumat occultè vel aliundè. Quod si fortè fecerit, furti judicio publicè puniatur in fœminarum capitulo. Quæ verò necessaria fuerint ituris à præpositâ domus vel cellerariâ petantur et dentur: Simili etiam pœnâ puniantur fratres, qui sine assensu prioris, suâ cupiditate talia præsumpserint. Quando autem sanctimoniales diriguntur ad capitulum vel ad alium locum, una maturior provideatur quæ loquatur de hiis, quæ necessitas earum requirit, et quod religioni earum convenit. Priores et fratres fenestræ caveant, ne cum sanctimonialibus quoquam eant; set alii maturi per priorem ad hoc assignati, qui necessitatibus earum diligenter et reverenter et in omnibus bonis, pro posse suo, prout decet, subveniant. In navi autem non intrent cum eis nisi qui per priorem omnium assignati fuerint. Et si quid ab aliquo sermone vel opere reprehensione dignum in viâ committitur, in capitulo culpa renovabitur, ut justâ castigatione mundetur, quod injustè committitur. Similiter per omnia fiat cum revertente à capitulo, præsente priore omnium.

Cæteri omnes in itinere, à sanctimonialium consortio disjungantur. Quicumque prælatorum nostrorum, venientibus eis ad domos nostri ordinis non administraverit, infidelis habeatur: et ut infidelis puniatur, ut cæteri sibi caveant. Cum ascenderint bigas vel descenderint moniales, removeantur mares à fœminis. Moniales verò iter agentes, post primam vel ante dicant preciosa. Caveant omnes priores, et cæteri nostri ordinis et professionis literati, et illiterati, vinculo maledictionis et excommunicationis innodari, quo innodantur omnes, qui assensum vel auxilium præbuerint fœmineo sexui nostrarum congregationum de una domorum nostrarum ad alteram, vel non nostrarum transitum arripere, sine grato assensu prioris omnium. Ipsius enim solius potestas est licentiam præstare super hoc, si viderit expedire, vel necessarium fore: Ipsæ verò moniales vel sorores, vel etiam præpositæ, hujusmodi ausum arripientes, excommunicatæ habeantur, et à potestate prioratus sui deponantur, et in alterâ domo in ultimo gradu pœniteant; et à perceptione corporis et sanguinis Domini priventur, quousque manifestè pateat pœnitentia et earum cordis contritio.

Sancimus enim et firmiter observari præcipimus, ut nulla monialium nostrarum ad domum alterius religionis comedere vel bibere, vel ibidem hospitari permittatur, ne scandali detur occasio. Si sanctimoniales, vel soror aliqua, non mandata, ad capitulum magnum veniat, ad domum suam non redeat; set in aliâ domo pœnâ inobedientiæ puniatur, nec ullo modo præsumant aliquam secularem secum in quadrigis suis ducere. Quod si fecerint, simili pœnâ puniantur. In annuo capitulo non permittantur fratres vel sorores cum parentibus secularibus loqui, nisi fortè vir vel mulier magnæ potestatis et auctoritatis fuerit, nec cum illis, nisi prior omnium jusserit, et manifesta ratio postulaverit. Nostri verò, quibus loqui cum extraneis statutum est, cum supervenientibus loquantur, prout convenit cum hospitibus loqui, nec cum parentibus, nisi licentia regulariter data permiserit.

Duo genera pitanciarum euntibus ad capitulum sufficiant, butirum videlicet et caseus, et hujusmodi, si pisces non habentur. Domi verò remanentibus unà cum pulmento, sufficiat etiam fratribus domorum nostrarum in annuo capitulo regularis cibus et mensura potus, et una pitantia, ne fortè à Deo vel à fratribus nostris, aut alienis, si casu interfuerint, judicentur, si plus ventris quam mentis eos voluptas tenuerit.

IV.—De Ingressu generalis Capituli prohibito.

Omnes generaliter, canonici et fratres, moniales et sorores, officialibus exceptis, et per officia sibi credita impeditis, generale capitulum ingrediantur, ædificationem sermonis verbi audituri, ac posteâ inde exituri, nisi qui secundùm ordinis statuta capitulo interesse debent. Cum verò finiendum fuerit capitulum, audito signo omnes communiter ad absolutionem devotè conveniant. Ad annuum capitulum de Sempingham, nullus ex canonicis domus, neque ex supervenientibus exeat clausuram canonicorum, nisi de licentiâ prioris vel subprioris domus. Siquis verò egressus fuerit extra curtem abbaciæ, absque licentiâ magistri, non intromittatur, nisi de licentiâ magistri tanquam fugitivus.

In annuis capitulis generalibus, accensis candelis, anathemate feriantur omnes contra ordinem conspirantes, et dissidium domorum machinantes. Idem fiet in singulis domibus proximo festo post adventum priorum in domum suam in capitulo, præsentibus canonicis et fratribus. Combustores et fures, et proprietarii singulis annis excommunicentur in generali capitulo, et post per singulas domos.

VI.—De Numero Sanctimonialium, Fratrum et Sororum.

Hunc numerum fratrum crescere in domibus nostris omnino prohibemus. In Sempingham, lx. Chikesande, lv. Watton, lxx. Malton, xxxv. Lincoln, xvi. Haverholm, l. Chattelay, xxxv. Bulington, l. Syrel, lv. Ormesbi, l. Alwingham, xl. Novo loco, xiii. Hospitali, lv. Mareseia, et apud Sanctum Leonardum, x. Summa est DC. sex minus. Perpetuo languore laborantis, alius recipi potest. Interdicimus etiam, in virtute obedientiæ, ne in aliquâ præfatarum domorum numerus crescat monialium, quibus sorores connumeramus. In Watton, cxl. Chikesand, cxx. Sempingham, cxx. Haverholm, c. Kattelay, lx. Lincoln, xx. Bulington, c. Syrel, cxx. Ormesbi, c. Alwingham, lxxx.

ADHUC DE PRÆDICTO GILBERTO PRIMO EJUSDEM ORDINIS INSTITUTORE.

[Ex Annalibus Nich. Triveri MS. in Bibl. Cotton.]

Anno M.C.xlvi. (regis Stephani septimo.) .... Claruerunt iis temporibus in Angliâ, viri sanctitate illustres, Thurstinus Eborac. archiepiscopus, et Gilbertus ordinis de Symplingham institutor; quorum primus, deposito archiepiscopatu, apud Pontem fractum, inter Cluniacensis ordinis monachos vitæ dies exegit. Alter Gilbertus, vir eximiæ religionis, in fœminarumque custodiâ gratiæ singularis ..... infirmiorem sexum cœpit propensiùs æmulari, omni æmulatione piâ, ausu sumpto ex supernæ gratiæ fiduciâ, et conscientiâ propriæ castitatis. Cumque cœptis ejus favor videretur arridere divinus; veritus ne fortè in vacuum curreret, si irrumpentem zelum moderatrix scientia non condiret, Clarevallensem abbatem D. Bernardum adeundum censuit, cujus salubri informatus consilio, et in proposito roboratus, tantò ferventiùs, quantò confidentiùs piis cœptis insistere non cessavit ..... Denique servorum Dei duo, et ancillarum Dei octo, non ignobilia construxit monasteria, quæ et numerosis replevit collegis, et regularibus institutis ornavit.

[Ex Menologio Cisterciensi per Chrisostomum. Henriquez, p. 42.]

Ordo (inquit) monasticus Gilbertinorum, qui institutus est in Angliâ anno M.C.xlviii. militat sub instituto Cisterciensi. Hoc idem affirmat Miræus Orig. Monasticorum lib. 5. cap. xi. Montalbus verò lib. 2. cap. xxiii. ait, Gilbertini, habitu et omnibus aliis rebus, sunt Cistercienses. Papa enim Eugenius tertius, utpote Cisterciensis, quando eorum ordinem approbavit, præcepit ut regulam S. Adhuc de eodem Gilberto, et Ordine quem instituit.

[Guil. Neubrigensis de Rebus Angl. lib. 1. cap. xvi. (edit. Par. 1610. cum Notis 1. Picardi) p. 50.]

Nec silentio prætereundus est venerabilis Gillebertus, vir planè mirabilis, et in custodiâ fœminarum singularis, à quo etiam ordo Sempringhamensis sumpsit exordium, et cum celeri provectu celerem statum. Hic ab annis, ut dicitur, adolescentiæ, propriâ nequaquam salute contentus, sed lucrandum Christo animarum zelo ignitus, infirmiorem sexum propensius cœpit æmulari Dei æmulatione, pio ausu sumpto, ex propriæ castitatis conscientiâ, et graciæ supernæ fiduciâ. Cumque cœptis ejus favor videretur arridere divinus; veritus ne fortè in vacuum curreret, aut cucurrisset, si erumpentem zelum moderatrix scientia non condiret, præsertim minus adhuc à majoribus institutus, tam arduam sollicitudinem arripuisset. Virum sapientiæ et sanctitatis titulis clarum, venerabilem scilicet abbatem Clarevallensem, sanctum Bernardum adeundum putavit; cujus venerandis consiliis informatus, atque in suo proposito roboratus, tantò ferventiùs, quantò confidentiùs piis cœptis insistere non cessavit; prosperatusque est in hiis quæ gerebat; et sicut de nobili[a] patriarchâ dicitur, "ibat proficiens atque succrescens," donec magnus vehementer effectus est, tam in multitudine copiosâ ad omnipotentis Dei servicium aggregata, quàm in adjectione rerum temporalium ad necessaria subsidia corporum, juxta illud dominicum,[b] "Quærite primùm regnum Dei, et justiciam ejus, et hæc omnia adjicientur vobis." Denique servorum Dei duo, et ancillarum Dei octo, non ignobilia construxit monasteria; quæ et numerosis replevit collegis, et juxta datam sibi sapientiam regularibus ornavit institutis. Et quidem circa servos Dei instituendos abundavit, indultâ ei divinitùs gratiâ, in sollicitudine fœminarum. Quippe in hac parte, meo judicio, palmam tenet inter omnes, quos instituendis regendisque fœminis, religiosam operam impendisse cognovimus; et quidem ante annos aliquot spiritualibus lucris onustus, jamque decrepitus, cœlestis sponsi paranymphus migravit ad Dominum. Porro filiorum et filiarum ejus numerositas permanet; potensque est in terrâ nostrâ semen ejus, et generatio ejus benedicetur in seculum.

Epistola Willielmi Norwicensis Alexandro Tertio Rom. Pontifici.

Sanctissimo patri, summo pontifici Alexandro, suæ sanctitatis servus Willielmus Norwicensis salutem, et cum summa devotione obedientiam. Statuta paternitatis vestræ, ex pietatis et rationis fonte procedere, nulli dubium est; et ea solo spiritui nostro complacent, quæ Spiritus Sanctus suggerit, et veritatis dulcedine condiuntur; inde est, quod vestræ majestati audeo scribere, cum sim pulvis et cinis, et testimonium perhibere veritati, quam visu et rerum argumentis expertus sum. Gilbertus de Sempringham, tum ex vicinitate, tum ex celebritate sanctitatis, qua præeminet, mihi incognitus esse non potest; anima ejus sedes sapientiæ est, et mens ejus haurit de Spiritu Sancto, quæ aliorum auribus excellenter infundit. In lucrandis et conservandis Deo animabus tam studiosus et efficax est, ut ex comparatione ejus, tædet me ignaviæ meæ, et mihi et consimilibus mei propheta improperet, dicens, Esai 34. "Erubesce Sidon ait mare." In sanctimonialibus, quarum multitudinem innumeram Deo acquisivit, fervet et religionis amor, et castitatis diligentissima custodia, et se ab hominum visu et colloquiis gloriantur esse exceptas, ut meritò eis conveniat, quod scriptum est, "Dilectus meus mihi et ego illi, qui pascitur inter lilia."

De canonicis, quorum innocentiæ audio apud clementiam vestram esse derogatum, testor Deum et animam meam, quod nec verbum infamiæ memini me audîsse; cum ex propinquitate loci et frequentia venientium ad nos ignorare non possem. Accessus ad sanctimoniales sic eis penitùs inhibitus est, ut nec priori quidem eorum, videndi vel loquendi cum aliqua, licentia pateat; et in perceptione eucharistiæ, et dans et accipiens invicem ignorantur. Habent siquidem domos suos, claustrum, et oratorium in quo dormiunt, meditant, et orant. A conversis suis tantum exigit, ut vitam, quam professi sunt, inviolabiliter conservent; quod et ipsi, me præsente, se devotissimè facturos promiserunt. Quod illis prædecessorum nostrorum et vestra auctoritate firmatum est; et quod illi, post longam experientiam profitentes devoverunt, ipse mutare non præsumit, ne levitatis et præsumptionis arguatur. Lis tamen, quam adversùs eum suscitaverunt, plus tepidi quàm ferventes charitate, utinam dimitteretur talium judicio et testimonio, qui haberent zelum Dei secundùm scientiam; qui ex inspectione apostolicorum privilegiorum, et rerum ipsarum evidenti cognitione veritatem agnoscerent, et regularis observantiæ nec inexperti essent nec ignari, et quos non tæderet susceptæ religionis; et manu missa ad aratrum non respicerent retrò. Vir verò confectus senio; et virtutum plenior quàm dierum, non est deterrendus, ne à proposito ad multorum ruinam deficiat; sed hortandus et demulcendus, ut perseveret ad conservandum salutem, quam Deus per eum operatus est in medio terræ nostræ. Rarescunt cotidiè grana in area Domini, sed paleæ multiplicantur. Deus sanctitatem vestram ecclesiæ suæ conservet incolumen. Vale.

Sempringham Priory, Lincolnshire.

Priory of Sempringham, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER says, Sir Gilbert, son of Sir Joceline de Sempringham, knt., rector of the Church of St. Andrew here (having instituted a new model of a Religious life, from him and this place called the Gilbertine or Sempringham Order), about the year 1139, obtained by the gift of Gilbert de Gaunt, after Earl of Lincoln, three carucates of land, on which he built a Priory for his Nuns and Canons, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary.

This was the head House of the Order, where their general chapters were held.

The following Names of the MASTERS of SEMPRINGHAM occur in the Harleian Manuscripts 6950, 6951, 6969, and in one or two of the Harleian Deeds: WILLIAM, who died in 1261. PATRICK, Prior of Watton, el. 7 id. Feb. 1261. JOHN DE HOMERTON died March, 1282. ROGER DE BOLINBROK, id. Apr. 1283. PHILIP DE BARTON, or BURTON, occurs in 1311. He died in 1332. JOHN DE GLYNTON, el. 29 kal. Aug. 1332. WILLIAM DE PRESTWOLD occurs in 1373. ADAM CLOUGH DE LEVERINGTON, 15 April, 1386. WILLIAM DE BEVERLEY, 29 Apr. 1403. THOMAS, 1508. ROBERT HOLGATE, 1536, afterwards bishop of Landaff.

The revenues of the Priory of Sempringham were valued, in the 26th Hen. VIIIth, in the gross, at 359*l.* 12*s.* 7*d.*, in clear income at 317*l.* 4*s.* 1*d.* Beside the Master of the Order, Sempringham had a Prior. The Site of this House was granted, in the 30th of Henry the VIIIth, to Edward Lord Clinton.

Tanner has given numerous References to Records, MSS., &c. concerning this House, to which, for compression's sake, the reader may refer. A few additional Memoranda will be found in the Note below.[a]

Impressions from the SEAL of the Master of Sempringham are appendant to the Harleian Deeds, 44 A. 44, and 44 A. 49.

Carta Hugonis de Bajocis, de tota Terra in Sempingham et Bilingburc, quam Rogerus filius Gocelini habuit ibidem.

[Ex autog. in officio Armorum.]

CUNCTIS Christi fidelibus Hugo de Bajocis salutem. Notum sit fidelibus Christi, quod concessi, et dedi, ex mea parte sanctimonialibus, quæ Deo serviunt, apud Sempingham, totam terram, quam Rogerus filius Gocelini habuit in Sempingham, et Bilingburc, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in villa et extra villam, liberam et quietam ab omni exactione, et seculari servitio. Et hoc feci prece ipsius Rogeri, et hæredum ejus. Nam ipse Rogerus acquietabit prædictam terram de servitio unius militis, quod debebat mihi de illa terra, et hæredes ejus, qui totam aliam terram suam habent, quam de me tenuit: et de hoc me fecerunt securum. Hujus donationis meæ testes sunt, Acardus avunculus meus; et Alanus, Willielmus, Robertus, fratres mei; Clemens capellanus meus, Supirius de Bajocis; Ace de Silvanecto; Wido de Brancewelle; Robertus Crecht; Petrus de Gousla; Jordanus de Hayelinge; Galfridus de Wittale; Ivo de Marisco; et multi alii.

salutem. Cum magister Robertus Luterel manerium, quod in parochiâ Sancti Petri Stanford habuit, vobis contulerit, intuitu charitatis, volens ut scolares, pro numero conventus vestri augmentando studentes in divinâ paginâ, vel philosophiâ, in eodem manerio, et unum capellanum sæcularem vel regularem, divina celebraturum in capellâ beatæ Mariæ, infra dictum manerium scituatâ, perpetuis temporibus sustentetis. Nos pium factum hujus, et propositum commendantes, licet in dictâ capellâ à multis retrò temporibus habita fuerit cantaria, prout didicimus, pro constanti, ad majorem tamen corroborationem voluntatis magistri Roberti prædicti, studentiumque solatium et quietem, ut in capellâ prædictâ absque præjudicio parochialis ecclesiæ Sancti Petri Stanford, infra cujus parochiam situatur, et aliarum ecclesiarum vicinarum, possitis perpetuò facere celebrari divina; licentiam, quantum in nobis est, vobis concedimus specialem. Ita tamen, quod nec fons baptismalis, nec campanile erigantur; nec processio, aut actus cujusvis solemnitatis fiat, nec ulli modo sacramenta inibi ministrentur; et oblationes faciendæ ibidem rectori parochialis ecclesiæ supradictæ reddantur, eadem ecclesia indempnis per omnia conservetur, et ei in nullo honore debitus subitus substrahatur. Et si contra formam concessionis hujusmodi, quicquam fuerit attemptatum, eadem concessio nullius penitùs sit momenti. In cujus rei testimonium sigillum nostrum præsentibus est appensum. Priory of Haverholm, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER, speaking of Haverholm, says, "This place was first given by Alexander bishop of Lincoln to the Cistercian monks of Fountains in Yorkshire, about A.D. 1137, that they might build an Abbey of that Order, but, after having made some progress in the same, they pretended not to like the situation, and thereupon removed to Louth Park. The good bishop quickly disposed of the island here to the Nuns and Canons of the new and strict Order of St. Gilbert of Sempringham, who settled there, A.D. 1139, and continued till the general Dissolution." This Monastery was dedicated to the Virgin Mary. Its revenues in the 26th Hen. VIII., in the total, amounted to 88*l.* 5*s.* 5*d.*; in clear income to 70*l.* 15*s.* 10½*d.* per annum. The Site was granted Jan. 9th., 30th Hen. VIII., to Edward Lord Clynton and Say: a moiety of the Priory and its demesne was transferred in the 36th Hen. VIII. to William Torrold.

Tanner notices a REGISTER of this House as in the possession of Edward Lynald of Heling in the county of Lincoln. Copious Extracts from this Chartulary are preserved in the Lansdowne MS. 207. A. fol. 165. among the Collections of Gervase Holles; where the original is said to have been in the possession of Edm. Lynold, rector of Heling.[a]

A small oval Impression of one of the SEALS of Haverholm is in the possession of one of the Editors of this Work; it represents a priest in the attitude of performing mass: with the Inscription SIGILL' PRIORIS DE HAVERHOLM. The Seal appendant to the Surrender, dated 24th Sept. 30th Hen. VIII., in the Augmentation office, has two figures in the area sitting under a gothic canopy, and beneath them, under a Saxon arch, a monk praying; it is small and of ordinary workmanship.

The Grant of Adam Fitz-Peter, to the Canons of St. Gilbert of Sempringham, at Haverholm, in Lincolnshire.

[Stevens's Contin. vol. ii. p. 264. from the Records of York.]

To all the sons of our holy mother the church, Adam Fitz-Peter, greeting. Be it known to you, that I have given, and by this present deed confirmed to the nuns, canons and brothers at Haverholm, there serving God and St. Mary, all I had in the town of Norford, viv. one carrucate of land, with all its appurtenances in wood and plain, in meadows and pastures, and whatsoever I had in the town of Kikeley, viz. two carrucates of land, with all their appurtenances, and mills and other necessaries in wood and plain, waters, meadows and pastures. Besides this, I will give to the aforesaid nuns, canons and brothers, for ever, one stone of wax yearly, at the feast of St. Michael, and my heirs shall so do for me for ever: All this I have given them with the good will of my wife Maud, and of my heirs, in free and perpetual alms, as is most freely given to any free religious persons, quit of all secular service, exaction and occasion, as any alms is most freely given to any religious person; and we will warrant and maintain all these things aforesaid, against all men, as our proper and special alms, saving ourselves, and the reasonable service of our lord the king. But it is to be observed, that this carrucate at Horsford defends itself for a fourteenth part of a knight, and the two carrucates of land at Kikeley for the eighth part of a knight's service. All this I have given to the aforesaid convent of Haverholm, with my daughter Juliana, and my niece Maud, for the health of all our kindred, as well living as deceased. But at my death, they shall perform the same service for me and my wife Maud, which they do for any canon or nun of their order. These being witnesses, Robert Pyron, Alexander Cressey, Robert Divell, Robert, my heir, Helias Fitz-Richard, Robert Divill, Peter Filad, Richard Such, Roger Fitz-Richard, Helias Man, Robert Pyron, Geoffry York.

NUM. III.

The Contract between the aforesaid Convent of Nuns and Canons of Haverholm, and the Monks of Kirkstall, for the abovc-mentioned Lands given by Adam Fitz-Peter.

[Ibid.]

THIS is the contract between the convent of both sexes at Haverholm, and the convent of monks at Kirkstall; that the master B. first founder of the order of Sempringham, and the aforesaid convent of Haverholm, have let to the aforesaid monks one carrucate of land at Horsford, with all its appurtenances, and two carrucates of land, and one mill at Kikeley, with all their appurtenances in crofts and tofts, and ways and paths, in wood and plain, in meadows and pastures, in waters and marshes, and in all other places within the town and without, that they may have and hold them in perpetual possession freely and quietly, as Mr. Adam Fitz-Peter granted, and by his deed confirmed the same to the aforesaid church of Haverholm. But the convent of Kirkstall shall, for the said tenures, yearly pay to the said church of Haverholm, four pounds in money, two at Whitsuntide, and two at the feast of St. . . . . . (the saint's name is here torn out, but I suppose it to be St. Martin) and they shall perform the foreign service appertaining to that land, and the aforesaid sum shall be carried to the said nuns of Haverholm, at the aforesaid terms. And to the end that this contract between them may be firmly observed without fraud, deceit, or ill design, it has been confirmed by the chapter of Fountains, and the chapter of Rieval, and the chapter of Kirkstall, and the chapter of Revesby, with the necessary security. But in case any shall attempt to disturb the aforesaid monks about these tenures, the brothers of Haverholm will faithfully stand by them against all adversaries that shall, on this account, molest them, at the expense of the monks within Yorkshire, but without it, at their own expense. Besides, if it shall happen, that the aforesaid Adam or his heirs shall deliver to the house of Haverholm the church of Birchin, and that part of the church of Brentun which belongs to his fee, the monks shall quit the aforesaid tenures free and peaceable to the house of Haverholm without any claim, saving their vestments and buildings, and the expenses which shall be made with the assent and advice of the brothers of Haverholm. Witness the lord abbat Robert of Fountains, and the abbat Salvan of Rieval, and good Ralph, abbat of Kirkstall, and Hugh, abbat of Revesby.

NUM. IV.

The Confirmation of the aforesaid Contract by the above-mentioned Adam Fitz-Peter.

[Ibid.]

To all the children of our holy mother the church, as well present as to come, Adam Fitz-Peter, greeting. Know ye, that I have granted, and by this my deed confirmed to God and St. Mary, and to the monks of Kirkstall for ever, the contract made between the convent of the nuns and canons of Haverholm, and the convent of the monks of Kirkstall, viz. for one carrucate of land at Horsford, with its appurtenances, and for two carrucates of land, and one mill at Kikeley, with their appurtenances, as my deed, which I gave to the nuns, and the writing I made between the two convents, do testify, with the same alms and liberty as the nuns held the same lands of me, viz. to be held strictly and free from all services that belong to me and my heirs, saving the first and reasonable service of our lord the king, viz. for the carrucate at Horsford, the fourteenth part of a knight's service; and for the two at Kikeley, the monks shall do the eighth part of a knight's service. But the monks have received me and my wife Maud and our heirs in their prayers; and at our death shall perform the same service for each of us, that they do for any monk of their own order. These being witnesses, Adam the priest, Robert Vavasor, Richard Cans, William, clerk of Friston, William, clerk of Broreton, Hugh Marshall, Hascuil, painter, Robert Stiveton, John Priory of Chicksand, in Bedfordshire.

THIS Priory was founded about the year 1150, by Pain de Beauchamp and Roese his wife, relict of Geffrey de Mandeville, founder of Walden Abbey, for canons and nuns of the Order of St. Gilbert of Sempringham.[a] It was dedicated to the Virgin Mary.[b] So anxious was Roese to promote the interests of her favourite convent, that when her son Geffrey de Mandeville, Earl of Essex, whose patronage and benefactions she had in vain endeavoured to induce him to transfer from his father's Monastery of Walden to Chicksand, died at Chester, she being then residing at this convent with her nuns, sent an armed troop to intercept his corpse on its way to Walden for interment, and forcibly convey it to be buried at Chicksand, to which Monastery she hoped his kindred would by that means be induced to become benefactors; but her intention being made known to the knights who were to attend the body, they provided themselves with a sufficient guard, and, with their swords drawn, conveyed it safe to Walden.[c]

Simon de Beauchamp, son of Pain, gave the church of Chicksand to the nuns there;[d] and John Blondel, in 1317, the manor.[e] William the son of Simon de Beauchamp confirmed his father's and other donations to the Monastery.[f]

The total of the revenues of this House amounted in the 26th Hen. VIII. to 230*l.* 3*s.* 4½*d.* per annum; the clear receipts to 212*l.* 3*s.* 5½*d.* It was surrendered Oct. 22, 30th Hen. VIIIth, by the sub-prior, six monks, and eighteen nuns,[g] and its site was granted 31st Hen. VIII. to R. Snow, of whose family it was purchased, about the year 1600, by Sir John Osborn, knt., in whose descendants it is still vested.

An Impression of the COMMON SEAL on red wax is in the Augmentation Office; it is oval, and has for its subject two figures, one male the other female, on their knees; underneath them a monk also on his knees praying. The Legend is, S. CONVENTVS. SANCTE. MARIE. CHIKESAND. AD. CAVSAS.

Chicksand House still retains much of the monastic appearance, and exhibits considerable remains of the conventual buildings. Two sides of the cloisters are nearly entire.

Priory of Bullington, or Bolyngton, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER says, Simon Fitz William or de Kyma, temp. R. Steph.[a] built in his park here a Religious House for a Prior and Convent of both sexes, under the rule of St. Gilbert of Sempringham, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary; which, before the Dissolution, was endowed with revenues, in gross amount, to the sum of 187*l.* 7*s.* 9*d.* per annum; in clear income to 158*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* The Site was granted in the 30th Hen. VIIIth to Charles duke of Suffolk.

A REGISTER of this House appears, in 1642, to have been in the possession of Robert Metham of Bullington; Collectanea from which were in the library of John Anstis, Esq. Garter King at Arms. Other references to Records concerning it will be found in Tanner.[b]

CUNCTIS Christi fidelibus, Simon filius Willielmi salutem. Sciatis me fundâsse domum quandam religionis in parco meo de Bolyngton, in honore Dei et beatæ Virginis Mariæ; et dedisse illam sanctimonialibus ordinis de Sempingham, et fratribus earum, clericis et laicis, ibidem Deo servientibus, pro salute animæ meæ et Agnetis uxoris meæ, et omnium antecessorum nostrorum. Dedi etiam eis partem de parco meo, ut ibi habitent; et partem de bosco meo, et de terris meis, aquilonali parte, et orientali ejusdem domus, per metas et divisas determinatas, et eis assignatas. Similiter dedi eis, ad sustentationem suam, ecclesias de Bolyngton et Langton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et molendinum meum de Hachethorn. Dedi similiter eis, in territorio meo de Faldigwert, totum Aldefeld, de Rafnestoft, usque ad Mormatehem in occidente; et exinde recta linea, versùs meridiem, usque ad divisa de Hanewort; et ex eodem Mormathem usque ad divisas de Neutona, in aquilonali parte. Assignavi etiam eis in eodem territorio, locum ad habitandum, ut ibi faciant domos et grangias et cæteras officinas suas, cum libero introitu et exitu. Dedi etiam totam terram, quam habebam in Wameth, de feudo Willielmi Bechet, in territorio de Faldigword; cum communi pastura ejusdem villæ, et de Aldefeld, sexcentis ovibus, et aliis animalibus et pecoribus suis. Hæc omnia eis dedi et assignavi per manum Roberti secundi episcopi Lincolniæ, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, libera et quieta ab omni seculari servicio et exactione. Et ego, et hæredes mei post me warantizabimus eis hæc omnia prædicta, contra omnes homines, sicut specialem elemosinam nostram. Hujus rei testes sunt, ipse dominus Robertus, episcopus Lincolniensis, Adelinus decanus; magister Haimo; Robertus archidiaconus; Malgerus de Newerc; Philippus de Kima, et Simon et Walterus filii mei: Willielmus Bechet.

Carta Willielmi filii Philippi de Kima, de Situ Abbatiæ, necnon omnibus Terris et Ecclesiis de feodo suo.

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus præsens scriptum visuris vel audituris, Willielmus de Kima, filius Philippi de Kima secundi, salutem in Domino. Noveritis me divinæ caritatis intuitu, et pro salute mea, et Luciæ sponsæ meæ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum, concessisse et præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et priori ac conventui utriusque sexus domus de Bolyngton, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam et quietam ab omni seculari servicio, et terrena exactione, quicquid habent de feodo meo, sine aliquo retinemento, scilicet scitum abbatiæ suæ, cum omnibus terris et nemoribus, tenementis, et pasturis, et omnibus aliis pertinentiis et aisiamentis suis; et liberam viam per omnes terras meas ad omnes usus suos, sicut ad usus meos proprios, vel hæredum meorum; exceptis blado et prato secundùm morem et antiquam consuetudinem patriæ positis in defenso; et exceptis boscis de Bolyngton, salva dictis priori et conventui libera via ad omnes decimas suas pacificè inde cariandas. Et totam grangiam suam de Aldefeld, cum omnibus terris et tenementis, quæ de feodo meo habent in Faldingworth, in Spridlington, in Toft, et in Neuton, in Ingham, in Rande, et in Bolyngton, in Wragby, in Herdewic, in Hakethorn, in Langton, in Oxecumbe, in Burgo, in Winthorp, in Scegnes, in Freskena, in Wanfleth, in Braitoft, in Ganneby, in Hotoft, in Sutton, in Malberthorp, in Hemmingby, in Sarewya: et in marisco de Metringham, cum omnibus pertinentiis, libertatibus, et aisiamentis suis, infra villas et extra; et liberam piscariam in aqua mea, et de Dokedic inter Winstanhow et Brudewar; videlicet quatuor hominibus cum duobus batellis et duobus tramaliis, per duos dies per annum, in adventu monialium apud Bolyngton, versùs magnum capitulum de Sempingham.

Et præterea concessi et confirmavi prædictis priori et conventui omnes patronatus et advocationes ecclesiarum de Bolyngton, de Langton, de Fuletheby; de Haveringham; de Burgo, de Wynthorpe; de Prestwald; de Ingham; de Sprydlington; in medietate ecclesiæ de Friskena, et in medietate ecclesiæ de Hackthorn, cum omnibus terris et tenementis ad prædictas ecclesias pertinentibus, et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis et libertatibus suis. Habenda et tenenda prædicta omnia et singula, sine aliquo retinemento, sibi et successoribus suis liberè, quietè, pacificè, et honorificè, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam in perpetuum. Ita quidem, quod nec ego nec hæredes mei, vel assignati, aliquod jus vel clameum, seculare servicium vel demandum, aliqua ratione de cætero possimus exigere de prædictis terris et tenementis, cum omnibus ac singulis pertinentiis: ego verò Willielmus et hæredes mei, vel assignati, adquietabimus et defendemus omnia et singula prememorata de omnibus rebus, et exactionibus, sectis curiarum et demandis, et de omnibus serviciis et consuetudinibus, querelis et occasionibus, et de omnimodis forinsecis serviciis contra dominos feodorum, et contra omnes homines et fœminas, sicut puram et perpetuam elemosinam nostram in perpetuum. In cujus rei testimonium præsens scriptum sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, dominis Philippo de Arci, Nicholao Burdeth, Ada de Toutheby, militibus; Gilleberto de Cherles; Roberto de Misterton; Stephano de Lund; Thoma Mustell; Hugone de Helewelle; Philippo de Merle; Roberto Herre de Wynthorp; Ada Jaumbes. Stemma Regináldi Creuker, Baronis de Redburn.

REGINALDUS CREUKER, qui desponsavit Matildem filiam et hæredem Gilberti filii Goscelini, qui contulit domui de Bullyngton in primâ fundatione ejusdem domus, quod habemus in Redburne. Et post decessum dicti Reginaldi Matildis, uxor ejus confirmavit donationem Reginaldi mariti sui. Et post eos Alexander filius et hæres eorum; et post eum Simon frater ejus et hæres; et post eum Cecilia Creuker, filia Simonis et hæres. Ista fuit desponsata domino Waltero de Nevyle, de qua habuit exitum Alexandrum filium et hæredem. Et post obitum domini Walteri viri sui, ista movit placitum in curia domini regis de prædicta terra de Redburne; et concordati fuerunt, sicut patet in fine levato inter eos, coram justiciariis de banco, anno regni regis Johannis primo. Dictus Alexander habuit alterum Alexandrum filium ejus, et hæredem. Et iste Alexander fuit ultimus baro de Redburne, qui habuit quinque filias, inter quas baronia fuit partita.

Carta Philippi de Kyma et Uxoris ejus Hahewissæ.

[Ibid.]

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus, Philippus de Kima et uxor ejus Hahewissa, salutem. Sciatis nos concessisse Deo et ecclesiæ de Bulinctunna, quam pater meus et ego Philippus, in honorem S. Mariæ fundavimus, ad opus sanctimonialium ibidem Deo servientium, quicquid Simon, filius Willielmi pater meus eis dedit; videlicet in terris, pratis, pascuis, nemoribus, ... omnibus. Præterea ego et Hahewissa uxor mea concessimus et dedimus, et hac carta nostra confirmavimus Deo et ecclesiæ de Bullinctunna, ad sustentationem canonicorum ibidem servientium, totam terram quam in dominio meo habui in Faldingwurth, et ecclesiam de Spridlinctune, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in feudo meo sitam; et ecclesiam de Winetorp, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et dimidiam ecclesiam de Freschenei, et statutum redditum unius marcæ argenti de redditu molendini de Croft, quam annuatim persolvent ecclesiæ de Sempingham pro ecclesia de Tirintune. Dedimus etiam prædictis canonicis viginti sextarios salis, per singulos annos in perpetuum, in Croft. Hæc omnia concessimus prædictis canonicis et sanctimonialibus, in præsentia venerabilis patris nostri Roberti secundi episcopi Lincolniæ, et ejus authoritate et testimonio confirmavimus, ut prosit nobis et hæredibus nostris, et cæteris amicis nostris, vivis et defunctis, et nunc, et in perpetuum. Hæc autem omnia dedimus eis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam et quietam ab omni exactione, et consuetudine, et seculari servitio; nam nos guarantizabimus ea erga omnes homines. Hujus donationis testes sunt Robertus secundus episcopus Lincolniæ, et Walterus abbas, et Godefridus et Albri, monachi de Barheneia; et Odardus, et Hugo, et B. . . . monachi de Revesbi; et Hugo canonicus de W. . . . et Rogerus de Beningworta; et Thomas filius Willielmi Hacun, et Ricardus clericus de Cantebrisge, et Willielmus Hostricer.

Carta Philippi de Kima.

[Ibid.]

CUNCTIS Christi fidelibus, præsentibus et futuris, Philippus de Kima, salutem. Notum sit vobis me concessisse, dedisse, et hac præsenti charta mea confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ et conventui de Bolingtone ad sustentationem vestimentorum suorum viginti acras prati in territorio de Hotofte, de dominico prato meo: viz. in Holecrofte, undecim acras; scilicet à fossato Willielmi Hellecor in latitudine, versùs austrum, usque australem angulum orti prædicti conventus; et de eodem angulo in longitudine versùs occidentem, secundùm divisas et metas, factas inter eundem pratum et meum, quod est ex australi et occidentale parte. Et in Sudhenges novem acras in duobus locis; scilicet quæ vocantur Wraes. Concessi etiam et confirmavi eidem conventui in communi pastura mea de Hotofte, pasturam sexcentis ovibus suis. Concessi etiam et confirmavi eidem conventui locum in quo habitant fratres prædicti conventus, quem avus meus Philippus de Kima eis dedit, et sicut postea omnimodo tenuerunt. Hoc autem tenementum prædictum, cum suis pertinentiis, ego et hæredes mei warantizabimus prædicto conventui in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam et quietam ab omni seculari servitio et exactione, contra omnes homines et fœminas in perpetuum. Hanc donationem et concessionem feci dicto conventui cum libero introitu et exitu suo; et omnium suorum, pro salute mea et Agnetis sponsæ meæ, et omnium antecessorum, et successorum meorum. Hiis testibus, Gileberto de Benigwrd, Thoma de Muleton, Simone de Chauncy, Johanne de Oreby, Philippo de Chauncy, Simone de Marton, Willielmo Cressaunt.

Carta Simonis de Crevequer.

[Ibid.]

CUNCTIS Christi fidelibus Simon de Crevequer salutem. Sciatis omnes, tam præsentes quàm futuri, me concessisse, et hac carta mea confirmâsse omnia quam pater meus Reginaldus de Crevequer, et mater mea, et Alexander frater meus dederunt sanctimonialibus ordinis de Sempingham, quæ et S. Mariæ serviunt in Bulintone, et fratribus earum, tam clericis quàm laicis, in perpetuam elemosinam, sicut cartæ eorum testantur; videlicet, quadraginta acras terræ arabilis in territorio de Haccatorn, et decem acras prati, et duas acras ad habitandum juxta molendinum, quod situm est in feudo Simonis filii Willielmi, quod prædictarum sanctimonialium fratres tenent, liberas et quietas ab omni seculari servitio, cum communi pastura in territorio de Hacchetorne, et de Hanewrthe, quingentis ovibus et decem vaccis, cum totidem vitulis. Confirmavi etiam ipsis sanctimonialibus et earum successoribus, quicquid eis dederunt in territorio de Redburne, scilicet totam insulam quæ dicitur Tunstal, et in insula Hathe totam partem, quæ ad feudum nostrum pertinet, præter illam terram quam Reginaldus Wacelin de feudo nostro tenuit; pro qua terra dedimus eis excambias extra insulam; scilicet triginta acras de terrâ arabili in territorio de Redburna, et communem pasturam trecentis ovibus, cæterisque pecoribus earum et communionem in pasturis, in mariscis, in aquis, in piscariis, et pratum nostrum, quod est inter duas insulas; scilicet inter Tunstal et Hathe; et totam Wlfholm; et sexdecim acras alias extra insulam in campis de Redburna. Hæc omnia confirmavi prædictis sanctimonialibus possidenda benè et in pace, libera et quieta ab omni seculari servitio, et consuetudine et exactione, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut aliqua elemosina à religiosis liberiùs possideri potest. Quoniam ego et hæredes mei acquietabimus ista omnia supradicta ad opus earum, erga regem et omnes homines, pro salute mea et meorum, et pro anima patris mei, et matris meæ, et Alexandri fratris mei, et omnium parentum meorum, ut prosit nobis in perpetuum. Hiis testibus, Philippo de Kyme, Waltero vicecomite, Dromone fratre ejus, Rogero de Maletot, Rogero de Beningword, Herberto filio Adelardi, Thoma filio Willielmi, Henrico de Campania, Warnero de Campania, Olivero de Vendoure, Willielmo fratre ejus, Radulfo filio Osberti, Willielmo de Barchewrthe, Roberto de Ormesbi, Roberto de Maringa, Roberto Ribald.

Priory of Watton, in Yorkshire.

TANNER says, There was a Nunnery about the year 686.[a] Afterward, about A.D. 1150, Eustace fil. Joannis founded here, under the direction of Gilbert of Sempringham, a House of Nuns and thirteen Canons of his new Order, to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary.[b] Burton, in the Monasticon Eboracense, has given an alphabetical list of its possessions, to which the reader may refer. Its revenues were rated in the 26th Hen. VIIIth at 453*l.* 7*s.* 8*d.* in the total; in clear income at 360*l.* 16*s.* 10½*d.*; at which time here were fourteen canons. The site of this House was granted in the 3d Edw. VI. to John Earl of Warwick.

Of the PRIORS of this House, Patrick was elected Master of the Order of Sempringham in 1261. John resigned the Priorate in 1304. James Bolton occurs in 1479 and 1482. Robert Holgate bishop of Landaff, commendatory Prior of Watton, surrendered the same, December 9th, 1540. He was afterwards archbishop of York.[c]

The COMMON SEAL "ad causas" is attached to the Surrender in the Augmentation Office, and represents the Blessed Virgin and Divine Infant in her lap; and having on each side of her a figure praying: and in an arch beneath a Monk on his knees praying. Legend, s . prioris . et . conventvs . de . wattone . ad . cavsas. The Surrender is dated 9th Dec. 31 Hen. VIII.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, per Eustachium filium Johannis.

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus Eustachius filius Johannis salutem. Sciant omnes, qui legerint et audierint hanc cartam, quod ego Eustachius et uxor mea Agneta, et hæredes nostri, dedimus in perpetuam elemosinam sanctimonialibus, quæ Deo serviunt in Wattona, ipsam villam de Wattona totam, in terris, in aquis, in pratis et in pascuis, et in mariscis, et in cæteris rebus, intra villam, et extra villam, pro animabus patrum, et matrum, et filiorum, et filiarum; fratrum, et sororum nostrorum, et amicorum nostrorum; ut eam habeant et teneant liberam et quietam ab omni exactione et seculari servitio. Dedimus etiam eis Hor de Feribye, cum totâ terrâ suâ; videlicet, tres bovatas terræ, cum mansurâ suâ, et omnibus rebus suis in perpetuam elemosinam, in liberâ possessione; sine omni seculari servitio. Hujus donationis testes sunt, Willielmus filius Gueri: Willielmus Latimer; Willielmus filius Osberti; Richardus capellanus; Warinus presbiter; Herveus canonicus de Lincolnia; Willielmus de Mynghall.

Confirmatio Henrici Archiepiscopi Eboracensis, de Fundatione Domus de Wattun per Eustachium filium Johannis fundatæ, et confirmatæ per W. Fossard, in cujus feodo sita est.

[Ex autographo in turri beatæ Mariæ Eboraci.]

UNIVERSIS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, Henricus Dei gratiâ Eboracensis archiepiscopus, salutem, et Dei benedictionem. Universitati vestræ innotescat, apparuisse in præsentiâ nostrâ Willielmum Fossard apud Beverlaicum, ibique coram communi capitulo, in ecclesiâ Sancti Johannis, concessisse et confirmâsse sanctimonialibus de Wattona, donum Eustachii filii Johannis, super eadem villâ de Wattun, eisdem sanctimonialibus factum prece ipsius Eustachii. Superaddidit etiam eis ex proprio dono suo, et quietum clamavit, quicquid juris ipse in prædictâ villâ de Wattun habebat, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, et nominatim servitium duorum militum, quod præfatus Eustachius ei indè debebat, et hoc totum specialiter assignavit et dedit ad sustentamentum tredecim canonicorum, qui ibidem jam dictis sanctimonialibus perpetuò servituri et provisuri sunt, tam in divinis quàm in terrenis, secundùm instituta ordinis de Sempingham. Hanc donationem et confirmationem attestamur, et juxta petitionem supradictorum virorum venerabilium, Willielmi scilicet Fossard, et Eustachii filii Johannis, quam sanctam et justam judicavimus, authoritate ecclesiæ beati Petri Eboraci, et nostrâ, quâ fungimur, ac præsentis cartæ nostræ attestatione; perpetuâ stabilitate confirmamus, et inconcussè communimus. Confirmamus etiam et corroboramus, et indissolubiliter consistere decernimus, ut tredecim illi canonici præsint præfatis sanctimonialibus, et sanctè eis ministrent secundùm ordinem de Sempingham, et omnibus prædicta dona et jura eis servantibus, commune beneficii totius diœcesis nostræ concedimus, cum Dei benedictione et nostra. Cunctis autem hanc viri donationem, et nostram confirmationem corrumpere, vel cassare intentis, indignationem Jesu Christi, et beatæ genetricis Dei, et omnium sanctorum imprecamur, nisi condignè pœnituerint; et eos anathematis vinculo innodamus, nisi ad plenam satisfactionem venerint. Hujus rei testes sunt Adam abbas de Melsa; Willielmus cantor Eborac. Rob. archidiaconis. Et canonici de Beverlaco, Ailwardus, Radulphus, Simon, Rogerus, Willielmus Morin, et Aluredus sacrista, et Warinus clericus comitis: Willielmus de Wartre; Everardus, Rogerus elemosinarius; et laici Robertus de Stutevilla, Hugo Murdac, et Richardus frater ejus, filii ipsius Hugonis, Stephanus, Will. Henr. et Jordanus Malerba, Radulphus filius Wimundi, Thomas filius Odardi; Bernardus, Ernaldus de Aiemis, Godfridus Talun, Engelbert; cartam quietantiæ servitii duorum militum, et petitionis domini Eustachii ad opus prædictarum sanctimonialium in manu mea tradidit.

Carta Agnetis filiæ Willielmi Constabularii Cestriæ, de tota Villa de Wattuna.

OMNIBUS sanctæ ecclesiæ fidelibus, Agnes filia Willielmi constabularii Cestriæ, salutem. Notum sit vobis, quod ego concessi et dedi sanctimonialibus de Wattuna in perpetuam elemosinam, totam villam de Wattuna, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in terris et aquis, pratis et pasturis, in mariscis et piscariis, in villa et extra villam, ut eam habeant liberam, et quietam, ab omni exactione, et seculari servicio, pro qua videlicet Wattuna concessi et confirmavi excambias, quas dominus Eustachius, vir meus, dederat pro ea, de maritagio meo, ut hæreditario jure possideant, et hæredes eorum, qui Wattonam possiderunt, et prædictas excambias susceperunt; viz. Rich. de Bald. et Willielmus filius Onfridi. Hanc autem elemosinam dedi pro salute domini, et mea, et pro anima Richardi filii mei, et Gaufridi, et cæterorum amicorum meorum; et warantizabo eam, et hæredes mei, sicuti propriam elemosinam nostram. Hanc donationem meam confirmavi mea carta, et testimonio bonorum virorum; viz. Petri prioris de Nortona, et Willielmi prioris de Erberia; et Heliæ capellani, et Radulphi capellani, et magistri Gilberti de Sempingham, et Roberti canonici; et Hard. et Rogeri filii constabularii; et Pagani de Trace; et Will. de Croili, et Alexandri filii Warini, et Richardi pincernæ, et Rich. Cestriæ.

NUM. V.

Carta Roberti, Constabularii de Flamesburgh, de quatuor bovatis Terræ in Hildertorp.

[Ibid.]

CUNCTIS Christi fidelibus Robertus constabularius de Flamesburgh, salutem. Notum sit vobis omnibus, me dedisse, et præsenti carta confirmâsse Deo et sanctimonialibus de Wattuna, fratribusque earum clericis, et laicis, quatuor bovatas terræ in Hildertorp, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in liberam, et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs datur, aut possidetur, sine omni servitio et exactione. Concessi etiam eis Fligheres ad suam propriam navem colligendas in territorio de Flamesburgh, quandocunque sibi libuerit, sine omni contradictione mei, vel meorum. Hiis testibus, magistro Rogero Arundel, Martino presbytero, Johanne Arundel, Walerano de Cranwic, Willielmo filio ejus, Alexandro de Buchetun, Richardo de Altune, Radulpho clerico de Altun, Roberto de Holm.

NUM. VI.

Carta Roberti, Constabularii Comitis Cestriæ, de tota Terra de Wattuna.

[Ibid.]

OMNIBUS fidelibus sanctæ ecclesiæ, Robertus filius comitis constabularii Cestriæ, salutem. Sciatis me, pro Dei amore, et pro salute animæ meæ, et petitione, et assensu Agnetis uxoris meæ, donâsse et concessisse sanctimonialibus, quæ Deo apud Wattunam serviunt, totam terram ejusdem Wattunæ, infra villam, et extra, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in pascuis, in pratis, in aquis, et molendinis, et in mariscis, et in piscariis, et illam tenendam in perpetuam elemosinam, solam, et quietam, et liberam ab omni seculari servicio, sicut Eustachius filius Johannis illis eam dedit, et carta sua confirmavit, prece et assensu Agnetis uxoris suæ, per cujus maritagium excambiata ipsa Watuna, scilicet per Loditunam et Hildertorp. Teste Petro priore de Nortona, et Willielmo priore de Herbera, et Helia capellano, et Radulpho capellano, et Gilberto de Sempingham, et Roberto canonico de Waltuna, et fratre Sceimano de Sempingham, et magistro Roberto de Istellapio, et Ardewino, et Willielmo de Croili, et Alexandro filio Warini, et Pagano de Traci, et Rogero filio Willielmi constabularii, et Richardo de Cestria, et parvo concilio, et Richardo pincerna, et Archillo, et Radulpho coco, et Willielmo de Chinun.

NUM. VII.

Carta Rogeri de Lasci Constabularii Cestriæ, Donationes et Excambias Eustachii filii Joh. in Wattun et Hildredthorp, recitans et confirmans.

[Ibid.]

Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, Rog. de Lasci constabularius Cestriæ, salutem. Sciatis me concessisse, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et conventui sanctimonialium de Wattona, quæ sunt de ordine de Sempingham, et fratribus earum clericis et laicis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, omnia tenementa quæ possident in Wattun, et in Hildredthorp, de dono Eustachii filii Johannis, avi patris mei, uxoris illius Agnetis, quæ ad feodum meum pertinent. Concessi etiam et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi, quod ratæ sint excambiæ, quas fecit prænominatus Eustachius de constabulatu Cestriæ, Richardo le Bauld, et hæredibus suis; videlicet de terra de Lodington, quam idem Richardus accepit in excambias à prædicto Eustachio, avo patris mei, pro medietate villæ de Wattuna, quam medietatem dedit præfatus Eustac. conventui de Wattuna, cum alia medietate ejusdem villæ, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut cartæ præfati Eustachii, et uxoris ejus Agnetis, et Joh. patris mei testantur. Hanc verò concessionem et confirmationem feci prædicto conventui, pro salute mea et hæredum meorum, et pro animabus patris mei, et matris meæ, et omnium prædecessorum meorum, ut mihi et illis prosit imperpetuum. His testibus, magistro Rogero ordinis de Sempingham, Albino, et Rogero capellanis suis, magistro Jacobo Hospitalis sancti Nicholai, Richardo decano de Marnham, Eustachio fratre domini, Roberto Walensi, Willielmo de Lungvilers, Adam de Dutton, Gilberto de Lasci, Alano Boidele, Henrico de Eland, Willielmo filio Everardi, Gaufrido pincerna, Roberto de Luvethorp, Reimundo clerico, Rob. clerico de Pontefracto.

NUM. VIII.

Carta Willielmi Fossard, de tribus carucatis Terræ in Houwald.

[Ibid.]

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, Willielmus Fossard, in Christo salutem. Notum sit vobis me dedisse et concessisse, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Watton, tres carucatas terræ in territorio de Houwald, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, liberas et quietas ab omni servitio, et exactione, et consuetudine, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs à fidelibus datur quibuslibet religiosis, præter danegeldum solummodò, si rex illud quietum carta sua non clamaverit; et hoc feci maximè pro itinere quod facturus eram Jerosolomi, et pro remissione peccatorum meorum, et parentum meorum omnium, vivorum, et mortuorum, &c. Teste Rogero archiepiscopo Eborum, Johanne thesaurario, Johanne filio Letoldi, et magistro R. Hospitali, et fratre Suano presbytero, Waltero Aguilun, Willielmo filio Geroldi, Willielmo de sancto Pancratio, Bertramo de Bulemer, Philippo de Monte.

NUM. IX.

Carta Alexandri de Santon, de quibusdam terris in Santon.

[Ex ipso autogr. in bibl. Cotton.]

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis Alexander filius Willielmi de Santun salutem. Sciat universitas vestra me dedisse, et hac mea carta confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ et sanctimonialibus de Wattun, et fratribus earum, clericis et laicis, totam terram meam, quæ vocatur Heselchou, in campis de Santun, octies scilicet viginti acras terræ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, infra villam de Santun et extra, in viis et semitis, in aquis et exitibus, et in omnibus pascuis, ut eam in perpetuum secundùm voluntatem suam colant et ædificent, habeant, et possideant, et quicquid sibi placuerit faciant. Insuper etiam dedi prædictis sanctimonialibus et fratribus suis communem pasturam totius campi de Santun, quantum ad meum feudum pertinet. Hæc omnia eis in puram et perpetuam elemosinam dedi, ut ea quieta et absque omni terreno servitio liberè et securè et honorificè in pace in perpetuum possideant. Hanc ergo donationem et confirmationem eis feci pro salute animæ meæ, et uxoris meæ, et liberorum et antecessorum meorum et successorum. Et ego et hæredes mei guarantizabimus et acquietabimus eis hanc nostram elemosinam contra omnes homines, de omnibus rebus et calumpniis in perpetuum. Hujus donationis meæ testes sunt capitulum sancti Johannis de Beverlaco: canonici, Osbertus Arundel, Symon, Ailwardus, Will. Morin; Robertus sacrista; Nicholaus de Hugat, Rob. Willielmus, Alanus sacerdotes; Bernardus, Gerardus fratres sacristæ; Jordanus, Will. filius Rogeri; Petrus de Cave; Herebertus de Hovetona; Stephanus Forester; Alexander filius Normanni; Walterus Engain, Igelbertus de Wetewange.

NUM. X.

Carta Richardi de Santon, Donationem Alexandri Patris sui confirmans.

[Ex ipso autogr. in bibl. Hatton.]

Omnibus Christi fidelibus hoc scriptum visuris vel audituris, Rich. filius Alexandri de Santon, salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me concessisse, quietum clamàsse, et præsenti scripto confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ et conventui de Watton, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, omnes terras et tenementa, redditus et possessiones, cum advocatione medietatis ecclesiæ de Santon, et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis, quas habent ex dono prædicti Alexandri, quondam patris mei, in villa et in territorio prædicto de Santon. Tenendum et habendum omnia prædicta liberè, quietè, integrè, et pacificè; ita sanè, quod nec ego nec aliquis hæredum vel successorum meorum aliquod jus vel clamium, aliquodve sæculare servitium in omnibus prædictis terris et tenementis, ut prædictum est, apponere, aut exigere poterimus in perpetuum. In cujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum meum apposui. Hiis testibus, dominis Galfr. Ageylun, Jacobo de Mora, Will. Daniel militibus, Joh. de Hothom, Galfr. de Hothom, Thoma filio Briani de Kylingwike, Rich. de Santon, Joanne de Santon, Ricardo de Aldeford, Tho. Walleran, Joh. filio Johannis de Crancewike; Johanne Scroppe, at aliis.

NUM. XI.

Carta Regis Johannis, de tota Langedale, et totâ Terrâ et Pasturâ inter ipsam et Butresdalesbec.

[Cart. 1 Joh. p. 1, n. 86.]

Johannes Dei gratia, &c. Sciatis nos concessisse, et hac carta nostra confirmâsse Deo et sanctimonialibus de Watton, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, totam Langedale, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et totam terram et pasturam inter ipsam Langedale et Butresdalesbec, sicut aqua quæ vocatur Tybbey descendit, ad faciendum inde omnem voluntatem suam; pro salute nostra, et pro animabus omnium antecessorum nostrorum. Quare volumus, et firmiter præcipimus, quod prædictæ sanctimoniales totam terram illam habeant, et teneant, et pasturam benè et in pace, liberè, et quietè, integrè, et plenariè, et honorificè, in bosco et plano, in pratis et pasturis, in aquis et molendinis, in viis et semitis, et in omnibus aliis locis et aliis rebus ad eas pertinentibus et cum libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus suis, sicut carta regis Henr. patris nostri rationabiliter testatur. Teste G. filio Petri comite Essexiæ, Hugone Bardolf, Will. de Stuteville, &c. Datum per manus S. Wellen. archidiaconi, et J. de Gray, apud Danecastriam xxviii. die Martii, anno regni nostri primo.

NUM. XII.

Stemma Fundatorum istius Domus.

Memorandum quod Johannes pater primi Eustachii, et Serlo de Burgo, sive de Pembrok, fuerunt fratres. Iste Johannes genuit Eustachium, qui dictus est Eustachius filius Johannis. Iste Eustachius genuit Willielmum, ex filia et hærede Ivonis de Vescy, qui Will. cæso ventre matris, natus est, et mater mortua. Iste Willielmus fuit primus cognominatus de Vescy, et hoc propter hæreditatem matris; qui Willielmus genuit Eustachium de Vescy, ex Burga sorore Willielmi de Stotevill, et cepit cum eâ in maritagium villam de Langetone. Ipse Eustachius genuit Willielmum de Vescy secundum, ex Margeria filia Will. regis Scotiæ; qui Will. genuit Johannem et Willielmum, ex Agnete filiâ comitis de Ferrariis; qui Will. obiit, et sepultus est apud Watton. Joh. verò filius ejus, frater senior, obiit apud Mumpelers, et sepultus est apud Alnewyk. Et quia non habuit hæredem de se, Will. frater ejus successit ibi in hæreditatem. Qui quidem Will. genuit Johannem de Vescy, ex Isabella filia Roberti de Peryngton, et relicta domini Roberti de Welles. Qui quidem Johannes mortuus est apud Cuneway, sine hærede, et sepultus est apud Maltone. Propter quod dictus Willielmus feoffavit dominum Antonium episcopum Dunelm. in Alnewyk, cum suis pertinentiis, et cum reversione manerii de Eltham, juxta Grenewych, quod domina Isabella, quæ fuit uxor domini Joh. filii dicti Willielmi, tenuit in dotem. Item prædictus dominus Will. feoffavit dominum Edwardum regem Angliæ de Kyldare in Hibernia, et de Sproxton in Scotia, propter licentiam feoffandi; de omnibus aliis terris suis, Willielmum filium suum, quem genuit in Kyldare, de quadam Dervorgule filia cujusdam reginæ Hiberniæ, nomine Dovenald Rochmaccarti.

[Esc. 9 Edw. II.]

Memorandum quod Johannes pater primi Eustachii, et Serlo de Burgo, sive de Penbrok, fuerunt fratres. Iste Johannes genuit Eustachium, qui dicitur Eustachius filius Joh. Iste Eustachius genuit Willielmum, ex filia et hærede Ivonis de Vescy; qui Willielmus (cæso ventre matris) natus est, et mater mortua. Iste Will. primus vocabatur Will. de Vescy, et hoc propter hæreditatem, quam habuit ex parte matris. Qui Will. genuit duos filios; viz. Willielmum et Eustachium, ex Burga sorore Will. de Stotevill, et cepit cum ea in maritagio villam de Langetone. Mortuo Will. fratre, Eustachius successit in hæreditatem. Iste Eustach. genuit Will. de Vescy, ex Agnete filia Willielmi regis Scotiæ. Et iste Will. genuit Johannem, et Will. ex Agnete filia comitis de Ferrers. Mortuo Johanne sine hærede, Will. ejus frater successit in hæreditatem. Mortuo Johanne, filio dicti Willielmi, Willielmus dedit hæreditatem Will. filio suo bastardo, qui natus fuit in Hibern. et occisus apud Strivelin.

Et sciendum est, quod dictus Serlo construxit castrum apud Knaresburgh. Mortuo Serlone descendit hæreditas ejus ad Eustach. filium Johannis, sicut ad nepotem, et hæredem proximum. Eustachius vero tenuit dictum manerium, cum pertinentiis, tota vita sua. Quo mortuo, successit filius et hæres, qui tenuit dictum manerium aliquantisper, et per quandam indignationem, quam accepit dominus Joh. rex contra illum, ablatum est dictum manerium, et datum Will. de Stotevile. Et sciendum est quod Eustachius filius Joh. post mortem uxoris suæ, desponsavit Agnetem, filiam Will. constabularii Cestriæ, et genuit filios et filias; de quibus processerunt calumpniatores hæreditatis Will. de Vescy; et ex una illarum processit quidam Will. qui vocabatur Will. de Vescy, et genitus fuit in ...... et nutritus fuit cum Will. filio Eustachii primogenito. Et iste Will. bastard genuit Warinum, qui vocatur Warinus de Vescy, ex una ancilla cujusdam nutricis, in castello de Malton in .... et quia nutritus fuit cum Eustachio filio Willielmi de Vescy; ideo vocabatur Warinus de Vescy. Qui Warinus desponsavit Matildem filiam Walranni de Wellon, et genuit ex ea Matildem et Marjoriam, filias et hæredes; quarum una fuit desponsata Gilberto de Aton, et sic linealiter, de hærede in hæredem, usque ad Gilbertum modo petentem.

UNIVERSIS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, A. abbas de Melsa, et H. prior de Bridlington, et magister R. de Logynton, æternam in Domino salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, quod cum causa a summo pontifice nobis esset delegata inter conventum de Watton et rectores ecclesiæ de Morlund, super retentione quarundam decimarum, tam in terris conductis quàm in propriis, in præjudicium privilegii a sede apostolica indulti detentarum audienda et terminanda, tandem amicabili compositione in præsentia nostra in hunc modum sopita est. Videlicet, quod prædictus conventus, sine omni retentione et exactione, tam in terris conductis quàm conducendis, vel quocunque titulo in parochia de Morlund possessis vel de cætero possidendis, decimas bladi prædictæ ecclesiæ de Morlund, et ejusdem rectoribus de cætero persolvent. Excepta una carucata terræ, quam dictus conventus in Thimeby in dominico possidet; pro cujus decimarum solutione annuatim ecclesiæ de Morlund, et ejusdem rectoribus unam marcam argenti persolvet, scilicet, dimidiam ad Pentecosten et dimidiam ad festum sancti Martini. Hanc autem amicabilem compositionem tam procuratores domus de Watton ex consensu dicti conventus, quam memorati rectores ecclesiæ de Morlund, de consensu abbatis et conventus Sanctæ Mariæ Eboraci, firmiter imperpetuum observandam, tactis sacrosanctis evangeliis juraverunt. Ne igitur quæstio semel sopita, de cætero possit suscitari, memoratam compositionem præsenti scripto, et sigillorum nostrorum appositione, cum sigilli conventus de Watton appositione, roboravimus.

Priory of Albingham, or Affingham, in Lincolnshire.

THIS Priory of Gilbertine Nuns and Canons was dedicated to the blessed Virgin Mary and Saint Adelwold, in the time of Robert Cheiney bishop of Lincoln, in the latter end of the reign of King Stephen, or the beginning of that of King Henry the Second, but by whom founded, says Tanner, does not certainly yet appear, whether by William de Friston, Hugh de Scotene, Hameline the Dean, or some other.

It was valued, in the 26th Hen. VIIIth, in the total amount of revenue, at 141*l.* 15*s.*; in clear income at 128*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 5th Edw. VI., to Edward Lord Clinton.

Dugdale has made some considerable extracts from the REGISTER of this House preserved in the Bodleian Library at Oxford, MS. Laud, F. 119.[a]

Carta Hamelini Decani, de Ecclesia de Alvingham.

[Ex Regist. de Alvingham, in bibl. Bodl. (arch. Cant. F. 119.) f. 10 a.]

SCIANT omnes, tam præsentes quam futuri; quod ego Hamelinus decanus, assensu et consilio hæredum meorum, dedi et concessi, et præsenti carta confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Alvingham, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam possidendam, totam partem ecclesiæ S. Adelwoldi de Alvingham, quæ pertinet ad terram quam teneo de feudo comitis Britanniæ in eadem villa; scil. tres partes ejusdem ecclesiæ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Hanc elemosinam ego et hæredes mei contra omnes gentes warantizabimus. Quartam verò partem ejusdem ecclesiæ tenent præscriptæ sanctimoniales de donatione Rogeri filii Gocelini, per concessum meum, qui aliquo tempore persona ejusdem ecclesiæ extiterim: sed dimissionem personatus, in manu Roberti de Chenei, Lincolniensis episcopi, feci. Facta dimissione pontifex memoratus sanctimoniales prædictas de præfata ecclesia, cum pertinentiis suis, integrè et plenariè investivit in capitulo de Sempringham.

NUM. II.

Carta Petri de Melsâ, de quadam Mansurâ.

[Ibid.]

NOTUM sit cunctis Christi fidelibus, quod ego Petrus de Melsa et Beatrix sponsa mea, et Johannes filius noster et hæres, dedimus Deo et sanctimonialibus, quæ serviunt in ecclesia beatæ virginis Mariæ de Alvingham, mansuram illam, quæ est in occidentali parte virgulti earum; et præsenti carta confirmavimus eis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs donari potest alicui. Hanc verò mansuram tenuit Walterus filius Edrici rusticus operarius (sicut et pater ejus fuit) quam dedimus eis ad honorem Dei et beatæ virginis Mariæ et S. Aldewoldi, ut prosit nobis et hæredibus nostris post nos in perpetuum.

NUM. III.

Carta Beatricis de Melsâ, de Medietate Demenii sui.

[Ibid.]

SCIANT tam futuri, quàm præsentes, quod ego Beatrix sponsa Petri de Melsa, concessu et assensu Johannis filii mei et hæredis, dedi, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Alvingham, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, et fratribus earum, illam dimidietatem totius demenii nostri, que sola propinquior est in territoriis utriusque villæ de Alvingham, et de Cokeringtonia, cum omnibus aisiamentis et pertinentiis suis, excepto tofto et virgulto demenii nostri. Et sciendum est vero, quod de illa medietate dedi prædictis sanctimonialibus triginta acras terræ arabilis, et decem acras prati, cum filia mea, quam præfatæ moniales in consortium suum susceperunt. Hæc omnia feci, assensu et concessione Petri sponsi mei, et Johannis filii mei; et warantizabimus erga regem et dominos, et omnes homines, et hæredes nostri post nos in perpetuum, sicut aliqua elemosina meliùs et liberiùs quibuslibet viris religiosis warantizari potest. G. vero prior de Alvingham, et prædictæ ecclesiæ conventus viderunt et intellexerunt, quam magno debito ego et dominus meus Petrus, et Johannes filius meus obligati eramus erga Judæos, alleviaverunt nos et acquietaverunt de octoginta septem marcis argenti, et dimidia.

NUM. IV.

Carta Johannis filii Petri de Melsâ, de Terris in Alvingham et Cokerington.

[Ibid.]

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, tam futuris quam præsentibus, Johannes filius Petri de Melsa salutem. Sciatis me dedisse, et hac præsenti charta confirmâsse, in puram et perpetuam elemosynam, Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Alvingham, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, et fratribus earum, totam mansuram meam in Alvingham, cum mansurâ illâ quam Tinghi tenuit del west virgulti indè; et cum mansurâ quam Ailwardus tenuit, et ipsum meum virgultum, et totum demenium meum in Alvingham et in Cokeringtoniâ, tam in terrâ arabili, quàm in pratis et mariscis et pascuis et pasturis, et in omnibus ad prædictum demenium pertinentibus, cum omnibus libertatibus; exceptis hominibus meis, cum toftis suis et terris ipsorum; scilicet decem et octo bovatis et dimidiâ, sicut in illo die tenuerunt, quo hanc elemosynam prædictis monialibus dedi. Hæc omnia ego Johannes et hæredes mei, assensu et concessione patris mei Petri, et matris meæ Beatricis, et cæterorum amicorum meorum fecimus. Et hanc prædictam elemosynam de demenio nostro warantizabimus et acquietabimus eisdem monialibus, de omni servicio et consuetudine et seculari exactione erga regem et dominos, et omnes homines imperpetuum, et hæredes nostri post nos, sicut aliqua elemosyna meliùs et liberiùs quibuslibet viris religiosis warantizari potest. Hanc verò donationem et confirmationem factam in anno incarnationis Domini MCCXXXII. ego ipse Johannes acquietare et defendere affidavi in manu Jukel de Jerdeburgo, coram hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. V.

Confirmatio Donationum per Robertum Lincolniensem Episcopum.

ROBERTUS Dei gratiâ episcopus Lincolniæ universis sanctæ ecclesiæ filiis salutem. Debemus ex officio omnium ecclesiarum, quæ nobis subjectæ sunt, jura tueri; illis tamen specialem curam impendimus, quæ sub religionis habitu ordinatæ novimus institutas: eapropter ecclesiæ beatæ Dei genetricis Mariæ de Alvingham, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, episcopalis officii, quo fungimur, auctoritate confirmamus possessiones et bona, quæ vel in præsentiarum canonicè possident, vel in posterum, annuente Domino, justè poterunt adipisci; inter quæ hæc propriis duximus exprimenda nominibus. In Alvingham, ex donatione Willielmi de Fristunâ, quinque toftos et quatuor bovatas terræ et dimidiam. Et in eadem villâ, ex donatione Hugonis de Scotineiâ unum toftum et unam bovatam terræ: et in Cokeringtoniâ ecclesiam, cum cæteris eidem ecclesiæ pertinentibus. Et dimidium molendinum, cum duodecim acris terræ. Præter hæc ecclesiam de Caletorp, et unam bovatam terræ; et sexaginta acras terræ, quas Affridus de Lecheburne eis dedit, sicut ejusdem charta testatur. Hæc itaque statuimus, ut liberè et quietè possideant, salva in omnibus matris Lincolniensis ecclesiæ reverentia, nostrâque et successorum nostrorum debita obedientia. Valete.

Carta Hugonis de Scoteni, de tertia Parte Ecclesiæ S. Mariæ; et de Ecclesia de Cokerington.

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, præsentibus et futuris, Hugo de Scoteni salutem. Sciatis me, assensu et consilio Lamberti filii mei, et Beatricis sponsæ meæ, dedisse, et hac præsenti carta confirmâsse Deo et beatæ virgini Mariæ, et conventui de Alvingham, tertiam partem, quam habebam in ecclesia beatæ Mariæ constituta, in illo loco ubi idem conventus manet, cum omnibus pertinentiis, et terras universas, quas homines mei de feudo meo eidem ecclesiæ, et ecclesiæ S. Leonardi, et ecclesiæ S. Margaretæ in elemosinam dederunt. Dedi etiam prænominato conventui ecclesiam de Cokerinton, quam Vitalis sacerdos in vita sua tenuit; et unam bovatam terræ in territorio de Cokerinton, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. Præterea dedi eis molendinum, cum filia mea, quod vulgò vocatur Wramilna, cum crofto adjacente eidem molendino; et cum xii. acris terræ in campis de Cokerinton. Hæc omnia supradicta dedimus et confirmavimus ego Hugo et Lambertus filius meus, et Beatrix sponsa mea prænominato conventui, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute animarum nostrarum, et omnium parentum nostrorum, in capitulo matricis ecclesiæ Linc. in præsentia Rob. episcopi. Hiis testibus, Rob. archidiacono, David archidiacono de Bukingham, Humfredo subdecano, Willielmo Osberti archidiaconi filio; Alexandro canonico, Wingo et Rogero canonicis; Gerardo canonico, et aliis multis.

Jus quod habetis in ecclesiis de Drington, de Seufeubi, de Hakeetorn, de Freskeeneya, cum capellis et omnibus pertinentiis earundem. Ecclesiam quoque conventualem Sanctæ Trinitatis in proprio fundo inclitæ memoriæ regis Angliæ Henrici secundi, in insula quæ dicitur Rucholm fundatam, auctoritate nobis apostolica nihilominus confirmamus. Statuentes ad instar fœlicis recordationis Innocentii, Eugenii, Adriani, Alexandri, Lucii, Clementis, Celestini, et Innocentii, prædecessorum nostrorum Romanorum pontificum, ut non liceat cuiquam religionem vestram, vel jura, aut rationabiles institutiones, à primo patre vestro beato Gilleberto scripto commendatas, et prædictorum prædecessorum, ac nostri auctoritate, scriptoque confirmatas, sine majoris, et sanioris partis consilio et consensu, corrumpere vel mutare, vel aliquid superaddere, quod prædictæ religioni vestræ vel salubribus videatur institutionibus obviare. Inter hæc autem nominatim duximus hæc exprimenda, ut unum cellarium, una coquina sub sanctimonialium et sororum cura sit omnibus, tam sanctimonialibus et sororibus quàm canonicis et fratribus; et pecunia in auro et argento et pannis sub earundem custodia existere debeat, atque omnis monachorum, canonicorum, clericorum et laicorum illicitus ingressus et accessus ad eas penitùs inhibeatur, quemadmodum in earum scripto salubri et rationabili providentia distinctum esse dinoscitur et statutum.

Obeunte verò te nunc supradictæ religionis magistro, vel tuorum quolibet successorum, nullus eisdem congregationibus qualibet surreptionis astutia, vel violentia præponatur, sed summus prior eligatur consilio priorum ordinis, et curatorum, et assensu præpositarum, sicut in vestris institutionibus continetur, cui soli omnis conventus domorum profiteri, et obedire secundùm formam ordinis vestri censemus. Omnis autem potestas abbatibus et prioribus super hiis, quæ ad divinum cultum pertinent, concessa in sibi subditos et divino cultui mancipatos, tam in coronis faciendis, quàm in confessione ad missam dicendâ, et benedictionem ante evangelium dandâ, et cæteris omnibus superiori priori vestro, qui præest universis congregationibus ordinis de Sempingham, inconcussa permaneat. Inhibemus itaque ne terras vel ecclesias, aut aliquod beneficium aliud prædictis congregationibus collatum liceat alicui personaliter dari, nisi communi et generali assensu omnium, sine majoris et sanioris partis præfatæ professionis canonicorum et sanctimonialium.

Sane laborum vestrorum, quos propriis manibus aut sumptibus colitis, sive de nutrimentis animalium vestrorum, à vobis sive ab aliis, pro eo quod illa in custodia vel pastura sua habent, ubicunque sint, nullus omnino decimas exigere vel extorquere præsumat. Libertates verò et immunitates, quas illustris memoriæ rex Anglorum Henricus secundus, et Ricardus rex filius ejus, ecclesiæ vestræ cartis suis confirmaverunt ratas perpetuò decernimus permanere. Prohibemus autem, ut nulli vestrorum post factam in eodem loco professionem liceat ex eodem claustro discedere; discedentem verò, absque prælati sui licentiâ, nullus audeat retinere; set nec alicui Cisterciensis ordinis liceat aliquem fugitivorum vestrorum retinere, vel vobis illorum fugitivos recipere, contra autenticum scriptum inter nos rationabiliter factum. Præterea auxilia et universas indebitas et inconsuetas exactiones ab archiepiscopis, episcopis, archidiaconis, seu decanis, aliisve quibuslibet ecclesiasticis personis, in vestris ecclesiis omnino fieri prohibemus, ei maximè pro aliquo ecclesiastico sacramento percipiendo, nisi synodalia tantum, et episcopalia, quæ de canonum jure debentur, quibus tam conventuales ecclesias vestras, contra id quod de ducentibus communem vitam in sacris canonibus et statutum, nullius volumus improbitate gravari. Paci quoque et tranquillitati vestræ, paterna diligentia providentes, inhibemus, ne archiepiscopus vel episcopus, seu archidiaconus, aut alia quælibet ecclesiastica persona, hospicia vel procurationes, seu tallias ab ecclesiis vestris, contra antiquam et rationabilem consuetudinem exigere audeat. Set nec priorem vestrum, vel canonicos seu moniales, aut aliquem de professis vestris, suspendere, interdicere, vel excommunicare præsumat. Inhibemus etiam ut nulli ecclesiasticæ seculariye personæ, infra parochias ecclesiarum vestrarum, monasterium monachorum, canonicorum, sanctimonialium, heremitarum, seu inclusorum, capellas, altaria et cimiteria, liceat quomodolibet, sine vestro et diœcesani episcopi assensu construere; salvis tamen privilegia apostolicæ sedis, nec quisquam clericos seu capellanos, qui vobis vel ecclesiis vestris parochialibus deserviunt sub interdicto ponere, nisi ordine judiciario præsumat.

Præterea paci et quieti vestræ attentiùs providere volentes, auctoritate apostolicâ, inhibemus, ut infra clausuras locorum vestrorum, seu elemosinarum vestrarum, nullus violentiam vel rapinam, seu furtum facere, hominem capere, ant interficere, seu ignem apponere audeat. Et si quis ausu temerario præsumpserit, censura ecclesiastica percellatur. Adjicimus insuper ut unicuique domui vestri ordinis sanctimonialium, ad earum et fratrum laicorum integritatem et disciplinam servandam, secundùm ipsius ordinis instituta, canonici, vita et moribus maturi, sicut necessarium visum fuerit, præponantur, quibus et animarum cura, pro dispositione prioris, immineat, et totius domus cura in exterioribus committatur, ut bona temporalia possint per eos ad subsidium monialium fideliter custodiri. Et ne aliquis possessiones vel alia bona, inconsulto et contradicente priore usurpent, debent attentiùs provideri. Laici vero conversi in omnibus priori et canonicis subditi et obedientes existant; nec aliquam potestatem domus vel pecuniæ sibi usurpare præsumant, nisi quæ à priore ordinatè et rationabiliter ad tempus fuerint eis injuncta. Habitacula quoque canonicorum et conversorum ita sint à domibus monialium extra illarum septa remota pariter et disjuncta, ne ad invicem se videre valeant, aut hinc inde audiri, nisi ad divinum tantum officium complendum, cum manifesta necessitas et certa ratio id fieri postulaverit; set neque hoc fiat, nisi sub præsentia plurimorum. Altare verò, in quo divinum monialibus celebratur officium, lapideo pariete intercludatur, aut ligneo; ita quod neuter sexus visione alterius perfruatur. Canonici autem in divinis officiis ubique sine ulla exceptione, cum missas etiam monialibus celebrant, servicium habeant clericorum. Moniales quoque in omnibus illum modum officii sui in ecclesiâ servent, qui et supradicto sancto Gilberto, primo priore ordinis de Sempingham, institutus, et à beato Bernardo quondam Clarevallis abbate; necnon et aliis plerisque religiosis personis primo fuerat approbatus; scilicet non musicè cantando, seu honestè, moderatè, ac distinctè psallendo atque legendo: liceat quoque vobis, quandocunque in aliquo vos prægravari senseritis, ad remedium appellationis confugere, etiamsi in causâ, quæ contra vos agitur, inhibita sit appellatio. Post factam verò appellationem nemini liceat in vos sententiam dare, vel aliquid innovare, seu vos vel possessiones vestras temerario ausu turbare. Ad hæc si aliquod inter eos scandalum, quod Deus avertat, seu dissentiones emerserint, eas, et alia quæ corrigenda fuerint judicio capituli vestri, secundùm vestri ordinis instituta, corrigi volumus et canonicè terminari. Liceat quoque vobis clericos vel laicos è seculo fugientes liberos et absolutos ad conversionem recipere, et eos absque contradictione aliquâ retinere. Prohibemus insuper, ut qui ordini vestro tenentur astricti, fidejubere pro aliquo nequaquam attemptent; et si fecerint, aliqua domus vestra de fidejussione illorum nullatenus obligetur. Ad respondendum quoque ac satisfaciendum nullatenus teneamini, si fortè aliquis professus vester canonicus sive conversus magistro et capitulo non mandante, pro suâ temeritate aliquod debitum fuerit, aut promissionis suæ literarum præstiterit cautionem, de qua gravamen possit domui pervenire, cum cautum sit canonibus, ut delictum personæ in dampnum ecclesiæ non redundet.

Ad hæc auctoritate apostolica prohibemus, ut nullus ordinis vestri professus clericus seu laicus, ab aliquo sine assensu prioris vel capituli domus suæ, sive vicem prioris agentis, depositum aliquod suscipere audeat quomodolibet retinere. Adjicimus insuper, ut testimonio bonorum fratrum in negotiis vestris, in quibus testium probationes fuerint admittendæ, uti liberè valeatis. Præterea cum generale interdictum fuerit, liceat vobis clausis januis, non pulsatis campanis, exclusis communicatis et interdictis, suppressa voce, divina officia celebrare. Sepulturam quoque ecclesiarum vestrarum liberam esse decernimus, ut eorum devotioni et extremæ voluntati, qui se illic sepeliri deliberaverint, nisi fortè excommunicati vel interdicti sint, nullus obsistat, salva tamen justitia illarum ecclesiarum à quibus mortuorum corpora assumuntur. Decernimus ergo ut nulli omnino hominum fas sit præfatum ordinem temerè perturbare, aut ejus possessiones auferre vel oblatas retinere, minuere, seu quibuslibet vexationibus fatigare; sed integra et illibata conservantur omnia eorum, pro quorum gubernatione et sustentatione concessa sunt usibus omnimodis profutura; salva sedis apostolicæ auctoritate, et diœcesani episcopi canonica justitia, in aliis et non in expressis capitulis vobis indultis. Siqua igitur in futurum ecclesiastica secularisve persona hanc nostræ constitutionis paginam, sciens, contra eam temerè venire temptaverit, secundò tertiòve commonita, nisi reatum suum congrua satisfactione correxerit, potestatis honorisque sui dignitate careat, reamque se divino judicio existere de perpetrata iniquitate cognoscat; et à sacratissimo corpore et sanguine Dei et Domini redemptoris nostri Jesu Christi aliena fiat, atque in extremo examine districtæ subjaceat ultioni. Cunctis autem eidem loco sua jura servantibus, sit pax Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatinus et hic fructum bonæ actionis percipiant, et apud districtum Judicem præmia æternæ pacis inveniant. Amen.

Priory at St. Andrew, at York.

ABOUT the year 1200, says Tanner, Hugh Murdac founded near the parish church of St. Andrew, in York, a Priory for twelve canons of the Sempringham Order, dedicated to that Saint. Dugdale has printed the charter of foundation, with an agreement between the Dean and Chapter of St Peter, York, the Prior of Sempringham, and the Prior and Convent of St. Andrew, concerning the exchange of certain lands between the Dean and Chapter and the latter Convent.[a] This House was sometimes called St. Andrew in Fishergate. It was valued, in the 26th Hen. VIIIth, in the total, at 57*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.* per annum; in clear income, at 47*l.* 14*s.* 3½*d.* The site was granted, in the 37th Hen. VIIIth, to John Bellow and John Broxholm.

Tanner has given various References to public Records between the reigns of King John and King Richard the Third, relating to St. Andrew's Priory; some additional References to other sources will be found below.[b]

An impression of the COMMON SEAL was attached to the Surrender of this Priory, remaining in the Augmentation Office, dated Nov. 18th, 30th Hen. VIIIth, but it is wholly defaced.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem.

[Ex autog. in turri beatæ Mariæ Ebor.]

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, Hugo Murdac salutem. Sciatis me dedisse, et præsenti chartâ meâ confirmâsse, in perpetuam elemosinam Deo, et duodecim canonicis ordinis de Sempringham, Deo servituris in perpetuum, apud Sanctum Andream in Eboraco in Fishergate, ecclesiam ejusdem loci, cum terris adjacentibus; et perpetuum redditum xxi. marcarum; ita scilicet, quod dedi eis domos meas lapideas apud Sanctum Petrum pro redditu trium marcarum, et cameram lapideam contiguam illis, quam Willielmus archidiaconus Nottinghamiæ tenuit pro xvi. solidis; et terras quas Turpinus et Firminus tenuerunt de feodo Hugonis de Verly, pro duabus marcis; et pratum de Thorp, quod fuit monachorum de Rievalli, pro duabus marcis; et terram Sancti Clementis, pro quadraginta denariis; et terram de Gudemadham pro viginti solidis. Dedi etiam xxvi. marcas, pro redditu xi. marcarum, et quinque solidorum. Præterea dedi illis terram quæ fuit Danielis, et acram prati de Acastriâ, in adquietatione sedis abbatiæ Sancti Andreæ, quam liberam et quietam eis debebam facere. Et ut hæc mea donatio stabilis sit in perpetuum, præsens scriptum sigillo meo roboravi. Testibus, S. decano, et capitulo Eborum, magistro Rogero Arundel, Willielmo de Percii de Kernetbi, Willielmo filio Petri, Waltero de Wiverethorp, &c. Et sciendum est, quod de præfato redditu, assignavi conventui, ad piscem, duodecim denarios omni septimanâ in perpetuum.

NUM. II.

Conventiones inter Decanum et Capitulum S. Petri Ebor.; et Priorem de Semplingham, et Priorem et Conv. S. Andreæ Ebor.; super quibusdam Terris.

[Ex registro decani et capituli Ebor. parte tertia, f. 16.]

NOTUM sit omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, has literas visuris, vel audituris, quod ita convenit inter Symonem decanum et capitulum Sancti Petri Eboraci, et magistrum Rogerum priorem ordinis de Semplingham, et priorem et capitulum S. Andreæ in Fishergate, et Hugonem Murdac, fundatorem ejusdem loci; scilicet, quod prædicti magister Rogerus, et canonici Sancti Andreæ, et Hugo Murdac demiserunt prædicto decano et capitulo, et ecclesiæ Sancti Petri imperpetuum, terram illam ante hostium occidentale majoris ecclesiæ, quam tenuerunt de Hugone de Virly, ad dilatandum cimiterium ecclesiæ, ad vitanda pericula, quæ possent evenire majori ecclesiæ et domibus domini archiepiscopi occasione incendii; et eandem terram eis imperpetuum warantizabunt et adquietabunt, de omnibus servitiis ad eandem terram pertinentibus. Prædicti verò decanus et capitulum, volentes providere indemnitati ecclesiæ Sancti Andreæ, et prædictorum canonicorum, de communi consilio capituli, assignaverunt in excambium præfatæ terræ, dederunt, et concesserunt eisdem canonicis tantum redditus de duabus carucatis terræ, cum pertinentiis, in villa de Cava de communia sua, quarum unam Willielmus de Arenes hæreditariè tenuit, et alteram Margareta de Cava et Richardus filius ejus hæreditariè tenuerunt, quantum prædicti canonici percipere solebant de majori parte prædictæ terræ; scilicet duas marcas, et dimidium; et eundem redditum de prædictis terris eis imperpetuum warantizabunt. Prædictus verò Hugo Murdac dedit prædictis canonicis de Sancto Andrea redditum unius marcæ in molendino de Thorp, in escambium cujusdam partis terræ supradictæ, quam Deo et beato Petro dedit ad dilatandum cimiterium, ad supradicta pericula vitanda, antequam in hunc modum inter prædictum capitulum et canonicos Sancti Andreæ convenit.

Assignaverunt autem prædicti decanus et capitulum prædictum Willielmum de Araines et hæredes suos, quicunque tenebunt præfatam carucatam terræ, ut reddant annuatim imperpetuum canonicis Sancti Andreæ sexdecem solidos et octo denarios, de prædicta carucata, medietatem ad festum Sancti Martini, et medietatem ad Pentecosten; et Margaretam, et hæredes suos, vel eorum quicunque tenebunt alteram carucatam, ut reddant annuatim in perpetuum eisdem canonicis sexdecem solidos et octo denarios de illa carucata ad eosdem terminos: quod si non fecerint, licebit prædictis canonicis de Sancto Andrea, eis per averia sua distringere, et ad firmæ prædictis solutionem, competentem satisfactionem, sicut decanus et capitulum facerent. Præstabunt autem sibi invicem consilium et auxilium in his, quæ sunt ad Deum, salvo honore et dignitate utriusque ecclesiæ. Facta sunt hæc de communi assensu decani et capituli Sancti Petri Eborum, et magistri Rogeri, prioris ordinis de Sempringham, et prioris et canonicorum Sancti Andreæ Eborum, et Hugonis Murdac, fundatoris ejusdem loci; utilitatem utriusque ecclesiæ tam beati Petri, quàm Sancti Andreæ, anno incarnationis dominici MCCII. in festo Sancti Laurentii. Et ad majorem securitatem appensa sunt sigilla capituli Sancti Petri, et magistri Rogeri, et conventus Sancti Andreæ, et prædicti Hugonis Murdac. Hiis testibus, Hamone thesaurario, Willielmo archidiacono Nottinghambi, Adam de Thornover, Radulpha de Kima, Willielmo filio Ricardi; magistro Gregorio, Lisiardo Columba, W. de Cava, canonicis: Willielmo de Stuteville, Hugone Bardulfe, Rogero Arundel, Willielmo de Percy de Kernetteby, Radulpho Bardulf, W. de Wynerthorp, magistro Thoma Vitori, Waltero de Bovinton, Ricardo de Bossale, Radulfo de Charenci, Will. filio Arnaldi, David, Lewenino, burgensibus.

Priory of North Ormesby, in Lincolnshire.

THIS Priory, also called Nun Ormesby, was founded, in the time of King Stephen, by William earl of Albemarle, and Gilbert son of Robert de Ormesby, for Nuns and Brethren of the Order of Sempringham. It was dedicated to the Virgin Mary. The charter of foundation is the most important of the deeds which Dugdale has extracted from the Register of Ormesby.[a] This House was valued, in the 26th Hen. VIII., in its total revenue, at 98*l.*: in clear receipt at 80*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.* per annum. The site was granted in the 31st Hen. VIII. to Robert Henneage.

The COMMON SEAL of this Priory was large and oval: an Impression of it on white wax, representing the blessed Virgin, with the divine Infant on her lap, very imperfect, and with a few letters only of the Legend remaining, is attached to a Deed in the Duchy of Lancaster, of the date of 1272.

Carta Gileberti filii Roberti de Ormesby, primi Fundatoris Abbathiæ de Ormesby.

NOTUM sit omnibus, tam futuris, quàm præsentibus, quod ego Gilebertus, filius Roberti de Ormesby, primus fundator abbathiæ sanctimonialium de Ormesby, dedi et concessi, et hæc præsenti cartâ meâ confirmavi Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et prædictis sanctimonialibus, et fratribus suis universis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam et quietam ab omnibus servitiis, donationem, et concessionem, confirmationemque domini mei, scilicet Willielmi comitis de Albemare, et meam, quam eis fecimus, pro salute animarum nostrarum; videlicet dimidietatem ecclesiarum de Ormesby, et de Utterby, cum omnibus pertinentiis earum. Et præterea tertiam partem totius terræ meæ in utraque villa; scilicet, xx. bovatas terræ arabilis, cum toftis, et croftis, boscis, et aquis, pratis, et pascuis, et omnibus libertatibus, quæ ad eas pertinent, cum communi pastura, et liberis introitibus et exitibus, in viis, et semitis, in bosco et plano, et in omnibus rebus, infra villas et extra, ubique et in omnibus. Sciendum autem est, quod comes præfatus, dominus meus, assignavit domino meo Odoni de Fribois, servitium Stephani de Lund. pro servitio hujus terræ prænominatæ, quam dedimus in elemosinam præscriptis sanctimonialibus, sicut carta ipsius comitis testatur. Præterea verò dedi eis terram illam, quæ vocatur Crigdale, ad occidentalem partem abbaciæ, xxi. particatas longitudinis, latitudinis verò totius feudi mei ibidem, tam hominum meornm, quàm mei; et totum feudum meum de Warlotes, apud Barebranc, juxta campum de Covenham, à campo Parvæ Grimesby, ad Routhenges, cum prato quod ad eas pertinet. Et præterea Tremares, et totas Warlotes, à Thremares, ad campum de Ludebranc aquilonem et austrum versùs, quantum ego et homines mei habuimus ibi: et à Tremares, orientem et occidentem versùs in Warlotes, totum dominium meum; et extra hoc quantum pertinet suæ tertiæ parti. Et præterea sex acras terræ, quas dedi eis ad obitum uxoris meæ, pro ejus anima, de dominio meo, ex occidente Dragedake, ab eadem Dale, usque ad viam quæ ascendit ex austro abbaciæ. Et præterea x. acras apud Durewardethorn. Concessi et dedi, atque confirmavi eis omnia hæc prænominata, cum omnibus rebus et universis libertatibus, et apenditiis suis, sicut aliqua elemosina meliùs et liberiùs dari potest, libera et quieta, ab omni servitio et exactione, et consuetudine seculari, pro salute animæ meæ, et omnium meorum vivorum et mortuorum. Et ego et hæredes mei, post me, warantizabimus hæc omnia præscripta sanctimonialibus prædictis, contra omnes homines imperpetuum.

EPISCOPO Lincolniæ, et cæteris sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, Robertus dapifer Willielmi de Perci, salutem in Christo. Cupiens salutem animæ patris mei, et Gileberti avunculi mei, et cæterorum antecessorum meorum; et profectum meum, et sponsæ meæ Rhoasiæ, et prolis quam dedit nobis Deus; dedi sanctimonialibus de Ormesbi ecclesiam meam de Elkintona quæ est in anstrali parte sita alterius Elkintoniæ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et ecclesiam de Magna Grimesbi, cum omnibus quæ ad eam pertinent, &c.

NUM. III.

NOTUM sit omnibus, quod ego Robertus seneschallus, concensu Roisæ sponsæ meæ, dedi Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et sanctimonialibus de Ormesbi, pasturam ad sexaginta ovibus ubique in campis de Suthelkintona, præter totam communiam pasturam meam, quam habui, vel aliquis hominum meorum, quam quietam clamo prædictis sanctimonialibus inter viam, quæ tendit versùs austrum, usque ad campum de Welletune, &c.

NUM. IV.

Confirmatio Willielmi de Kimâ.

[Ibid. fol. 51.]

WILLIELMUS de Kima confirmat sanctimonialibus de Ormesby, totam terram, quam Robertus dapifer, filius Roberti, filii Fulconis, dedit eis, tam in Parva Grimsby, quàm in Foterby. Et ecclesiam de Grimsby, et ecclesiam de Suthelkinton. Et insuper quietum clamavit totum servitium, et omnia quæ ad eum pertinent, et ad hæredes suos, de omnibus supradictis, salvo tamen servitio regis, et Willielmi de Perci, et hæredum suorum.

Carta Will. de Vesci, de Ormesby, et Spaldingham.

[Ex Registro de Malton, in bibl. Hatton. fol. 34.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Will. de Vesci dedi et hac carta mea confirmavi Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et fratri Gilberto magistro ordinis de Sempingham, et sanctimonialibus de Ormesby, earumque fratribus, clericis et laicis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute animæ, meæ, &c. heremitorium de Spaldingholm; et à Brendhac, ex australi parte viæ quæ ducit versùs orientem, usque in Fulna, et iterum versùs aquilonem in latitudine quarentena et dimidia, et indè usque Fulnam in longitudine, ut sit ejusdem latus juxta Fulnam, quàm juxta Brandach. Et communem pasturam in vicino nemore et mariscæ quadraginta vaccis, cum secta unius anni, decem juvencis, cum secta unius anni; et in nemore, quantum suppetit usui fratrum . . . . . . sine donatione et venditione et vasto. Præterea dedi eis . . . . . in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, sufficientem pasturam CC. ovibus ubique in territorio de Spaldingholme, in campis et moris, pratis, et pascuis, et planis, siccis et humidis, cum liberis introitibus et exitibus, et omnibus libertatibus et aisiamentis infra villam et extra; et communem pasturam omnibus aliis averiis suis prædictis ubique in feodo meo, inter aquam de Fulna et Derwent, simul cum tofto ubi fratres manent dudum eis accommodato, ita quod si aliquid scriptum signatum sigillorum dictorum magister G. vel monialium huic dono contrarium fuerit inventum, nullius virtutis robur optineat, nec habeat. Et ego dictus Will. et hæredes mei warantizabimus et defendemus, et adquietabimus eis omnia prænominata, sicut prædictum est, contra regem, et homines et fœminas imperpetuum. Hiis testibus, &c.

Priory of Sixhill, or Sixle, in Lincolnshire.

THIS was a Gilbertine Priory of Nuns and Canons dedicated to the blessed Virgin, said to have been founded by a person of the name of Grelle or Greslei, suspected by Tanner to have been either the founder of Swineshead Abbey in Lincolnshire or his son.

Tanner has given References to various Pleadings and Patents concerning Sixhill in the Notitia Monastica. A few others are given in the Note.[a]

The Revenues of this House were rated in the 26th Hen. VIIIth in the total at 170*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.* per annum; in clear receipts at 135*l.* 0*s.* 9*d.* The Site was granted in the 30th Hen. VIIIth to Sir Thomas Heneage.

The COMMON SEAL of Sixhill Priory was small: an Impression of it on White Wax, having a representation of the Divine Virgin and Blessed Infant, and underneath them a Monk praying, is attached to the Surrender of the Priory, dated 27th Sept. 30 Hen. VIII., and remaining in the Augmentation Office: but little of the Legend remains.

Priory of Mattersey, in Nottinghamshire.

TANNER calls this a Priory of six Gilbertine canons, dedicated to St. Helen, founded by Roger fil. Ranulphi de Maresay, before the year 1192. He calls it Mattersey, Madersey, or Maresay. Dugdale has given King Edward the third's Confirmation to this House, which recites a confirmatory deed from Isabella de Chauncy, daughter of Thomas de Maresay or Marseya.[a]

Thoroton says, p. 410, that the Prior of Mathersey, 35 Edw. I. had free warren in Mathersey and Thorpe. The Prior in the 3d Edw. III. claimed to have for himself quittance of city and borough, in markets and fairs, in passage of bridges and ports of the sea, and in all places through England, from toll and portage. There was an Ad quod dampnum, 4 Hen. IV., for market and fair to be kept at Mattersey.[b]

The Church of Mattersey was appropriated to the Priory, 6 id. October, 1280, to repair the Priory's losses by a sudden fire.[c]

This House was valued in the 26th Hen. VIII. in gross income to the amount of 61*l.* 17*s.* 7*d.* per annum; in clear receipts at 55*l.* 2*s.* 5*d.*

Walter was Prior of this House an. 32 pontif. Walt. Grey. A. occurs 1265. Thomas Woodcock, the last Prior, with four Monks, surrendered this Convent October 3d, 1539, 30th Hen. VIIIth, and had a pension of 26*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* per annum assigned to him.[d]

The Site was granted in the 31st Hen. VIIIth to Anthony Nevill, Esq.

Tanner mentions a CHARTULARY of this House: "Registrum penes Joannem Nevill arm:" but the present Editors have not seen it. Tanner adds other references to public Records, the most important of which have been already mentioned from Thoroton.[e]

Priory of Newstede on Ancolm, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER dates this House before the year 1173. From the Confirmation-charter of King Edward the Second, it appears that King Henry the Second gave to St. Gilbert and the Canons of Sempringham an Island called Rucholm, within the bounds of Cadney, thereon to found a Priory of their Order; which, when built, was dedicated to the Holy Trinity. Dugdale, beside King Edward the Second's charter, has preserved one from King John, of land in Cadney called Husum, and one from King Henry the Third, confirming an Agreement with the Abbat and Convent of Longville concerning lands in the soke of Kirketon, with an Extract from the Hundred Roll of 3 Edw. Ist.

A few additions to Tanner's References to Records concerning this House will be found below.[a] Its revenues, in the total, amounted, in the 26th Hen. VIIIth, to the sum of 55*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.* per annum; in clear receipt to 38*l.* 13*s.* 5*d.* The Site, in the 31st Hen. VIIIth, was granted to Robert Henneage.

The SEAL affixed to the Surrender of this House, 20 Oct., 30 Hen. VIIIth, in the Augmentation Office, is nothing more than the letter N, surmounted by a cross. No Legend.

Diploma Regis Edwardi Secundi, Cartam Fundationis ejusdem Abbatiæ, per Regem Henricum Secundum factam, recitans et confirmans.

[Cart. 13 Edw. II. n. 21.]

REX archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam, quam celebris memoriæ dominus H. quondam rex Angliæ, progenitor noster, fecit in hæc verba. H. rex Angliæ et dux Normanniæ, Aquitanniæ, et omnes Andegaviæ, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, justiciariis, baronibus, vicecomitibus, ministris, et omnibus fidelibus suis, Francis et Anglis, totius Angliæ, salutem. Sciatis me dedisse et præsenti carta confirmâsse magistro G. et canonicis ordinis de Sempingham in insula de Rucholm, in territorio de Cadenei, quæ Novus Locus dicitur, Deo et beatæ Mariæ, secundùm regulam beati Augustini, et instituta ordinis de Sempingham perpetuò servientibus, ipsum locum habitationis suæ, et duas carucatas terræ et dimidiam; et unam bovatam terræ et dimidiam; et unam acram terræ, quæ vocatur Grovie-acre, quæ sunt in dominico meo, in territorio de Kadenei, et de Husum in socha de Castre, cum universis pertinentiis suis, quæ solebant reddere michi annuatim octo libras et decem solidos. Et unam bovatam terræ in territorio de Hibaldestowe, quæ fuit Ricardi de Hibaldestowe. Similiter locum habitationis suæ in insula territorii de Hibaldestowe, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute animæ meæ, et reginæ Alienoræ et hæredum meorum, et omnium regum fidelium, qui futuri sunt, post dies meos; et pro statu regni mei, et pro anima regis H. avi mei, et Galfridi patris mei, et omnium antecessorum meorum. Præterea concessi eis ut faciant conductum aquæ, de Ancolna et de Kadeneia, quocumque modo meliùs et utiliùs provideri poterit in prædicta terra, quam eis dedi ad necessarios usus suos. Dedi etiam eis in perpetuam elemosinam quinque bovatas terræ, cum pertinentiis suis, in Herdewych, quas Ivo et antecessores sui tenuerunt; pro quibus ipsi Ivoni, et domino suo Stephano filio camerarii, dedi escambium de meo proprio dominio, ad libitum eorum.

Quare volo et firmiter præcipio, quod jam dicti canonici omnes terras suas, et tenuras, et omnes possessiones suas, et homines suos habeant et teneant benè et in pace, liberè et quietè, integrè et plenariè, et honorificè, in bosco et plano, in pratis et pascuis; in aquis et piscariis; in mariscis et forestis; in molendinis et stagnis; in toftis et croftis; in viis et semitis; in civitate et burgo; in foris et nundinis quorumcumque sint; in transitu pontium et maris portuum; et in omnibus locis, per totam Angliam et Normanniam; et per omnes terras meas sint quieti, tam ipsi quàm homines sui, de thelonio, et pontagio, et lestagio, et stallagio, et hidagio; et wardis, et operibus castellorum et pontium; et parcorum et summagiis, et de omnibus geldis, et danegeldis; et fengeldis; et horngeldis, et penigeldis, et misericordiis, et forisfacturis, et auxiliis, et wapentachiis, et hundredis, et tridingis, et sciris, et murdris, et de omnibus auxiliis vicecomitum, et ministrorum suorum, et de scutagiis, et assisis, et summonitionibus, et tallagiis, et franco plegio, et bornewyng; et de omnibus occasionibus, et consuetudinibus; et de averiis suis in manum capiendis, et de omni terreno servicio et seculari exactione. Habeant verò prædicti canonici curiam suam, et justitiam, cum saca et soca, et tol et tem, et infangenetheof, cum omnibus aliis libertatibus. Nec habeant vicecomites, nec ministri eorum, aliquam potestatem in feudis, aut terris, seu hominibus, vel possessionibus prædictorum canonicorum. Et si quis versùs prædictos canonicos, de tenementis vel rebus suis aliquid clamaverit, seu eos in aliquo vexare, vel in placitum ponere voluerit, prohibeo ne pro aliquo respondeant, nec in placitum intrent; nisi coram me: nec aliquis eos placitare faciat nisi coram me. Priory of Catteley, in Lincolnshire.

PETER DE BELINGEY was the founder of this Priory in the time of King Stephen, for Nuns and Brethren of the Order of Sempringham. It was dedicated to the honour of the blessed Virgin Mary. This Priory was endowed, in the 26th Hen. VIIIth, with revenues to the total amount of 38*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.* per annum; in clear income at 33*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.*[a]

The Site was granted in the 31st Hen. VIIIth to Robert Carr of Sleford, whose father was a rich merchant of the Staple.[b]

An Impression of the COMMON SEAL on brown wax, neat, but small, is appendant to the Surrender in the Augmentation Office: the blessed Virgin and divine Infant, with a Monk on his knees praying, form the subject of it, and the Legend is, S. Similiter dedi et concessi eisdem fragium, focalia, et coopertoria sufficientia sine aliquo impedimento ad omnes suos usus necessarios in omnibus mariscis, et communibus villæ de Billingey, et Walecote spectantibus; et pasturam ad ducentas oves in territorio de Walecote, et ad ducentos in territorio de Bylingay. Hæc omnia supradicta, cum universis suis pertinentiis et commoditatibus, infra villam et extra, ubique per feodum meum; ut cum liberis introitibus et exitibus, sine aliquo retenemento, dedi et confirmavi eisdem in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, pro animabus antecessorum et hæredum meorum. Et ego et hæredes mei warantizabimus omnia prædicta prædictis sanctimonialibus, et earum fratribus, clericis et laicis, et defendemus de omnibus rebus erga dominum regem et omnes dominos meos, et omnes homines imperpetuum. Hiis testibus, Rogero decano de Scalby; Roberto clerico de Scorton; Henrico de Marton; Willielmo Vacelyn; Rogero clerico, et tota parochia de Bilyngey. Quæ omnia et singula, ad requisitionem dilectorum nostrorum Willielmi Mason et Johannæ uxoris ejus, consanguineæ et hæredis prædicti Petri de Bilyngey, sub sigillo scaccarii nostri duximus exemplificanda.

Priory of St. Catherine, Lincoln.

THIS Priory was situated in the south suburb of Lincoln, on the south-west side of Barr Gate. It was founded soon after the confirmation of the Gilbertine Order, in 1148, by Robert de Cheineto the second bishop of Lincoln.

Tanner has given a large Collection of References to public and other Records concerning this Priory, but makes no mention of any REGISTER.[a]

R. occurs prior in the 25th year of the pontificate of Walter Grey bishop of Lincoln.[b] RICHARD MISYN was prior in 1435.[c] WILLIAM GRIFFITH was the last prior: he with fifteen monks joined in the surrender of his House to the King.

This House was valued, in the 26th Hen. VIII., in the whole income, at 270*l.* 1*s.* 3*d.*; in the clear, at 202*l.* 5*s.* 0½*d.* The Church of Newerk was appropriated to this House in 1308.[d] The Site was granted in the 30th Hen. VIII. to Charles Brandon Duke of Suffolk.

Priory of Holland Brigge, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Holland Brigge, or Bridge End, or De Ponte Aslaci. It was of the Gilbertine Order, and founded in or before the reign of King John by one Godwin, a rich citizen of Lincoln, to the honour of our blessed Savour.

Dugdale has given an extract from the close roll of the 7th Edw. III. concerning the foundation of this House. The Harleian MS. 433. fol. 194. gives a licence of the 2d Ric. III. "for the Prior of St. Salvatoire called at the Briggs End within the Countie of Lincoln, to beg for seven years throughout England, for money towards the repairing of xvi. briggs and brigge-ditches, to which the said House was bound by the first ordynaunces and foundation thereof."[a] It was valued in the 26th Hen. VIIIth at 5*l.* 1*s.* 11½*d.* per annum; and as parcel of Sempringham was granted in the 33d Hen. VIIIth to Edward Lord Clynton.[b]

Cum nuper comperto per inquisitionem captam coram Roberto de Malberthorpe, et sociis suis nuper justiciariis nostris, ad supervidendum wallias, fossata, gutteras, seweras, pontes, calceta, et gurgites in partibus de Kestevene et Holand; et ad quædam alia in commissione nostra eis facta, facienda et explenda assignatis per breve nostrum, quod prior capellæ S. Salvatoris reparare deberet et sustentare calcetum de Holandbrigg, et triginta pontes super eodem, per certas metas et bundas: ad prosecutionem ejusdem prioris, asseritis ipsum de hujusmodi reparatione et sustentatione onerari non debere, recordum et processum inquisitionis prædictæ coram nobis venire fecerimus. Ac postmodum per petitionem ejusdem prioris, corum nobis et consilio nostro in parliamento nostro Eboraci, ultimo convocato, exhibitam; accipientes, quod in redditione judicii super processu negotii prædicti, coram nobis postmodum habito, error intervenit manifestus, ad dampnum ipsius prioris non modicum et gravamen; tenorem recordi, et processus inde habitorum, coram nobis et consilio nostro prædicto in eodem parliamento venire fecerimus. Et quia per inspectionem tenoris recordi et processus prædictorum, coram nobis et consilio nostro in eodem parliamento examinatorum plenius apparet, quod Godewinus dives de Lincolnia, fundator ejusdem prioratus, locum S. Salvatoris de Ponte-Aslaci, et quædam alia terras et tenementa, fratribus ordinis de Sempyngham ibidem commorantibus dedit et concessit; ita quod bona indè provenientia ibidem ad laudem S. Salvatoris, et fratrum in eodem loco commorantium sustentationem expenderentur, et quæ superfuerint in prædicti pontis reparationem apponerentur, et quod error in redditione judicii prædicti intervenit; in eo, quod per cartam fundatoris prædicti, sustentatio prædictorum prioris et fratrum primò salvata existit, ut est dictum; ita quod illud quod superest, in reparatione calceti prædicti apponi debet; ac per judicium illud sustentatio eorundem prioris et fratrum, quæ est principalis, ponitur accessoria; et sic consideratum est in eodem, contra fundationem prædictam, quod calcetum priùs reparetur, et eorum sustentatio postmodùm sit salvata. Volentes id quod in hac parte minus ritè consideratum est, prout convenit, emendari; vobis mandamus, quod visis recordo et processu negotii prædicti, coram vobis, ut dicitur, existentibus, recordum et processum prædicta in hac parte emendari faciatis, et nos de valore terrarum et tenementorum fratribus prioratus prædicti, per præfatum fundatorem suum collatorum; necnon de via aliqua, per quam reparatio dicti calceti præfatum priorem contingens, in certo poni poterit, informetis; et taliter ulteriùs ordinetis, quod judicium inde reddatur, et districtioni eidem priori, præmissa occasione factæ, supersederi faciatis, pendente coram nobis prædicto negotio indiscusso. Priory of Old Malton, in Yorkshire.

TANNER dates the foundation of this Priory about the year 1150. Eustace Fitz John built and endowed it to the honour of the holy Virgin.

Besides the Charters to this House given by Dugdale, Stevens has preserved several in his Appendix. The Register of this House, formerly in the Hatton Library, is still preserved in the Cottonian Collection at the Museum, marked Claudius D. xi.[a]

The Revenues of Malton Priory, as returned in the Valor of the 26th Hen. VIIIth, amounted to 257*l.* 7*s.*; the clear income to 197*l.* 19*s.* 2*d.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 32d Hen. VIIIth, to Robert Holgate, bishop of Landaff.

Carta præfati Willielmi.

Cunctis Christi fidelibus Will. de Vesci salutem. Notum sit vobis, quod ego Will. de Vesci, cupiens profectum tam corporis mei quàm animæ meæ, et patris mei, et matris meæ, et fratrum meorum Galfridi et Ricardi, necnon et aliorum parentum meorum præsentium et subsequentium, dedi, concessi, et hac carta mea confirmavi omnes donationes, quas pater meus Eustachius, filius Johannis, dedit canonicis de Malton; viz. ecclesiam de Malton, cum omnibus quæ ad eam pertinent; tam in capellis et in terris, quàm in cæteris rebus; et mansuram demenii mei, cum virgulto, cum omnibus aisiamentis ad quæcunque facere voluerint præfati canonici ad profectum domus suæ, tam in stagno, quàm in curia suâ. Et molendina Veteris Maltonæ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et piscariam in aqua de Derewent per totum dominium meum.

Dedi etiam prædictis canonicis meis de Malton unam acram terræ in mora prædictæ villæ de Malton, ad bercariam faciendam; et totum pratum meum ex orientali parte pomerii Rogeri de Lascels in eadem villa. Dedi etiam et concessi dictis canonicis meis ecclesiam de Wintringham, cum mansura demenii mei in occidentali parte ecclesiæ S. Petri in eadem villa, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis et libertatibus, et aliis rebus, quæ antiquitùs eidem ecclesiæ adjacebant, vel datæ fuerunt; viz. omnimodas decimas quatuor carucatarum terræ de feodo meo in Stanistone; et duas partes omnimodarum decimarum duarum carucatarum terræ in Thurgelby; et duas partes omnimodarum decimarum terræ meæ in Neusom, cum tota decima villæ de Brenda. Et duas partes decimarum de dominicis terris meis in parochia de Helpringham. Et duas partes decimarum terræ meæ in Catthorp; et omnimodas decimas capellæ de Saureby, juxta Tresk; quæ omnes et singulæ antiquitùs ad ecclesiam de Wintringham prædictam pertinere dinoscantur.

Dedi etiam et concessi eisdem canonicis meis duo molendina in villa prædicta de Wintringham, in villula quæ vocatur Linctona, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, et duas culturas terrræ in campo de Wintringham, quarum una vocatur le Nureflat, altera est ad capud de Cornemalflat. Et totum ambitum antiqui vivarii, et capellam S. Helenæ, cum situ, sicut includitur. Præterea dedi eisdem canonicis meis locum qui dicitur le Kerlote, sicut includitur: et similiter locum qui vocatur le Kouhouse, juxta Cnaptone, cum sufficienti pastura per totum dominium meum, et totum quod dicitur Depeker. Hæc omnia concessi et confirmavi dictis canonicis meis in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam et quietam ab omni seculari servitio, pro salute mea et Eustachii filii mei, et pro anima Eustachii patris mei et Beatricis matris meæ, et omnium antecessorum meorum. Ego vero et hæredes mei guarantizabimus omnia prædicta dictis canouicis meis erga omnes homines imperpetuum. Hiis testibus, &c.

Notum sit omnibus ad quos literæ istæ pervenerint, quod ego Ricardus prior, et capitulum S. Mariæ de Novoburgo concessimus magistro Willielmo de Flamavilla terram illam, quam Wido canonicus, juxta pontem de Norton tenuit, de feodo domini Rogeri de Flamavilla patris sui; et quam idem Rogerus pater ejus nobis in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam dedit. Et tenebit idem magister Willielmus eandem terram, et hæredes ejus post eum; quos scilicet hæredes facere voluerit, pro duodecim denariis annuatim reddendis, et hospicio tam nostro, quàm hominum nostrorum per eundem locum transeuntium. In exhibitione autem ejusdem hospicii nihil ab eo exigetur præter spacium domus ad manendum, ita quod in arbitrio nostro erit, vel in communi domo hospitali, vel intra curtem habere aliam domum hospicio nostro specialiter deputatam. Stemma Fundatorum.

Memorandum, quod Johannes pater primi Eustachii, et Serlo de Burgo, sive de Penbroke, fuerunt fratres. Iste Johannes genuit Eustachium, qui dictus est Eustachius filius Johannis. Iste Eustachius genuit Willielmum ex filia et hærede Ivonis de Vescy, qui Willielmus, cæso ventre matris, natus est, et matre mortua. Iste primò vocabatur Willielmus de Vescy propter hæreditatem quam habuit ex matre.

Iste Willielmus genuit Eustachium, ex Burga sorore Willielmi Stutevill, et cepit cum ea in maritagium villam de Langetona. Iste Eustachius genuit Willielmum ex Agnete filia Willielmi regis Scotiæ: et iste Willielmus genuit Johannem, qui nunc est, ex Agnete filia comitis de Ferrers.

Et sciendum, quod dictus Serlo primùm construxit castrum apud Knaresburg. Mortuo Serlone descendit hæreditaria successione ad Eustachium filium Johannis, sicut ad nepotem et hæredem primum: qui Eustachius tenuit dictum manerium, cum pertinentiis tota vita sua: cui mortuo, successit Willielmus filius et hæres, qui tenuit dictum manerium aliquantisper; sed per quandam indignationem, quam acceperit dominus rex contra illum, ablatum est ei dictum manerium, et datum Willielmo de Stutevill.

Shouldham Priory, in Norfolk.

THIS Priory was founded by Jeffrey Fitz Piers earl of Essex in the time of Richard the First, for a Prior, Canons, and Nuns of the Order of Sempringham. Blomfield's Continuator says, the Inhabitants of this House followed two Rules, the Canons that of St. Augustine, the Nuns that of St. Benedict. The endowment, previous to the Dissolution, comprised the Advowsons of and interests in ten Churches, seven manors, and about thirty-three parishes in Norfolk. The Dedication was to the Holy Cross and the blessed Virgin Mary.

Blomfield's Continuator has preserved the following Names of the PRIORS of this House: William, 35 Hen. III. Richard, t. Hen. III. Benedict, 14 Edw. I. Robert de Syvington occurs July 10th, 1387. Nicholas Feriby, 1413. Thomas, 1439. Hugh Hull, 14 Hen. VI. John, 14th and 34th Hen. VI. John Wenham, 34 Hen. VI. John, 5 Edw. IV. Thomas Santon occurs in 1479, and Thomas (perhaps the same person), in 1493. John Edmond occurs 1502; he died in 1504. John Bray, 9th Hen. VIII. Robert Swift, 24th Hen. VIII. He was the last Prior, and surrendered his House, with nine canons and seven nuns, Oct. 15th, 1534.

In the 26th Hen. VIII. Shouldham Priory was endowed with a total revenue of 171*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* Its clear receipts amounted to 138*l.* 18*s.* 1*d.* After the Dissolution the Site remained in the hands of the Crown, till King Edward the Sixth, in the year 1553, sold it, with the manor and all which belonged to it in Shouldham, to Thomas Mildmay, Esq. for the sum of 1049*l.* 9*s.* 4½*d.* It afterwards came to Sir John Hare, whose descendant, Sir Thomas Hare, bart., is the present owner.

Parkins says, The SEAL of this Priory was oblong, the impress of the blessed Virgin standing on the right side of the shield, and on the left an Angel, with his right wing elevated above his shoulder, and the left wing depressed, having a scroll before him (probably the words of the Salutation); the Legend, SIGILLVM . PRIORIS . ET . CONVENTVS . DE . SVLDHAM.

Various Particulars of the possessions of this Priory are preserved in Blomfield's Norfolk, vol. i. pp. 151, 515, 543, 599; vol. ii. p. 799; vol. iii. pp. 65, 372; vol. iv. pp. 68, 70, 104, 111, 114, 145, 148, 158, 161, 163, 176, 199, 215, 270, 480, 501, 514, 621, 628, 680, 768, 776, 1554.

Tanner has given numerous references to Records relating to it between the 1st of K. John and the 3d of Edw. IVth, a few additions to which will be found below.[a]

.... TEMPORE illo, uxor illius Beatrix, auctrix scilicet malorum, uterum habens impregnatum, diu parturiens, sed non pariens, periclitabatur: tandem verò fœtum effundens exanimatum, animum simul exalavit; unde satis confusus est, et ultra quàm credi potest, dolens effectus. Et tamen in hiis omnibus non est adversus furor ejus, sed adhuc manus in nos extenta. Corpus verò mulieris Chikesandam transtulit, ibique in capitulo sanctimonialium honorificè sepelivit. Admirans itaque vir iste, cum cæteris vana, novaque sectantibus, ordinem videlicet illum à quodam Gilberto de Simplingham recenter adinventum, domus ordinis ejusdem in Norfolka, apud villam quæ dicitur Suldham fundavit; illicque ut novus ille et seculis inauditus religionis exigit modus, canonicos cum sanctimonialibus, fratres cum sororibus aggregavit; ac non multò post, corpus mulieris, de Chikesanda translatum, ibidem sepulturæ commendavit.

Gilbertine Priory of Elreton, in Yorkshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Elreton, Alreton, or Ellerton in Spaldingmore, on the Derwent. It was founded, before the year 1212,[a] by William Fitz Peter, for Canons of the Order of Sempringham, who were obliged to maintain thirteen poor people: and was dedicated to the Virgin Mary and St. Laurence. About the time of the Dissolution, here were a Prior and about nine Religious, who were endowed with revenues to the total amount of 78*l.* 0*s.* 10*d.* per annum; in clear receipt amounting to 62*s.* 8*s.* 10*d.* The Site was granted, in the 33d of Henry VIIIth, to John Aske.[b] A portion of the Priory Church is still used as the parish church of Elreton.

Burton, Monast. Ebor., p. 259, has given an alphabetical list of the places where the lands, &c. of this House lay, with the names of the respective donors.

He mentions the names of only three Priors: Ivo, 1240; HENRY, 1269; and JOHN GOLDING, the last Prior.

The Charters which Dugdale has printed of this House are from originals, which, in 1652, were in the possession of Richard Robinson, Esq. of Thickhed.[c]

An Impression of the COMMON SEAL, in the Augmentation Office, attached to the Surrender, represents the Salutation. The Legend is, SIGILLṼ . SANCTE . MARIE . DE . ELERTONA. The Surrender is dated 11 Dec., 30 Hen. VIII. The Impression is on red wax.

Carta Petri, Filii Petri de Malolacu, Terras omnes de feodo suo confirmans.

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Petrus filius Petri de Malolacu, concessi et hac mea carta confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ et canonicis de Elretona omnes terras, tenementa, et possessiones, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, quas habent de feodo meo, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam; viz. totum situm abbathiæ in Elretona, cum ecclesia ejusdem villæ, et unam carucatam terræ et dimidiam carucatam in eodem territorio, cum toftis et croftis, et cum omnibus aliis suis pertinentiis. In villa de Lathum et in eodem territorio sex bovatas terræ, cum toftis et croftis, et cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, et molendinum cum sequela. In villa de Actona duo tofta, cum croftis; et quadraginta acras terræ in eodem territorio, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis; et Danskelandes, cum prato adjacente, et omnes boscos, et culturas, et acras, quas habent in territoriis de Elreton, et de Lathum, et de Actona cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. In villa de Gudmunham, et in eodem territorio, septem bovatas terræ, cum toftis et croftis, et cum omnibus suis pertinentiis: et Westmilne, cum pertinentiis suis; et quatuor bovatas terræ in eodem territorio, quas Germanus Hay debet defendere, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. In villa de Hugate, et in eodem territorio, quinque bovatas terræ, cum toftis et croftis, et omnibus suis pertinentiis; et molendinum, cum suis pertinentiis, et totum Panillach, et quicquid habent in eodem territorio per acras. In villa de Honum, et in eodem territorio, quinque bovatas terræ, cum toftis, et croftis, et cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. In villa de Spaldington quinque tofta cum croftis et septem acras terræ, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis in eodem territorio. In Cathweyt tria tofta, cum croftis, et viginti acras terræ, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis in campo ejusdem villæ. In Westcollingwith, et in Crossum, et in eisdem territoriis, tres bovatas terræ, cum toftis et croftis, et cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. Et quicquid habuerunt de feodo meo, prædictis priori, et conventui concessi, et hac mea carta confirmavi, in liberam et perpetuam elemosynam; scilicet die sancti Bartholomæi apostoli anno Domini millesimo ducentesimo quinquagesimo quinto; excepto tantummodo forinseco servitio quod dicitur scutagium: tenenda et habenda dictis canonicis, et suis successoribus omnia prædicta tenementa cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, in villis, et extra, in liberam, et perpetuam elemosynam, quietam de omnibus servitiis secularibus, et sectis curiæ, consuetudinibus, exactionibus, et demandis; et generaliter de omnibus rebus me et hæredes meos contingentibus imperpetuum. In cujus rei testimonium huic scripto impressionem sigilli mei apposui. Hiis testibus, domino Willielmo tunc temporis priore de Malton; domino Patricio tunc temporis priore de Watton; domino Johanne de Bolemere; domino Waltero Guer........militibus. Carta Adæ de Lintona, omnes Donationes Willielmi, Filii Petri, confirmans.

[Ibid.]

Universis Christi fidelibus, præsentibus et futuris, Adam de Lintona salutem. Noveritis me, divinæ pietatis intuitu, pro salute animæ meæ, et sponsæ meæ, et omnium hæredum meorum; et pro salute animæ domini Willielmi filii Petri, et Alivæ sponsæ suæ, confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ et canonicis de Ellertona, in puram et perpetuam elemosynam, omnes terras, redditus, et possessiones, et tenementa, quæ dominus Willielmus filius Petri eis contulit in puram et perpetuam elemosinam; scilicet totam terram, quam dominus Willielmus filius Petri habuit in villa de Ellertona cum servitio, tam liberorum, quàm cæterorum hominum; et totum boscum de Lathingholm; et totam essartam ex australi parte de Lathingholm, cum cæteris boscis eidem tenemento pertinentibus. Et cum pasturis, acris, piscariis, pratis, et moris, et turbariis, viis et semitis, cum libero introitu et exitu; et cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et libertatibus et aisiamentis, et liberis consuetudinibus, infra villam et extra, sine retinemento. Et unam culturam in territorio de Actona, quæ vocatur Dansklandes, cum prato eidem culturæ adjacente. Et duodecem acras terræ arabilis in eodem territorio versùs Harlethorp. Et totum tenementum quod Galiena tenuit in Actona. Et dimidiam carucatam terræ in Lathom, cum pertinentiis. Et decem acras terræ in territorio de Lathom, propinquiores divisæ de Harlethorp versùs aquilonem. Et sex tofta et crofta in Spaldingtona, cum pertinentiis. Et sex bovatas terræ in Guthmundham, cum pertinentiis; scilicet dimidiam carucatam terræ, quæ jacet propinquior tribus bovatis ecclesiæ versùs orientem. Et duas bovatas terræ, quas Petrus Grukan aliquando tenuit. Et unum toftum apud Chiriflat in cultura mea juxta divisam, in latitudine octo perticarum versùs orientem; et in longitudine à semita, quæ tendit per medium villæ de Guthmundham, versùs orientem, usque Hertilgate, versùs boream. Et medietatem molendini versùs occidentem, cum stagno et tota sequela sua. Et medietatem prati et terræ eidem molendino adjacentem. Et dimidiam carucatam terræ in Hugate, cum ejus pertinentiis, et particulis, quam habent de dono Walteri filii Galfridi. Et quatuor bovatas terræ in eadem villa, quas Oliverus de Gunneby aliquando tenuit. Hæc omnia tenementa supradicta confirmavi eisdem canonicis de Ellertona, tenenda et habenda libera et quieta in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut cartæ præfati Willielmi filii Petri, quas indè habent, testantur. Ego verò et hæredes mei warrantizabimus, adquietabimus, et defendemus præfatis canonicis præfata tenementa, de omnibus servitiis et demandis, quæ aliquo modo oriri poterunt, contra omnes homines in perpetuum. NUM. IV.

Conventiones pro ix. pauperibus in dicto Prioratu admittendis, ex præsentatione Germani de Hay, ejusdem Domus Advocati, el hæredum suorum.

HÆC indentura facta inter religiosos viros priorem et conventum de Ellerton, ordinis de Sempryngham, ex parte una et Germanum Hay advocatum prioratus de Ellerton ex altera, testatur, quod cum idem prior et conventus, ad exhibitionem tresdecim pauperum in dicto prioratu, perpetuis futuris temporibus, ex primaria fundatione teneantur; ex quibus idem Germanus habet præsentationem unius prædictorum tresdecim pauperum, prout, per quandam cartam per prædecessorem prædicti prioris antecessoribus prædicti Germani indè confectam liquet manifestè: prædictus prior et conventus volunt et concedunt, et per præsentes confirmant, pro se et successoribus suis, quod prædictus Germanus hæredes et assignati sui, domini manerii de Aghton, præsentabunt prædictis priori et conventui octo pauperes, de prædictis tresdecim pauperibus, ultra prædictum pauperem, per prædictum Germanum et hæredes suos præsentandum; videlicet; quod decedente aliquo de dictis novem pauperibus, idem Germanus, hæredes et assignati sui, domini de Aghton, alium loco defuncti, ad libitum eorum, dictis priori et conventui, et successoribus suis præsentare possunt, ita quod prædicti prior et conventus et successores sui prædictos novem pauperes, ad præsentationem prædicti Germani, hæredum et assignatorum suorum, dominorum de Aghton, successivè imperpetuum recipiant, et eis exhibeant, prout aliis pauperibus in eodem gradu consistentibus ante hæc tempora, annuatim conferre solebant; et prout in carta de ordinatione eorundem pauperum pleniùs continetur. Et præterea idem prior et conventus volunt et concedunt, per præsentes, pro se, et successoribus suis, quod si aliquid subtrahatur à dictis pauperibus, eis in primaria ordinatione concessum, ob defectum ipsorum prioris et conventus, seu successorum suorum, per visum prædicti Germani, hæredum et assignatorum suorum, dominorum de Aghton, secundùm ordinationem supradictam emendatur infra mensem post requisitionem per eos ritè factam. Et si idem prior et conventus, seu successores sui, aliquos defectus, si qui fuerint, in substractione portionis alicujus pauperis eorundem, ad valentiam duodecim denariorum, infra mensem prædictum, ad requisitionem prædicti Germani, seu hæredum et assignatorum suorum, dominorum de Aghton, emendari, seu prædictos novem pauperes, aut aliquem eorum recipere recusaverint, prædicti prior et conventus concedunt, pro se et successoribus suis, quod prædictus Germanus, et hæredes, et assignati sui, domini de Aghton, omnes prædictos tresdecim pauperes successivè præsentabunt, et eosdem pauperes, ad præsentationem prædicti Germani, hæredum et assignatorum suorum, dominorum de Aghton, in pauperes domus de Ellerton, juxta ordinationem prædictam admittere concedunt.

Concedunt etiam idem prior et conventus prædicto Germano et Alesiæ uxori ejus, et utrique eorum, unum obitum, per prædictos priorem et conventum, post decessum ipsorum Germani et Alesiæ et alterius eorum, die quo contingat ipsos, seu eorum alterum, in fata decedere, perpetuis futuris temporibus, pro animabus eorum, antecessorum, hæredum, et liberorum suorum, annuatim celebrandum in ecclesia sua conventuali de Ellerton; videlicet cum Placebo, et Dirige, et missa pro defunctis, prout decet ad talem obitum, cum nota et solemnitate, per priorem in propria persona sua, si commodè ibidem interesse poterit. Si autem in aliquo principali festo, in quo non deceat missam pro defunctis celebrari, dies obitus prædicti contigerit, tunc in feria proxima sequenti celebrabatur, cum solempnitate debita supradicta. Et si prædicti prior et conventus vel eorum successores prædictos pauperes, aut aliquem eorum, per prædictum Germanum, hæredes et assignatos suos, dominos de Aghton imposterum, ut præmittitur, præsentandos admittere recusaverit per mensem, post præsentationem per prædictum Germanum, hæredes et assignatos suos, ut prædictum est, eis rationabiliter factam; ac etiam si prædicti prior et conventus, vel successores sui, obitus prædictorum Germani et Alesiæ, vel eorum alterius, non fecerint, vel adimpleri negaverint, temporibus superiùs limitatis, in forma prædicta; quod extunc prædicti prior et conventus, et eorum successores, teneantur et obligentur prædicto Germano, hæredibus et assignatis suis, dominis de Aghton, in decem libris sterlingorum solvendorum eidem pro quolibet, paupere sic præsentato, et non admisso; et pro quolibet obitu non celebrato; si tamen defectus præmissorum contingat à parte prioris et conventus prædictorum. Et prædictus Germanus concedit, pro se, hæredibus et assignatis suis, dominis de Aghton, quod prædicti novem pauperes, per ipsum, aut per ipsos in posterum præsentandi, stent et permaneant ordinationi prædictorum prioris et conventus et eorum successorum imperpetuum, secundùm quod continetur de eisdem in primaria fundatione. In cujus rei testimonium partes prædictæ præsentibus indenturis sigilla sua alternatim apposuerunt. Datum apud Ellerton decimo die mensis Aprilis, anno Domini millessimo trecentessimo octuagessimo septimo.

Priory of Oveton, in Yorkshire.

DUGDALE in the former edition of this work, and Tanner in the first edition of the Notitia Monastica, placed this Monastery in the bishoprick of Durham (probably confounding it with Ovingham in Northumberland), but it lies on the south side of the Tees in Richmondshire. It was founded before the 5th year of King John by Alan de Wilton, as subordinate to Sempringham: and was valued in the 26th Hen. VIII. at the annual sum of 11*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* Tanner calls this House Oveton, Overton, or Ovingham, in Hartnes.

Priory of Welles, otherwise Mirmaud.

IN CAMBRIDGESHIRE.

DUGDALE, in the former edition of this work, placed the Priory of Mirmaud in Lincolnshire. It was really situated in the parish of Upwell, which extends into two counties, Cambridgeshire and Norfolk; and stood in the Cambridgeshire part of the parish.

It was founded in the reign of King Richard the First or King John, by Ralph de Hauville, as a Cell to the Priory of Sempringham.

The Messrs. Lysons say[a] that the estate belonging to this Priory, now known by the name of Orman's Farm, was granted by Queen Elizabeth to Perceval Bowes and John Mosyer. It was at that time (1808) the property of a Mr. Bacon, by purchase from the Audleys of Lynne, in whose possession it had been for many years.

There are no remains of the Conventual buildings.

Carta Regis Edwardi Tertii, de diversis Libertatibus et Privilegiis præfato Prioratui concessis.

[Cart. 28 Edw. III. m. 4.]

EDWARDUS Dei gratia rex Angliæ et Franciæ et dominus Hiberniæ, archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis, quod cum ob honorem Dei et sanctæ matris ecclesiæ, quandam domum canonicorum regularium ordinis sancti Gilberti de Sempingham, apud Pulton in comitatu Wiltes. fundari, et quibusdam terris, tenementis, redditibus, et possessionibus, ad sustentationem canonicorum eorundem dotari fecerimus. Nos, ut prior et canonici dictæ domus, quietiùs divinis, pro nobis, hæredibus et progenitoribus nostris, ibidem ordinatis, et ordinandis, celebrandis intendere valeant in futurum; ipsos priorem et canonicos libertatibus et quietanciis, quas per inspectionem rotulorum cancellariæ nostræ domui de Sempingham, et aliis domibus regni nostri Angliæ, dicti ordinis per præfatos progenitores nostros invenimus fore concessas, prout inferiùs exprimuntur, communire cupientes; concessimus pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, et hac carta nostra confirmavimus, quod prædicti prior et canonici, et successores sui, imperpetuum habeant et teneant omnia terras, tenementa, redditus, et possessiones suas, quæcunque et ubicunque, benè et in pace, liberè et quietè, integrè, plenariè, et honorificè; in bosco et plano; in pratis et pascuis; in aquis, piscariis, vivariis, in stream, et strande; in mariscis, et forestis, in molendinis et stagnis; in toftis et croftis; et virgultis; in viis et semitis. Et quod sint quieti, tam ipsi quàm homines eorum, in civitate, burgo, foris, et nundinis; in transitu poncium et maris portuum, et in omnibus locis, per totum regnum nostrum Angliæ, et per omnes terras nostras et aquas, de theolonio, pontagio, passagio, pannagio, muragio, pedagio, lastagio, stallagio, hidagio, cariagio; et wardis, ac operibus castellorum, pontium, parcorum, et wallorum, ac fossarum, et vectigalibus, tributis et xeniis, excercitu, et equitatu, et de misericordia forestæ, et de eschape, et de regardo et vasto ubique in marisco per totam forestam nostram de Bradene; et de omnibus geldis, et danegeldis, et wodegeldis, et fengeldis, hornegeldis, fotegeldis, et penygeldis, et thenedingpeny, hundredispenny; et de meskennyng, et de cheuagio, et hevedpenny, et bucstall, et tristris; et de omnibus misericordiis et merciamentis, forisfacturis, et auxiliis et wapentachiis, comitatibus, trithinges, hundredis, et siris, et thenemannetale; et de murdro et latrocinio, et conceylis; et utflat, et hamsoca, grethbriche, blodwit, fletwit, et forestall, et hengwit, et leirwit. Et sint insuper liberi de scotto, et wardepenny, et burghalpenny, et ab omni careio et sumagio et navigio, ac domuum regalium ædificatione et omnimoda operatione. Et de omnibus auxiliis vicecomitum, et ministrorum suorum; et scutagio, et assisis, et donis, sumonitionibus, et talliagiis, franciplegiis, et de borthnenlig; et de omnibus placitis et querelis, occasionibus et consuetudinibus; et de averiis suis in namium capiendis, et de omni terreno servicio, et seculari exactione silvæ eorum ad prædicta opera, vel ad aliqua alia nullo modo capiantur.

Habeant etiam prædicti prior et canonici et successores sui curiam suam, et justiciam, cum soka, et saka, et thol, et theam, et infangenethef, et utfangenethef, et flemenefrith, et ordel, et oreste, infra tempus, et extra, et cum omnibus aliis liberis consuetudinibus, et immunitatibus, et libertatibus; et cum omnibus placitis et querelis, et quietanciis suis. Concessimus etiam, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, et hac carta nostra confirmavimus, ut cum magister dictorum prioris et canonicorum obierit, cura et custodia prædicti ordinis, tam domorum, quàm grangiarum atque ecclesiarum, sive substanciarum, in custodia et regimine prioris et canonicorum semper permaneat. Prohibemus etiam, quod nullus vicecomes, vel minister, seu alia persona magna, vel parva, infra elemosinas suas hominem capere, ligare, verberare, interficere, vel sanguinem fundere; seu rapinam, aut aliquam violenciam facere audeat; neque averia eorum, de terris elemosinæ suæ aliquis in namium capere præsumat super forisfacturam nostram; nec nativos, et fugitivos suos, vel catalla eorum aliquis detineat; nec homines venientes ad molendina sua ullo modo impediat; nec eos, aut homines eorum, pro consuetudine aliqua, vel servicio, aut exactione, vel pro aliqua causa disturbet de rebus suis, quas homines eorum affidare poterunt esse suas proprias, set sint quieti de omnibus consuetudinibus, exactionibus, et occasionibus, quæ sunt vel esse possunt; et generaliter de omnibus rebus in omnimodis quæ ad nos vel hæredes nostros et successores nostros pertinent, vel pertinere possunt, excepta sola justicia mortis et membrorum.

Concessimus insuper, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, et hac carta nostra confirmavimus præfatis priori et canonicis de Pulton in perpetuam elemosinam, misericordias et forisfacturas hominum suorum, de omnibus placitis ubicumque fuerint indictati; sive in curia nostra, sive in alia, quantum ad nos pertinet; et si fortè dampnati fuerint homines eorum ad mortem vel ad membrorum perditionem, vel in exilium imperpetuum; prædicti prior et canonici omnia catalla eorum habeant sine aliqua contradictione; retenta nobis, per ballivos nostros executione justiciæ de vita et membris, cujus quæstum omnimodum eis concedimus. Et prohibemus ne super hiis libertatibus aliquis domui de Pulton molestiam faciat, vel gravamen; vel eorum oves, aut animalia capiantur in namium, neque in communia pastura imparcentur, super forisfacturam nostram decem librarum, et super forisfacturam vicecomitis viginti solidorum, sicut confirmatio celebris memoriæ domini J. quondam regis Angliæ progenitoris nostri, quam domus de Sempyngham indè habet, testatur.

Suscepimus insuper in custodiam et specialem protectionem, et defensionem nostram, dictam domum de Pulton, cum omnibus membris et pertinentiis suis; ita quod dicti prior et canonici ea teneant benè et in pace, liberè, quietè, et integrè, cum omnibus libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus supradictis: Et si aliquis versùs dictam domum de Pulton aliquid de possessionibus suis clamaverit, sive eos in aliquo vexare vel in placitum ponere voluerit, prohibemus ne dicti prior et canonici, pro aliquo respondeant, neque in placitum intrent; neque aliquis eos placitare faciat, nisi coram nobis vel hæredibus nostris vel capitali justiciario nostro, vel hæredum nostrorum, vel coram justiciariis itinerantibus. Quare volumus, &c. Data per manum nostram apud Westm. quinto die Februarii, anno regni nostri Angliæ vicesimo octavo, regni verò nostri Franciæ quintodecimo.

Priory of Marleburgh, or Marlborough, in Wiltshire.

THIS Priory, of the Sempringham Order, was dedicated to St. Margaret, and, according to Tanner, was as old as the beginning of the reign of King John.[a] From the patent of the 22 Ric. II. given by Dugdale, it appears to have been of royal foundation:[b] though in the Valor of the 26th Hen. VIIIth it was rated in gross revenue at no more than 38*l.* 19*s.* 2*d.*, in clear income at 30*l.* 9*s.* 9*d.* The spiritualities amounted to 4*l.* in this return. The Site was granted in exchange to Anthony Stringer.

The Hospital of St. Thomas at Marlborough was annexed to this Priory in the 17th Ric. IId.

Tanner has given memoranda of various records to this House between the reigns of King John and King Edward the Fourth. One only shall be quoted here; "Claus. 8 Edw. III. m. 28 d. Relaxatio de decimis ferculorum Regis quoties Rex venerit Marlburiam ex concessione Regis Henrici."[c]

Roger Marshall was Prior of this House in the 26th Hen. VIII., when the great Valor was taken for the King.

[Pat. 22 Ric. II. p. 3, m. 18.]

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Sciatis quod cum, ut accepimus, dilectus et fidelis noster Johannes Lovel chivaler nuper dedisset et concessisset dilectis nobis in Christo priori et conventui domus sanctæ Margaretæ juxta Marlebergh, quæ de fundatione progenitorum nostrorum, et nostro patronatu existit, tria messuagia, unum toftum, tres carucatas, et quadraginta acras terræ, unam acram prati et dimidiam, et viginti solidatas redditus cum pertinentiis in Monton, Burbach, et West Grafton. Habendum et tenendum eisdem priori et conventui et successoribus suis in augmentationem sustentationis suæ in puram et perpetuam elemosinam imperpetuum; licentia regis super hoc non optenta. Nos ob reverentiam Dei et diei Parasceves proximè præteriti, de gratia nostra speciali, pardonavimus præfatis priori et conventui et successoribus suis omnimodas transgressiones, &c. quas iidem prior et conventus fecerunt et perpetraverunt, tam in acceptatione terrarum, &c. licentia nostra super hoc, ut præmittitur, non obtenta. Et ulteriùs de uberiori gratia nostra concedimus, ratificamus, et confirmamus præfatis priori et conventui statum et possessionem quos habent in terris, &c. prædictis. Habendum, &c. in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, &c. Gilbertine Priory at Cambridge.

TANNER says, about A.D. 1291, a Convent of White Canons from Sempringham settled themselves at the old Chapel of St. Edmund the King, over against Peterhouse in Cambridge, which they had by the gift of B. fil. Walteri; and here they continued till the Dissolution, when this small Priory was valued, in the total income at 16*l.* 16*s.*;

Priory of Clattercote, in Oxfordshire.

CLATTERCOTE is in the parish of Cleydon. Tanner says, here was in the time of King John a small Religious House of the Sempringham Order, dedicated to St. Leonard, which was for some time an Hospital for leprous persons; but, about the time of the Suppression, it consisted of a Prior and four Canons, who were endowed with 34*l.* 19*s.* 11*d.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 30th and 36th Hen. VIIIth, to Sir William Peter; in the 38th Hen. VIIIth, to the King's, that is Christ Church College, Oxford; and, 2 Eliz., to Thomas Lee and Mary his wife.[b]

Priory of Fordham, in Cambridgeshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Fordham, alias Bigynge. He says, "In a field near this town, Henry, the rural dean of Fordham, began a Religious House, to which Sir Hugh de Malebisse was a considerable benefactor.[c] But King Henry the Third, in the 12th year of his reign, giving the Church of Fordham to the Order of Sempringham in Lincolnshire, not long after,[d] a small Convent of Gilbertine Canons was settled here. The Messrs Lysons say that Sir Robert de Fordham was the founder. St. Peter and St. Mary Magdalen[e] were the tutelar saints of this Priory, which was endowed at the Suppression with the gross income of 46*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.*, but in clear receipt at the sum of 40*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 32d of Henry the VIIIth, according to Tanner, to Philip Parry. The Messrs. Lysons say to Philip Paris, Esq. and Margaret his wife. The Messrs. Lysons say, At a later period, Fordham Abbey became the property and seat of a younger branch of the Russells of Chippenham. The proprietor in 1808 was Francis Noble, Esq.[f] The Cotton Manuscript Cleopatra E. iv. fol. 229, contains Dr. Legh's letter to Lord Cromwell concerning this Monastery.[g]

Priory of Hitchin, in Hertfordshire.

TANNER calls this House "New Bigging, Gilbertine Nuns." He says, "Near the Church was a small Priory of Gilbertine Nuns,"[h] endowed, at the Suppression, with the nominal income of 15*l.* 1*s.* 11*d.*; in clear receipts at 13*l.* 16*s.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 36th Hen. VIII., to John Cokke: in Tanner's time, it was the School-house of Hitchin. Tanner gives three References to Records concerning this House: "Rot. Pat. 37 Edw. ALIEN PRIORIES

IN

CHIEFLY OF THE

ORDER OF ST. BENEDICT.

ALIEN PRIORIES, says Mr. Nichols, were Cells of the Religious Houses in England which belonged to Foreign Monasteries: for when manors or tithes were given to foreign Convents, the monks, either to increase their own rule, or rather to have faithful stewards of their revenues, built a small Convent here for the reception of such a number as they thought proper, and constituted Priors over them. Within these Cells there was the same distinction as in those Priories which were Cells subordinate to some great Abbey; some of these were conventual, and having Priors of their own choosing, thereby became entire societies within themselves, and received the revenues belonging to their several Houses for their own use and benefit, paying only the ancient apport, acknowledgement, or obvention, at first the surplusage to the foreign House; but others depended entirely on the foreign Houses, who appointed and removed their Priors at pleasure. These transmitted all their revenues to the foreign head Houses; for which reason their estates were generally seized to carry on the wars between England and France, and restored to them again on return of peace.

These Alien Priories were, most of them, founded by such as had foreign Abbies founded by themselves or by some of their family.

The whole number is not exactly ascertained; Dugdale gives a list of one hundred; Weever says, a hundred and ten. In the present Portion of the Monasticon the Reader will find an Account of considerably more than a hundred and twenty.

Some of these Cells were made indigenous or denizen. Instances of this kind have already occurred among the Benedictine Monasteries.

The Alien Priories were first seized by Edward the First, 1285, on the breaking out of the war between France and England; and it appears from a Roll, that Edward II. also seized them, though this is not mentioned by our Historians: and to these the Act of Restitution, 1 Edw. III., seems to refer.[a]

In 1337 King Edward the Third confiscated their estates, and let out the Priories themselves with all their lands and tenements, at his pleasure, for twenty-three years;[b] at the end of which term peace being concluded between the two nations, he restored their estates, A.D. 1361.[c] At other times he granted their lands, or lay pensions out of them to divers noblemen.[d] They were also sequestered during Richard the Second's reign, and the Head Monasteries abroad had the King's licence to sell their lands to other Religious Houses here, or to any particular persons who wanted to endow others.[e]

King Henry the Fourth began his reign with shewing some favour to the Alien Priories, restoring all the conventual ones, only reserving to him in time of war what they paid in time of peace to the Foreign Abbies.[f]

They were all dissolved by Act of Parliament, 2 Henry V., and their estates vested in the Crown, except some lands granted to the College of Fotheringhay.

The Act of Dissolution is not printed in the Statute Books, but is to be found entire in Rymer's Fœdera, vol. ix. p. 283, and in the Parliament Rolls. It will be found appended to the present Account.

In general these lands were appropriated to religious uses.

Henry the VIth endowed his foundations at Eton and Cambridge with the lands of the Alien Priories, in pursuance of his father's design to appropriate them all to a noble College at Oxford.

Others were granted in fee to the prelates, nobility, or private persons.[a]

Such as remained in the Crown were granted by Henry the Sixth, 1440, to Archbishop Chichley, &c. and they became part of his and the royal foundation.[b]

Priory of Lewesham, in Kent.

ELTHRUDE, niece to King Alfred, gave the manor of Lewesham to the Abbeyof St. Peter at Ghent in Flanders many years before the Conquest, upon which it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that House. After the suppression of the Alien Priories, King Henry the Fifth made this House a part of the endowment of his new erected Carthusian Priory at Shene, A.D. 1414.

The Prior of Lewesham is mentioned in records of the time of Kings Henry II. and III. This Priory paid a yearly pension or acknowledgement of 40*s.* to the Abbey of Ghent as its superior.

An extent of the Priory of Lewesham taken 44th Edw. III. will be found in the Donation M.S. in the British Museum, num. 6164, p. 416.[a]

Carta Regis Edwardi (dicti Confessoris) Levesham in Cantio, cum diversis Terris et Maneriis eidem pertinentibus, Ecclesiæ S. Petri de Gant, confirmans.

[Cart. antiq T. n. 10.]

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, ego Edw. Anglorum Dei gratia basileus, omnibus post me futuris regibus, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, vicecomitibus, omnibusque baronibus, ac ministris, cunctisque præsentibus et futuris, salutem, et hujus rei notitiam. Summum in regibus ac principibus bonum est, justiciam Dei colere et ecclesiarum quieti prospicere, et de illarum perpetua securitate sollerter tractare; quia, qui eam exaltant et honorant, cum ea et in ea, et per eam exaltantur, et honorantur. Et quoniam in locis plurimis inquietudines, plurimas molestias, persecutiones, scandala, atque gravamina monachos à nonnullis pertulisse cognovimus, decet ut nostræ excellentiæ regia provisio de ipsorum ventura quiete, salubri meditetur dispositione, ut in ipsis manentes tranquilla mente in servitute, Dei ipsius subveniente gratia, permaneant: undè præsentes et posteri sciant universi, quod antiqui gloriosi reges, Aelwredus, viz. et Edwardus filius ejus, ecclesiam S. Petri de Gant, quæ in monte Blandinio ita et animo affectare diligerunt, honoraverunt; et donationem illam, Levesham[a] scil. cum omnibus sibi pertinentiis, quam Elthrudis præfati Elfredi neptis ecclesiæ eidem liberè contulit, regia concessione, et libertate perpetua munierunt: Quorum boni operis intentione perpendens ne eorum statuta unquam ducantur in irritum, aut ullis (quod absit) posteris turbentur temporibus, ego quidem hujus libertatis patrocinator, donis eorum favens, pro eorum et mea omniumque successorum meorum regum, atque Baldwini comitis, cognati mei; necnon et omnium fidelium prosperitate et salute, Deo et beato apostolo Petro, pio fautori nostro, et abbati Richardo monachisque præfatæ ecclesiæ de Gant concedo, atque mea regia auctoritate confirmo manerium de Levesham, cum omnibus sibi pertinentibus, viz. Greenewic, Wulewic, Modingeham, atque Cumbe; et cum vallibus etiam in Andreda eisdem maneriis adjacentibus; scilicet Aeshchore, Aeffehaga, Thingindene, Scarendene, Sandhewsce; et cum ecclesiis, cimiteriis, decimis, redditibus, in campis et silvis, in pratis et pascuis, in aquis et paludibus, in piscariis et piscationibus, in molendinis et in omnibus suis appendiciis. Præterea addidi loco illi prælibato infra Londoniam, partem terræ de terra illa, viz. quæ Werman, Echer, Anglicè nuncupatur, cum huervo eidem terræ pertinenti; et cum omnibus rectitudinibus et consuetudinibus, quæ ad illam pertinent. Concedo eis etiam in omnibus terris suis prænominatis, consuetudines hic Anglicè scriptas, scil. infangenetheof, mondbruce, mischenninge, uthleaw, ferdwite, wearwite, blodwite, hleastyng, sceawing, hamsocne, forstall, aliasque omnes leges et consuetudines, quæ ad me pertinent. Donavi etiam Richardo religioso abbati et omnibus futuris post eum, . . . ibidem abbatibus, et fratribus ejusdem loci, in omni prædicta monasterii possessione, sacam et socam, theolondumque suum in terra, et in aqua, et consuetudine, quæ dicitur teames, latrones, latronumque captiones vel emissiones, et pacis fracturam, et pugnam in domo factam, et domus invasionem, et omnes assultus in suo jure, in via et extra, in festo et extra, in urbe et extra, in aqua et extra, tam plenè, et tam liberè sicut eas habebam in manu mea. Nullus itaque unquam graventur oneribus expedicionum nec pontium vel castrorum restructione, nec regalium sive episcopalium ministrorum exactione,

Defendo insuper, et ex nomine sanctæ Trinitatis prohibeo, ut nullus regum succedentium, episcoporum, principum, comitum, vicecomitum, procuratorum, sive aliorum regum clientium, vel episcoporum ministrorum, pastum, censum, vel inpensionem, seu aliud quodlibet, ab ecclesia illa, vel à terris præscriptis ad eam pertinentibus, per vim aut per consuetudinem exigat, sed omnimodam libertatem mea regia corroboratione perpetualiter possideant, quatinus ipsa religiosa concio, pro remedio animæ meæ, et successorum meorum regum Angliæ, omniumque benefactorum ejusdem ecclesiæ, ac fidelium salute, pervigiles persolvat deprecationes, oleumque bonæ actionis, more sapientium virginum sub habitu religionis servans Christo Domino et ejus beato apostolo Petro indefessè deserviat. Siquis autem contra hanc auctoritatis nostræ paginam senserit, quicunque ille fuerit, cujuscunque ætatis, vel potestatis, gradus, et ordinis, et eam infringere voluerit, vel alios ad hoc conduxerit, unusquisque pro seipso libras v. partibus S. Petri persolvat, et quicquid exindè fiscus noster in murdris, geldis, danegeldis, omnibusque aliis rebus, vel stipendiis, quæ in terris illis surrexerint, ad partem nostram sperare poterat in luminaribus, sive fratrum ipsius monasterii victus aminiculis perenniter per nostra oracula ad integrum sit concessum, atque indultnm. Quicunque successorum meorum hanc donationis libertatem firmiter atque inviolabiliter custodierit, æterna coronetur claritate, cœlestisque regni perfruatur fœlicitate: Si quis verò eam (quod absit) destruere voluerit, sive eandem possessionem à donatione et servicio sæpedictæ ecclesiæ et abbatum ejusdem loci, et monachorum, subtrahere conatus fuerit, vel per partes, quasi hæreditatis jure auferre præsumpserit, sicut contradictor et convulsor hujus nostri decreti, ac temerator, cum Juda traditore Domini, æterno anathemati subjaceat, nisi Deo et beato suo apostolo Petro digna pœnitentia satisfecerit. Non enim superiorem, vel inferiorem aliquem decet hominem illud sibi in jus hæreditatis vendicare, quod per regiam corroborationem ad illud, cujus esse debeat, provida ratione fuerit redactum.

Anno igitur dominicæ incarnationis M.xliiii. indict. xii. et vii. concurrentibus, atque xi. epactis rotantibus, hæc regalis concessio et donatio facta est sub astipulatione primatum, quorum nomina karaxata videntur. Priory of St. Michael's Mount, in Cornwall.

A PRIORY of Benedictine Monks was placed here by King Edward the Confessor, whose charter will be found at the opening of the Appendix to the present Account. Before A.D. 1085, however, it was annexed, by Robert, Earl of Moreton and Cornwall, to the Abbey of St. Michael in Periculo Maris, in Normandy. His charter stands second in the Apendix.[a]

Ibi est i. car. cum uno villano et ii. bord. et x. acr. pasturæ. Val. xx. solid. De hiis ii. hid. abstulit comes Moriton. i. hidam. Val. xx. sol."[b]

Charters of Edmund Earl of Cornwall, Alan Earl of Bretagne, Kichard King of the Romans, and Conan Duke of Bretagne, with a confirmatory Bull from Pope Adrian, in 1155, to this House, are preserved by Dugdale.

Oliver, in his Historic Collections relating to the Monasteries in Devon, p. 147, gives the following List of PRIORS of ST. MICHAEL'S MOUNT: Ralph de Carteret, adm. Dec. 21, 1260. Richard Perer, April 11th, 1275. Geoffrey de Gernon, July 8th, 1283. Peter de Cara Villa, Sept. 12th, 1316. John Hardy, Oct. 3rd, 1349. John de Volant, April 24th, 1362. Richard Auncell, Dec. 7th, 1385. William Lambert, Oct. 1st. 1410.

After the Suppression of the Alien Priories, this House was given, first, by King Henry the Sixth to King's College, Cambridge, and afterward by King Edward the Fourth to the Nunnery of Syon, in Middlesex.[c] Tanner says, At the first seizure of it by King Edward the Third, the farm of it was rated at 10*l.* per annum; but in the time of King Henry the Eighth, the lands belonging to this House, as parcel of Syon, were valued at 110*l.* 12*s.* 0½*d.* per annum.

Noveritis nos inspexisse cartam prædicti patris nostri, quam fecit priori et monachis S. Michaelis, in Cornubia, in hæc verba. Omnibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Ricardus comes Pictaviæ et Cornubiæ salutem. Noveritis me dedisse, et præsenti carta mea confirmâsse, pro me et hæredibus meis, priori et monachis S. Michaelis in Cornubia ibidem Deo servientibus, pro animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum, totam terram in mora mea de Goenhib, hiis metis inclusam; videlicet à divisa quæ se extendit à villa de Roswik, ad terram de Trurabo; et ita usque ad viam propè Crucaresken; et indè usque ad Bonesdu; et de Bonesdu usque ad Ponsdonfili; et indè usque ad Grelenbesels, usque ad magnam viam Grudgdrahenot; et indè usque ad Grugkennywol; et indè sicut divisa se extendit inter Crunent et Polkere. Habendum et tenendum sibi in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, quietam et solutam ab omni servicio seculari; et ad majorem securitatem præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione feci roborari. Hiis testibus, venerabili viro A. abbate Belli-loci Regis, Andrea de Cancellis, Widone de S. Amando, Johanne filio Thomæ, Petro Brettone, Ric. de Poncherdone, Roberto de Eschalers, et aliis.

Inspeximus etiam aliam cartam prædicti patris nostri in hæc verba. Omnibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Ricardus comes Pictaviæ et Cornubiæ salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, me dedisse et concessisse, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse, intuitu caritatis, pro me et hæredibus meis, priori de Monte S. Michaelis in Cornubia, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, decem solidatas redditus, quos Willielmus de Walebreaus mihi annuatim reddere consuevit pro nundinis S. Jacobi, extra eundem montem; habendum eisdem priori et monachis liberè et pacificè; et percipiendum de eodem Willielmo de Walesbreaus et hæredibus suis annuatim, sicut illos percipere consuevit. Et quia volo, quod hæc mea donatio perpetuæ firmitatis robur optineat, præsens scriptum sigillo meo signatum produxi in testimonium. Hiis testibus, dominis Andrea de Cardinan, Willielmo de .... Andrea de cancellis, Waltero de Turri, Waltero de Therbyn, tunc temporis vicecomite Cornubiæ, Odone Taerbyn filio suo, et aliis.

Nos autem prædictas donationes, concessiones, et confirmationes ratas et gratas habentes, eas pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, concedimus et confirmamus, sicut prædictæ cartæ præfati patris nostri rationabiliter testantnr. Præterea concedimus et præsenti scripto nostro confirmamus Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et S. Michaeli, ac priori et monachis Montis S. Michaelis, in Cornubia, quantum in nobis est, quod habeant et teneant Montem S. Michaelis, cum dicta hida terræ, cum suis pertinentiis, ita soluta et quieta, ac libera ab omnibus consutudinibus, querelis, et placitis, sicut recolendæ memoriæ Robertus comes Moritoniæ unquam ea tenuit. Et quod habeant et teneant tres acras terræ in Manael, Trurabo, Lesmanaek, Trerravers, Carnelel, ita quietè et liberè ab omnibus placitis et querelis, atque forisfactis, sicut præfatus Robertus comes Moritoniæ illam unquam tenuit, cum suis omnibus pertinentiis. Concessimus eisdem priori et monachis, quod cum domus sua prædicti montis, per cessionem vel decessum prioris, qui pro tempore fuerit, ad custodiam nostram fuerit devoluta, omnis exitus de toto tempore vacationis ipsius prioratus, integrè reserventur futuro priori liberandas, in utilitatem prædictæ prioratus convertendum, sine ullo impedimento nostri vel hæredum nostrorum. Salvis tamen custodi nostro dicti prioratus rationabilibus sustentationibus suis, tempore vacationis, sicut hominem petitem decet. In cujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum nostrum apponi fecimus Hiis testibus, dominis Willielmo de Camvile, Henr. le Tyes, Will. de Botreaux, Willielmo de Bereford, Reginaldo de Botreaux, Tho. Kent, Ric. de Hiwys, et aliis. Data apud Rostormel xxx. die Decembris, anno regni regis Edwardi filii regis Henrici xix.

Decernimus ergo, ut nulli omnino hominum liceat supradictum monasterium temerè perturbare, aut ejus possessiones auferre, vel ablatas retinere vel minuere, seu quibuslibet vexationibus fatigare; sed illibata omnia integrè observentur eorum, pro quorum libertate et sustentatione concessa sunt, usibus omnimodis profutura; salva nimirùm apostolicæ sedis auctoritate, et diœcesanorum episcoporum canonica justicia. Si qua igitur in futurum ecclesiastica, secularisve persona, hanc nostræ constitutionis paginam, sciens contra eam temerè venire tentaverit, secundò tertiovè commonitus, nisi præsumptionem suam congrua satisfactione correxerit, potestatis, honorisque sui dignitate careat, reamque se divino judicio existit de perpetrata iniquitate cognoscat; et à sacratissimo corpore et sanguine Dei et Domini nostri Jesu Christi aliena fiat; atque in extremo examine districtæ ultioni subjaceat. Cunctis autem eidem loco suum jus servantibus, sit pax Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatinus et hic fructum bonæ actionis percipiant, et apud districtum judicem præmia æternæ pacis inveniant. Amen.

Priory of Mercy, or West Mersey, in Essex.

TANNER says, "The Monks of St. Audoen at Roan in Normandy had this manor by the gift of King Edward the Confessor, upon which were settled here a Convent of Benedictines, and it became a Cell to that foreign Abbey. It was probably dedicated to St. Peter. Upon the dissolution of Alien Priories, King Henry the Fifth granted this to Henry Chichely archbishop of Canterbury, who made it part of the endowment of the Collegiate Church by him founded at Higham-Ferrers in Northamptonshire, the place of the nativity of that worthy prelate; and as parcel of the possessions of that College, it was granted, 34th Hen. VIII., to Robert Dacres, Esq.[a]

Newcourt and Morant appear to have confounded this Priory with Mattersey or Marsey in Nottinghamshire.

Præceptum Regis Escaetori suo, primam hujusmodi Prioratus Collationem Abbatiæ de S. Audoeno, in Normannia, indicans.

Rex dilecto et fideli suo Simoni de Bereford, escaetori suo citra Trentam, salutem. Cum nuper certiorari volentes super causa captionis prioratus de Mersey, qui est cella abbatiæ sancti Audoeni Rothomagensis, per vos, ut dicebatur, in manum nostram, vobis mandaverimus, quod nos de causa illa sub sigillo vestro distinctè et apertè redderetis certiores. Ac vos nobis retornaveritis, quod maneria de Mersey, Fyngrynho, et Peet, cum dimidio hundredo de Wenestre in comitatu Essex, sunt temporalia abbatiæ de S. Audoeno in Normannia, de dono progenitorum nostrorum; et quod custodia inde temporibus vacationum abbatiæ prædictæ ad nos debet pertinere, sicut ex testimonio fide dignorum intellexistis. Et quia abbatia illa per mortem Radulfi nuper abbatis ibidem vacavit, nec constabat vobis quod abbas qui nunc est, seu Willielmus de Reel, prior prioratus prædicti et procurator ipsius abbatis in Anglia, satisfecerunt nobis de exitibus vacationis illius, maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta cepistis in manum nostram nomine districtionis quousque nobis satisfactum fuerit de præmissis. Ac postmodum ex parte ipsius prioris intelligentes, quod prædictus abbas maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta per cartas progenitorum nostrorum quondam regum Angliæ tenet in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, absque aliquo servicio inde faciendo; et quod eadem maneria et hundredum, vacante abbatia prædicta per mortem alicujus abbatis loci illius, in manus alicujus progenitorum nostrorum, aliquibus temporibus retroactis, nomine custodiæ capta seu seisita non fuerunt; et quod aliqui progenitorum nostrorum prædictorum exitus seu proficua aliqua inde prætextu alicujus vacationis abbatiæ prædictæ nullatenus perceperunt; volentes inde certiorari vobis mandaverimus, quod per sacramentum proborum et legalium de balliva vestra per quos rei veritas meliùs sciri posset, diligenter inquireretis utrum maneria et hundredum illa, temporibus vacationum abbatiæ illius per mortem alicujus abbatis loci prædicti, in manus alicujus progenitorum nostrorum, ratione vacationis hujusmodi, exitus et proficua aliqua inde perceperunt necne, et si sic tunc quo tempore et per cujus abbatis mortem, et si aliqui progenitorum nostrorum ratione vacationis hujusmodi exitus et proficua aliqua inde perceperunt. Ac per inquisitionem inde de mandato nostro per vos sic captam, et in cancellaria nostra retornatam, compertum sit, quod prædictus abbas tenet in comitatu Essex prioratum prædictum, ac maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta, de dono sancti Edwardi quondam regis Angliæ, et ex confirmatione regis Willielmi et Henrici filii imperatricis, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, absque aliquo alio servicio inde faciendo. Et quod prioratus seu maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta, ratione alicujus vacationis abbatiæ prædictæ in manus aliquorum progenitorum nostrorum capta seu seisita non fuerunt, et quod iidem progenitores nostri exitus aut proficua aliquo tempore inde non perceperunt, vobis mandamus, quod de prioratu, maneriis, seu hundredo prædictis, si præmissa occasione et non alia in manu nostra existant vos ulteriùs non intromittatis, exitussi quos inde percepistis, præfato priori restituentes. Priory of Andover, in Hampshire.

THE Church of St. Mary of Andover, with a hide of land, several rents, &c. having been given by King William the Conqueror to the Abbey of St. Florence at Salmur in Anjou, it became a Cell to that Monastery. It was with other Alien Priories seized into the King's hands during the wars with France, temp. Edw. III., but restored 1 Hen. IV., and finally dissolved by the Statute 2 Hen. V., in which same year it was granted to the College of St. Mary near Winchester, and confirmed by King Edward the Fourth.[a]

Nicholas Gwyn, prior of Andover, occurs in Cowel's Law Interpreter under the word Appertum.

[Pat. 1 Hen. IV. part. 6, m. 23. et Pat. 8 Edw. II. part. 2, m. 1.]

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus literas patentes domini Edwardi nuper regis Angliæ avi nostri factas in hæc verba. Edwardus Dei gratia rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, et dux Aquitanniæ, omnibus ad quos præsentes literæ pervenerint salutem. Inspeximus cartam quam Willielmus quondam rex Angliæ progenitor noster fecit in hæc verba. Noscant qui sunt et qui venturi sunt, quod Willielmus rex, qui armis Anglicam terram sibi subjugavit, dedit sancto Florentio ecclesiam de Andeura et ea quæ ad ecclesiam pertinent, videlicet j. hydam terræ et xiij. acras et decimas de omni dominio suo quod est in ipsa parochia, hoc est, de annona, de porcellis, de agnis, de caseis, et de proprio pannagio, j. porcum in festa sancti Martini, et paschua xij. boum et equorum, et omnium ovium falde monachorum cum suis pecudibus, et silvam ad calefaciendum monachos, ad panem coquendum, ad cervisiam, ad sepes, ad domos claudendas, et x. porcos in silva sine pannagio. Hæc etiam pertinent ad ipsam ecclesiam. De terra Bernardi, dimidia acra annonæ in augusto, Saiwi iiij^{d}. Wlwinus iiij^{d}. Osmundus iiij^{d}. Ringinus ij^{d}. Toni ij^{d}. Hugo ij^{d}. Sorebert ij^{d}. Wlvinus filius Canæ ij^{d}. Toni iiij^{d}. Alunius ij^{d}. Eldvinus iiij^{d}. Alui ij^{d}. Hunestanus iiij^{d}. Quinstinus de terra sua iiij^{d}. De terra quæ fuit Sanuf. iiij^{d}. Saric de Hadredena iiij^{d}. Etwinus iiij^{d}. Tedricus ij^{d}. Sagardus de Etnam iiij^{d}. Ulvinus filius Punt iiij^{d}. Etninus iiij^{d}. Etninus iiij^{d}. Goldstanus iiij^{d}. Vlunius carpentarius iiij^{d}. Etninus iiij^{d}. Leoninus iiij^{d}. De terra quam Vlunius tenuit de vicecomite iiij^{d}. De terra quam W. tenet de Etnan dimidiam acram annonæ. Eluinus Bidel, de terra sua de Etnan iiij^{d}. De terra quam W. tenet de Clatford, viij^{d}. De terra Tetbaldi de Etnan j. acram de annona, de terra Gisleberti Pipar de Etnan j. acram annonæ. De terra Saals de Etnan dimidiam acram annonæ. De Cerletona de unaquaque virga v. garbas in festo sancti Michaelis. De hominibus Eduardi de Hadredena viij^{d}. Hæc omnia per singulos annos jure redduntur ecclesiæ de Andeura. De hiis omnibus et de domibus monachorum juxta ecclesiam factis Alwricus præpositus Andeuræ multas injurias faciebat monachis, unde contigit, ut Wihenocus sancti Florencii monachus clamorem faceret ad regem Henricum. Tunc rex præcepit Henrico vicecomiti de Hantunsira, et Giraldo præposito Wyncestrensi, ut adunarent hundredum Andeuræ et inquirerent ab eo res quæ ad illam ecclesiam pertinebant, et ita factum est. Tunc hundredum secundum regis imperium adunatum simul concordavit, et super reliquias jurare voluit, quod res superiùs nominatæ à tempore regis Edwardi pertinent ad ecclesiam de Andeura, et terra ecclesiæ ita est soluta, et ab omni querela libera, ut si quis homo aliquid forisfecerit, cujuscunque homo sit, et ad terram sancti, sine districto alicujus potestatis, venire potuerit, sit justitia et emendatio monachorum, excepta corporali vindicta latronum, quæ ad regem respicit. Hoc concordavit hundredum in domo Edwini veteris præpositi in festivitate sanctæ Luciæ; et isti sunt inde testes, Wihenocus monachus, et Herveus, et Petrus. De laicis, Henricus de Port, Giraldus præpositus, Willielmus de Virguel, et Robertus frater ejus, et Nidulf, Hugo de Cormaglo, Robertus, Radulfus de Flexcoco, et Edwardus, Willielmus de Enham, Bernardus forestarius, Wulfun de Clafford, Dunardus capellanus, Segarus clericus. Hæc est concordia quæ facta fuit inter monachos Sancti Florencii et Edwardum de Foscota, de ecclesia de Andeura et de capella de Foscota. Prædictus itaque Edwardus concessit Deo et sanctæ Mariæ de Andeura, totam decimam suam de Dominio suo de Foscota, et de villanis viij^{d}. Ecclesia autem de Andeura inveniet supradictæ capellæ presbyterum, ad serviendum videlicet in tota Quadragesima, et in Adventu, et in xij. diebus natalis Domini, et in viij. diebus Paschæ et Pentecostes, et in quatuor temporibus, et in nominatis festis, et in tribus diebus uniuscujusque ebdomadæ. Pro qua siquidem concessione tam anima ejus quàm parentum suorum et alii benefactores erunt participes orationum congregationis Sancti Florencii. Hæc igitur diffinitio facta fuit ante Henricum vicecomitem et Crocum venatorem. Testantibus Davide et Gozelino avunculo Edwardi, et testibus Stephano archidiacono et Alurico et Malgerio monacho, concedente Willielmo filio Waleranni.

Priory of Covenham, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER, speaking of Covenham, says, Some lands here being given, about A.D. 1082, to the Abbey of St. Karilefus, in the diocese of Mains, by King William the Conqueror, at the instance of William bishop of Durham, here were settled a Prior and Benedictine Monks from that foreign Monastery, to which it continued a Cell, under the patronage of the bishops of Durham, till it was made over, 31 Edw. I., to the Abbat and Convent of Kirkstede, in whom it continued till the Dissolution; after which, as parcel of that Monastery, it was granted to William Skipwith.[a] MATTHEW occurs Prior of Covenham in 1262.[b]

In cujus rei testimonium prædicti juratores huic inquisitioni sigilla sua apposuerunt.

IN WARWICKSHIRE.

ROBERT DE TONEI, says Tanner, alias Stafford, son to Roger de Tonei, standard-bearer of Normandy, gave (not long after the Conquest) the Church of St. Peter,[a] with some lands in this Town, to the Abbey of Castellion, or Conches, in Normandy, founded by his said father, which were confirmed to them by Nicolas de Stafford his son temp. Hen. I. and Robert de Stafford his grandson temp. Hen. II.; and hereupon a Cell of Benedictine Monks from that foreign Monastery was sent over hither, and continued here till the seisures of Alien Priories temp. Edw. III. This was granted 22 Ric. II. to the Priory of St. Anne near Coventry, and afterward, 22 Hen. VI. to the Provost and Scholars of King's College in Cambridge, who still enjoy the same.

Sir William Dugdale has given a detailed Account of this Priory and its possessions in the History of Warwickshire.[b] He has preserved the following Names of PRIORS of this House: Rob. de Pavilliaco, 12 cal. Jan. 1285. John de Broora, 8 cal. Jun. 1288. Will. de Lavercye, 8 id. Nov. 1309. John le Tonnelier, 26 July, 1328. John de Silvaneto, 2 Jan. 1340. Guillerinus Pinchart, "die Mart. post festum Dionysii martyris," 1349. John Maubert, 7th March, 1370. John Soverain, 1400. Joh. de Conchis, 17 Jun. 1438. Cole in his MS. Volume xxvii. fol. 96 b. mentions two or three other Priors; Peter de Altaribus, 1281. William de Chesney, 1361. Richard Parker, 1439.

Tanner refers to various charters, bailiffs' accompts, rentals, and other muniments relating to this Priory, in the Treasury of King's College Cambridge, as well as to Dugdale's transcripts from them among his Manuscripts in the Ashmole Museum at Oxford.[c]

[Ex archivis Collegii Regalis Cantabrig. an. 1652.]

Priory of Monks Kirby, in Warwickshire.

TANNER calls this an Alien Priory of Benedictine monks to the Abbey of St. Nicholas at Angiers, which owed its original to the large grant of lands and tithes in this and other neighbouring towns, which Gosfred de Wirchia made, A.D. 1077, to that foreign Monastery. This Cell, as well as the head House, was dedicated to St. Nicholas, and after many seisures, during the wars with France, leave was given by the King, 20th Ric. II. to annex the same to the new erected Priory of Carthusians in Axholm near Epworth in Lincolnshire, upon which it was finally settled 3 Hen. V. after it had been restored to the Abbey of Angiers for some little time during the reign of King Henry the Fourth.[a] The annual farm paid at the Exchequer for this Alien Priory, during the time it was in the King's hands, was 40*l.*; but Dugdale mentions an Extent taken 1st Ric. II. of the Estates belonging thereunto, then valued at 220*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* per annum. After the Dissolution, the manor of Monks Kirby with the appurtenances were granted to Charles Duke of Suffolk, but the rectory and tithes in the adjacent villages were made part of the Endowment of Trinity College in Cambridge by King Henry the Eighth anno regni 37.

Alien Priory of Lancaster.

THE Church of St. Mary at Lancaster and certain lands there were given by Earl Roger of Poictiers, A.D. 1094, to the Abbey of St. Martin de Sagio or Sees, in Normandy; whereupon a Prior and five Benedictine Monks were placed here; who, with three priests, two clerks, and servants, made up a small Monastery, subordinate to that foreign House, which was endowed with the yearly revenue of about 80*l.* sterling. After the Dissolution of the Alien Priories, this, with the lands thereunto belonging, was annexed by King Henry the Fifth, or his feoffees, to the Abbey of Syon in Middlesex, to which it continued as a Cell till the general Dissolution.

Several Deeds relating to this Priory are preserved in Madox's Formulare Anglicanum, pp. 52, 55, 100, 270, 313, 358, 372, 375. See also numerous references in Tanner.[a]

REGISTERS of the Alien Cells are not common; a very beautiful REGISTER, however, of LANCASTER PRIORY, written upon eighty leaves of vellum, is preserved in the Harleian Manuscript 3764.[b]

Carta Ric. II. Regis Angliæ plurium Benefactorum Cartas confirmans.

[Pat. 15 Ric. II. par. 1, m. 18.]

REX omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam Rogeri quondam comitis Pictavensis in hæc verba. In nomine et honore sanctæ ac individuæ Trinitatis. Notum sit omnibus tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quod Rogerus comes Pictavensis, pro salute animæ suæ et pro salute quoque Rogeri Seroberiæ patris sui, matrisque suæ Mabiliæ comitissæ, necnon pro fratribus suis et pro omnibus amicis suis, dedit Deo et sancto Martino ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ de Lanecastro, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, et partem terræ illius villæ à veteri muro usque ad pomerium Godefridi, et usque ad Prestgat, et juxta Lancastrum duas mansiones Audecluna et Neutona, et quæque ad eas pertinentia, nemus quoque usque ad Freibrok, cum dignitate et consuetudinibus quas ipse habebat et Amfridum de Monte Gomerii, et quicquid de supradicto comite tenet, et ecclesiam de Hessenn cum tertia parte totius villæ, et ecclesiam Cotegrave, et ecclesiam de Cropil, et ecclesiam de Wikelay, et ecclesiam Crofton, et medietatem ecclesiæ Aicletone, et ecclesiam Kidewelle, et ecclesiam Prestone, cum decima dominii et piscatoriæ et duabus bovatis terræ et omnibus decimis totius parochiæ, et ecclesiam Kirchehan, et ecclesiam de Mellinges, et ecclesiam Boeltone, cum decima dominii, et medietatem unius caruchæ terræ, et omnibus aliis decimis: dedit etiam Magnum Dernesia Pultona, et quicquid ad eam pertinet, et ecclesiam cum una carucha terræ, et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis.

Præterea dedit decimam venationis et pasnagii omnium nemorum suorum, et decimam suæ piscatoriæ. Concessitque tertium tractum sagenæ sanctæ Mariæ. Insuper dedit decimas pullorum, et vitulorum, et agnorum, et hedorum, et porcorum, et annonæ, et caseorum, et butirorum apud Estaneberiam apud Salfort, et de Derby, et ad Halas, et Ewretonam, et Waletonam, et Crossebeiam, et Molas, et Croftonam, et Prestonam, et Ribi, et Singletonam, et Pressoure, et Mideltonam Overtonam, et Escarton, et Bar, et Stapeturnam, et Asselinas. Hæc omnia dedit ad honorem Dei et sanctæ Mariæ ad victum monachorum qui in eodem monasterio Deo et sanctæ Mariæ officium celebrarent, tam liberaliter quod nulla secularia servicia illi nec suis successoribus monachi nec sui homines aliquo tempore facerent, et nullus suorum super ea potestatem habeat, nec aliquid indè accipiat, nec consuetudines aliquas imponat, quia omnes dignitates et consuetudines quas ipse habuit in sua terra concessit habere monasterio sanctæ Mariæ de Lancastro.

Concessit etiam, si aliquis orationes et beneficium monasterii Lanecastri requirere voluerit, et partem suæ terræ usque ad medietatem ei dederit, comes libentissimè concedit. Et postquam ipse comes concesserit, Godefridus vicecomes hæc audiens dedit decimas de Bischopeham et quicquid habebat in Lancastro, domos, pomerium, et Radulfus Gernet tres homines in Suffolc. Inde testes sunt prædictus comes et filia ejus Sibilla et G. vicecomes et Alb. Gelet, R. filius Roberti, G. Boisell. A. frater ejus, P. de Vileres, Rannmard v. filius Alumæ, Ocui filius Chetel, Ulf filius Torolf, Rananchil filius Raghanald.

Inspeximus etiam cartam Johannis quondam comitis Moritoniæ in hæc verba. Johannes comes Moritoniæ omnibus hominibus, et amicis suis, Francis et Anglicis, salutem. Notum sit vobis omnibus me concessisse, et hac presenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et sancto Martino de Sagio ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ de Lancastre cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus. Et partem terræ illius villæ à veteri muro usque ad pomerium Godefridi et usque ad Prestgate. Et juxta Lancastr. duas mansiones, scilicet Aldeclive et quæque ad eam pertinent, et Neutonam per divisas suas coram me perambulatas; videlicet à rivulo illo qui currit inter villam meam Lancastr. et Hospitale leprosorum sancti Leonardi descendens in Lohon, et usque ad rivulum de Frithbroc qui facit divisas infra forestam meam et nemus de Neutona, quod Rogerus Pictavensis dedit ecclesiæ sanctæ Mariæ de Lancastre, et concessit cum dignitate et cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus quas ipse habebat in terra sua. Et Amfridum de Monte Gomerii et quicquid de eodem Rogero Pictavensi tenuit cum terris, et pratis, et pascuis, et stagnis, et molendinis, et rivulis, et propresturis usque in Lon. Et ecclesiam de Hesheim cum tertia parte totius villæ illius. Et ecclesiam de Cotegrave. Et ecclesiam de Cropil. Et ecclesiam de Wychelay. Et ecclesiam de Chidewell, et ecclesiam de Croftona, et medietatem ecclesiæ de Aicliton, et ecclesiam de Prestona cum decima dominii, et piscariæ, et duabus bovatis terræ, et omnibus decimis totius parochiæ, et ecclesiam de Kircham, et ecclesiam de Mellinges, et ecclesiam de Boultona cum decima dominii, et medietatem unius carucatæ terræ in eadem villa, et omnibus aliis decimis in Almondernesse, etiam Pultonam, et quicquid ad eam pertinet, et ecclesiam cum una carucata terræ, et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis. Præterea decimam venationis, et pasnagii, et omnium novalium nemorum meorum, et terrarum, et decimam piscatoriæ. Tertium etiam tractum sagenæ sanctæ Mariæ.

UNIVERSIS, &c. Henricus abbas Sagii, priori et conventui de Lancastria salutem. Noverit universitas vestra quod nos, jus et clamium quod habuimus in ecclesia de Mellinges, Rogero de Monte-begonis, et hæredibus suis, communi assensu, quietum clamavimus; ita quod nec nos, nec successores nostri adversùs ipsum, vel hæredes suos, vel clericum suum, quæstionem inde movebimus. Et prædictus Rogerus, et hæredes sui, et clerici sui totum jus, et clamium quod habuerunt in capella de Guersingham nobis quietum in perpetuum clamaverunt, et nobis quæstionem nunquam movebunt. Concessit etiam prædictus Rogerus quod quicunque in ecclesia prædicta fuerit institutus, jurabit quod duos solidos ad Pascha, ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Lancastria, pro salute animæ ipsius Rogeri, et antecessorum suorum, annuatim caritativè ad luminare persolvet, et supra præfata capella nobis quæstionem nunquam movebit, et nos de prædicta ecclesia nihil ampliùs quàm prædictos duos solidos exegerimus.

Genealogie des Fondateurs ou Restaurateurs de l'Abbaye de S. Martin de Sees.

D'YUES de Belesme descendit Guillaume de Belesme, du quel descendit Yues de Belesme, evesque de Sees, et Guillaume de Taluas pere de Mabile qui fuit contesse d'Alencon. La quelle le dit Taluas donna a mariage à Roger vicomte de Montgomeri. Desquels Roger et Mabille descendirent cinque fillz, et quatre filles, dunt les noms ensuivent. Robertus, Hugues, Roger, Philippes, et Arnoult. Matilde, Anees, Mabille, et Sibylle. Le dit Roger de Montgomery et Mabille sa femme furent restaurateurs et non les fondateurs de l'abbaye et monastere de S. Martin de Sees, comme il appert par les anciens tiltres et ensegnements de la dit abbaye, &c. De tous les enfans du dit Roger trois seulement ont ausmons quelques choses a la dite abbaye, cestascavoir Robert aisne, Roger et Arnoult.

[Lancastriæ Prioratus.]

Roger donna le prieure de Lancastre en Angleterre come il appert par la chartre du dit Roger, la quelle comence ainsi.

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis. Notum sit omnibus tam posteris quàm præsentibus, quod Rogerius comes cognomine Pictaviensis, anno ab incarnatione Domini MXCIIIJ, pro sua suorumque tam prædecessorum quàm successorum animabus, Domino ac sancto Martino fratribusque in cœnobio Sagiensi et in præsenti et in futuro degentibus, solutè ac quietè imperpetuum ut elemosinam donavit ecclesiam de Lancastre cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus.

Arnoult comte de Pembroch donna a la dite abbaye beaucoup de terres et possessions en son comte de Pembroch, ainsi qu'il est amplement declare par la chartre du dit Arnoult qui comence.

In nomine Patris et Filii et Spiritus Sancti, Amen. Cum multis et frequentibus exemplorum documentis compertum habeatur, omnes hominum actus qui literarum apicibus non mandantur, aut facile à memoria labi, aut in deteriùs depravari. Qualem et quantum Arnulfus, filius Rogerii comitis, vir magnæ probitatis optimique testimonii, erga fratres in cœnobio Sagiensi sub regulari conversatione degentes habuerit amicitiam, omnibus tam posteris quàm præsentibus notum fieri volumus. Anno igitur ab incarnatione Domini MXCVIIJ. indictione vj. cal. Septembris, in capitulo S. Martini Sagii, præsente domino Serlone, ejusdem civitatis episcopo, et domino Radulpho abbate, prædictus vir pro sua suique patris Rogerii, necnon et sui fratris Hugonis comitis, qui eodem anno occisus fuerat, animabus, domino et S. Martino fratribusque in cœnobio Sagiensi tam victuris quàm viventibus inperpetuum solutè et quietè ut elemosinam apud Pembroch quoddam castrum quod in Walis habebat, ecclesiam sancti Nicholai in eodem castro positam, et xx. carucatas terræ, cum omnibus quæ suit homines vel dederant vel daturi prædictæ ecclesiæ erant, donavit.

Robert filz aisne de Roger de Montgomeri eut en son partage les terres deca la mere, tant a cause de son pere que de sa mere, ascavoir Belesme, Alencon, Sees, Berney, et le comte de Montgomery. Il confirma du vivant mesme de son pere toutes les choses que ses pere et mere avoient donnè à la dite abbaie, come il appert per plusieurs chartres signees de son pere et de lui, et principalement par celle qui fait mention de l'election du second abbe du dit monasterie, &c.

Alien Priory of Lodres, in Dorsetshire.

THE manor of Lodres having been given by Benedict or Richard de Redveriis, temp. Hen. I., to the Abbey of Mountsburgh in Normandy, a Cell to that Monastery was established here; Tanner adds, that the abbat of that foreign Monastery, on this account, was a prebendary in the Cathedral Church of Salisbury, and had a house in the Close there. King Richard the Second bestowed this Cell, being then worth 80*l.* per annum, on the Priory of St. Anne near Coventry, during the war between England and France; but 1 Hen. IV. it was restored to its old owners. After the Dissolution of these Houses, temp. Hen. Vth, Lodres was made part of the endowment of Syon Abbey in Middlesex.

More of this Priory will be found in the last Edition of Hutchins's History of Dorset, vol. i. p. 591,[a] where a re he names of four Priors.

Apeldercomb Priory, in the Isle of Wight.

THE manor of Apeldercomb having been given, about the latter end of the reign of King Henry the Third, to the Abbey of St. Mary de Montisburg in Normandy, by Isabella de Fortibus, it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that Monastery, and had the same fate with other Alien Priories, of having its lands seized during the wars with France, and of being dissolved 2 Hen. Vth. After which, in the 30th Hen. VIth, it was given to the Minoresses without Aldgate, and confirmed to them 1st Edw. IVth. Priory of Frampton, in Dorsetshire.

THIS was a Priory of Black Monks, Cell to the Abbey of St. Stephen at Caen in Normandy, to which it was given by King William the Conqueror. During the wars between England and France it was seized with other Alien Priories into the King's hands, and sometimes farmed at one hundred and twenty marks per annum; but upon the suppression of these foreign Houses was given to the Dean and Canons of St. Stephen's, Westminster, as parcel of whose possessions it was granted, 14th Eliz., to Sir Christopher Hatton, who sold it to John Browne, Esq.[b]

Ample details of the History of this House are given in Mr. Gough's Edition of Hutchins's Dorsetshire, vol. i. p. 584. He mentions the following Names and Dates of its PRIORS: William Humez, 1213.[c] Guimund, 1261. Robert. Martin, 25th Edw. I. James de Troarno, 4 id. Nov. 1302. Nich. de Montigny, 24 Nov. 1317. William de Rusca Villa, 29 May, 1329. Laurence de Brioto, 30th Nov. 1335. Nicholas occurs 13th Edw. III. John de Leto, 5th Oct. 1377. Ralph de Nabibus 1st Jan. 1400. These Priors had always institution from the Bishop of Salisbury.

Priory of Swavesey, in Cambridgeshire.

THE Church of St. Andrew at Swavesey, with the tithes thereunto belonging, having been given in the time of William the Conqueror, by Alan le Zouch Earl of Britany, to the Church of St. Sergius and Bachus and St. Briscus at Angiers, it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that Monastery. In 1393, this Priory was conveyed by the Abbat and Convent of St. Sergius and St. Bachus, with the King's permission, to the Carthusian Monks of St. Anne near Coventry, to whom it was confirmed by authority of Parliament in the 6th Hen. IV.[a]

The Site of this Priory, of which there are some small remains on the North side of the Church, was granted with the Priory manor, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, to the bishop of Ely and his successors.

Carta Alani Comitis Britanniæ.

QUONIAM generatio præterit et generatio advenit, hac carta notificare decrevimus qualiter comes Alanus Rufus, divina gratia adminiculante, ecclesiæ Christi martyrum Sergii, Bachi, et sancti Brioci ibidem requiescentium, donavit ecclesiam de Swavesey cum tota sepultura, et totis oblationibus, liberam ab omni exactione et servicio, et consuetudine episcopali, sicut eatenùs habuerant et tenuerant, præter sex denarios ad Pascha pro chrismate. Et quando archidiaconus celebraverit synodum, ibit monachus uno dierum quo voluerit, non propter consuetudinem, sed propter archidiaconi amorem et episcopi honorem, et ut præcepta ecclesiastica audiat. Donavit etiam totas decimas suas de omnibus rebus in Swavesey et in berewichis ad eam pertinentibus; scilicet Bercham, Papeord, sive Papworth, Quenpola sive Wimpoll, Tofte, Bechia, id est de omnibus annonis, vitulis, agnellis, porcellis, lanis, caseis; præter quod presbyteri habent de uno berwicorum unum agrum frumenti et alterum avenæ. Donavit etiam decimam pratorum, et omnium piscariarum suarum, et de omnibus prædantibus piscium. Et donavit duos ortos. Donavit etiam quicquid proprii apud quandam villam habebat quæ Draitona vocatur. Hanc autem elemosynam dedit ipse comes pro anima sua, et pro anima domini sui regis Anglorum Willielmi, et pro anima Mathildis reginæ, cujus auxilio honorem adquisierint, et pro animabus filiorum et filiarum regis, et pro anima patris sui Eudonis comitis, et pro animabus parentum suorum vivorum et mortuorum. Hujus autem gloriosi principis rogatu et amonitione, donaverunt omnes homines in Swavesey Deo et sancto Andreæ, et monachis totas decimas suas de annonis. Hujus elemosinæ sunt testes Guinomarus dapifer, Odo camerarius Guidonis, Ribaldus, et Bardulfus fratres comitis, et Hammus de Doll., qui præcepto comitis obedientiam monachis deliberavit, scilicet Gervasio, Garnerio, et Waltero. Concessit etiam idem comes apud Rovecestriam Yvoni monacho pascua sua in Swavesey bestiis monachorum per omnia sicut propriis bestiis. Testes Guinomarus dapifer, Odo camerarius, Harf. . . . . de sancto Jacobo, Ogerius filius Guidomari, Guidomarus famulus monachorum, Hamo de Doll. Arquitellus de Furnellis, et multi alii.

Priory of Blakenham, in Suffolk.

TANNER calls this House Great Blakenham, or Blakenham super Aquas. He says, "Walter Giffard earl of Buckingham, temp. R. Will. Rufi, gave this manor to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy, to which it became a distinct Alien Priory; though it is sometimes reckoned as parcel of the Priory of Okeburn in Wiltshire, or of Ruselip in Middlesex, both which were subordinate to that great foreign Abbey. After the Dissolution of the Alien Priories, King Henry the Sixth, anno regni 19, gave this to the Provost and Fellows of Eton College, and King Edward the Fourth confirmed it to them."[a]

Priory of Cogges, in Oxfordshire.

TANNER calls this an Alien Priory of Black Monks to the Abbey of the Holy Trinity at Fiscamp in Normandy, who, he says, seem to have been placed here by the ancestors of Manasser de Arsic, lord of the barony of this place, who confirmed the old, and added some new donations in the years 1103 and 1107.

The possessions of the Monks of Cogges were not much improved at any subsequent time; their revenues were seized in common with the other Alien Priories during the wars with France; and when the foreign Cells were finally dissolved, Cogges was given by King Henry the Sixth toward the endowment of his College of Eton, to which also it was granted 1st Edward IVth.

The following Names of PRIORS of this HOUSE occur in the Registers of the See of Lincoln: HUGH; JOHN DE LONDON, 1227; ELERIUS, 15 kal. Jun. 1237; GERVASE, 1248; WILLIAM DE ESMERVILLE, 1251; HUGH; WILLIAM DE BARBEYN, 4 id. Jul. 1262; HUGH, 1277; STEPHEN DE ALBA MALLA; MATTHEW DE PONTE, 1291; ROGER LE HARDY, 1299; VIGOR, 1302: WILLIAM DE LIMPEVILLA, 1303; RANULPH LE FRISON, 1331; WILLIAM HAMON, 1341.

Tanner has various References to Records concerning this House.[a]

The Church of Cogges, which is still remaining, is small; but no other relic of the Priory exists.

Carta Willielmi de Bray de Redditu trium solidorum, &c. Monialibus de Westwood concesso.

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Willielmus de Bray, consilio et assensu hæredum meorum, dedi et concessi in perpetuam elemosinam, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et sanctæ Mariæ, et monialibus de Westwood ibidem Deo servientibus, cum filia mea Amabilia, servitium dimidiæ hidæ terræ, quam tenui de Hospitalariis in Pidele; reddendo eis annuatim duos solidos ad duos terminos, scilicet duodecim denarios ad Pascha, et duodecim denarios ad festum sancti Michaelis. Iidem Hospitalarii eandem dimidiam hidam terræ de Helia de Pedele tenuerunt, et servitium unius virgatæ terræ quam Henricus Luvet de me tenuit, reddendo annuatim tres solidos ad duos terminos, scilicet, decem et octo denarios ad Pascha, et decem et octo denarios ad festum sancti Michaelis. Præterea concessi eis quoddam cotagium quod Rogerus Lestur de me tenuit, cum quatuor acris terræ, duabus scilicet in uno campo et duabus in alio campo, cum prato pertinente, reddendo annuatim Heliæ de Pidele et de prædicta virgata terræ et de præfato cotagio unam libram cimini ad Natale Domini. Quare volo ut prædictæ moniales prædictas terras et servitia earum liberè et quietè et integrè habeant, et quicquid indè pertinet ad me, vel ad hæredes meos poterit pertinere, faciendo prædictis dominis servitia prædictis terris pertinentia. Et ego et hæredes mei hanc donationem contra omnes homines warantizabimus, et si fortè servitia prædictarum terrarum præfatis monialibus warantizare non poterimus de propria hæreditate mea escambiabimus. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. VIII.

Conventio inter Moniales de Westwood et Henricum Lovet.

[Ibid.]

Hæc est conventio facta inter domum de Westwood et Henricum Luvet, quod Henricus Luvet relaxavit eidem domui de ipso et de hæredibus suis quatuor solidos redditus in unam mittam salis in Wichio, et forinsecum quod ipsa domus debuit eidem Henrico de molendino quod vocatur Bierhalla, et de dimidia virgata terræ quæ appellatur Eppelour: et ipsa domus de Westwood relaxavit eidem Henrico et hæredibus suis tenementum suum quod habebat in Pidele. Reddendo singulis annis eidem domui per manum Eustachii de Edbriton, vel per manum illius qui tenementum illud post decessum suum tenebit, sexdecim denarios ad festum sancti Michaelis. Et ipsa domus warantizabit hanc conventionem eidem Henrico et hæredibus suis contra omnes homines et fœminas. Et idem Henricus et hæredes sui[a] simpliciter illam conventionem eidem domui warantizabunt. Quod ut ratum sit et stabile sigillorum suorum appositione roboraverunt. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. IX.

Carta Willielmi filii Alewy de Wych, de Redditu trium solidorum Monialibus de Westwood concesso.

[Ibid.]

Noverint omnes sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filii, quod ego Willielmus, filius Alewy de Wych, dedi et concessi et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Westewood, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, tres solidatas redditus in Estwood, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, de una dimidia virgata terræ A la Broke, quam Ricardus filius Ailwyn Dun tenuit de me, quæ etiam est de feodo Thomæ le Mey. Percipient etiam dicti ecclesia beatæ Mariæ de Westwood et conventus monialium dictum redditum à domino Ricardo, filio Ailwyni Dun, et de hæredibus suis, annuatim ad quatuor anni terminos, videlicet, ad festum sancti Michaelis novem denarios, ad festum sancti Andreæ novem denarios, ad Annunciationem beatæ Mariæ novem denarios, et ad Nativitatem sancti Johannis Baptistæ novem denarios. Habendum et tenendum prædictum tenementum, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis dictis ecclesiæ et conventui, liberè et quietè, pacificè et honorificè, integrè imperpetuum, reddendo indè annuatim capitali domino unum clavium Gilorosi ad festum sancti Michaelis pro omni servitio, exactione, querela, et demanda. Prædictum autem tenementum, cum omnibus pertinentiis, ego Willielmus et mei assignati warantizabimus prædictis ecclesiæ et conventui contra omnes homines et fœminas imperpetuum. Et ut hæc mea donatio, concessio, et warantizatio perpetuæ firmitatis robur optineant, præsentem cartam sigilli mei appositione munivi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. X.

Carta Ceciliæ de Turberville, de Terra sua in Kyndone Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid. fol. 4.]

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Cecilia de Turbervilla, concessu et assensu Walteri filii mei et cæterorum filiorum meorum, dedi et concessi in perpetuam elemosinam Deo et beatæ Mariæ Virgini et monialibus de Westwod de Fonte Ebraldi, pro salute animæ domini Willielmi de Turberville, et animæ meæ et antecessorum meorum, terram meam de Kindone, cum pertinentiis suis, quam dominus Hugo de Arderne dedit domino meo Willielmo et mihi in franco mariagio, liberè et quietè ab omni servitio, salvo jure domini fundi, scilicet reddendo annuatim Thomæ de Arderne et hæredibus suis sori nisum sive xii. denarios ad festum sancti Petri in Augusto. Et ut hæc mea donatio et concessio rata et inconcussa habeatur, sigilli mei impressione eam roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XI.

Confirmatio ejusdem Concessionis per Thomam de Arderne.

[Ibid.]

Omnibus Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens carta pervenerit, Thomas de Hardenlia salutem in vero Salutari. Noverit universitas vestra, quod ego inspexi et confirmavi cartam Ceciliæ de Turberville in hæc verba:

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Cecilia de Turberville, &c. (Sicut superius).

Quare volui, assensu uxoris meæ Aaliz et hæredum meorum, concessi, et confirmavi, ut moniales de Westwood, de ordine Fontis Ebraldi habeant et teneant prædictam donationem et concessionem de terra de Kyndone, quam fecit eis Cecilia de Turbervile, concessu et assensu Walteri filii sui et cæterorum filiorum ejus, de me et de hæredibus meis, liberè, et quietè, et honorificè, et sine gravamine, in perpetuam et liberam elemosinam, indè reddendo mihi et hæredibus meis annuatim xii. denarios ad festum sancti Petri in Augusto. Hanc concessionem et confirmationem ego et hæredes mei warantizabimus contra omnes homines. Et ut hæc mea concessio et confirmatio inposterum rata et inconcussa habeatur, hac præsenti carta mea et sigilli mei appositione eam roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XII.

Carta Rogeri de Lenz, de una Virgata Terræ et una Crofta Monialibus de Westwood concessis.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Rogerus de Lenz, consensu et assensu uxoris meæ et hæredum meorum, dedi et concessi, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et beatæ Mariæ et conventui de Westwood ibidem Deo servienti, unam virgatam terræ, cum una crofta in villa de Willingwich, scilicet illam virgatam terræ et croftam quas Willielmus filius Turkil et Rogerius filius Gorulf tenuerunt, et eos, cum omni sequela eorum, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, pro anima mea et uxoris meæ et hæredum meorum et animabus antecessorum meorum et successorum; habendum et tenendum de me et de hæredibus meis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè, quietè, honorificè, in bono et in pace, in omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus et communiis, absque omni servitio seculari et exactione et consuetudine, et insuper de servitio regali. Hanc verò donationem et concessionem meam ego Rogerus et hæredes mei warantizabimus et acquietabimus prædicto conventui contra omnes gentes in perpetuum. Et si warantizare non poterimus, nos ei ad valentiam prædictæ in eadem villa excambiam competentem faciemus. Ut autem hæc mea donatio, concessio, et confirmatio perpetuam obtineat firmitatem præsentem cartam sigilli mei appositione confirmavi. Hiis testibus, &c.

Carta Matildis de Hointone, de Servitio et Homagio Terrarum Monialibus de Westwood concessis.

[Ibid.]

UNIVERSIS Christi fidelibus hoc scriptum visuris et audituris, Matildis de Hointone, filia Willielmi Vavasur, salutem in Domino, qui est salus omnium. Noverit universitas vestra, nos divinæ caritatis intuitu, pro anima nostra et animabus antecessorum nostrorum, concessisse, et hac præsenti carta nostra confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, totum illud servitium cum homagio quod Rogerus clericus, filius Willielmi, nobis debuit et reddere consuevit, de quibusdam terris in Hodintone, sicut in carta nostra continetur, videlicet, de terra quam Reginaldus filius Ingulfi tenuit, cum messuagio et aliis pertinentiis, et de terra quam Willielmus Geldewin tenuit, cum messuagio et suis pertinentiis, et de tota terra quam Frewinus tenuit cum pertinentiis extra messuagia, et de duabus cotlandis cum pertinentiis quæ Rodericus et Philippus tenuerunt, et de uno assarto quod dicitur Pirithurne de Lega usque Lombhale, et de toto assarto inter Hocsetof et Chammesling sub Wadleng, et de pratis et omnibus parcellis, sicut per cartam prædicti Rogeri quam de nobis habet divisum est. Habendum et tenendum in perpetuam et puram elemosinam honorificè, liberè, quietè ab omnibus. Et ut hæc donatio et concessio nostra firma et stabilis permaneat, præsentem cartam sigilli nostri munimine confirmavimus. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XIV.

Carta Rogeri de Hodinton, de quinque Solidatis Redditus Monialibus de Westwood concessis.

[Ibid.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Rogerus de Hodinton dedi et concessi et præsenti carta mea confirmavi et quietè clamavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, totum illud servitium quod Willielmus capellanus de Malvetina mihi debuit de terra quam de me tenuit in Hodinton, videlicet, quinque solidos redditus cum pertinentiis; habendos et tenendos dictos quinque solidos percepturos annuatim de prædicto Willielmo capellano, et de suis assignatis, liberè, quietè, integrè, benè, et in pace; videlicet, ad festum sancti Michaelis quindecim denarios, et ad festum sancti Andreæ quindecim denarios, et ad festum beatæ Mariæ in Marcio quindecim denarios, et ad Nativitatem sancti Johannis Baptistæ quindecim denarios. Et pro hac donatione et concessione et quieta clamatione . . . . et conventus de Westwood dedit mihi quatuor marcas argenti et quatuor solidos in gersumam. Et hanc donationem et concessionem meam, et quietam clamantiam, ego Rogerus . . . . dederunt, sicut cartæ prædictarum sanctimonialium quas indè habent testantur. Quare volo quod supradictæ sanctimoniales habeant et teneant omnia tenementa sua de Westwood, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut meliùs et liberiùs unquam tenuerunt, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam; et quicquid ad me vel hæredes meos pertinet vel pertinere poterit possideant et teneant liberè et quietè, integrè et plenariè, pacificè et honorificè, cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus suis, absque omni servitio et consuetudine et exactione seculari, juxta tenorem prædictarum cartarum quas indè habent de antecessoribus meis. Et ut hæc nostra donatio futuris temporibus rata et illibata permaneat præsenti eam scripto et sigilli mei patrocinio roboravimus. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XV.

Quieta Clamatio Willielmi de Stotevill, de una Moniali in Domo de Westwood.

[Ibid.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Willielmus de Stotevilla quietè clamavi quandam demandam Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, videlicet, quod datum fuit mihi intelligi quod ego et hæredes mei habere deberemus de debito unam monialem semper in eadem domo, quod verò percepi per cartam quam habent in prædicta domo de antecessore meo domino Hugone de Say, quod nullam de debito monialem facere debeant mihi vel hæredibus meis. Quare volo de cætero, quod prædicta domus soluta et quieta sit de me et de hæredibus meis de tali exactione et demanda. Et ut hæc quieta clamatio perpetuam optineat firmitatem præsens scriptum sigilli mei appositione confirmavi. His testibus, &c.

Est et alia consimilis carta Margaretæ de Say, de quieta clamatione ejusdem demandæ, et verbatim sicut carta Willielmi de Stuteville.

NUM. XVI.

Carta Willielmi de Stuteville, de Bosco de Westwood et Terris Monialibus de Westwood concessis.

[Ibid.]

UNIVERSIS Christi fidelibus præsens scriptum visuris vel audituris, Willielmus de Stutevilla salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me vidisse et audivisse cartam bonæ memoriæ Osberti filii Hugonis fundatoris ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et monialium ibidem Deo servientium, quam fecit dictæ ecclesiæ et dictis monialibus, de bosco de Westwood et terris circa boscum, cum omnibus pertinentiis, in pratis, pascuis, et pasturis, et aliis; et de terra de . . . . . struch, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, sine ullo retenemento; et cartas Hugonis de Say, Roberti scilicet de Mortuo Mari et Margaretæ de Say, antecessorum meorum, quas fecerunt dictæ ecclesiæ et monialibus, secundùm tenorem cartæ prædicti Osberti filii Hugonis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Ego autem dictas cartas et quicquid in eis continetur stabilitum habens et ratum, et pro salute animæ meæ et pro salute animæ Margaretæ priùs dictæ, quondam uxoris meæ, præsenti scripto confirmavi in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Et quicquid ad me vel ad successores meos pertinet vel pertinere poterit in dicto bosco de Westwood, et hominibus dictarum monialium, in omnibus et de omnibus, quietum clamavi in perpetuum. In hujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum meum apposui. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XVII.

De Ecclesia de Wiche Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid.]

PHILIPPUS Flandriæ et Unom. comes reverendo patri venerabili episcopo Wigorniensi, omnibusque ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, tam futuris quàm præsentibus, salutem. Volo vos scire, quod frater meus Mathæus comes sanctimonialibus de Fonte Ebraude dedit et concessit ecclesiam sancti Nicholai de Wicheio, liberè possidendam et quietè, quod donum ego concedo et confirmo pro salute animæ meæ et suæ; hoc autem ut ratum habeatur et inconcussum præsentem paginam sigilli mei munimine feci corroborari.

NUM. XVIII.

Carta Idæ Comitissæ Boloniæ, de eadem Ecclesia.

[Ibid.]

EGO Ida Boloniæ comitissa, hujus attestatione scripti, præsentibus et posteris notifico, quod, pro salute animæ meæ et animarum antecessorum meorum, capellam sancti Nicholai de Wicheio, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, Deo et ecclesiæ Fontis Ebraldi et conventui de Westwood dedi et concessi, in perpetuam elemosinam, quietè et pacificè possidendam, sicut pater meus Mathæus comes Boloniæ eam eidem conventui, pro remedio animæ suæ et animarum prædecessorum suorum, in perpetuum concessit habendam. Hanc donationem meam et patris mei Philippus Flandriæ comes, avunculus meus, literarum suarum attestatione et sigilli sui impressione roboravit, quod ut ratum in perpetuum teneatur et inconcussum præsentem paginam sigilli mei munimine consignavi et confirmavi. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XIX.

Resignatio ejusdem Capellæ per Magistrum Pharicium Capellanum.

[Ibid.]

SCIANT tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego magister Pharicius, ad petitionem . . . . . dominæ meæ Idæ comitissæ Boloniæ, assensu et consilio domini Willielmi episcopi Wigorniensis, capellam sancti Nicholai in Wichio, quam habui et tenui ex dono domini mei Mathæi comitis Boloniæ patris prædictæ comitissæ, resignavi in manu ejusdem episcopi, ad sustentationem monialium de Westwood; quam capellam jam dicta comitissa, intuitu karitatis, et pro salute animæ patris sui et omnium antecessorum suorum, ad petitionem dilectæ materteræ suæ M. abbatissæ Fontis Ebraldi, dedit et concessit et confirmavit Deo et ecclesiæ Fontis Ebraldi et conventui de Westwod, habendam et tenendam in puram et perpetuam elemosinam; similiter terram quam ego et antecessores mei, personæ prædictæ semper nomine capellæ, ad sustentationem servitii capellæ, tenuimus concessione et voluntate antecessorum prænominatæ comitissæ, in manu prioris et priorissæ ejusdem domus resignavi et quietum clamavi ad opus conventus; et etiam si quid juris in eadem terra habui, vel habere debui, vel habere potui, totum eis pro salute animæ meæ dedi et concessi, et in puram et perpetuam elemosinam confirmavi, coram domino Willielmo Wigorniensi episcopo, salvo tamen annuo redditu quatuor solidorum ad festum sancti Michaelis, quem pro omni exactione et seculari servitio comitissæ Boloniæ et hæredibus suis persolvent; et ne resignatio ista, donatio, et concessio ab aliquo possit in posterum revocari in irritum, consilio vel suggestione mei vel meorum, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione communivi. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XX.

Carta Roberti Caverugge, de Terrâ de Caverugge Monialibus de Westwood concessâ.

[Ibid.]

Universis Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens carta pervenerit Robertus . . . . . . de Caverugge salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, quod ego Robertus de Caverugge, assensu hæredum meorum, dedi et concessi monialibus de Westwod, in perpetuam elemosinam, totam terram meam hæreditatem meam de Caverugge, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, cum meipso et liberis meis, quietè et liberè ab omni servitio, salvo servitio domini feudi, scilicet quinque solidis reddendis ad festum sancti Michaelis. Et ut hæc mea donatio maneat inconcussa, sigilli mei impressione eam roboravi. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XXI.

[Ibid. fol. 6.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Reginaldus de Benhale . . . . ., assensu hæredum meorum, dedi et concessi monialibus de Westwod, in perpetuam elemosinam, hæreditatem meam de Caverugge, cum pertinentiis suis, quam Robertus antecessor meus tenuit, omni clamatione mea et hæredum meorum remota, liberè et quietè ab omni servitio, salvo servitio domini feudi, scilicet, quinque solidis solvendis ad festum sancti Michaelis; hac inspectione ut præfatæ moniales filiam meam suscipiant in monialem. Et ut hæc mea donatio rata et firma permaneat sigilli mei appositione confirmavi. His testibus, &c.

Willielmus de Benhale hanc donationem similiter carta sua confirmavit, sub eadem conditione, scilicet quod moniales neptem suam filiam supradicti Roberti monialem susciperent.

NUM. XXII.

Carta Idæ Comitissæ Boloniæ, de Capella Sancti Nicholai de Wichio.

[Ibid.]

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Ida comitissa Boloniæ, pro salute animæ meæ et omnium antecessorum meorum, dedi et concessi capellam sancti Nicholai de Wichio, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, Deo et beatæ Mariæ et ecclesiæ Fontis Ebraldi, et conventui pauperum clarissimarum monialium de Westwood, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè et quietè et pacificè habendam et possidendam. Præterea ad petitionem dominæ M. abbatissæ prædictæ ecclesiæ Fontis Ebraldi, karissimæ materteræ meæ, dedi et concessi Deo et beatæ Mariæ Fontis Ebraldi, ad sustentationem præfati conventus de Westwod, pro salute animæ patris mei Mathæi comitis Boloniæ, terram quam magister Pharicius persona supradictæ capellæ et prædecessores sui personæ ejusdem capellæ tenuerunt de dominio meo in Wichio in liberam, quietam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, annuatim solvendo mihi et hæredibus meis iv. solidos pro omni seculari servitio et exactione. Insuper concessi et confirmavi prænominato conventui totam terram de Kaverugge quam Robertus de Kaverugge eis dedit, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut cartæ ejusdem R. et hæredum suorum quas indè habent testantur, liberè et quietè de me et de hæredibus meis, tenendam et habendam, solvendo indè mihi et hæredibus meis ad festum sancti Michaelis quinque solidos pro omni exactione et seculari servitio. Ut hæc autem mea donatio et concessio et confirmatio rata et inconcussa habeatur in posterum, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XXIII.

Carta Nicholai de Wych, de Terra infra et extra Villam de Wych Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid.]

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Nicholaus filius Willielmi dedi et concessi totam terram meam de Wichio, extra villam et infra, scilicet illam quam habui in curiâ domini regis per cirographum finalis concordiæ coram domino rege et justiciariis suis, de dono priorissæ de Westwod et conventus ejusdem loci, de feudo de Bampton, pro anima mea et anima patris et matris meæ et antecessorum meorum, beatæ Mariæ et sanctis monialibus de Westwod de ordine Fontis Ebraldi ibidem Deo servientibus; habendam et tenendam in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè et quietè, absque omni seculari servitio et exactione ad me et ad hæredes meos pertinente. Et ut hæc donatio rata et illibata permaneat, sigilli mei impositione corroboravi. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XXIV.

Carta Henrici filii Willielmi, de Prato de Mudham Monialibus de Westwood concesso.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Henricus filius Willielmi dedi et concessi Deo et beatæ Mariæ et monialibus de Westwood quoddam pratum meum de Mudham, quod magister Favilius tenuit, habendum et tenendum de me et hæredibus meis liberè et quietè, benè et in pace, in perpetuam elemosinam, reddendo indè annuatim mihi et hæredibus meis tres denarios ad duos anni terminos, scilicet ad festum sancti Michaelis tres obolos, et ad festum sanctæ Mariæ in Marcio tres obolos, pro omni servitio, exactione, querela, et demanda. Et ego Henricus et hæredes mei warantizabimus dictum pratum dictis monialibus de Westwood per prædictum servitium contra omnes homines et fœminas in perpetuum. Et ut hæc mea donatio et concessio et warantizatio perpetuæ firmitatis robur optineat, eam præsenti carta mea et sigilli mei impressione confirmavi. His testibus, &c.

Carta Willielmi Capellani de Wichio, de Terrâ in Wich et Sale Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid.]

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Willielmus capellanus de Wichio, filius Edrici Senne, salutem. Sciatis me dedisse et concessisse et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse, assensu et consensu hæredum meorum, Deo et beatæ Mariæ et sanctimonialibus de Westwod ibidem Deo servientibus, terram quam Edricus Senne pater meus tenuit, quæ jacet infra terram Aldredi filii Geraldi et infra terram Heliæ Nud in foro de Wichio, et unam dalam salsæ ad prædictam terram pertinentem, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute animæ meæ et hæredum meorum, liberè et quietè, integrè et plenariè, pacificè et honorificè, absque omni servitio seculari, salvo servitio domini de Claverleiâ, reddendo mihi annuatim duos solidos et sex denarios, et unam mittam salis domino de Cleverleia, pro omni servitio seculari, ad duos terminos, scilicet ad festum sancti Michaelis quindecim denarios et unam mittam salis, et ad festum sanctæ Mariæ in Marcio quindecim denarios. Ego verò et hæredes mei hanc prædictam terram et prædictam dalam salsæ contra omnes homines et fœminas præfatis monialibus warantizabimus. Et ut hæc mea donatio et confirmatio semper rata et stabilis permaneat, eam præsenti carta et sigilli mei impressione corroboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XXXVII.

Carta Aliciæ filiæ Roberti Senne de Wichio, de uno Messuagio Monialibus de Westwood concesso.

[Ibid.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Alicia filia Roberti Senne de Wichio, assensu et voluntate hæredum meorum, dedi et concessi et hac præsenti carta confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwod, et monialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, totum messuagium illud, cum pertinentiis, quod est contra ecclesiam beati Andreæ de Wichio, quod recuperavi ut jus meum coram justiciariis domini regis apud Wigorniam, et unam dalam salsæ ad prædictum messuagium pertinentem, habendum et tenendum in perpetuum liberè et quietè, benè et in pace, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, salvis triginta denariis et una mitta salis, solvendis domino de Claverleia ad duos anni terminos, videlicet ad festum sancti Michaelis quindecim denarios et unam mittam salis, et ad festum sanctæ Mariæ in Marcio quindecim denarios, pro omni servitio et seculari exactione. Et ego Alicia et hæredes mei omnia prædicta, sicut prædictum est, contra omnes homines et fœminas warantizabimus in perpetuum. Et ut hæc mea donatio et libera concessio perpetuæ firmitatis robur optineat in perpetuum, præsens scriptum sigilli mei impressione munivi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XXXVIII.

Carta Stephani de Elmbrug, de Terra in Wichio Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Stephanus de Elmbrugo, filius Inardi, dedi et concessi et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ de Westwod, et monialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, totam terram illam in Wichio Ruinestrete, illam scilicet quam Johannes Louverun de me tenuit et quietam mihi clamavit, et cartas quas indè habuit coram hundredo de Wich mihi resignavit. Hanc itaque terram dedi et concessi, pro salute animæ meæ, prædictis monialibus, tenendam et habendam in liberam et puram et perpetuam elemosinam in perpetuum de me et de hæredibus meis, reddendo mihi et hæredibus meis semper uno anno unam libram cimini, et altero anno unam libram piperis, in festivitate sancti Michaelis, pro omni servitio et exactione. Pro hac autem concessione mea et donatione dederunt mihi moniales præfatæ duos bisancios de introitu. Et ut hæc mea donatio futuris temporibus firma permaneat, eam præsentis scripti testimonio cum sigilli mei impressione confirmavi, &c.

Carta Willielmi filii Aldredi Fikemon, de Redditu quatuor Denariorum Monialibus de Westwood concesso. N. de Ambr. tunc Prior adquisivit.

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Willielmus filius Aldredi Fikemon dedi et concessi et hac præsenti carta confirmavi Deo et ecclesia beatæ Mariæ de Westwod, et monialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, pro anima mea et pro anima patris mei et omnium antecessorum meorum, quatuor denarios annui redditus percipiendos de messuagio meo quod fuit prædicti Aldredi Fikemon patris mei, quod est de feudo Ricardi Pancefot, ad duos terminos anni, scilicet ad festum sancti Michaelis duos denarios, et ad festum beatæ Mariæ in Marcio duos denarios, habendum et tenendum de me et hæredibus meis liberè et quietè, benè et in pace ab omni seculari exactione et demanda, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Concessi etiam pro me et hæredibus meis, quod prædictæ moniales vel eorum ballivi possint sine contradictione prædictum messuagium distringere, si ad prædictos terminos prædictum redditum non habuerint. Et ego dictus Willielmus et hæredes mei prædictum redditum, sicut prædictum est, contra omnes homines et fœminas warantizabimus. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XLI.

[Ibid. fol. 9.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Willielmus Haketh dedi et concessi monialibus de Westwod in perpetuum quandam acram prati quam habui in Brademed, cum quinque buttis prædictæ acræ adjacentibus, tenendam de me et hæredibus meis liberè et quietè ab omni servitio et exactione, reddendo mihi et hæredibus meis annuatim duodecim denarios in Annunciatione sanctæ Mariæ; et ad hanc donationem meam confirmandam prædictæ moniales dederunt mihi octo solidos. Et ut mea donatio rata sit et inconcussa, sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XLII.

Carta Radulphi Haket, de una Dala Salsæ cum Salina, &c., Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Radulphus Haket dedi et concessi et hac presenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwod, et monialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, unam dalam salsæ, cum salina et loco lignario, et cum omnibus ad prædictam dalam pertinentibus, tenendam de me et hæredibus meis in perpetuum liberè et quietè, solvendo mihi et hæredibus meis singulis annis ad festum sancti Andreæ tres solidos et unam mittam salis. Et pro hac donatione mea et concessione prior et conventus prædictæ ecclesiæ de Westwood dederunt mihi unam marcam argenti. Et ut hæc mea donatio rata et in perpetuum firma permaneat, sigilli mei appositione eam roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XLIII.

Carta Radulphi Haket, Donationem Patris sui de Acra Prati Monialibus de Westwood concessa confirmans.

[Ibid.]

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Radulphus Haketh concessi et hac carta mea confirmavi donationem patris mei Willielmi Haketh, in perpetuam elemosinam, Deo et beatæ Mariæ et monialibus de Westwode factam, videlicet unam acram prati in Brademede cum septem buttis terræ prædicto prato adjacentibus, tenendam de me et de hæredibus meis in perpetuum liberè et quietè ab omni servitio seculari, reddendo mihi et hæredibus meis singulis annis duodecim denarios, scilicet ad festum beatæ Mariæ in Marcio. Et pro hac concessione mea et donatione patris mei confirmanda, prædictæ moniales dederunt mihi unam marcham argenti. Præterea concessi eisdem monialibus sex seliones terræ infra fossatum de Guerston, quod ad ecclesiam illarum sancti Nicholai de Wichio spectare dinoscuntur, et pro anima patris mei calumpniam meam de eadem terra quietè clamavi, cum omnibus liberis elemosinis prædictæ ecclesiæ ab antecessoribus meis concessis et datis. Debeo etiam et volo, tam donationem patris mei de septem buttis terræ, et de acra prati, et de sex selionibus, quàm elemosinam ab antecessoribus meis sæpedictæ ecclesiæ in perpetuam elemosinam datas, pro toto rationabili posse warantizare, manutenere, et protegere. Et ut hæc concessio mea rata et inconcussa in posterum permaneat, sigilli mei appositione eam roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XLIV.

Carta Adæ filii Adæ Luverun de Wichio, de annuo Redditu duodecim Denariorum Monialibus de Westwood concesso.

[Ibid.]

Priory of Welles, or Well Hall, in Geyton, in Norfolk.

THE manor of Welles with the advowson of the church of Geyton, being given to the Abbey of St. Stephen near Caen in Normandy, by William de Streis, Escoeis, Estois, or Scoceis, (temp. Will. Conq.) here was fixed an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks from that foreign House; which, upon the wars with France, being seized into the King's hands, was granted, 47 Edw. III. to Hugh Fastolf; 22 Ric. II. to John Devereux for life; and 3 Hen. V. to John Wodehouse and John Ikelyngton; but King Edward IVth gave it to the Dean and Canons of St. Stephen's, Westminster, who enjoyed it till the general Dissolution; and then it was granted, 2 Edw. VI., to Osbert Mundeford and Thomas Gawdy. It has since by exchange become part of the possessions of the Bishoprick of Ely.[a]

De Custodia Prioratus de Paunfeld et Welles.

[Ibid.]

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Sciatis quod per manucaptionem Roberti Caly de comitatu Norfolciæ et Egidii de Wennok de comitatu Salopiæ, commisimus dilecto nobis Hugoni Fastolf custodiam prioratus de Paunfeld et Wells alienigenæ, et omnium possessionum eidem spectantium. Habend. a festo sancti Michaelis ultimo præterito quamdiu guerra inter nos et illos de Francia mota duraverit. Reddendo inde nobis per annum quadraginta libras ad scaccaria Paschæ et sancti Michaelis per æquales portiones. Et solvendo cuidam monacho ibidem existenti decem libras per annum, ad festa prædicta, pro sustentatione sua. Cell of Burne, or Patricksburne, in Kent.

TANNER calls this Cell Burne, or Patricksbourn. He says, The manor being given, about A.D. 1200, by John de Pratellis to his new erected Priory of Beaulieu in Normandy,[a] here were placed some Austin Canons, as a Cell to that foreign Monastery, who had leave to alienate it to the Priory of Merton in Surrey, 1 Hen. IV.,[b] and as parcel of this last-mentioned House, it was granted, 4th Edw. VI., to Sir Thomas Cheiney.[c]

Inquisitio.

[Escaet. de Ad quod dampnum, 6 Edw. III. n. 48.]

Inquisitio capta apud Cantuariam coram Willielmo de North, escaetore domini regis in comitatibus Kanciæ, &c. die Martis proxima post festum sancti Nicolai anno regni regis Edwardi tertii à conquestu sexto, virtute brevis domini regis huic inquisitioni consuti, per sacramentum Thomæ de Greneham, &c. Qui dicunt super sacramentum suum, quod dominus rex nunc, nec aliquis progenitorum suorum tempore vacationis prioratus de Belloloco in Normania, custodiam de manerio ipsius prioris de Patrickesborne, nec de aliis terris et tenementis ad prædictum prioratum quoquomodo spectantibus in comitatu Kanciæ prædicto, non habuerunt, exitus nec proficua aliqua inde provenientia perceperunt, nec inde in aliquo, aliquibus temporibus retroactis, intromisit; nec quod priores dicti loci fidelitates domino regi nunc seu progenitoribus suis, hactenus fecerunt. Et dicunt quod quidam Johannes de Pratellis, qui prædictum manerium quondam tenuit de rege in capite, ut de hæreditate uxoris suæ, dedit manerium prædictum priori, et conventui ejusdem loci, tenendum in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Quam quidem donationem dominus Johannes rex confirmavit per cartam suam. Et dicunt quod dominium dicti manerii, post mortem uxoris ejusdem Johannis de Pratellis descendebat antecessoribus Galfridi de Say, et sic dictus prior tenet de dicto Galfrido de Say, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, et reddendo pro ipso Galfrido, ad castrum Roffense, singulis annis xij. solidos in festo sancti Andreæ. In cujus rei testimonium huic inquisitioni prædicti juratores sigilla sua apposuerunt die et anno supradictis.

Priory of Stoke Curcy, in Somersetshire.

TANNER says, The Church of St. Andrew here, and several other lands and tithes hereabouts, being given to the Abbey of L'onley or Lolley, in Normandy, temp. R. Hen. II., a Prior and Convent of Benedictine Monks were sent from thence to settle as a Cell to that foreign House, which continued till the suppression of Alien Priories, and then was given by King Henry the Sixth to his College at Eton. It was accounted worth 58*l.* per annum, in the valuation taken of the lands belonging to Eton College, 26 Hen. VIII. Dugdale, both in the former edition of this Work, and in his Baronage, places this House in Devonshire.[d] Cole, in his MS. Volume xxvii. fol. 105 b, places it in Yorkshire.

[Recorda de termino S. Mich. 6 Hen. IV. Vide Esc. 49 Edw. III. part. 2, n. 4.]

INTER alia compertum est, quod dictus Richardus prior informavit curiam, et exhibuit curiæ quendam rotulum, factum et compilatum de diversis munimentis, dicto prioratui de Stokecursy, à diversis dominis datis, et concessis: in quo quidem rotulo, inter alia, continetur; videlicet, Hugo de Novilla concessit, et confirmavit Deo, et monachis de Stokecursy ecclesiam sancti Andreæ de Stokecurcy, cum tota terra quæ eidem ecclesiæ pertinet, et cum tota decima parochiæ, et cum omnibus decimis omnium rerum quas ibidem possedit, etiam cum decima totius gabuli terræ suæ, quam aqua quæ dicitur Perhed ab oriente secludit, videlicet de Stoke cum pertinentiis, et de la Radewey, et Wyton, et totam decimam ejusdem villæ de Stokecurcy, equarum, et pecudum; et duas partes decimæ de Wiletone, et duas partes decimæ de Lullingstok, et totam decimam de Thienton. Concedit etiam pastum pecoribus ipsorum in omni loco ubi sua fuerint pecora, et ligna usui eorum necessaria, in silva quæ dicitur Cantok, et capellationem domus suæ, dum in villa fuerit; et ecclesiam de Wytone, et molendinum novum, et decimam columbarum de columbariis suis de Stokecurcy, et omnes possessiones suas, quibus dictos monachos tempore suo invenit seisitos, in manerio prædicto. Habend. et tenend. in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam, et quietam ab omni seculari servitio et exactione. Et quod Willielmus de Curcy, dapifer domini regis Angliæ, concessit, et scripto suo confirmavit, ecclesiæ sancti Andreæ de Stokes, et monachis in eadem ecclesia Deo servientibus, unam hidam terræ, cum tota decima parochiæ, et cum omnibus decimis omnium rerum quas ibi possidet, et totam decimam ejusdem villæ, scilicet, equarum, et pecudum, et duas partes decimæ de Kekyntone, et totam decimam unius faldæ de Comba, et duas partes decimæ Wilitoniæ, et duas partes decimæ de Lullinstok, et totam decimam de Tyenton, et ecclesiam in Walliis, cum tota decima parochiæ cui nomen est Tregru, concedente Roberto Martini filio, et pasturam pecoribus ipsorum, ubicunque sua fuerint pecora; et ligna usui eorum necessaria, in bosco suo, quod dicitur Cantok, et capellariam domus suæ quantum in villa fuerint. Et ecclesiam Wytoniæ, et ecclesiam de Lullinstok, cum omnibus rectitudinibus, ecclesiis pertinentibus, et molendinum novum, et terram cujusdam rustici, cui nomen Tuerra; et terram Thynelande, et unum ferlingum terræ, et unam acram prati, et dimidiam virgatam de Breche, et decimam gabuli totius terræ suæ, quam aqua, quæ dicitur Perhede, ab oriente secludit, plenariè et integrè tenendum; et si fortè redditus terræ suæ crevit, aut crescat, crescat etiam eorum decima. Insuper dat, concedit, et confirmat eidem ecclesiæ de Stoke, et ejusdem loci monachis, locum quendam in Wika, ad horreum faciendum, triginta pedum in longitudine, octodecem in latitudine, salvo tamen quod non faciant reseantisam ibi de gentibus. Et quod Willielmus de Curcy concessit, et confirmavit, Deo et sancto Mariæ de Lunlay, et monachis ejusdem loci, unam hidam terræ, et ecclesiam sancti Andreæ de Stoke, cum omnibus terris et rectitudinibus ad ea pertinentibus; et jus ecclesiarum de Wytona, et de Lullingstoke, cum omnibus libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, prædictis ecclesiis spectantibus: et molendinum novum, et terram cujusdam rustici cui nomen Tuerra: et terram quæ dicitur Tynelande, et dimidiam virgatam terræ de la Breche, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam perpetuò possidendum. Et quod Johannes de Novilla concessit et confirmavit Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Lunlay et monachis de Stokecurcy, in puram, liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam, ecclesiam sancti Andreæ de Suntistok, cum tota pertinente ad ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ Longiledi, et cum una hida terræ, et cum tota decima parochiæ, et cum omnibus decimis omnium rerum, quas ibi possidet; etiam cum tota decima totius gabuli, &c.

Priory of West Shirburne, in Hampshire.

HERE, says Tanner, was an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks, dedicated to St. Mary and St. John, Cell to the Abbey of St. Vigor at Cerasy in Normandy, to which it was given by Henry de Port, one of the barons of the Exchequer, temp. Hen. I.[a] It was given by King Henry the Sixth[b] to Eton College, but by King Edward the Fourth, anno regni 1, to the Hospital of St. Julian in Southampton; and again, anno 13, by the same King, to Eton College. It was afterwards restored to the Hospital at Southampton, and is enjoyed by the Provost and Fellows of Queen's College in Oxford, as Masters of that Hospital.[c]

Carta Henrici de Portu, Fundatoris.

[Ex ipso autographo, penès Præpositum et Socios Collegii Reginæ Oxon.]

QUONIAM vita mortalium brevi admodum intercluditur spatio, nec habet aliquid homo de omnibus quæ sub sole possidet nisi ea quæ pauperibus ministrat et largitur, quoniam, inquam, ita se habet divinæ dispensationis ordinatio, placuit michi Henrico de Portu, in spe salutis æternæ, aliquas ex rebus meis sanctæ conferre ecclesiæ. Contuli itaque Deo et sancto Vigori Cerasii, pro salute animæ domini mei regis Henrici, et pro anima Guillelmi patris sui, et pro animabus patris et matris meæ, atque pro mei ipsius salute et uxoris meæ et infantium meorum et amicorum meorum et hominum, totam Sireburnam, quæ est à parte occidentali, cum nemoribus quæ in ea habentur, et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, cum tota decima, et omnia omnino quæ in eadem villa sunt, præter terram Gervasii Hwastehose, et præter terram Crespt. His etiam addidi pratum de Languebruge, et molendinum de altera Sireburna juxta vivarium, et pratum etiam prædictæ Sireburnæ pertinens; decimam quoque de Weldeguestona, ecclesiam de Brummelegue, cum decima et terra eidem ecclesiæ pertinentibus. Decimam de Basingis in omni possessione, et unam acram terræ in qua homines hospitantur. Ecclesiam de Neoham cum decima ipsius villæ tota, et cum decima virgulti, et cum decima duorum molendinorum, et cum una virgata terræ, et altera virgata ad Mappedreuuellam. Ecclesiam de Oppertona, cum decima et una hida terræ, decima de Liddesseta, de dominio decimam de Richemanerio. Hæc sunt quæ donavi, sicut jam prædixi, ita liberè ut liberè possidebam. Donavi, dico, Deo et sancto Vigori Cerasii tali consideratione, quod abbas conventum monachorum apud præfatam Sireburnam poneret, qui Deo ordinatè deservirent; porro etiam, suffragante Deo, meipsum donavi ad obitum meum ibidem sepeliendum.

Carta Johannis de Port.

Johannes de Port, omnibus hominibus suis salutem. Concedo et hac præsenti carta mea confirmo totam donationem quam Henricus de Port pater meus in elemosinam dedit monachis de Sireburn; scilicet, totam Sireburnam, cum nemoribus et pratis et omnibus aliis quæ ad eam pertinent, et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, et omnia ei in terris et decimis pertinentia præter terram Gervasii Guasthus, et eos ego quietavi de operatione clausturæ parchi mei. Præter hæc confirmo donationem de prato de Langebrig, et molendino de altera Sireburna quod est juxta vivarium, et pratum quod est juxta Morgerstum, et tres virgatas terræ in eadem Sireburna, et dimidiam virgatam terræ quam Walterius Archerius tenet. Ecclesiam quoque de Bromeleia, cum omnibus sibi pertinentiis. Ecclesiam de Huppetun, cum omnibus sibi pertinentiis, scilicet una hida terræ cum decimandis, et decimas de Lideschet de dominio. Similiter capellam sancti Michaelis, cum terra veteris castelli de Basing, cum una acra terræ, et decimas ejusdem villæ de dominio cum omnibus decimandis. Et insuper Creur decimam de meo Haradt de parco, et totam decimam victus domus meæ. Præter hoc totum, confirmo ecclesiæ prædictæ quinque hidas terræ in Sipford quasAdhewisa mater mea in elemosinam ecclesiæ prædictæ, liberè et quietè, tenendas dedit. Porro etiam, Deo suffragante, meipsum donavi in obitu meo ibidem sepeliendum. Priory of Burwell, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks, given by some of the lords of Kyme to the Abbey of St. Mary Silvæ Majoris near Bourdeaux.[a] After the general seizing of these Houses, this came to the College of Tateshall; and as part of the possessions thereof was granted, 36 Hen. VIIIth, to Charles Duke of Suffolk. Some transcripts and extacts from original Deeds relating to this Priory occur in the Harleian MS. 2044, fol. 105. Among the Harleian Charters, 43 B. 50, is "Carta Ayquardi abbatis Monasterii Sylvæ Majoris Burdegalen. dioc. de Cantaria fundanda in Cella de Burwell in Anglia, A.D. 1318." Extents of Burwell Priory of the 10th Ric. II. and 5th Hen. V. occur in the Donation MS. already so frequently referred to. This Priory is mentioned in the Taxat. P. Nich. IV. pp. 58 b, 71.

Priory of Llangkywan, near Gresmond,

IN MONMOUTHSHIRE.

TANNER says, This manor and church being given before A.D. 1183 to the Abbey of Lira in Normandy, here was placed a Cell of Black Monks subordinate to that foreign House. After the Disolution of Alien Priories, this came to Shene in Surrey, and, as parcel thereof, was granted, 37th Hen. VIII., to John Doyley and John Scudamore. The Particular for the Grant is in the Augmentation Office.

Priory of Okeburn, in Wiltshire.

ABOUT the year 1149, Maud de Walingford, daughter and heiress to Robert D'Oiley, gave to the Abbey of Bec Herlowyn in Normandy the manors and churches of Great and Little Okeburn, at the former of which places a Convent of Benedictine Monks from that foreign Monastery was not long after fixed, and became the chiefest and richest Cell in England to it. It underwent the same fate with the other Alien Priories of being often seized during the wars with France into the King's hands, and finally suppressed 2 Hen. Vth. All the tithes and other spiritualities of this Religious House were given by John Duke of Bedford to Windsor College, and confirmed to them by King Henry the Fifth and King Edward the Fourth; but the Priory and manors of Okeburn Magna and Parva were granted by King Henry the Sixth first to the University of Cambridge, and afterward to the Provost and Fellows of King's College in that University: and 1st Edw. IVth this Priory, or some part of its lands, was granted to the Charter-house in London.[a]

Priory of Willesford, in Lincolnshire.

THE manor of Willesford, or Wivelsford, having been given by Hugh de Evermue, or Wake, to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy in the time of King Stephen, a Priory of Benedictine monks was sent thence and fixed here. Being seized into the King's hands during the wars with France, it was at length, 20 Ric. II. by the favour of Thomas Holand, earl of Kent, settled upon the Abbey of Bourn in Lincolnshire; and, as parcel thereof, granted, 30th. Hen. VIII., to Charles duke of Suffolk.[a]

Priory of Wedon Pinkney, in Northamptonshire.

HERE was a Benedictine Priory, says Tanner, dedicated to St. Mary, and Cell to St. Lucian near Beavoys in France, as early probably as the reign of King Henry I.[b] It was liberally endowed by several of the De Pinkenis, who were lords here. But the wars between England and France hindering the monks of St. Lucian from enjoying the revenues of it, they sold their right therein, A.D. 1392, to the Abbat and Convent of Bittlesden in Buckinghamshire, who enjoyed it not long; for about A.D. 1440, it was made part of the endowment of All Souls College in Oxon.[c]

Birstall Priory, in Yorkshire.

TANNER calls this Burstall Garth, olim Birstall, in the deanry of Holderness, and archdeaconry of East Riding. He says, Stephen earl of Albemarle gave A.D. 1115, to the Benedictine monks of St. Martin de Alceio, near Albemarle in Normandy, several tithes and churches in this part of Yorkshire, and in the north part of Lincolnshire, who thereupon sent over a procurator, or prior, with some monks of their own house, to look after the same. These, after some time, fixed their Cell, and continued in the Chapel of St. Helen here, till the frequent seizing of the estates of the foreign Abbeys, during the wars with France, occasioned this Alien Priory to be sold to the Abbat and Convent of Kirkstall, 18th Ric. II.[a]

Carta Fundationis Sancti Martini de Albemarle.

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis. Hoc notum sit tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quia ego Stephanus, Albemarlensis comes, monachis sancti Luciani Beluacensis, quibus mater mea Adeliza donavit et concessit ecclesiam Sancti Martini de Alceio, constructam et ædificatam ab antecessoribus meis extra castellum Albemarle, sicut mater mea concessit, sic dono et concedo ecclesiam sancti Martini, et omnes redditus ipsi ecclesiæ adjacentes, pro remissione peccatorum meorum et Willielmi regis Angliæ avunculi mei, atque omnium antecessorum meorum. Quibus etiam monachis præter hæc supradicta addo, et concedo omnes ecclesias et decimas meas Angliæ, quas teneo ab Henrico rege Anglorum, ita quietas et liberas, et sine retentu ullo, sicut de ipso rege teneo. Necnon et ipsi sacerdotes ita liberrimè habeant et teneant à me, ut neque dapifer, neque vicecomes, nec aliquis ministrorum meorum super eos manus imponant. Si verò sacerdotes forisfecerint aliquid in illo justificent. Has ecclesias et decimas, videlicet in Holdernesa ecclesiam et decimam de Pagla quam in dominio habeo. Similiter et de Prestona, et de Eschechilinga, et de Wifornewic, de Wagla, de Frohingheham, et de castello de Aldeburgo, et de Mapletona, de Tonestal, de Esingtona,[b] de Berestall, de Chinlesi, de Caingheham, de Wifornesel. In Lindeseia ecclesiam et decimam de Carlentona, et decimam de Wilesbi, et de Barower medietatem ecclesiæ et decimæ, aliam verò medietatem quam Willielmus capellanus tenet de me in vita sua, et unam de ecclesiis de Wifornisel post obitum ejus ipsis monachis concedo.

Quinetiam omnium decimas dominicatus mei; videlicet horreorum meorum, id est totius annonæ meæ et vaccarum mearum, omniumque ovium, et baconum, et caseorum, atque pullorum equarum mearum. Hæc omnia supradicta ad utilitatem monachorum in ecclesia sancti Martini de Alceio morantium et servientium, ut liberè disponant et ordinent confero, etiam hospitem unum ad flumen Heldone dono. Quinetiam transitum de Humbro ad opus monachorum, et omnium illis servientium, et ad omnia necessaria eorum ita liberè sicut à rege teneo. Omnes etiam ecclesias de fundo meo in Normania, cum decimis et omnibus pertinentiis suis, ecclesiam videlicet de Vilers, ecclesiam de Handricurt, ecclesiam sancti Walarici, ecclesiam de Belfraisno, ecclesiam sancti Saturnini, ecclesiam de Ailecurt, ecclesiam de Flomines, ecclesiam de Hillais, ecclesiam de Vilers ultra nemus, cum duabus partibus decimæ, nundinas quoque in festivitate sancti Martini, et quicquid utilitatis de eis ex consuetudine provenerit. Addo etiam decimam molendinorum, et furnorum, et thelonei, et traversi de Albemarla, et decimam omnium quæ navis mea de Anglia attulerit quæ mandi possunt, et decimam omnium piscium qui comeduntur in curia mea, sive in Albemarla, sive ubicunque in hac patria. Decimam quoque in Blossavilla piscium, porcorum, baconum, et lanæ de ovibus meis. Silvam etiam de Mufleres ad omnes usus necessarios jure perpetuo. Siquis autem hanc donationem meam infringere ac minuere voluerit, divino judicio illum puniendum commendo. Actum est apud Albamarlam, regnante Henrico rege Anglorum, et duce Normannorum et ipso concedente, uxore mea hac causa et filio meo concedentibus, anno millesimo centesimo decimo quinto ab incarnatione Domini. Hiis videlicet testibus, Waltero de Senardi Ponte, Gaufrido filio Fulconis, Willielmo Bisa, Berengario de Alneto, Radulfo de Porta, Gerardo de Caineio, Giraldo de Hornet, Alano de Hambi, Willielmo de Albani, Richardo fratre ejus. Clericis verò, Roberto decano, Alberto canonico, Warnero clerico.

Robertus Dei gratia Lincolniensis episcopus, universis sanctæ ecclesiæ fidelibus, salutem. Ex suscepti officii administratione nobis incumbit religiosorum virorum utilitatibus in futurum providere, et beneficia quibus sustentari debent, sicut à fidelibus rationabiliter concessa et cartis confirmata sunt, pontificis auctoritate solidare. Hinc est quod dilectorum filiorum nostrorum monachorum de Albemarla justis petitionibus benignum præbentes assensum, ecclesias et quascunque alias possessiones in nostra diœcesi à nobilibus viris, Stephano comite Albemarlæ et Willielmo ejus filio, ecclesiæ sancti Martini de Albemarla, et monachis in ea Deo servientibus rationabiliter concessa, et confirmata, scilicet paterno affectu eis concedimus, et præsentis scripti pagina, roboramus. Ecclesiam de Barew cum appendiciis suis, et decimam dominii de Wilesbi, ecclesiam de Grossebi, et decimam dominii de Andelbi, ecclesiam de Carlentona cum appendiciis suis, ecclesiam de Bitham cum omnibus appendiciis suis. Omnibus itaque eidem ecclesiæ sua jura servantibus Dei misericordiam et benedictionem imploramus; è contrario verò nitentibus, et injustè vexantibus, extremam examinis ultionem cominando inferimus. Actum anno ab incarnatione Domini millesimo centesimo sexto, Philippo abbate de Tornenton, et Refrido ejus canonico, Radulfo abbate de Parcolude, et Thoma de Brachenburc ejus monacho, Roberto archidiacono Lincolniense, magistro Malgero et magistro Warnero. Prima Ordinatio Walteri Archiepiscopi Eborum, de Cella Abbatis Sancti Martini de Albemarla apud Byrstall.

[Ibid.]

Omnibus Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Walterus Dei gratia Eboracensis archiepiscopus, Angliæ primas, salutem in domino. Quoniam qui majoribus juvantur meritis, majoribus debent honoribus insigniri, et facultatibus dilatari; considerantes in dilectis filiis abbate et conventu Albemarle morum honestatem, religionis fervorem, et hospitalitatis gratiam, ac per omnia conversationem laudabilem. Attendentes etiam quod non habuerunt hucusque in provincia nostra locum suæ habitationi congruum, ad instantiam venerabilis patris G. tituli sancti Martini presbiteri cardinalis, apostolicæ sedis legati, capellam de Birstall, cum suis pertinentiis, et cum decimis de Skeflings, tam majoribus, quàm minoribus, et omnibus aliis obventionibus, et proventibus, eisdem imperpetuum concedimus, usibus monachorum apud Birstal degentium, retinendis, ita quod prædicta capella in nullo ecclesiæ de Esinton subjiciatur; sed prior de Birstall capellanum, quem parochiæ de Birsta duxerit præponendum, decano præsentet pro voluntate prioris amovendum; qui excessus parochianorum decano denunciet, et capitula sectetur. Et ut ecclesia de Birstal, ampliori gaudeat immunitate, auctoritate pontificali concedimus, quod à sinodalium præstatione sit immunis; ad hæc si nobis vel successoribus nostris generale fuerit interdictum promulgatum, volumus, quod in ecclesia de Birstal, exclusis interdictis, nihilominus submissa voce, divina celebrentur, nisi locus ille specialiter fuerit interdicto suppositus. Et ut tranquillitati monachorum apud Birstal residentium pleniùs sollicitudine nostra provideatur, quos una cum ipsorum ecclesia, sub nostra specialiter suscepimus protectione, nihilominus quod ab archidiaconis et decanis novis et indebitis non onerentur exactionibus. Quod ut ratum et stabile perseveret imposterum, præsenti scripto sigilli nostri munimen duximus apponendum. Testibus magistro Cornubiensi canonico Eborum. Reginaldo monacho de Albemarla. Richardo et Willielmo de London fratribus, Galfrido de Stanlak. Datum apud Beverlacum mense Junii, anno pontificatus nostri tertio.

Priory of Goldcliff, in Monmouthshire.

ROBERT DE CHANDOS, says Tanner, A. D. 1113, having founded the Church of St. Mary Magdalen of Goldcliff, endowed it with several lands and possessions; and then, by the persuasion of King Henry the First, gave it to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy, whence was to be sent hither a Prior and twelve Black Monks.

After the suppression of Alien Priories, Henry Beauchamp Duke of Warwick obtained of King Henry the Sixth the patronage of this Priory, and leave to annex the same to the Abbey of Tewkesbury, which being accordingly done, it was made a Cell to that Monastery, A.D. 1442; but, three years after, the Welshmen drove away hence the Tewkesbury Prior and Monks who settled again here, A.D· 1446. However, this Priory was granted 29th Hen. VI. to Eton College; to Tewkesbury again 1st Edw. IVth; and to Eton again 7th Edw. IVth; by the Provost and Fellows of which College its Site is still enjoyed. In the Valor of the 26th Hen. VIIIth, as parcel of the possessions of Eton College, this Priory is rated at 144*l.* 18*s.* 1*d.* per aunum.[a]

Goldcliff itself is a singularly rocky hill, about three quarters of a mile in circumference, upon the snore of the Bristol channel. The Priory was situated upon the brow of the cliff. Its site is at present occupied by a farm house: a doorway and some walls are its only remains.

Carta Regis Edw. I. Donationem Roberti de Candos recitans.

[Cartæ 18 Edw. I. m. 10, n. 30.]

Rex archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam quam Robertus de Candos fecit Deo, et eccles. S. Mariæ Becci, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, in hæc verba. Robertus de Candos universis hominibus suis, Francis, Anglis, et Wallensibus, et omnibus S. ecclesiæ Dei fidelibus, salutem in Domino. Universitati vestræ notum facio, me, assensu et voluntate Isabellæ uxoris meæ, dedisse, et hac præsenti carta confirmâsse, Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ Becci, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, pro anima regis Willielmi, et Matildis reginæ, et Willielmi secundi, et Henrici regis, necnon pro anima mea, et uxoris meæ Ysabel, et filiorum, et parentum meorum, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ Magdalenæ de Goldclive, cum terris et decimis ad eam pertinentibus, et capellam de Fraxino, cum pertinentiis suis, ut ibi constituatur conventus ad serviendum Deo, et gloriosæ famulæ Christi, Mariæ Magdalenæ, et orandum imperpetuum et benefactoribus suis, totam, scilicet terram de Mora et Sabrina, usque ad Pulleram, sicut Pullera vadit in Uscam per divisiones aquarum, et fossalium, et totam terram meam de Pulera usque Pulchru. Et ex dono meo terram Isabel uxoris meæ apud Hernesnesse, et totam terram ultra Fraxinum versùs quinque piscarias, ex utraque parte; et totum mariscum meum incultum, usque Pulpen, et etiam totum manerium meum de Pulpen, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Dedi etiam eis partem nemoris mei, quod vocatur Wastattoch, per divisiones quas eis ego ipse præfixi, scilicet, sicut rivulus qui vocatur Servan vadit apud orientem, et totam weram Cradoci usque ad viam quæ tendit apud Catteshasse, et de prædicta via, usque Becheresvell, et de Becheresvell usque ad castaneam, et de castanea usque in Uscam. Ex altera verò parte de prædicto nemore tales divisiones eis præfixi, scilicet â prædicto rivulo, qui Servan appellatur, usque ad fontem Cradoci, et de fonte Cradoci iterum usque Uscam, et totam piscariam meam in Usca, quæ est inter prædictas divisiones. Dedi etiam eis totam decimam totius terræ meæ de Wales, scilicet, denariorum meorum, de melle, in bosco, et plano, et de pannagio, et decimam molendini mei de Karliol, et decimam de venatione mea, et prati mei, et de omnibus rebus de quibus decima debet dari. Dedi etiam eis ad eorum sustentationem, manerium meum de Devonesir, quod vocatur Menbiri, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et manerium meum in Sumerset, quod vocatur Presteton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et aliud manerium quod vocatur Selver, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Dedi etiam eis omnes ecclesias non vacantes totius defensionis meæ, in quibus jus advocationis habeam, cum terris et decimis ad eas pertinentibus; scilicet ecclesiam Sanctæ Trinitatis, juxta Karl. cum omnibus pertinentiis suis in mora, et extra moram. Ecclesiam Julii et Aron, ecclesiam de Staneca, ecclesiam de Wulampton, ecclesiam de Periton, ecclesiam de Selver, ecclesiam de Arolt, ecclesiam de Becheford, ecclesiam de Grettingham. Has omnes ecclesias, cum pertinentiis suis, ut jus monachorum, cum vacaverint, plenè, et integerrimè cedant dedi. Ad cujus expectationis fidem roborandam, dedi sæpedictis monachis redecimas omnium dominiorum meorum, interim in villis meis in quibus ecclesiæ illæ sitæ sunt. Dedi etiam eis omnes libertates, et liberas consuetudines, quas ego ipse in terra mea habeo. Scilicet ut ipsi et omnes homines sui, et de illis tenentes, liberè, et quietè, et honorificè, et pacificè, teneant, sine alicujus hæredum meorum reclamatione sacam, et socam, et tol, et team, et infangenethefe, et cum omnibus libertatibus aliis, et liberis consuetudinibus et quietanciis, in bosco, et plano, in pratis, et pasturis, in aquis, et molendinis, in stagnis, et vivariis, infra burgum, et extra burgum, infra moram, et extra moram, in viis, et semitis, et in omnibus aliis locis, et rebus, solutas, liberas, et quietas, de omnibus placitis, et querelis, et de assisis, et operationibus castellorum, et pontium, et de cariagiis, et de blodwite, et de fithwite, et de theoloneo, et passagio, et de forestagio, et theoloneo aquarum, et viarum forestam meam contingentium, de murdro, et de omni alio homicidio, quoquomodo aliquo loco, vel tempore perpetratum fuerit, de omnibus servitiis secularibus, et exactionibus, quæ unquam poterunt provenire. Et volo ut habeant curiam suam apud Goldclive, et ubicunque sibi viderint meliùs expedire, et de omnibus placitis et querelis supradictis, de rebus aliis, et molestiis, excepta sola justitia mortis et membrorum. Prohibeo igitur ex parte Dei omnipotentis, et ex parte Mariæ matris Domini, et beatæ Mariæ Magdalenæ, et mea, nequis hanc donationem meam audeat infringere; quod siquis fecerit, maledictione Dei omnipotentis, et sanctæ Mariæ, et beatæ Mariæ Magdalenæ, et mea, ipse et tota ejus progenies perpetuò feriatur. Ut autem hæc donatio mea rata et inconcussa permaneat, præsentis scripti munimine, et sigilli mei impressione eam roboravi. Unio hujusmodi Prioratus Abbatiæ de Tewkesbury.

[Pat. 22 Hen. VI. part. 2, m. 13. per Inspex.]

Eugenius episcopus, servus servorum Dei, ad futuram rei memoriam. Ex injuncto nobis licet immeritis, sc. desuper apostolicæ servitutis officio, circa monasteriorum aliorumque piorum locorum statum quorumlibet in meliùs dante Domino prosperandum curiis intendentes assiduis, illa libenter opportunæ provisionis auxilia complectimur, per quæ religionis etiam necnon divini cultus incremento solidioris status ipse tranquillitatis aminiculo potiatur, ac votivis monasteria, locaque præmissa successibus gratulentur, et hiis quæ propterea processisse comperimus, ut illibata persistant apostolici dum a nobis petitur muniminis adjecimus firmitatem. Sanè pro parte dilectorum filiorum abbatis et conventus monasterii beatæ Mariæ de Teukesbury, ordinis sancti Benedicti, Wigornensis diœcesis, nobis nuper exhibita petitio continebat, quod olim venerabiles fratres nostri, Henricus archiepiscopus Cantuariensis, Johannes Bathoniensis et Wellensis, Johannes Assavensis, et Willielmus Sarisberiensis episcopi, necnon dilecti filii Willielmus comes Suff. et magister Adam Moleyns decanus ecclesiæ Sarisberiensis notarius noster, et quidam alii tunc expressi, auctoritate et licentia charissimi in Christo filii nostri Henrici regis Angliæ illustris, advocationem prioratus de Goldeclyve in marchia Walliæ alienigenæ, dicti ordinis, Landavensis diœcesis, quæ de rege prædicto in capite tenebatur, eisdem abbati et conventui dederunt atque concesserunt, ad finem et effectum ut ipse prioratus, cum omnibus juribus et pertinentiis suis, eidem monasterio, in cujus ecclesia corpus quondam Isabellæ comitissæ Warwici ac patronæ loci ibidem humatum fuerat, perpetuò uniretur, annecteretur, et incorporaretur; quodque in dicto prioratu unus prior ad nutum abbatis ipsius monasterii pro tempore existentis ponendus et amovendus, necnon duo alii in sacerdotio constituti, dicti ordinis religiosi tenerentur, qui singulis ibidem diebus divina pro statu dicti regis, quoad viveret, et post ejus decessum pro sua, fundatorum quoque præfati prioratus ac ipsius comitissæ, necnon omnium fidelium defunctorum animabus celebrarent, ac competentem sustentationem ab ipsis abbate et conventu perciperent, juxta ordinationem quæ desuper fieret per executores testamenti ac ultimæ voluntatis comitissæ memoratæ. Et subsequenter venerabilis frater noster, Nicholaus episcopus Landavensis, habito desuper cum dilectis filiis, archidiacono et capitulo ecclesiæ Landavensis diligentique solemnique tractatu. De expressis ipsorum archidiaconi et capituli voluntate ac concensu, prioratum prædictum cum juribus et pertinentiis præfatis eidem monasterio authoritate ordinaria univit, annexuit, et incorporavit; ac voluit, statuit, et ordinavit, quod in ipso prioratu unus illius prior ad nutum præmissum ponendus et amovendus; ac duo alii religiosi dicti ordinis, sint divina singulis diebus ibidem pro statu et animabus hujusmodi celebraturi, necnon competentem ab ipsis abbate et conventu sustentationem juxta dictam ordinationem percepturi, prout in diversis inde confectis litteris ipsorum regis, archiepiscopi, episcoporum, comitis ac decani, et aliorum sigillis munitis, et quas in apostolica cancellaria diligentes inspici earumque tenores de verbo ad verbum, unà cum subscriptionibus notariorum præsentibus inseri fecimus, dignoscitur pleniùs contineri. Quare pro parte dictorum abbatis et conventus asserentium quod monasterii duarum millium marcarum, et prioratus hujusmodi ducentarum librarum sterlingarum fructus, redditus, et proventus, secundùm communem æstimationem valorem annuum non excedant, nobis fuit humiliter supplicatum, ut dationi, concessioni, unioni, annexioni, incorporationi, statuto et ordinationi præfatis, pro illorum subsistentia firmiori, robur apostolicæ confirmationis adjicere de benignitate apostolica dignaremur. Nos igitur hujusmodi supplicationibus inclinati, dationem, concessionem, unionem, &c. hujusmodi, necnon quæcunque inde secuta rata et grata habentes, illa authoritate apostolica ex certa scientia confirmamus et approbamus, præsentis quoque scripti patrocinio communimus, &c.

Tenores verò litterarum hujusmodi tales sunt: Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, &c. Datum Florentiæ anno incarnationis dominicæ millesimo quadringentesimo secundo, decimo kal. Augusti, pontificatus nostri anno duodecimo.

Item idem prior protulit alias cartas de dono et concessione Howeli, domini de Karlyon, &c. et antecessorum suorum, factis eidem priori et successoribus suis, ad piscandum in aqua de Uske, &c.

Item quod idem illustrissimus princeps, Ricardus dux Ebor, &c.

Priory of Minting, in Lincolnshire.

RANULPH DE MESCHINES, earl of Chester, says Tanner, before the year 1129, gave the Church of St. Andrew of Minting to the Abbey of St. Benedict upon the Leyr in France; whereupon an Alien Priory of Benedictines was fixed in it. After the Dissolution of these foreign Cells, it was granted, 9th Hen. V., to the Carthusian Priory at Mountgrace;[a] as parcel of which it was given, 34th Hen. VIII., in exchange to the Dean and Chapter of Westminster.[b]

Carta Ranulphi Comitis Cestriæ.

Ranulphus, comes Cestriæ, Roberto Dei gratia Lichfeldiæ episcopo, Roberto archidiacono, capitulo sanctæ Mariæ Lichfeld. constabulario, dapifero, baronibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, ministris, ballivis, et omnibus hominibus suis Francis, et Anglis, omnibusque prælatis, et filiis sanctæ ecclesiæ salutem. Sciatis me concessisse et dedisse Deo et sanctæ Mariæ, et sancto Jacobo, et sancto Benedicto, et monachis eorum imperpetuum, pro Dei dilectione, et pro salute animæ meæ, et pro animabus antecessorum meorum Mentingas, et ecclesiam sancti Andreæ de Mentingis, et ecclesiam Omnium Sanctorum de Ganteby; et duas bovatas terræ et dimidiam Wimundi coci, et unam bovatam terræ Willielmi Pincernæ, et terram Spileman, qui fuit camerarius meus, et quicquid habui in duabus Mentingis, excepta tenura Roberti de Fonumchun, et Berengarii Falconarii. Et concedo quod prædicti monachi et homines eorum habeant omnia aisiamenta sua, in bosco meo Mentengis, ad ædificia sua et alia negotia sua, et pannagium eorum, sine venditione et donatione. Quapropter volo, et firmiter præcipio, quod ipsi monachi totam supradictam elemosinam, in rebus omnibus, ita liberè, et quietè, et honorificè imperpetuum teneant et habeant, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs et quietiùs, et magis honorificè potest teneri, et haberi et dari. Priory of Long Benyngton, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER says, The Church and four carucates of land in this town being given by Ralph de Filgeriis or Fulgeriis[a] [to the Abbey of Savigney in Normandy,[b] before A.D. 1175,[c] here became an Alien Priory of Cistercian monks subordinate to that foreign monastery. During the wars with France it was seized into the King's hands, and given by King Richard the Second to the Carthusians of St. Anne near Coventry,[d] being then valued at 50*l.* per annum. But after the suppression of these Houses was given, 9th Hen. V., to the Priory of Mountgrace; and as parcel of the possessions of this last mentioned Monastery, this manor of Long Benington was granted to the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, 34th Hen. VIII.[e]

Quoniam inter opera misericordiæ præcipuum est indigentium necessitatibus occurrere, ego Radulfus Filgeriarum, dominus abbatiæ Savigneii ab antecessoribus meis fundatæ, non solum quæ ei collata sunt integra indiminutaque conservare; verùm ipse quoque Deo donante animo volenti ampliare curavi. Sciat igitur posterorum ventura generatio me dedisse in elemosinam perpetuam monachis Savigneii, pro salute animæ meæ, et antecessorum meorum, et uxoris meæ, et filiorum meorum, et præcipuè matris meæ, et omnium amicorum meorum, concedentibus filiis meis Juhello et Willielmo, totum dominicum meum quod habebam in maretis Maidrei et totum dominicum meum quod habebam in Verdumo, excepto molendino. Dedi etiam prædictæ abbatiæ ecclesiam de [f]Belintone, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Abbas autem Savigneii de prædictis, et de redditibus ecclesiæ, panem et vinum in ministerium altaris, me illud exigente, semper parabit. De eo autem quod supererit, abbas, juxta quod pollicitus est, monachis vestimenta procurabit. Dedi etiam præfatæ abbatiæ in villa Maidrei placeam ad faciendam grangiam, et terram quæ ei adjacet, et est post ipsam grangiam. In hac autem donatione nostra, ex sola vel maxima nostræ mentis est intentio ut supradictorum fratrum supplicatione Deo facta concessionem piissimam, et peccatorum remissionem perfectam valeam impetrare. Hæc autem omnia, libera et quieta ab omni servicio seculari, mihi vel successoribus meis impendendo concessi...................... .... meis retinens aut requirens præter divinam retributionem, et quod ad meam............pertinebit protectionem ac defensionem. Juratorum Relatio.

[Ex Rotulo Hundred. in com. Lincoln. wapentachio de Loveden, 3 Edw. I.]

Juratores dicunt, quod monachi de Benington habent quatuor carucatas terræ cum pertinentiis in eadem villa, jam centum annis elapsis, de feodo militari, et valet carucata per annum iiij. libr.; quo dono, vel à quibus feoffati sunt, quo servitio, quomodo, qualiter, et quo waranto, et à quo tempore, per quos fuerunt alienatæ, nesciunt. Sed postea veniunt juratores, et dicunt, quod Oliva filia et hæres Willielmi le Feugeriis feoffavit dictos monachos, et dicta Oliva tenet dictam terram de honore Britanniæ, qui tenebatur de rege in capite. Postea testatum est per xij. et per ballivum, quod non est geldabilis, et quod de tam longo tempore ideo indè nihil, &c. Dicunt etiam quod prior et canonici ecclesiæ sanctæ Katerinæ Lincolniæ tenent duos carucatas terræ, in campis de Benington de feodo militari. Et valet carucata per annum iiij. lib.; quo dono vel à quibus feoffantur, &c. nesciunt.

---

[a] See the Instrument Num. I. The Hundred Rolls make Olive, the daughter and heir of William de Feugeriis, to have been the giver of these lands, as in Num. II.: and in the Appendix to the Account of Savigney Abbey, hereafter to be given, William the son of Rodland of Sutton is expressly said to have been the giver of them.

[b] Quære, if Savigney be not rather in Britany.

[c] Perhaps long before, says Tanner; for in the bishop's palace at Ely there is an original Composition between A., abbat of St. Sergius, and Bachus Andegav. and S. abbat of Savignei, concerning the tithes of Benigtona, which the monks of Savigney were to have, paying xxxii*s*. yearly at Michaelmas to the monks of Angiers, viz. "Priori et Ecclesiæ de Swavesey." This was confirmed by R. abbat, and the convent of Cistertium. Now, if by this B. abbat of Cistercium be meant Bernard; and by S. abbat of Savigney be meant Serlo, Benington must have been given to Savigney in the reign of King Stephen, or perhaps Hen. I.

[d] See the Grant in the Appendix to the Account of St. Anne's Coventry.

[e] Two or three charters relating to this House are printed in Madox's Formulare Anglicanum, pp. 254, 255, 257. Tanner says, "Vide Cartas, Rentalia, Computos, &c. ad hunc Prioratum spectantes in archivis eccl. S. Petri Westmonast. Rot. cart. 19 Hen. III. m. 3. de terris in Forston, Benington, Hames, &c. Extents of Long Benington Priory 3 and 10 Ric. II. are in the British Museum in the volume which has been so often referred to.

[f] In com. Lincoln. in regno Angliæ.

Priory of Grosmont, in Yorkshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Grosmont, Gromont, Grommond, Grandimont, or Eskdale, in the deanry and archdeaconry of Cleveland.

Joanna, the daughter of William Fossard, he says, wife to Robert de Turnham, in the beginning of the reign of King John, gave a parcel of lands in the forest of Egheton, since called Eskdale, to the Abbat and Convent of Grandimont, in Normandy, who thereupon sent a Convent of Monks of their own Order to settle here: when, by reason of the wars with France, the kings of England bore hard upon these Alien Priories, the Abbat of Grandimont got leave to sell the advowson, and all their right in this Cell, to John Hewitt, alias Serjeaunt; and thereupon it seems to have become "Prioratus indigena," and to have subsisted till the general Dissolution, when there were not above four monks in it. The revenues were rated, 26th Hen. VIIIth, at 14*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* in the gross receipt, and at 12*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* clear, per annum. The Site was granted, 35th Hen. VIIIth, to one Edward Wright.[a]

Carta Johannæ Uxoris Domini R. de Torneham.

[Ex Archivis Grandimontensis Cœnobii in Galliâ.]

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, ego Johanna filia Will. Fossart uxor domini R. de Torneham, salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me divinæ pietatis intuitu dedisse in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, et concessisse liberaliter et libenter pro salute mea, et domini viri mei, patris et matris meæ, et omnium antecessornm et successorum meorum, et hac præsenti charta confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ, priori et fratribus Grandimontensis ordinis, unam mansionem in foresta de Eggetona inter Eggetona et Cukelwald; scilicet, in longitudine super aquam vii. quarantan., et versùs montem tres et dimidiam quarantan., et quælibet virga unde quarantanæ mensurabuntur erit viginti pedum; ita etiam quod per omnia habeant fratres ibi circa domum suam ducentas acras cum boscis earundem, et cum omnibus adjacentibus, et in tota foresta mea maeremium ad ædificia et omnia necessaria facienda. Dedi eis etiam pari modo molendinum de Eggetonna cum piscaria quæ pertinet ad molendinum, quod faciant fratres ubicumque voluerint in tota aqua, et per totam aquam habeant piscationem liberam et quietam, et faciant piscari ubicumque voluerint in tota aqua cum omnibus sectis; salva tamen molatura hospitii domini villæ, tantum dum in villa præsens fuerit, et quod nemo infra metas eorum in aquam suam intret ad piscandum. Item dedi eis unam quarrucatam terræ in Goldeburc cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et unam vachiviam de xl. vaccis cum secta earum per tres annos, et pasturam ad quingentas oves cum secta earum per tres annos, et decem equas cum sectis earum per tres annos, et decem sues, et pasturam cum sectis earum per tres annos, et duos verres, et pascua mea ubicumque sint ad pascendas bestias supradictas; et quod liceat fratribus loca eligere cum vachiviam mutare voluerint per totam forestam, et fœna colligere in foresta ad pasturam ovium et vaccarum. Dedi eis insuper domos meas in Eboraco; illas scilicet quæ sunt inter domos Laurentii Clerici quæ fuerunt Benedicti Judæi et Isping Geil, cum tota curia et omnibus pertinentiis. Prætera concessi eis unum hominem cum masuagio suo, cum duabus bovatis terræ, et hæredes ejus in Goldeburc, liberos et quietos ab omni tallia, consuetudine, et exactione sæculari ad terram eorum colendam quam habent in eadem villâ, et alia servitia facienda per voluntatem fratrum. Et alium hominem eodem modo in Eggetonna, cum duabus bovatis terræ pro molendino et bestiis eorum servandis et aliis serviciis faciendis pro voluntate fratrum. Et unum toftum similiter in Sandeshande pro negotiis suis et serviciis faciendis. Et unum hominem in Donecastre et hæredes suos, cum masuagio suo et pertinentiis suis, ut se in certis locis et domibus propriis recipiant. Volo igitur quod omnia ista supradicta fratres in perpetuum teneant et possideant benè et in pace, liberè et integrè, quieta ab omni exactione et demanda. Item volo quod bestiæ fratrum de Goldeburc pascantur in herbagio cum bestiis quarrucæ domini de Lihz, et quod habeant in bosco de Brisc', ad tenendam quarrucam et clausuram terræ de Goldeburc. Et ut ista mea donatio, concessio, firma, stabilis, et inviolata perseveret, præsens scriptum sigilli mei impressione duxi roborandum in confirmationem et testimonium perpetuum elemosinæ supradictæ. Hiis testibus, P. capellano templi de Rupella, Aimerico de Caorz, Petro de Longuil, Aimerico de Rochafort, Helia Bernardo, Alexandro Amfrei, Sans de Belloloco, Roberto de Beravil, Henrico de Trasci, Willielmo Tuaut, et multis aliis.

Carta Roberti de Torneham Donationes Johannæ Uxoris ejus recitans et confirmans.

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis præsens scriptum inspecturis vel audituris R. de Tornehan, salutem. Noverit universitas me, divino intuitu, et pro salute animarum domini regis Henrici piæ memoriæ, et reginæ Alienoræ uxoris suæ, et bonæ recordationis regis Angliæ Ricardi, et pro salute domini mei J. regis Angliæ, et Isabellæ uxoris suæ, et hæredum suorum,, et pro salute mea et Johannæ uxoris meæ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum nostrorum, Deo et beatæ Mariæ, priori et fratribus Grandimontensis ordinis, dedisse et concessisse, et præsenti charta mea, confirmâsse liberaliter et libenter totam elemosynam quam memorata Joanna uxor mea eis fecerat, mansionem scilicet in foresta de Egguetonna inter Egguetonna et Cukelwald; scilicet in longitudine super aquam septem quarantan., et versùs montem tres et dimidiam quarantan., et quælibet virga unde quarantanæ mensurabuntur erit viginti pedum, ita quod per omnia habeant fratres ibi circa domum suam ducentas acras cum boscis earundem, et cum omnibus adjacentibus. Et in tota foresta usuarium ad ædificia et omnia necessaria facienda. Concessi eis pariter et confirmavi molendinum de Egguettonna cum piscaria quæ pertinet ad molendinum, ut molendinum faciant ubicumque voluerint in tota aqua cum omnibus sectis, salva molatura hospitii domini villæ tantùm, dum in villa præsens fuerit. Et per totam aquam habeant piscationem et faciant piscari ubicumque voluerint in tota aqua. Et quod nemo intret infra metas eorum ad piscandum. Item concessi eis unam carrucatam terræ in Goldeburc, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et unam vachiviam de quadraginta vaccis et pasturam earum per tres annos. Priory of Monkenlane, in Herefordshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Lena, Monekeslen, Monkenlane, or Monkland. Ralph Tony the elder having given, Temp. Will. Rufi, the manor and church here to the Abbey of St. Peter at Castellione or Conches in Normandy, it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that foreign House. It was sometime reckoned as parcel of the Alien Priory of Wotton-Wawen in Warwickshire, and as such was granted, during the wars with France, to the Carthusians at Coventry 22 Ric. II.; but, after the Suppression, this Priory of Monkenlane, with all its appurtenances, was annexed to the Dean and Chapter of Windsor 13th Edw. IV.[a]

"Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis Willielmus Dei gratia Herefordensis ecclesiæ minister, æternam in Christo salutem. Ex officio injunctæ nobis administrationis tenemur viris religiosis cavere, et providere ut beneficia à filiis sanctæ Dei ecclesiæ in elemosinam perpetuam sibi collata, pacificè et absque omnium vexatione possidere valeant. Inde est, quod dilectis fratribus nostris abbati sancti Petri Castellionis, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, paterna pietate prospicere cupientes, concedimus eis, et episcopali auctoritate confirmamus manerium de Monekeslen, et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, cum universis decimationibus, et cæteris obventionibus, et omnibus ad eam de jure spectantibus, salva honesta sustentatione vicarii. Medietatem quoque villæ de Diura, quam Hugo de Diura tenet de eisdem monachis, pro quinquaginta solidis annuatim reddendis in tribus terminis, videlicet tertiam partem in purificatione sanctæ Mariæ, et tertiam in die Pentecostes, et tertiam in festo sancti Michaelis. Confirmamus etiam eis omnes decimas de dominio de Salbeuour, cum uno hospite, et decimam illius terræ, quam idem hospes de eis tenet, et de Hida in omnibus. Confirmamus etiam eis duas partes decimarum de dominio de Bromeshaga, tam in magnis quàm in minutis decimis in omnibus. Confirmamus etiam eis duas partes decimarum de dominio de Edidenstoc in omnibus, cum uno hospite, et duas partes decimarum de dominio de Hida, et duas partes decimarum de dominio Willielmi de Schall. et duas partes decimarum Herberti de Arsperton. Et unum burgagium in villa Hereford, et duas partes decimarum de Albodeleg, et in eadem villa duos hospites, et duas partes decimarum de dominio del Bur., et duas partes decimarum de dominio de Wornesleg, et terram et mansuram quæ fuit Caure, et duas partes decimarum de feodo Osberti filii Rualdi, et duas partes decimarum de dominio de Linda cum uno hospite. Has elemosinas habent prædicti monachi ex donatione Radulphi de Tony senioris, quas et alia, si qua in episcopatu Herefordensi habent beneficia canonicè adepta, eis confirmamus, salva dignitate Herefordensis ecclesiæ, et successorum suorum canonica justitia; quod ne de cætero deduci possit in irritum præsenti carta et sigilli nostri testimonio communimus. Hiis testibus, magistro Johanne de Coler, Willielmo de Stoc, canonicis Hereford. magistro Stephano et magistro Osberto et Ricardo scriptore, clericis nostris, magistro Petro et Willielmo clerico de Len. et Rogero Turnel, et Roberto de Offewerd, et Rogero de Livet."

[Cart. 14 Edw. I. n. 26. Vide etiam Cart. 13 Edw. I. n. 69.]

REX archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam quam Robertus quondam comes de Mellento et Leycestriæ fecit Deo et ecclesiæ sanctorum apostolorum Petri et Pauli de Pratellis et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus in hæc verba. Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis Anglicis, Francis, et Normannis, Robertus comes de Mellento et Leycestriæ, salutem in vero salutari Domino Jhesu Christo. Noverit universitas vestra quod ego pro salutæ animæ meæ et dilecti mei domini regis Willielmi et antecessorum meorum, dedi et concessi et præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ sanctorum apostolorum Petri et Pauli de Pratellis, et monachis ibidem Domino servientibus, manerium de Thoftes cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, videlicet terris, nemoribus, mariscis, pratis, turbariis, hominibus, redditibus, pasturis, communiis, et aliis quibuscunque dicto manerio spectantibus, ita liberè sicut karissimus dominus meus illustris rex Willielmus illud michi dedit, qui ante me illud aliquantulum possedit. Tenendum et possidendum dictis monachis et eorum successoribus in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, benè, in pace, honorificè, et justè, solutum et quietum de siris et sectis, de hundredis, placitis, quærelis, consuetudinibus et regalibus demandis universis cum sacch. socc. thol. thif. infongenethef et hutfongenethef, et cum libera warenna in parochiis de Thoftes et de Haddescho et de Thorp, cum omnibus aliis libertatibus. Addidi etiam huic dono jus patronatus ecclesiæ beatæ Margaretæ prædictæ villæ, jus patronatus ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Hadescho, jus patronatus ecclesiæ beati Michaelis de Estone, jus patronatus ecclesiæ sancti Leonardi de Wyleya, jus patronatus ecclesiæ beati Michaelis de Cherlintone, jus patronatus ecclesiæ sancti Nicholai de Neuburi, cum decimis, fundis, obventionibus, pensionibus ad dictas ecclesias pertinentibus. Item in villa de Nyuburi decimam totius redditus vel exitus villæ, id est de molendinis, de theoloneo, et de omni re quæ decimari potest vel poterit in futuro, cum una hida terræ libera ab omni censu et consuetudine, secta curiæ, et universo servicio seculari, quæ omnia Arnulphus de Hesdinck, comes del Perche, dominus de Neuburi, michi donavit ad usus elemosinæ monachorum prædictorum. Dedi insuper monachis meis prædictis villulam quæ vocatur Orlaveschote, et quinque hidas terræ ad eam pertinentes liberam et absolutam de siris, de hundredis, placitis, quærelis, auxiliis, consuetudinibus, serviciis secularibus, universis demandis et omnibus exactionibus quas mens humana scit vel sciet, potest vel poterit imposterum cogitare. Dedi nichilominus monachis præfatis aliud manerium nomine Spedeburi cum tota villa, terris, nemoribus, pratis, pasturis, ripariis, molendinis, hominibus, eorum servitiis, capitagiis, redditibus, et omnibus dicto manerio et villæ spectantibus, liberum et absolutum de siris, de sectis, de hundredis, placitis, quærelis, auxiliis, consuetudinibus, servitiis secularibus et omni angaria regali cum soch. sacc. thol. thif, infongenethif, cum omnibus aliis libertatibus. Ista omnia præscripta ego Robertus comes prædictus dedi Deo et ecclesiæ et monachis prædictis tenenda, possidenda, et habenda sicut liberiùs, tranquilliùs, et honorificentiùs aliqua elemosina in regno Angliæ dari potest vel teneri. Et ne aliquis in posterum donationibus meis, caritatis intuitu factis, ausu temerario audeat contraire, præsentem cartam prædictis monachis tradidi sigilli mei impressione munitam, præsentibus domino Cantuar. archiepiscopo, domino Eborum archiepiscopo, dominis Sarebur. Norwyc. Coventren. episcopis, dominis Gloverniæ, Sarebur. del Perche, de Moritone, de Warwyk comitibus, et aliis baronibus, militibus, clericis, nobilibus, et liberis hominibus quampluribus. Nos autem donationem, &c. confirmamus, &c. Dat. per manum nostram apud Westm. xxvij. die Aprilis.

Priory of Haghe, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Hagh, Halgh, or Howghe on the Mount, in the deanry and hundred of Loveden in Kesteven. He says, About A.D. 1164, King Henry the Second gave the manor here to the Abbey of St. Mary de Voto at Cherburgh in Normandy (which was founded by his mother the Empress Maud and himself), so that here was an Alien Priory or some Austin Canons subordinate to that foreign Monastery. This Cell, valued at 20*l.* per annum, was seized into the King's hands, and granted by King Richard the Second, during the wars, first to the Priory of Spittle on the Street in this county, and after to the Carthusians of St. Ann's near Coventry. It was restored, 1st Henry IVth, to Cherburgh, but was, with the rest of the Alien Priories, totally suppressed in the next reign, and granted, 9th Hen. Vth, to the Priory of Mountgrace in Yorkshire, and, as parcel thereof, was granted to John Lord Russel, 33 Hen. VIIIth.[b]

Et sunt in dicto manerio trecentæ sexaginta et decem acræ terræ arabilis, quarum duæ partes sunt seminabiles per annum, videlicet, ducentæ quadraginta sex acræ, et duæ partes unius acræ: de quibus quinquaginta sex acræ, et duæ partes unius acræ, valent quælibet duodecim denar. per annum, anno quo seminantur, et sexaginta et decem acræ valent per annum quælibet acra sex denar. anno quo seminantur, et centum et viginti acræ terræ valent quælibet acra quatuor denarios per annum, anno quo seminantur. Et tertia pars dictæ terræ, videlicet, centum viginti tres acræ terræ, et tertia pars unius acræ, quæ jacent warrect nihil valent quia jacent in communi.

Et dicunt quod ecclesia de Hagh, quæ taxabatur temporibus prædictis ad viginti sex libras, tresdecem solidos, et quatuor denarios, non valet hiis diebus nisi viginti libras. Juratores requisiti si prior de Hagh, vel prædecessores sui, aliqua alia terras vel tenementa præter manerium, et ecclesiam et tenementa prædicta habuerunt, necnè; dicunt quod non. Et quoad elemosinas dicunt quod dictus prior nullas elemosinas ibidem facere, seu sustentare tenetur. Sed dicunt quod H. quondam rex Angliæ, progenitor regis nunc, dedit manerium et ecclesiam prædicta abbati et conventui de Cæsaris Burgo in Normannia, quam abbatiam prædictus H. fundavit de uno abbate et viginti quatuor canonicis in eadem divina pro animabus ipsius H. et hæredum suorum imperpetuum celebraturis. Et in subventionem sustentationis eorundem, dedit prædictis abbati et conventui manerium et ecclesiam prædicta in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, in proprios usus imperpetuum possidendam. Ita quod proficua manerii et ecclesiæ prædictæ, ultra sustentationem unius prioris, et socii sui capellani, divina in prioratu prædicto pro animabus prædictis imperpetuum celebraturorum, nomine apporti quolibet anno præfatis abbati et conventui in subventionem sustentationis suæ prædictæ, ut prædictum est, solverentur. Qui quidem socius, dicti prioris capellanus, causâ inopiæ dicti prioratus, ammovetur, et etiam prædictum apportum præfato abbati et conventui subtrahitur, à tempore captionis prædictorum manerii, et ecclesiæ in manu domini regis: per quod credunt cantarias prædictas, pro magnâ parte subtrahi, in abbatiâ prædictâ. Et juratores dicunt, quod est ibidem unum molendinum ventriticum antiquum fractum, nec potest reparari causâ prædictâ. Dicunt etiam quod dictus prior omnes arbores, infra manerium et prioratum prædictum crescentes, pro firmâ suâ, et aliis debitis ad opus domini regis levandis, succidi et vendi, et multas alias venditiones et destructiones, videlicet stauri dicti manerii, et bladi præ manibus, ex hac causa, necessario fecit; ita quod nihil exnunc remanet in manu dicti prioris in sustentationem sui, et hospitalitatem prioratus prædicti, et solutionem firmæ suæ, nisi tantum Gaymaria manerii prædicti, cum proficuis prænominatis, et ecclesia supradicta. In cujus rei testimonium huic inquisitioni juratores prædicti sigilla sua apposuerunt.

Alien Priory of Hinckley, in Leicestershire.

THIS was an Alien Priory for two Benedictine monks belonging to the Abbey of Lyra in Normandy. Tanner says it was given to Lyra by Robert Blanchmaines, Earl of Leicester, before A.D. 1173. Nichols, who has gone more minutely into its History, ascribes this foundation to Hugh Grentesmainell the elder. Mr. Nichols has also printed an Extent of the Possession of this House, taken in 1380.[a] This House had the fate of all the Alien Cells of being often seized during the wars with France, and at length was wholly suppressed in the Parliament of Leicester, 2 Hen. V. Hinckley had been given for a time to the Carthusian Priory of Mountgrace in Yorkshire by King Richard the Second, and was wholly annexed to the same by King Henry the Fifth. After the dissolution of Mountgrace it was granted to the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, Aug. 5th, 34th Hen. VIIIth, who still enjoy it.

The following are the Names which have come down of the PRIORS of Hinckley. Richard de Capella, pres. 1225. John de Capella, 1231. Richard de Paceio, 1234. Peter Lumbard, pres. 1236. William de Aquila, 1244. Hugh de Winton, 1246. Gilbert. Adam de Trungeto, 17 kal. May, 1268. Richard de Audrey, 11 kal. May, 1271. Nicholas Byrnet, 5 id. Aug. 1271. William de Avena, 1289. Hervey de Alneto, 1289. Rayner de Jarieta, 7 kal. Oct. 1300. Matth. de Puteo, 3 kal. Mart. 1310. Henry de Puy, 10 kal. Jun. 1319. Michael Aufri, 1399.

Nichols says there are more than a hundred acres of land in Hinckley called the Priory closes, part of the possessions of the Dean and Chapter of Westminster.

Priory of Horkesleigh, or Horsley, in Glocestershire.

ROGER DE MONTGOMERY Earl of Shrewsbury, in the time of William the Conqueror, endowed the Abbey of St. Martin, which he had founded at Troarn in Normandy, with the manor of Horsley; and here were settled a Prior and Monks dependent on that foreign Monastery, till the Priory and Convent of Bruton in Somersetshire gave some lands which they had in France to the Abbat and Convent of Troarn in exchange for this and other estates in England, and then Horsley became a Cell to Bruton,[b] but afterward was quite dissolved, having neither Prior nor Canon; however, it continued parcel of the estate of Bruton Monastery, and as such was granted, 7th Edw. VIth, to Sir Walter Dennys.[c]

Priory of Alberbury, or Abberbury, in Shropshire.

LELAND, in his Collectanea, vol. i. p. 231, ascribes the foundation of this Abbey to Guarine, sheriff of Shropshire, and says it was "caullid the new Abbey." Tanner says it was founded in the time of Henry the First, for Black monks of the Order of Grandmont in Limosin. The charters here given by Dugdale ascribe the foundation to Fulk the son of Guarine, which would place it in the reign of Henry the Second. Alberbury was suppressed among the Alien Priories, and bestowed by King Henry the Sixth, in the nineteenth year of his reign, at the request of Henry Chichele, archbishop of Canterbury, upon All Souls College in Oxford.[a]

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Thomas Corbeth salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me pro salute animæ meæ, et antecessorum et successorum meorum dedisse, concessisse, et præsenti scripto meo confirmâsse in perpetuum omne donum quod Fulco filius Warini dedit et cartâ suâ confirmavit fratribus ordinis Grandimontis in terrâ suâ de Alberbury juxta Sabrinam ad domum eorundem fratrum ædificandam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et etiam terram quæ vocatur Pakenhale cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. Salvo mihi et hæredibus meis omni servitio quod prædictus Fulco et hæredes sui mihi et hæredibus meis debent de prædictâ terra de Alberbury, una cum tota eschaeta quæ mihi et hæredibus meis in sede earundem domorum possit accidere. Concessi insuper et præsenti scripto meo quietum clamavi iisdem fratribus in perpetuum, pro me et hæredibus meis, totum jus et clamium quod habui vel habere potui in advocatione illarum duarum prebendarum in ecclesiâ de Alberbury, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quarum unam Robertus Corbeth pater meus Willielmo, et alteram Hugoni Corbeth dedit, terrâ de Alberbury tunc temporis existente in manu prædicti Roberti, sicut sua escaeta. Ut ergo hæc mea donatio, concessio, confirmatio, et quieta clamatio, pro me et hæredibus meis, in perpetuum firmæ fidelitatis stabilitatem optineat, nisi si quid de sede dictarum domorum cum pertinentiis casu contingente possit accidere mihi et hæredibus meis in escaetam: præsenti scripto sigilli mei impressionem apposui. Priory of Levenestre, in Sussex.

TANNER calls this Priory Levenestre, Leveminstre, Leominster, Lulleminster, or Lymister. It was for Benedictine Nuns, a Cell to the Nunnery of Almanesche in Normandy, which was founded by Roger de Montgomery earl of Arundel in the time of William the Conqueror. Hence, says Tanner, it is probable that that earl, or one of his sons, gave the church of this place and other lands hereabout to that foreign Monastery, which might give occasion for fixing a Convent of those Nuns in this place before the year 1178. After the wars with France, Richard earl of Arundel, 7th Ric. II., treated with the Abbess of Almanesches concerning the purchase of some lands belonging to this Alien Priory, but the whole seems to have been settled upon Eton College by King Henry the Sixth. Speed says it was dedicated to St. Mary Magdalene. The Eton College deeds say to the Virgin Mary.[a]

IN DEVONSHIRE.

KING WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR gave the manor of Otterton to the Monks of St. Michael in Periculo Maris in Normandy, who, at a time somewhat later, appear to have had a Cell here of Black Monks to their Abbey. From a Patent of the 5th Edw. III. it appears that King John founded this Priory for four Monks, and that he granted to it the manors of Sidmouth and Budleigh; in consideration of which the monks were obliged to distribute to the poor, every week, the value of sixteen shillings in bread, for ever.

Mr. Oliver, in his "Historic Collections relating to the Monasteries in Devon," says, "A Custumale, containing an Account of the customs and rents of this Priory, was digested by Gaufrid, a monk of St. Michael's Monastery, A. D. 1260. It is probably the same work which Bishop Tanner entitles 'Collectiones, &c., in the possession of John Anstis, Esq., Garter King of Arms,' and is now the property of the rev. Duke Yonge, of Cornwood, in this county." From this MS., and from the Registers of the See of Exeter, Mr. Oliver obtained the following List of the PRIORS of OTTERTON: Nicholas, who occurs A. D. 1213; Henry; William de Kernit, 1220; William Turbeville occurs 1227; Ralph Underwin; John, 1257; Gaufrid, 1260; William de Pratellis, adm. 1266; Richard Jordan, 10th April, 1276; Robert Lovel, 27th April, 1310; Robert de Albo, Sept., 1316; Orgerius Bueys, adm. July, 1319; Thomas Sedile, 30th May, 1352; Thomas Paga, 19th August, 1393; Robert Magne, 30th Sept. 1403.[a]

Mayne was probably the last Prior, as Otterton was suppressed in 1414. After the Suppression, Otterton was given, 1st Edw. IVth, to the Monastery of Sion. Tanner says, perhaps King Edward the Fourth only confirmed the grant of King Henry the Sixth, who is said by Risdon, vol. i. p. 34, to have given it to Sion.

When this Priory was seized by King Edward the Third, it was farmed at 120*l.* per annum. In the 26th Hen. VIIIth, it was valued, as parcel of Sion, at 87*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.* per annum. In the 31st Hen. VIIIth, the Site was granted to Richard Duke, with whose descendants it continued till 1785, when it was purchased by Denys Rolle, Esq., the father of Lord Rolle, the present owner.[b]

Arms of Monasteries and other Religious Houses,

ALIEN PRIORIES

IN

CHIEFLY OF THE

ORDER OF ST. BENEDICT.

ALIEN PRIORIES, says Mr. Nichols, were Cells of the Religious Houses in England which belonged to Foreign Monasteries: for when manors or tithes were given to foreign Convents, the monks, either to increase their own rule, or rather to have faithful stewards of their revenues, built a small Convent here for the reception of such a number as they thought proper, and constituted Priors over them. Within these Cells there was the same distinction as in those Priories which were Cells subordinate to some great Abbey; some of these were conventual, and having Priors of their own choosing, thereby became entire societies within themselves, and received the revenues belonging to their several Houses for their own use and benefit, paying only the ancient apport, acknowledgement, or obvention, at first the surplusage to the foreign House; but others depended entirely on the foreign Houses, who appointed and removed their Priors at pleasure. These transmitted all their revenues to the foreign head Houses; for which reason their estates were generally seized to carry on the wars between England and France, and restored to them again on return of peace.

These Alien Priories were, most of them, founded by such as had foreign Abbies founded by themselves or by some of their family.

The whole number is not exactly ascertained; Dugdale gives a list of one hundred; Weever says, a hundred and ten. In the present Portion of the Monasticon the Reader will find an Account of considerably more than a hundred and twenty.

Some of these Cells were made indigenous or denizen. Instances of this kind have already occurred among the Benedictine Monasteries.

The Alien Priories were first seized by Edward the First, 1285, on the breaking out of the war between France and England; and it appears from a Roll, that Edward II. also seized them, though this is not mentioned by our Historians: and to these the Act of Restitution, 1 Edw. III., seems to refer.[a]

In 1337 King Edward the Third confiscated their estates, and let out the Priories themselves with all their lands and tenements, at his pleasure, for twenty-three years;[b] at the end of which term peace being concluded between the two nations, he restored their estates, A.D. 1361.[c] At other times he granted their lands, or lay pensions out of them to divers noblemen.[d] They were also sequestered during Richard the Second's reign, and the Head Monasteries abroad had the King's licence to sell their lands to other Religious Houses here, or to any particular persons who wanted to endow others.[e]

King Henry the Fourth began his reign with shewing some favour to the Alien Priories, restoring all the conventual ones, only reserving to him in time of war what they paid in time of peace to the Foreign Abbies.[f]

They were all dissolved by Act of Parliament, 2 Henry V., and their estates vested in the Crown, except some lands granted to the College of Fotheringhay.

The Act of Dissolution is not printed in the Statute Books, but is to be found entire in Rymer's Fœdera, vol. ix. p. 283, and in the Parliament Rolls. It will be found appended to the present Account.

In general these lands were appropriated to religious uses.

Henry the VIth endowed his foundations at Eton and Cambridge with the lands of the Alien Priories, in pursuance of his father's design to appropriate them all to a noble College at Oxford.

Others were granted in fee to the prelates, nobility, or private persons.[a]

Such as remained in the Crown were granted by Henry the Sixth, 1440, to Archbishop Chichley, &c. and they became part of his and the royal foundation.[b]

De asportatis Religiosorum.

Priory of Lewesham, in Kent.

ELTHRUDE, niece to King Alfred, gave the manor of Lewesham to the Abbeyof St. Peter at Ghent in Flanders many years before the Conquest, upon which it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that House. After the suppression of the Alien Priories, King Henry the Fifth made this House a part of the endowment of his new erected Carthusian Priory at Shene, A.D. 1414.

The Prior of Lewesham is mentioned in records of the time of Kings Henry II. and III. This Priory paid a yearly pension or acknowledgement of 40*s.* to the Abbey of Ghent as its superior.

Carta Regis Edwardi (dicti Confessoris) Levesham in Cantio, cum diversis Terris et Maneriis eidem pertinentibus, Ecclesiæ S. Petri de Gant, confirmans.

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, ego Edw. Anglorum Dei gratia basileus, omnibus post me futuris regibus, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, vicecomitibus, omnibusque baronibus, ac ministris, cunctisque præsentibus et futuris, salutem, et hujus rei notitiam. Summum in regibus ac principibus bonum est, justiciam Dei colere et ecclesiarum quieti prospicere, et de illarum perpetua securitate sollerter tractare; quia, qui eam exaltant et honorant, cum ea et in ea, et per eam exaltantur, et honorantur. Et quoniam in locis plurimis inquietudines, plurimas molestias, persecutiones, scandala, atque gravamina monachos à nonnullis pertulisse cognovimus, decet ut nostræ excellentiæ regia provisio de ipsorum ventura quiete, salubri meditetur dispositione, ut in ipsis manentes tranquilla mente in servitute, Dei ipsius subveniente gratia, permaneant: undè præsentes et posteri sciant universi, quod antiqui gloriosi reges, Aelwredus, viz. et Edwardus filius ejus, ecclesiam S. Petri de Gant, quæ in monte Blandinio ita et animo affectare diligerunt, honoraverunt; et donationem illam, Levesham[a] scil. cum omnibus sibi pertinentiis, quam Elthrudis præfati Elfredi neptis ecclesiæ eidem liberè contulit, regia concessione, et libertate perpetua munierunt: Quorum boni operis intentione perpendens ne eorum statuta unquam ducantur in irritum, aut ullis (quod absit) posteris turbentur temporibus, ego quidem hujus libertatis patrocinator, donis eorum favens, pro eorum et mea omniumque successorum meorum regum, atque Baldwini comitis, cognati mei; necnon et omnium fidelium prosperitate et salute, Deo et beato apostolo Petro, pio fautori nostro, et abbati Richardo monachisque præfatæ ecclesiæ de Gant concedo, atque mea regia auctoritate confirmo manerium de Levesham, cum omnibus sibi pertinentibus, viz. Greenewic, Wulewic, Modingeham, atque Cumbe; et cum vallibus etiam in Andreda eisdem maneriis adjacentibus; scilicet Aeshchore, Aeffehaga, Thingindene, Scarendene, Sandhewsce; et cum ecclesiis, cimiteriis, decimis, redditibus, in campis et silvis, in pratis et pascuis, in aquis et paludibus, in piscariis et piscationibus, in molendinis et in omnibus suis appendiciis. Præterea addidi loco illi prælibato infra Londoniam, partem terræ de terra illa, viz. quæ Werman, Echer, Anglicè nuncupatur, cum huervo eidem terræ pertinenti; et cum omnibus rectitudinibus et consuetudinibus, quæ ad illam pertinent. Concedo eis etiam in omnibus terris suis prænominatis, consuetudines hic Anglicè scriptas, scil. infangenetheof, mondbruce, mischenninge, uthleaw, ferdwite, wearwite, blodwite, hleastyng, sceawing, hamsocne, forstall, aliasque omnes leges et consuetudines, quæ ad me pertinent. Donavi etiam Richardo religioso abbati et omnibus futuris post eum, . . . ibidem abbatibus, et fratribus ejusdem loci, in omni prædicta monasterii possessione, sacam et socam, theolondumque suum in terra, et in aqua, et consuetudine, quæ dicitur teames, latrones, latronumque captiones vel emissiones, et pacis fracturam, et pugnam in domo factam, et domus invasionem, et omnes assultus in suo jure, in via et extra, in festo et extra, in urbe et extra, in aqua et extra, tam plenè, et tam liberè sicut eas habebam in manu mea. Nullus itaque unquam graventur oneribus expedicionum nec pontium vel castrorum restructione, nec regalium sive episcopalium ministrorum exactione,

Defendo insuper, et ex nomine sanctæ Trinitatis prohibeo, ut nullus regum succedentium, episcoporum, principum, comitum, vicecomitum, procuratorum, sive aliorum regum clientium, vel episcoporum ministrorum, pastum, censum, vel inpensionem, seu aliud quodlibet, ab ecclesia illa, vel à terris præscriptis ad eam pertinentibus, per vim aut per consuetudinem exigat, sed omnimodam libertatem mea regia corroboratione perpetualiter possideant, quatinus ipsa religiosa concio, pro remedio animæ meæ, et successorum meorum regum Angliæ, omniumque benefactorum ejusdem ecclesiæ, ac fidelium salute, pervigiles persolvat deprecationes, oleumque bonæ actionis, more sapientium virginum sub habitu religionis servans Christo Domino et ejus beato apostolo Petro indefessè deserviat. Siquis autem contra hanc auctoritatis nostræ paginam senserit, quicunque ille fuerit, cujuscunque ætatis, vel potestatis, gradus, et ordinis, et eam infringere voluerit, vel alios ad hoc conduxerit, unusquisque pro seipso libras v. partibus S. Petri persolvat, et quicquid exindè fiscus noster in murdris, geldis, danegeldis, omnibusque aliis rebus, vel stipendiis, quæ in terris illis surrexerint, ad partem nostram sperare poterat in luminaribus, sive fratrum ipsius monasterii victus aminiculis perenniter per nostra oracula ad integrum sit concessum, atque indultum. Quicunque successorum meorum hanc donationis libertatem firmiter atque inviolabiliter custodierit, æterna coronetur claritate, cœlestisque regni perfruatur fœlicitate: Si quis verò eam (quod absit) destruere voluerit, sive eandem possessionem à donatione et servicio sæpedictæ ecclesiæ et abbatum ejusdem loci, et monachorum, subtrahere conatus fuerit, vel per partes, quasi hæreditatis jure auferre præsumpserit, sicut contradictor et convulsor hujus nostri decreti, ac temerator, cum Juda traditore Domini, æterno anathemati subjaceat, nisi Deo et beato suo apostolo Petro digna pœnitentia satisfecerit. Non enim superiorem, vel inferiorem aliquem decet hominem illud sibi in jus hæreditatis vendicare, quod per regiam corroborationem ad illud, cujus esse debeat, provida ratione fuerit redactum.

of Moreton and Cornwall, to the Abbey of St. Michael in Periculo Maris, in Normandy. His charter stands second in the Apendix.[a]

The following entry relating to the property of St. Michael's Priory, in Cornwall, occurs in the Domesday Survey:

"TERRA SANCTI MICHAELIS. Ecclesia S. Michaelis tenet Treiwal. Brismar tenebat tempore regis Edwardi. Ibi sunt ii. hidæ quæ nunquam geldaverunt. Terra est viii. car. Ibi est i. car. cum uno villano et ii. bord. et x. acr. pasturæ. Val. xx. solid. De hiis ii. hid. abstulit comes Moriton. i. hidam. Val. xx. sol."[b]

Charters of Edmund Earl of Cornwall, Alan Earl of Bretagne, Richard King of the Romans, and Conan Duke of Bretagne, with a confirmatory Bull from Pope Adrian, in 1155, to this House, are preserved by Dugdale.

Oliver, in his Historic Collections relating to the Monasteries in Devon, p. 147, gives the following List of PRIORS of ST. MICHAEL'S MOUNT: RALPH DE CARTERET, adm. Dec. 21, 1260. RICHARD PERER, April 11th, 1275. GEOFFREY DE GERNON, July 8th, 1283. PETER DE CARA VILLA, Sept. 12th, 1316. JOHN HARDY, Oct. 3rd, 1349. JOHN DE VOLANT, April 24th, 1362. RICHARD AUNCELL, Dec. 7th, 1385. WILLIAM LAMBERT, Oct. 1st. 1410.

After the Suppression of the Alien Priories, this House was given, first, by King Henry the Sixth to King's College, Cambridge, and afterward by King Edward the Fourth to the Nunnery of Syon, in Middlesex.[c] Tanner says, At the first seizure of it by King Edward the Third, the farm of it was rated at 10*l.* per annum; but in the time of King Henry the Eighth, the lands belonging to this House, as parcel of Syon, were valued at 110*l.* 12*s.* 0½*d.* per annum.

[Ex ipso autographo apud S. Michaelem in Normannia.]

Carta Edmundi comitis Cornubiæ, Donationes Ricardi Patris sui Monachis S. Michaelis de Monte, in Cornubia, recitans et confirmans.

[Ex regist. Cartarum Prioratus S. Mich. de Monte, penès Will. comitem Sarum, f. 3 b.]

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Edmundus claræ memoriæ Ricardi regis Alemanniæ filius, et comes Cornubiæ, salutem in Domino. Noveritis nos inspexisse cartam prædicti patris nostri, quam fecit priori et monachis S. Michaelis, in Cornubia, in hæc verba. Omnibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Ricardus comes Pictaviæ et Cornubiæ salutem. Noveritis me dedisse, et præsenti carta mea confirmâsse, pro me et hæredibus meis, priori et monachis S. Michaelis in Cornubia ibidem Deo servientibus, pro animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum, totam terram in mora mea de Goenhib, hiis metis inclusam; videlicet à divisa quæ se extendit à villa de Roswik, ad terram de Trurabo; et ita usque ad viam propè Crucaresken; et indè usque ad Bonesdu; et de Bonesdu usque ad Ponsdonfili; et indè usque ad Grelenbesels, usque ad magnam viam Grudgdrahenot; et indè usque ad Grugkennywol; et indè sicut divisa se extendit inter Crunent et Polkere. Habendum et tenendum sibi in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, quietam et solutam ab omni servicio seculari; et ad majorem securitatem præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione feci roborari. Hiis testibus, venerabili viro A. abbate Belli-loci Regis, Andrea de Cancellis, Widone de S. Amando, Johanne filio Thomæ, Petro Brettone, Ric. de Poncherdone, Roberto de Eschalers, et aliis.

Inspeximus etiam aliam cartam prædicti patris nostri in hæc verba. Omnibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Ricardus comes Pictaviæ et Cornubiæ salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, me dedisse et concessisse, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse, intuitu caritatis, pro me et hæredibus meis, priori de Monte S. Michaelis in Cornubia, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, decem solidatas redditus, quos Willielmus de Walebreaus mihi annuatim reddere consuevit pro nundinis S. Jacobi, extra eundem montem; habendum eisdem priori et monachis liberè et pacificè; et percipiendum de eodem Willielmo de Walesbreaus et hæredibus suis annuatim, sicut illos percipere consuevit. Et quia volo, quod hæc mea donatio perpetuæ firmitatis robur optineat, præsens scriptum sigillo meo signatum produxi in testimonium. Hiis testibus, dominis Andrea de Cardinan, Willielmo de .... Andrea de cancellis, Waltero de Turri, Waltero de Therbyn, tunc temporis vicecomite Cornubiæ, Odone Taerbyn filio suo, et aliis.

Nos autem prædictas donationes, concessiones, et confirmationes ratas et gratas habentes, eas pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, concedimus et confirmamus, sicut prædictæ cartæ præfati patris nostri rationabiliter testantnr. Præterea concedimus et præsenti scripto nostro confirmamus Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et S. Michaeli, ac priori et monachis Montis S. Michaelis, in Cornubia, quantum in nobis est, quod habeant et teneant Montem S. Michaelis, cum dicta hida terræ, cum suis pertinentiis, ita soluta et quieta, ac libera ab omnibus consutudinibus, querelis, et placitis, sicut recolendæ memoriæ Robertus comes Moritoniæ unquam ea tenuit. Et quod habeant et teneant tres acras terræ in Manael, Trurabo, Lesmanaek, Trerravers, Carnelel, ita quietè et liberè ab omnibus placitis et querelis, atque forisfactis, sicut præfatus Robertus comes Moritoniæ illam unquam tenuit, cum suis omnibus pertinentiis. Concessimus eisdem priori et monachis, quod cum domus sua prædicti montis, per cessionem vel decessum prioris, qui pro tempore fuerit, ad custodiam nostram fuerit devoluta, omnis exitus de toto tempore vacationis ipsius prioratus, integrè reserventur futuro priori liberandas, in utilitatem prædictæ prioratus convertendum, sine ullo impedimento nostri vel hæredum nostrorum. Salvis tamen custodi nostro dicti prioratus rationabilibus sustentationibus suis, tempore vacationis, sicut hominem petitem decet. In cujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum nostrum apponi fecimus Hiis testibus, dominis Willielmo de Camvile, Henr. le Tyes, Will. de Botreaux, Willielmo de Bereford, Reginaldo de Botreaux, Tho. Kent, Ric. de Hiwys, et aliis. Data apud Rostormel xxx. die Decembris, anno regni regis Edwardi filii regis Henrici xix.

Decernimus ergo, ut nulli omnino hominum liceat supradictum monasterium temerè perturbare, aut ejus possessiones auferre, vel ablatas retinere vel minuere, seu quibuslibet vexationibus fatigare; sed illibata omnia integrè observentur eorum, pro quorum libertate et sustentatione concessa sunt, usibus omnimodis profutura; salva nimirùm apostolicæ sedis auctoritate, et diœcesanorum episcoporum canonica justicia. Si qua igitur in futurum ecclesiastica, secularisve persona, hanc nostræ constitutionis paginam, sciens contra eam temerè venire tentaverit, secundò tertiovè commonitus, nisi præsumptionem suam congrua satisfactione correxerit, potestatis, honorisque sui dignitate careat, reamque se divino judicio existit de perpetrata iniquitate cognoscat; et à sacratissimo corpore et sanguine Dei et Domini nostri Jesu Christi aliena fiat; atque in extremo examine districtæ ultioni subjaceat. Cunctis autem eidem loco suum jus servantibus, sit pax Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatinus et hic fructum bonæ actionis percipiant, et apud districtum judicem præmia æternæ pacis inveniant. Amen.

Priory of Mercy, or West Meresey, in Essex.

TANNER says, "The Monks of St. Audoen at Roan in Normandy had this manor by the gift of King Edward the Confessor, upon which were settled here a Convent of Benedictines, and it became a Cell to that foreign Abbey. It was probably dedicated to St. Peter. Upon the dissolution of Alien Priories, King Henry the Fifth granted this to Henry Chichely archbishop of Canterbury, who made it part of the endowment of the Collegiate Church by him founded at Higham-Ferrers in Northamptonshire, the place of the nativity of that worthy prelate; and as parcel of the possessions of that College, it was granted, 34th Hen. VIII., to Robert Dacres, Esq.[a]

Rex dilecto et fideli suo Simoni de Bereford, escaetori suo citra Trentam, salutem. Cum nuper certiorari volentes super causa captionis prioratus de Mersey, qui est cella abbatiæ sancti Audoeni Rothomagensis, per vos, ut dicebatur, in manum nostram, vobis mandaverimus, quod nos de causa illa sub sigillo vestro distinctè et apertè redderetis certiores. Ac vos nobis retornaveritis, quod maneria de Mersey, Fyngrynho, et Peet, cum dimidio hundredo de Wenestre in comitatu Essex, sunt temporalia abbatiæ de S. Audoeno in Normannia, de dono progenitorum nostrorum; et quod custodia inde temporibus vacationum abbatiæ prædictæ ad nos debet pertinere, sicut ex testimonio fide dignorum intellexistis. Et quia abbatia illa per mortem Radulfi nuper abbatis ibidem vacavit, nec constabat vobis quòd abbas qui nunc est, seu Willielmus de Reel, prior prioratus prædicti et procurator ipsius abbatis in Anglia, satisfecerunt nobis de exitibus vacationis illius, maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta cepistis in manum nostram nomine districtionis quousque nobis satisfactum fuerit de præmissis. Ac postmodum ex parte ipsius prioris intelligentes, quod prædictus abbas maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta per cartas progenitorum nostrorum quondam regum Angliæ tenet in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, absque aliquo servicio inde faciendo; et quod eadem maneria et hundredum, vacante abbatia prædicta per mortem alicujus abbatis loci illius, in manus alicujus progenitorum nostrorum, aliquibus temporibus retroactis, nomine custodiæ capta seu seisita non fuerunt; et quod aliqui progenitorum nostrorum prædictorum exitus seu proficua aliqua inde prætextu alicujus vacationis abbatiæ prædictæ nullatenus perceperunt; volentes inde certiorari vobis mandaverimus, quod per sacramentum proborum et legalium de balliva vestra per quos rei veritas meliùs sciri posset, diligenter inquireretis utrum maneria et hundredum illa, temporibus vacationum abbatiæ illius per mortem alicujus abbatis loci prædicti, in manus alicujus progenitorum nostrorum, ratione vacationis hujusmodi, exitus et proficua aliqua inde perceperunt necne, et si sic tunc quo tempore et per cujus abbatis mortem, et si aliqui progenitorum nostrorum ratione vacationis hujusmodi exitus et proficua aliqua inde perceperunt. Ac per inquisitionem inde de mandato nostro per vos sic captam, et in cancellaria nostra retornatam, compertum sit, quod prædictus abbas tenet in comitatu Essex prioratum prædictum, ac maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta, de dono sancti Edwardi quondam regis Angliæ, et ex confirmatione regis Willielmi et Henrici filii imperatricis, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, absque aliquo alio servicio inde faciendo. Et quod prioratus seu maneria et dimidium hundredum prædicta, ratione alicujus vacationis abbatiæ prædictæ in manus aliquorum progenitorum nostrorum capta seu seisita non fuerunt, et quod iidem progenitores nostri exitus aut proficua aliquo tempore inde non perceperunt, vobis mandamus, quod de prioratu, maneriis, seu hundredo prædictis, si præmissa occasione et non alia in manu nostra existant vos ulteriùs non intromittatis, exitussi quos inde percepistis, præfato priori restituentes. Priory of Andover, in Hampshire.

THE Church of St. Mary of Andover, with a hide of land, several rents, &c. having been given by King William the Conqueror to the Abbey of St. Florence at Salmur in Anjou, it became a Cell to that Monastery. It was with other Alien Priories seized into the King's hands during the wars with France, temp. Edw. III., but restored 1 Hen. IV., and finally dissolved by the Statute 2 Hen. V., in which same year it was granted to the College of St. Mary near Winchester, and confirmed by King Edward the Fourth.[a]

Nicholas Gwyn, prior of Andover, occurs in Cowel's Law Interpreter under the word Appertum.

Andeverense Cœnobium, in agro Hantoniensi, Cella S. Florentii apud Salmurum.

Charta Guilielmi Conquestoris dicti recensita, et confirmata.

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus literas patentes domini Edwardi nuper regis Angliæ avi nostri factas in hæc verba. Edwardus Dei gratia rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, et dux Aquitanniæ, omnibus ad quos præsentes literæ pervenerint salutem. Inspeximus cartam quam Willielmus quondam rex Angliæ progenitor noster fecit in hæc verba. Noscant qui sunt et qui venturi sunt, quod Willielmus rex, qui armis Anglicam terram sibi subjugavit, dedit sancto Florentio ecclesiam de Andeura et ea quæ ad ecclesiam pertinent, videlicet j. hydam terræ et xiij. acras et decimas de omni dominio suo quod est in ipsa parochia, hoc est, de annona, de porcellis, de agnis, de caseis, et de proprio pannagio, j. porcum in festa sancti Martini, et paschua xij. boum et equorum, et omnium ovium falde monachorum cum suis pecudibus, et silvam ad calefaciendum monachos, ad panem coquendum, ad cervisiam, ad sepes, ad domos claudendas, et x. porcos in silva sine pannagio. Hæc etiam pertinent ad ipsam ecclesiam. De terra Bernardi, dimidia acra annonæ in augusto, Saiwi iiij^{d}. Wlwinus iiij^{d}. Osmundus iiij^{d}. Ringinus ij^{d}. Toni ij^{d}. Hugo ij^{d}. Sorebert ij^{d}. Wlvinus filius Canæ ij^{d}. Toni iiij^{d}. Alunius ij^{d}. Eldvinus iiij^{d}. Alui ij^{d}. Hunestanus iiij^{d}. Quinstinus de terra sua iiij^{d}. De terra quæ fuit Sanuf. iiij^{d}. Saric de Hadredena iiij^{d}. Etwinus iiij^{d}. Tedricus ij^{d}. Sagardus de Etnam iiij^{d}. Ulvinus filius Punt iiij^{d}. Etninus iiij^{d}. Etninus iiij^{d}. Goldstanus iiij^{d}. Vlunius carpentarius iiij^{d}. Etninus iiij^{d}. Leoninus iiij^{d}. De terra quam Vlunius tenuit de vicecomite iiij^{d}. De terra quam W. tenet de Etnan dimidiam acram annonæ. Eluinus Bidel, de terra sua de Etnan iiij^{d}. De terra quam W. tenet de Clatford, viij^{d}. De terra Tetbaldi de Etnan j. acram de annona, de terra Gisleberti Pipar de Etnan j. acram annonæ. De terra Saals de Etnan dimidiam acram annonæ. De Cerletona de unaquaque virga v. garbas in festo sancti Michaelis. De hominibus Eduardi de Hadredena viij^{d}. Hæc omnia per singulos annos jure redduntur ecclesiæ de Andeura. De hiis omnibus et de domibus monachorum juxta ecclesiam factis Alwricus præpositus Andeuræ multas injurias faciebat monachis, unde contigit, ut Wihenocus sancti Florencii monachus clamorem faceret ad regem Henricum. Tunc rex præcepit Henrico vicecomiti de Hantunsira, et Giraldo præposito Wyncestrensi, ut adunarent hundredum Andeuræ et inquirerent ab eo res quæ ad illam ecclesiam pertinebant, et ita factum est. Tunc hundredum secundum regis imperium adunatum simul concordavit, et super reliquias jurare voluit, quod res superiùs nominatæ à tempore regis Edwardi pertinent ad ecclesiam de Andeura, et terra ecclesiæ ita est soluta, et ab omni querela libera, ut si quis homo aliquid forisfecerit, cujuscunque homo sit, et ad terram sancti, sine districto alicujus potestatis, venire potuerit, sit justitia et emendatio monachorum, excepta corporali vindicta latronum, quæ ad regem respicit. Hoc concordavit hundredum in domo Edwini veteris præpositi in festivitate sanctæ Luciæ; et isti sunt inde testes, Wihenocus monachus, et Herveus, et Petrus. De laicis, Henricus de Port, Giraldus præpositus, Willielmus de Virguel, et Robertus frater ejus, et Nidulf, Hugo de Cormaglo, Robertus, Radulfus de Flexcoco, et Edwardus, Willielmus de Enham, Bernardus forestarius, Wulfun de Clafford, Dunardus capellanus, Segarus clericus. Hæc est concordia quæ facta fuit inter monachos Sancti Florencii et Edwardum de Foscota, de ecclesia de Andeura et de capella de Foscota. Prædictus itaque Edwardus concessit Deo et sanctæ Mariæ de Andeura, totam decimam suam de Dominio suo de Foscota, et de villanis viij^{d}. Ecclesia autem de Andeura inveniet supradictæ capellæ presbyterum, ad serviendum videlicet in tota Quadragesima, et in Adventu, et in xij. diebus natalis Domini, et in viij. diebus Paschæ et Pentecostes, et in quatuor temporibus, et in nominatis festis, et in tribus diebus uniuscujusque ebdomadæ. Pro qua siquidem concessione tam anima ejus quàm parentum suorum et alii benefactores erunt participes orationum congregationis Sancti Florencii. Hæc igitur diffinitio facta fuit ante Henricum vicecomitem et Crocum venatorem. Testantibus Davide et Gozelino avunculo Edwardi, et testibus Stephano archidiacono et Alurico et Malgerio monacho, concedente Willielmo filio Waleranni.

Priory of Wotton Wawen, alias Wallwaynes,

IN WARWICKSHIRE.

ROBERT DE TONEI, says Tanner, alias Stafford, son to Roger de Tonei, standard-bearer of Normandy, gave (not long after the Conquest) the Church of St. Peter,[a] with some lands in this Town, to the Abbey of Castellion, or Conches, in Normandy, founded by his said father, which were confirmed to them by Nicolas de Stafford his son temp. Hen. I. and Robert de Stafford his grandson temp. Hen. II.; and hereupon a Cell of Benedictine Monks from that foreign Monastery was sent over hither, and continued here till the seisures of Alien Priories temp. Edw. III. This was granted 22 Ric. II. to the Priory of St. Anne near Coventry, and afterward, 22 Hen. VI. to the Provost and Scholars of King's College in Cambridge, who still enjoy the same.

Sir William Dugdale has given a detailed Account of this Priory and its possessions in the History of Warwickshire.[b] He has preserved the following Names of PRIORS of this House: ROB. DE PAVILLIACO, 12 cal. Jan. 1285. JOHN DE BROORA, 8 cal. Jun. 1288. WILL. DE LAVERCYE, 8 id. Nov. 1309. JOHN LE TONNELIER, 26 July, 1328. JOHN DE SILVANETO, 2 Jan. 1340. GUILLERINUS PINCHART, "die Mart. post festum Dionysii martyris," 1349. JOHN MAUBERT, 7th March, 1370. JOHN SOVERAIN, 1400. JOH. DE CONCHIS, 17 Jun. 1438. Cole in his MS. Volume xxvii. fol. 96 b. mentions two or three other Priors; PETER DE ALTARIBUS, 1281. WILLIAM DE CHESNEY, 1361. RICHARD PARKER, 1439.

Tanner refers to various charters, bailiffs' accompts, rentals, and other muniments relating to this Priory, in the Treasury of King's College Cambridge, as well as to Dugdale's transcripts from them among his Manuscripts in the Ashmole Museum at Oxford.[c]

ROBERTUS de Stafford, omnibus sanctæ ecclesiæ filiis, tam clericis quàm laicis, et tam præsentibus quàm futuris, salutem. Notum sit vobis, quod concedo, et confirmo, auctoritate mei sigilli, omnes elemosinas quas avus meus Robertus de Toenio, et pater meus Nicolaus de Stafford dederunt apud Wottonam ecclesiæ sancti Petri Castellionis, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, scilicet, ecclesiam de Wottona liberam et quietam et absolutam, cum decimis et oblationibus ejusdem villæ, et cum i. hida quæ adjacet ecclesiæ S. Mariæ, et cum omnibus ad eandem ecclesiam pertinentibus, sine aliquo participe, et cum alia hida quæ vocatur Doversele, et cum x. totius dominii mei de Wottona, tam in plano, quàm in bosco, et in pratis, et in omnibus quæ pater meus dedit eis, cum terra quam ipsi colunt, apud Wotton. Hæc omnia concedo et confirmo prædictæ ecclesiæ imperpetuum tenenda, liberè, quietè, et absolutè, ab omnibus consuetudinibus, quæ mihi pertinent, et quam libertatem ego habeo in Wottonne, et homines mei, eandem libertatem habeant monachi et homines sui in eadem villa, in plano, in bosco, in pratis, in aquis, et in omnibus. Hujus confirmationis sunt testes Robertus filius Pagani, Willielmus de Witeleia et Robertus frater suus, Willielmus de Kyntona, Godefridus Brus, Robertus capellanus, Willielmus filius Roberti, Willielmus filius Lefstani, Robertus filius Eudonis, Nicolaus de Cloptona, Willielmus filius Wimundi, et ex parte monachorum, David, et Walterus clericus, et Willielmus rusticus, tertius frater eorum, et Rogerus Bachelere, et Walterus nepos abbatis. Valete.

NOTIFICETUR universitati fidelium, quod ego Herveus, gratia Dei dominus de Stafford, concedo annuente domina Milisente uxore mea et hæredibus nostris, omnia dona, possessiones, et elemosinas quas Robertus de Tony, et Nicolaus filius suus de Stafford, et Robertus filius ejus dederunt apud Wottonne ecclesiæ sancti Petri Castellionis, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, sicut in cartis eorum continetur; scilicet ecclesiam de Wottonne, &c. ut in charta præcedenti. Sciat etiam omnes, quod ego adquietabo terram ecclesiæ de Wotton, scil. hydam ecclesiæ ejusdem et hydam de Doversele, ab omnibus regalibus servitiis, quæ ab eis injustè exigere solebat dominus Robertus de Stafford, pater uxoris meæ, et de aliis querelis ad me pertinentibus. Hanc libertatem et consuetudinem liberam de me et de hæredibus meis prædictæ ecclesiæ, et omnibus de ea ecclesia tenentibus, concedo in perpetuam elemosinam. Notum etiam sit omnibus, quod concedo Deo, et ecclesiæ sancti Petri Castellionis, molendinum quod est inter Wottonne et Offord, in elemosina per sex solidos annuatim, cum omnibus libertatibus, sicut in tempore predecessorum meorum dominorum de Stafford erant; scilicet in sylva et in aqua, et in campis, et in opere, et in terra. Hæc omnia concedo pro anima patris mei, et matris meæ, et antecessorum meorum dominorum prædictorum de Stafford. Et ut hæc concessio futuris temporibus rata et inviolabilis permaneat sigilli mei impressione confirmavi. Hiis testibus, Willielmi de la Vacherie milite, domino de Conches, Nigello, Petro, Gaufrido famulis meis, Roberto de Offorde, et Roberto filio ejus, Henrico sacerdote, Roberto de Bosco, Symeone carpentario, Willielmo filio Normanni, et quamplurimus aliis.

Priory of Monks Kirby, in Warwickshire.

TANNER calls this an Alien Priory of Benedictine monks to the Abbey of St. Nicholas at Angiers, which owed its original to the large grant of lands and tithes in this and other neighbouring towns, which Gosfred de Wirchia made, A.D. 1077, to that foreign Monastery. This Cell, as well as the head House, was dedicated to St. Nicholas, and after many seisures, during the wars with France, leave was given by the King, 20th Ric. II. to annex the same to the new erected Priory of Carthusians in Axholm near Epworth in Lincolnshire, upon which it was finally settled 3 Hen. V. after it had been restored to the Abbey of Angiers for some little time during the reign of King Henry the Fourth.[a] The annual farm paid at the Exchequer for this Alien Priory, during the time it was in the King's hands, was 40*l.*; but Dugdale mentions an Extent taken 1st Ric. II. of the Estates belonging thereunto, then valued at 220*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* per annum. After the Dissolution, the manor of Monks Kirby with the appurtenances were granted to Charles Duke of Suffolk, but the rectory and tithes in the adjacent villages were made part of the Endowment of Trinity College in Cambridge by King Henry the Eighth anno regni 37.

Alien Priory of Lancaster.

THE Church of St. Mary at Lancaster and certain lands there were given by Earl Roger of Poictiers, A.D. 1094, to the Abbey of St. Martin de Sagio or Sees, in Normandy; whereupon a Prior and five Benedictine Monks were placed here; who, with three priests, two clerks, and servants, made up a small Monastery, subordinate to that foreign House, which was endowed with the yearly revenue of about 80*l.* sterling. After the Dissolution of the Alien Priories, this, with the lands thereunto belonging, was annexed by King Henry the Fifth, or his feoffees, to the Abbey of Syon in Middlesex, to which it continued as a Cell till the general Dissolution.

Several Deeds relating to this Priory are preserved in Madox's Formulare Anglicanum, pp. 52, 55, 100, 270, 313, 358, 372, 375. See also numerous references in Tanner.[a]

REGISTERS of the Alien Cells are not common; a very beautiful REGISTER, however, of LANCASTER PRIORY, written upon eighty leaves of vellum, is preserved in the Harleian Manuscript 3764.[b]

Carta Ric. II. Regis Angliæ plurium Benefactorum Cartas confirmans.

REX omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam Rogeri quondam comitis Pictavensis in hæc verba. In nomine et honore sanctæ ac individuæ Trinitatis. Notum sit omnibus tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quod Rogerus comes Pictavensis, pro salute animæ suæ et pro salute quoque Rogeri Seroberiæ patris sui, matrisque suæ Mabiliæ comitissæ, necnon pro fratribus suis et pro omnibus amicis suis, dedit Deo et sancto Martino ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ de Lanecastro, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, et partem terræ illius villæ à veteri muro usque ad pomerium Godefridi, et usque ad Prestgat, et juxta Lancastrum duas mansiones Audecluna et Neutona, et quæque ad eas pertinentia, nemus quoque usque ad Freibrok, cum dignitate et consuetudinibus quas ipse habebat et Amfridum de Monte Gomerii, et quicquid de supradicto comite tenet, et ecclesiam de Hessenn cum tertia parte totius villæ, et ecclesiam Cotegrave, et ecclesiam de Cropil, et ecclesiam de Wikelay, et ecclesiam Crofton, et medietatem ecclesiæ Aicletone, et ecclesiam Kidewelle, et ecclesiam Prestone, cum decima dominii et piscatoriæ et duabus bovatis terræ et omnibus decimis totius parochiæ, et ecclesiam Kirchehan, et ecclesiam de Mellinges, et ecclesiam Boeltone, cum decima dominii, et medietatem unius caruchæ terræ, et omnibus aliis decimis: dedit etiam Magnum Dernesia Pultona, et quicquid ad eam pertinet, et ecclesiam cum una carucha terræ, et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis.

Præterea dedit decimam venationis et pasnagii omnium nemorum suorum, et decimam suæ piscatoriæ. Concessitque tertium tractum sagenæ sanctæ Mariæ. Insuper dedit decimas pullorum, et vitulorum, et agnorum, et hedorum, et porcorum, et annonæ, et caseorum, et butirorum apud Estaneberiam apud Salfort, et de Derby, et ad Halas, et Ewretonam, et Waletonam, et Crossebeiam, et Molas, et Croftonam, et Prestonam, et Ribi, et Singletonam, et Pressoure, et Mideltonam Overtonam, et Escarton, et Bar, et Stapeturnam, et Asselinas. Hæc omnia dedit ad honorem Dei et sanctæ Mariæ ad victum monachorum qui in eodem monasterio Deo et sanctæ Mariæ officium celebrarent, tam liberaliter quod nulla secularia servicia illi nec suis successoribus monachi nec sui homines aliquo tempore facerent, et nullus suorum super ea potestatem habeat, nec aliquid indè accipiat, nec consuetudines aliquas imponat, quia omnes dignitates et consuetudines quas ipse habuit in sua terra concessit habere monasterio sanctæ Mariæ de Lancastro.

Concessit etiam, si aliquis orationes et beneficium monasterii Lanecastri requirere voluerit, et partem suæ terræ usque ad medietatem ei dederit, comes libentissimè concedit. Et postquam ipse comes concesserit, Godefridus vicecomes hæc audiens dedit decimas de Bischopeham et quicquid habebat in Lancastro, domos, pomerium, et Radulfus Gernet tres homines in Suffolc. Inde testes sunt prædictus comes et filia ejus Sibilla et G. vicecomes et Alb. Gelet, R. filius Roberti, G. Boisell. A. frater ejus, P. de Vileres, Rannmard v. filius Alumæ, Ocui filius Chetel, Ulf filius Torolf, Ranan-chil filius Raghanald.

Inspeximus etiam cartam Johannis quondam comitis Moritoniæ in hæc verba. Johannes comes Moritoniæ omnibus hominibus, et amicis suis, Francis et Anglicis, salutem. Notum sit vobis omnibus me concessisse, et hac presenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et sancto Martino de Sagio ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ de Lancastre cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus. Et partem terræ illius villæ à veteri muro usque ad pomerium Godefridi et usque ad Prestgate. Et juxta Lancastr. duas mansiones, scilicet Aldeclive et quæque ad eam pertinent, et Neutonam per divisas suas coram me perambulatas; videlicet à rivulo illo qui currit inter villam meam Lancastr. et Hospitale leprosorum sancti Leonardi descendens in Lohon, et usque ad rivulum de Frithbroc qui facit divisas infra forestam meam et nemus de Neutona, quod Rogerus Pictavensis dedit ecclesiæ sanctæ Mariæ de Lancastre, et concessit cum dignitate et cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus quas ipse habebat in terra sua. Et Amfridum de Monte Gomerii et quicquid de eodem Rogero Pictavensi tenuit cum terris, et pratis, et pascuis, et stagnis, et molendinis, et rivulis, et propresturis usque in Lon. Et ecclesiam de Hesheim cum tertia parte totius villæ illius. Et ecclesiam de Cotegrave. Et ecclesiam de Cropil. Et ecclesiam de Wychelay. Et ecclesiam de Chidewell, et ecclesiam de Croftona, et medietatem ecclesiæ de Aicliton, et ecclesiam de Prestona cum decima dominii, et piscariæ, et duabus bovatis terræ, et omnibus decimis totius parochiæ, et ecclesiam de Kircham, et ecclesiam de Mellinges, et ecclesiam de Boultona cum decima dominii, et medietatem unius carucatæ terræ in eadem villa, et omnibus aliis decimis in Almondernesse, etiam Pultonam, et quicquid ad eam pertinet, et ecclesiam cum una carucata terræ, et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis. Præterea decimam venationis, et pasnagii, et omnium novalium nemorum meorum, et terrarum, et decimam piscatoriæ. Tertium etiam tractum sagenæ sanctæ Mariæ.

UNIVERSIS, &c. Henricus abbas Sagii, priori et conventui de Lancastria salutem. Noverit universitas vestra quod nos, jus et clamium quod habuimus in ecclesia de Mellinges, Rogero de Monte-begonis, et hæredibus suis, communi assensu, quietum clamavimus; ita quod nec nos, nec successores nostri adversùs ipsum, vel hæredes suos, vel clericum suum, quæstionem inde movebimus. Et prædictus Rogerus, et hæredes sui, et clerici sui totum jus, et clamium quod habuerunt in capella de Guersingham nobis quietum in perpetuum clamaverunt, et nobis quæstionem nunquam movebunt. Concessit etiam prædictus Rogerus quod quicunque in ecclesia prædicta fuerit institutus, jurabit quod duos solidos ad Pascha, ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Lancastria, pro salute animæ ipsius Rogeri, et antecessorum suorum, annuatim caritativè ad luminare persolvet, et supra præfata capella nobis quæstionem nunquam movebit, et nos de prædicta ecclesia nihil ampliùs quàm prædictos duos solidos exegerimus.

D'YUES de Belesme descendit Guillaume de Belesme, du quel descendit Yues de Belesme, evesque de Sees, et Guillaume de Taluas pere de Mabile qui fuit contesse d'Alencon. La quelle le dit Taluas donna a mariage à Roger vicomte de Montgomeri. Desquels Roger et Mabille descendirent cinque fillz, et quatre filles, dunt les noms ensuivent. Robertus, Hugues, Roger, Philippes, et Arnoult. Matilde, Anees, Mabille, et Sibylle. Le dit Roger de Montgomery et Mabille sa femme furent restaurateurs et non les fondateurs de l'abbaye et monastere de S. Martin de Sees, comme il appert par les anciens tiltres et ensegnements de la dit abbaye, &c. De tous les enfans du dit Roger trois seulement ont ausmons quelques choses a la dite abbaye, cestascavoir Robert aisne, Roger et Arnoult.

[Lancastriæ Prioratus.]

Roger donna le prieure de Lancastre en Angleterre come il appert par la chartre du dit Roger, la quelle comence ainsi.

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis. Notum sit omnibus tam posteris quàm præsentibus, quod Rogerius comes cognomine Pictaviensis, anno ab incarnatione Domini MXCIIIJ, pro sua suorumque tam prædecessorum quàm successorum animabus, Domino ac sancto Martino fratribusque in cœnobio Sagiensi et in præsenti et in futuro degentibus, solutè ac quietè imperpetuum ut elemosinam donavit ecclesiam de Lancastre cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus.

Arnoult comte de Pembroch donna a la dite abbaye beaucoup de terres et possessions en son comte de Pembroch, ainsi qu'il est amplement declare par la chartre du dit Arnoult qui comence.

In nomine Patris et Filii et Spiritus Sancti, Amen. Cum multis et frequentibus exemplorum documentis compertum habeatur, omnes hominum actus qui literarum apicibus non mandantur, aut facile à memoria labi, aut in deteriùs depravari. Qualem et quantum Arnulfus, filius Rogerii comitis, vir magnæ probitatis optimique testimonii, erga fratres in cœnobio Sagiensi sub regulari conversatione degentes habuerit amicitiam, omnibus tam posteris quàm præsentibus notum fieri volumus. Anno igitur ab incarnatione Domini MXCVIIJ. indictione vj. cal. Septembris, in capitulo S. Martini Sagii, præsente domino Serlone, ejusdem civitatis episcopo, et domino Radulpho abbate, prædictus vir pro sua suique patris Rogerii, necnon et sui fratris Hugonis comitis, qui eodem anno occisus fuerat, animabus, domino et S. Martino fratribusque in cœnobio Sagiensi tam victuris quàm viventibus inperpetuum solutè et quietè ut elemosinam apud Pembroch quoddam castrum quod in Walis habebat, ecclesiam sancti Nicholai in eodem castro positam, et xx. carucatas terræ, cum omnibus quæ suit homines vel dederant vel daturi prædictæ ecclesiæ erant, donavit.

Robert filz aisne de Roger de Montgomeri eut en son partage les terres deca la mere, tant a cause de son pere que de sa mere, ascavoir Belesme, Alencon, Sees, Berney, et le comte de Montgomery. Il confirma du vivant mesme de son pere toutes les choses que ses pere et mere avoient donnè à la dite abbaie, come il appert per plusieurs chartres signees de son pere et de lui, et principalement par celle qui fait mention de l'election du second abbe du dit monasterie, &c.

Alien Priory of Lodres, in Dorsetshire.

THE manor of Lodres having been given by Benedict or Richard de Redveriis, temp. Hen. I., to the Abbey of Mountsburgh in Normandy, a Cell to that Monastery was established here; Tanner adds, that the abbat of that foreign Monastery, on this account, was a prebendary in the Cathedral Church of Salisbury, and had a house in the Close there. King Richard the Second bestowed this Cell, being then worth 80*l.* per annum, on the Priory of St. Anne near Coventry, during the war between England and France; but 1 Hen. IV. it was restored to its old owners. After the Dissolution of these Houses, temp. Hen. Vth, Lodres was made part of the endowment of Syon Abbey in Middlesex.

More of this Priory will be found in the last Edition of Hutchins's History of Dorset, vol. i. p. 591,[a] where a re he names of four Priors.

Apeldercomb Priory, in the Isle of Wight.

THE manor of Apeldercomb having been given, about the latter end of the reign of King Henry the Third, to the Abbey of St. Mary de Montisburg in Normandy, by Isabella de Fortibus, it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that Monastery, and had the same fate with other Alien Priories, of having its lands seized during the wars with France, and of being dissolved 2 Hen. Vth. After which, in the 30th Hen. VIth, it was given to the Minoresses without Aldgate, and confirmed to them 1st Edw. IVth. Priory of Frampton, in Dorsetshire.

THIS was a Priory of Black Monks, Cell to the Abbey of St. Stephen at Caen in Normandy, to which it was given by King William the Conqueror. During the wars between England and France it was seized with other Alien Priories into the King's hands, and sometimes farmed at one hundred and twenty marks per annum; but upon the suppression of these foreign Houses was given to the Dean and Canons of St. Stephen's, Westminster, as parcel of whose possessions it was granted, 14th Eliz., to Sir Christopher Hatton, who sold it to John Browne, Esq.[b]

Ample details of the History of this House are given in Mr. Gough's Edition of Hutchins's Dorsetshire, vol. i. p. 584. He mentions the following Names and Dates of its PRIORS: William Humez, 1213.[c] Guimund, 1261. Robert. Martin, 25th Edw. I. James de Troarno, 4 id. Nov. 1302. Nich. de Montigny, 24 Nov. 1317. William de Rusca Villa, 29 May, 1329. Laurence de Brioto, 30th Nov. 1335. Nicholas occurs 13th Edw. III. John de Leto, 5th Oct. 1377. Ralph de Nabibus 1st Jan. 1400. These Priors had always institution from the Bishop of Salisbury.

Priory of Swavesey, in Cambridgeshire.

THE Church of St. Andrew at Swavesey, with the tithes thereunto belonging, having been given in the time of William the Conqueror, by Alan le Zouch Earl of Britany, to the Church of St. Sergius and Bachus and St. Briscus at Angiers, it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that Monastery. In 1393, this Priory was conveyed by the Abbat and Convent of St. Sergius and St. Bachus, with the King's permission, to the Carthusian Monks of St. Anne near Coventry, to whom it was confirmed by authority of Parliament in the 6th Hen. IV.[a]

The Site of this Priory, of which there are some small remains on the North side of the Church, was granted with the Priory manor, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, to the bishop of Ely and his successors.

Carta Alani Comitis Britanniæ.

Quoniam generatio præterit et generatio advenit, hac carta notificare decrevimus qualiter comes Alanus Rufus, divina gratia adminiculante, ecclesiæ Christi martyrum Sergii, Bachi, et sancti Brioci ibidem requiescentium, donavit ecclesiam de Swavesey cum tota sepultura, et totis oblationibus, liberam ab omni exactione et servicio, et consuetudine episcopali, sicut eatenùs habuerant et tenuerant, præter sex denarios ad Pascha pro chrismate. Et quando archidiaconus celebraverit synodum, ibit monachus uno dierum quo voluerit, non propter consuetudinem, sed propter archidiaconi amorem et episcopi honorem, et ut præcepta ecclesiastica audiat. Donavit etiam totas decimas suas de omnibus rebus in Swavesey et in berewichis ad eam pertinentibus; scilicet Bercham, Papeord, sive Papworth, Quenpola sive Wimpoll, Tofte, Bechia, id est de omnibus annonis, vitulis, agnellis, porcellis, lanis, caseis; præter quod presbyteri habent de uno berwicorum unum agrum frumenti et alterum avenæ. Donavit etiam decimam pratorum, et omnium piscariarum suarum, et de omnibus prædantibus piscium. Et donavit duos ortos. Donavit etiam quicquid proprii apud quandam villam habebat quæ Draitona vocatur. Hanc autem elemosynam dedit ipse comes pro anima sua, et pro anima domini sui regis Anglorum Willielmi, et pro anima Mathildis reginæ, cujus auxilio honorem adquisierint, et pro animabus filiorum et filiarum regis, et pro anima patris sui Eudonis comitis, et pro animabus parentum suorum vivorum et mortuorum. Hujus autem gloriosi principis rogatu et amonitione, donaverunt omnes homines in Swavesey Deo et sancto Andreæ, et monachis totas decimas suas de annonis. Hujus elemosinæ sunt testes Guinomarus dapifer, Odo camerarius Guidonis, Ribaldus, et Bardulfus fratres comitis, et Hammus de Doll., qui præcepto comitis obedientiam monachis deliberavit, scilicet Gervasio, Garnerio, et Waltero. Concessit etiam idem comes apud Rovecestriam Yvoni monacho pascua sua in Swavesey bestiis monachorum per omnia sicut propriis bestiis. Testes Guinomarus dapifer, Odo camerarius, Harf. . . . . de sancto Jacobo, Ogerius filius Guidomari, Guidomarus famulus monachorum, Hamo de Doll. Arquitellus de Furnellis, et multi alii.

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus ad quos præsentes literæ pervenerint, Willielmus la Zouche, filius Rogeri la Zouche, salutem in Domino sempiternam. Noveritis nos inspexisse omnes chartas et munimenta Rogeri patris nostri, ac chartas et munimenta Alani Zouche avi nostri quondam comitis Britanniæ facta priori de Swavesey. Nos igitur præfatus Willielmus omnes chartas et munimenta prædicta confirmavimus, &c. Et quandocunque et quotiescunque contigerit dictum prioratum in aliquo tempore de priore vacare, volumus et concedimus, pro nobis, hæredibus, et assignatis nostris, quod præsentatus sive denominatus sit à venerabili viro abbate sancti Sergii et Bachi Andegavensis, qui pro tempore fuerit, et statim sine aliqua difficultate, per nos seu assignatos nostros admittatur, in quorumcunque manus manerium nostrum de Swavesey imposterum devenerit; et ulteriùs per nos seu assignatos episcopo diœcesis ibidem præsentetur et instituatur secundùm consuetudinem patriæ ibidem usitatam.

Priory of Blakenham, in Suffolk.

TANNER calls this House Great Blakenham, or Blakenham super Aquas. He says, "Walter Giffard earl of Buckingham, temp. R. Will. Rufi, gave this manor to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy, to which it became a distinct Alien Priory; though it is sometimes reckoned as parcel of the Priory of Okeburn in Wiltshire, or of Ruselip in Middlesex, both which were subordinate to that great foreign Abbey. After the Dissolution of the Alien Priories, King Henry the Sixth, anno regni 19, gave this to the Provost and Fellows of Eton College, and King Edward the Fourth confirmed it to them."[a]

Carta Sibillæ de Tyngrie, de unâ hidâ Terræ in Balgeham.

[Ibid.]

OMNIBUS Christi fidelibus, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Sibilla de Tyngrie, filia Farami de Bolonia, domina de Clopham, quæ est in Christo salutem. Noverit universitas vestra me, in viduitate, et libera potestate mea, recognovisse, et concessisse, et præsenti carta mea confirmâsse, pro Deo, et salute animæ meæ, et antecessorum, et successorum meorum, et pro fraternitate ecclesiæ Beccensis, donationem quam antecessores mei fecerunt Deo, et dictæ ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ Becci, et monachis ibidem Deo deservientibus de j. hida terræ cum omnibus pertinentiis suis in Balgheham, quæ pertinebat ad manerium de Clopham. Tenenda et habenda prædictis monachis, et successoribus suis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Et ego Sibilla, et hæredes mei warantizabimus prædictam hidam terræ, cum omnibus pertinentiis, prædictæ ecclesiæ, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, et in perpetuum servituris, contra omnes gentes: et acquietabimus eam de omnibus servitiis, consuetudinibus, et exactionibus in perpetuum. Pro hac autem concessione, et confirmatione, prædicti monachi dederunt mihi quadraginta solidos esterlingorum, per manum Willielmi de Wanetinge, tunc procuratoris de Rislepe. Ut autem hæc concessio, et confirmatio rata, et inconcussa permaneat, præsens scriptum sigilli mei appositione corroboravi. Priory of Cogges, in Oxfordshire.

TANNER calls this an Alien Priory of Black Monks to the Abbey of the Holy Trinity at Fiscamp in Normandy, who, he says, seem to have been placed here by the ancestors of Manasser de Arsic, lord of the barony of this place, who confirmed the old, and added some new donations in the years 1103 and 1107.

The possessions of the Monks of Cogges were not much improved at any subsequent time; their revenues were seized in common with the other Alien Priories during the wars with France; and when the foreign Cells were finally dissolved, Cogges was given by King Henry the Sixth toward the endowment of his College of Eton, to which also it was granted 1st Edward IVth.

The following Names of PRIORS of this HOUSE occur in the Registers of the See of Lincoln: HUGH; JOHN DE LONDON, 1227; ELERIUS, 15 kal. Jun. 1237; GERVASE, 1248; WILLIAM DE ESMERVILLE, 1251; HUGH; WILLIAM DE BARBEYN, 4 id. Jul. 1262; HUGH, 1277; STEPHEN DE ALBA MALLA; MATTHEW DE PONTE, 1291; ROGER LE HARDY, 1299; VIGOR, 1302: WILLIAM DE LIMPEVILLA, 1303; RANULPH LE FRISON, 1331; WILLIAM HAMON, 1341.

Tanner has various References to Records concerning this House.[a]

Carta Manasseri Arsic.

[Cartæ Antiquæ litera S. n. 8.]

MANASSER ARSIC omnibus hominibus suis, clericis, militibus, et laicis, salutem et dilectionem. Quoniam antecessores nostri, viri religiosi, in honorem Domini et beatæ Mariæ semper virginis, omniumque sanctorum, pro remissione peccatorum sanctas ecclesias constituere, et eas jure inviolato decimas et elemosinas habere decernere, justum atque pium vobis eorum beneficiis participare volentibus esse decernitur, si quid diminutum fuerit ad integrum reformare. Et quoniam rex, per scriptum suum, mihi mandavit, quatinus decimas à parentibus meis inviolabili jure concessas et datas Fiscanensi ecclesiæ, quod monachos meos, apud Coges degentes, omnes eas in pace, et quietè habere faciam, si non justitiæ suæ faciant: igitur vobis fidelibus meis mandando præcipio, quatinus, nulla causa impediente, decimas omnium dominiorum meorum, et omnium militum meorum, monachos meos in manu suâ, sine contradictione habere permittatis. Si quis autem aliter facere præsumpserit, regis iræ et nostræ pœnam sine dubio patietur.

Priory of Westwood, in Worcestershire.

EUSTACHIA DE SAY, says Tanner, and her son Osbert Fitz Hugh, having given the Church, with other lands here, to the Abbey of Font Ebrold, or Fontevrauld, in France, temp. R. Hen. II., here was shortly after a small Priory, dedicated to the blessed Virgin, for six Nuns of the Order of Fontevrauld, whose revenues were valued, 26 Hen. VIII., at 78*l.* 8*s.* in the total income, and at 75*l.* 18*s.* 11*d.* clear. The Priory, and most of the lands belonging to it, were granted, 30th Hen. VIIIth, to John Pakynton.

Noverit universitas vestra, nos divinæ caritatis intuitu, pro anima nostra et animabus antecessorum nostrorum, concessisse, et hac præsenti carta nostra confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, totum illud servitium cum homagio quod Rogerus clericus, filius Willielmi, nobis debuit et reddere consuevit, de quibusdam terris in Hodintone, sicut in carta nostra continetur, videlicet, de terra quam Reginaldus filius Ingulfi tenuit, cum messuagio et aliis pertinentiis, et de terra quam Willielmus Geldewin tenuit, cum messuagio et suis pertinentiis, et de tota terra quam Frewinus tenuit cum pertinentiis extra messuagia, et de duabus cotlandis cum pertinentiis quæ Rodericus et Philippus tenuerunt, et de uno assarto quod dicitur Pirithurne de Lega usque Lombhale, et de toto assarto inter Hocsetof et Chammesling sub Wadleng, et de pratis et omnibus parcellis, sicut per cartam prædicti Rogeri quam de nobis habet divisum est. Habendum et tenendum in perpetuam et puram elemosinam honorificè, liberè, quietè ab omnibus. Et ut hæc donatio et concessio nostra firma et stabilis permaneat, præsentem cartam sigilli nostri munimine confirmavimus. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XIV.

Carta Rogeri de Hodinton, de quinque Solidatis Redditus Monialibus de Westwood concessis.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Rogerus de Hodinton dedi et concessi et præsenti carta mea confirmavi et quietè clamavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, totum illud servitium quod Willielmus capellanus de Malvetina mihi debuit de terra quam de me tenuit in Hodinton, videlicet, quinque solidos redditus cum pertinentiis; habendos et tenendos dictos quinque solidos percepturos annuatim de prædicto Willielmo capellano, et de suis assignatis, liberè, quietè, integrè, benè, et in pace; videlicet, ad festum sancti Michaelis quindecim denarios, et ad festum sancti Andreæ quindecim denarios, et ad festum beatæ Mariæ in Marcio quindecim denarios, et ad Nativitatem sancti Johannis Baptistæ quindecim denarios. Et pro hac donatione et concessione et quieta clamatione . . . . et conventus de Westwood dedit mihi quatuor marcas argenti et quatuor solidos in gersumam. Et hanc donationem et concessionem meam, et quietam clamantiam, ego Rogerus . . . . dederunt, sicut cartæ prædictarum sanctimonialium quas indè habent testantur. Quare volo quod supradictæ sanctimoniales habeant et teneant omnia tenementa sua de Westwood, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut meliùs et liberiùs unquam tenuerunt, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam; et quicquid ad me vel hæredes meos pertinet vel pertinere poterit possideant et teneant liberè et quietè, integrè et plenariè, pacificè et honorificè, cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus suis, absque omni servitio et consuetudine et exactione seculari, juxta tenorem prædictarum cartarum quas indè habent de antecessoribus meis. Et ut hæc nostra donatio futuris temporibus rata et illibata permaneat præsenti eam scripto et sigilli mei patrocinio roboravimus. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XV.

Quieta Clamatio Willielmi de Stotevill, de una Moniali in Domo de Westwood.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Willielmus de Stotevilla quietè clamavi quandam demandam Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, videlicet, quod datum fuit mihi intelligi quod ego et hæredes mei habere deberemus de debito unam monialem semper in eadem domo, quod verò percepi per cartam quam habent in prædicta domo de antecessore meo domino Hugone de Say, quod nullam de debito monialem facere debeant mihi vel hæredibus meis. Quare volo de cætero, quod prædicta domus soluta et quieta sit de me et de hæredibus meis de tali exactione et demanda. Et ut hæc quieta clamatio perpetuam optineat firmitatem præsens scriptum sigilli mei appositione confirmavi. His testibus, &c.

Est et alia consimilis carta Margaretæ de Say, de quieta clamatione ejusdem demandæ, et verbatim sicut carta Willielmi de Stuteville.

NUM. XVI.

Carta Willielmi de Stuteville, de Bosco de Westwood et Terris Monialibus de Westwood concessis.

[Ibid.]

Universis Christi fidelibus præsens scriptum visuris vel audituris, Willielmus de Stutevilla salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me vidisse et audivisse cartam bonæ memoriæ Osberti filii Hugonis fundatoris ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwood, et monialium ibidem Deo servientium, quam fecit dictæ ecclesiæ et dictis monialibus, de bosco de Westwood et terris circa boscum, cum omnibus pertinentiis, in pratis, pascuis, et pasturis, et aliis; et de terra de . . . . . struch, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, sine ullo retenemento; et cartas Hugonis de Say, Roberti scilicet de Mortuo Mari et Margaretæ de Say, antecessorum meorum, quas fecerunt dictæ ecclesiæ et monialibus, secundùm tenorem cartæ prædicti Osberti filii Hugonis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Ego autem dictas cartas et quicquid in eis continetur stabilitum habens et ratum, et pro salute animæ meæ et pro salute animæ Margaretæ priùs dictæ, quondam uxoris meæ, præsenti scripto confirmavi in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Et quicquid ad me vel ad successores meos pertinet vel pertinere poterit in dicto bosco de Westwood, et hominibus dictarum monialium, in omnibus et de omnibus, quietum clamavi in perpetuum. In hujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum meum apposui. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XVII.

De Ecclesia de Wiche Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid.]

NUM. XVIII.

Carta Idæ Comitissæ Boloniæ, de eadem Ecclesia.

[Ibid.]

NUM. XIX.

[Ibid.]

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego magister Pharicius, ad petitionem . . . . . dominæ meæ Idæ comitissæ Boloniæ, assensu et consilio domini Willielmi episcopi Wigorniensis, capellam sancti Nicholai in Wichio, quam habui et tenui ex dono domini mei Mathæi comitis Boloniæ patris prædictæ comitissæ, resignavi in manu ejusdem episcopi, ad sustentationem monialium de Westwood; quam capellam jam dicta comitissa, intuitu karitatis, et pro salute animæ patris sui et omnium antecessorum suorum, ad petitionem dilectæ materteræ suæ M. abbatissæ Fontis Ebraldi, dedit et concessit et confirmavit Deo et ecclesiæ Fontis Ebraldi et conventui de Westwod, habendam et tenendam in puram et perpetuam elemosinam; similiter terram quam ego et antecessores mei, personæ prædictæ semper nomine capellæ, ad sustentationem servitii capellæ, tenuimus concessione et voluntate antecessorum prænominatæ comitissæ, in manu prioris et priorissæ ejusdem domus resignavi et quietum clamavi ad opus conventus; et etiam si quid juris in eadem terra habui, vel habere debui, vel habere potui, totum eis pro salute animæ meæ dedi et concessi, et in puram et perpetuam elemosinam confirmavi, coram domino Willielmo Wigorniensi episcopo, salvo tamen annuo redditu quatuor solidorum ad festum sancti Michaelis, quem pro omni exactione et seculari servitio comitissæ Boloniæ et hæredibus suis persolvent; et ne resignatio ista, donatio, et concessio ab aliquo possit in posterum revocari in irritum, consilio vel suggestione mei vel meorum, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione communivi. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XX.

Carta Roberti Caverugge, de Terrâ de Caverugge Monialibus de Westwood concessâ.

[Ibid.]

NUM. XXI.

[Ibid. fol. 6.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Reginaldus de Benhale . . . . ., assensu hæredum meorum, dedi et concessi monialibus de Westwod, in perpetuam elemosinam, hæreditatem meam de Caverugge, cum pertinentiis suis, quam Robertus antecessor meus tenuit, omni clamatione mea et hæredum meorum remota, liberè et quietè ab omni servitio, salvo servitio domini feudi, scilicet, quinque solidis solvendis ad festum sancti Michaelis; hac inspectione ut præfatæ moniales filiam meam suscipiant in monialem. Et ut hæc mea donatio rata et firma permaneat sigilli mei appositione confirmavi. His testibus, &c.

Willielmus de Benhale hanc donationem similiter carta sua confirmavit, sub eadem conditione, scilicet quod moniales neptem suam filiam supradicti Roberti monialem susciperent.

NUM. XXII.

Carta Idæ Comitissæ Boloniæ, de Capella Sancti Nicholai de Wichio.

[Ibid.]

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Ida comitissa Boloniæ, pro salute animæ meæ et omnium antecessorum meorum, dedi et concessi capellam sancti Nicholai de Wichio, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, Deo et beatæ Mariæ et ecclesiæ Fontis Ebraldi, et conventui pauperum clarissimarum monialium de Westwood, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè et quietè et pacificè habendam et possidendam. Præterea ad petitionem dominæ M. abbatissæ prædictæ ecclesiæ Fontis Ebraldi, karissimæ materteræ meæ, dedi et concessi Deo et beatæ Mariæ Fontis Ebraldi, ad sustentationem præfati conventus de Westwod, pro salute animæ patris mei Mathæi comitis Boloniæ, terram quam magister Pharicius persona supradictæ capellæ et prædecessores sui personæ ejusdem capellæ tenuerunt de dominio meo in Wichio in liberam, quietam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, annuatim solvendo mihi et hæredibus meis iv. solidos pro omni seculari servitio et exactione. Insuper concessi et confirmavi prænominato conventui totam terram de Kaverugge quam Robertus de Kaverugge eis dedit, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut cartæ ejusdem R. et hæredum suorum quas indè habent testantur, liberè et quietè de me et de hæredibus meis, tenendam et habendam, solvendo indè mihi et hæredibus meis ad festum sancti Michaelis quinque solidos pro omni exactione et seculari servitio. Ut hæc autem mea donatio et concessio et confirmatio rata et inconcussa habeatur in posterum, præsentem cartam sigilli mei impressione roboravi. His testibus, &c.

NUM. XXIII.

Carta Nicholai de Wych, de Terra infra et extra Villam de Wych Monialibus de Westwood concessa.

[Ibid.]

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Stephanus de Elmbrugo, filius Inardi, dedi et concessi et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ de Westwod, et monialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, totam terram illam in Wichio Ruinestrete, illam scilicet quam Johannes Louverun de me tenuit et quietam mihi clamavit, et cartas quas indè habuit coram hundredo de Wich mihi resignavit. Hanc itaque terram dedi et concessi, pro salute animæ meæ, prædictis monialibus, tenendam et habendam in liberam et puram et perpetuam elemosinam in perpetuum de me et de hæredibus meis, reddendo mihi et hæredibus meis semper uno anno unam libram cimini, et altero anno unam libram piperis, in festivitate sancti Michaelis, pro omni servitio et exactione. Pro hac autem concessione mea et donatione dederunt mihi moniales præfatæ duos bisancios de introitu. Et ut hæc mea donatio futuris temporibus firma permaneat, eam præsentis scripti testimonio cum sigilli mei impressione confirmavi, &c.

Carta Willielmi filii Aldredi Fikemon, de Redditu quatuor Denariorum Monialibus de Westwood concesso. N. de Ambr. tunc Prior adquisivit.

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Willielmus filius Aldredi Fikemon dedi et concessi et hac præsenti carta confirmavi Deo et ecclesia beatæ Mariæ de Westwod, et monialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, pro anima mea et pro anima patris mei et omnium antecessorum meorum, quatuor denarios annui redditus percipiendos de messuagio meo quod fuit prædicti Aldredi Fikemon patris mei, quod est de feudo Ricardi Pancefot, ad duos terminos anni, scilicet ad festum sancti Michaelis duos denarios, et ad festum beatæ Mariæ in Marcio duos denarios, habendum et tenendum de me et hæredibus meis liberè et quietè, benè et in pace ab omni seculari exactione et demanda, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Concessi etiam pro me et hæredibus meis, quod prædictæ moniales vel eorum ballivi possint sine contradictione prædictum messuagium distringere, si ad prædictos terminos prædictum redditum non habuerint. Et ego dictus Willielmus et hæredes mei prædictum redditum, sicut prædictum est, contra omnes homines et fœminas warantizabimus. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XLI.

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Willielmus Haketh dedi et concessi monialibus de Westwod in perpetuum quandam acram prati quam habui in Brademed, cum quinque buttis prædictæ acræ adjacentibus, tenendam de me et hæredibus meis liberè et quietè ab omni servitio et exactione, reddendo mihi et hæredibus meis annuatim duodecim denarios in Annunciatione sanctæ Mariæ; et ad hanc donationem meam confirmandam prædictæ moniales dederunt mihi octo solidos. Et ut mea donatio rata sit et inconcussa, sigilli mei impressione roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Radulphus Haket dedi et concessi et hac presenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Westwod, et monialibus ibidem Deo servientibus, unam dalam salsæ, cum salina et loco lignario, et cum omnibus ad prædictam dalam pertinentibus, tenendam de me et hæredibus meis in perpetuum liberè et quietè, solvendo mihi et hæredibus meis singulis annis ad festum sancti Andreæ tres solidos et unam mittam salis. Et pro hac donatione mea et concessione prior et conventus prædictæ ecclesiæ de Westwood dederunt mihi unam marcam argenti. Et ut hæc mea donatio rata et in perpetuum firma permaneat, sigilli mei appositione eam roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XLIII.

Carta Radulphi Haket, Donationem Patris sui de Acra Prati Monialibus de Westwood concessa confirmans.

[Ibid.]

Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Radulphus Haketh concessi et hac carta mea confirmavi donationem patris mei Willielmi Haketh, in perpetuam elemosinam, Deo et beatæ Mariæ et monialibus de Westwode factam, videlicet unam acram prati in Brademede cum septem buttis terræ prædicto prato adjacentibus, tenendam de me et de hæredibus meis in perpetuum liberè et quietè ab omni servitio seculari, reddendo mihi et hæredibus meis singulis annis duodecim denarios, scilicet ad festum beatæ Mariæ in Marcio. Et pro hac concessione mea et donatione patris mei confirmanda, prædictæ moniales dederunt mihi unam marcham argenti. Præterea concessi eisdem monialibus sex seliones terræ infra fossatum de Guerston, quod ad ecclesiam illarum sancti Nicholai de Wichio spectare dinoscuntur, et pro anima patris mei calumpniam meam de eadem terra quietè clamavi, cum omnibus liberis elemosinis prædictæ ecclesiæ ab antecessoribus meis concessis et datis. Debeo etiam et volo, tam donationem patris mei de septem buttis terræ, et de acra prati, et de sex selionibus, quàm elemosinam ab antecessoribus meis sæpedictæ ecclesiæ in perpetuam elemosinam datas, pro toto rationabili posse warantizare, manutenere, et protegere. Et ut hæc concessio mea rata et inconcussa in posterum permaneat, sigilli mei appositione eam roboravi. Hiis testibus, &c.

NUM. XLIV.

Carta Adæ filii Adæ Luverun de Wichio, de annuo Redditu duodecim Denariorum Monialibus de Westwood concesso.

[Ibid.]

Priory of Welles, or Well Hall, in Geyton, in Norfolk.

THE manor of Welles with the advowson of the church of Geyton, being given to the Abbey of St. Stephen near Caen in Normandy, by William de Streis, Escoeis, Estois, or Scoceis, (temp. Will. Conq.) here was fixed an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks from that foreign House; which, upon the wars with France, being seized into the King's hands, was granted, 47 Edw. III. to Hugh Fastolf; 22 Ric. II. to John Devereux for life; and 3 Hen. V. to John Wodehouse and John Ikelyngton; but King Edward IVth gave it to the Dean and Canons of St. Stephen's, Westminster, who enjoyed it till the general Dissolution; and then it was granted, 2 Edw. VI., to Osbert Mundeford and Thomas Gawdy. It has since by exchange become part of the possessions of the Bishoprick of Ely.[a]

REX omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Sciatis quod per manucaptionem Roberti Caly de comitatu Norfolciæ et Egidii de Wennok de comitatu Salopiæ, commisimus dilecto nobis Hugoni Fastolf custodiam prioratus de Paunfeld et Wells alienigenæ, et omnium possessionum eidem spectantium. Habend. a festo sancti Michaelis ultimo præterito quamdiu guerra inter nos et illos de Francia mota duraverit. Reddendo inde nobis per annum quadraginta libras ad scaccaria Paschæ et sancti Michaelis per æquales portiones. Et solvendo cuidam monacho ibidem existenti decem libras per annum, ad festa prædicta, pro sustentatione sua. Ita quod idem Hugo decimas cum clero regni nostri, quotiens et quando concessæ fuerint, fideliter solvat, et omnia onera ordinaria et extraordinaria eidem prioratui incumbentia faciat et supportet, ac domos et ædificia dicto prioratui spectantia sustentet benè et competenter absque vasto seu destructione. Et si contingat dictum monachum obire, vel regnum transire, tunc dictus Hugo dictas decem libras per annum nobis solvat ad festa prædicta ultra quadraginta libras prædictas. In cujus rei testimonium, &c. Teste rege apud Westmonasterium decimo quarto die Decembris auno[b] quadragesimo septimo.

Memorandum, quod Hugo Fastolf cepit ad firmam de rege prioratum de Panfeld et Wells decimo quarto die Decembris anno regis Edwardi quadragesimo septimo, post cujus datum vicarius de Geyton tenuit manerium de Wellehall, de dicto Hugone per unum annum. Item Symon de Flycham per duos annos. Item Johannes Baynard tenuit per tres annos. Summa pensionum dicti manerii per idem tempus de priore de Castelacra sexaginta et sex marc. videlicet per annum undecim marc. unde solutæ priori de Castelacra per manus Simonis de Flytham viginti marc. Item per manus Johannis Baynard undecim marc. Item per eundem Johannem per manus vicarii de Geyton et Johannis Diggs undecim marc. Summa solutionis priori de Castelacra quadraginta et ij. marc. Et sic debentur priori de Castelacra primo die mensis Octobris, anno regni regis Ricardi secundi post conquestum tertio viginti et quatuor.

Priory of Stoke Curcy, in Somersetshire.

TANNER says, The Church of St. Andrew here, and several other lands and tithes hereabouts, being given to the Abbey of L'onley or Lolley, in Normandy, temp. R. Hen. II., a Prior and Convent of Benedictine Monks were sent from thence to settle as a Cell to that foreign House, which continued till the suppression of Alien Priories, and then was given by King Henry the Sixth to his College at Eton. It was accounted worth 58*l.* per annum, in the valuation taken of the lands belonging to Eton College, 26 Hen. VIII. Dugdale, both in the former edition of this Work, and in his Baronage, places this House in Devonshire.[d] Cole, in his MS. Volume xxvii. fol. 105 b, places it in Yorkshire.

Et quod Johannes de Novilla concessit et confirmavit Deo et beatæ Mariæ de Lunlay et monachis de Stokecurcy, in puram, liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam, ecclesiam sancti Andreæ de Suntistok, cum tota pertinente ad ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ Longiledi, et cum una hida terræ, et cum tota decima parochiæ, et cum omnibus decimis omnium rerum, quas ibi possidet; etiam cum tota decima totius gabuli, &c.

Priory of West Shirburne, in Hampshire.

HERE, says Tanner, was an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks, dedicated to St. Mary and St. John, Cell to the Abbey of St. Vigor at Cerasy in Normandy, to which it was given by Henry de Port, one of the barons of the Exchequer, temp. Hen. I.[a] It was given by King Henry the Sixth[b] to Eton College, but by King Edward the Fourth, anno regni 1, to the Hospital of St. Julian in Southampton; and again, anno 13, by the same King, to Eton College. It was afterwards restored to the Hospital at Southampton, and is enjoyed by the Provost and Fellows of Queen's College in Oxford, as Masters of that Hospital.[c]

Carta Henrici de Portu, Fundatoris.

QUONIAM vita mortalium brevi admodum intercluditur spatio, nec habet aliquid homo de omnibus quæ sub sole possidet nisi ea quæ pauperibus ministrat et largitur, quoniam, inquam, ita se habet divinæ dispensationis ordinatio, placuit michi Henrico de Portu, in spe salutis æternæ, aliquas ex rebus meis sanctæ conferre ecclesiæ. Contuli itaque Deo et sancto Vigori Cerasii, pro salute animæ domini mei regis Henrici, et pro anima Guillelmi patris sui, et pro animabus patris et matris meæ, atque pro mei ipsius salute et uxoris meæ et infantium meorum et amicorum meorum et hominum, totam Sireburnam, quæ est à parte occidentali, cum nemoribus quæ in ea habentur, et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, cum tota decima, et omnia omnino quæ in eadem villa sunt, præter terram Gervasii Hwastehose, et præter terram Crespt. His etiam addidi pratum de Languebruge, et molendinum de altera Sireburna juxta vivarium, et pratum etiam prædictæ Sireburnæ pertinens; decimam quoque de Weldeguestona, ecclesiam de Brummelegue, cum decima et terra eidem ecclesiæ pertinentibus. Decimam de Basingis in omni possessione, et unam acram terræ in qua homines hospitantur. Ecclesiam de Neoham cum decima ipsius villæ tota, et cum decima virgulti, et cum decima duorum molendinorum, et cum una virgata terræ, et altera virgata ad Mappedreuuellam. Ecclesiam de Oppertona, cum decima et una hida terræ, decima de Liddesseta, de dominio decimam de Richemanerio. Hæc sunt quæ donavi, sicut jam prædixi, ita liberè ut liberè possidebam. Donavi, dico, Deo et sancto Vigori Cerasii tali consideratione, quod abbas conventum monachorum apud præfatam Sireburnam poneret, qui Deo ordinatè deservirent; porro etiam, suffragante Deo, meipsum donavi ad obitum meum ibidem sepeliendum.

Priory of Burwell, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks, given by some of the lords of Kyme to the Abbey of St. Mary Silvæ Majoris near Bourdeaux.[a] After the general seizing of these Houses, this came to the College of Tateshall; and as part of the possessions thereof was granted, 36 Hen. VIIIth, to Charles Duke of Suffolk. Some transcripts and extacts from original Deeds relating to this Priory occur in the Harleian MS. 2044, fol. 105. Among the Harleian Charters, 43 B. 50, is "Carta Ayquardi abbatis Monasterii Sylvæ Majoris Burdegalen. dioc. de Cantaria fundanda in Cella de Burwell in Anglia, A.D. 1318." Extents of Burwell Priory of the 10th Ric. II. and 5th Hen. V. occur in the Donation MS. already so frequently referred to. This Priory is mentioned in the Taxat. P. Nich. IV. pp. 58 b, 71.

Priory of Llangkywan, near Gresmond,

IN MONMOUTHSHIRE.

TANNER says, This manor and church being given before A.D. 1183 to the Abbey of Lira in Normandy, here was placed a Cell of Black Monks subordinate to that foreign House. After the Disolution of Alien Priories, this came to Shene in Surrey, and, as parcel thereof, was granted, 37th Hen. VIII., to John Doyley and John Scudamore. [Cartæ 54 Hen. III. m. 3.]

REX archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam quam Edmundus filius noster fecit Petro Maunsel priori seu custodi prioratus de Langkywan, in hæc verba. Universis præsentes literas inspecturis, Edmundus illustris regis Angliæ filius, salutem in Domino. Quia constat nobis per legitimam inquisitionem quam fieri fecimus, quod prior sive custos manerii seu prioratus de Langkywan ad voluntatem abbatis sui de Lyra amovendus est, et quod prætextu amotionis ipsius nichil rationabiliter exigere possumus nos vel nostri, licet per prædecessores nostros seu ballivos vel firmarios eorum in castro nostro de Grosso Monte aliter fuerit usitatum. Nos volentes graves consuetudines abolere, quantum ad nos pertinet, concessimus seu concedimus fratri Petro Maunsell priori seu custodi dictæ domus nomine abbatis et conventus de Lyra, et præsenti carta nostra confirmamus, quod nos, vel hæredes seu assignati vel ballivi nostri de Grosso Monte, seu aliunde, non possimus de cætero in amotione, substitutione, vel decessu prioris seu custodis dictæ domus de Langkywan, qui pro tempore fuerit, prætextu amotionis, substitutionis, seu decessus ipsius prioris vel custodis aliquid exigere, molestiam vel gravamen per nos vel nostros eidem inferre, vel seisinam facere occasione prædicta, salvis nobis serviciis, sectis, et consuetudinibus nobis debitis pro tenemento domus de Langkywan et omnium tenentium de eadem. Et ut hæc nostra concessio rata et stabilis permaneat in futurum, præsentem cartam sigillo nostro fecimus roborari. [a] 16 Edw. III. the sequestration was taken off this Priory, "quia fuit de Ducatu Aquitaniæ, et non de dominico et potestate Franciæ."

Priory of Okeburn, in Wiltshire.

ABOUT the year 1149, Maud de Walingford, daughter and heiress to Robert D'Oiley, gave to the Abbey of Bec Herlowyn in Normandy the manors and churches of Great and Little Okeburn, at the former of which places a Convent of Benedictine Monks from that foreign Monastery was not long after fixed, and became the chiefest and richest Cell in England to it. It underwent the same fate with the other Alien Priories of being often seized during the wars with France into the King's hands, and finally suppressed 2 Hen. Vth. All the tithes and other spiritualities of this Religious House were given by John Duke of Bedford to Windsor College, and confirmed to them by King Henry the Fifth and King Edward the Fourth; but the Priory and manors of Okeburn Magna and Parva were granted by King Henry the Sixth first to the University of Cambridge, and afterward to the Provost and Fellows of King's College in that University: and 1st Edw. IVth this Priory, or some part of its lands, was granted to the Charter-house in London.[a]

Confirmatio Comitis Cornubiæ Ricardi Monachis de Okeburne.

Omnibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit Ricardus comes Cornubiæ, salutem in Domino. Noveritis nos dedisse, concessisse, et hac præsenti carta nostra confirmâsse, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, abbati et monachis de Becco, quod ipsi, et successores sui, et omnes homines sui, quos habent in honore de Walingeford, imperpetuum sint quieti de omnibus sectis curiarum ad nos vel hæredes nostros pertinentibus, et etiam de omni exactione et demanda visus franciplegii, hoc solo excepto, quod ballivus noster de Walingeford, singulis annis, semel in anno, infra curiam prædictorum abbatis et monachorum apud Okeburne ingressum habeat, et visum franciplegii hominum suorum ejusdem manerii, ad videndum, quod pax regia benè conservetur, sine aliqua occasione, et quicquid lucri vel commodi ex illo visu aliquo modo poterit emergere, prædictis abbati, et monachis, vel eorum procuratori remaneat, salvo eidem ballivo ad diem illum hospitio suo competenti ibidem cum tribus equis, vel quatuor ad plus, et cum honesta familia tot equos rationabiliter contingente. Quare volumus, et firmiter præcipimus, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quod prædicti abbas et monachi, successores et homines eorum, quieti sint de omnibus sectis curiæ, exactionibus, et demandis visus franciplegii, ut prædictum est. In cujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum nostrum fecimus apponi. Hiis testibus, Rogero de Turkelby, Henrico de Battonia, Henrico de Mara, Rogero de Aumery, Stephano de Chendvyth, Thoma de Valoines, Willielmo Blundel, Philippo de Eya, Rogero de Sancto Constantino clerico, et multis aliis. Priory of Willesford, in Lincolnshire.

THE manor of Willesford, or Wivelsford, having been given by Hugh de Evermue, or Wake, to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy in the time of King Stephen, a Priory of Benedictine monks was sent thence and fixed here. Being seized into the King's hands during the wars with France, it was at length, 20 Ric. II. by the favour of Thomas Holand, earl of Kent, settled upon the Abbey of Bourn in Lincolnshire; and, as parcel thereof, granted, 30th. Hen. VIII., to Charles duke of Suffolk.[a]

Item dicunt, quod prior ordinis de Becko Herlewyni tenet in Willesford et in Ancaster unum manerium et novem carucatas terræ, quæ valent per annum xvj^{li}. et elemosinantur ex dono Hugonis de Evermewe, centum annis elapsis, et ampliùs, et eas tenet de domino Baldwino Wake, quo servitio nesciunt, et dictus Baldwinus eas tenet de domino rege in capite, quo servitio, vel quo waranto, dicunt quod nesciunt, et dicunt quod terra prædicta non est geldabilis, &c.

Priory of Wedon Pinkney, in Northamptonshire.

HERE was a Benedictine Priory, says Tanner, dedicated to St. Mary, and Cell to St. Lucian near Beavoys in France, as early probably as the reign of King Henry I.[b] It was liberally endowed by several of the De Pinkenis, who were lords here. But the wars between England and France hindering the monks of St. Lucian from enjoying the revenues of it, they sold their right therein, A.D. 1392, to the Abbat and Convent of Bittlesden in Buckinghamshire, who enjoyed it not long; for about A.D. 1440, it was made part of the endowment of All Souls College in Oxon.[c]

Carta Gilberti de Wedon-Pinchenni, de una hida terræ et de uno molendino cum pratis adjacentibus, et de decimis ejusdem villæ, et de decimis de dominio meo in Wapnam.

ROBERTO Dei gratia Lincolniensi episcopo et omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, Gilebertus de Pinchenni salutem. Notum sit omnibus, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, me gratanter in purpetuam elemosinam concessisse ecclesiæ sanctæ Mariæ de Wedonia, et fratribus ibidem Deo servientibus, omnia quæ Gilo avus meus et Radulfus pater meus eidem ecclesiæ dederunt, videlicet unam hidam terræ liberam et quietam de suo dominio in Wedonia, et unum molendinum cum pratis eidem molendino adjacentibus, et omnes decimas ejusdem villæ, et decimas de dominio meo in Wapnam, videlicet bladi et pecorum et caseorum et omnium aliarum rerum, exceptis duabus acris bladi, et duobus agnis et duobus caseis, qui presbitero debentur, et decimas de omnibus dominiis meis in quacunque villa fuerint. Maieriemium quoque de silva mea ad ædificia, et ligna ad quæque necessaria, et pascua sine precio pecoribus eorum. Et præter hæc omnia quæ avus meus et pater meus eis dederunt, dedi eis in augmento terram duarum plenariè carrucarum præter illam quam ad præsens præfatæ ecclesiæ hospites tenent et excolunt, liberè et quietè perpetuò possidendam, pro salute mea et omnium amicorum meorum, et pro animabus omnium antecessorum meorum. Ut autem hoc donum ratum et inconcussum semper existat, uxore mea Eustachia et liberis annuentibus meis, videlicet Henrico primogenito meo, et cæteris, super altare prædictæ obtuli ecclesiæ, sub horum testimonio, Odonis ejusdem loci prioris, Adæ, Ricardi, Radulfi monachorum, Hugonis de Pinchenni, Radulphi fratris jam dicti Gilberti, Wiberti, Watsonis de Wapnam, Ancheri de Pincheni, Rogeri de Nortona, et multorum aliorum.

NUM. II.

Carta Henrici de Wedon Pincheni, de decimis de Wedon, et de decimis de dominio meo de Wapnam, et de omnibus villis meis eidem Ecclesiæ benignè concedo.

IN nomine Patris et Filii et Spiritus Sancti, Amen. Præsentibus declaretur et futuris, quod ego Henricus Pinconiensis, divina gratia inspiratus, beneficia universa quæ proavus meus Gilo, et avus meus Radulfus, et pater meus Gilebertus, omnium Creatori Deo et sancto Luciano Beluacensi, pro se suorumque salute, omnibus villis suis perpetuam in elemosinam donaverunt, suaque carta legitimè confirmaverunt, eidem ecclesiæ benignè concedo. Scilicet, decimam Odoniæ, et decimam dominii mei de Wapnam, Stains, Mortona, Miggeham, Huggelaia quoque et Dachet; prædictæ verò ecclesiæ decimam de assartatione dominii mei, scilicet de Ruhteberthe, et Hestlea apud Dachet, et de omnibus assartationibus meis dominii mei de prædictis villis ubicunque assartavero, vel si ego vel quicumque eas excoluerit; pro nostra, antecessorumque salute, benignè confero, et quicquid concedere potero rationabiliter. Birstall Priory, in Yorkshire.

TANNER calls this Burstall Garth, olim Birstall, in the deanry of Holderness, and archdeaconry of East Riding. He says, Stephen earl of Albemarle gave A.D. 1115, to the Benedictine monks of St. Martin de Alceio, near Albemarle in Normandy, several tithes and churches in this part of Yorkshire, and in the north part of Lincolnshire, who thereupon sent over a procurator, or prior, with some monks of their own house, to look after the same. These, after some time, fixed their Cell, and continued in the Chapel of St. Helen here, till the frequent seizing of the estates of the foreign Abbeys, during the wars with France, occasioned this Alien Priory to be sold to the Abbat and Convent of Kirkstall, 18th Ric. II.[a]

Carta Fundationis Sancti Martini de Albemarle.

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis. Hoc notum sit tam præsentibus quàm futuris, quia ego Stephanus, Albemarlensis comes, monachis sancti Luciani Beluacensis, quibus mater mea Adeliza donavit et concessit ecclesiam Sancti Martini de Alceio, constructam et ædificatam ab antecessoribus meis extra castellum Albemarle, sicut mater mea concessit, sic dono et concedo ecclesiam sancti Martini, et omnes redditus ipsi ecclesiæ adjacentes, pro remissione peccatorum meorum et Willielmi regis Angliæ avunculi mei, atque omnium antecessorum meorum. Quibus etiam monachis præter hæc supradicta addo, et concedo omnes ecclesias et decimas meas Angliæ, quas teneo ab Henrico rege Anglorum, ita quietas et liberas, et sine retentu ullo, sicut de ipso rege teneo. Necnon et ipsi sacerdotes ita liberrimè habeant et teneant à me, ut neque dapifer, neque vicecomes, nec aliquis ministrorum meorum super eos manus imponant. Si verò sacerdotes forisfecerint aliquid in illo justificent. Has ecclesias et decimas, videlicet in Holdernesa ecclesiam et decimam de Pagla quam in dominio habeo. Similiter et de Prestona, et de Eschechilinga, et de Wifornewic, de Wagla, de Frohingheham, et de castello de Aldeburgo, et de Mapletona, de Tonestal, de Esingtona,[b] de Berestall, de Chinlesi, de Caingheham, de Wifornesel. In Lindeseia ecclesiam et decimam de Carlentona, et decimam de Wilesbi, et de Barower medietatem ecclesiæ et decimæ, aliam verò medietatem quam Willielmus capellanus tenet de me in vita sua, et unam de ecclesiis de Wifornisel post obitum ejus ipsis monachis concedo.

Quinetiam omnium decimas dominicatus mei; videlicet horreorum meorum, id est totius annonæ meæ et vaccarum mearum, omniumque ovium, et baconum, et caseorum, atque pullorum equarum mearum. Hæc omnia supradicta ad utilitatem monachorum in ecclesia sancti Martini de Alceio morantium et servientium, ut liberè disponant et ordinent confero, etiam hospitem unum ad flumen Heldone dono. Quinetiam transitum de Humbro ad opus monachorum, et omnium illis servientium, et ad omnia necessaria eorum ita liberè sicut à rege teneo. Omnes etiam ecclesias de fundo meo in Normania, cum decimis et omnibus pertinentiis suis, ecclesiam videlicet de Vilers, ecclesiam de Handricurt, ecclesiam sancti Walarici, ecclesiam de Belfraisno, ecclesiam sancti Saturnini, ecclesiam de Ailecurt, ecclesiam de Flomines, ecclesiam de Hillais, ecclesiam de Vilers ultra nemus, cum duabus partibus decimæ, nundinas quoque in festivitate sancti Martini, et quicquid utilitatis de eis ex consuetudine provenerit. Addo etiam decimam molendinorum, et furnorum, et thelonei, et traversi de Albemarla, et decimam omnium quæ navis mea de Anglia attulerit quæ mandi possunt, et decimam omnium piscium qui comeduntur in curia mea, sive in Albemarla, sive ubicunque in hac patria. Decimam quoque in Blossavilla piscium, porcorum, baconum, et lanæ de ovibus meis. Silvam etiam de Mufleres ad omnes usus necessarios jure perpetuo. Siquis autem hanc donationem meam infringere ac minuere voluerit, divino judicio illum puniendum commendo. Actum est apud Albamarlam, regnante Henrico rege Anglorum, et duce Normannorum et ipso concedente, uxore mea hac causa et filio meo concedentibus, anno millesimo centesimo decimo quinto ab incarnatione Domini. Hiis videlicet testibus, Waltero de Senardi Ponte, Gaufrido filio Fulconis, Willielmo Bisa, Berengario de Alneto, Radulfo de Porta, Gerardo de Caineio, Giraldo de Hornet, Alano de Hambi, Willielmo de Albani, Richardo fratre ejus. Prima Ordinatio Walteri Archiepiscopi Eborum, de Cella Abbatis Sancti Martini de Albemarla apud Byrstall.

[Ibid.]

Omnibus Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Walterus Dei gratia Eboracensis archiepiscopus, Angliæ primas, salutem in domino. Quoniam qui majoribus juvantur meritis, majoribus debent honoribus insigniri, et facultatibus dilatari; considerantes in dilectis filiis abbate et conventu Albemarle morum honestatem, religionis fervorem, et hospitalitatis gratiam, ac per omnia conversationem laudabilem. Attendentes etiam quod non habuerunt hucusque in provincia nostra locum suæ habitationi congruum, ad instantiam venerabilis patris G. tituli sancti Martini presbiteri cardinalis, apostolicæ sedis legati, capellam de Birstall, cum suis pertinentiis, et cum decimis de Skeflings, tam majoribus, quàm minoribus, et omnibus aliis obventionibus, et proventibus, eisdem imperpetuum concedimus, usibus monachorum apud Birstal degentium, retinendis, ita quod prædicta capella in nullo ecclesiæ de Esinton subjiciatur; sed prior de Birstall capellanum, quem parochiæ de Birsta duxerit præponendum, decano præsentet pro voluntate prioris amovendum; qui excessus parochianorum decano denunciet, et capitula sectetur. Et ut ecclesia de Birstal, ampliori gaudeat immunitate, auctoritate pontificali concedimus, quod à sinodalium præstatione sit immunis; ad hæc si nobis vel successoribus nostris generale fuerit interdictum promulgatum, volumus, quod in ecclesia de Birstal, exclusis interdictis, nihilominus submissa voce, divina celebrentur, nisi locus ille specialiter fuerit interdicto suppositus. Et ut tranquillitati monachorum apud Birstal residentium pleniùs sollicitudine nostra provideatur, quos una cum ipsorum ecclesia, sub nostra specialiter suscepimus protectione, nihilominus quod ab archidiaconis et decanis novis et indebitis non onerentur exactionibus. Quod ut ratum et stabile perseveret imposterum, præsenti scripto sigilli nostri munimen duximus apponendum. Testibus magistro Cornubiensi canonico Eborum. Reginaldo monacho de Albemarla. Richardo et Willielmo de London fratribus, Galfrido de Stanlak. Datum apud Beverlacum mense Junii, anno pontificatus nostri tertio.

ROBERT DE CHANDOS, says Tanner, A. D. 1113, having founded the Church of St. Mary Magdalen of Goldcliff, endowed it with several lands and possessions; and then, by the persuasion of King Henry the First, gave it to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy, whence was to be sent hither a Prior and twelve Black Monks.

After the suppression of Alien Priories, Henry Beauchamp Duke of Warwick obtained of King Henry the Sixth the patronage of this Priory, and leave to annex the same to the Abbey of Tewkesbury, which being accordingly done, it was made a Cell to that Monastery, A.D. 1442; but, three years after, the Welshmen drove away hence the Tewkesbury Prior and Monks who settled again here, A.D. 1446. However, this Priory was granted 29th Hen. VI. to Eton College; to Tewkesbury again 1st Edw. IVth; and to Eton again 7th Edw. IVth; by the Provost and Fellows of which College its Site is still enjoyed. In the Valor of the 26th Hen. VIIIth, as parcel of the possessions of Eton College, this Priory is rated at 144*l.* 18*s.* 1*d.* per aunum.[a]

Goldcliff itself is a singularly rocky hill, about three quarters of a mile in circumference, upon the snore of the Bristol channel. The Priory was situated upon the brow of the cliff. Its site is at present occupied by a farm house: a doorway and some walls are its only remains.

Carta Regis Edw. I. Donationem Roberti de Candos recitans.

[Cartæ 18 Edw. I. m. 10, n. 30.]

Rex archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam quam Robertus de Candos fecit Deo, et eccles. S. Mariæ Becci, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, in hæc verba. Robertus de Candos universis hominibus suis, Francis, Anglis, et Wallensibus, et omnibus S. ecclesiæ Dei fidelibus, salutem in Domino. Universitati vestræ notum facio, me, assensu et voluntate Isabellæ uxoris meæ, dedisse, et hac præsenti carta confirmâsse, Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ Becci, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, pro anima regis Willielmi, et Matildis reginæ, et Willielmi secundi, et Henrici regis, necnon pro anima mea, et uxoris meæ Ysabel, et filiorum, et parentum meorum, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ Magdalenæ de Goldclive, cum terris et decimis ad eam pertinentibus, et capellam de Fraxino, cum pertinentiis suis, ut ibi constituatur conventus ad serviendum Deo, et gloriosæ famulæ Christi, Mariæ Magdalenæ, et orandum imperpetuum et benefactoribus suis, totam, scilicet terram de Mora et Sabrina, usque ad Pulleram, sicut Pullera vadit in Uscam per divisiones aquarum, et fossalium, et totam terram meam de Pulera usque Pulchru. Et ex dono meo terram Isabel uxoris meæ apud Hernesnesse, et totam terram ultra Fraxinum versùs quinque piscarias, ex utraque parte; et totum mariscum meum incultum, usque Pulpen, et etiam totum manerium meum de Pulpen, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Dedi etiam eis partem nemoris mei, quod vocatur Wastattoch, per divisiones quas eis ego ipse præfixi, scilicet, sicut rivulus qui vocatur Servan vadit apud orientem, et totam weram Cradoci usque ad viam quæ tendit apud Catteshasse, et de prædicta via, usque Becheresvell, et de Becheresvell usque ad castaneam, et de castanea usque in Uscam. Ex altera verò parte de prædicto nemore tales divisiones eis præfixi, scilicet â prædicto rivulo, qui Servan appellatur, usque ad fontem Cradoci, et de fonte Cradoci iterum usque Uscam, et totam piscariam meam in Usca, quæ est inter prædictas divisiones. Dedi etiam eis totam decimam totius terræ meæ de Wales, scilicet, denariorum meorum, de melle, in bosco, et plano, et de pannagio, et decimam molendini mei de Karliol, et decimam de venatione mea, et prati mei, et de omnibus rebus de quibus decima debet dari. Dedi etiam eis ad eorum sustentationem, manerium meum de Devonesir, quod vocatur Menbiri, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et manerium meum in Sumerset, quod vocatur Presteton, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et aliud manerium quod vocatur Selver, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Dedi etiam eis omnes ecclesias non vacantes totius defensionis meæ, in quibus jus advocationis habeam, cum terris et decimis ad eas pertinentibus; scilicet ecclesiam Sanctæ Trinitatis, juxta Karl. cum omnibus pertinentiis suis in mora, et extra moram. Ecclesiam Julii et Aron, ecclesiam de Staneca, ecclesiam de Wulampton, ecclesiam de Periton, ecclesiam de Selver, ecclesiam de Arolt, ecclesiam de Becheford, ecclesiam de Grettingham. Has omnes ecclesias, cum pertinentiis suis, ut jus monachorum, cum vacaverint, plenè, et integerrimè cedant dedi. Ad cujus expectationis fidem roborandam, dedi sæpedictis monachis redecimas omnium dominiorum meorum, interim in villis meis in quibus ecclesiæ illæ sitæ sunt. Dedi etiam eis omnes libertates, et liberas consuetudines, quas ego ipse in terra mea habeo. Scilicet ut ipsi et omnes homines sui, et de illis tenentes, liberè, et quietè, et honorificè, et pacificè, teneant, sine alicujus hæredum meorum reclamatione sacam, et socam, et tol, et team, et infangenethefe, et cum omnibus libertatibus aliis, et liberis consuetudinibus et quietanciis, in bosco, et plano, in pratis, et pasturis, in aquis, et molendinis, in stagnis, et vivariis, infra burgum, et extra burgum, infra moram, et extra moram, in viis, et semitis, et in omnibus aliis locis, et rebus, solutas, liberas, et quietas, de omnibus placitis, et querelis, et de assisis, et operationibus castellorum, et pontium, et de cariagiis, et de blodwite, et de fithwite, et de theoloneo, et passagio, et de forestagio, et theoloneo aquarum, et viarum forestam meam contingentium, de murdro, et de omni alio homicidio, quoquomodo aliquo loco, vel tempore perpetratum fuerit, de omnibus servitiis secularibus, et exactionibus, quæ unquam poterunt provenire. Et volo ut habeant curiam suam apud Goldclive, et ubicunque sibi viderint meliùs expedire, et de omnibus placitis et querelis supradictis, de rebus aliis, et molestiis, excepta sola justitia mortis et membrorum. Prohibeo igitur ex parte Dei omnipotentis, et ex parte Mariæ matris Domini, et beatæ Mariæ Magdalenæ, et mea, nequis hanc donationem meam audeat infringere; quod siquis fecerit, maledictione Dei omnipotentis, et sanctæ Mariæ, et beatæ Mariæ Magdalenæ, et mea, ipse et tota ejus progenies perpetuò feriatur. Ut autem hæc donatio mea rata et inconcussa permaneat, præsentis scripti munimine, et sigilli mei impressione eam roboravi. Unio hujusmodi Prioratus Abbatiæ de Tewkesbury.

[Pat. 22 Hen. VI. part. 2, m. 13. per Inspex.]

EUGENIUS episcopus, servus servorum Dei, ad futuram rei memoriam. Ex injuncto nobis licet immeritis, sc. desuper apostolicæ servitutis officio, circa monasteriorum aliorumque piorum locorum statum quorumlibet in meliùs dante Domino prosperandum curiis intendentes assiduis, illa libenter opportunæ provisionis auxilia complectimur, per quæ religionis etiam necnon divini cultus incremento solidioris status ipse tranquillitatis aminiculo potiatur, ac votivis monasteria, locaque præmissa successibus gratulentur, et hiis quæ propterea processisse comperimus, ut illibata persistant apostolici dum a nobis petitur muniminis adjecimus firmitatem. Sanè pro parte dilectorum filiorum abbatis et conventus monasterii beatæ Mariæ de Teukesbury, ordinis sancti Benedicti, Wigornensis diœcesis, nobis nuper exhibita petitio continebat, quod olim venerabiles fratres nostri, Henricus archiepiscopus Cantuariensis, Johannes Bathoniensis et Wellensis, Johannes Assavensis, et Willielmus Sarisberiensis episcopi, necnon dilecti filii Willielmus comes Suff. et magister Adam Moleyns decanus ecclesiæ Sarisberiensis notarius noster, et quidam alii tunc expressi, auctoritate et licentia charissimi in Christo filii nostri Henrici regis Angliæ illustris, advocationem prioratus de Goldeclyve in marchia Walliæ alienigenæ, dicti ordinis, Landavensis diœcesis, quæ de rege prædicto in capite tenebatur, eisdem abbati et conventui dederunt atque concesserunt, ad finem et effectum ut ipse prioratus, cum omnibus juribus et pertinentiis suis, eidem monasterio, in cujus ecclesia corpus quondam Isabellæ comitissæ Warwici ac patronæ loci ibidem humatum fuerat, perpetuò uniretur, annecteretur, et incorporaretur; quodque in dicto prioratu unus prior ad nutum abbatis ipsius monasterii pro tempore existentis ponendus et amovendus, necnon duo alii in sacerdotio constituti, dicti ordinis religiosi tenerentur, qui singulis ibidem diebus divina pro statu dicti regis, quoad viveret, et post ejus decessum pro sua, fundatorum quoque præfati prioratus ac ipsius comitissæ, necnon omnium fidelium defunctorum animabus celebrarent, ac competentem sustentationem ab ipsis abbate et conventu perciperent, juxta ordinationem quæ desuper fieret per executores testamenti ac ultimæ voluntatis comitissæ memoratæ. Et subsequenter venerabilis frater noster, Nicholaus episcopus Landavensis, habito desuper cum dilectis filiis, archidiacono et capitulo ecclesiæ Landavensis diligentique solemnique tractatu. De expressis ipsorum archidiaconi et capituli voluntate ac concensu, prioratum prædictum cum juribus et pertinentiis præfatis eidem monasterio authoritate ordinaria univit, annexuit, et incorporavit; ac voluit, statuit, et ordinavit, quod in ipso prioratu unus illius prior ad nutum præmissum ponendus et amovendus; ac duo alii religiosi dicti ordinis, sint divina singulis diebus ibidem pro statu et animabus hujusmodi celebraturi, necnon competentem ab ipsis abbate et conventu sustentationem juxta dictam ordinationem percepturi, prout in diversis inde confectis litteris ipsorum regis, archiepiscopi, episcoporum, comitis ac decani, et aliorum sigillis munitis, et quas in apostolica cancellaria diligentes inspici earumque tenores de verbo ad verbum, unà cum subscriptionibus notariorum præsentibus inseri fecimus, dignoscitur pleniùs contineri. Quare pro parte dictorum abbatis et conventus asserentium quod monasterii duarum millium marcarum, et prioratus hujusmodi ducentarum librarum sterlingarum fructus, redditus, et proventus, secundùm communem æstimationem valorem annuum non excedant, nobis fuit humiliter supplicatum, ut dationi, concessioni, unioni, annexioni, incorporationi, statuto et ordinationi præfatis, pro illorum subsistentia firmiori, robur apostolicæ confirmationis adjicere de benignitate apostolica dignaremur. Nos igitur hujusmodi supplicationibus inclinati, dationem, concessionem, unionem, &c. hujusmodi, necnon quæcunque inde secuta rata et grata habentes, illa authoritate apostolica ex certa scientia confirmamus et approbamus, præsentis quoque scripti patrocinio communimus, &c.

Tenores verò litterarum hujusmodi tales sunt: Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, &c. Datum Florentiæ anno incarnationis dominicæ millesimo quadringentesimo secundo, decimo kal. Augusti, pontificatus nostri anno duodecimo.

NUM. IV.

Titulus Ricardi Ducis Ebor. ad Dominium de Karlyon, et ad Patronagium Prioratus de Goldclyve.

[Ex Chronicis de Lanthony in Wallia, per Rob. Gloverum, Somerset Heraldum desumpta.]

FUIT quidam Oweyn Wan, dominus de Karlyon, et dominus omnium terrarum, et tenementorum et cæterarum possessionum, quæ prior de Goldclyve modò occupat, tam in dicto prioratu quàm extra: super quem Owenum quidam Robertus de Candos conquestus est dominium de Karlyon et Goldclyve, ac cæteras terras. Et post dictum conquestum dictus Robertus primò fundavit prioratum de Goldclyve, in proprio solo suo de Goldclyve, sic per eum conquesto. Et post mortem dicti Oweyn Wan, venerunt duo filii sui; viz. Jorverth ap Owayn, et Walterus Morgan frater ejus, et conquesti fuerunt dictum dominium de Karlyon, et prioratum, super dictum Robertum; et fuerunt seisiti de omnibus placitis regalibus, et placitis coronæ; de hutesia et clamore et sanguinis effusione, forstal; et de omnibus aliis placitis emergentibus de tenentibus prædicti prioris de Goldclyve, citra Poleny, versùs Karlyon; et præcipuè prædicti Jorverthi, Morgan, Howelus de Karlyon, et Mereduth.

Item idem prior protulit alias cartas de dono et concessione Howeli, domini de Karlyon, &c. et antecessorum suorum, factis eidem priori et successoribus suis, ad piscandum in aqua de Uske, &c.

Item quod idem illustrissimus princeps, Ricardus dux Ebor, &c.

Priory of Minting, in Lincolnshire.

RANULPH DE MESCHINES, earl of Chester, says Tanner, before the year 1129, gave the Church of St. Andrew of Minting to the Abbey of St. Benedict upon the Leyr in France; whereupon an Alien Priory of Benedictines was fixed in it. After the Dissolution of these foreign Cells, it was granted, 9th Hen. V., to the Carthusian Priory at Mountgrace;[a] as parcel of which it was given, 34th Hen. VIII., in exchange to the Dean and Chapter of Westminster.[b]

Priory of Long Benyngton, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER says, The Church and four carucates of land in this town being given by Ralph de Filgeriis or Fulgeriis[a] [to the Abbey of Savigney in Normandy,[b] before A.D. 1175,[c] here became an Alien Priory of Cistercian monks subordinate to that foreign monastery. During the wars with France it was seized into the King's hands, and given by King Richard the Second to the Carthusians of St. Anne near Coventry,[d] being then valued at 50*l.* per annum. But after the suppression of these Houses was given, 9th Hen. V., to the Priory of Mountgrace; and as parcel of the possessions of this last mentioned Monastery, this manor of Long Benington was granted to the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, 34th Hen. VIII.[e]

[Ex autographo in bibl. Cotton.]

Juratorum Relatio.

Juratores dicunt, quod monachi de Benington habent quatuor carucatas terræ cum pertinentiis in eadem villa, jam centum annis elapsis, de feodo militari, et valet carucata per annum iiij. libr.; quo dono, vel à quibus feoffati sunt, quo servitio, quomodo, qualiter, et quo waranto, et à quo tempore, per quos fuerunt alienatæ, nesciunt. Sed postea veniunt juratores, et dicunt, quod Oliva filia et hæres Willielmi le Feugeriis feoffavit dictos monachos, et dicta Oliva tenet dictam terram de honore Britanniæ, qui tenebatur de rege in capite. Postea testatum est per xij. et per ballivum, quod non est geldabilis, et quod de tam longo tempore ideo indè nihil, &c. Dicunt etiam quod prior et canonici ecclesiæ sanctæ Katerinæ Lincolniæ tenent duos carucatas terræ, in campis de Benington de feodo militari. Et valet carucata per annum iiij. lib.; quo dono vel à quibus feoffantur, &c. nesciunt.

[a] See the Instrument Num. I. The Hundred Rolls make Olive, the daughter and heir of William de Feugeriis, to have been the giver of these lands, as in Num. II.: and in the Appendix to the Account of Savigney Abbey, hereafter to be given, William the son of Rodland of Sutton is expressly said to have been the giver of them.

[c] Perhaps long before, says Tanner; for in the bishop's palace at Ely there is an original Composition between A., abbat of St. Sergius, and Bachus Andegav. and S. abbat of Savignei, concerning the tithes of Benigtona, which the monks of Savigney were to have, paying xxxii^{s}. yearly at Michaelmas to the monks of Angiers, viz. "Priori et Ecclesiæ de Swavesey." This was confirmed by R. abbat, and the convent of Cistertium. Now, if by this B. abbat of Cistercium be meant Bernard; and by S. abbat of Savigney be meant Serlo, Benington must have been given to Savigney in the reign of King Stephen, or perhaps Hen. I.

[e] Two or three charters relating to this House are printed in Madox's Formulare Anglicanum, pp. 254, 255, 257. Tanner says, "Vide Cartas, Rentalia, Computos, &c. ad hunc Prioratum spectantes in archivis eccl. S. Petri Westmonast. Rot. cart. 19 Hen. III. m. 3. de terris in Forston, Benington, Hames, &c. Priory of Grosmont, in Yorkshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Grosmont, Gromont, Grommond, Grandimont, or Eskdale, in the deanry and archdeaconry of Cleveland.

Joanna, the daughter of William Fossard, he says, wife to Robert de Turnham, in the beginning of the reign of King John, gave a parcel of lands in the forest of Egheton, since called Eskdale, to the Abbat and Convent of Grandimont, in Normandy, who thereupon sent a Convent of Monks of their own Order to settle here: when, by reason of the wars with France, the kings of England bore hard upon these Alien Priories, the Abbat of Grandimont got leave to sell the advowson, and all their right in this Cell, to John Hewitt, alias Serjeaunt; and thereupon it seems to have become "Prioratus indigena," and to have subsisted till the general Dissolution, when there were not above four monks in it. The revenues were rated, 26th Hen. VIIIth, at 14*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* in the gross receipt, and at 12*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* clear, per annum. The Site was granted, 35th Hen. VIIIth, to one Edward Wright.[a]

Carta Johannæ Uxoris Domini R. de Torneham.

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, ego Johanna filia Will. Fossart uxor domini R. de Torneham, salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me divinæ pietatis intuitu dedisse in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, et concessisse liberaliter et libenter pro salute mea, et domini viri mei, patris et matris meæ, et omnium antecessornm et successorum meorum, et hac præsenti charta confirmâsse Deo et beatæ Mariæ, priori et fratribus Grandimontensis ordinis, unam mansionem in foresta de Eggetona inter Eggetona et Cukelwald; scilicet, in longitudine super aquam vii. quarantan., et versùs montem tres et dimidiam quarantan., et quælibet virga unde quarantanæ mensurabuntur erit viginti pedum; ita etiam quod per omnia habeant fratres ibi circa domum suam ducentas acras cum boscis earundem, et cum omnibus adjacentibus, et in tota foresta mea maeremium ad ædificia et omnia necessaria facienda. Dedi eis etiam pari modo molendinum de Eggetonna cum piscaria quæ pertinet ad molendinum, quod faciant fratres ubicumque voluerint in tota aqua, et per totam aquam habeant piscationem liberam et quietam, et faciant piscari ubicumque voluerint in tota aqua cum omnibus sectis; salva tamen molatura hospitii domini villæ, tantum dum in villa præsens fuerit, et quod nemo infra metas eorum in aquam suam intret ad piscandum. Item dedi eis unam quarrucatam terræ in Goldeburc cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et unam vachiviam de xl. vaccis cum secta earum per tres annos, et pasturam ad quingentas oves cum secta earum per tres annos, et decem equas cum sectis earum per tres annos, et decem sues, et pasturam cum sectis earum per tres annos, et duos verres, et pascua mea ubicumque sint ad pascendas bestias supradictas; et quod liceat fratribus loca eligere cum vachiviam mutare voluerint per totam forestam, et fœna colligere in foresta ad pasturam ovium et vaccarum. Dedi eis insuper domos meas in Eboraco; illas scilicet quæ sunt inter domos Laurentii Clerici quæ fuerunt Benedicti Judæi et Isping Geil, cum tota curia et omnibus pertinentiis. Prætera concessi eis unum hominem cum masuagio suo, cum duabus bovatis terræ, et hæredes ejus in Goldeburc, liberos et quietos ab omni tallia, consuetudine, et exactione sæculari ad terram eorum colendam quam habent in eadem villâ, et alia servitia facienda per voluntatem fratrum. Et alium hominem eodem modo in Eggetonna, cum duabus bovatis terræ pro molendino et bestiis eorum servandis et aliis serviciis faciendis pro voluntate fratrum. Et unum toftum similiter in Sandeshande pro negotiis suis et serviciis faciendis. Et unum hominem in Donecastre et hæredes suos, cum masuagio suo et pertinentiis suis, ut se in certis locis et domibus propriis recipiant. Volo igitur quod omnia ista supradicta fratres in perpetuum teneant et possideant benè et in pace, liberè et integrè, quieta ab omni exactione et demanda. Item volo quod bestiæ fratrum de Goldeburc pascantur in herbagio cum bestiis quarrucæ domini de Lihz, et quod habeant in bosco de Brisc', ad tenendam quarrucam et clausuram terræ de Goldeburc. Et ut ista mea donatio, concessio, firma, stabilis, et inviolata perseveret, præsens scriptum sigilli mei impressione duxi roborandum in confirmationem et testimonium perpetuum elemosinæ supradictæ. Priory of Monkenlane, in Herefordshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Lena, Monekeslen, Monkenlane, or Monkland. Ralph Tony the elder having given, Temp. Will. Rufi, the manor and church here to the Abbey of St. Peter at Castellione or Conches in Normandy, it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that foreign House. It was sometime reckoned as parcel of the Alien Priory of Wotton-Wawen in Warwickshire, and as such was granted, during the wars with France, to the Carthusians at Coventry 22 Ric. II.; but, after the Suppression, this Priory of Monkenlane, with all its appurtenances, was annexed to the Dean and Chapter of Windsor 13th Edw. IV.[a]

Confirmatio Donationis.

[Ex autographo penès Præpositum et Scolares Collegii Regalis Cantabrigiæ, an. 1652.]

In nomine Domini, amen. Noverint universi præsentes et futuri, hoc præsens publicum instrumentum, seu transsumptum inspecturi, me notarium publicum subscriptum, anno Domini millesimo quadringentessimo, tricesimo tertio, die vicesima secunda mensis Augusti, indictione undecima, pontificatus sanctissimi in Christo patris et domini nostri, domini Eugenii, summa Dei gratia papæ quarti, anno tertio, vidisse, tenuisse, et diligenter inspexisse, ac de verbo ad verbum legisse, quasdam literas, sigillo reverendi in Christo patris, et domini, domini Willielmi Dei gratia Hereforden. ecclesiæ ministri, in cera viridi ut prima facie apparebat, sigillatas, sanas, et integras, non mutilatas, non vitiatas, non abolitas, non abrasas, nec in aliqua parte suspectas, sed omni prorsus vitio, et suspitione carentes, mihi per religiosum et honestum virum dominum Robertum le Ryve presbyterum, monachum expressè professum in monasterio, seu abbatia sanctorum Petri et Pauli de Castellione de Conchis, ordinis sancti Benedicti, Eboracensis diœcesis, ad copiandum et exemplandum traditas. Quarum quidem literarum tenor de verbo ad verbum sequitur et talis est.

“ Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis Willielmus Dei gratia Herefordensis ecclesiæ minister, æternam in Christo salutem. Ex officio injunctæ nobis administrationis tenemur viris religiosis cavere, et providere ut beneficia à filiis sanctæ Dei ecclesiæ in elemosinam perpetuam sibi collata, pacificè et absque omnium vexatione possidere valeant. Inde est, quod dilectis fratribus nostris abbati sancti Petri Castellionis, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, paterna pietate prospicere cupientes, concedimus eis, et episcopali auctoritate confirmamus manerium de Monekeslen, et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, cum universis decimationibus, et cæteris obventionibus, et omnibus ad eam de jure spectantibus, salva honesta sustentatione vicarii. Medietatem quoque villæ de Diura, quam Hugo de Diura tenet de eisdem monachis, pro quinquaginta solidis annuatim reddendis in tribus terminis, videlicet tertiam partem in purificatione sanctæ Mariæ, et tertiam in die Pentecostes, et tertiam in festo sancti Michaelis. Confirmamus etiam eis omnes decimas de dominio de Salbeuour, cum uno hospite, et decimam illius terræ, quam idem hospes de eis tenet, et de Hida in omnibus. Confirmamus etiam eis duas partes decimarum de dominio de Bromeshaga, tam in magnis quàm in minutis decimis in omnibus. Confirmamus etiam eis duas partes decimarum de dominio de Edidenstoc in omnibus, cum uno hospite, et duas partes decimarum de dominio de Hida, et duas partes decimarum de dominio Willielmi de Schall. et duas partes decimarum Herberti de Arsperton. Et unum burgagium in villa Hereford, et duas partes decimarum de Albodeleg, et in eadem villa duos hospites, et duas partes decimarum de dominio del Bur., et duas partes decimarum de dominio de Wornesleg, et terram et mansuram quæ fuit Caure, et duas partes decimarum de feodo Osberti filii Rualdi, et duas partes decimarum de dominio de Linda cum uno hospite. Has elemosinas habent prædicti monachi ex donatione Radulphi de Tony senioris, quas et alia, si qua in episcopatu Herefordensi habent beneficia canonicè adepta, eis confirmamus, salva dignitate Herefordensis ecclesiæ, et successorum suorum canonica justitia; quod ne de cætero deduci possit in irritum præsenti carta et sigilli nostri testimonio communimus. Hiis testibus, magistro Johanne de Coler, Willielmo de Stoc, canonicis Hereford. magistro Stephano et magistro Osberto et Ricardo scriptore, clericis nostris, magistro Petro et Willielmo clerico de Len. et Rogero Turnel, et Roberto de Offewerd, et Rogero de Livet."

Noverit universitas vestra quod ego pro salutæ animæ meæ et dilecti mei domini regis Willielmi et antecessorum meorum, dedi et concessi et præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et ecclesiæ sanctorum apostolorum Petri et Pauli de Pratellis, et monachis ibidem Domino servientibus, manerium de Thoftes cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, videlicet terris, nemoribus, mariscis, pratis, turbariis, hominibus, redditibus, pasturis, communiis, et aliis quibuscunque dicto manerio spectantibus, ita liberè sicut karissimus dominus meus illustris rex Willielmus illud michi dedit, qui ante me illud aliquantulum possedit. Tenendum et possidendum dictis monachis et eorum successoribus in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, benè, in pace, honorificè, et justè, solutum et quietum de siris et sectis, de hundredis, placitis, quærelis, consuetudinibus et regalibus demandis universis cum sacch. socc. thol. thif. infongenethef et hutfongenethef, et cum libera warenna in parochiis de Thoftes et de Haddescho et de Thorp, cum omnibus aliis libertatibus. Addidi etiam huic dono jus patronatus ecclesiæ beatæ Margaretæ prædictæ villæ, jus patronatus ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Hadescho, jus patronatus ecclesiæ beati Michaelis de Estone, jus patronatus ecclesiæ sancti Leonardi de Wyleya, jus patronatus ecclesiæ beati Michaelis de Cherlintone, jus patronatus ecclesiæ sancti Nicholai de Neuburi, cum decimis, fundis, obventionibus, pensionibus ad dictas ecclesias pertinentibus. Item in villa de Nyuburi decimam totius redditus vel exitus villæ, id est de molendinis, de theoloneo, et de omni re quæ decimari potest vel poterit in futuro, cum una hida terræ libera ab omni censu et consuetudine, secta curiæ, et universo servicio seculari, quæ omnia Arnulphus de Hesdinck, comes del Perche, dominus de Neuburi, michi donavit ad usus elemosinæ monachorum prædictorum. Dedi insuper monachis meis prædictis villulam quæ vocatur Orlaveschote, et quinque hidas terræ ad eam pertinentes liberam et absolutam de siris, de hundredis, placitis, quærelis, auxiliis, consuetudinibus, serviciis secularibus, universis demandis et omnibus exactionibus quas mens humana scit vel sciet, potest vel poterit imposterum cogitare. Dedi nichilominus monachis præfatis aliud manerium nomine Spedeburi cum tota villa, terris, nemoribus, pratis, pasturis, ripariis, molendinis, hominibus, eorum servitiis, capitagiis, redditibus, et omnibus dicto manerio et villæ spectantibus, liberum et absolutum de siris, de sectis, de hundredis, placitis, quærelis, auxiliis, consuetudinibus, servitiis secularibus et omni angaria regali cum soch. sacc. thol. thif, infongenethif, cum omnibus aliis libertatibus. Ista omnia præscripta ego Robertus comes prædictus dedi Deo et ecclesiæ et monachis prædictis tenenda, possidenda, et habenda sicut liberiùs, tranquilliùs, et honorificentiùs aliqua elemosina in regno Angliæ dari potest vel teneri. Et ne aliquis in posterum donationibus meis, caritatis intuitu factis, ausu temerario audeat contraire, præsentem cartam prædictis monachis tradidi sigilli mei impressione munitam, præsentibus domino Cantuar. archiepiscopo, domino Eborum archiepiscopo, dominis Saresbur. Norwyc. Coventren. episcopis, dominis Gloverniæ, Sarebur. del Perche, de Moritone, de Warwyk comitibus, et aliis baronibus, militibus, clericis, nobilibus, et liberis hominibus quampluribus. Nos autem donationem, &c. confirmamus, &c. Dat. per manum nostram apud Westm. xxvij. die Aprilis.

Priory of Allerton Malleverer, in Yorkshire.

THIS was an Alien Priory to the Abbey of Marmonstier at Tours in France, to which the church of St. Martin here was given by Richard Malleverer, and confirmed by King Henry IId. After the Dissolution of the Alien Priories, King Henry the Sixth gave this Priory to King's College in Cambridge. Two Names of PRIORS of this House have been recovered: JOHN PRATTE, a monk of Marmonstier, 9th Feb. 1364; GUY DE BURE, 9th Feb. 1400.[a]

Priory of Haghe, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Hagh, Halgh, or Howghe on the Mount, in the deanry and hundred of Loveden in Kesteven. He says, About A.D. 1164, King Henry the Second gave the manor here to the Abbey of St. Mary de Voto at Cherburgh in Normandy (which was founded by his mother the Empress Maud and himself), so that here was an Alien Priory or some Austin Canons subordinate to that foreign Monastery. This Cell, valued at 20*l.* per annum, was seized into the King's hands, and granted by King Richard the Second, during the wars, first to the Priory of Spittle on the Street in this county, and after to the Carthusians of St. Ann's near Coventry. It was restored, 1st Henry IVth, to Cherburgh, but was, with the rest of the Alien Priories, totally suppressed in the next reign, and granted, 9th Hen. Vth, to the Priory of Mountgrace in Yorkshire, and, as parcel thereof, was granted to John Lord Russel, 33 Hen. VIIIth.[b]

Inquisitio capta apud Lincolniam, die Veneris proximâ post festum sancti Gregorii papæ, anno regni regis Edwardi tertii post conquestum vicesimo secundo, coram Willielmo Thorp, Johanne de Houton, et Thomâ de Sibthorp, justiciariis domini regis, ad inquirendum super verum valorem manerii, et ecclesiæ de Hagh, secundùm tenorem brevis domini regis huic inquisitioni consuti, per sacramentum Walteri de Hildyk de Foston, Willielmi Sampson de Binington, &c. Qui dicunt super sacramentum suum, quod est ibi capitale messuagium, cum columbari, quod valet per annum tresdecim solidos, quatuor denarios, et unum molendinum aquaticum, et valet per annum tresdecim solidos et quatuor denarios, et viginti acræ prati, et valet per annum triginta solidos, quælibet acra octodecim denarios. Et sunt ibi spinæ crescentes in Lovedon pro focali, et valent per annum viginti solidos. Et exitus curiæ valent per annum tresdecim solidos et quatuor denarios, et redditus liberorum tenentium sexaginta et octo solidos per annum, et redditus nativorum sex libras et decem solidos, et servitia dictorum nativorum valent per annum quatuor libras. Et sunt ibi quatuor sokemani, et reddunt per annum sexdecim solidos. Et sunt ibi alii duo sokemani, et reddunt per annum quinque solidos, et redditus de quodam libero tenenti in Grantham duos solidos. Et est quædam placea in Lincoln, et valet per annum duos solidos. Et sunt in dicto manerio trecentæ sexaginta et decem acræ terræ arabilis, quarum duæ partes sunt seminabiles per annum, videlicet, ducentæ quadraginta sex acræ, et duæ partes unius acræ: de quibus quinquaginta sex acræ, et duæ partes unius acræ, valent quælibet duodecim denar. per annum, anno quo seminantur, et sexaginta et decem acræ valent per annum quælibet acra sex denar. anno quo seminantur, et centum et viginti acræ terræ valent quælibet acra quatuor denarios per annum, anno quo seminantur. Et tertia pars dictæ terræ, videlicet, centum viginti tres acræ terræ, et tertia pars unius acræ, quæ jacent warrect nihil valent quia jacent in communi.

Et dicunt quod ecclesia de Hagh, quæ taxabatur temporibus prædictis ad viginti sex libras, tresdecem solidos, et quatuor denarios, non valet hiis diebus nisi viginti libras. Juratores requisiti si prior de Hagh, vel prædecessores sui, aliqua alia terras vel tenementa præter manerium, et ecclesiam et tenementa prædicta habuerunt, necnè; dicunt quod non. Et quoad elemosinas dicunt quod dictus prior nullas elemosinas ibidem facere, seu sustentare tenetur. Sed dicunt quod H. quondam rex Angliæ, progenitor regis nunc, dedit manerium et ecclesiam prædicta abbati et conventui de Cæsaris Burgo in Normannia, quam abbatiam prædictus H. fundavit de uno abbate et viginti quatuor canonicis in eadem divina pro animabus ipsius H. et hæredum suorum imperpetuum celebraturis. Et in subventionem sustentationis eorundem, dedit prædictis abbati et conventui manerium et ecclesiam prædicta in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, in proprios usus imperpetuum possidendam. Ita quod proficua manerii et ecclesiæ prædictæ, ultra sustentationem unius prioris, et socii sui capellani, divina in prioratu prædicto pro animabus prædictis imperpetuum celebraturorum, nomine apporti quolibet anno præfatis abbati et conventui in subventionem sustentationis suæ prædictæ, ut prædictum est, solverentur. Qui quidem socius, dicti prioris capellanus, causâ inopiæ dicti prioratus, ammovetur, et etiam prædictum apportum præfato abbati et conventui subtrahitur, à tempore captionis prædictorum manerii, et ecclesiæ in manu domini regis; per quod credunt cantarias prædictas, pro magnâ parte subtrahi, in abbatiâ prædictâ. Et juratores dicunt, quod est ibidem unum molendinum ventriticum antiquum fractum, nec potest reparari causâ prædictâ. Dicunt etiam quod dictus prior omnes arbores, infra manerium et prioratum prædictum crescentes, pro firmâ suâ, et aliis debitis ad opus domini regis levandis, succidi et vendi, et multas alias venditiones et destructiones, videlicet stauri dicti manerii, et bladi præ manibus, ex hac causa, necessario fecit; ita quod nihil exnunc remanet in manu dicti prioris in sustentationem sui, et hospitalitatem prioratus prædicti, et solutionem firmæ suæ, nisi tantum Gaymaria manerii prædicti, cum proficuis prænominatis, et ecclesia supradicta. In cujus rei testimonium huic inquisitioni juratores prædicti sigilla sua apposuerunt.

Alien Priory of Hinckley, in Leicestershire.

THIS was an Alien Priory for two Benedictine monks belonging to the Abbey of Lyra in Normandy. Tanner says it was given to Lyra by Robert Blanchmaines, Earl of Leicester, before A.D. 1173. Nichols, who has gone more minutely into its History, ascribes this foundation to Hugh Grentesmainell the elder. Mr. Nichols has also printed an Extent of the Possession of this House, taken in 1380.[a] This House had the fate of all the Alien Cells of being often seized during the wars with France, and at length was wholly suppressed in the Parliament of Leicester, 2 Hen. V. Hinckley had been given for a time to the Carthusian Priory of Mountgrace in Yorkshire by King Richard the Second, and was wholly annexed to the same by King Henry the Fifth. After the dissolution of Mountgrace it was granted to the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, Aug. 5th, 34th Hen. VIIIth, who still enjoy it.

The following are the Names which have come down of the PRIORS of Hinckley. Richard de Capella, pres. 1225. John de Capella, 1231. Richard de Paceio, 1234. Peter Lumbard, pres. 1236. William de Aquila, 1244. Hugh de Winton, 1246. Gilbert. Adam de Trungeto, 17 kal. May, 1268. Richard de Audrey, 11 kal. May, 1271. Nicholas Byrnet, 5 id. Aug. 1271. William de Avena, 1289. Hervey de Alneto, 1289. Rayner de Jarieta, 7 kal. Oct. 1300. Matth. de Puteo, 3 kal. Mart. 1310. Henry de Puy, 10 kal. Jun. 1319. Michael Aufri, 1399.

Nichols says there are more than a hundred acres of land in Hinckley called the Priory closes, part of the possessions of the Dean and Chapter of Westminster.

Priory of Horkesleygh, or Horsley, in Glocestershire.

ROGER DE MONTGOMERY Earl of Shrewsbury, in the time of William the Conqueror, endowed the Abbey of St. Martin, which he had founded at Troarn in Normandy, with the manor of Horsley; and here were settled a Prior and Monks dependent on that foreign Monastery, till the Priory and Convent of Bruton in Somersetshire gave some lands which they had in France to the Abbat and Convent of Troarn in exchange for this and other estates in England, and then Horsley became a Cell to Bruton,[b] but afterward was quite dissolved, having neither Prior nor Canon; however, it continued parcel of the estate of Bruton Monastery, and as such was granted, 7th Edw. VIth, to Sir Walter Dennys.[c]

Andreæ de Whitenhirst, quas tunc in proprios usus possidebant, simul cum maneriis de Horselegh et Rungeton et aliis possessionibus et decimis quæ habuerunt et tenuerunt infra regnum nostrum Angliæ, ex dono et concessione Rogeri quondam comitis Saroberiensis, et Roberti de Romeliolo, ac confirmationem domini H. dudum regis Angliæ progenitoris nostri tunc priori et conventui de Bruton, et successoribus suis in formâ prædictâ imperpetuum possidendas in escambium pro aliis terris et tenementis, quæ iidem tunc prior et conventus in Normannia habuerunt, præfatis abbati et conventui per ipsos priorem et conventum datis et concessis concessissent; cujus escambii prætextu priores et conventus loci prædicti, à tempore prædicto, easdem ecclesias in proprios usus, simul cum maneriis, possessionibus, et decimis prædictis, tenuerunt quousque quidam prior et conventus loci prædicti canonicos suos, ad easdem ecclesias loci diœcesano præsentarunt, qui extunc priores de Horselegh nominati fuerunt; ac pro eo quod per diversas inquisitiones, coram Willielmo Aunsell escaetore nostro in comitatu Gloucestriæ, ex officio suo captas, et in cancellariâ nostrâ retornatas, compertum extitit, quod prioratus de Horselegh de fundatione progenitorum nostrorum existit, et à progenitoribus nostris datus præfatis abbati et conventui de sancto Martino, pro divinis ibidem pro progenitoribus nostris celebrandis, ac aliis operibus pietatis faciendis et sustentandis, et ad residentiam continuam et hospitalitatem ibidem faciendas. Quem quidem prioratum, iidem abbas et conventus dederunt eisdem priori et conventui de Bruton, in escambium pro aliis terris et tenementis quæ fuerunt ejusdem prioris de Bruton, in Normannia, ad inveniendum in dicto prioratu de Horselegh onera supradicta, quæ per septem annos et ampliùs sunt subtracta; et quod dictus prior de Bruton, unum de canonicis suis ad eundem prioratum de Horselegh, in singulis vacationibus ejusdem, mediante licentiâ nostrâ, habet præsentare, ac priorem de Horselegh, qui nunc est, ad prioratum illum præsentavit licentiâ nostrâ super hoc non optentâ, et etiam idem prior de Horselegh dictum manerium de Horselegh ad terminum vitæ suæ præfato priori de Bruton dimisit; et similiter quod idem prior de Bruton proficua et emolumenta dicti prioratus de Horselegh, in duabus vacationibus ejusdem, cujus custodia ad nos tunc pertinere debuerat, habuit et percepit, iidem prior et conventus de Bruton super possessione suâ ecclesiarum prædictarum multipliciter sunt impediti, ac dictum manerium de Horselegh in manum nostram occasione prædictâ captum existat, velimus eisdem priori et conventui de Bruton manerium illud restitui jubere, et eis concedere, quod ipsi ecclesias prædictas in proprios usus tenere possint prout eas ante hæc tempora tenuerunt. Nos de gratiâ nostrâ speciali et pro viginti marcis quas iidem prior et conventus de Bruton nobis solverunt, necnon pro eo quod per certificationem scaccarii nostri in cancellaria nostra de mandato nostro missam, nobis constat, quod de exitibus ejusdem manerii de Horselegh, tempore vacationis dicti prioratus de Bruton, ut de parcella temporalium ejusdem prioratus de Bruton ad idem scaccarium nobis extitit responsum; pardonavimus omnes transgressiones factas in hac parte, volentes et concedentes, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, quod iidem prior et conventus de Bruton ecclesias prædictas in proprios usus, simul cum dicto manerio de Horselegh, rehabeant et teneant sibi et successoribus suis imperpetuum, prout ipsi et eorum prædecessores ecclesias et manerium prædicta ante hæc tempora habuerunt et tenuerunt, simul cum exitibus ejusdem manerii à tempore captionis ejusdem in manum nostram: et insuper concessimus, et licentiam dedimus, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris prædictis, quantum in nobis est, quod iidem prior et conventus de Bruton, ac loci illius diœcesanus, disponere possint et ordinare quod loci dicti canonicus, qui ad ecclesias prædictas ante hæc tempora præsentatus, et prior de Horselegh nominatus extitit, in utraque ecclesiarum prædictarum unus vicarius secularis ad præsentationem ejusdem prioris de Bruton et successorum suorum de cætero habeatur, qui quidem vicarii ad vicarias earundem ecclesiarum admissi et instituti et inducti in eisdem solitam curam vicariorum gerant, ac omnimoda onera ordinaria et extraordinaria dictas ecclesias incumbentia faciant et supportent, et quod idem loci diœcesanus eisdem vicariis pro hujusmodi oneribus supportandis rationabilem portionem de decimis et proficuis ecclesiarum prædictarum ex assensu eorundem prioris et conventus de Bruton valeat assignare; ita quod nullus præter hujusmodi vicarios seculares deinceps ad ecclesias prædictas, seu vicarias earundem præsentetur, nec aliquis prior de Horselegh amodo nominetur, seu habeatur. Nolentes quod iidem prior et conventus, seu successores sui, ratione præmissorum, prætextu alicujus statuti, seu ordinationis in contrarium editi, per nos vel hæredes nostros, justiciarios, escaetores, vicecomites, aut alios ballivos seu ministros nostros quoscunque occasionentur in aliquo, seu graventur. Salvâ semper nobis et hæredibus nostris custodiâ dicti manerii de Horselegh in singulis vacationibus ejusdem prioratus de Bruton, prout nos et progenitores nostri eam habere consuevimus temporibus retroactis. In cujus rei testimonium has literas nostras fieri fecimus patentes. Teste meipso apud Westminstr. quinto decimo die Julii anno regni nostri Angliæ quadragesimo quinto, regni verò nostri Franciæ tricesimo secundo. Nos autem pardonationem et concessiones prædictas ratas habentes et gratas, eas pro nobis et hæredibus nostris quantum in nobis est acceptamus, approbamus, ratificamus, et dilectis nobis in Christo nunc priori et conventui loci prædicti et successoribus suis tenore præsentium confirmamus, prout literæ prædictæ rationabiliter testantur. Priory of Alberbury, or Abberbury, in Shropshire.

LELAND, in his Collectanea, vol. i. p. 231, ascribes the foundation of this Abbey to Guarine, sheriff of Shropshire, and says it was "caullid the new Abbey." Tanner says it was founded in the time of Henry the First, for Black monks of the Order of Grandmont in Limosin. The charters here given by Dugdale ascribe the foundation to Fulk the son of Guarine, which would place it in the reign of Henry the Second. Alberbury was suppressed among the Alien Priories, and bestowed by King Henry the Sixth, in the nineteenth year of his reign, at the request of Henry Chichele, archbishop of Canterbury, upon All Souls College in Oxford.[a]

[Ex autographo in cartaphylacio colleg. Omnium Animarum Oxon.]

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Thomas Corbeth salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra me pro salute animæ meæ, et antecessorum et successorum meorum dedisse, concessisse, et præsenti scripto meo confirmâsse in perpetuum omne donum quod Fulco filius Warini dedit et cartâ suâ confirmavit fratribus ordinis Grandimontis in terrâ suâ de Alberbury juxta Sabrinam ad domum eorundem fratrum ædificandam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et etiam terram quæ vocatur Pakenhale cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. Salvo mihi et hæredibus meis omni servitio quod prædictus Fulco et hæredes sui mihi et hæredibus meis debent de prædictâ terra de Alberbury, una cum tota eschaeta quæ mihi et hæredibus meis in sede earundem domorum possit accidere. Concessi insuper et præsenti scripto meo quietum clamavi iisdem fratribus in perpetuum, pro me et hæredibus meis, totum jus et clamium quod habui vel habere potui in advocatione illarum duarum prebendarum in ecclesiâ de Alberbury, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quarum unam Robertus Corbeth pater meus Willielmo, et alteram Hugoni Corbeth dedit, terrâ de Alberbury tunc temporis existente in manu prædicti Roberti, sicut sua escaeta. Ut ergo hæc mea donatio, concessio, confirmatio, et quieta clamatio, pro me et hæredibus meis, in perpetuum firmæ fidelitatis stabilitatem optineat, nisi si quid de sede dictarum domorum cum pertinentiis casu contingente possit accidere mihi et hæredibus meis in escaetam: præsenti scripto sigilli mei impressionem apposui. Priory of Levenestre, in Sussex.

TANNER calls this Priory Levenestre, Leveminstre, Leominster, Lulleminster, or Lymister. It was for Benedictine Nuns, a Cell to the Nunnery of Almanesche in Normandy, which was founded by Roger de Montgomery earl of Arundel in the time of William the Conqueror. Hence, says Tanner, it is probable that that earl, or one of his sons, gave the church of this place and other lands hereabout to that foreign Monastery, which might give occasion for fixing a Convent of those Nuns in this place before the year 1178. After the wars with France, Richard earl of Arundel, 7th Ric. II., treated with the Abbess of Almanesches concerning the purchase of some lands belonging to this Alien Priory, but the whole seems to have been settled upon Eton College by King Henry the Sixth. Speed says it was dedicated to St. Mary Magdalene. The Eton College deeds say to the Virgin Mary.[a]

Alexander episcopus, servus servorum Dei, dilectis in Christo filiabus, abbatissæ sanctæ Mariæ de Almenesches ejusque sororibus, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, regularem vitam professis in perpetuum. Prudentes virgines, et à Christo vero sponso annulo fidei subarratas, quæ, abjectis carnalibus desideriis, in amorem conditoris totis visceribus succenduntur, tanto celeriùs decet nos, atque attentiùs, in suis postulationibus exaudire, et tam eas, quàm earum bona, sub nostra defensione suscipere, quanto magis constat eas cœlestibus desideriis jugiter inardere, et bonis operibus, quæ gesserunt veniente sponso, accensis lampadibus coronandas occurrere. Eapropter, dilectæ in Christo filiæ, vestris justis postulationibus clementer annuimus, et monasterium vestrum, in quo divino mancipatæ estis obsequio, sub beati Petri et nostra protectione suscepimus, et præsentis scripti privilegio communimus. Inprimis siquidem statuentes, ut ordo monasticus, qui secundùm domini, et beati Benedicti regulam, in monasterio vestro institutus esse dinoscitur, perpetuis ibidem temporibus inviolabiliter observetur. Præterea quascunque possessiones, quæcunque bona, idem monasterium impræsentiarum, justè, et canonicè possidet, aut in futurum concessione pontificum, largitione regum, vel principum, oblatione fidelium, seu aliis justis modis, præstante Domino, poterit adipisci, firma vobis vestrisque successoribus, et illibata permaneant. In quibus hæc propriis duximus exprimenda vocabulis: locum ipsum in quo monasterium situm est, cum omnibus libertatibus, at pertinentiis suis: ecclesiam de Beitrum cum pertinentiis suis: ecclesiam de Maceto: ecclesiam de Mool: eeclesiam de quinque altaribus, cum omnibus earum pertinentibus: decimam de Gorlenan, decimam de Gargasala, decimam marisci; decimam molendini de Castello Veteris Almeneschis; decimam sancti Germani de Monte Gomerico, cum ipsa ecclesia, et terram Willielmi presbiteri; decimam nemoris de Almeneschis de venatione et pannagio. Ecclesiam burgi sancti Silvini; duas garbas decimæ totius dominii Rogeri fundatoris monasterii vestri: decimam census, et molendinorum apud Bervaicum: decimam nummorum apud Alentium, et apud molendinos: decimam Malyeruti: decimam capellæ juxta Sagas, et totum proficuum sancti Albini de Maceto; et terram unius vavasoris; et terram Hugonis Grathemiel: apud campum Maniberti duas ecclesias et duas garbas decimæ per totum dominium, quod ibi habetur, quicunque teneat, ac Presterii terram. Ex dono prædicti fundatoris, medietatem de Almaneschis in plano, et aqua, et molendinum ejusdem villæ, et molendinum de Eschetot, et dominium de sancto Silvino, et dimidium molendinum ejusdem villæ, et de Holoss, et ad fossas unam vavasoriam. Ex dono Guiburgis la Brune, tenementa sua de Beitrum, et terram de villa Hastell, et terram quam habebat apud Essei, cum omnibus appenditiis suis. Ex dono Heliæ de Caignei viginti duas acras terræ apud Triunum; ex dono prædicti fundatoris molendinum de Triuno, et burgum sancti Silvini, cum toto dominio, duas piscarias, apud Buris, liberam communam in nemore de Almenesches in virentibus et aridis arboribus, ad construendas domus, et reparandas, et ad ignem cohabitantium, et ad dominicas domus, et molendinos abbatiæ, et ad maneria eidem abbatiæ pertinentia; terram R. presbyteri in villâ sancti Lamberti; ex dono Ivonis Pantul quatuor acras terræ apud Montem Gomeri; ex dono hæredum Hermenfridi de Novofonte, omnia tenementa sua. Ex dono Rainfridi, cum concessione Willielmi comitis, molendinum de Wendalle, et terram de Maceto. Ex dono Gausilini terram de Marisco. Ex dono Cornubi terram Logeorum. Ex dono R. de Bella-aqua quicquid in Liveriis habebat. Ex dono G. de Gargasala centum acras terræ, et molendinum unum. Ex dono Alberedi de Mool, terram suam de Mool, et vineas, et prata, et hospitia, et omnia tenementa sua, et terram suam de quinque altaribus, et molendinum, et omnes redditus omnium quæ ad dominium loci pertinent.

IN DEVONSHIRE.

KING WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR gave the manor of Otterton to the Monks of St. Michael in Periculo Maris in Normandy, who, at a time somewhat later, appear to have had a Cell here of Black Monks to their Abbey. From a Patent of the 5th Edw. III. it appears that King John founded this Priory for four Monks, and that he granted to it the manors of Sidmouth and Budleigh; in consideration of which the monks were obliged to distribute to the poor, every week, the value of sixteen shillings in bread, for ever.

Mr. Oliver, in his "Historic Collections relating to the Monasteries in Devon," says, "A Custumale, containing an Account of the customs and rents of this Priory, was digested by Gaufrid, a monk of St. Michael's Monastery, A. D. 1260. It is probably the same work which Bishop Tanner entitles 'Collectiones, &c., in the possession of John Anstis, Esq., Garter King of Arms,' and is now the property of the rev. Duke Yonge, of Cornwood, in this county." From this MS., and from the Registers of the See of Exeter, Mr. Oliver obtained the following List of the PRIORS of OTTERTON: Nicholas, who occurs A. D. 1213; Henry; William de Kernit, 1220; William Turbeville occurs 1227; Ralph Underwin; John, 1257; Gaufrid, 1260; William de Pratellis, adm. 1266; Richard Jordan, 10th April, 1276; Robert Lovel, 27th April, 1310; Robert de Albo, Sept., 1316; Orgerius Bueys, adm. July, 1319; Thomas Sedile, 30th May, 1352; Thomas Paga, 19th August, 1393; Robert Magne, 30th Sept. 1403.[a]

Mayne was probably the last Prior, as Otterton was suppressed in 1414. After the Suppression, Otterton was given, 1st Edw. IVth, to the Monastery of Sion. Tanner says, perhaps King Edward the Fourth only confirmed the grant of King Henry the Sixth, who is said by Risdon, vol. i. p. 34, to have given it to Sion.

When this Priory was seized by King Edward the Third, it was farmed at 120*l.* per annum. In the 26th Hen. VIIIth, it was valued, as parcel of Sion, at 87*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.* per annum. In the 31st Hen. VIIIth, the Site was granted to Richard Duke, with whose descendants it continued till 1785, when it was purchased by Denys Rolle, Esq., the father of Lord Rolle, the present owner.[b]

Præceptum Regis Escaetori suo undè Fundatio hujusmodi Prioratus constat.

[Claus. 6 Edw. III. m. 19.]

Rex dilecto sibi Henrico le Guilden escaetori suo in com. Sommerset. Devon. et Cornub. salutem. Cum nos nuper certiorari volentes super modo et causâ captionis et detentionis duorum ferlingorum terræ prioris de Oteryton cum pertinentiis in Buddele; necnon portus de Oterymuth ejusdem prioris, una cum piscariâ ipsius prioris in aquâ ibidem, per dilectum et fidelem nostrum Willielmum Trussel nuper escaetorem nostrum circa Trentam, in manum nostram, et etiam super causâ districtionis quam eidem priori fieri fecit, pro quadam cantariâ apud Oteryton sustentandâ, et certâ elemosinâ ibidem distribuendâ, mandaverimus eidem Willielmo quod nos super modo et causâ prædictis redderet in cancellariâ nostrâ certiores; ac idem Willielmus nobis certificaverit quod non cepit in manum nostram tenementa prædicta, sed quod Robertus Selyman, nuper escaetor noster citra Trentam, prædecessor suus, tempore substitutionis suæ in officio prædicto, inter alia terras et tenementa in comitatu Devon. liberavit sibi per indenturam duos ferlingos terræ in Buddele, et portum de Oterymuth cum piscariâ, asserens unum ferlingum dictæ terræ, necnon prædictum portum cum piscariâ esse in manu nostrâ occasione transgressionis quam abbas sancti Michaelis in Periculo Maris per priorem suum de Oteryton fecit, appropriando terram illam de Thoma le Brode, et dictos portum et piscariam post publicationem statuti de terris et tenementis ad manum mortuam non ponendis editi; et alium ferlingum terræ prædictum, esse in manu nostrâ ratione alienationis, quam idem abbas inde fecit Nicholao Heraud, et quod dictum priorem distrinxit ad cantariam et elemosinam prædictas faciendas, pro eo quod per memoranda de tempore Simonis de Bereford nuper escaetoris nostri citra Trentam penès ipsum existentia invenit, quod idem Simon asserebat se invenisse per inquisitionem coram ipso ex officio suo captam, quod Johannes quondam rex Angliæ fundavit prioratum de Oteryton pro animabus progenitorum suorum, et ordinavit ibidem quatuor monachos ad celebranda divina ibidem imperpetuum, et ad distribuendum pauperibus ibidem venientibus qualibet septimanâ imperpetuum panem ad valentiam sexdecim solidorum; et quod idem rex dedit eisdem monachis ad sustentandas prædictas cantariam et elemosinam maneria de Oteryton, Sidemuth, et Buddele, quæ valent per annum centum libræ; quodque eædem cantaria et elemosina non modicum tempus subtractæ fuerunt in præjudicium nostrum, et nos postmodum ad prosecutionem ipsius prioris asserentis abbates loci prædicti de dictis terrâ, portu, et piscariâ à tempore quo non extat memoria semper usque ad captionem eorundem in manum nostram pacificè seisitos extitisse, et ipsos abbates vel eorum aliquem nulla terras seu tenementa in Buddele de præfato Thomâ aliquo tempore, neque ante publicationem statuti prædicti, neque post adquisivisse; et quod maneria prædicta collata fuerint ecclesiæ sancti Michaelis in Periculo Maris, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, per celebris memoriæ Willielmum conquestorem dudum Angliæ regem progenitorem nostrum, habenda et tenenda eisdem monachis et successoribus suis in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, de quocunque onere quieta, volentes super præmissis certiorari, mandaverimus præfato Willielmo tunc escaetori quod super præmissis omnibus et singulis et aliis articulis ea contingentibus diligentem faceret inquisitionem. Et jam per inquisitionem inde per præfatum Willielmum tunc escaetorem, de mandato nostro factam et in cancellariam nostram retornatam, compertum sit quod prædictus abbas per præfatum priorem suum de Oteryton sibi non appropriavit post statutum prædictum unum ferlingum terræ cum pertinentiis in Buddele, neque portum de Oterymuth, cum piscariâ in aquâ ibidem prout superiùs supponitur, et quod idem abbas et prædecessores sui de eisdem ferlingo terræ, portu, et piscariâ, ut de jure ecclesiæ suæ prædictæ ratione maneriorum suorum prædictorum, à dicto tempore quo non extat memoria, seisiti fuerint; et quod idem abbas non alienavit aliquam partem terræ præfato Nicholao de manerio suo de Buddele, quod de nobis tenet in capite; quodque maneria de Oteryton, Sydemuth, et Buddele collata fuerint per progenitores nostros Deo et dictæ ecclesiæ sancti Michaelis, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, absque aliquo onere cantariarum, seu elemosinarum largitione faciendâ in prioratu prædicto pro eisdem. Nos habitâ consideratione ad hoc, quod in certificatione thesaurarii, et baronum nostrorum de scaccario nobis in cancellariam nostram de mandato nostro missâ continetur, quod rex Willielmus primus dedit in puram elemosinam dictum manerium de Oteryton cum pertinentiis, abbatiæ de Periculo Maris in Normannia Montis sancti Michaelis, et dedit abbatiæ de Radinges quando eam fundavit, volentesque eidem abbati in præmissis fieri quod est justum, vobis mandamus quod manum nostram de prædictis terra, portu, et piscariâ cum pertinentiis sine dilatione ammoventes, necnon districtionibus faciendis eidem abbati ratione cantariæ, et elemosinarum prædictarum supersederi facientes, vos inde ulteriùs non intromittatis, et exitus si quos inde perceperitis illis quorum fuerint sine dilatione restituatis, jure nostro inde in omnibus semper salvo. Literæ patentes Regis Edw. III.

[Pat. 5 Edw. III. par. 1, mem. 29.]

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Sciatis quod cum celebris memoriæ dominus W. quondam rex Angliæ progenitor noster, dedisset abbati de Monte sancti Michaelis in Periculo Maris maneria de Otriton et Yertecome cum pertinentiis in comitatu Devoniæ, habenda et tenenda eidem abbati et successoribus suis imperpetuum: postmodum quidam Robertus quondam abbas ejusdem loci, assensu et consensu capituli sui, per cartam suam unum mesuagium et unam carucatam terræ de prædicto manerio de Otriton cum pertinentiis, et per aliam cartam suam unum mesuagium et unam carucatam terræ de prædicto manerio de Yertecome cum pertinentiis Tholomeo de Otriton dedisset et concessisset, habenda et tenenda sibi et hæredibus et assignatis suis de præfato Roberto abbate et successoribus suis imperpetuum per servicium reddendi pro prædictis mesuagio et carucatâ terræ de dicto manerio de Otryton viginti et quatuor solidos, et pro prædictis mesuagio et carucatâ terræ de dicto manerio de Yertecome quadraginta et octo solidos per annum, et faciendi quatuor sectas ad curiam ipsius abbatis et successorum suorum de Otriton, et quatuor sectas ad curiam suam de Yertecome. Præfatusque Tholomeus et hæredes sui à tempore donationis et concessionis eidem Tholomeo sic factarum prædicta mesuagia et duas carucatas terræ cum pertinentiis de prædicto abbate et successoribus suis, per servicia prædicta, pacificè tenuissent, quousque Robertus Beyssyn et Isabella uxor ejus, consanguinea et hæres prædicti Tholomei, mesuagia et terram prædicta cum pertinentiis Radulfo le Espeek per finem inde inter eos in curiâ nostrâ coram justiciariis nostris de banco levatum, dederunt et concesserunt, habend. eidem Radulfo et hæredibus suis de capitalibus dominis feodi illius per servicia inde debita et consueta imperpetuum. Quo pretextu idem Radulfus à tempore donationis et concessionis ei sic factarum pacificè tenuit mesuagia et terram prædicta cum pertinentiis usque ad tempus quo Robertus Selyman, nuper escaetor noster citra Trentam, eadem mesuagia et terram cum pertinentiis occasione transgressionis quam asseruit ipsum Radulfum fecisse prædicta mesuagium et terram cum pertinentiis adquirendo, et ea ingrediendo, licentiâ nostrâ super hoc non optentâ, cepit in manum nostram, sicque in manu nostrâ adhuc existunt, ut dicitur. Nos de gratiâ nostrâ speciali pardonavimus eidem Radulfo transgressiones, si quæ factæ fuerint, in hac parte. Et concessimus ei, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, quod ipse prædicta mesuagia et duas carucatas terræ cum pertinentiis rehabeat et teneat sibi et hæredibus suis de capitalibus dominis feodi illius per servicia inde debita et consueta imperpetuum, sine occasione vel impedimento nostri vel hæredum nostrorum, justiciariorum, escaetorum, vicecomitum, aut aliorum ballivorum seu ministrorum nostrorum quorumcunque. In cujus, &c. T. R. apud Wyndesores xv. die Februarii.

Alien Priory of Sidmouth, in Devonshire.

THIS was also a Cell to St. Michael in Periculo Maris, to which the manor of Sidmouth was given by King William the Conqueror. It was sometimes reckoned as part of Otterton Priory, and with that, after the Dissolution of these foreign Houses, was given to Sion Abbey. Tanner says, " Vide Computos ballivorum, &c. in Officio nuper Curiæ Augmentationis sub titulo Syon Monasterium."

Alien Priory of Cresswell, in Herefordshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Cresswell, Garswell, Careswell, or Kessewell. He says, " On the borders of Brecknockshire, among the mountains in Ewyas-land, was a Monastery for a Prior and ten Religious, of the Order of Grandmount, in Normandy, settled here about the latter end of the reign of King John, or the beginning of King Henry IIId., probably by Walter de Lacy. It was dedicated to the blessed Virgin Mary, seized among the Alien Priories, and, being of the yearly value of forty shillings, was granted, 2 Edw. IVth, to God's House College, now Christ's College, in Cambridge."[a] Dugdale has preserved three Charters granted to this Priory.

Priory of Tykeford, in Buckinghamshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Tykeford, or Tickford, near Newport Painell, or Newport St. Mary; and says, it was a Cell of Cluniac Monks, dedicated to the blessed Virgin Mary, subordinate to the Abbey of St. Martin Majoris Monasterii, commonly called Marmonstier, at Tours in France, to which this manor was given by Fulk or Fulcodius Painel, in the reign of King William Rufus. It was seized into the King's hands as an Alien Priory during the wars with France by King Edward the Third, but restored 1st Hen. IV., subjected to the Priory of the Holy Trinity at York, who presented the Priors, A.D. 1475, 1499, and 1501, and was not dissolved till it was granted (with several other small Monasteries), 17th Hen. VIII., to Cardinal Wolsey, in order to be settled on one of his two intended Colleges at Oxford and Ipswich; at which time the spiritualities of this Priory were valued at 59*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* per annum, and the temporalities at 67*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.*: in the whole at 126*l.* 17*s.* per annum. Mr. Willis has a valuation of this House only at 97*l.* 13*s.* 10*d.* per annum. After the Cardinal's fall, this among other lands of Religious Houses was granted to the Bishop of Lincoln and other Trustees for the use of the King's College in Oxford, yet was afterwards resumed by the Crown, and by King James I. sold to Henry Atkins, M.D.

Tanner refers to a REGISTER of Tykeford Priory formerly in the library of Henry Duke of Kent, and probably still at Wrest; to some charters in the Ashmolean Museum, to which they were bequeathed by Ant. a Wood; and to various Rentals, Accompts, and other Muniments in the Cardinal's Bundle still in the Exchequer. He also refers to various public Records connected with the History of Tykeford, between 1 Joan. and 12 Edw. IV.

There are Extents of this Priory, 22 Edw. I. and 18 Edw. II., in the Donation MS. 6164, in the Brit. Museum, and a Paper Survey of it temp. Hen. VIII. in the Chapter-House at Westminster.

Willis in his MS. History of Newport Pagnel Hundred gives the following names of the PRIORS of Tykeford. ROBERT DE BOHUN, who occurs in 1187; WALTER, 1st Jan. 1199; ROBERT, 1205; BERNARD, 1210; HUGH, resigned in 1220; WILLIAM, elected 1220; JOHN DE HOLNA, or COLNA, made prior in 1232; OLIVER, occurs in 1259; GILBERT, about 1262; BARTHOLOMEW, 1267; REGINALD DE COSSAM, elected 11 cal. Nov. 1270. REGINALD DE BERNEWELL, 3 Edw. I. 1274; SIMON occurs in 1275; GEOFFREY, 1293; WILLIAM DE MENEVERE, elected 1302; FULK DE CHAMPAIGNESE, admitted 18 cal. July, 1332; WILLIAM LANGUETOURE, admitted id. Aug. 1349; JOHN GARRY, 1352; JOHN DE FRESNEY, 1362; FRANCIS QUARTERSUL, admitted 12 cal. Et insuper compertum sit per inquisitiones prædictas, quod prædictus prior de Tykeford habet, et omnes prædecessores sui, à tempore quo non extat memoria, habere consueverunt visum franciplegii, et omnia alia ad eundem visum quoquomodo spectantia, de omnibus hominibus, et tenentibus suis, in Neuport, Tykeford, Chechele, Mersh, Caldecote, Thykethorns, et Hardmede. Et etiam quod prædictus prior de Thykeford tenet de domo prædicti Fulcodii in comitatu Norht. advocationem duarum partium ecclesiæ de Botyngdon, quæ de duabus marcis est eidem priori pensionaria annuatim, et decem solidatas annui redditus in eadem villa de Botyngdon, exeuntes de uno mesuagio et tribus virgatis terræ cum pertinentiis quæ Willielmus tenuit in eadem. Et quod idem prior percipit singulis annis duas marcas nomine pensionis de ecclesia de Bernak, per manus abbatis de burgo sancti Petri in abbatia ejusdem, simul cum expensis cujusdam nuncii prædictas duas marcas ibidem quærentis, quamdiu idem nuncius moram ibidem fecerit expectando pensionem supradictam. Et similiter quod prædictus prior habet, et habere debet in villa Norhampton, de dono quondam Agnetis de sancto Petro filiæ Beringeri de Norhampton, viginti et octo solidatas et quatuor denaratas annui redditus, provenientes de diversis tenementis, reddendo inde ballivis villæ Norhampton tres solidos annuatim. Compertumque similiter sit per inquisitiones memoratas, quod prædecessores prædicti prioris habuerunt cartas et munimenta diversa de terris, tenementis, redditibus, ecclesiis appropriatis, pensionibus, et possessionibus supradictis; necnon cartam Henrici secundi quondam regis Angliæ progenitoris nostri per quam idem rex omnes terras, tenementa, redditus, ecclesias appropriatas, pensiones, et possessiones prædictas, ac etiam dictam libertatem visus franciplegii præfatis monachis confirmavit, et quod carta illa et omnes aliæ cartæ et munimenta quæcumque prioratus prædicti, in eodem prioratu per incendium domorum ejusdem combusta fuerunt; et quod non est ad dampnum vel præjudicium nostrum aut aliorum si cartam nostram de confirmatione præfato priori de terris, tenementis, redditibus, ecclesiis, pensionibus, possessionibus, et libertate prædictis fieri faciamus. Nos supplicationi prioris prædicti super præmissis Dei intuitu favorabiliter annuentes, omnes donationes et concessiones prædictas ratas habentes et gratas eas, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est præfato priori et monachis ejusdem domus, ac eorum successoribus, unà cum prædicta libertate visus franciplegii quatenus idem prior et prædecessores sui priores ejusdem loci libertate illa hactenus usi sunt rationabiliter et gavisi, salvo jure cujuslibet, concedimus et confirmamus. Præterea volentes dilecto nobis in Christo fratri Willielmo de la Menerere, nunc priori prioratus prædicti, pro emendatione status prioratus ejusdem gratiam facere ampliorem, concessimus ei pro nobis et hæredibus nostris quod ipse et successores sui priores loci illius imperpetuum habeant in villa de Tykeford in solo suo ibidem pillorium et tumberellum ad transgressores ibidem, prout justum fuerit, castigandos et puniendos. In cujus rei testimonium has literas nostras fieri fecimus patentes. Teste meipso apud Norhampton undecimo die Augusti anno regni nostri quinto.

Alien Priory of Caresbrooke, in the Isle of Wight.

WILLIAM FITZ-OSBERN, kinsman and marshal to King William the Conqueror, and Earl of Hereford, having founded the Abbey of Lira in Normandy, endowed the same, about the year 1071, with several possessions in England; among others, with the Church of St. Mary in Caresbrooke, wherein a Prior and some Black Monks, from that foreign Monastery, were soon after settled. This Priory, with all its possessions, was seized by King Edward the First, and King Edward the Third; and by King Richard the Second it was given, during the wars with France, to the Abbey of Mountgrace, in Yorkshire. King Henry the Fourth restored it to its own Prior, but being dissolved by act of parliament, temp. Hen. V., that king granted it to the Charter-House at Shene, by him founded.

Dugdale, in other places of his Work, has printed the charters by which it was given to Mountgrace and Shene.

When Tanner wrote, the CHARTULARY of Sheen was in the possession of Sir Richard Worseley, bart., who has given various extracts from it, relating to Caresbrooke, in his History of the Isle of Wight, p. 163.[a]

Prioratus de Caresbrooke, in Insula Vectis.

NUM. I.

Progenies Willielmi Filii Osberni, Comitis Herefordiæ, et primi Conquestoris Insulæ Vectis.

[Ex Registro Cartarum Caresbrocensis Cœnobii, in Insula Vectis.]

MEMORANDUM, quod Willielmus bastardus, conquestor terræ Anglicanæ, habuit Willielmum filium Osberni, marescallum suum; qui conquisivit insulam Vectam tempore quo dictus Willielmus bastardus conquisivit terram Angliæ. Et fecit dictum Willielmum filium Osberni comitem Herefordiæ. Qui idem Willielmus filius Osberni habuit duos filios, Johannem et Ricardum, qui obierunt vivente patre eorum: post quorum mortem et Willielmi patris eorum, descendebat hæreditas illa Ricardo de Rivers, nepoti prædicti Willielmi filii Osberni, tunc comiti Exoniæ. De quo Ricardo venit Baldwinus filius ejus. De quo Baldwino, quia obiit sine hærede de se, descendit hæreditas illa Isabellæ sorori ejus, quam Willielmus de Fortibus desponsavit: Qui quidem Willielmus et Isabella obierunt sine hærede de se; et dicta Isabella supervixit: postquam dominus rex Edwardus nunc, de ea, illam adquisivit.

Alien Priory of Modbury, in Devonshire.

THIS was a Cell of Benedictine Monks to the Abbey of St. Peter sur Dive in Normandy, as early as King Stephen's time, to which it was given by . . . . Ruan, or . . . . . Exton. It was dedicated to St. Gregory, and of about 70*l.* per annum value. Upon the dissolution of the Alien Priories, King Henry the Sixth gave this Priory to his College at Eton. King Edward the Fourth gave it to Tavistock Abbey, but afterwards it reverted to Eton. Such is Tanner's Account of this House. Oliver, in his Historic Collections relating to the Monasteries of Devon, differs from Tanner; he says, it is certain from the Registers of the See of Exeter, that the honour of the foundation is to be ascribed to the Chambernoun family, called in Latin De Campo Arnulphi. William occurs Prior of Modbury before the time of Henry II. Vincent de Fulchis, adm. 21 July, 1275. Nicholas, confirmed 21 Sept. 1321. William, 1334. John de Fovea, 14 June, 1345. Alien Priory of Lappele, in Staffordshire.

THIS was for Black Monks from the Abbey of St. Remigius at Rheims, to which the manor of Lappele was given, in the time of King Edward the Confessor, by Algar earl of Chester or Mercia. The Domesday Survey, from mistake, or other cause, places Lappele in Northamptonshire, tom. i. fol. 222 b. " Æcclesia S. Remigii Remis tenet de Rege Lepelie. Similiter tenuit tempore Regis Edwardi. Ibi cum appendiciis sunt iii. hidæ. Terra est vi. car. In dominio sunt iii. car. et v. servi, et xviii. villani, et ix. bord. cum viii. car. Ibi xvi. acr. prati. Nemus iii. quarent. longitudine et totidem latitud. Valet l. solid." Upon the frequent seizures of this estate into the King's hands during the wars with France, the foreign abbat and convent determined, about 4 Ric. II., to sell it to Thomas Cotterell, clerk, and to his assigns. But this seems not to have taken effect, for this Cell coming to the Crown upon the general suppression of Houses of this kind, was given by King Henry the Fifth to Tong College in Shropshire, and so continued till the surrender of the same, it being granted as parcel of the possessions of the late College 1 Edw. VIth to Sir Richard Manners.[b]

Carta Comitis Algari de Lappeleia.

[Ex ipso autogr. apud S. Remig. Rhemis.]

In nomine Domini Jesu Christi, summæ et individuæ Trinitatis, notum sit cunctis cultoribus Christi, Algarum quondam Anglorum comitem Ingenium, consentiente Edwardo Dei gratia rege Anglorum, sancto Remigio Remensis ecclesiæ quandam villam pro anima sui filii, scilicet nomine Burohardi, dedisse, quæ Lappeleya, cum suis appendiciis, Anglico vocitatur sermone; cujus etiam putrili corpori Roma quidem venienti in præscripto polianeso basilice divina prædestinatio sepulturam ordinavit, quatenus pro eo ibi sanctæ servientes ecclesiæ Deum semper remuneratorem omnium bonorum fideliter precarentur precibus assiduis; et de hoc ergo tali pacto publicè affirmari decrevit, ut si fortè quis sanctæ violator ecclesiæ, mortifera diabolo instigante cupiditate imbutus, ab eo unquam illam auferre voluerit, cum Dathan et Abirom quos terra viventes deglutivit, detestabilem sustineat condempnationem, perpetualiter anathema sit. Quicumque verò ad augendum prædictum stipendium custodiendumque studuerit, simul cum sancto Remigio ubi cum Christo glorificabitur benedictionem consequatur in ecclesiis, quod largiatur misericordia Salvatoris, qui vivit. Et hoc quidem ut certiùs crederetur idoneis stabilivit sub testibus, quorum nempe nomina ordinatim conscribuntur, imprimis enim Edwardus Dei gratia rex Anglorum testis fuit veridicus, necnon Edgith regina ex cujus prosapia originem duxerat, et Stigandus archipræsul, simul et Aldredus et Heremannus episcopus, et Aluualdus episcopus, et Leuuinus episcopus, et Willermus episcopus, et Walterus episcopus, et Gisa præsul, et præterea Harotens dux, Tostinus Gird, et Luuinus Waltef similiter cum multis præpotentibus principibus. Hoc scriptum in duabus cartis habetur divisum, quarum unam Anglica lingua scriptam idem comes Algarus secum retinuit, aliam voce Latina dictatam sancto Remigio devotus transmisit.

Priory of Cowike, or Cuich, near Exeter.

Oliver calls this St. Andrew's Priory at Cowic. William Fitz-Baldwin gave the church and certain lands in this place to the Abbey of Bec Herlowin in Normandy, in the time of King Henry IId, whence a colony of Benedictine monks came from that House. Upon the dissolution of the Alien Priories Cowike was given 29 Hen. VIth to Eton College; but 3 Edw. IV. it was granted to Tavistock Abbey, to which it became afterwards a Cell.

Oliver says, that the first mention of the Priory here which he had found was in 1242. He gives the following succession of the PRIORS: Thomas, who resigned in 1263; N. de Columbers, res. in 1275; Adam de Bours, confirmed 16th August, 1275; William de Porta, before 1302; Eustachius occurs in 1317; Thomas de Leonibus, res. 1334; Alexander de Rothis, conf. 22d August, 1334; Durand de St. Stephen, 1352; John de Ponte Episcopi, adm. 15th May. 1361; Robert de Glanvilla died 1382; William de Estrepeny, succ. 2nd Aug. 1382; John de Bourgeanyll, confirm. May 29th, 1398; Peter died in 1420; William Downebant, adm. Nov. 20th, 1420; Robert de Rouen, alias Becdenne, confirmed 22d April, 1447; he resigned 22d Nov. 1451.

This House suffered materially by fire in 1445; the loss in buildings, moveables, and cattle being computed at 177*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.* The Site was granted, upon the Dissolution of Tavistock Abbey, to John Lord Russell, 4th July, 31st Hen. VIII.

The exact spot upon which this Priory stood is now unknown, but it was undoubtedly in the low grounds bordering upon the river Exe, as may be gathered from one or two public Instruments of the time of Henry the Sixth.[a]

Priory of De la Grave, in Bedfordshire.

TANNER calls this Priory De la Grave, or Grove, now Grovebury in the parish of Leighton, hence sometimes called the Priory of Leighton-Busart. Prior de la Grave often occurs in Tax. Lincoln. and in the Tower Records. Tanner says, "King Henry the Second having given before A.D. 1169, when Nigel bishop of Ely, one of the witnesses, died, this manor in Leighton to the Nuns of Fontevrault in Normandy (in lieu of part of a yearly pension they were to receive out of the Exchequer, given them by King Henry the First), here was settled a Convent of foreign Monks, the Prior whereof was, for the most part, Procurator-general[b] for all the concerns of that Abbey in England. It suffered the fate of other Alien Priories, during the wars with France, and after several grants of it to private persons for life, it was given, 25 Hen. VI. to Eton College; and, about 20th Edw. IV. by John Duke of Suffolk and Elizabeth his wife, to the Dean and Canons of Windsor, part of whose possession it still remains."

Tanner's references to Records concerning this House will be seen below.[c]

Alien Priory of Steventon in Berkshire.

STEVENTON, near Abingdon, says Tanner, corruptly called Steinington, Steveton, or Estiventon. This was an Alien Priory of Black Monks, Cell to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy, to which it was given by King Henry the First. Upon the seizure of these foreign Houses during the wars with France, this manor, and the impropriate rectory, with the advowson of the vicarage, were sold by the Monastery of Bec,[d] and after bestowed, by King Richard the Second, on the Abbat and Convent of Westminster, and, as parcel of their possessions, were regranted to the Dean and Chapter there, upon the new foundation, 34 Hen. VIII.

Priory of Stratfield Say, in Berkshire.

TANNER was informed, that although the church and the greatest part of the parish of Stratfield Say is in Hampshire, the site of the Priory is within the county of Berks.

The church of Stratfield, and a solitary place near it dedicated to St. Leonard, were given, about the year 1170, by Nicolas de Stotevile, to his new-founded Abbey of Vallemont, or de Valido Monte, in Normandy. From this foreign House, a Prior and some Benedictine Monks were settled here to look after their estates in England. Upon the suppression of the Alien Priories, Stratfield Say was granted to Eton College in the 1st Edw. IVth.[e]

[d] The manor and advowson of the Church were sold to Sir Hugh Calveley, whose trustees conveyed it, in 1393, to John bishop of Salisbury, and Roger Walden, supposed to be trustees for the Crown, as the manor was so soon after in the hands of the King, and granted to the Abbey of Westminster. See Pat. 17 Ric. II. m. 7 vel 8. Pat. 23 Ric. II. n. 7. Compare Lysons's Mag. Brit. vol. i. Berksh. p. 375.

Alien Priory of Iselham, in Cambridgeshire.

TANNER says, There was a Priory here, dedicated to St. Margaret, Cell (as Lynton was) to the Abbey of St. Jagitto, or St. Jacutus, in Britany, and granted by King Henry the Sixth to the Master and Fellows of Pembroke Hall, being then valued at 10*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* He adds, "Vide in Thorpe's Registrum Roffense, p. 435, Controversiam inter personam et vicarium de Iselham et Conventum S. Jacuti super decimis, A.D. 1219."[a]

The Messrs. Lysons say, "An ancient building, now used as a barn, which stands in the village at a small distance west of the parish Church, was the Conventual Church or Chapel: it is of the most simple style of Saxon architecture, and seems to indicate that the foundation was very little, if at all, later than the time of the Conquest. The Priory estate is held on lease under Pembroke Hall."[b]

Alien Priory of Lynton, in Cambridgeshire.

In the former edition of the Monasticon, vol. i. p. 1036. this Priory is placed in Somersetshire, but in the writ of restitution, 1st Hen. IVth,[c] it is expressly said to be in the diocese of Ely; so also MS. Dodsworth, vol. cv. foll. 77, &c.[d]

Tanner calls this an Alien Priory, subordinate to the Abbey of St. Jacutus de Insula,[e] in the diocese of Dole, in Britany, and says it occurs in the Norwich Taxation of the diocese of Ely, in 1255. It was seized into the King's hands during the French wars,[f] and after the suppression of these Houses (about which time this was valued at 23*l.* 8*s.* 10*d.*) it was granted by King Henry the Sixth, about A.D. 1450,[g] to the Master and Fellows of Pembroke Hall, in Cambridge.[h]

No Remains of this House have existed for a long time. Cole, in one of his Manuscripts, vol. xxxiii. p. 444, in a Letter to Mr. Gough says, it stood upon the spot where a handsome mansion now stands close by the river and bridge in Linton near the church.

ROLAND, quondam Prior de Linton, is mentioned in 1340. ROB. PORCY occurs 1340. JOHN PORCY. GUL. BOURDET, May 20, 1340. JOHN WHITTLESEY, 1355. JOHN WALKELYN, 1362. NICHOLAS MEUSSY, 1370.

Minster, or Talcarn Priory, in Cornwall.

TANNER merely calls this an Alien Priory to the Abbey of St. Sergius and Bachus at Angiers: and says, "Vide Mon. Angl. i. p. 1036, ex pat. 48 Edw. III. p. 2, m. 3. 'Prior de Minstre tenet 1. par. feod. mort. in Polifant, 3 Hen. IV.'"

Priory of Tregony, in Cornwall.

TANNER says, The Advowson of the Priory of Tregony, as belonging to the Abbey de Valle in Normandy, is mentioned Fin. div. com. 52 Hen. III. n. 18. This Priory, with the Advowsons of the Churches of Tregony and Biry, was made over A.D. 1267, by the abbat and convent de Valle in diœc. Baioc. to the Prior and Convent of Merton in Surrey.[i]

Alien Priory of Winterbury Wast, in Dorsetshire.

TANNER calls this Winterburn Wast, or Monkton; and says, it was an Alien Priory to the Abbey of Cluny, or to the Monastery of that Order de Vasto, to which this manor and other estates hereabouts were given before 15 Joannis, or A.D. 1214. Tanner refers to Claus. 15 Joan. m. 3. Pat. 13 Edw. II. m. 12. Pat. 22 Edw. III. p. 2, m. 36 vel 40. Pat. 42 Edw. III. p. 2, m. 15 vel 16. Pat. 43 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 1 et 2.

[a] In a Note, Tanner says, "Iselham Priory was generally accounted part of Lynton Priory, both being dependent on the same foreign Monastery; and I am doubtful whether there ever were two distinct Cells at these two places. It seems more probable, that the Priory was first seated at Iselham (the Prior of Iselham being mentioned, Rym. Fœd. vol. iv. p. 544. ex clauso 7 Edw. III. m. 23; and his right to tithes in Lynton being also mentioned, ibid. p. 449.), and that it was afterwards removed to Lynton, as an appurtenance to which Iselham appears to have passed, there being no express mention of the latter in the two Grants of Hen. VI. to Pembroke Hall. There was also a free Chapel at Little Iselham, dedicated to St. Nicholas." An Extent of Iselham Priory, 44 Edw. III., Donat. MS. Brit. Mus. 6164. p. 420.

Alien Priory of Ipelpen, in Devonshire.

IN Domesday, says Mr. Oliver, we read "Radulfus Felgheres tenet de Rege Iplepen." The Felgheres family, at an early period, conferred their right of presentation to Ipelpen church on the Abbey of St. Peter of Fulgers in Britany. The rector of the Church from holding his situation immediately from this Abbey, was called a Prior. Perhaps two religious may have lived with him, as was sometimes the case of Cells to Alien Monasteries. Mr. Oliver found the following Names of PRIORS of this House in the Exeter Registers: Thomas, who died in 1274, and was succeeded by Lucas. Geoffrey, Prior and Rector of Ipelpen, 1315 and 1334. Ipelpen shared the fate of other Alien Cells during the wars with France. Oliver says that Lacy bishop of Exeter procured its appropriation to St. Mary's College at Otery in the year 1438. Tanner says it was given by King Henry the VIth partly to the College of St. Mary Ottery, and partly to King's College in Cambridge.[a]

Alien Priory of Spectesbury, in Dorsetshire.

ROBERT earl of Mellent and Leicester, temp. Hen. I., gave the manor of Spectesbury to the Monks of St. Peter de Pratellis or Preaux in Normandy, who placed here some of their Convent, and made it an Alien Priory, but in after times it was reckoned as part of their Cell at Monk Toftes in Norfolk, and, as such, granted to the Carthusians at Witham in Somersetshire, by King Henry Vth; and the manor of Spectesbury, the advowson of the rectory, and tithes of Charleton in the parish of Spectesbury, were granted, 35th Hen. VIII., as parcel of the possessions of Witham, to Charles Blount lord Mountjoy and Dorothy his wife.[b]

Priory of Elingham, in Hampshire.

THE tithes of the parish church of All Saints, with the chapel of St. Mary here, were the first and chief endowment of an Alien Priory, Cell to St. Saviour's Le Vicomte in the diocese of Constances in Normandy,[c] to which it was given by William de Solariis, A.D. 1163.[d] After the suppression of these Houses, the rent reserved to the Crown out of this was given by King Henry the Sixth to Eton College, to which King Edward the Fourth gave the rectory of Elingham.[e]

Priory of Povington, in Dorsetshire.

TANNER styles this an Alien Priory to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy, sometimes reckoned as parcel of their Cell at Okeburn in Wiltshire. It was given, 20th Hen. VI., to St. Anthony's Hospital in London; 7th Edw. IV. to Eton College for the maintenance of five scholars bred in their school at Oxford; and afterward, in the seventeenth of the same King, to the Dean and Prebendaries of Windsor, who, Tanner says, were never the better for it.[f]

Alien Priory of Wenge, in Buckinghamshire.

THE church and other lands here having been given by Maud the empress, to the Monastery of St. Nicholas at Angiers in France, a Cell of Benedictine Monks came from thence, and settled at a hamlet in this parish, since called Ascot.[g] Upon the dissolution of the Alien Priories in the 4th Hen. V. Wenge was granted to the Prioress and Nuns De Pratis near St. Alban's, which was suppressed by Cardinal Wolsey, in order to be annexed to his commendatory Abbey of St. Alban; but he afterward getting a grant of it for himself,[h] upon his attainder, this manor and rectory were given, 23 Hen. VIII., to John Pen, and 35 Hen. VIII. were granted as parcel of the late Monastery of St. Alban to Sir Robert Dormer.

Alien Priory of Axmouth, in Devonshire.

TANNER says, the manor of Axmouth being given to the Abbey of St. Mary at Mountborow in Normandy, by Richard de Redvers or Rivers, earl of Devonshire, temp. Hen. II., it was reckoned sometimes as a distinct Alien Priory,[a] at other times as parcel of Lodres in Dorsetshire,[b] which was a great Cell to that foreign Monastery. After the dissolution of these Houses, Axmouth was bestowed on the Monastery of Sion, and, as parcel of its possessions, was granted to Walter Erle, 6th Edw. VI.

Oliver sees no reason to believe that a Priory ever existed at Axmouth. From the Exeter Registers it appears that the custody of the Church of Axmouth was constantly in the Prior of Lodres.

Under Mountborow, or Montburgh Abbey, Dugdale has printed the charters of King Henry the Second and King Edward the Third, by which the manor of Axmouth was confirmed to that House.

Alien Priory of Andewell, in Hampshire.

ANDEWELL, or Enedwell, an Alien Priory Cell to Tyrone, was situated between Basingstoke and Hertfordbridge. It is mentioned in the Lincoln Taxation, and in the Roll of the 22d Edw. I.,[c] of which year there is an Extent of Andewell Priory in the Donat. MS. Brit. Mus. so often quoted. This and St. Cross, says Tanner, are reckoned among the Houses of the Benedictine Order, but should rather be of the Cistercian, if Cells to Tyrone, as they are accounted in the former edition of the Monasticon, vol. i. p. 1036, and in Rymer, vol. iv. p. 248. Tanner refers to "Bundell. benef. alienig. 48 Edw. III. de maner. de Andwell." GERVASE occurs prior of this House, 1 Hen. III.

Alien Priory of St. Cross, in the Isle of Wight.

TANNER notices the existence of this Priory, a Cell to Tyrone, as early as A.D. 1153, at which time GIRARD occurs as prior of the House. On the suppression of the Alien Priories it was granted to the College of Winchester. Tanner refers to "Pat. 33 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 10 vel 11. Pat. 6 Ric. II. p. 1, m.. Rex dedit Johanni de Coweshall custodiam Hospitalis S. Crucis in Insula Vectis ad totam vitam."

Alien Priory of Wareham, in Dorsetshire.

AFTER the Conquest, says Tanner, one or more of the Churches in this Town, with some lands in the neighbourhood, being given by Robert earl of Leicester, temp. Hen. I., to the Abbat and Convent of Lira in Normandy, they sent over and settled here a Cell of their own Benedictine monks, which was dedicated to the Virgin Mary. When the Alien Priories, during the wars with France, were seized into the King's hands, the Priory of Montgrace in Yorkshire had the revenues of this for some years: but when these foreign Houses were dissolved, King Henry the Fifth gave this, anno regni 3, to the Carthusians of Shene, and as parcel of the possessions of this last-mentioned Monastery, the Priory of Wareham was granted, 1 Mariæ, to Thomas Reve and George Cotton.[d]

Priory of New Rumney, in Kent.

THE Church of St. Nicholas, with the Chapel annexed, says Tanner, and some other Churches in Kent, being appropriated to the Abbey of Pountney in . . . . . here was placed a Cell of monks to that foreign Abbey, and upon the suppression of these Alien Priories, it was given by King Henry the Sixth to All Souls College in Oxford.[e]

Priory of Llangenith, in Glamorganshire.

ROGER DE BELLOMONT, earl of Warwick, is said to have conquered Gowherland in Wales, and to have thereupon founded a Priory here in the reign of King Stephen,[f] and to have annexed it to the Abbey of St. Taurinus at Eureux in Normandy. It was dedicated to St. Kenned, and, being seized as an Alien Priory, was granted by King Henry the Sixth, A.D. 1441, to All Souls College in Oxford.[g]

Paunsfield, or Panfield Priory, in Essex.

WALERAN FITZ RANULPH, says Tanner, in the 4th year of William the Conqueror, gave the manor here to the Abbey of St. Stephen at Caen in Normandy, whereupon it became an Alien Priory of Benedictine monks: but

1 Hen. V. the abbat and convent of Caen granted it in fee to John Woodhouse, esquire; and King Henry the Fifth, in the third year of his reign, confirmed it to him, who afterwards sold it to Thomas Bourchier, lord archbishop of Canterbury; and he gave it, A.D. 1473, to the Prior and Convent of his metropolitical Church at Canterbury, and as parcel of their possessions, this Priory was granted, 30th Hen. VIII., to Sir Giles Capel.[a]

Alien Priory of Takeley, in Essex.

THIS was an Alien Priory to the Abbey of St. Valery in Picardy, to which this manor was given by King Henry the First. After the dissolution of the Alien Priories it was made part of the endowment of New College in Oxford. An Extent of the possessions of this Priory was taken in the 22d of Edw. I. which is still extant. This Priory possessed manors in Dengey, Lindsell, Hatfield Broad-oak, and Widington, and the manor and advowson of the rectory of Birchanger, in Essex; and the rectories and advowsons of the vicarages of Hampton, Heston, Isleworth, and Twickenham, in Middlesex.[b] Francis de Founteneys occurs Prior of this House in the 47th Edw. III.[c]

Alien Priory of Beccanford, or Bekeford,

IN GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

THE manor of Beccanford was given in the time of Henry the First to the Abbey of St. Martin and St. Barbara in Normandy, commonly called St. Barbe en Auge, by Rabellus Camerarius, after which a Prior and Canons were sent over, and Beccanford became a Cell to that foreign House, which was of the Order of St. Austin.[d] The church of Beccanford, which was unconnected with this Cell, appears to have belonged to the Abbey of Cormeile in Normandy.[e]

Upon the suppression of the Alien Houses, the Cell of Beccanford was bestowed by King Henry the Sixth upon Eton College, when its revenue was reckoned to amount to the yearly value of 53l. 6s. 8d.[f] It was afterwards given by King Edward the Fourth to Fotheringay; and as parcel of the possessions of this last College, was granted, 1 Edw. VI., to Sir Richard Lee.[g]

Alien Priory of Brimsfield, or Bromsfeud,

IN GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

THIS was a Priory of Benedictine monks, Cell to the Abbey of St. Stephen at Fontenay in Normandy. It was given to Eton College by King Henry the Sixth, and confirmed thereto by King Edward the Fourth, in the 7th year of his reign, but granted by him in the 14th and 17th years of his reign to the Dean and Chapter of Windsor; though Tanner says these last never enjoyed it.[h]

Stevens, vol. i. p. 271, has given, from Sir Robert Atkyns's Hist. of Gloucestershire, a translation of King Edward the Fourth's grant of Brimsfield to the College of Windsor.

Priory of Noent, in Gloucestershire.

TANNER calls this Priory Noent, Newent, or Newenton. The manor of Noent was given by King William the Conqueror, at the instance of Roger de Montgomery, to the Abbat and Convent of Cormeile in Normandy, who subsequently sent over a Prior and some Benedictine monks who established a Cell here to that foreign Monastery. Tanner says, When, during the wars with France, this Alien Priory was seized by the King, it was farmed at one hundred and ninety marks by the year, and, after the suppression of these Houses, was granted by King Henry the Fourth and King Henry the Fifth to the Collegiate Church of Fotheringay in Northamptonshire; as parcel of which it was granted in the 1st Edw. VI. to Sir Richard Lee. The Site subsequently belonged to the Foleys.

Stevens, Contin. vol. i. p. 273, has given an Account of this Priory from Sir Robert Atkyns's History of Gloucestershire, together with his translations of a Bull of Pope Alexander III. and a charter of King Henry the Second, confirming divers donations in Normandy and England to the Abbey of Cormeile.[i]

Alien Priory of Hailing, in Hampshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Hailing, olim Haringeye. King William . . he says, and afterwards King Henry the First, having given the church, tithes, and the greatest part of the land in this island to the Abbey of St. Peter at Gymeges in Normandy, it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks thereunto. After the suppression of the Alien Priories, King Henry the Fifth bestowed this Cell on his new foundation of Carthusians at Shene, and when that was dissolved, King Henry the Eighth, anno regni 33, granted the Priory of Hailing to the College of Arundel, in exchange for some other estate.[a]

Hamele, or Hamelrise Priory, in Hampshire.

THIS was a Cell to the Abbey of Tyrone in France, for monks of the Cistercian Order, dedicated to St. Andrew. Tanner says, these monks were settled here in the time of Henry de Blois Bishop of Winchester.[b] After the foreign Houses were suppressed, this came to New College in Oxford.[c]

Leland, Itin. vol. iii. p. 110, speaking of Hamelrise, says, "Here a late was a great Abbey in building of White Monks."

St. Helen's Priory, in the Isle of Wight.

THIS was a Priory of Cluniac monks, and existed before the year 1155. The revenues of this House were seized in common with those of other Alien Priories during the wars with France. After the dissolution of these Houses, the rent of it for a term of years was given by King Henry the Sixth to Eton College, and the Priory itself granted thereto, 7th Edw. IV. But the same King Edward the Fourth, in the 14th year of his reign, gave it to Windsor College.[d]

Priory of Acley, or Lyre Ocle, in Herefordshire.

TANNER says, this manor being given to the Abbey of Lira in Normandy by one of the ancestors of Robert Chandos before A.D. 1160, it became an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks. After the dissolution of those Houses, this was given to Shene; and as parcel thereof, was granted 33d Hen. VIIIth, to Sir Philip Hoby.[e]

Alien Priory of Ware, in Hertfordshire.

HUGH DE GRENTEMAISNIL, lord of this town, gave the church of St. Mary here, with the tithes thereunto belonging, and two carucates of land, before the year 1081, to the Monks of St. Ebrulf at Utica in Normandy: whereupon it became a Cell to that Abbey, and, in process of time, was so well endowed that upon the seizure of the Alien Priories by King Edward the Third, during the wars with France, this was farmed at 200*l.* per annum. After the suppression of these foreign houses this was given, 3 Hen. Vth, to the Monks at Shene. King Henry the Sixth, for some time, annexed to it the Abbey of St. Mary near Leicester, but it was afterwards restored to Shene, and, as parcel of its possessions, was granted by King Henry the Eighth to Trinity College in Cambridge.[f]

Thurlegh, or Trewelegh Priory, in Kent.

THIS was a Cell of Monks to the Abbey of St. Bertin at St. Omer's in Artois, which was granted in the 22d Hen. VIth to the Abbey of Sion; and, after the general suppression, was granted in exchange for lands in Marybone, with the prebendary of Rugmere in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, London. Tanner refers but to one public Record concerning this House, Pat. 22 Hen. VI. p. 1, m. 9.

There is an Extent of Thurlegh Priory, 18 Edw. II., Donat. MS. Brit. Mus.

Priory of Cameringham, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this an Alien Priory to the Premonstratensian Abbey of Blanche Lande in Normandy; the manor here being given thereunto by the founders Richard de Haya and Maud his wife pretty early in the reign of King Henry the Second. About the 19th Ric. II. Elizabeth, widow of Sir Nicholas Audley, purchased this Priory of the Foreign Monastery, and, by the King's licence, settled it on the Abbey of Hulton in Staffordshire, as parcel of the possessions of which the manor and church here were granted, 37th Hen. VIIIth, to Robert Tirwhite.[a]

Hagham, Hacharn, or Hayham Priory, in Lincolnshire.

HERE, says Tanner, was an Estate and Priory belonging to the Cluniac or Benedictine Abbey of St. Mary San Sever in the diocese of Constance, which was of the foundation of Hugh the first earl of Chester. This Cell, then valued at twelve marks per annum, was, about 20 Ric. II., settled upon the Carthusian Priory of St. Anne near Coventry, and, as parcel thereof, was granted to J. Bellow and J. Broxholm, 37th Hen. VIIIth. The Harleian Manuscript 2044, fol. 105, contains transcripts and extracts from various original Deeds relating to this Priory.

Alien Priory of Limbergh Magna, in Lincolnshire.

THE following is Tanner's Account of this House. "Richard de Humet, constable of Normandy, temp. Hen. II. gave the Church here to the Cistercian abbey of Aulnay, or Aveney, in Normandy, to which this became an Alien Priory till it was sold by these foreign monks to the Carthusians of St. Anne near Coventry, 16 Ric. II., and, as parcel of the possessions of this last mentioned Monastery, Moungath in Limbergh Magna, with the rectory and the advowson of the vicarage, was granted, 36th Hen. VIIIth, to John Bellow and others."

There are the following Extents of Limbergh Magna Priory in the Brit. Mus. Donat. MSS., viz. 44 Edw. III. 3 and 10 Ric. II.

Priory of West Ravendale, in Lincolnshire.

ALAN the son of Henry earl of Britany gave, A.D. 1202, the town and church of West Ravendale to the Premonstratensian Abbey of Beauport in Britany; whence the latter became a Cell to that Monastery. This Alien Priory was valued at 14*l*., and after its dissolution 17 Hen. VIth, was granted by that King to the Collegiate Church of Southwell in Nottinghamshire.[b]

Priory of Wenghale, in Lincolnshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Wenghale, Wenhale, or Wyngall, in the parish of South Kelsey: and says it was an Alien Priory dedicated to St. John, Cell to the Abbey of Sees in Normandy, to which it belonged in the beginning of the reign of King Henry the Third. It was given by King Henry the Sixth, anno regni 19, to King's College in Cambridge, who exchanged the same for some tenements in School-street, 21 Hen. VI., which were confirmed to them by that King, anno regni 32, after the death of Sir Thomas Comberworth; and this Priory was thereupon immediately granted to Michael House in Cambridge, and thereby became afterwards part of the endowment of Trinity College; but was, A.D. 1606, exchanged with Sir Thomas Mounson for the manor of Tritton in Tydd S. Mary in the same County.[c]

Alien Priory of Riselipp, in Middlesex.

THE manor and church of Riselipp having been given by Ernulph de Hesding, in the time of William the Conqueror or King William Rufus, to the Abbey of Bec in Normandy, a Cell of those foreign monks was sent over hither, who continued many years under a distinct Prior. But in process of time this estate and Priory was made parcel of, and subject to, Okeburn in Wiltshire, the chief of all the Houses of Bec in England. After the suppression of these Alien Priories, the rectory here, with other of the spiritualities belonging to Okeburn, came to Windsor College, and were valued, 26 Hen. VIIIth, amongst the Windsor possessions, at 18*l*. per annum. But the manor was granted to the University of Cambridge 16 Hen. VI. and 1 Edw. IV. to King's College there.[d]

Alien Priory of Fieldallyng, in Norfolk.

THE Continuator of Blomfield has given an Account of this Monastery. Maud de Harscolye, it appears, in the time of King Henry the Second, gave a manor at Fiedallyng to the Abbat and Convent of Savigny in Normandy, whereupon there came over hither some Cistercian monks of that House, to which this is sometimes mentioned as a Cell or Priory of itself, and sometimes as parcel of Long Benington in Lincolnshire. Upon the dissolution of the Alien Priories, this was given first to Epworth, then to the Spittle on the Street in Lincolnshire; after that to the Carthusians near Coventry by King Richard the Second; and afterward to the Priory of Mountgrace, and, as parcel of this last mentioned Monastery was granted, 2 and 3 Phil. et Mar., to Martin Hastyngs and James Borne.[a]

Priory of Lesingham, in Norfolk.

THE manor here having been given in the time of King William Rufus by Girard de Gournay, here became an Alien Priory, which was subordinate to Okeburn. During the wars with France this Cell was leased to Sir Thomas Erpingham, and after to Edward Clere, Esq., at the rent of 16*l. per ann.*, which King Henry the Sixth gave to Eton College; but King Edward the Fourth gave the Priory or Manor absolutely to King's College in Cambridge, to which it still belongs.[b]

Alien Priory of Sporle, in Norfolk.

THIS was a Cell of Black Monks belonging to the Abbey of St. Florence near Salmur dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Tanner says it existed before the year 1256. After the Dissolution of these Houses King Henry the Sixth made Sporle, anno regni 19, a part of the endowment of Eton College, to which it was confirmed 1 Edw. IVth.[c]

Alien Priory of Wirham, or Wearham, in Norfolk.

TANNER gives the following Account of this House, chiefly from Blomfield. He says, "In this parish was a Benedictine Priory as ancient as the time of King Richard the First or King John, founded by the Earls of Clare, subordinate to the Abbat and Convent of Mounstroll or Musterell in the diocese of Amiens, who sold it, A.D. 1321, to one Hugh Scarlet of Lincoln, and he parted with it again to the Lady Elizabeth de Burgo, who gave it to the Abbey of West Dereham. It was dedicated to St. Winwalve[d] or St. Guenolo (whose body was enshrined in that foreign Abbey), and was granted as parcel of the possessions of West Dereham monastery to Thomas Guibon and William Mynn, 4 and 5 Phil. et Mar. In A.D 1428, the abbat of Dereham paid tenths for the temporalities of the Priory of Wynwaloy, which were then valued at 7*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* And for the spiritualities of the same taxed at 13*s.* 4*d.*"[e] Edmund Mortimer Earl of March was accounted patron of this House temp. Hen. V.

Priory of Everdon, in Northamptonshire.

THE manor of Everdon appears to have been given, before the year 1217, to the Abbey of Bernay in Normandy, though by whom is not stated; nor is it known at what time a Cell from the Abbey was established at Everdon. Everdon, says Tanner, was some time a distinct Alien Priory, at other times reckoned as parcel of Creting in Suffolk, which was the chief Cell in England to that Abbey. It was given 19 Hen. VI., and afterwards, 1 Edw. IVth, to Eton College.[f]

Priory of Wedon on the Street, in Northamptonshire.

THIS Priory was also called Wedon Bec. Tanner says, Roger de Thebovil, shortly after the Conquest, having given a moiety of his manor of Wedon to the abbat and convent of Bec in Normandy, they erected an Alien Priory here, which King Henry the Sixth in the twenty-second year of his reign made part of the endowment of Eton College. Bridges, in his History of Northamptonshire, vol. i. p. 93, though he could have no doubt that the manor belonged to the Abbey of Bec, throws great doubt upon the existence of a Cell here.[a]

Charleton upon Otmoore, in Oxfordshire.

WHAT Tanner says, is all that the Editors can offer as to the existence of an Alien Cell here. He says, "Hugh de Grentemaisnil, before the year 1081, gave to the Abbey of St. Ebrulf at Utica, in Normandy (which he was the restorer of), the Church here and five yard-lands; and his daughter Adeline de Ibreio, temp. Hen. I., gave to that Monastery the manor of Ceorlotona; so that, if there was in England an Alien Priory of Charlton cell to St. Ebrulf, it was here; but it doth not yet appear to me, that any of their monks were placed at this Charlton; for their estate here seems to have been under the management of their prior at Ware.[b] King Richard the Second and King Henry the Fourth gave the advowson of the Church here to the Prioress and Nuns of Henwood, in Warwickshire; but the manor, as belonging to the Priory of Ware, went toward the endowment of Shene; and, as parcel of the possessions of this last-mentioned Monastery, was granted to Sir Thomas White and others, 5 ET 6 Phil. et Mar."[c]

Alien Priory of Minster Lovel, in Oxfordshire.

TANNER says, "The Church of this place being given to the Abbey of St. Mary de Ibreio, or Yvry, by Maud, the wife of William Lovel, before 8 Joannis, it became an Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks,[d] Cell to that foreign Monastery; which, after the Suppression of those Houses, was granted to Eton College, 1 Edw. IVth." The following Names of PRIORS of MINSTER LOVEL occur in the Lincoln Registers: SIMON DE PARIS; GACIUS, who succeeded in 1259; JOHN, 1269; STEPHEN, upon John's death, 2 non. Apr. 1291; RALPH DE MONTEFORT, non. Oct. 1294; JOHN DE MONTE-CALVETO, 4 id. Nov. 1299; ROBERT DE HODENCO, kal. Mart. 1304; GEOFFREY DE RUFETO; BERTRAND DE MONDREVILLA, 7 id. Decemb. 1309; WILLIAM DE ROUGE, 6 id. May, 1341.[e]

The Church, with several other Remains of this Priory, still exist.

Priory of Edith Weston, or Edyweston,

IN RUTLANDSHIRE.

TANNER calls this "An Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks, Cell to the Abbey of St. George, at Belcharvile, or Banquervill, in Normandy, to which it was given by William de Tankervill, chamberlain to King Henry I. About the 14*th Ric. II*, it was conveyed to the Carthusians of Coventry; and, as parcel of their possessions, was given, 4th Edw. VI., to William Marquis of Northampton."[f]

AN Alien Priory of Benedictine Monks, Cell to St. Sever, in Normandy. This was granted, 7 Edw. IV., to Eton College, but exchanged away with the King, temp. Edw. VI., for Bloxam, &c. Tanner refers, relating to it, to Plac. in com. Som. 8 Edw. I. assis. rot. 22. pro terris ibid. Pat. 7 Edw. IV. p. . m. . Pat. 13 Edw. IV. p. . m. .

Alien Priory of Clare, in Suffolk.

A FAMOUS Earl named Eluric, or Alfric, the son of Withgar, who lived in the reigns of Canute, Hardecanute, and Edward, Kings of England, founded the Church of St. John Baptist,[a] in the Castle of Clare, and therein placed seven secular Canons: which Church, with all its prebends and endowment, Gilbert de Clare gave, A.D. 1090, to the Monastery at Bec, in Normandy, and thereby it became a Cell of Benedictine Monks to that Abbey, until the year 1124, when his son Richard removed them to Stoke.[b]

The subsequent history of this foundation, as a College, will be hereafter given.

Alien Priory of Tooting, or Tooting Bec, in Surrey.

SOME part of this town being given to the Abbey of Bec, in Normandy, probably by Richard Fitz Gilbert, or Richard de Clare, in the time of King William the First, or King William Rufus, some Black Monks of that House were fixed here; and this estate was sometimes accounted a distinct Alien Priory, and at other times only a manor belonging to Okeburn, the chief Cell in England to that foreign Monastery.

The farm of this place, given to John Ardern, Esq., for ten years, at 19*l.* per annum, with the reversion, was granted, 19 Hen. VI., to Eton College. It was granted, 1st Edw. IVth, to the bishop of Durham; and, 5th Edw. IVth, the Priory of Totingbeke, with the advowson of Stretham, were procured by John Earl of Worcester, and, with the king's leave, settled by him on a fraternity which he had instituted in the Church of Alhallows, Barking, near the Tower of London.[c]

Alien Priory of Hou, or Hoo, in Sussex.

THE manor of Hou was given to the Abbey of Bec, in Normandy, by Henry Earl of Ewe, between A.D. 1096 and A.D. 1139. An Alien Priory of Benedictine monks to that foreign House was shortly after erected here, though Hou was sometimes reckoned as parcel of Okeburn, the principal Cell to the Abbey of Bec in England. It was given by King Henry the Sixth, with Preston, to Eton College; and by King Edward the Fourth to Ashford College, in Kent.[d]

Rotherfield Priory, in Sussex.

LANDS at Riddrefield, now Rotherfield, in Sussex, having been given by Berthwald duke of the South Saxons, about the year 800, to the Abbey of St. Denis in France, a Convent of monks from that House was fixed here.[e]

Alien Priory of Stayning, in Sussex.

TANNER, speaking of Stayning, says, "This seems to have been in the Saxon times a place of some note for a Church or Monastery, wherein St. Cudman was buried; and in the Catalogue of religious Houses ascribed to Gervase of Canterbury, temp. Ric. I., mention is made of a dean and secular Canons here."[f] "It is more certain," he adds, "that King Edward the Confessor[g] gave lands here to the Abbey of the Holy Trinity at Fiscamp in Normandy, which were taken away by Earl Godwin, and restored by King William the Conqueror, and that thereupon some Benedictine monks sent from that foreign House made an Alien Priory here, which was given to the Monastery of Syon, 1 Edw. IVth, and continued part of the possessions till the Dissolution. Speed saith it was dedicated to St. Mary Magdalene. Here was the parish of St. Cuthman, and the parish church of St. Andrew in this town was appropriated to Fiscamp. Therefore quære as to the dedication."[h]

Sumpting Priory, in Sussex.

IN a Roll 4 Hen. VI. in the Augmentation office, mention is made of the Priory of St. John at Sompting.

Priory of Wilmington, in Sussex.

THE Alien Priory here was erected in consequence of the bequest of the manor of Wilmington to the Abbey of Grestein in Normandy, by Robert Earl of Moreton, in the time of King William Rufus. The monks were of the Benedictine Order, and subject to Grestein. Upon the wars with France, it was often seized into the King's hands, till King Henry the Fourth gave license to the Dean and Chapter of Chichester to buy this Priory with the manor, &c. then valued at two hundred and forty marks per annum,[i] which they did, and had the same confirmed to them by Parliament, 2 Hen. V.[a] toward the founding of a chantry of two priests in the said Cathedral. This estate, being surrendered up by the said dean and chapter, was granted 7th Eliz. to Sir Richard Sackville.[b]

Warmington Priory, in Warwickshire.

TANNER calls this "An Alien Priory of Benedictine monks from the Abbey of St. Peter and St. Paul de Pratellis or Preaux in Normandy, to which this manor with the Church were given by Henry Newburgh Earl of Warwick, temp. Hen. I. It was in after times accounted sometimes a distinct Religious House, at other times as parcel of the Priory of Toftes in Norfolk belonging to the same foreign Monastery. After the Dissolution of these Alien Priories it was granted, 7th Hen. VI., to the Carthusians at Wytham in Somersetshire; and, as parcel of their possessions, was granted, 35th Hen. VIII. to William and Francis Sheldon gent."[c]

Alien Priory of Wolfricheston, or Wolston,

IN WARWICKSHIRE.

TANNER says, "Some lands, with the Church and tithes here, are said to have been given to the Abbey of St. Peter super Divam in Normandy by Roger de Montgomery, or some other benefactor, shortly after the Conquest, whereupon some Black monks from that foreign monastery were placed here."[d] This Priory was sold by the abbat and convent of St. Peter super Divam to the Prior and Convent of the Carthusians near Coventry, 18th Ric. II., and as parcel of their possessions was granted 3 Edw. VI. to Richard Felde and Richard Woodward.[e]

Priory of Avebury, in Wiltshire.

THE manor of Avebury was given to the Benedictine Monks of St. George of Boucherville, in Normandy by William de Tankarville, in the time of King Henry the First; in consequence of which a Cell from that Abbey was, sometime afterwards, settled here. Tanner says, This alien Priory was once given to St. Mary Winchester College in Oxford, but afterwards, temp. Hen. IV. annexed to the Collegiate Church of Fotheringay in Northamptonshire, and, as parcel of its possessions, was granted, 2 Edw. IV., to Sir William Sharington.[f]

Priory of Charleton, near Uphaven, in Wiltshire.

THIS was a Cell to the Premonstratensian Abbey of L'Isle Dieu, or De Insula Dei, which House was founded by Reginald de Pavely, A.D. 1187. At what time the Cell was established is not recorded. Charleton was given, temp. Ric. II., to the Hospital of St. Katherine, near the Tower, London. It was farmed at 22l. per annum temp. Hen. VI., and given by that King for seven years to the College of Eton. King Edward the Fourth made a donation of it to the Dean and Canons of Windsor, but they never enjoyed it, by reason of a prior grant to Fotheringay Collegiate Church, as parcel of whose possessions it was granted to Sir William Sharington, 2 Edw. VI.[g]

Alien Priory of Clatford, in Wiltshire.

THIS Priory was a Cell to the Abbey of St. Victor in Caleto, or en Caux, in Normandy, which was founded by Sir Roger Mortimer, temp. Will. Conq. The manor of Clatford is conjectured by Tanner to have been given to St. Victor's Abbey by one of the descendants of Sir Roger Mortimer, in the time of King Henry the Second, or before. The precise time when the Cell was founded is unknown. It was granted by King Henry the Sixth to Eton College, and confirmed by King Edward the Fourth, but was shortly after resigned to the Crown in exchange for Blaxham, &c., and thereupon granted, 1st Edw. IV., to Edward Duke of Somerset.[a]

Alien Priory of Cosham, in Wiltshire.

THE following is Tanner's account of this Priory. "King William the Conqueror gave this Church to the Abbey of St. Stephen at Caen in Normandy, and, as parcel of the late possessions of that foreign House, King Henry the Sixth gave it to King's College in Cambridge. But, at present, I am at a loss to reconcile this with the grant of the Church and some other things in this town, made by King Henry the Second to the Benedictine monks 'de Majori Monasterio,' or of Marmonstier in Tourein, who had here a Cell. This alien Priory, which seems, during the wars with France, to have been in the custody of the bishop and church of Exeter, was given 1 Edw. IV. toward the endowment of the Monastery of Syon, and, as parcel of the same, granted, 6 Jac. I., to Philip Moore. It was valued at 22l. 13*s.* 4*d.*"[b]

Alien Priory of Uphaven, in Wiltshire.

THIS Priory was a Cell to the Abbey of St. Wandragasile at Fontanelle in the diocese of Rouen, to which Abbey the Church here was given as early as the time of King Henry the First or King Stephen. Upon the dissolution of the Alien Priories, Uphaven was given, 1 Hen. VI., to the Monastery of Ivychurch in exchange for some lands and privileges in Clarendon Park, and, as parcel of the possessions of that Monastery, was granted, 4 Jac. I., to Francis and William Anderson. So that the grants of this Alien Priory, 37 Hen. VI., to King's College Cambridge, and 7 Edw. IV. to Windsor College, were of no effect.[c]

Alien Priory of Astley, in Worcestershire.

THIS was a Priory of Benedictine monks subordinate to the Abbey of St. Taurinus near Ebroix, founded by Ralph de Todenei before the year 1160. The abbat and convent of St. Taurinus obtained leave in the time of King Richard the Second to sell this Priory to John Beauchamp, who was in possession of it some time, but afterward, temp. R. Edw. IV., it was annexed to the College of Westbury in Gloucestershire,[d] and upon the Dissolution was granted by King Henry the VIIIth to Sir Ralph Sadler.[e]

Priory of Begare, in Yorkshire.

TANNER says, "The Abbey of Begare in Britanny having several estates in England, particularly in Lincolnshire and Yorkshire, there was a Cell of Alien Monks of that Abbey fixed near Richmond temp. Hen. III., which upon the suppression of these foreign Houses was granted first to the Chantry of St. Ann at Thresk, then to Eton College, then to the Priory of Mountgrace, and at last to Eton College again."[f]

Priory of Ecclesfield, in Yorkshire.

ECCLESFIELD was a Cell of Benedictine monks to the Abbey of St. Wandragasile, or Wandragisilus, in the diocese of Rouen in Normandy. It was given by King Richard the Second to the Carthusian Monastery of St. Anne near Alien Priory of Scardeburgh, in Yorkshire.

THE Church of St. Mary here with some lands having been given to the abbat and convent of Cistertium in France, some monks from that House and Order were sent over, and had a Cell here before the fourth year of King John. Upon the suppression of the Alien Priories, this was given to Bridlington Monastery 1st Edw. IV.[a]

Priory of St. Clare, in Caermarthenshire.

THIS was a House consisting of a Prior and two Cluniac monks, Cell to St. Martin de Campis in Paris. Tanner conjectures it to have been founded very early in the twelfth century. It was given by King Henry the Sixth in the twentieth year of his reign to All Souls College in Oxford. JOHN WESTON was Prior of this House in the 4th Hen. V.[b] are mentioned of which our information is extremely scanty.

Other Alien Priories.

At TUNSTALL, in the deanry of Totness in Devonshire, is said to have been an Alien Priory or Cell of French monks, where the parsonage-house now is,[c] afterwards belonging to Torr Abbey.[d]

Hutchins places a small Cell, dependant on the Abbey of Tyrone, at MUCKLEFORD in Dorsetshire, which, he says, was endowed by the Duports, ancient barons of this realm, and on the suppression of the Alien Priories was annexed to the Priory of Andewell in Hampshire. Tanner, however, doubts whether Muckleford had ever a separate existence.

Tanner mentions ICKHAM as an Alien Priory partly in Lincolnshire and partly in Oxfordshire, granted to the College called God's House in Cambridge, 2 Edw. IV. He refers to "Pat. 2 Edw. IV. p. 2, m. 16. Pat. 8 Edw. IV. p. 3, m. 15."

Dugdale, in the List of Alien Priories given in the former edition of the Monasticon, vol. i. p. 1037, places one at WILEKETONE or WILLOUGHTON, in Lincolnshire. Maud the empress certainly gave the church here, or a moiety of it, to the Abbey of St. Nicholas by Angiers, and that Abbey had a pension out of it; and a manor in Willoughton, lately belonging to that Abbey, was granted by King Henry the Sixth to King's College in Cambridge; but still it is not certain that there was a Priory of monks here. Tanner refers to "Pat. 11 Edw. II. p. 1, m. 14. confirm. terras in Crotton et Willoughton Abbati S. Nicolai Andegavensis." See also Repert. Orig. Brit. Mus. vol. iv. fol. 188. and Extent of Willoughton Priory, 10 Ric. II. Donat. MS. Brit. Museum.

Under MANTON, in Rutlandshire, Tanner says, "The manors of Manton and Tixover, in this county, belonged to the Abbey of Cluni, in Burgundy, who might probably have a Cell at one of these places; both these manors became afterwards part of the possessions of the College of Tateshale, in Lincolnshire."

ATHERINGTON, in Sussex, is said to have been a Cell to the Abbey of Sees, in Normandy. See "Pat. 17 Edw. II. p. 2, m. 19. de ii. acris terræ concessis per Ed. com. Arundel, pro manso elargando."[e]

At STRATTON St. Margaret's, in Wiltshire, was an Alien Priory, which was given, by King Henry the Sixth, to the Provost and Scholars of King's College, in Cambridge. Tanner adds, "Vide Pat. 40 Hen. VI. m. 6. Collect. Rog. Dodsworth, MS. in bibl. Bodl. vol. lxxv. fol. 152. Quære."

A Priory at WYTHERNESS in Yorkshire, probably Withernsey, in Holderness, subordinate to the Abbey of Albemarle, in France, is mentioned in the Records of the reign of King John. See Fin. Ebor. 11 Joan. Tann. Notit. Monast. Yorksh. cxxvii. MS. Dodsworth, in bibl. Bodl. vol. cxlii. p. 240.

TITLEY in Herefordshire, an Alien Priory, Cell to the Abbey of Tyrone, in France, occurs Pat. 50 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 17. See Extent of Titley Priory, 3 Ric. II. Donat. MS. Brit. Mus.

The Churches of Bondeby, says Tanner, Saxelby, and Stanford All Staints, in Lincolnshire, being granted to the Priory of St. Fromund, in Normandy, by the Prior and Convent of Merton, in exchange for other revenues, in the beginning of King John's reign, there was shortly afterwards an Alien Priory erected at BONDEBY, which was granted, 4th Hen. IVth, to the Chartreux House at Beauval, in Nottinghamshire. Tanner adds, "Vide Cart. 1 Joan. p. 2, n. 57. Pat. 4. Hen. IV. p. 2, m. 31. Pat. 3 Hen. V. p. 2, m. 30. de Priorat. de Bondeby Carthus. de Bello Valle conced." See Extents of Bondeby Priory, 3 and 10 Ric. II. Donat. MS. Brit. Mus. 6164.

Mr. Daniel Lysons, in his Middlesex Parishes not described in the Environs of London, p. 139, says, "Bishop Tanner mentions a Priory at HARMONDSWORTH, in Middlesex, of the Benedictine Order, which was a Cell to the Abbey of the Holy Trinity at Rouen. That Abbey possessed the manor; but I have not found any traces of a Priory here in ancient records, nor does the Bishop give references to any in which the mention of it occurs."[a] See however Extent of Harmondsworth Priory, 22 Edw. I. Donat. MS. Brit. Mus. 6164. p. 96.

Et in Registro Institut. Norvic. vol. ii. fol. 19. memoratur, 'Frater Petrus de Orgeritz ballivus de Atherington, abbatis et conventus de Sees procurator in Anglia generalis.'" Tanner says, "In the charter of endowment of the College of Eton is mention of the Alien Priory of DOKKYNG, in Norfolk. If there were ever any foreign monks residing here, in all probability they were of the Abbey De Ibreio, in Normandy, to which the parish church of this place was appropriated.

At HORSTEDE, in Norfolk, was an Alien Priory, part of the endowment of King's College, in Cambridge, as Pat. 1 Edw. IV. p. 3, m. 23. The manor and advowson of the church belonged to the Abbess and Nuns of the Holy Trinity at Caen in Normandy, by the grant of King William Rufus.

An Alien Priory at ENDESTON, or EYNESTANE, in Somersetshire, of Benedictine monks, Cell to St. Sever in Normandy, was granted, 7th Edw. IVth, to Eton College, but was exchanged away with the King, temp. Edw. VI., for Bloxham, &c. Tanner refers, relating to it, to "Plac. in com. Som. 8 Edw. I., assis. rot. 22. pro terris ibid. Pat. 7 Edw. IV. Pat. 13 Edw. IV."

The Alien Priory of ARUNDEL, in Sussex, will be comprised among the Colleges.

Two Alien Hospitals occur, Writtle, in Essex, and Great Thurlow, in Suffolk.

The Church of WRITTLE is said to have been given by King Stephen to the Priory of Bermondsey, in Surrey; but King John gave it to the Hospital at the Church of St. Mary in Saxia, otherwise called the Hospital of the Holy Spirit, in Rome, belonging to the English, for the maintenance of the poor and infirm there; and they enjoyed it till the 14th Ric. II., when it was purchased of them for the Warden and Fellows of New College in Oxon.[b] Algucius was Prior or Warden of All Saints at Writtle, 24 Edw. I., Leo, 18 Edw. II.; Adrian, 31 Edw. III.

The Hospital at GREAT THURLOW, in Norfolk, dedicated to St. James, temp. Ric II., was subordinate to the foreign Hospital of Hautpays, or De Alto Passu. This Hospital, or Free Chapel, being of the yearly value of 60*s.*, was, among other lands, granted by King Edward the Fourth to God's House College, in Cambridge. Tanner says, "Vide Pat. 22 Ric. II. p. 2, m. 33. Pat. 2 Edw. IV. Pat. 8 Edw. IV. p. 3, m. 15." See also, MS. Harl. 6961, p. 56. 6962, pp. 20, 97.

END OF THE ALIEN PRIORIES, CELLS TO FOREIGN MONASTERIES.

FRENCH MONASTERIES.

FRENCH MONASTERIES.

THE greater part of the Monasteries inserted by Dugdale in this portion of the Monasticon, are Abbies which stood upon the territories of the English Sovereigns in France: many of them founded by English noblemen or their descendants: and nearly all, to a greater or a less extent, endowed with lands in England.

It is remarkable how many Foreign Houses are entered in the Domesday Survey as holding lands in the English counties, not only in capite as superior lords, but likewise as under tenants to the greater barons. A considerable number occur which are unnoticed by Dugdale. The Domesday Book must be very carefully read before the whole can be selected from the various entries.

The Cells which were subsequently established in England upon the manors of these Foreign Monasteries have been already disposed of. Such of their possessions here upon which Cells were not established, were a species of property which in latter times became precarious in produce: being continually confiscated on the breaking out of war, many of them, toward the latter part of the fourteenth Century, were occasionally sold under the King's licence, to other Religious Houses here; or to particular persons who had obtained leave to make small additions of endowment to some favoured Monastery. The Act of the second of Henry the Fifth vested all that remained in the English Crown. The full details of this procedure have been already given.

DE IMMUTATIONE ORDINIS MONACHORUM. DE ABBATIBUS, ET ABBATIIS NORMANNORUM; ET ÆDIFICATIONIBUS EARUM.

[Ex Cod. MS. in bibl. Bodl. Oxon. (E. II. 11. Th.)]

LIBET in præsenti demonstrare, qualiter, et à quibus antiqua consuetudo victûs et habitûs monachorum immutata sit.

In Burgundiâ est locus, qui dicitur Molismus; ibi tempore Philippi regis Francorum, Robertus abbas cœnobium condidit, et magnæ religionis discipulos aggregavit: post aliquantos annos, regulam sancti Benedicti perscrutatus, ad literam voluit persuadere discipulis suis, ut labore manuum viverent; decimas et oblationes clericis, qui diœcesi deservirent, relinquerent; femoralibus staminiis, pelliceisque abstinerent. At illi è contra, nitentes consuetudinibus, quæ in occiduis orbis monasteriis observabantur (quas constat esse institutas à beato Mauro, disciplulo sancti Benedicti, et à beato Columbano et (ut ad modernos veniam) à sancto Odone abbate Cluniacenci), dicebant se ab eis non recedere. Hæc Robertus audiens, et in suâ sententiâ permanens, recessit ab eis, cum viginti et uno sibi assentientibus; diuque locum quæsivit idoneum sibi suisque sodalibus, qui decreverant regulam sancti Benedicti, sicut Judæi legem Moysis ad literam penitùs observare. Tandem Odo filius Henrici, Burgundiæ dux, illis compassus, prædium eis in loco qui Cistertius dicitur, in episcopatu Cabillonensi, largitus est. Ibi Robertus abbas cum electis fratribus aliquamdiu habitavit, Deoque donante, in brevi plerosque æmulatores districtæ religionis, quam in illâ eremo arripuerat, et suæ sanctitatis habere promeruit. Cumque Molismenses per aliquod tempus pastore carerent, unoque Dei virtutibus famoso decedente, despicabiliores erga vicinos et notos fierent. Urbanum papam supplices adierunt, eique prorsùs enodatâ serie rerum, quas superiùs retuli, consilium et auxilium ab eo postulaverunt. Ille verò paterno affectu utrisque consuluit: abbati enim apostolicâ jussit auctoritate, ut priùs monasterium repeteret; et ne laberetur, regulariter regeret: ac in alio, quod postmodum incœperat, quemlibet de suis idoneum substitueret. Redeunte itaque Roberto abbate, ad Molismense cœnobium, jussu Urbani papæ, primus Albericus factus est abbas Cisterciensis post ipsum, cui successit Stephanus Anglicus, qui uterque magnæ religionis fuerunt. Ipso adhuc vivente et jubente, Guido abbas Trium

Fontium electus est, et per duos annos idem monasterium regens, utcunque tandem insipienter reliquit: deinde Reinaldus, filius Milonis comitis de Bar super Sequanam, ei successit: quo mortuo, anno ab incarnatione Domini MC.li., Gotsuinus, qui erat abbas cujusdam monasterii in Viennensi provinciâ, natione Lothariensis, factus est quintus abbas Cisterciensis, excepto Roberto abbate Molismense, qui illum ordinem inchoaverat; sed querimoniâ Molismensium, et jussu Urbani papæ (ut prædictum est) ad prius monasterium redire compulsus fuerat. Jam ferè quinquaginta quinque anni sunt, ex quo Robertus abbas (ut dictum est) Cistercium incoluit, et tanta virorum copia illuc confluxit, ut indè ferè abbatiæ quingentæ à millesimo nonagessimo octavo incarnationis dominicæ, usque ad annum ejusdem divinæ incarnationis MC.lii. consurgerent. Et hac de causâ in generali capitulo, ubi annuatim, mediante mense Septembris, apud Cistercium, abbates, et etiam episcopi, qui assumpti de illo ordine, conveniunt, quatenus negligentiæ, quæ omninò in tot et tantis conventibus nequeunt evitari, emendentur, hac de causâ, inquam, quia tantum multiplicabantur abbatiæ ejusdem ordinis, statutum est, "Ut ampliùs nullam novam abbatiam instituerent."

In desertis atque sylvestribus locis monasteria proprio labore condiderunt, et sacra illis nomina solerti provisione imposuerunt; ut et Domus Dei, Clara Vallis Eleemosyna, Curia Dei, et alia plura hujusmodi: quibus auditores solo nominis nectare invitantur festinantur experiri, quanta sit ibi beatitudo, quæ tam speciali denotetur vocabulo. Multi nobiles, et divites, et profundi sophistæ, pro novitate singularitatis ad eos concurrerunt et inusitatam districtionem spontè amplexati sunt.

Eodem ferè tempore, quo ordo Cisterciensis in Cabillonensi parochiâ exortus est, Carthusiensis etiam in episcopatu Granopolitano adinventus est. Genus hoc eremitarum sub priore agit, nec numerum tertium decimum eorum multitudo transcendit. Unusquisque in cellâ suâ, privatis diebus separatis ab aliis, orat, dormit, et manducat: quæ cellæ tamen contiguæ, et loco conjuncta sunt, festis diebus ad ecclesiam, et ad mensam conveniunt, et de spiritualibus inter se conferunt. Instituto verò, et nocturni et diurni officii, secundùm regulam Sancti Benedicti persolvantur.

Exacto aliquanto tempore exindè, ex quo Cisterciensis ordo incœptus est, Andreas genere Italus, de Valle Bruciorum monachus effloruit, et in Bituriensi pago monasterium, quod Casale Benedicti nuncupatur, construxit.

Iisdem temporibus tres socii in religione fuerunt, Bernardus, qui priùs fuerat abbas Quinciaci, in Pictavensi solo; et Robertus de Arbrexo; et Vitalis eremita, qui fuerat capellanus comitis Moritolii: hi singuli, singula monasteria ædificaverunt: Bernardus, quia nolebat Monasterium Quinciaci, quod hactenus liberum fuerat, monachis Cluniaci subjici, cùm Paschalis papa ei exindè vim inferret, illud relinquens, adjutus à venerabili Ivone Carnotensi episcopo, et Rottrone comite Moritoniæ, in loco sylvestri, qui Tiron dicitur, cœnobium in honorem Sancti Salvatoris construxit. Hic omnes ad se venientes suscipiebat; et artes, quas noverant legitimas, infra monasterium exercere præcipiebat: cui successit Willielmus Pictavensis, vir literatus, et admodum religiosus. Robertus de Arbrexo, ver aptus ad lucrandas animas, et prædicendum verbum Dei, cœnobium, quod Fons Ebrardi dicitur, in confinio Andegavensis et Pictavensis soli ædificavit, et sanctimoniales fœminas, sub arctissimâ regulâ ibidem congregans, eis Petronillam abbatissam præfecit. Quâ mortuâ successit ei regimine ejusdem monasterii, Matildis soror Gaufridi comitis Andegaviæ.

Vitalis eremita, optimus seminiverbius in confinio Normanniæ, et Minoris Britanniæ in vico Savinurio, monasterium ædificans, modernas institutiones in aliquibus Cisterciensibus similes, monachis suis imposuit. Huic successit Bajocensis Gaufridus, Cerasiensis monachus, vir admodum literatus, et in religione fervens. Hic multa monasteria suâ Cisterciensi ordini . . . . . et exindè post paucos annos, ut Deo liberius posset vacare, relictâ curâ monasteriorum, in Monasterio Claræ Vallis, Deo et sibi vacans delituit. Cui successit in regimine Savinurii, Ricardus de Curceio, prior ejusdem loci.

Eodem anno et tempore, magister Willielmus de Campellis, qui fuerat archidiaconus Parisiensis, vir admodum literatus et religiosus, habitum canonici regularis sumens, cum aliquibus discipulis suis extra urbem Paris. in loco ubi erat quædam capella Sancti Victoris martyris, cœpit monasterium ædificare clericorum: assumpto autem illo ad episcopatum Cantalavensium, venerabilis Geldomus, discipulus ejus, primus abbas ibi factus est. Sub cujus regimine multi clerici nobiles, secularibus et divinis literis instructi, ad illum locum habitaturi convenerunt. Inter quos magister Hugo Lothariensis, et scientiâ literarum, et humili religione maximè effloruit. Hic multos libros edidit, quos quia vulgò habentur, non oportet enumerari. Eodem etiam tempore novi canonici regulares, apud Trimucum Berengarii, et apud Præmonstratum adunati sunt, labore manuum viventes, laneis vestibus, et his rusticanis et vilibus utentes.

Videntes itaque abbates nominatissimorum monasteriorum, quæ reges Francorum, et alii consulares viri, et potentes, in prædiis suis ædificaverunt, sed propter abundantiam divitiarum nimium dissoluta erant, monachos novi ordinis Cisterciensis, scil. et Carthusiensis, necnon etiam canonicos, quos prædiximus, vitam suam sub districtâ religione agere, rubore suffusi, vel spontè vel inviti (coacti, videlicet à regibus et pontificibus) monachos ordinatissimorum monasteriorum, scil. Cluniaci, Majoris Monasterii, Becci, et aliorum æquè in religione vivere studentium, ad se evocant; et ad eorum exemplum vitam suorum subditorum conformare satagunt. Ad regimen etiam abbatiarum minus religiosarum assumuntur plurimi abbates de illis monasteriis, quæ in religione aliis præcellere videbantur.

Rollo igitur, qui et Robertus, angustiâ temporis post baptismum præventus, nullum monasterium vel instituit, vel renovavit: set (sicut superiùs jam diximus) multas possessiones pluribus ecclesiis et monasteriis donavit.

Willielmus filius ejus, Longaspata, Monasterium GEMETICENSE, quod sanctus Phillibertus construxerat, sed Hastingus paganus destruxerat, restauravit; in quo fuerunt abbates à sancto Philliberto usque ad exterminium ejusdem monasterii, viginti; à restauratione verò quæ sub Martino abbate facta est (quem Gerloc comitissa Pictavensis, cum duodecim monachis à monasterio S. Cypriani Pictavis, misit Willielmo fratri suo duci Normanniæ) usque ad annum MC.liv. dominicæ incarnationis (quo iste catalogus abbatiarum Normanniæ factus est à nobis) fuerunt abbates xiiii., quorum ultimus fuit Eustachius, ejusdem loci monachus.

Primus Ricardus, filius Willielmi ducis, tria monasteria; unum FISCANNI, in honorem summæ Trinitatis; aliud in MONTE TUMBA, in honorem sancti Michaelis; tertiam ROTHOMAGI, in venerationem S. Petri, sanctique Audoeni, multas possessiones, quæ eis à paganis ablatæ fuerant, restituendo restauravit, licèt Ricardus filius, plurima prædia addendo, et ordinem monachicum in eis ponendo ipsa consummaverit. Monasterio Fiscannensi primus abbas præfuit Will. Cluniacensis monachus; et habuit sub regimine suo Monasterium Sancti Benigni Diuhonis, Sanctæ Trinitatis Fiscannensis, Sancti Germani Parisiensis, S. Faronis Meldis, S. Mich. de Monte Tumba, et alia monasteria ferè triginta. Secundus abbas Fiscanni, Johannes Longobardus. Tertius, Willielmus, monachus S. Stephani, Cadomi. Quartus, Rogerus, ejusdem loci monachus. Quintus, Henr. monachus Cluniac.

In Monasterio Sancti Michaelis fuerunt abbates ferè xiv., quorum decem habuerunt de extraneis monasteriis.

Hildebertus primus abbas factus est in Monasterio Sancti Audoeni, post instaurationem. Secundus, Herfastus. Tertius, Nicolaus, filius tertii Ricardi ducis Normanniæ. Quartus, Hisgotus, prior Cadomi, hic ordinem emendavit. Quintus, Willielmus. Sextus, Reinfridus, ejusdem loci monachus. Septimus, Frehernus, monachus Cluniacensis.

Secundus Ricardus, dux Normanniæ, ex integro Abbatiam Sancti Wandregesili, quam FONTINELLAM antiquitùs vocaverunt, reædificavit. A Sancto Wandregisilo usque ad Mainardum, qui tempore primi Ricardi cœperat eundem locum pro posse suo emendare, fuerunt abbates xiv.; à Mainardo usque ad præsens tempus xii., quorum ultimus fuit Rogerus, monachus ejusdem loci, qui adhuc superest.

Judith comitissa, uxor secundi Ricardi, fecit Monasterium BERNAII. Hujus custodes fuerunt Radulfus abbas S. Michaelis, et post ipsum Theodoricus Gemeticensis; quorum prior dedit Uticum et Bellum Montellum Hunfrido de Vetulis: sequens verò medietatem burgi Bernaii, patri Rogeri de Monte Gomerici, ut indè se procuraret quando Bernaium venisset. Primus ibi factus est abbas Vitalis, monachus Fiscanni, cui cum postmodum Willielmus rex Anglorum Abbatiam Sancti Petri Westmonasterii dedisset; Osbernus frater ejus, monachus Troarnensis, secundus præfuit Monasterio Bernaii. Tertius, Nicolaus, monachus Fiscanni. Quartus, Ric. monachus ejusdem loci.

MONASTERIUM S. THAURINI EBROICENSIS, prædictus Ricardus, secundus dux Normannorum, ex parte restauravit: Cui monasterio nostris temporibus præfuerunt abbates, Radulfus, Willielmus, Paulus, Philippus, Ranulfus, monachi Fiscanni. Item Villare Monasterium, quod sanctus Phillibertus olim construxerat, prædicti principis uxor, scilicet Judith, ad opus sanctimonialium reparavit.

Venerabilis Herluinus in proprio solo MONASTERIUM BECCI ædificans, primus eidem monasterio præfuit. Cui successit Anselmus, Willielmus Boso, Theobaldus, Lecardus, Rog., ejusdem monasterii monachi.

Robertus dux Normannorum, filius secundus Ricardi, ædificavit MONASTERIUM CERASIACENSE. Primus abbas ibi præfuit Durandus, monachus S. Audoeni. Secundus, Almodus exabbas S. Michaelis de Monte. Tertius, Garinus, monachus S. Michaelis. Quartus, Hugo, monachus Troarnensis. Quintus, Hugo, monachus ejusdem loci.

Willielmus dux, filius prædicti Roberti, duo CŒNOBIA CADOMI ædificavit; unum virorum, et alterum fœminarum.

Monasterio monachorum primus abbas præfuit Lanfrancus, prior Becci. Secundus, Willielmus. Tertius, Gislebertus. Quartus, Robertus. Quintus, Eudo. Sextus, Alanus. Septimus, Petrus, ejusdem loci monachi.

Willielmus filius, dux Geroii, monachus Becci, et nepotes ejus Robertus et Hugo de Grentemaisnil, restauraverunt MONASTERIUM S. EBRULFI APUD UTICAM. Sed quia idem Will. cùm suscepisset habitum monachi apud Beccum dederat eundem locum Beccensi Monasterio; unde etiam Lanfrancus, qui postea fuit abbas Cadomi, cum tribus monachis illo directus est ad habitandam; ideo dedit villam Russeriæ ecclesiæ Becci pro commutatione ecclesiæ S. Ebrulfi. Primus abbas præfuit huic monasterio Theodoricus Gemeticensis, secundus, Robertus prior ejusdem loci. Tertius Osbernus, monachus S. Trinitatis, Rothomagi. Quartus, Manerius. Quintus, Rogerus. Sextus, Garinus. Septimus, Ricardus. Octavus, Ranulfus. Undecimus, Bernardus, monachus ejusdem loci.

Gosselinus vicecomes Artacensis patruus Godefridi, patris Matildis uxoris Will. Camerarii, fecit MONASTERIUM S. TRINITATIS IN MONTE ROTHOMAGI. Et MONASTERIUM instituit S. AMANDI, intra muros ejusdem civitatis, ad opus sanctimonialium. Monasterio S. Trin. de Monte, primus præfuit Isemburtus Teutonicus, vir religiosus, monachus S. Auderni. Secundus, Reinerius. Tertius, Walterius. Quartus, Helias. Quintus, Walterius, ejusdem loci monachi.

Eodem tempore, scilicet sub duce Willielmo, restauratum est MONASTERIUM SANCTÆ CRUCIS, SANCTIQUE LEUFFREDI, de terrâ quæ fuerat Helchonis de Cruce; primus abbas factus est hujus monasterii, post restaurationem, Albericus. Secundus, Henr. Tertius, Will., monachi S. Audoeni. Quartus et quintus, Garnerius et Rodolphus, monachi ejusdem loci.

Rog. de Toenio construxit MONASTERIUM CASTELIONIS. Cui monasterio primus et secundus abbates præfuerunt Gilb. et Willielmus, monachi Fiscanni. Tertius et quartus, Will. et Zocardus, monachi Blesis. Quintus, Gislebertus, monachus Becci. Sextus et septimus, Simplicius et Vincentius, monachi Columb. Octavus, Bernerius, monachus ejusdem loci.

Will. filius Osberni Normanniæ dapifer, et cognatus Will. ducis, duo MONASTERIA in honorem beatæ Dei genitricis Mariæ ædificavit, unum APUD LIRAM, in quo Ælizam uxorem suam, filiam Rogeri de Toeneio, postmodum sepelivit; alterum APUD CORMELIAS, in quo ipse mortuus conditus est. Primus abbas Liræ fuit Robertus ejusdem loci monachus. Secundus, Erfastus. Tertius, Burno. Quartus, Ernaldus. Quintus, Hildebertus. Sextus, Gislebertus, monachi Sancti Ebrulfi. Septimus, Will. ejusdem loci monachus. Octavus, Radulphus, monachus Becci: hic ordinem reparavit. Nonus, Hildebericus, monachus Sancti Ebrulfi. Decimus, Will. monachus ejusdem loci. Cormeliis primus præfuit Rob. monachus S. Trinitatis Rothomagi, qui in maris naufragio periit. Cui successit Gauffr. ejusdem loci monachus. Et illi Will. monachus Becci. Et illi Bened. monachus ejusdem loci.

Hunfr. de Vetullis PRATELLIS duo MONASTERIA ædificavit, unum monachorum et alterum sanctimonialium. Monachis primus abbas præfuit Gauff. monachus Sancti Wandregisili; cui successit Gauff. monachus ejusdem loci; cui Ricardus de Tramellis, vir religiosus et valdè literatus, qui fuerat monachus Sancti Vigoris Bajocensis sub Roberto de Tumbâ Helenæ, qui fuit illius loci primus abbas et ultimus. Ricardo successit alter Ricardus. Et illi Reinaldus, ejusdem loci monachus. Et illi Michael monachus Becci.

Rogerus de Monte Gomerici, filius Rogeri vicecomitis Ossunensis, in honorem sancti Martini duo monasteria ædificavit; unum in suburbio SAGIENSIS URBIS, et alterum in VICO SUO TROARNO super DINAM. Monasterio Sagiensi primus præfuit Robertus monachus S. Martini Troarnini. Secundus, Rodulphus monachus ejusdem loci. Cui successit Hugo. Et illi Gilbertus. Item Gislebertus et Johannes monachi ejusdem loci.

At Monasterio Troarnensi primus præfuit Durandus monachus Fiscanni. Cui successit Arnulphus, prior Sagii. Et illi Andreas, monachus ejusdem loci. Et ei Ricardus monachus Cluniaci. Et illi Gislebertus, monachus ipsius loci.

Fecit etiam, immo restauravit, prædictus comes Rogerus monasterium fœminarum apud ALMENECHIAS, ubi olim Sancta Oportuna fuerat abbatissa, antequam Normanni in regnum Francorum venirent.

Lecelina comitissa Aucensis, relicta Will. comitis, qui fuerat naturalis frater secundi Ricardi Normannorum ducis, adjuta à filiis suis Roberto comite Aucensi, et Hugone episcopo Lexoviensi, MONASTERIUM SANCTI PETRI SUPER DINAM, virorum, et Monasterium fœminarum ante urbem LEXOVIENSEM, virili animo construxit. Monasterio S. Mariæ Dinæ, primus abbas factus est Arnardus, monachus Sanctæ Trinitatis de Rothomago. Cui successit Fulco, prior Sancti Ebrulfi. Fulconi Benedictus, prior S. Audoeni. Quartus, Gauterius, monachus Gemeticensis. Quintus, Robertus, monachus Sancti Dionysii. Sextus, septimus, octavus, Rodulfus, Ricardus, et Haimo, monachi ejusdem loci. Nonus, Warnerius, monachus Cluniacensis.

Filius verò prædictæ Lerelinæ, Robertus comes Aucensis, Monasterium Sancti Mich. ulterioris Portus ædificavit; in quo primus abbas fuit Herbertus, monachus S. Trinitatis de Monte Rothomagi. Secundus, Alueredus monachus. Tertius, Osbernus, monachus ejusdem loci. Quartus, Fulcherius. Monachus Cluniacensis.

At Rogerus de Mortuomari, filius Walteri de Sancto Martino, frater verò primi Will. de Warennâ, Monasterium S. Victoris in proprio solo fundavit, et ædificavit. Cui præfuerunt abbates Ricardus, Robertus, Mainardus, Hugo, monachi S. Audoeni.

Ricardus comes Ebroicensis in eadem urbe ad opus sanctimonialium Monasterium S. Salvatoris construxit.

Monasterium S. Mariæ Greistein Herluinus de Contevillâ condidit, in quo ipse requiescit corpore, et Herleva uxor ejus. Horum filii fuerunt Robertus comes Moritolii, qui idem monasterium auxit, et Odo, episcopus Bajocensis. Primus abbas ejusdem monasterii, Gauffridus, monachus S. Sergii Andegavensis. Secundus, Fulcoius, monachus Sagii. Tertius, Herb., monachus ejusdem loci. Consuetudines et monachos in initio habuerunt partim de S. Wandregisilo, partim de Pratellis.

Hugo vicecomes Abrincatensis, postea comes Cestrensis, Abbatiam S. Severi in Constantinensi episcopatu fecit. Primus abbas fuit ejusdem Anselmus, monachus Gemiticensis. Secundus, Arnulfus Ebroicensis. Tertius, Petrus, monachus S. Benedicti Floriaci. Quartus, Robertus, ejusdem loci monachus. Quintus, Guido Cestrensis.

Monasterium S. Trinitatis Exaquii Eudo cum capello fecit: Primus abbas ejus Rogerus, monachus Becci. Secundus et tertius, Gaufridus et Garinus, monachi ejusdem loci. Quartus, Robertus, monachus Cadomi. Quintus et sextus, Radulfus et Rog., monachi ejusdem loci.

Nigellus vicecomes Constantinensis Cœnobium S. Salvatoris construxit. Primus abbas ibi factus est Benignus, monachus Fiscanni. Secundus, Hamelinus. Tertius, Auffridus. Quartus, Will. Quintus, Hugo, monachus S. Mich. de Monte.

Monasterium S. Stephani Fontaneti, primus Rod. Taison, qui fuit avus iii. Rad. patris scil. Jordani Taison, adjutus ab Herneisio fratre suo, condidit. Primus abbas ibi constitutus est Gauffridus, monachus S. Wandregisili. Secundus, Hugo, monachus Troarni. Tertius, Herbertus, monachus Cadomi.

Monasterium Montis Burgi ædificatum est à Rogero monacho S. Crucis, in dominio ducis Normanniæ; cujus primus abbas effectus est idem Rogerus, vir religiosus, et socius Wimundi, qui postea fuit episcopus Aversanus. Huic Rogero prædictus Wimundus scribit librum De Corpore Domini. Secundus abbas fuit Ursus, subprior Gemeticensis, qui et ordine et ædificiis eundem locum nobilitavit. Tertius, Petrus. Quartus, Walterus, ejusdem loci monachus. Hanc abbatiam dedit Henricus rex Anglorum Ricardo de Reviers, ut eam custodiret et augmentaret, sicut propriam, quod et idem facere curavit.

Rogerus de Ibreio condidit Monasterium de Ibreio. Primus abbas ibi fuit Petrus, monachus Columbensis. Secundus, Durandus, monachus Becci. Tertius, Osbernus, monachus Fiscanni. Quartus, Hubertus, monachus Columbensis. Quintus, Normannus, monachus Becci. Sextus, Hunbertus, monachus S. Petri Carenoti. Nullus autem eorum adhuc potuit reperire ibi sepulturam.

Monasterium S. Mariæ Lonlei primus Will. Tallevacius (qui castrum domui Frontonis in Monte, exciso nemore erexit) ædificavit. Qui locus, licet in episcopatu sit Cœnomannensi, ad ducatum tamen Normanniæ pertinet. Primus abbas ibi fuit Will. monachus S. Benedicti Floriaci. Secundus, Hugo, monachus ejusdem monasterii. Tertius, Garinus, monachus Ebronis. Quartus, Radulphus, monachus Cadomi. Quintus, Lanfredus, monachus ejusdem monasterii. Sextus, Johannes, monachus S. Launomari, Blesis; quo deposito, successit septimus, Bernio, monachus S. Martini Majoris Monasterii.

Abbey of St. George, at Bocherville.

THIS Abbey was situated upon an eminence on the right bank of the Seine, two leagues below Rouen. It owed its origin to Ralph de Tancarville lord of the village, about the year 1050. A rage for the building and endowing of monastic establishments prevailed at that period throughout Normandy; and this nobleman, who had been the preceptor of Duke William in his youth, and was afterwards his chamberlain, unwilling to be outdone by his compeers in deeds of piety and magnificence, founded this Monastery, and built the church in honour of the Virgin and St. George. Both the Conqueror and his queen assisted the pious labour by endowments to the Convent; and Ordericus Vitalis relates, how, upon the decease of the monarch, the monks of St. Gervais at Rouen, where he died, made a solemn procession to the Church of St. George of Bocherville, there to offer up their prayers for the soul of their departed sovereign.

At the Revolution the Abbatial Church was fortunate enough to become Parochial; and thus escaped the inruin which nearly the whole of the monastic buildings throughout France were at that time involved.[a]

Cotman's Views and Details of the Architecture of this Abbey are extremely curious.[b]

The Charters to this Monastery preserved by Dugdale, are, one from William de Tankerville, confirming the donations of his father Ralph; and two charters from King Henry the Second, one to enable the monks to throw into cultivation certain lands which had been given to them by William de Tankerville within the bounds of the forest of Rutland, the other of general privileges and immunities.

Abbatia S. Georgii de Bauguervilla in Normannia.

NUM. I.

Carta W. de Tancervilla, Donationes Radulphi Patris sui confirmans.

[Pat. 9 Edw. II p. 2, m. 11. per inspex. Videsis Cart. 2 Edw. III. n. 73. per Inspex.]

W. DE TANCERVILLA, camerarius regis, Rabello filio suo, et cunctis hominibus suis et fidelibus, salutem. Sciatis quod dedi et concessi Deo et abbaciæ S. Georgii, in qua monachos posui auctoritate apostolica, et regis Henrici et Gaufredi Rothomagen. archiepiscopi, et episcoporum totius Normanniæ, omnes illas donationes, quas pater meus Radulfus camerarius dederat canonicis illius loci; scil. imprimis, in Magnevilla quicquid habebat præter feodum militum, ego do et confirmo perpetuò in elemosynam; scil. hospites, bordarios omnes, et portum de Molecrofta, et aquam Sequanæ ad piscandum, sicut ego habebam in meo dominio; et prata et ecclesiam cum omnibus appendiciis suis. Et do et confirmo dona et elemosinas, quas milites mei dederunt de meo feodo; scilicet xv. acras terræ circa ecclesiam, quas Radulfus filius Normanni dedit novæ abbaciæ; et quicquid calumpniabat in illa ecclesia; et decimam de Hangemara, et de Danbon, similiter confirmo, et de riparia terram Sethebot et Griæ; ecclesiam de Bardovill, et capellam, et decimam quæ Gaufridus filius Pagani dedit monachis, et ecclesiam Sancti Martini de Chevillon; et similiter ecclesiam de Honevill.

Insuper do et confirmo in Julia Bona unum molendinum brasarium de meo dominio; et in vicecomitatu decimam LXX. librarum, quas ibi habeo, et decimam molendini Esragi, et unum hospitem, et decimam de omnibus quæ pertinent ad me in foresta Fiscanni, et in foresta Juliæ Bonæ, et in foresta Montisburgi; scilicet de nummis, de averiis, de arietibus, et de cunctis aliis rebus, et de herbagio, et de pasnagio; et quietantiam monachis et hominibus eorum de herbagiis, et de pasnagiis, et de molta, et theoloneo; et monacho sancti Martini procurationem unius militis; ita tamen quando ego vel uxor mea fuerimus apud Tancervillam, concedo ut habeat asinos suos quietos ad consuetudinem meam. Insuper concedo totam decimam de Uas in omni re, de nummis, de terris, et de herbagio et de pasnagio: et do etiam decimam totam de aliis nemoribus meis de honore de Manehovilla, de Forestel, de nemore de Torvilla, et de Michewich; et do supra Ansuevillam totam decimam de herbagio et pasnagio, et de avenis, et cunctis aliis rebus, et etiam decimas terrarum, quæ adjacent istis nemoribus, et decimam censuum de Manehovill, et de Torvilla, et decimam molendini de Sauchevilla; et decimam de Arcell, et decimam de omnibus quæ habeo in Diepa, et in Spineto. Et do unum hospitem apud Manehovillam, et unum apud Ansnevillam, et decimam censuum de Orrivilla, et apud Tunum, de omni eo quod ibi habeo.

Decimam et villam, quæ dicitur Holdecot do et confirmo, sicut eam canonici habebant de elemosyna patris mei cum ecclesia illius villæ; similiter totum dominium meum, quod habebam in Bodevilla do et concedo, cum bosco et molendino Stigandi, et decima de Torp, et moltâ hominum meorum illius villæ; et decimam nemoris de Larunfai, in omni re, herbagio, et pasnagio, et de omni consuetudine totius nemoris, in avenis, et gallinis, et aliis rebus. Apud Sanctum Georgium do omnia mea dominia in vavassoribus, in terris, et pratis, et alnetum totum de arabili terra, usque in Sequanam, cum fossato Rabelli, et Baucheri, et canonici; et do insulam Rabelli, cum hospitibus; et do et confirmo in Limesi decimas de meo feodo, quas milites mei dederunt abbaciæ, Gaufridus et Alanus, et quicquid Rogerus filius Orm dedit in hospitibus, in terris, in bosco, et plano, et in ecclesia. Et in Abetot do ecclesiam et decimam et terram pertinentem ecclesiæ, et quatuor acras, quæ sunt inter ecclesiam et domum Roberti filii Ursi, et tres acras apud Capeton. Et do etiam ecclesiam Sancti Romani, et decimam mercati ejusdem villæ; et decimam molendinorum meorum de Bruredan: et ecclesiam de Esprotot, cum decima, sicut Hubertus eam tenuit. Apud Rispe-villam do totum meum dominium, et totam villam, scil. xxxii. hospites, et totum boscum sicut mater mea concesserat abbaciæ. Apud Wimunvill do quicquid habebam, et portum meum de Berneval, et navem quam habeo quietam, apud Estrutart.

In Anglia do abbaciæ, de meo dominio, villam de Aueberia,[c] in Wintrebornam, cum terris et pratis meis, et nemore, et Beleberiam, et Catacumbam, et Westonam,[d] cum ecclesia. Et do ecclesiam de Heiles, et totam decimam de meo dominio, et de pomeriis, et de terris.

Et in Rothomago do quatuor domos, quietas, cum pratis meis. Testibus, Gaufrido filio Pagani, Euuardo de Salesb. Will. de Fisc. Rogero Pavilli, Johanne de Bosemuncel, Gilberto de Eaz, et aliis.

Abbey of Bec, Le Bec, or Bec Hellouin, in Normandy.

THIS Abbey, one of the most famous in France, was founded by Hellouin or Herluinus, who was its first abbat, A.D. 1034; who soon after removed it to a better spot of ground. It was again removed, in 1060, by Lanfranc its prior, who, after he became archbishop of Canterbury, dedicated the new Church in 1077. It was rebuilt a fourth time in 1118, and again 1214, which building was demolished by the fall of the great tower in 1273. The sixth Church was finished in 1327; but in 1591 the nave fell for want of repair, and remained in ruins at the time Mr. Nichols drew up the Account of the Alien Priories.

Previous to the Revolution in France, the annual income of the Abbey of Bec was stated to be about 20,000 crowns: and it presented to a hundred and sixty churches, as well as to thirty other benefices, as well Priories as Chapels.

For a minute Account of this Abbey, its abbats and possessions, the Reader may consult Du Monstier's Neustria Pia, Rothom. 1663, fol. p. 435—495; the Chronicon Beccensis Abbatiæ ab ipsa fundatione ad annum 1467, at the end of Dacherii Opera Lanfranci archiepisc. Cantuar. Par. 1648, folio; and the History of Bec Abbey by Dom Bourget, monk of the Abbey, 8vo. 1779. See also the Alien Priories, vol. i. p. 24, and Mr. Dawson Turner's valuable Letters from Normandy, 8vo. London, 1820, vol. ii. p. 105—114.

Dugdale has given two charters from King Henry the Second, reciting and confirming all donations made to this Monastery, and one charter from Sibilla Tingry confirming the grant made by her ancestors of a hide of land at Balgheham in Surrey.

If historical recollections, or architectural beauty, says Mr. Turner, could have proved a protection in the days of revolution, the church of Bec had undoubtedly stood. Ducarel, who saw it in its perfection, says it was one of the finest Gothic structures in France. Much of the conventual edifice exists, but what remains has no kind of architectural value. Of the church, the tower only and some ruined arches are the relics.

De prima Fundatione ejusdem.

[Ex Collect. Rob. Glover, Somerset Heraldi (Miscel. lib. 1.)]

Gislebertus Brionensis comes, primi Ricardi Normannorum ducis nepos, ex filio consule Godefrido, Herlewinum primum abbatem Beccensem, enutritum penès se, inter omnes curiæ suæ primates habuit acceptissimè. Habilis ille ad arma plurimùm erat, nec minori ea animositate gestabat. Omnes omnium totius Normanniæ majorum familiæ in electis illum habebant in armis, omnique rei militaris usu et cultu corporis sui attollebant. Ab inhonestis avertebat animum honestis; quæ curiæ magni faciunt, impendebant omne studium. Domi ac militiæ commilitonum suorum præstantissimus erat: quibus de rebus, non solùm singularem domini sui obtinuerat favorem, verumetiam, apud Robertum totius Normanniæ ducem, et apud exterarum dominos regionum pepererat sibi nomen plurimum, accessumque familiarem. Hic talis et tantus vir, cum prediis ac facultatibus, licèt minimis, ad monachatum venire desiderans, et in fundo sui juris, qui Burnevilla dicitur, haud procul à Brionnio, volens cœnobium construere, ecclesiam ædificavit in honorem S. Mariæ, ibique religionis habitum, ab episcopo Luxoviensi Herberto, maximæ sanctitatis viro, quadragessimo ætatis suæ anno devotè suscepit. Nec multò post ab eodem præsule sacerdos ordinatus est, et abbas constitutus, quia propter paupertatem ipsius loci quivis alius regimen ipsum nolebat suscipere. Verum, quia campestris et inaquosus est locus monitus per soporem à beata Dei genitrice Maria, in vallem ad rivum, qui Beccus dicitur, Deo adjutore successit, ibique nobile ædificare cœpit in honorem ejusdem matris Domini Mariæ, monasterium, quod Deus perfecit ad sui nominis gloriam: cui Deus ad auxilium et consilium adauxit, juxta desiderium cordis sui Lanfrancum, virum peritissimum, deinde Anselmum: qui ambo postea archiepiscopi Cantuariæ consecrati sunt.

Abbey of Beaubec, in Normandy.

THE Abbey of Beaubec, situated in a village of the same name, in the forest of Brai, in the Paix de Caux, was founded in 1127; and was one of nineteen monasteries erected in different places by Geoffrey the second abbat of Savigny, whence it was sometimes called the eldest daughter of Savigny. With its parent-monastery, it became subject to the rule of the Cistercian Order in the year 1148. Its ABBATS were, OSMO, in 1148; RICHARD, 1218; WALTER, 1261; WILLIAM DE SAANA, 1269; JOHN, who died in 1438; GILES, 1443; PETER, 1448; JOHN DE RAMILLY, 1484; WILLIAM BLOQUEL; JOHN MAURET, who died in 1527; CLAUDE DE LA GUICHE, 1530; WILLIAM DE MONCHEL, 1534. LAUR. CARD. STROZZI; CARD. DE IMOLA; CARD, DU PRAT: WILLIAM MARTEL, died 1593; N. DE CLERE, died 1597; FRANCIS DE BOUVIER, died 1637; JAMES BOUVIER.[a]

Hugh de Gornay, or Gurney, gave to this House his land de la Rossiere. The Alien Priories, vol. i. p. 41, make him to have been the founder of this House.

Beaubec Abbey was burnt in 1383, and not rebuilt till the middle of the fifteenth century. Abbat Martel rebuilt the abbat's house 1580. The steeple was not rebuilt till 1668; the west front, 1730; the cloister, dormitory, and other lodgings of the monks somewhat later.

Mr. Turner, in his Letters from Normandy, vol. i. p. 84, takes no notice of any remains of this Abbey having survived the Revolution.

The only charter relating to this Abbey given by Dugdale is one of the 8th Hen. Vth, reciting a charter from King John, and both reciting and confirming the lands and immunities bestowed upon this Monastery.

Abbey of St. Stephen, at Caen.

WILLIAM of Jumieges has given a particular account of the origin of the two royal Abbeys of Caen. The marriage of Duke William with Matilda daughter of Baldwin Count of Flanders, the son of his father's sister, was within the prohibited degrees of consanguinity, and greatly scandalized the clergy of the duchy. They frequently remonstrated with their sovereign upon the subject, and at length succeeded so far that he was induced to despatch ambassadors to Rome, to consult the Pope upon the steps necessary to be adopted. The Pope, fearing war between the Flemings and the Normans, determined to have recourse to a pacific expedient, and consented to grant them absolution upon condition of their performing penance. The penance enjoined was the erection of two Monasteries; one for the religious of either sex. Gratefully we are told did the noble pair accept the proffered terms; and instantly did they apply themselves to the fulfilment of their task.

The Abbey undertaken by the Duke was St. Stephen's. It is stated by Huet and authors in general to have been completed in 1064, two years prior to the Conquest of England: according to Ordericus Vitalis, it was not dedicated till 1077. But upon this latter point authors are not agreed: some say that the dedication took place in 1073; and others in 1081. However this may be, it seems certain that the foundation-charter was granted subsequently to the year 1066; for in it William takes the title of King, and among his many princely donations are enumerated various properties and privileges in various parts of Britain; decisive proofs that he was at that time in possession of the Island, and considered himself firmly fixed upon its throne.[a]

William the Conqueror, during the whole of his life, honoured this Monastery with his especial favour; and at his death he bequeathed to it other lands, with various ornaments and relics. LANFRANC, afterwards archbishop of Canterbury, was its first abbat.

Dugdale has given two Charters of the Conqueror to this Abbey, one of foundation, the other after the Abbey was completed; a third charter enumerating the donations of the Conqueror's barons to this Abbey; and a fourth of confirmation, from King Henry the First.

Henry the Second, in a very long charter, confirmed the various endowments and privileges previously bestowed upon the Convent, and added others of his own. From this time forward, it continued to increase in wealth and power. In the year 1250, its revenues in Normandy amounted to four thousand livres, a sum equivalent to eighty-two thousand and sixteen livres of the present day. In 1668, when money in France was of about half its present value, the abbat and monks divided an income of sixty-four thousand and four livres: and in 1774, this income had swelled to one hundred and ninety-two thousand livres, notwithstanding the immense losses suffered by the suppression of the Alien Priories in England. Thus an increase had taken place of nearly one hundred and ten thousand livres in about five hundred and twenty years. The ecclesiastical patronage of the Abbey, at the time of the Revolution, extended over twelve churches. Its monks, who were of the Order of St. Benedict, continued till the year 1662 to belong to the class of Benedictines called unreformed: but the duchess of Longueville, wife of the then abbat, introduced at that period the brethren of the congregation of St. Maur.

The privileges and immunities granted to the Convent of St. Stephen are detailed at considerable length by Du Monstier, Neustria Pia, p. 640, who has also given a Catalogue of the Abbats.

The Church of St. Stephen at Caen suffered but little during the storm of the Revolution; though it was much injured by the Hugonots in the sixteenth century: who even undermined the central tower.

Mr. Dawson Turner, both in the Illustrations to Cotman's prints and in his own Tour, has been minute in his Observations upon the Architecture of this Church. The Nave and the Transepts are the only pure remains of the original building now remaining.

Entries relating to the property of the Abbey of St. Stephen Caen, in England, will be found in the Domesday Survey, tom. i. toll. 65, 78 b, 91, 104. tom. ii. foll. 22, 221; in the counties of Wilts, Dorset, Somerset, Devon, Essex, and Norfolk.

Carta Regis Willielmi Conquestoris, de Fundatione ejusdem.

QUISQUIS Deo, seu pro Deo, aliquid præstat, non ipsum à se alienat, sed potiùs in futurum, cum spe vitæ æternæ, multiplicandum conservat. Hoc agit pia creatoris largitas, et larga ejus erga nos pietas; qui, cum bonorum nostrorum non egeat ("suus enim est orbis terræ, et plenitudo ejus"), honorari tamen de nostra substantia, immolarique sibi sacrificium laudis pro nostra salute desiderat. Hortatur nos, ut ei serviamus, tribuit quod pro collatis beneficiis suis ei retribuamus. Quod tamen misericors Pater, quasi alienum suscipit, quasi nostrum rependit, in hoc seculo peccata remittens, in futuro centuplum accepturus, seipsum et regnum cœleste promittens. Quâ spe ductus, ego Will. Angl. rex, Norm. et Cenomannorum princeps, cœnobium in honorem Dei, et beatissimi prothomartyris Stephani, intra burgum quem vulgari nomine vocant Cadomum, pro salute animæ meæ, uxoris, filiorum et parentum meorum disposui construendum. Cui loco, divinæ religionis cultura aliquando propter inopiam desit, hoc modo ipsi in posterum mea sollicitudo prospexit. Trado igitur præfato cœnobio villas juris mei; Lensium, Ros, Alamanniam, Pontem-Dinæ, Cathburgum, cum colonis, et conditionariis, &c. Terram quoque quam habuit Hugo de Rosal in Gramivilla; silvam de Walopertuso, et de Tortavalle, et de Folonia, et de Casneto, cum aquis, et terris, seu omnibus ad eas pertinentibus. Concedo etiam totum alodium, quod tenent Osmundus Aculeius, et Ricardus, et Rogerus in territorio Calvi Montis super Dinam; et etiam totum illud, quod tenent quicunque alodarii infra leugam pontis Dinæ.

In terra Anglorum in comitatu de Devenesire, manerium do, quod vocatur Northam. in comitatu de Dorseta duo maneria; unum quod vocatur Frantonia,[b] et aliud quod vocatur Brencumbe. In comitatu de Sumerseta, in territorio Crucre, decem hidas terræ, et ecclesiam, cum omni decima ejusdem territorii. In comitatu de Wiltesira ecclesiam de Cosham, cum omni terra et decima ad eam pertinente. Concedo quoque in comitatu de Nortfolc, manerium quod vocatur Welles,[c] quod dedit prædicto cœnobio Will. de Scocris; cum ecclesia de Northona, et terra, cum decima eidem ecclesiæ pertinente, in Essexa.

Item concedo in comitatu Essessæ maneriolum, quod vocatur Panfella;[d] et in London quandam terram, quæ fuit Leuzech, sitam propè ecclesiam S. Petri, quietam de gelt et de scoth, et de omni alia consuetudine, quam dedit Waleranus filius Ranulfi, cum decima totius terræ suæ, quam habet in Anglia, tam pro anima sua, quàm pro mea. Abbey of the Holy Trinity, at Caen.

THE origin of the Convent of the Holy Trinity has been already detailed. It was founded, in 1066, by Matilda of Flanders, and its Church dedicated, on the eighteenth of June that year, by Maurilius, archbishop of Rouen. Duke William, on the same day, presenting at the altar his infant daughter Cecilia, devoted her to the service of God in this Monastery, where she became the second Abbess.

The foundation charters of this Convent, Mr. Turner observes, which bear date in the years 1066 and 1082, are full of donations in every respect princely; and these, not only on the part of the sovereign, but also of his nobles, whose signatures are likewise attached to the instruments. The queen, also, at her decease, left the Monastery her crown, sceptre, and ornaments of state; thus setting the example which was shortly after followed by her royal consort with regard to the Abbey of St. Stephen.[a]

For farther particulars of this foundation, we shall refer to the Account of it in Cotman's Architectural Antiquities of Normandy, where are several Plates of the Abbey in the state in which it exists at present.

Of the royal tombs which were formerly here, all were swept away by the Revolution.

Dugdale has given two charters only of this Monastery, one from King Henry the First, confirming to the Nuns here the manors of Horstede, in Norfolk, and Theolnished, in Wiltshire; the other, a general confirmation from King Edward the Second, in his 17th year.

Entries relating to the possessions of the Abbey of the Holy Trinity at Caen, in England, in the counties of Dorset, Devon, Gloucester, and Essex, will be found in the Domesday Survey, tom. i. foll. 79, 104, 166 b. tom. ii. fol. 21 b.

Abbey of St. Vigor, at Cerisy,

in the Diocese of Baieux.[1]

THIS was a Benedictine Abbey, founded A.D. 590, by St. Vigor, bishop of Baieux, which being destroyed, was restored by Robert the first duke of Normandy, A.D. 1030. William his son, who conquered England, was also a great benefactor to this House.

Dugdale has given, 1. The foundation charter by Robert, who styles himself Earl of Normandy, endowing this Abbey with the place of Cerisy, and all the churches, lands, and tenements about it, tithes, pasture, &c., dated upon the completion of the buildings, in 1032: 2. A Charter of William duke of Normandy, his son, dated in 1042, increasing the donations made by Earl Robert: 3. An instrument enumerating various other donations from the Norman subfeudatarii: 4. A charter of confirmation from King Henry the First dated in 1120.

Carta de Fundatione ejusdem, per Robertum Normannorum Comitem.

Sanctorum patrum auctoritate docemur, quod hæc mortalis vita, brevi intercludatur spacio, et ideo bona transitoria nobis divinæ largitatis dono conceduntur, ut æterna verèque manentia Deo reddente vicissitudinem, per caritatis officium mercemur. Quapropter ego Robertus Normannorum comes, omnibus Christi fidelibus, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, notum esse cupio; qualiter, in nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, congregationem monachorum, in loco qui dicitur Ciriciacus ordinavi; et præsente Hugone, ejusdem loci episcopo, quàm aliis quampluribus autenticis personis, tam episcopis, quàm abbatibus, abbaciam sub libera potestate, in honore S. Vigoris, piissimi confessoris, abbate constituto, construxi: de rebus autem meis fiscalibus locum supradictum cum omni donatione dotavi, et in hujus privilegii testimonio, omnia, ne oblivioni tradita solverentur, notari præcepi. Hæc igitur concessi; ipsum viz. locum ubi positum est monasterium qui dicitur Cirisiacus, cum ecclesiis, aquis, pratis, molendinis, et terris arabilibus, cultis et incultis, in silvis meis circumcirca positis: decimam scilicet totius nemoris ab ipsa abbatia usque ad Dromum fluvium, in pasnagiis, in venationibus, in placitis, in caseis vaccarum, ovium, capratarum et porcariarum. In terris incultis, quæ ad cultum rediguntur, et cæteris, quæ decimari possunt: liberam etiam potestatem in pascuis, lignis accipiendis, ad ædificia monachorum construenda. Addidi quoque in omnibus silvis meis pasnagium, tam porcorum monachorum, quàm suorum hominum.

Dedi etiam decimam totius nemoris de Malepertus, de omnibus quæ decimari possunt. Silvam quoque quæ dicitur Moletus, cum omni venatione, quæ in ea capi potest. In Bajocensi autem civitate donavi præfatæ ecclesiæ, terras meas dominicales, in loco qui dicitur Cromella cxl. acras; et ex alia parte civitatis LX. et tres acras prati; suburbanos quatuor cum terris suis et hominibus. Ecclesiam S. Georgii, cum terris quæ eidem ecclesiæ pertinent: et in monte Pinchon septem acras terræ. In Rodomo civitate vineas meas dominicales, scilicet XXX. arpennos, cum prato, et terris, et hospitibus, quæ eis adjacent; et unoquoque anno LX. modios vini super ripam Secanæ, unam mensuram terræ ab omni consuetudine ubique liberam; unam domum juxta cimiterium S. Mariæ.

Hæc quidem omnia præfatæ ecclesiæ contuli, quæ michi jure hæreditario contigerant, nichil mihi in hiis omnibus terrenæ consuetudinis retinens, in foro, in nundinis, in passagiis ab omni inquietudine, liberavi etiam hæc omnia ab omni consuetudine ecclesiastica, consilio et consensu Roberti Rothomagensis archiepiscopi, atque Hugonis Bajocensis episcopi, cæterorumque episcoporum meorum seu baronum, in quorum præsentia hæc acta sunt.

Postea autem ego Robertus, volens augere ecclesiam, quam ædificare incœperam, dedi ei omnem decimam totius nemoris de Leonibus, scilicet in redditibus villæ S. Dionysii, in molendinis, in exactis, in omnibus ei pertinentibus terris, quæ ad cultum rediguntur: in venationibus, in avibus, in placitis, in pasnagiis, in porcariis, et in omnibus consuetudinibus suis. In Argenciis tres arpennos terræ ad faciendam vineam, liberos ab omni consuetudine. Et in Cadomo unam mansuram terræ ab omni consuetudine ubique liberam, et tres acras prati. Villam Spineti dimidiam, cum dimidia ecclesia, et molendinis, aquis, et pratis, liberam ab omnibus consuetudinibus, tam ecclesiasticis, quàm secularibus. In Viana duos villanos, cum terris suis, et duas acras prati. Ecclesiam S. Amandi cum omnibus appendiciis suis; et terram ad duas carrucas etiam in villa quæ dicitur Crocii, cum omni decima; et unum villanum, cum terra sua.

Acta sunt hæc in Rodomo civitate, tempore Johannis papæ, anno ab incarnatione Domini MXXXII. Normannorum tenente primatum, marchione Roberto, primatus ejus anno quinto, sub Francorum rege Henrico, regni ejus, post patris obitum, anno primo, indictione XV. epacta VI. prima feria, luna quinta; pridie idus Novembris.

Hujus etenim concessionis rationem, in oculis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ, tali auctoritate confirmavi, ut quicunque eam violare præsumpserit, anathematis jugulo subjaceat. Sic inquam feci, et cartam istam, autem meam, corroboravi; nominibusque episcoporum et baronumm eorum corroborari præcepi. Signum Rob. archiepiscopi ✠. Signum Hug. Bajocensis episcopi ✠. Carta Willielmi Normannorum Ducis.

[Ibid.]

Ego Willielmus, Normannorum dux, abbatiam S. Cerasii, in honorem S. Vigoris à patre meo constitutam augere studens, pro remedio animæ meæ, atque ipsius,eidem loco donavi decimam omnium denariorum vicecomitatus Constantini, et decimam vicecomitatus Constanciarum, et decimam vicecomitatus Waureti in molendinis, in luco, et in omnibus redditibus meis; in silvis meis; scilicet in silva Montisburgi, et in silva de Bruiz, et in silva Rabeti, et in silva Cerisburgi, et in silva Vallis-seiæ, et in silva Lucumeriæ et parcorum donavi decimam eidem ecclesiæ; in pasnagio, in placitis, in vacariis, in porcariis, in venationibus: in Valoigniis decimam culturarum mearum, et unum hospitem ab omni consuetudine liberum. In Chetelhou dedi unum hospitem, cum terra sua, ab omni consuetudine liberum. Dedi etiam ecclesiæ Radulfmille, et unum alodialem in ipsa villa. Et in Sotevilla tertiam partem ecclesiæ, et unum alodialem; et in insula Gersu, duas ecclesias liberas; scilicet S. Mariæ Arsimonasterii et S. Martini Veteris, cum terris suis; et tertiam partem decimæ de annona. Item dedi quartam partem totius Withvillæ; scilicet terram quam Wigotus barbatus tenebat in alodio, liberam et absolutam ab omnibus consuetudinibus, michi pertinentibus. Dedi quoque unum alodialum in Amundavilla, quietum ab omni consuetudine. Hiis supradictis super Acrem Listreme, cum omnibus appendiciis suis, cum ecclesia, cum silvis, cum molendinis, cum aquis, cum pratis, liberum et absolutum ab omnibus consuetudinibus, tam ecclesiasticis, quàm secularibus.

Itidem concessi silvam, quæ Canda vocatur, et terminatur ab ortu rivuli Morelli, usque ad montem Friardi, cum omnibus consuetudinibus, quas priùs habebat. Ego Wido de Sancto Quintino, accipiens monachalem habitum, dedi Deo et S. Vigori de Cerasio terram quam tenebam in Measnil Segart, cum tertia parte unius molendini, et in Couveniz terram unius militis, et duas partes decimæ ejusdem villæ. Et in Savigneio lx. acras terræ, cum duabus partibus unius molendini, concedente domino meo Willermo rege, et hanc cartulam coram idoneis testibus confirmante. S. Willielmi regis ✠. S. Mathildis reginæ ✠. S. Guidonis de S. Quintino ✠. S. Ranulfi vicecomitis.

Ego Walterus Broc, cum fratribus meis Hugone et Rogerio, de ecclesiam de villa quæ dicitur Neon, concedente Odone, Bajocensi episcopo, cum omni decima ejusdem ecclesiæ, Deo et S. Vigori Cerasii, quam Robertus Gams, avunculus noster, domino Garino abbati in elemosyna primitus annuerat; et insuper annuimus rectam decimam de bestiis nostris, caseis et fructibus arborum. Hanc cartulam confirmavimus coram rege Willermo, concedente vicecomite Ranulfo. S. Willermi regis ✠, &c.

Ego Radulfus, Willermi filius, animæ meæ consulere volens, dedi Deo et S. Vigori tertiam partem oblationis altaris S. Clari, in festivitate sua; et quatuor acras terræ ubi mansio una efficeretur coram rege, concedente domino suo Ricardo de Moreio. S. Willermi regis ✠, &c.

Ego Aluredus de S. Quintino dedi Deo et S. Vigori de Cerasio decimam quam tenebam in Convenis de domino meo Ranulfo vicecomite, eodem domino concedente. S. Ranulphi vicecomitis ✠, &c. Ego Osmundus S. Vigoris monachus facio donationem eidem S. de meo allodio, quem possideo in Crecavilla, scilicet dimidium molendinum, cum sex acris terræ, concedentibus propinquis meis coram Willermo rege. S. Willermi regis ✠.

Ego Rogerus de Montigneio, monachus effectus, dedi Deo et S. Vigori, terram quam tenebam de Willielmo Bacone, undè ipse Willermus habuit lx^{s}. denariorum ab abbate Hugone, et unum equum c^{s}. appreciatum, et Ranulfus vicecomes, dominus suus centum solidos habuit et unum palefridum; et ipsi concesserunt Deo et S. Vigori, coram Willermo rege, quicquid terreni juris in ea habebant, præter recognitionem dominii S. Willermi regis ✠, &c.

Ego Willermus de Montefichet dedi Deo et S. Vigori, ecclesiam S. Marculfi, concedente hoc Willermo camerario de quo illam tenebam, et quicquid mei juris est in eadem ecclesia, scilicet totam decimam quæ ad eam pertinet; et terram unius aratri; et ecclesiam de Fonceneit, cum tota decima; et totam terram quam Acelinus clericus ibi in Sotavilla tenuit, et duas naves ad crassum piscem, et duas salinas; et dexteram alam de crasso pisce; et frustrum unum de crasso ejusdem piscis, et aliud de macro. Et duas insulas, quæ sunt ibi in mari, domino meo rege Willielmo et Gaufrido Constantiensi episcopo concedentibus. S. Willielmi regis ✠, &c.

Ego Gauffridus filius Wesmani, cum Mathilde uxore mea, dedimus Deo et S. Vigori Cerasii partem illam, quam habebamus in ecclesia de Marsaio, ex hæreditate Herveii fratris Surchaerii Malherbe, patris Mathildis uxoris suæ. Ego Willermus de Houmez, Roberti nepos et hæres, cum viderem ecclesiam S. Fromundi, per negligentiam clericorum adnichilari, fretus consilio Gaufridi Constanciensis episcopi, ac religiosarum personarum, seu baronum meorum, monachis ibidem restituere decrevi, concedente hoc serenissimo Anglorum rege Willielmo. Propterea de ecclesia illa, scilicet S. Fromundi, Deo et S. Vigori Cerasii, et monachis ejus, donationem feci, cum omni possessione sua, de qua ab antecessore meo Roberto dotata fuit; scilicet cum terra quatuor carrucarum, et cum decima ejusdem villæ, et vinea, quæ erat ex latere ecclesiæ, et ecclesia Canigneii, cum decima, et decima de Boscflameno, et parte sua de ecclesia Airel, cum decima. Et cum decima de omni substantia mea; et cum decima meorum molendinorum de Nira, et de meis piscariis; hac conditione, ut abbas, remotis clericis, substitueret monachos Deo et S. Fromundo honorificè servientes; et ne occasionem intermittendi officium ecclesiasticum aliquam haberent, absolvi eos ab omnibus secularibus serviciis, quæ ad me pertinent. S. Willielmi regis Anglorum, &c.

Ego Robertus de Insula dedi Deo et S. Vigori Cerasii, medietatem terræ, quam tenebam de Ranulpho vicecomite in Hupame, cum omnibus serviciis michi pertinentibus. S. Roberti de Insula ✠. S. Roberti de Gaii ✠. S. Bernardi de Novilla.

Ego Tustinus de Aniseio dedi Deo et S. Vigori terram unius villani in Buschervilla, et omnia, quæ michi pertinent de terra; filiis meis Eudone et Radulfo, et domino meo Ranulfo vicecomite concedentibus: qui vicecomes ab abbate unum palefridum habuit pro servicio sibi pertinenti. S. Tustini ✠ S. Eudonis ✠. S. Radulphi ✠.

Abbey of Cormeilles.

THE Abbey of Cormeilles was founded about the year 1060, by William Fitz-Osbern, a relation to William the Conqueror, at whose court he held the office of sewer, and by whom he was promoted to the Earldom of Hereford.

Dugdale has given, 1. A Bull of Pope Alex. III. dated in 1168, confirming to this Abbey all its possessions in Normandy and England; and, 2. A Charter of King Henry II. confirming those in England in particular.

Guido bishop of Lisieux, in whose diocese this Abbey was situated, granted an inspeximus of Henry the Second's charter in 1281, which is printed in Madox's Formulare Anglicanum, Num. XVI.

Entries in the Domesday Survey, relating to the property of this Abbey in the Counties of Gloucester, Worcester, and Hereford, will be found in that Work, tom. i. foll. 166, 174, 182 b.

The Church and monastic buildings of Cormeilles had so far gone to ruin in the last Century, as to call forth a strong remonstrance from Mabillon, Annal. iv. p, 599; they were afterwards repaired by Charles of Orleans, who was appointed abbat in 1726.

See relating to this Abbey, Neustria Pia, p. 595—602. Alien. Pr. vol. i. pp. 95, 96, 97. Tanner's Letters from Normandy, vol. ii. p. 145.

Abbatia de Cormeliis, in Duatu Normanniæ.

NUM. I.

Bulla Alexandri Papæ Tertii, Donationes diversarum Terrarum, et in Normanniâ, et Angliâ, confirmans.

[Ex autogr. in Curia Augmentat.]

Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, Willielmus, permissione divina Lexoviensis episcopus, de Becco, de Pratellis, de Gresteno, de Cornevilla, abbates, salutem in salutis Autore. Noveritis nos diligenter inspexisse privilegium fœlicis recordationis domini papæ Alexandri, nec viciatum, nec cancellatum, nec in aliqua sui parte abolitum, sub hac forma.

Alexander episcopus. T. servus servorum Dei, dilectis filiis Roberto abbati monasterii Cormeliensis, ejusque fratribus, tam præsentibus, quàm futuris, regularem vitam professis in perpetuum, religiosam vitam eligentibus: apostolicum convenit adesse præsidium, ne cujuslibet temeritatis incursus eos, aut à proposito revocet, aut robur (quod absit) sacræ religionis infringat: eapropter, dilecti in Domino filii, vestris justis postulationibus, gratum impertimur assensum, et præfatum monasterium, in quo divino mancipati estis obsequio, sub beati Petri, et nostra protectione suscipimus, et præsentis scripti privilegio communimus. Inprimis siquidem statuentes, ut ordo monasticus, qui, secundùm Deum, et beati Benedicti regulam, in eodem monasterio noscitur, institutus, perpetuis ibidem temporibus inviolabiliter observetur. Præterea quascunque possessiones, quæcunque bona idem monasterium, in præsentiarum, justè, et canonicè possidet, aut in futurum, concessione pontificum, largitione regum, vel principum, oblatione fidelium, seu aliis justis modis, præstante Domino, poterit adipisci; firma vobis vestrisque successoribus, et illibata permaneant; in quibus hæc propriis duximus exprimenda vocabulis. Triginta acras terræ apud capellam Banieb, unum hominem apud Butevillam. Terram de Wibraio, cum duobus molendinis, apud Falesiam; Hogum Siccum, cum ecclesia, bosco, et molendino. Apud Romelli, unam carucatam terræ. Apud Wellebone, duas partes piscariæ de aurea fossa in Secana, cum tenemento quod pertinet monasterio Cormeliensi. Molendinum villæ, quæ dicitur Vitre. Martineium, cum medietate molendini de Arches; et medietatem molendini de Martineio, cum appendiciis suis. Osberniueivill, cum ecclesia. Apud Huglevillam, sedecim solidos. Ecclesiam de Crepun cum omnibus decimis, et decem et octo acras terræ. Ecclesiam de Grisros. Unum modium bladi in molendino de Altariis. Quietanciam omnium rerum, quæ monasterio Cormeliensi undecunque venerint, apud burgum de Ponte Aldemare, sive quas in usus suos monachi ejusdem monasterii emerint. Pratum in Corhulene, et in Chevilli, vineam de Rollant. Vineam de clauso Hildwini, cum medietate unius domus, et medietate omnium fructuum ad eandem domum pertinentium, cum tribus modiis vini. Apud Gamilli, dimidium modium vini.

In Anglia manerium de Noent,[a] cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, scil. quinque hidas terræ, et ecclesiam, cum omnibus decimis, oblationibus, pratis, molendinis, et nemoribus de Larclesdune, et de Teteswude. Contonam, Lindam, Eclam, et Meleswicam, cum molendinis, et pratis. Ligesleiam, cum omnibus sartis, quæ pertinent ad Nuents, Stanling, et Bolesdunam, cum capella. Ecclesiam de Tedinton, et capellam de Panteleia. Ecclesiam de Dimoc, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et decimis. Decimam de toto dominio, et unam virgatam terræ in eadem villa. Ecclesiam de Bekeford, cum capellis, decimis, et cæteris pertinentiis suis: decimam de toto dominio, et in augmentis et assartis, et dimidiam hidam terræ. Ecclesiam de Estana, cum capellis et omnibus pertinentiis suis, et unam virgatam terræ; et totam decimam in dominio. In Totintona, totam decimam de dominio, in omnibus rebus, et unam virgatam terræ in eadem villa. In Contona totam decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. In Caldebroc, Ora, et Calestan, totam decimam de dominio. Totam villam de Cigestona, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; sc. cum duabus hidis terræ, et capella ipsius villæ. In Westestingestan decimam de toto dominio, et unam virgatam terræ; ecclesiam de Maurdin, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et totam decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. Ecclesiam de Cigestone, cum capellis, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, et totam decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. In Pionia totam decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. Ecclesiam de Succeleia, cum capellis et omnibus pertinentiis suis, et totam decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. Ecclesiam de Merleia, cum capellis, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, et tres virgatas terræ : et totam decimam de dominio, apud Wigrestun. Ad Wiche rectum suum in salinis: apud Holewei totam decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. Apud Sydeham decimam de dominio et dimidiam terræ hidam. Apud Raineham totam decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. Apud Toristonam totam decimam de dominio, et dimidiam hidam terræ, et unum pratum, ecclesiam de Sidairt cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et totam decimam de dominio, et unum pratum. Ecclesiam de Canoel, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et totam decimam de dominio, et duas virgatas terræ. Decimas reddituum villæ de Munemuta, de Troy, et de Concarvan, et de Novavilla. Medietatem decimæ de dominio. Et de terra Richardi filii comitis Gileberti manerium Uschanæ, et Waiam dimidiam decimam de dominio suo, in bosco, et plano, in piscariis, et melle, in placitis, et pasnagiis, et quartam partem decimæ Strigulliæ. Et ad prædictum manerium de Newent, unam Blessagham, et carbonem in nemore suo, ad Blessagham sustinendum, et terram suam ad ollas : et boscum suum de Edulfeshella ad essartandum, si non est in foresta regis. Ecclesiam de Strigul, cum omnibus pertinentiis. In villa de Hereford, duodecim libras ad scaccarium regis. In Sudhamtona novem librarum, et quinque solidos, in eadem villa, monachos de Cormeliis, et homines eorum, et domum quam ibi habetis, ab omnibus consuetudinibus libera de decima, Stukeleiæ, et Merleiæ. Septuaginta quinque solidos apud Gloucestriam, et Dimoc quadraginta solidos. Porrò in ecclesiis, quas tenetis, presbyteros eligatis, et episcopis præsentetis, quibus si idonei fuerint; episcopi curam animarum committant, ut de plebis quidem cura eis respondeant. Vobis autem pro rebus temporalibus debitam subjectionem exhibeant. Sepulturam quoque ipsius loci liberam esse decernimus, ut eorum qui se illic sepeliri deliberaverint devotioni et extremæ voluntati (nisi fortè excommunicati, vel interdicti sint) nullus obsistat, salva tamen justitia ecclesiarum illarum à quibus mortuorum corpora assumuntur.

[a] Noent, in com. Glouc. cella ejusdem. Vide pat. 47 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 29.

Sane novalium vestrorum, quæ propriis manibus, aut sumptibus colitis, sive de nutrimentis animalium vestrorum, nullus à vobis decimas præsumat exigere. Cum autem generale interdictum fuerit, liceat vobis, januis clausis, non pulsatis tintinnabulis, exclusis excommunicatis et interdictis, suppressa voce, divina celebrare. Obeunte verò te, nunc ejusdem loci abbate, vel tuorum quolibet successorum, nullus ibi qualibet subreptionis astutia, seu violentia præponatur, nisi quem fratres, communi concensu, vel fratrum pars consilii senioris, secundùm Deum, et beati Benedicti regulam providerint eligendum. Decernimus ergo ut nulli omninò hominum liceat præfatum monasterium temerè perturbare, aut ejus possessiones auferre vel oblatas retinere, minuere, seu quibuslibet vexationibus fatigare, sed omnia integra conserventur, eorum pro quorum gubernatione, et sustentatione concessa sunt, usibus omnimodis profutura. Salva apostolicæ sedis autoritate, et diœcesani episcopi canonica justitia. Siqua igitur in futurum ecclesiastica sæcularisve persona, hanc paginam nostræ constitutionis, sciens, contra eam temerè venire temptaverit, secundò tertiòve commonita, nisi reatum suum congrua satisfactione correxerit, potestatis, honorisque sui dignitate careat, reumque se divino judicio existere, de perpetrata iniquitate cognoscat, et à sacratissimo corpore, et sanguine Dei ac Domini redemptoris nostri Jesu Christi, aliena fiat; atque in extremo examine districtæ ultioni subjaceat. Cunctis autem eidem loco sua jura servantibus sit pax Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatinus et hic fructum bonæ actionis percipiant, et apud districtum judicem præmia æternæ pacis inveniant, Amen. Abbey of St. Denys, near Paris.

THIS Abbey of Benedictine Monks, not far from Paris, was founded A.D. 639 by Dagobert King of France, by whose successors, to a very late period, it was enriched. Its History was written in a folio volume, by Dom. Michel Felibien, published at Paris in 1706.

Deerhurst in Gloucestershire, and Rotherfield in Sussex, were Cells to this Abbey. See its property in England in the eleventh century enumerated in the Domesday Survey, tom. i. foll. 157, 166, 174.

Dugdale, from the Chartulary of this Abbey, has given a charter of Duke Bertoald granted in 792, endowing this monastery with the church of Rotherfield and his ports of Hastings and Pevensey in Sussex; a charter of King Edward the Confessor bestowing Teinton in Oxfordshire upon this Abbey; and a grant from William Earl of Ferrers of an annual donation of a wax candle worth thirteen pence, a fat deer, and a fat wild boar, to be sent over thither at the charge of him and his successors.

Abbatia S. Dionisii, juxta Pariseos.

Donatio Bertoaldi Ducis, de Hastinges, et Pevenesel, portubus maris; et Villa Radrefelda, in Anglia.

[Ex Cartulario Abb. S. Dionysii, per v. cl. Andr. du Chesne desumptum.]

IN nomine Domini nostri Jesu Christi, ego Bertoaldus dux, justo Dei judicio cecidi in infirmitatem, de qua medicorum nemo me sanare poterat. Audivi autem in Galliis, apud monasterium sanctorum martyrum Dionisii, Rustici, et Eleutherii, cui præest venerabilis abbas Folcradus, per eosdem sanctos, virtutes multas fieri; et petens à domino Karolo imperatore transitum, veni illuc, ubi cum diebus admodum paucis æger, ad eorum memoriam decubuissem; miseratione Domini, et deprecatione eorundem martyrum, plenissimè sanatus sum. Vovi autem votum Domino et sanctis illis, et de eorum sanctis reliquiis impetrata patrocinia mecum detuli, et in eorum nomine ecclesiam ædificavi in sede mea, in villa vocabulo Ridrefelda, quæ à progenitoribus meis jure hæreditario mihi relicta fuerat. Quapropter dignum est, ut per quos sum ab omni corporis liberatus infirmitate, ipsi mihi in ipsa mea debeant hæreditate succedere. Undè ego, unà cum favore fratris mei Eadbaldi, et concensu meorum fidelium, per hanc scripturæ seriem omnem illam villam meam, quæ vocatur Ridrefelda, situm super fluvium qui dicitur Salforda in pago qui dicitur Successa,[a] et pagi civitas appellatur Chichestra, cum omnibus appendiciis suis, terris, pratis, pascuis, campis, silvis, aquis, ita sicut ego usus sum hactenùs possidere, sanctis Dei martyribus, Dionysio, Rustico, et Eleutherio, habendam et disponendam et imperpetuum tenendam trado. Concedo etiam per hujus monimenta cartæ, ad usus monachorum ibidem Deo famulantium, meæ possessionis portus, qui sunt in eadem civitate super mare; Hastingas et Pevenesel, cum salinis et omni integritate sua, ut sicut ego possidere videor, sic fratres in ipso monasterio sanctorum martyrum Deo servientes amodo possideant et disponant, et pro me Deum deprecari dignentur. Si quis autem aliquid de hiis detrahere, aut minuere, vel usurpare temptaverit, et ab illis sanctis et servitoribus eorum monachis abstulerit, regi seculorum Deo peccabit, qui ab eo requirat in judicio futuro quod injustè abstulit, "cum veniet in sua majestate et sanctorum angelorum reddere unicuique prout gessit, sive bonum sive malum, et ibunt impii in supplicium æternum, justi autem in vitam æternam." Actum dominicæ incarnationis an. DCCXCII. anno quo cœpit Offa rex regnare XXXI. præsente fratre meo Eadbaldo, et coram subscriptis testibus. Ego Berthoaldus dux, manu mea firmavi, et subscripsi. Eadbaldus frater ejus firmavi et subscripsi. Egfridus comes subscripsi. Edilwinus comes subscripsi. Cinigils firmavi et subscripsi. Eadbertus firmavi et subscripsi. Hunwaldus firmavi et subscripsi. Edilfridus firmavi et subscripsi. Ego Eanfric cancellarius scripsi, relegi, et subscripsi. Ego Deodatus monachus de manu ducis Berthoaldi, omnia, quæ in hoc testamento scripta sunt in nomine sanctorum martyrum Dionysii, Rustici, et Eleutherii, possidenda suscepi, et hanc traditionem per hoc scriptum, coram cunctis fratribus monasterio adsignavi.

[Ibid.]

IN nomine summi Dei viventis, &c. Ego Edwardus rex Anglorum, cum essem in pace in gloria regni mei, pro salute animæ meæ patrumque meorum, qui ante me regnaverunt, cum consultu et decreto primatum fideliumque meorum, dedi sancto Dionysio, qui celebris memoriæ apud nos quidem nominatur, apud Francos autem et colitur et habetur, villam quandam nominatam Teintuna in territorio et comitatu urbis quæ Oxenaforda dicitur, cum omnibus appendiciis ejus, id est, terris, silvis, pascuis, aquis, pratis, cultis et incultis. Sit autem terra hæc immunis et libera ab omni negotio, excepta expeditione et pontis vel arcis instauratione. Quod si qui violaverint, sit pars eorum, decreto Dei et meo, omniumque episcoporum, quorum nomina hic habentur, cum Juda traditore, cum Dathan et Abiron, in ignem æternum, " ubi vermis eorum non moriatur, et ignis non extinguitur," nisi reatum suum coram Deo et sancto Dionysio emendaverint. Anno dominicæ incarnationis MLIX. scripta est hæc cartula, hiis testibus consentientibus.

Abbey of St. Evroul.

ST. EVRAU, or St. Evroul, called in Latin Monasterium Uticense, was one of the most renowned foundations throughout Normandy. It was founded by St. Ebrulfus, A.D. 575; but the first building being destroyed, it was restored by William Gerouis and his nephews Hugh and Robert de Grentemaisnel. The Charter of King Willliam the Conqueror to this House, granted in 1081, confirms many lands in England given to this Monastery, as do the charters of the two Roberts earls of Leicester. King Henry the Second confirmed Adelina de Ivri's gift of the manor of Charlton to St. Evroul, and gave the monks a charter of privileges. Ordericus Vitalis the historian was professed in this Monastery. This Abbey was burnt in the month of July 1793.

Entries relating to St. Evroul will be found in the Domesday Survey, tom. i. foll. 166 b, 248.

NUM. I.

Carta Regis Willielmi Conquestoris de Terris quamplurimis, in Anglia, dicto Monasterio concessis.

[Orderic. Vital. Hist. Eccles. p. 602.]

Gulielmus Dei gratia rex Anglorum, et dux Normannorum, atque princeps Cenomannorum, omnibus fidei catholicæ fautoribus, pacemque in ecclesia servantibus, summum et inexplebile gaudii munus. Quoniam brevis est mortalis vita, et de generatione in generationem transeunt omnia, volumus litterarum testimonio temporis nostri decreta confirmare; ut quæ nos rectè facimus ex nostro jure, et ex data à Deo potestate, nemo successorum nostrorum audeat violare, ne scilicet, ei contradicat, qui omnia regna suo arbitrio dispensat. Ego itaque Willielmus Dei gratia rex, in regno mihi divinitùs commisso, elemosinam, quæ mihi perenniter prosit, cœnobio B. Ebrulfi tradere dispono. Et ea quæ fideles nostri pro communi omnium salute de possessionibus, quas eis dedi legitimè ..... Deo, concedo, præsentique cirographo confirmationem nostram præsentibus et futuris omnibus Dei fidelibus notifico.

Inprimis igitur Uticensi monasterio, quod beatus Christi confessor Ebrulfus construxit in heremo, de dominio meo, pro amore Dei, dono in Gloucestre-scira villam, quæ Ravella, id est Capreæ Fons, dicitur; et in Nichole-scira, quandam, ecclesiam, et quicquid ad eam pertinet in villa quæ Nethleham vocatur. Præterea optimates nostri de rebus suis S. Ebrulfo hæc largiti sunt; atque ut in charta regiæ auctoritatis contra omnium infestationes inferantur, poposcerunt. Rogerius comes Scrobesburiæ dedit omne quod habebat in Melleburna, in Granteburge-scira: Othnam quoque et Merestonam in Estaforde-scira, et unam hidam terræ in Graphan, et terram Vulfuini aurifabri in Cicestra, decimamque caseorum, et lanarum de Pultona, et decimam de Senegai in Granteburge-scira. Mabilia verò, ejusdem comitis filia, de redditibus suis in Anglia LX. solidos sterilensium, pro decimis suis, dedit S. Ebrulfo per singulos annos ad luminaria ecclesiæ. Guarinus vicecomes de Scrobesburia dedit S. Ebrulfo Neutonam, et ecclesiam de Halis, cum decima, decimamque de Guestona in Estaforde-scira; et hæc dominus ejus Rogerius comes concessit. Porrò Hugo de Grentemaisnil (qui cum Roberto fratre suo, et avunculis suis, Guillelmo et Roberto, filiis Geroii, Uticense restaurarat cœnobium) hæc eidem dedit in Anglia in perpetuam hæreditatem; totam terram quam habuit in Parva Pilardentona, in Guareviche-scira, omniumque duas partes decimarum totius terræ suæ dedit: et xvi. rusticos ad ipsas decimas custodiendas, atque novem ecclesias. Dedit enim tres villanos Sceltonis; tres Guaris; duos Belegraviæ, unum Scotonæ, unum Chirchebiæ, unum Mersitonæ, unum Ostesilvæ, unum Cherletonæ. Et alium in alia Cherlentuna. Dedit etiam ecclesiam de Guaris, et totam decimam, quæ ad illam pertinebat, terramque duarum carrucarum; ecclesiam de Turthillestona, decimamque ad illam pertinentem, et duas virgatas terræ.

Ecclesiam de Clenefeld, cum decima tota, et duabus virgatis terræ. Ecclesiam de Charlentona, cum decima et quinque virgatis terræ. Ecclesiam de Noveslay, cum decima et duabus virgatis terræ. Ecclesiam de Merthegrava, quæ nunc alio nomine Belegrava dicitur, cum tota decima, et xi. virgatis terræ; et Guillecotam, et quicquid Hugo clericus de Sappo in Anglia de ipso tenebat; ecclesiam de Mersitona, cum tota decima et terra ad ecclesiam pertinente. Ecclesiam verò de Coteford, cum decima, et una hida terræ. Ecclesiam de Sellingis, cum toto quod Leofricus ibidem de ipso tenebat. Hæc sunt quæ Hugo de Gretemaisnill sancto Ebrulfo, me concedente, dedit in Anglia.

Radulfus quoque de Conchis eidem sancto dedit duos manerios Aluumtonam in Gnighercestre-scira, et Caldicotam in Nortfuch. Et Hugo filius Constantii dedit ecclesiam de Gafra et unam hidam terræ. Hugo autem Cestrensis comes, filium suum nomine Rodbertum in Uticensi ecclesia ad monachatum Deo obtulit, et eidem ecclesiæ dedit unam hidam terræ in Parva Pilardentona, et decimam, ac unum rusticum in villa quæ dicitur Brichella, decimamque de Sanleia in Buccingeham-scira. Robertus verò de Rodelento (præfato Hugone Cestrensi comite, domino suo, concedente) dedit S. Ebrulfo Chirchebiam cum duabus ecclesiis; una scilicet quæ in ipsa villa est, et alia propè illud manerium in insula maris, et ecclesiam S. Petri apostoli, et quicquid ad eam pertinebat in Cestrensi urbe. Et in Merestona, quæ est in Northamtone-scira, ecclesiam S. Laurentii, et quicquid ad eam pertinet: et in eadem provincia ecclesiam de Bivivella, cum duabus terræ carrucatis. Alii quoque homines Hugonis comitis, Uticensi ecclesiæ decimas suas dederunt. In Nicholescira Rozscelinus de Estentona, Osbernus Tezsonis filius de Neubela, Baldricus de Farefort, decimam cum uno rustico. Rogerius de Millai et Brisard, et Robertus Pultrel in Legrecestre-scira. Omnes hi decimas suas sancto Ebrulfo dederunt, et prædictus comes gratanter concessit. Hæc itaque quæ de nostro dominio sæpè memoratæ ecclesiæ dedi, et omnia quæ à baronibus nostris eidem data sunt concessi, anno ab incarnatione Domini M.lxxxi. indictionis iv. præsenti cirographo in urbe Guenta corroboro, et proceribus meis, qui eleemosynas suas dederunt, vel astipulatores earum sunt, hoc testamentum signo sanctæ crucis dedicandum trado: ut in æternum regali auctoritate rata sit hæc donatio, et sacrilegos sacrarum violatores rerum irremediabilis, nisi à reatu resipuerint, feriat maledictio.

Carta Roberti Comitis Leicestriæ, de diversis Ecclesiis, Terris, et Decimis infra Comitatum Leicestriæ.

[Ex vetusto rotulo in bibl. Cotton.]

Robertus comes Leycestriæ, comitis Melentini filius, omnibus ad quos præsentes literæ pervenerint salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, me pro salute animæ meæ, et patris mei et matris meæ, et omnium aliorum antecessorum meorum, et successorum, donâsse et concessisse, et præsenti carta mea confirmâsse monasterio S. Ebr. et abbati et monachis ejusdem loci, quicquid habent in tota terra mea in liberam, et absque omni terreno servicio et consuetudine et exactione, quietam elemosynam; ita quod nulli aliquod terrenum servicium inde facere teneantur; neque homines in terra ipsorum, manentes apud Leycestriam, plenam decimam de omni dominio meo de præpositura; videlicet, de pontibus de Holegate, de molendinis, et piscationibus, atque virgultis, quæ modò in eadem villa sunt, vel de novo fient in tota foresta ejusdem villæ; in defensis videlicet, et in alta foresta, et alibi per totam forestam Leycestriæ, plenam decimam de omnibus pannagiis et herbagiis, et venationibus, et venditionibus, et araciis equorum et equarum, et de omnibus fructibus, et essartis, et agriculturis, et molendinis, et furnis et piscationibus, et censibus, et ecclesiis, et villis et capellis, et obventionibus quæ ex ea et in propresturis ejus, præsentibus et futuris operibus, etiamsi ad agriculturam redacta fuerit, poterunt pervenire; et quietanciam herbagii, et pannagii ad centum porcos conventus S. Ebrulfi per annum; videlicet in fensis, et in alta foresta, et alibi per totam ipsam forestam cum meis propriis porcis. Infra muros civitatis Leycestriæ novem burgenses; extra verò quinque. Decimam quoque dominicarum terrarum mearum in eadem villa. Ecclesiam de Belegrave, &c.

In Clenefeud ecclesiam, cum duabus virgatis terræ, et capellam de Branteston, et de Kereby, cum decimis et aliis pertinentiis ejus in Yrkynfeld, &c. In Rotheby duas partes decimarum totius dominii mei, de omnibus de quibus decima datur et accipitur, et ita habet monasterium S. Ebrulfi in omnibus dominiis de feodo Leycestriæ. In Groby, &c. In Bosceby duas partes omnium decimarum de duabus aulis; et in Humbirston similiter decimam de duabus aulis, et unam virgatam terræ. In Stocton decimam de dominio, et unam virgatam terræ. In Evington decimam de dominio. In Ygwarby decimam de dominio. In Syleby decimam de dominio. In Torp-Ernaud decimam de dominio. In Brantingesby decimam de dominio. In Waltham, &c. In Wykyngeston decimam de dominio. In Houtheby, &c.

Volo itaque et firmiter præcipio ut hujus meæ donationis, concessionis, et confirmationis carta ab omnibus hæredibus meis, et ballivis illibata conservetur et integra; et ut ea quæ in ea scripta sunt et nominata; tam in ecclesiis quàm decimis, et essartis et terris, aliisque pertinentiis suis et possessionibus, abbati et monachis plenariè et absque malivola dilatione persolvantur; et ut ipsi super hiis omnibus, quæ donavi, concessi, et confirmavi, nullam de cætero molestiam patiantur; nec homines in terris ipsorum manentes, sed cum omni integritate, et absque omni exactione, consuetudine, et districtione terreni servicii, ea pacificè et quietè in puram, liberam, perpetuam, et quietam elemosynam possideant, præsentem paginam sigilli mei munimine confirmavi et roboravi, ipsis contra omnem calumpniam perpetuo valituram. Hanc autem donationem, confirmationem, et concessionem ego et omnes hæredes dictis abbati et monachis tenemur contra omnes homines warantizare, et defendere. Si quis verò hæredum, ballivorum, vel hominum meorum hanc meæ donationis, concessionis, et confirmationis cartam, sciens infregerit, vel contra eam aliquo modo venire temptaverit, indignationem Dei omnipotentis, meamque maledictionem se noverit incursurum. Hiis testibus, O. Ebor. episcopo, et Hugone de Raceto, et Ricardo de Bellomonte magistro, et capellano meo, et Tomheto de Morevilla, et aliis.

NUM. III.

Carta Roberti Comitis Leicestriæ, filii præfati Comitis.

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, ego Robertus comes Leycestriæ, omnibus hominibus et baronibus, et amicis, et fidelibus meis, ballivis atque ministris, salutem et pacem. Abbey of L'Essay, in Normandy.

THIS was an Abbey of the Benedictine Order, founded by Turstin Halduc and his wife Emma, A.D. 1064. Eudo their son was also a benefactor. It was called in Latin Exaqueum. See Du Monstier's Neustria Pia, p. 617—623, where is a List of twenty-eight of its Abbats to 1662. Nichols says its annual income amounted to 26,000 livres. Boxgrave Priory in Sussex was subordinate to L'Essay.

Volo etiam et concedo, quod dicti monachi in dicto molendino, pro dicto frumento, nisi eis ad dictum terminum integrè solveretur, justitiam suam plenariam, sine contradictione aliqua valeant excercere. Et ego et hæredes mei prædictam donationem et elemosinationem tenemur dictis monachis contra omnes homines ac mulieres defendere et garantizare, et deliberare; et si necesse esset in nostra hæreditate propria, et proxima, in loco sibi competenti et utili, excambiare competenter ad valorem. Et, ut istud firmum et stabile perseveret imperpetuum, præsentem cartam sigilli mei munimine roboravi. Actum est hoc anno Domini millesimo ducentesimo quinquagesimo sexto, mense Julij.

Inspeximus etiam quandam aliam cartam Ricardi de Mereio, et Roberti de Mereio, fratrum, factam in hæc verba. Universis hæc visuris vel audituris, Ricardus de Mereio et Robertus de Mereio, fratres, salutem in Domino. Notum acimus vobis, quod nos concedimus et ratam et gratam penitùs habemus, et hac præsenti carta nostra confirmamus illam concessionem et confirmationem, quam Michaelis de Mereio, quondam frater noster fecit abbathiæ sanctæ Trinitatis de Exaquio, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, de decima molendini de Monte Crotel, siti in parochia sancti Petri de Felgeriis, et de terra quam Martinus le Marchaant tenuit de Nicholao de Felgeriis in feodo et hæreditate, de qua reddebat annuatim eidem Nicholao quinque bussellos frumenti ad festum sancti Michaelis, et duos panes et duas gallinas ad natale Domini; et viginti ova ad Pascha: quam terram Gaufridus le Marchaant vendiderat dicto Nicholao de Felgeriis. Hæc autem prædicta concedimus et confirmamus prædictis abbathiæ et monachis, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, liberam ab omnibus et quietam; ita quod nos et hæredes nostri prædictam ecclesiam dictis abbathiæ et monachis contra omnes homines defendere et garantizare, et de omnibus acquietare tenemur, et si necesse esset in residico feodi nostri excambiare competenter ad valorem. Et ut istud firmum et stabile perseveret imperpetuum, præsentem cartam sigillorum nostrorum munimine dignam duximus confirmandam. Actum est hoc anno millesimo ducentesimo quinquagesimo septimo mense Augusto. Nos autem cartas, ac omnia et singula in eis contenta, quoad dona et concessiones præfatæ abbathiæ infra regnum Franciæ, ac ducatum nostrum Normanniæ, facta, et concessa, rata habentes et grata, ea pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, acceptamus, approbamus, et dilectis nobis in Christo nunc abbati et conventui loci prædicti et successoribus suis (tenore præsentium) concedimus et confirmamus, prout cartæ prædictæ, quantum ad concessiones et dona cismarina, rationabiliter testantur; et prout idem abbas et conventus, et prædecessores sui, donis et concessionibus illis infra regnum Franciæ et ducatum nostrum prædictum hactenus rationabiliter usi sunt et gavisi. Nolumus tamen, nec intentionis nostræ existit, quod per hanc confirmationem præfatis abbati et conventui, aut successoribus suis adversùs nos, seu quemcunque alium in possessione vel proprietate, jus novum nullum acquiri valeat; nec quod nobis aut quibuscunque nostris subditis proindè præjudicium aliquod generetur; nec etiam quod prædicti abbas et conventus, seu successores sui, aliquod jus vel clameum super aliquibus possessionibus infra regnum nostrum Angliæ, colore præsentibus confirmationis, habeant, vendicent, seu clament quomodolibet in futurum. Abbey of Fecamp, in Normandy.

THE town of Fecamp is situated in a deep valley fourteen or fifteen leagues from Rouen, in the Pays de Caux. Its Abbey, dedicated to St. Stephen, was first founded for Nuns, by Count Waning, governor of the Pays de Caux, A.D. 664. It was burnt by the Normans in 841, and rebuilt by Richard I. duke of Normandy, whose son, Robert archbishop of Rouen, dedicated it in 990. Richard II. duke of Normandy, removing the Nuns to Montivilliers, placed here in their stead some canons, and some time afterwards monks of the Order of St. Benedict.

The English possessions of Fecamp do not appear to have been large: but the Account of the Alien Priories, vol. i. p. 9, informs us that in the dioceses of Rouen, Bayeux, Lisieux, Coutances, Chartres, and Beauvais, it presented to a hundred and thirty benefices, and that it enjoyed so many estates that its income was said to be forty thousand crowns per annum. The possessions of this Abbey in Sussex are recorded in the Domesday Survey, tom. i. fol. 17.

Cotman, vol. ii. p. 79, has given an engraving of the southern entrance of the Church of Fecamp. Its dimensions, with some dates of different parts, will be found in the Alien Priories, vol. i. p. 10; and in Turner's Letters from Normandy, vol. i. p. 64. Cogges in Oxfordshire, and Steyning in Sussex, were its English Cells. See also Neustria Pia, p. 193—258, where its history and charters are given at considerable length.

Dugdale has given a Charter from the Conqueror to this Abbey, confirming the lands of Steyning and Bereministri in England, with an agreement made in 1103 between the Monks and Philip de Braiosa, settling certain encroachments on the part of the latter.

Carta Willielmi Ducis Normanniæ et Regis Angliæ de Terra de Staninge, et Bereministri, in Anglia.

[Cart. Antiq. S. n. 1.]

EGO Willielmus, Dei miseratione patronus Normannorum, rex etiam Anglorum; timore Dei tactus, et amore; et præcavens mihi in futurum, concedo et confirmo S. et individuæ Trinitati, et ecclesiæ Fiscannensi, omnes terras suas in Anglia, terram scilicet de [a]Stannig, et terram de Bereministri, cum omnibus omninò appendiciis terrarum, cum omnibus legibus, et omnibus libertatibus, liberis consuetudinibus, et quietantiis, omnibus placitis, et querelis, et causis omnibus, quæ sunt, vel fore possunt absque ulla inquietudine, vel diminutione cujuslibet secularis vel judiciariæ potestatis, sicut res ad fiscum dominicum pertinentes. Quare inviolabiliter præcipio, quod prædictæ terræ cum omnibus omninò earum appenditiis, et earum possessoribus liberæ sint et quietæ ab omni consuetudine terrenæ servitutis, et ab omni dominatione, et subjectione baronum, vel principum et omnium aliorum. Et quod abbas et monachi ecclesiæ Fiscannensis, vel eorum ministri omnem regiam habeant libertatem, et consuetudinem, et omnem justitiam suam de omnibus rebus, et omnibus negotiis, quæ in terra sua evenient vel poterunt evenire; nec aliquis, nisi per eos, se indè intromittat, quia hoc totum regale beneficium est, et ab omni servitute quietum. Similiter concedo et confirmo prædictæ ecclesiæ Fiscannensi, pro anima mea, et omnium prædecessorum meorum, omnes terras suas in Normannia, cum omnibus earum pertinentiis, cum omnibus dignitatibus, liberis consuetudinibus, et quietantiis omnibus, quas dominus et prædecessor meus, comes Normannorum Ricardus, in elemosinam prædictæ dedit ecclesiæ, quietas ab omni inquietudine vel diminutione cujuslibet secularis vel judiciariæ potestatis, sicut res ad fiscum dominicum pertinentes; quod non solùm multorum relatione didici, sed etiam ejus literis sigillatis. Si verò aliquis contra hanc confirmationem meam aliquid præsumpserit, iram Dei omnipotentis incurrat, et coactus auri libra centum ad fiscum dominicum persolvat. Hoc autem ut ratum et stabile omni tempore permaneat, assensu conjugis meæ, et prolis et procerum meorum, regia autoritate et crucis caractere confirmo, et manibus fidelium meorum corroborandum trado. NUM. II.

Concordia inter Abbatem Fiscannensem et Philippum de Braiosâ.

ANNO MCiii. ab incarnatione Domini, idus Januarii die octavarum Epiphaniæ, apud Sarisberiam, concordaverunt Willielmus Fiscannensis abbas tertius, et Philippus de Braiosa, præsente Henrico glorioso Anglorum rege, et Deo dilecta ejus conjuge Matilde, astantibus multis baronibus hoc modo; decem et octo burgenses, quos Willielmus Philippi pater, in Stanningis de dominio sancti occupaverat, et quos præsente Willielmo rege priore, abbas pro suis denarrans per judicium regis et baronum receperat, et de quibus die quo idem rex vivus fuit, et mortuus seisitus fuerat, quousque post mortem ipsius regis, Philippus iterum occupans, vim Fiscanniensi ecclesiæ de suo fecerat; quos etiam, tam calumpniis abbatis, quàm assertionibus veritatis constrictus, tunc demum injustè, et cum peccato se tenuisse cognoscebat; ab abbate in feodo suscepit. Et pro his homo abbatis devenit, eique et ecclesiæ Fiscanensi fidelitatem fecit. Suscepit pariter in feodo Warennam sub tali divisione quod monachus de Stanings,[a] et homines qui sunt de mensa ejus, capient lepores, et in warenna Philippi, et in warenna abbatis: et siquis de aliis hominibus S. Trinitatis, in warenna forisfecerit, Philippus indè clamorem ad monachum vel ministerialem ejus faciat; et monachus forisfacturam accipiet, Philippo nihil in ea habente. Si verò externus ibi inventus fuerit, qui tamen advocatum sibi monachum dicat, adducetur ad eum; quem, si pro suo cognoverit, accipiet de eo rectum, sin autem faciat Philippo quod de externo et forisfacto. Abbas quoque quando in provincia fuerit, liberè mittet familiam suam capere lepores in utraque warenna et Philippi et sua. Porro captura forestium remanet in quietudine utrique abbati et Philippo, suum cuique. De navibus quæ non poterunt ad pontem transire, propter impedimenta pontis, concordatum atque gradatum fuit, quod pons ad eum modum mittetur, quo naves liberè transibunt ad pontem, ascendentes et descendentes ad talem consuetudinem, et quietudinem, qua fuerunt tempore regis Edwardi. Quod si ad modum, qui dictus est pons mitti tardaverit, ut erunt naves euntes ac redeuntes quietè per eam consuetudinem ad castellum Philippi, qua forent ad portum S. Cuthmanni.

De parochia S. Cuthmanni, quæ per vasa erat in castello Philippi, et in Beddinghis concordatum ac judicatum est, eam ita quietam et liberam manere S. Trinitati, ac ecclesiæ Fiscanensi, et in vivis et in mortuis et in omnibus quæ ad parochiam pertinent custumis, sicut fuit antequam Normanni cepissent Angliam, et in tempore regis Edwardi. Sciendum verò, quod illa omnia quæ de dominio Fiscanensis ecclesiæ Philippus ab abbate propter pacem et concordiam suscepit in feodo Fiscannensi S. Trinitatis ecclesiæ relinquit, si sine legitimo hærede mortuus fuerit, aut si terram suam forisfecerit, vel in aliena obierit. De theoloneo quod injustè recipiebant homines Philippi, de hominibus de Staningis, et de pertinentibus ad ipsum manerium, post illam denarrationem, quæ de ipso theoloneo facta est, alachoche in præsentia Willielmi regis antiquioris, ac baronum ejus, proclamationem ad regem abbas, Philippo audiente, fecit: Philippus verò cum se hæc ignorare respondisset, diem ad denarrandam aut dimittendum ipsum theoloneum, à rege accepit diem Purificationis S. Mariæ; ad quem cum non occurrisset, judicatum est à rege et baronibus, quoniam Philippus non veniebat, nec pro se hominem mittebat, theoloneum S. Trinitatis perpetuò manere quietum, sicut tempore regis Willielmi denarratum fuerat debere esse quietum.

Hæc omnia ego Henricus Dei gratia Anglorum rex concedo, et signi mei autoritate confirmo, ac sigilli impressione corroboro. Ego Matildis regina concedo et confirmo. Ad hæc barones fuerunt Robertus episcopus Lincoln. Rogerus Sarisberia, Johannes Bathon, Robertus filius Hamonis, et Hamo frater ejus, Eudo dapifer, Ric. de Redivers, Rogerus Bigot, Humfr. de Bohuna, Will. de Albani, Gilbertus filius Ricardi, Rogerus de Nuvant, Waldericus cancellarius, Henr. de Port. Paganus Piperellus, et Ausgeri filius Walterus. Ex parte S. Trinitatis, Will. abbas, Rogerus, Robertus, Hugo et Hulricus monachi, Johannes episcopi filius, Johannes Sagiensis, Helgotus, archid. Herbertus de Ros, Galfridus Martel. Will. Malusconductus, Ric. Bajocis campio regis; Magnus Caluus; Tebaldus de Wimone, et Judicialis frater ejus. Hoellus et filius ejus. Will. Ingelramus, Galfridus Odoni filius; Radulfus Aforeillun, Robertus Grislon. Robertus filius Wimundi, Simon de Conctavilla, Giraldus, Ric. de North, Witsi, Sotriz, Turbertus, Martinus, Gilb. clericus, ex parte Philippi, Robertus frater ejus, Anchetilli filius. Galfridus, Willielmus de Lacinghis, Rad. de Vimonasterio, Radulphus de Penebruge, Turstinus Flandrensis, Gilbertus de Sancto Audoneo, Radulphus de Gurnay; Ordwinus, et Aluieth.

Abbey of St. Florant, at Saumur.

THE author of The Alien Priories calls this a Benedictine Abbey in the Province of Anjou, founded by the Emperor Charlemagne, and rebuilt by Louis le Debonnaire and Charles the Bald. He says, "This Monastery was situated in a place, at that time called Le Mont Glonna, which was famous on account of the death of St. Florentinus. The Normans destroyed it about A.D. 947, and drove the monks from thence. Thibaud Earl of Tours, Blois, and Chartres collected the remains of the community of St. Florant le Vieux, and built them a Monastery in the castle of Saumur, A.D. 950. Fulk Nerra, Earl of Anjou, having besieged and taken Saumur, destroyed the Abbey of St. Florent, and the monks were obliged to retire a quarter of a league from Saumur, where the Abbey of St. Florant is at present, whose abbat enjoys an annual income of about 20,000 livres."

Dugdale has given a charter of confirmation to this Monastery from King Henry the Second.

Abbatia S. Florentii de Salmuro, in provincia Andegavensi.

Carta Regis Henrici Secundi Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Pat. 1 Hen. IV. p. 7, m. 22. per Inspex.]

H. REX Angliæ et dux Normanniæ et Aquitaniæ, et comes Andegaviæ archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis me concessisse, et in perpetuam elemosinam confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ sancti Florencii de Salmur, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes donationes, quæ eis rationabiliter factæ sunt, sicut cartæ et scripta donatorum testantur; videlicet, ex dono Willielmi de Braosa, et ex concessione Philippi filii ejus, ecclesiam sanctorum Gervasii et Procasii de Braosa, et ecclesiam sancti Petri de Sela;[b] et ecclesiam sancti Nicolai de Bremla; et ecclesiam sancti Nicholai de Soreham, et ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ de Portu; et ecclesiam de Veteri Ponte; et ecclesiam de Was syng-hetona; et donum quod prædictus Philippus eis fecit de prebenda Gaufridi de Bremla. Quare volo, et firmiter præcipio, quod prædicta ecclesia, et monachi prædicti habeant et teneant hæc omnia prædicta, cum omnibus pertinentiis, et libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus suis, in bosco et plano, in pratis et pascuis, in aquis et molendinis, in viis et semitis, et in omnibus locis, in pace, liberè, et quietè, et honorificè, ita quod nemo eis indè injuriam vel contumeliam faciat, quia ipsi et omnes res et possessiones eorum sunt in mea propria custodia et protectione. Testibus, Philippo Bajocensi, et Arn. Lexoviensi episcopis, et Willielmo filio Hamonis, et Roberto de Dunester, apud Westmonasterium.

Abbey of Fontenay, in Normandy.

THIS Abbey, of the Benedictine Order, according to Dumonstier, was founded by St. Evremond about A.D. 568 or 570. Having been destroyed by the Normans, it was refounded by Ralph Taisson, whose charter of foundation, of the time of William the Conqueror, is preserved by Dugdale. Dugdale has also given a charter of Robert Marmion. A third charter, from King William the Conqueror, printed under this Abbey in the former edition, really belongs to the Abbey of Fontenelle, to which it has been transferred. Brimsfield in Gloucestershire was an Alien Cell to this Abbey.

NUM. I.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, per Radulfum Taxonem.

[Ex vetusto exemplari in bibl. Cottoniana.]

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, Patris, et Filii, et Spiritus Sancti. Notum sit omnibus catholicis viris, Deum diligentibus, et etiam sanctæ matris ecclesiæ adversariis, et injuriam facientibus, quod Radulfus Taxo, filius Radulfi Andegavensis, et Alpaidis, ad laudem Dei omnipotentis, et sancti Stephani protomartyris, fundavit cœnobium, pro indulgentia peccatorum suorum, et salute animæ suæ, atque pro remedio animarum omnium parentum suorum, in hoc loco qui FONTANETUM dicitur vulgari nomine, in quo congregati sumus, ad serviendum Deo omnipotenti, sub monachali habitu et religione. Ipse enim, per gratiam Sancti Spiritus animatus, consilio et autoritate Romani pontificis, et nutu Willielmi Normannorum principis, filii videlicet Roberti comitis, qui Willielmus regnum Angliæ armis subjugavit, et strenuè gubernavit; per consensum quoque Hugonis Bajocensis episcopi, atque per consilium Alberedæ uxoris suæ, et omnium baronum amicorumque suorum, de propriis rebus, et facultatibus suis, opus incœpit, et ad effectum perduxit, quantum potuit; dedicans in usus monachorum in hoc eodem loco pro se et omni parentela sua Deo servientium, de propriis possessionibus suis, ea quæ hic adscripta sunt absque retractione, et absque retinentia cujuslibet consuetudinis, sive servitii, seu alicujus gersumæ, aut secularis exactionis, ne oblatio quam offerebat Deo, qui regit omnia, minùs acceptabilis fuisset oculis divinæ majestatis, si foret cujuslibet laicalis personæ servitio subdita, sed esset omninò libera et quieta, et, sicut jam dictum est, ab omnibus consuetudinibus et servitiis suis, hæredumque suorum absoluta. Concedente itaque et laudantibus Albereda uxore sua, cunctisque baronibus suis, dedit huic Fontanensi cœnobio omnem terram quam habebat in hac Fontanensi valle, à via quæ descendit de Maiaco, et ducit ad Stavellos, usque ad fluvium qui dicitur Olna; et quadraginta acras terræ, quas appreciaverat in hoc Fontanensi territorio, ab Osmundo cognomento Larvita. In villa verò quæ dicitur Icius dedit duos vavassores, Rainaldum scilicet, et Ingulfum, cum omnibus rebus suis, ab eodem Larvita appreciatis, &c. Hæc omnia quæ supra scripta sunt dedit ad laudem Dei, et sancti Stephani protomartyris huic Fontanensi cœnobio Radulfus Taxo, filius Radulfi Andegavensis, et Alpaidis, consilio et nutu Will. Normannorum principis, qui fuit filius Roberti comitis.

Eodem Radulfo Taxone defuncto, secundus Radulfus Taxo, filius ejus, et filius Alberedæ filiæ Wimundi de Molins, cum optinuisset hæreditatem, hæc omnia supradicta, sicut fuerant à patre suo huic ecclesiæ data, concessit, et incremento donorum largitatis suæ testificatus est et corroboravit. Auxit etenim possessionem hujus Fontanensis abbatiæ de omnibus terris et decimis, atque rebus, quas Herluinus de illo tenebat, eodem Herluino secum donationem rerum ipsarum super altare sancti Stephani ponente, atque Willielmo Capra vidente et testificante. Donatio verò ista fuit omnium rerum quas idem Herluinus habuerat in Fine-villa, et Vercis atque Maisato, et Vallenceyo, et Mustreceo, et Icio. De his autem quæ habuerat in Crassomaisnilio fuit facta donatio, concedente Willielmo de Cursella, et Hutone de Crasso-maisnilio, atque Haduisa uxore sua, sorore Willielmi de Cursella, ad cujus hæreditatem pertinebat terra illa: similiter data sunt ea quæ præfatus Herluinus habuerat in Barbareio, et Cingali, atque Fresneto, Franseiugalensem silvam dedit autem Radulfus Taxo huic abbatiæ; cui et omnia alia quæ supra. Adhuc etiam donavit, et concessit huic ipsi ecclesiæ duo molendina, quæ sunt in Fontaneto, et molturam omnium hominum ecclesiæ, qui habitant in Fontanensi valle, à via quæ descendit de Moiaco, usque ad ecclesiam sancti Andreæ; quæ ecclesia sita est ad sinistram partem ipsius viæ. In hac eadem villa dedit dimidiam masuram terræ, quam tenebat Osmundus Piteuer.

Diebus istius Radulfi Taxonis, filii Alberedæ, filiæ Wimundi de Molins, constituit Will. rex Anglorum, et princeps Normanniæ, filius Roberti comitis, abbatem in hac Fontanensi ecclesia, Gaufridum nomine, quondam monachum sanctæ Mariæ Lyræ, prædicto Radulfo deprecante, et Odone Bajocensi episcopo, id ipsum laudante, et concedente. Quorumque autem ipse abbas appreciavit de hominibus ejusdem Radulfi, sive dono recepit, seu cujuslibet rei gratia conquisivit, idem Radulfus concessit, et in carta firmavit. Hujus abbatis tempore dedit adhuc ipse huic cœnobio dimidiam ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ de Rouron, et decimam ad eam pertinentem. Post obitum verò ejus, cum venisset possessio illius in manus Mathildis uxoris suæ, filiæ Gauterii avunculi Willielmi regis Anglorum, et principis Normannorum, et in manus Radulfi Taxonis, filii ejusdem Mathildis, qui tunc erat parvulus, cumque cœpissent aliquanti ex baronibus honoris de Cadamo abbati prædicto injurias facere, et ea, quæ iste Radulfus Taxo, et pater ejus huic ecclesiæ dederant velle retrahere, et hoc ad noticiam Willielmi prædicti regis pervenisset, nolens imminui, quæ consilio ejus, et nutu antea facta fuerant; præcepit Ricardo vicecomiti Abrincarum, quatenus de parte ejusdem regis, ante se et Willielmum abbatem Cadomensem, prædicta Mathilda jubente, barones honoris de Cadamo convenire jussisset; et omnia, quæ prædicti duo Radulfi Taxones huic Fontanensi ecclesiæ dederant, sacramento super sanctum evangelium facto veraciter recordari fecisset, quod et factum est. Itum fuit Cadomum, juxta præceptum regis, et electi sunt quatuor legitimi viri communi assensu, qui omnia hæc, quæ prædicta sunt, recordati sunt, et se illa verissimè recordata fuisse super sanctum evangelium juraverunt. Nomina verò eorum, qui juraverunt, hæc sunt. Rogerius filius Giraldi Tulstamis de Fontibus, Turginus de Mustreceo, Ingulfus de Fontaneto, præpositus Radulfi Taxonis primi, et secundi. Deindè, prædicto Willielmo rege jubente, scripta sunt hæc omnia in carta, et eidem regi coram baronibus suis recitata, signoque manus suæ, et testimonio eorundem baronum confirmata et corroborata. Concessit quoque idem rex huic Fontanensi ecclesiæ, per gratiam regis, pietatis suæ libertatem, de omnibus propriis rebus suis, et potestatem vendendi, et appreciandi liberè, et absolutè, atque immunitatem et quietanciam de omnibus theoloneis, et consuetudinibus, per omnia dominia sua totius Normanniæ, ut extunc in antea pacificè et quietè possideret omnia sua ista Fontanensis abbatia.

Carta Roberti Marmion.

[Ex Collect. MS. cl. v. Andr. du Chesne.]

SCIANT, &c. quod Robertus Marmion, filius Roberti

Marmion, et uxoris ejus Matildis de Bellocampo, pro salute animæ meæ; ad petitionem abbatis et conventus S. Stephani de Fontaneto, concessi eis et confirmavi, quod homines et milites mei, et homines militum meorum, liberam habeant potestatem donandi sive vendendi eisdem abbati et monachis competenter de tenementis suis, quod valuerint; ita tamen, quod tantum remaneat de feodo in manu donatorum, quod ipsi possint sufficienter respondere mihi et hæredibus meis, de omnibus ad me et hæredes meos pertinentibus, &c. In cujus rei testimonium præsentem cartam feci sigilli mei munimine communiri.

Abbey of Fontevraud.

THIS was a very celebrated Abbey of Benedictine Monks and Nuns, in Anjou, a league from the Seine; founded in the year 1100 by Robert de Arbriscelle; and placed by him under the supremacy of an Abbess. Many convents in France were subordinate to this Monastery, as well as the Cells of De la Grave, Eaton, and Amesbury, in England. King Henry the Second of England was a great benefactor to it. He was buried in the choir of the Church, as were his wife Eleanor, King Richard the First, and Isabel de Angoulesme, the Queen of King John. King Henry the Third bequeathed his heart to be interred in this Monastery. Till the Revolution its revenues were immense, and it was successively governed by many Princesses of the blood.

The Monks and Nuns of this Abbey formed a branch of the Benedictine Order, but from some peculiarities in their rule, were frequently spoken of, as well as the inhabitants of their Cells, as of the Order of Fontevraud.

The buildings of Fontevraud, at a distance, still look more like a town than an Abbey; though since the year 1793 they have become dilapidated.[a]

Dugdale has given two charters, one from King Henry II., the other from King Henry III., to this House.

[Cart. 12 Hen. III. m. 11. Vide Cart. 8 Edw. II. n. 23. Et Pat. 3 Hen. IV. p. 1, m. 24.]

H. &c. Sciatis nos concessisse, et præsenti carta nostra confirmâsse ecclesiæ et religioni Fontis Ebroldi, donationem, quam rex H. avus noster dedit eidem ecclesiæ, et religioni; scilicet ecclesiam sanctæ Mariæ, et sancti Melori de Ambresberi,[d] cum omnibus rebus quæ ad eam pertinent, tam in ecclesiasticis, quàm in mundanis possessionibus, ut ordo et instituta ecclesiæ Fontis Ebroldi ibidem perpetuò conserventur, et conventus monialium sub custodia priorissæ, secundùm ordinem præfatæ ecclesiæ, Deo famulentur. Concedimus etiam et confirmamus præfatæ ecclesiæ ecclesiam de Etone,[c] ubi moniales de eodem ordine manent, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quam Robertus comes Leicestriæ donavit ecclesiæ Fontis Ebroldi. Et ex dono Eustachiæ de Sayes, ecclesiam de Westwode,[d] cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Item ex dono avi nostri regis H. sexaginta libratas terræ, quas eis dedit in perpetuam elemosynam; videlicet, manerium de Lecton in Bedeford-scira, pro quinquaginta sex libratis, cum terra Walteri Pullani, quæ valet triginta et duos solidos, quam idem avus noster dedit eis in excambio molendini, quod dedit monachis morantibus in eodem manerio. Et in Buckinghamscira quatuor libras in manerio de Rodenache; videlicet, xv. libratas de elemosyna Willielmi avunculi domini J. regis, patris nostri, et regis H. avi nostri, et prædicti J. regis, patris nostri, et nostra.

Item concedimus eis et confirmamus donationem, quam Willielmus de sancto Johanne eis fecit de tribus marcis singulis annis habendis de redditu suo Cumpton, de termino sancti Michaelis, ut die sancti Benedicti moniales indè reficiantur. Item concedimus eis et confirmamus x. marcatas redditus apud Nutteford, de manerio de Pimpre, et apud Blaneford, quas Robertus comes Leicestriæ dedit eis cum filia sua, sicut carta ejus rationabiliter testatur. Concedimus donationem quam Walkelinus Maminot eis rationabiliter fecit, de molendino de Berlinge, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in perpetuam elemosynam: similiter et donationem, quam Reginaldus et Bernardus de sancto Walerico fecerunt eisdem monialibus; scilicet, Eylmudestre, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis in comitatu Gloucestriæ. Concedimus etiam eis et confirmamus duo molendina, quæ habent ex dono R. regis, avunculi nostri, apud Portesmuthum. Volentes et præcipientes, ut hæc omnia supradicta habeant et teneant sicut carta regis H. avi nostri, et confirmatio R. regis, avunculi mei, et confirmatio domini J. regis, patris nostri, et cartæ aliorum donatorum, quas indè habent, rationabiliter testantur.

Quare volumus, et firmiter præcipimus, quod memoratæ moniales de Fonte Ebroldi, et fratres et universi homines et ministri et servientes earum, habeant et teneant omnes possessiones suas et elemosynas benè et in pace, liberè, et quietè, integrè, plenariè, et honorificè, cum soca, et sacha, thol et theam, et infangentheof et utfangenethef, et cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus et quietanciis suis; in bosco, in plano, in pratis, in pasturis, in aquis et molendinis, in viis, in semitis, in stagnis et vivariis, in mariscis et piscariis, in grangiis et virgultis, infra burgum et extra, in omnibus locis, in omnibus rebus, solutas, quietas, et liberas de syris, et hundredis et placitis, et querelis, et de pecunia pro murdro et latrocinio, et de hamsoca, et foresta, et de wapentak, et scutagio, et hidagio, geldis, et danegeldis, et horngeldis, et fordgeldis, et assisis, et donis, et sectis, et auxiliis, et operationibus castellorum, domorum, vallorum, parcorum, vivariorum, pontium, et fossarum; et de fredewitha et hengwit, et flemenefrith, et de summagio, et cariagio, et de auxiliis vicecomitum et ministrorum eorum, et nostrorum, et de wardepeni, et averpeni, et theddingpeni, et hundredpeni, et de meskening, et blodwit, et ficthwit, retenta nobis per ballivos nostros executione justitiæ de vita et membris, cujus questum omnimodum eis concedimus; et omnes res earum quas homines sui affidare potuerunt suas esse proprias imperpetuum sint quietè per totam terram nostram, citra mare et ultra, tam per terram, quàm per aquam, et in omnibus portubus maris terræ nostræ; et de omni theoloneo et passagio, et pontagio, et tallagio, et stallagio, et lestagio: et omnes terræ suæ similiter et possessiones sint liberæ et quietæ de omni talliata, et excercitu, et equitatu, et de omni exactione, et occasione, et omni consuetudine, quæ ad nos vel ad hæredes nostros pertinent, vel pertinere possint.

Abbey of Foucarmont.

THIS Abbey was of the Cistercian Order, and was founded in 1130 by Henry Earl of Eu; who, with his son John, both monks of this House, were buried here.

The author of the Alien Priories says, that Foucarmont was destroyed three times. The last Church was built in 1628. Before the Revolution the annual income of this House was rated at 12,000 livres. See Neustria Pia, p. 744—749, where is a list of its Abbats; Alien Priories, vol. i. p. 44.

Abbatia de Fulcardimonte.

Carta Aliciæ Comitissæ de Augi, Donationes Johannis, avi sui, confirmans.

[Ex autographo in turri beatæ Mariæ Eboraci.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Alicia comitissa Augi concessi, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi Deo et beatæ Mariæ, sanctoque Johanni de Fulcardimonte, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, donum quod fecit eis bonæ memoriæ, Johannes quondam comes Augi avus meus, videlicet, decimam partem omnium reddituum meorum de Anglia, quam decimam dicti monachi in maneriis meis; scil. in Helam, in Ansigton, in Burgesse sex libras sterlingorum. In Fichill septem libras, in Lacton centum solidos sterlingorum singulis annis percipiebant. Pro qua decima dedi dictis monachis in escambium, homagium et servitium Richardi camerarii; scil. viginti solidos et decem denarios annui redditus, et homagium et servitium Nicholai filii Johannis Blundi dimidiæ marcæ, et homagium et servitium Nicholai clerici duorum solidorum in manerio meo de Lacton, pro omnibus tenementis, quæ de me tenuerunt, cum universis releviis, gardis, eschaetis ad eadem tenementa pertinentibus, et in villa de Ker, Henricum, Willielmum de Marisco, Willielmum Sementarium, Robertum filium Johannis, Johannem Releg; Reynaldum filium Johannis, Willielmum filium Rey . . . . . Willielmum filium Johannis, Adam filium Johannis, Johannem filium Simonis, Rogerum filium Johannis, Rogerum de Quercu. In Thorcroft, Willielmum, Angnetam de Thorecroft, Margaretam. In Hetom, Robertum de Slade, Rogerum filium Mariæ, Johannem Rusticum; Adam et Adam germanos, Arturum, Johannem filium Willielmi, Rogerum de Gresebroc, Rogerum Blund, Johannem Magnum, Willielmum filium Jordani, Willielmum filium Willielmi, Rogerum filium Arturi nativos; et ipsos nativos cum omni sequela sua, et omnibus catallis suis, et terris quas de me tenuerunt, sine ullo retenemento, et sex coterios in Hoton; viz. Rogerum, qui tenet duos coterios, Willielmum filium Willielmi, Burdonem filium Jordani, Emundum de Eboraco, Godam uxorem Germund le Qarreur, cum debitis servitiis et consuetudinibus.

Concessi etiam hominibus præfati abbatis et monachorum habere ingressum liberum, et egressum liberum per boscum meum de Lacton ad communes pasturas; ita tamen, quod licebit mihi præfatum boscum assertare si voluero, salva dictis hominibus communi pastura, ubique, post amotionem bladi et fœni factam, temporibus opportunis. Dedi etiam dictis monachis molendinum de Petra, cum stagno et cursu aquæ, et cum omni secta sua hominum de Thurcroft, de Hoton, del Ker, de Brochusis, et Rogerum de Quercu, et cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut ego dictum molendinum tenui; ita quod ego nec hæredes mei aliquod molendinum construemus, vel construi permittemus in dicti molendini detrimentum. Hæc omnia tenebunt dicti monachi, et habebunt in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, cum omnibus libertatibus, et aysiamentis, in boscis, et planis, moris, pratis et mariscis, viis et semitis, et omnibus aliis aisiamentis, infra villam et extra, soluta et quieta ab omni terreno servitio, exactione seculari, et demanda; et ab omni re ad terram pertinente, sicut aliqua elemosyna liberiùs, et quietiùs conferri potest et teneri. Et ego et hæredes mei warantizabimus, adquietabimus, et defendemus præfatis monachis et assignatis omnia prædicta, per omnia, ut prædictum est, contra omnes imperpetuum. Hiis testibus, domino Radulfo de Toeni, domino Johanne de Stutevil, domino Roberto de Dayvill, domino Rogero de Cressey, domino Willielmo de Chaurcis, domino Maluesyn de Hersin, domino Simone de Hedon, domino Willielmo de Langetthuage, domino Roberto de Wikersle, domino Nicholao de Dayvill, domino Radulpho Salvayn, militibus, Waltero camerario, tunc temporis ballivo meo.

Abbey of Jumieges, in Normandy.

THIS Abbey, called in Latin Gemeticum or Gemeticense, situated on the river Seine, was founded, according to Dumonstier, A.D. 664, by St. Philibert and King Clovis II. It was burnt by the Normans in 841 and 851; and its Church rebuilt in 1040 by abbat Robert II. archbishop of Canterbury. In Nichols's Alien Priories the annual income of this House at a late period is said to have amounted to 40,000 livres. The full details of its history will be found, with a catalogue of its Abbats, in the Neustria Pia, p. 259—325. The possessions of this House in England in the Conqueror's time will be seen in the Domesday Survey, tom. i. foll. 43 b. 65. Hailing in Hampshire was a Cell to this House.

Cotman, vol. i. pp. 2, 3, 4, has given three views of the Remains of this Abbey as they stood in 1819. See also Mr. Turner's Letters from Normandy, vol. ii. p. 17. in which, p. 31, the proportions of the building are given in French feet.

Dugdale has given two Charters concerning this Abbey: one, a general confirmation from King Henry II.; the other, a charter of King Henry I. granting to the Abbey certain land at Haringey with its appurtenances.

Abbey of Gaille-Fontaine.

GAILLE-FONTAINE ABBEY, in the Pais de Bray and diocese of Rouen, was founded by Hugh de Gornay, about the year 1050. An Inspeximus of the 8th Hen. Vth recites the foundation charter. See relating to this Abbey the Description de la Haute Norm. vol. ii. p. 117.

Abbatia de Goislafontana.

Carta Hugonis de Gornaio, de Fundatione ejusdem.

[Pat. Norm. 8 Hen. V. p. 3, n. 15. per Inspex.]

Hugo de Gornaio omnibus fidelibus, tam futuris quàm præsentibus, salutem. Notum volo fieri universis, quod ego et Millesend, uxor mea, construxerimus ecclesiam beatæ Dei genitricis Mariæ, et S. Johannis Bapt. apud Goislam-fontanam juxta Alnetum, qui est secùs rivulum qui vocatur Clarus Rivus: pro quo etiam loco dedimus unam acram terræ ecclesiæ S. Mauricii, et aliam acram Hugoni de Sancto Mauricio. Ad eandem igitur ecclesiam transire fecimus sanctimoniales, quæ antea in valle Prelii habitaverunt; quibus omnes elemosynas et possessiones, quas ante eis dederamus, iterum eidem loco assignantes in elemosynam perpetuam donamus, et præsenti scripto confirmamus, quæ etiam propriis nominibus subnotare volumus; unam carrucatam terræ apud Goislam-fontanam, decimas furnorum ejusdem villæ, et quinquaginta solidos Belveisinorum, in redditibus ejus; scilicet, in traverso xx^{s}. in redditu forestæ xx. in censibus x. in molendino xviii. minas frumenti. Apud Castrum Firmitatis unam carrucatam terræ et decimam pomerii nostri de Wellebue. Decimam de Loceio, quam Oliverus de Agia debet eis reddere, cum decima quatuor librarum, quas habet theoloneo Escoceii. In Laudeunensi, de maritagio Millesend. uxoris meæ xl^{s}. provenientium.

In Anglia apud Castram duas marcas argenti, et dimidiam. Ecclesiam de Malpeltreham, post decessum Radulfi. Sciendum etiam, quod omnes præfatæ donationes sunt concessione filiorum nostrorum, Girardi et Hugonis. Postea quoque dedimus eis campartagium totius feodi Hugonis de Braunostier, apud Brokedale, quod emimus à Rogero Sorix. LX^{s}. Belveiosinorum. Concessimus insuper eis omnes terras et elemosynas, quas ex donatione hominum nostrorum possident, quas etiam propriis volumus designare vocabulis: Ex dono Johannis de Boell. nemus et terram, quam habebat juxta locum earum, pro quo tamen ei dedimus LX^{s}. Belveisiorum. Ex dono Aletini Burgundensis, et Haewisæ uxoris suæ, pro filia sua Gremburc, totam terram quam habebant in Mesnillo Aelelini, et vadimonium xx^{s}. in eadem villa: et vadimonium LX^{s}. apud Fossatum, et decimam pomerii sui apud Goislam-fontanam. Ex dono Guarini de Rameia decimam de Calni, quam hæreditario jure possidebat, et quicquid habebat in molendino de Malis-pultibus, et in alio molendino de Hericurt; et campartagium quod habebat in ea villa; quæ omnia dedit eis pro duabus filiabus suis, Beatice et Ada.

Ex dono Roberti de Hanselaines, et uxoris ejus Haewisæ, et Ricardi filii illius, qui in eadem domo ad conversionem venerunt, cum duabus filiabus suis, Maria et Grembert, unam carrucatam terræ apud Frielourt, et iii. modias frumenti, et in avena apud boscum Hugonis, quos reddunt monachi Mortui Maris, concessione filiorum ejusdem, Roberti, Warini, et Radulfi. Ex dono Theobaldi thesaurarii Belvant, duos modios avenæ apud boscum Hugonis. Ex dono Mariæ filiæ Godeleris medietatem decimæ feodi Petri de S. Luciano, apud Maltaies. Ex dono Odonis de Helpegneis, pro Luscia filia sua, duas garbas decimæ totius terræ suæ, et unam acram prati apud Helpegneias. Ex dono Johannis de Roseio decimam totius feodi sui apud Heregnem. Ex dono Radulfi Escovart unum campum terræ apud Goislam-fontanam. Ex dono Gaufridi Cordele campos duos ibidem. Ex dono Hugonis de Belmont in eadem villa campum unum. Ex dono Hugonis filii Albecire, ibidem campum unum. Ex dono Hugonis de Bettemert duas minas frumenti. Ex dono Rainaldi duas minas in molendino de Malis-pultibus. Ista omnia dedimus et concessimus præfatis sanctimonialibus in elemosynam perpetuam, pro remedio animarum nostrarum, et antecessorum, necnon et liberorum nostrorum, et præsenti carta communivimus. Præterea ego Milesendis dedi in elemosynam perpetuam, liberam et quietam, prædictæ ecclesiæ, omnes emptiones meas in vadimonia mea, quæ in die obitus mei habitura sum: insuper et omnes acquisitiones meas in omnibus rebus. Testibus, Roberto de Prisse, Johanne de Hosdene, &c.

Abbey of Grandmont, in Normandy.

THIS Abbey, situated in the forest of Beaumont le Roger and diocese of Evreux, was founded by Robert earl of Mellent, as we learn from the confirmation charter of the 8th Hen. Vth which follows the present notice; and which recites charters of King Henry II. and King Richard the First of England, and of King Philip of France; the last, in 1273, reciting the Earl of Mellent's charter. Dugdale has also given two other charters to the brethren of Grandmont, granted by King John. Cresswell Priory in Herefordshire was said to have been of the Order of Grandmont, because furnished from thence with monks.

NUM. I.

Cartarum Confirmatio, per Regem Henricum Quintum.

[Pat. Norm. 8 Hen. V. p. 2, m. 8.]

REX omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus tenores quarundam cartarum et literarum inclitæ recordationis nobilium progenitorum nostrorum, quondam Franciæ et Angliæ regum, de et super certis libertatibus, franchesiis, privilegiis, quietanciis, donis, et concessionibus, dilectis nobis in Christo priori et conventui Grandimontis, in foresta de Bellomonte-Rogeri, ac fratribus de Belleria ejusdem ordinis, datis et concessis; quarum originalia per guerrarum infortunium deperdita sunt et amissa, ut dicunt. Nichilominus pro eo quod modis et viis evidentissimis nobis plenè liquet hujusmodi cartas, et literas, ex antiquo existere, easdem in formam debitam et scripturam novam redigi, nostroque munire sigillo regio, ne fides sive memoria ipsarum futuris temporibus deperire valeat, caritatis intuitu affectamus et volumus, juxta tenores supradictos, qui sunt tales.

"Henricus Dei gratia rex Angliæ, dux Normanniæ et Aquitaniæ, comes Andegavensis, Henrico, Ricardo, Gaufrido, Johanni, carissimis filiis suis, archiepiscopo Rothomagensi, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, et omnibus ministris et fidelibus in archiepiscopatu Rothomagensi constitutis, salutem. Sciatis nos dedisse, et præsenti carta confirmâsse, pro amore Dei, et pro animabus patris nostri et matris nostræ, et filiorum et antecessorum nostrorum, Deo et domui de Grandmonte, quæ dicitur Bellaria, in castro meo de Argenthonio, hominem, et in castro meo de Falesia alium hominem, et in castro meo de Caen alium hominem, et in omnibus parochiis adjacentibus prædictis castris, in unaquaque earum unum hominem, qui beneficia et elemosinas, quæ fratribus prædictæ domus, in prædictis villis, pro amore Dei dabuntur, recipiant et eis legitimè referant.

"Volumus autem et concedimus, et firmiter præcipimus, quod homines prætaxati à nobis dati, et concessi fratribus prædictæ domus, ad suum servicium faciendum, sint in omnibus quieti et pacifici ab excercitu, ab equitatu, et servicio, foagio, vinagio, et passagio, pedagio, theloneo, et de omnibus consuetudinibus in terra et in mari ad dominium nostrum pertinentibus. Testes autem hujus donationis et concessionis nostræ sunt Frag. episcopus de Sagio, Robertus de Mulant, Henricus de Novo Burgo, Fulco de Duno, Fulco Poumelli, Ricardus Guiffart, et plures alii."

"Ricardus Dei gratia rex Angliæ, &c. archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis nos dedisse et præsenti carta confirmâsse, pro amore Dei, et pro animabus patris et matris nostræ, Deo et fratribus Grandmontis, quæ dicitur Belleria, donationem illam, quam fecit carissimus dominus et genitor noster Henricus Dei gratia quondam rex Angliæ, videlicet in castro suo de Argenthonio unum hominem, in castro suo de Falesia alium, et in castro suo de Caen alium. Et in omnibus parochiis adjacentibus prædictis castris in unaquaque earum unum hominem, qui beneficia et elemosinas, quæ prædictis fratribus et domui dabuntur, pro amore Dei in prædictis villis recipiant, et eis legitimè deferant ab omnibus consuetudinibus ad suum dominium pertinentibus, in terra et in mari, sicut in sua carta continetur, liberos et quietos.

"Præterea nos dedimus et concessimus et præsenti carta prædictis fratribus et domui confirmavimus, in omnibus castris, villis, burgis, parochiis Sagiensis diœcesis, in unaquaque earum unum hominem, qui ad faciendum servicium prædictæ domus et fratrum ibidem Deo servientium, sint liberi et quieti in vita pariter et in morte, integrè, plenariè, honorificè, per totam terram nostram, per terram et per aquam, et per ripam maris in Anglia, et in Normannia, et Acquitania, et in Andegavensi et Cenomanensi comitatibus, et in omnibus aliis locis, in nundinis et mercatibus et portubus maris, ab excercitu, ab equitatu, servicio, foagio, vinagio, passagio, passuagio, pedagio, theloneo, ponthagio, stallagio, et lestagio; et de omnibus rebus, quas ipsi poterant assecurare, fide data vel præstito sacramento, quod vendant vel emant, et de omni seculari servicio, exactione, et opere servili; et de omnibus placitis et querelis, assisis, et operationibus castellorum, et parcorum, et pontium, et calcetarum; et de pecunia danda pro forefacta, et de omnibus aliis occasionibus et consuetudinibus secularibus ad dominium nostrum pertinentibus, excepta sola justicia vitæ et membrorum, quæ nobis retenta est.

"Contulimus etiam prædictis fratribus, ut sumant ligna viva et arida in cunctis nostris nemoribus ad usus proprios dictæ domus; et si quis super hoc forefacere voluerit, id eis sine dilatione emendari benigniter faciat. Testibus, Hugone Dunelm. Godefrido Winton. Huberto Carrag. Willermo marescallo nostro, Johanne marescallo, Henrico de Longo Campo; Rogero de Pratellis; Hugone Bardouf. Datum Turonis per manum Willermi de Longo Campo, Eliensis electi, cancellarii nostri, xiii. die Novembr. regni nostri anno primo."

"Philippus Dei gratia Franc. rex, notum facimus universis, tam præsentibus, quàm futuris, quod nos literas Roberti Mellenti quondam comitis, quarum sigillum, casu, in præsentia nostra confractum extitit, vidimus in hæc verba. Universa negocia mandata literis, ac voci testium ab utroque trahunt immobile firmamentum: sciant ergò, qui viderint præsentem paginam, quod ego Robertus comes Mellenti, cognita honestate et religione pauperum Jesu Christi fratrum Grandismontis, et quàm piè pro benefactoribus suis crucifixo supplicant devotis animis incessanter; volens orationum suarum particeps effici, dedi eisdem et concessi in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam locum in quo consistant in foresta de Bellomonte, et omnes pertinencias; viz. totum nemus cum fundo terræ, et omnibus aliis rebus mobilibus et immobilibus, prout facta fossata ad circuitum spaciose dividunt et distinguunt, possidenda et explectanda modis omnibus perpetuis temporibus absolutè; ita videlicet in omnimoda libertate de dominatione perpetua, quod ego vel successores mei in nullo accidente infra dicta fossata non habebimus ullam occasionem, violentiam, inforciam, captionem, venationem, consuetudinem, saisinam, assisiam, aut aliquid hujusmodi quoquomodo. Nichilominus dedi et concessi fratribus memoratis molendinum de Castro Lune, cum omni jure et dominatione, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam possidendum. Dedi etiam et concessi prædictis fratribus plenam justitiam super omnes illos, vel illas, qui de dicto castro ratione molendi ad aliud molendinum accedent, vel qui ad dictum castrum de foris panem ad vendendum, nisi de voluntate fratrum afferent, sive qui in dicto castro inventi fuerint rei, vel contra quos emerserit querela super hoc, quod ad vendendum faciant vel habeant parvum panem, excercendam perpetuò liberè et quietè, tanquam domini capitales.

"Item dedi et concessi fratribus sæpedictis quicquid juris, honoris, ac dominii habebam, vel habere poteram in aqua Risilis, à capite exclusarum prædicti molendini usque ad fines sexdecim acrarum terræ, quas Gilberto de Mesnillo excambiavi apud Barcum: donans et concedens easdem acras prænominatis fratribus in liberam elemosinam perhenniter possidendas. Item dedi et concessi præfatis fratribus sex modios frumenti, et quinque modios avenæ percipiendos singulis annis in festo beati Remigii, de propriis redditibus meis in orreo meo de Bellomonte, in liberam elemosinam perpetuò possidendos. Nichilominus dedi et concessi fratribus memoratis viginti et octo libras monetæ currentis in præfectura Bellimontis, et in redditibus meis de Ponte Odemer, singulis annis duobus terminis persolvendas; videlicet, in præfectura novem libras ad terminum Paschæ, et centum solidos apud Pontem Odomer; et alios novem libras, et alios centum solidos in festo sancti Remigii, in locis superiùs nominatis. Item dedi et concessi eisdem fratribus de propriis redditibus meis quinque millia allecium in prima ebdomada Quadragesimæ, apud Pontem Odomer singulis annis percipienda, et per singulos menses unam sumam salis in eodem loco; et in unaquaque ebdomada totius anni per duos dies integrè piscationem in aqua mea de Bellomonte omnibus ingeniis in liberam elemosinam perpetuò possidendam. Item dedi et concessi memoratis fratribus quinque modios vini in celario meo de Bellomonte, singulis annis percipiendos. Dedi etiam præfatis fratribus, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, gurgitem Herodis; et in foresta mea de Bellomonte capiendum et utendum quicquid eisdem necessarium fuerit perpetuis temporibus absolutè. Dedi etiam sæpedictis fratribus unum hominem apud Bellomontem, et alium apud Pontem Odomer; et alium apud Castrum Lune, cum omnibus rebus et pertinentiis suis, liberos et immunes ab omni exactione, et consuetudine, et ab omnibus rebus aliis, quæ ad me vel hæredes sive successores meos pertinent, vel de cætero quocumque modo poterunt pertinere. Cum hiis igitur omnibus parvis donationibus distinctis præsenti pagina seriatim memorati loci pauperrima fundatione provisa, et dictorum fratrum nimia simplicitate recognita, dedi eisdem et concessi in elemosinam perpetuam libertatem, ut omnes res indifferenter, mobiles et immobiles, quas ratione cujuscumque donationis sive conquestus ad manus illorum devenerunt, absque ulla occasione, vel reclamatione, tam à me quàm à successoribus meis facienda, perhenniter possideant liberè et quietè. Quod ut firmum et stabile perseveret, sigilli mei attestatione confirmavi. T. Osberno tunc priore de Bellomonte, Emaurico, Rogero, fratribus meis, Ricardo de Warelma; Ricardo abbate de Tornayo; Bucardo de Hulmo; Radulpho de Grolayo; Willermo de Marmoran; Rogero Mansionario; Guillermo le Petit; Guillermo Caym. In cujus rei testimonium et perpetuam memoriam, præsentibus literis nostrum fecimus apponi sigillum. Actum Parisiis anno Domini millesimo ducentesimo septuagesimo tercio, mense Julii."

R. DEI gratiâ Herefordensis ecclesiæ humilis minister, archidiaconis, &c. salutem. Notum vobis fieri volumus, quod capella de Rachefordia et de Cura sunt pertinentes ad ecclesiam de Temeteberia, ei episcopalia jura reddentes, sicut capellæ matri ecclesiæ. Apud capellas verò, ad pauperum refugium, constringente necessitate, à me facta sunt cimiteria, concessu prædictæ matris ecclesiæ de Themetberia; salvâ tam dignitate suâ, quâm possessione. Corpora quæ voluerit apud se habebit, quæ verò jusserit, remanebunt. Capella iterum de Rachafordia, pro quadam terrâ, quam eadem mater ecclesia liberè tenebat, et pro concessu cimiterii singulis annis in die sancti Michaelis matri ecclesiæ tres solidos persolveret. Capella de Cura eidem matri ecclesiæ pro concessu cimiterii, singulis annis tertiâ die ante Nativitatem sanctæ Mariæ xii. denarios persolvet.

Sciatis, quod antequam arriperem iter peregrinationis meæ apud Hierosolymam, inquisivi per milites servientes forestarios, quæ jura, et quas libertates monachi de Lira habent et debent habere in foresta de Britolio. Et recognitum fuit coram me, quod prædicti monachi habent et debent habere decimam de omnibus exitibus forestæ in omnibus rebus, &c. Ego autem, pro amore Dei, omnes prædictas libertates ipsis monachis concedo et confirmo. Hiis testibus, Petronilla comitissa, Anketillo Mallore, Willielmo de Campania, Rogero de Hume, Willielmo de Bermecort, Nicholao de Gloz, et multis aliis.

Abbey of Lonlay.

THIS Abbey, in the diocese of Sees, was founded by William Talvast, Earl of Belesme, A.D. 1026. Dugdale, from the Inspeximus to the 8th Hen. Vth, has given a charter of Peter Earl of Alençon, reciting the foundation. Stoke Curcy in Somersetshire, and Folkstone in Kent, were the English Cells to the Abbey of Lonlay.

Abbatia de Lonleio, in provincia Cenomanniæ.

Confirmatio Cartæ Fundationis ejusdem, per Gulielmum de Belesmo.

[Pat. Norm. 8 Hen. V. m. .]

Rex omnibus ad quos salutem, &c. Inspeximus quasdam literas patentes Petri quondam comitis de Alenconio factas, in hæc verba. Nous Pierres, conte Dalencon, seigneur de Fougieres, et viconte de Beaumont, faisons saveir a toutz preseens et avenir de la partie de noz bien amez en Dieu, les religieux abbe et convent de nostre dame de Lonlay en nostre chatellerie de Danfront en diocese du Mans, nous avoir este monstre et exile un liure ancian, contenant pluseurs cartres des dons a eux faitz per pluseurs seigneurs, et autres, tant en leur fondacion que autrement: et outre les autres en commencement dicelui estoit escripte une chartre de feu de noble recordacion Guillamme jadis prince de Belesmois contenant la forme qui en suit. In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis. Quicunque purioris vigore intrinsecus fulcitur rationis, divinæ paginæ testimonio docente, patenter colligit, quod mortalium propago tanta peccaminum enormitate suffocatur, ut ruinæ dampnationis æternæ irreparabiliter pateat, nisi devota elemosinarum distributio et electorum Dei veneranda subveniat intercessio. Hinc est, quod ipse generis humani Salvator nos ad pietatis opera provocans, inter cætera, sic ait, "Mensura qua mensi fueritis remecietur vobis." Indè est etiam quod omnis peccator, dum suo conditori collectis animi viribus, nititur reconciliari, unumquemlibet sibi ex Dei amicis obsequio venerationis sibi efficit familiarem, per cujus patrocinii opitulationem districti judicis iram credit sibi fieri placabilem. Ego itaque Guillielmus, Belismensis provinciæ principatum gerens, in navi viciorum virle[a] pressus, quanto divitiarum copiis affluens, tanto lacrimabiliùs sub meæ pravitatis pondere ingemiscens, diutina et sedula intentione intra me revolvens, ad quem electorum Dei pro salutis remedio confugerem, nullumque ad opitulationis copiam reperiens opportuniorem, quam sacrosanctam Dei genitricem, quæ ipsam genuit misericordiam, quæ, sicut in literis patrum legimus, enormes peccatores ad se confugientes indulta peccatorum venia solet lætificare, et de profundo baratri potenter liberare.

In hujus igitur beatissimæ Dei genitricis Mariæ honore, assensu meæ conjugis, et filiorum meorum, scilicet Fulconii, Warini, atque Willermi, quoddam monasterium, sub nomine abbaciæ, in loco qui dicitur Longiledum, de propriis facultatibus construximus; et in eodem abbatem, et sub eo monachos, qui pro nobis et pro nostris antecessoribus, nocte ac die in divinis obsequiis excubantes, supernam clementiam exorarent, posuimus. Ad quorum usus et sustentationem, de nostris hæreditatis beneficiis, quæ ibidem habentur, plurima, quæ hic infra dividimus, conferimus. Ex parte orientis terram illam damus, sicut illam dividit ille rivus qui vocatur Pulcher-ductilis usque in Egramme fluvium; et ab ipso fluvio, sicut mons de bruerià per convallem disterminat, usque in Normannæ commarchium. Dedimus etiam decimas omnium reddituum nostrorum, et exituum de castro Domfrontis, et de bailliâ, quæ ad nos pertinent; et decimas duarum forestarum nostrarum; scilicet Andene et Silverdrue, de herbagio, de pasnagio, de venditione mortui bosci, et vini, et de omnibus exitibus prædictarum forestarum, exceptâ venatione et avibus nostris.

Conferimus etiam prædictæ abbaciæ omnes molendinos nostros constructos et construendos de Doumfronte, cum omnibus juribus ad molendinos pertinentibus, ita liberè, et quietè, sicut ibidem tenemus. Dedimus etiam ecclesias Doumfrontis cum omnibus pertinentiis et decimas omnium agriculturarum, quæ fient in exemplariis forestarum prædictarum, exceptis illis, quas heremitæ facient propriis manibus et pedibus. Deindè ecclesiam capellæ, cum totâ decimâ ad eam pertinente, sicut eam terminat Pulcher-ductilis, usque in fluvium Varannæ, qui discurrit ad radicem Doumfrontensis castri, apud Condatensem vicum. Damus molendinos, cum omni jure molendinario delationis bannali leugæ, ita liberè, sicut ibidem teneo: et ecclesiam S. Martini, cum decimis, et cum omnibus pertinentiis; et ecclesiam S. Petri de Respectu, cum decimâ; et terram quam tenuit Ulgerus presbyter, quam ei dedit Reginaldus episcopus. In Alencianensi pago conferimus vicum, qui vocatur Pulcher Mammolus, cum ecclesiâ, et appendiciis omnibus. Alium quoque vicum qui vocatur Elthuflis, cum omnibus ibidem manentibus. Hujus quoque scripti attestatione nolo successores nostros latere, ubicumque fuerit silvaticus pastus in nostrâ regione, omnis grex porcorum hominum in illis terris, quas dedi vel (Deo monente) daturus sum manentium liberè et quietè discurrant per omnia mea nemora, silvaticum pastum accipientes, et à nemine requiratur pasnagium nisi ab ipsis monachis prædicti loci, quæ perpetualiter eis concedimus.

Conferimus etiam ut omnia pecora magna et parva manentium in supradictis terris, pergant securè et quietè per omnes silvas nostras ad pascua. Omnes quoque homines in ipsis terris à me datis commanentes, ad omnia necessaria facienda sumant mortuum boscum, absque forestarii reprehensione. Monachi autem ad proprios usus arida et viva accipiant ligna. Quod autem dono ad præsens, vel permittente Deo, concessurus sum, ita sit deliberatum, ut nec vicarius, nec forestarius, vel brenator, vel venator, unquam terram illam penetret, nec thelonearius ibi aliqua requirere temptet.

Hiis supradictis placuit adjungere, quod si quis hominum sanctæ Mariæ jam dicti cœnobii michi, vel cuilibet ex ministris meis in silvâ, vel in castro, vel in foro, sive ubicumque forificent, vel de quacumque forisfacturâ calumpniatus fuerit, si indè ad terram sanctæ Mariæ, absque vadimonii datione reverti poterit, nequaquam provocetur ad placitandum, nisi in curia S. Mariæ. De quacumque autem querela homo sanctæ Mariæ ad placiti discussionem invitatus fuerit, non purgabit se adversùm me, vel adversùm famulum meum, nisi propria et singula manu, absque testium adhibitione. Huic verò supradictæ liberalitati adjungo, quod si quis sanctæ Mariæ hominum, manens ac residens in præfata terra, aquam quæ Wanda vocatur, eundo sive redeundo transierit, quodcunque sibi proprium ducat vel differat, nullatenùs passagium, neque consuetudinem dabit. Hiis itaque est adnectandum, quod concedo monachis sanctæ Mariæ in tribus festivitatibus; scilicet S. Mariæ Assumptionis, et Nativitatis, et Penthecostes, per tres dies, et quatuor noctes piscari in Egramma et Varanna, in silva vel extra, omni genere piscandi. Hiis itaque concessis et peractis, meæ successionis progeniem moneo et monendo rogo, ut huic donationi tota mentis alacritate faveant, favendo augeant, quatenùs ipsi in orationibus et missarum suffragiis cæterisque spiritualibus beneficiis, quæ in prædicto loco per Dei famulos fient, mereantur fieri participes. Si quis autem profanæ mentis, execrabili ingluvie cupiditatis exagitatus, hujus testamenti firmitatem infirmare vel minuere temptaverit, nisi resipiscat, ab episcopis præsentibus perpetui anathematis fulmine percussus, in exteriores tenebras gehennalis abyssi, ubi erit fletus et stridor dentium, cum Judâ, Christi traditore, et cum Dathan at Abyron, quos vivos terra absorbuit, detrudatur, sine fine cruciandus. Ut autem hujus scripti pagina, per seriem defluentis seculi perseveret indissolubilis et firma, sigilli mei munimine eam insignire satago, astantibusque episcopis et meis fidelibus corroborandam. Hujus affirmationis et donationis testes sunt Anelgandus, Cenomanniæ episcopus; Sigifredus Sagiensis episcopus; Achardus, dives miles de Doumfronte; Herveius de Gradato; Fulco de Altâ-ripâ, Giroldus Malfeus, Guillielmus princeps, et Mathildis uxor ejus, et filii ejus Fulco et Garinus, et Guillielmus, et Robertus miles. Et pour ceo, que avecques le dit liure, qui bien est ancien, il nous est aparu d'un Vidimus sain et entier, &c.

Abbey of St. Martin, at Marmontier.

THIS was a Benedictine Abbey in the suburbs of Tours, founded by St. Martin, and, being the most considerable of the three Monasteries founded by him, received the name of Majus Monasterium. It was destroyed by the Normans in the year 853; was restored for canons; and afterwards for Benedictines. Its revenue is stated in the Account of the Alien Priories to have amounted to 18,000 livres, and that of its Abbat to 16,000. It was in later times united to the archbishopric of Tours[b].

Tickford in Buckinghamshire, Cosham in Wiltshire, Trinity Priory at York, and Allerton Mauleverer Priory in Yorkshire were the English Cells to this Abbey. Dugdale has given King Henry the IId's charter to this House granting the manor of Torvertone and church of Cosham.

Henr. Dei gratia rex Ang. et dux Norm. et Aquit. et comes Andeg. archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis me concessisse et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et monasterio S. Martini de Majori-Monasterio, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, manerium de Torvertone, et ecclesiam ejusdem manerii cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et ideo volo et firmiter præcipio, quod prædicti monachi prædictum manerium, sicut Exa dividit, habeant et teneant integrè, benè, et in pace, liberè et quietè, et honorificè, cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus, quæ ad manerium illud pertinent. Præterea concedo prædicto monasterio S. Martini de Majori-Monasterio, ecclesiam de Cosham, cum omnibus quæ ad illam pertinent ecclesiam; tam in terris quàm in decimis et hominibus, et in omnibus aliis rebus, et omnem decimam hominum meorum de Cosham,[a] et decimam garbam totius messis meæ de Cosham, ita quod decima accipiatur ad hostium grangiæ meæ, et ibi monachis vel eorum servientibus liberaliter detur. Concedo etiam eis de me et de hominibus meis de Cosham, decimam lanarum, et caseorum, et agnorum, et vitulorum, et porcorum et pullorum, et omnium rerum quarum decima detur, et benignè eis et hominibus suis communitatem illius villæ. Iterum autem concedo, quod prædicti monachi habeant sexdecim boves et quinque vaccas, et unum taurum in omnibus pasturis meis ubicunque homines mei pergunt pascere. Volo etiam et firmiter præcipio, quod ipsi monachi ecclesiam suam de Torvertone,[b] cum manerio, ad proprios usus habeant, et teneant integrè, benè, et in pace, liberè, et honorificè, et quietè, ab omnibus serviciis, et geldis, et scotis, et omnibus aliis querelis; et de feudo, ne aliquis cum eis hospicium capiat absque licentia monachorum. Carta Matildis Imperatricis de Fundatione ejusdem.

Rex, &c. Inspeximus quandam cartam inclitæ recordationis M. imperatricis, filiæ Henrici quondam regis Angliæ, progenitoris nostri, factam in hæc verba. "M. imperatrix Henrici regis filia, archiep. Rothomagensi, episcopis, abbatibus, baronibus, justiciariis, et omnibus suis fidelibus de terra Normanniæ, salutem. Sciatis quod ego terram quandam pro xl^{l}. emi, quam Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Noa, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, ad construendum ejusdem loci cœnobium, pro salute animæ meæ, et animarum patris et matris meæ, et Gaufridi, comitis Andegavensis, et filiorum meorum Gaufridi et Willielmi, in perpetuam donavi elemosinam; terram autem illam totam, viz. quæ est inter viam molendini de Chatmel, et propriam terram prædictorum monachorum, et inter superiorem viam Ebroicensem et aquam Ithum, emi à Mauricio de Bonaville, et Rob. Saddote et fratribus ejus Rocelino et Rogero, et à Thoma milite, et à Giroldo de Hopelande, et Rob. nepote suo, et Willielmo fratre Thomæ, et ab Eurardo de Chattmell et filiis ejus, Roberto comite Mellenti, et Richerio de Aquila, dominis ejusdem terræ concedentibus, &c. Prædictam verò donationem, ut rata sit, &c. sigilli mei munimine confirmo et corroboro. Testibus, Rogerio archidiacono Brionnii, Will. Malonepote," &c.

Priory of St. Martin des Champs, in the suburbs of Paris.

DOM MARTIN MARRIER, one of the professed in this House, wrote its History, published at Paris in 4to, 1636, whence it appears that this Monastery was of the Cluniac Order, founded by King Henry the First of France, A.D. 1060. To this Work, and to Felibien's History of Paris, the reader is referred for further information. In the Appendix to the latter work, numerous charters granted to this House are printed.

Carta Stephani Comitis Albamarlæ, de toto jure in Ecclesiis de Arenis.

[Ex Collect. MS. v. cl. Andrei du Chesne.]

Notum sit, &c. quod ego Stephanus comes Albamarlæ, concedente comitissa Havisia conjuge mea, et patre ejus Radulfo de Mortuomari (ex eorum enim hæreditate erat) communicato cum hominibus nostris consilio, do et concedo Deo et S. Martino de Campis, quicquid habebam in ecclesiis de Arenis, pro redemptione animæ meæ, et conjugis meæ prædictæ Havisæ, et præfati Radulphi de Mortuomari, et Milisendæ conjugis ejus, jam defunctæ, et omnium antecessorum meorum, et illorum; præsente domino Theobaldo priore S. Martini de Campis, et multis testibus, quorum ista sunt nomina, Gaufredus filius Fulconis, Berengarius de Alniaco, Willielmus Biseta, Oilardus Balosellus, Willielmus capellanus, Warinus de Arenis thesaurarius Ambiensis. Et ut hoc donum stabile, &c. permaneat, &c. cartulam istam sigilli mei impressione confirmavi.

Abbey of St. Remigius, at Rheims.

THE small Church of St. Christopher at Rheims, of a date at least as early as the sixth century, is said, among the bodies of numerous holy persons, to have received that of St. Remigius, in the year 533: subsequent to which the priests who had the care of the Church being rendered wealthy by endowments, chiefly in consequence of his reputation, gave their edifice his name. The Church thus named, appears to have been constituted into an Abbey about the year 590, between which time and 1745 the work entitled "Gallia Christiana" presents an account of sixty-nine Abbats.

Carta Regis Edwardi Tertii, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

REX omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam celebris memoriæ domini H. quondam regis Angliæ, progenitoris nostri, in hæc verba. "H. rex Anglorum R. episcopo et N. vicecomiti de Statford salutem. Volo ut sciatis, quod ego concedo et volo, ut S. Remigius terras suas cum honore habeat, et omnes consuetudines, quas antecessores ibi habuerunt, qui ei terras dederunt, ipse pleniter teneat, et iste monachus Fulce, quietè et honorificè eas in meâ pace custodiat. Et scitote, quod ego dedi sancto unam hidam ad Merstun, pro anima mea, sicut umquam meliùs habuit tempore regis E. et fratris mei Willielmi, in campo, in silva, et in aqua. Quod si negligas et clamorem indè audiam x. libras michi persolvas. Testib. R. episcopo de Dunelmo R. episcopo de Cicestre et H. vicecomite de War."

Inspeximus etiam quandam aliam cartam ejusdem progenitoris nostri in hæc verba: "Henricus rex Angliæ, Ricardo de Belmi, et Fulqueio vicecomiti, et omnibus baronibus suis Francis et Anglis de Salopescira salutem. Sciatis quod volo et præcipio, ut monachi sancti Remigii ita benè, et quietè, et cum honore teneant terram suam quam habent in Salopescira , et omnia sua, sicut meliùs et quietiùs tenuerunt tempore patris vel fratris mei regis Willielmi. Et si quis injustè de rebus eorum sibi usurpare voluerit, eis plenam justiciam facite, et ita ne ampliùs indè clamorem audiam pro penuriâ recti. Teste Wald. capellano, apud Westmonasterium, in concilio."

Inspeximus insuper quandam aliam cartam ejusdem progenitoris nostri in hæc verba. "Henricus rex Angliæ Roberto episcopo Cestriæ, et Nicholao vicecomiti de Statfort, et omnibus baronibus, Francis et Anglis, de Statfortscira, salutem. Sciatis quod Godricus monachus de sancto Remigio de Remis, ante me et barones meos, apud Tamewordam, disrationavit ecclesiam de Lapeleia,[a] et decimam, et corpora mortuorum contra Rotbertum capellanum meum de Rotomago, sicut sanctus Remigius meliùs tenuit et habuit in tempore regis Edwardi et patris et fratris mei Willielmi regis. Et volo quod istas res et omnes alias suas res benè et in pace teneant ipse sanctus et monachi sui. Testibus, Roberto episcopo Lincoln. et R. episcopo Salesberiæ, et Willielmo episcopo Exoniæ, et Goisfrido Ridello et Aluredo de Lincolia, apud Tamewordam."

Inspeximus etiam quandam aliam cartam ejusdem progenitoris nostri, in hæc verba. "H. rex Angliæ, Roberto episcopo Cestriæ et Nicholao vicecomiti de Statfort et Ricardo de Belmis vicecomiti Salop. salutem. Prohibeo ne summoneatis monachos de sancto Remigio de Remis, ut eant ad hundreta, nec ad sciras, set præpositos suos, vel unum ex hominibus suis mittant. Teste Henrico comite de Warwic apud Waltham."

Inspeximus insuper quandam aliam cartam ejusdem progenitoris nostri in hæc verba. "H. rex Angliæ et dux Normanniæ, et Aquitanniæ et comes Andegaviæ, justiciariis et vicecomitibus et ministris suis de Staffordscire et de Salopescire salutem. Sciatis quod ego volo ut monachi sancti Remigii de Remis, qui morantur apud Lapeleiam,[b] teneant omnes terras et tenuras suas benè et in pace, et quietè, et justè, in bosco et in plano, et in pasturis, et in aquis, et in aliis locis; et nominatim illam terram de Merstone, quam rex Henricus avus meus eis dedit in elemosinam, sicut eas tenuerunt die quâ rex Henricus avus meus fuit vivus et mortuus; et non eant ad sciras, et ad hundreta, nisi sicut solebant tempore regis Henrici. Testibus, comite Canciæ; Ricardo de Humet constabulario; Warino filio Ger. camerario, apud Sar."

Inspeximus etiam cartam celebris memoriæ domini Stephani quondam regis Angliæ, progenitoris nostri in hæc verba. "S. rex Angliæ episcopo Cestriæ, et justiciariis et baronibus, et vicecomitibus, et ministris, et omnibus fidelibus suis de Statfordscira, salutem. Sciatis me reddidisse et concessisse in elemosinam, ecclesiæ S. Remigii Remensis, et monachis, illam hidam terræ de Merstona, quam rex H. eis dedit, et alias terras suas de quocumque illas habeant, sicut rex H. eis illas concessit per cartam suam. Et volo et firmiter præcipio, quod benè et in pace, et liberè, et quietè teneant in bosco, et plano, et pratis, et pasturis; et aquis, et molendinis; et in via, et semitis, et in omnibus aliis locis, sicut meliùs tenuerunt tempore regis H. ne super hoc fiat eis indè injuria vel contumelia super decem librarum forisfacturam, sicut rex H. hoc præcepit per cartam suam. Testibus, R. filio Ricardi et Walch. Maminot, apud Notingam."

Inspeximus etiam cartam celebris memoriæ domini E. quondam regis Angliæ, avi nostri, in hæc verba: "Edwardus Dei gratia rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, et dux Aquitaniæ, archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis nos concessisse, et hac carta nostra confirmâsse dilectis nobis in Christo abbati et conventui S. Remigii Remensis, quod ipsi et successores sui imperpetuum habeant unum mercatum singulis septimanis per diem Martis apud manerium suum de Aston, in comitatu Staff. et unam feriam ibidem singulis annis per duos dies duraturam; videlicet in vigilia et in die sancti Petri ad Vincula; nisi mercatum illud et feria illa sint ad nocumentum vicinorum mercatorum et vicinarum feriarum. Et quod habeant liberam warennam imperpetuum in omnibus dominicis terris suis de Lappeleie, Merston, Hisdellunde, et Aston, in comitatu prædicto; ita quod nullus intret terras illas ad fugandum in eis, vel ad aliquid capiendum, quod ad warennam pertineat, sine licentia et voluntate ipsorum abbatis et conventus, vel successorum suorum, super forisfacturam nostram decem librarum. Quare volumus, &c. Data per manum nostram apud Stebenhethe, duodecimo die Aprilis, anno regni nostri vicesimo."

Nos autem concessiones, redditionem, et confirmationem prædictas; necnon donationem quam Ricardus hæres Herveii de Stretona per scriptum suum fecit eisdem abbati et conventui de terra de Cobesford, ratas habentes et gratas, eas pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, dilectis nobis in Christo nunc abbati et conventui sancti Remigii Remensis et eorum successoribus, concedimus et confirmamus, prout cartæ et scriptum prædicta rationabiliter testantur, et prout iidem abbas et conventus terras et tenementa prædicta modò tenent, et ipsi et eorum prædecessores à tempore confectionis cartarum et scripti prædictorum ea tenuerunt, ac libertatibus prædictis hactenùs rationabiliter usi sunt et gavisi. In cujus, &c. Teste rege apud Hertford v. die Aprilis.

the year 1060. Tradition asserted that Matilda here received the news of the Conqueror's victory in England in 1066, in consequence of which this Abbey was sometimes called "Notre Dame de Bonnes-Nouvelles."

Robert Duke of Normandy and Henry the First of England were both benefactors to this Monastery, which also received charters of confirmation from King Henry the Second, King Henry the Third, and King Edward the IId. King Henry the Second's charter is given by Dugdale.

The Church of St. Mary de Pré was destroyed by the Hugonots in 1562, but was restored in 1604, and greatly enlarged in 1640. See the Histoire de la Ville de Rouen 4° Rouen, 1731, tom. ii. p. 150—160; where a List of the Priors of St. Mary de Pré will be found to the year 1729.

Abbatia de Prato Rothomagi.

Carta Regis Henrici Secundi, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Pat. Norm. 8 Hen. V. p. 1, n. 16. per Inspex.]

Henricus rex Angliæ, dux Norm. et Aquit. et comes Andegav. archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis me concessisse et confirmâsse, in perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute meâ et hæredum meorum, et pro animabus patris mei, et matris meæ Matildis imperatricis, et omnium antecessorum meorum, Deo et ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Prato Rothomagi, et monachis Becci ibi Deo servientibus, ex dono Matildis reginæ Mesnillum et Becdane, et molendinum de Kareville, quod vocatur Molendinum Reginæ, cum omni libertate suâ: et ecclesiam de Auberville, et decimam: et ex dono Henrici avi mei, pii amatoris et fundatoris ejusdem loci, manerium in Normannia, quod vocatur Bures, et omnia ad illud pertinentia, cum toto dominio et omnibus regiis libertatibus, et consuetudinibus, et quietanciis, ad me pertinentibus, et in forestis meis de Anni et de Alihermont, quicquid ad opus ejusdem manerii necessarium fuerit ad ardendum et ad ædificandum; et plenariam pasturam et pasnagium, quietum sibi et hominibus suis in eisdem forestis. Et de parco Rothomagi totam decimam fœni; et decimam de foresta de Romare; et prata sua de Valle Femli, et famulum qui custodit ea: et in foresta de Rourerio quicquid eis opus fuerit ad ardendum, et ad omne quod sibi necessarium fuerit faciendum et ædificandum; et plenariam pasturam liberam et quietam omnibus animalibus suis, per totam prædictam forestam, et pasnagium quietum per omnes forestas meas de Normannia sibi et hominibus suis de manupastu eorum, nisi negotiatores fuerint, et nundinas de Ermentrimille, et libertates earum in omnibus locis et in omnibus rebus: et in unoquoque anno xl. modios vini de cellario meo Rothomagensi, sc. de modiatione mea: reddendo, sine contradictione, sex modios de modiatione de Waeneio, reddendo apud Guerni.

Et manerium in Anglia, quod vocatur Estmentone, et omnia ad illud pertinentia, cum omnibus regiis libertatibus, et consuetudinibus, et quietanciis ad me pertinentibus.

Et in foresta Fiscanni, de dono Matildis imperatricis, matris meæ, et meo, totum campum de Willervill, à profundo vallis de Bernouville usque in profundum vallis de Prefica, per divisionem terræ Nicholai de Estoteville, et divisionem terræ Roberti de Joneneio, in ministerio de Estrutart, et duas capellas, cum elemosinis ad eas pertinentibus. Et de dono matris meæ quatuor libras apud Pontem Arche, de piscatoribus, quas annuatim reddere solebant pro libertate piscationis suæ. Et præter hoc concedo eis et confirmo in perpetuam elemosinam, decem libratas redditus in manerio de Westberia, de elemosina Willielmi Deflubati. Et ex dono Ricardi presbyteri ecclesiam de Fulecote, cum terris et decimis ad eandem ecclesiam pertinentibus, sicut idem Ricardus unquam meliùs et pleniùs tenuit. Has tenuras et omnes alias tenuras suas, quæcunque sint, et ubicunque sint, et de quibuscunque habeant, sive in Normannia, sive in Anglia, volo et firmiter præcipio, ut habeant et teneant benè et in pace, et integrè, &c. Et præter hæc concedo et confirmo eis in perpetuam elemosinam, tres masuras terræ, et domos desuper, quas Aufrida de Ponte Audomari tenet in Rothomago, quietas de omni censu et consuetudine, et omni alia re, excepta sola modiatione mea de vino. Et ut hæc omnia, et omnia alia, quæ fideles Christi eis contulerunt, et in futuro contulerint, inconcussa et incontradicta remaneant, nunc, et usque in sempiternum, regia hac auctoritate confirmo, et sigilli mei impressione et subscriptorum testimonio corroboro. Testibus, Rotrodo archiepiscoso Rothomagensi, Ricardo de Houmet, constabulario, &c.

Abbey of St. Amand, at Rouen.

GOSSELIN VICOMTE D'ARQUES and Emmeline his wife were the founders of this Abbey, about the year 1030. The church was sometimes called that of St. Mary and St. Amand. It was burnt in 1247 and rebuilt nine years afterwards. Dugdale has given a confirmation charter to this House from King Henry the Fifth. The History of the Town of Rouen quoted in the preceding article gives the names of forty of its Abbesses. Mr. Turner, in his Letters from Normandy, vol. i. p. 180, says, The House of the Abbess of St. Amand is still standing, though neglected and in ruins; one of the oldest specimens of domestic architecture in the Town.

Abbatia Sanctimonialium de S. Amando Rothomagi.

Diploma Regis Henrici Quinti, diversorum Regum Cartas recitans et confirmans.

[Pat. Norm. 7 Hen. V. p. 2, n. 39.]

Rex, &c. Inspeximus quandam cartam inclitæ recordationis Philippi, quondam Francorum regis, progenitoris nostri, factam in hæc verba. In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, amen. Philippus Dei gratia Francorum rex; inter cætera virtutum præconia quibus regalem excellentiam condecet investiri, illud credimus esse non minimum, si ad Dei sacrosanctas ecclesias, et maximè religiosas, in suorum conservatione jurium, se liberalem exhibeat et benignum. Sanè ex parte religiosarum mulierum abbatissæ et conventus monasterii S. Amandi Rothomagensis, nobis fuit exhibita quædam antiqua scriptura, nullo tamen sigillo munita, jura plurima et libertates ejusdem monasterii continens, quæ in sui quibusdam partibus, propter vetustatem nimiam et palpationem frequentem detrimentum aliquod sustinebat; cui etiam ad conservationem et excercitium jurium et libertatum contentarum in ea, in scaccariis nostris Rothomagensibus, parliamentis et alibi, in nostris indiciis fidem asserebant plenariam adhiberi; supplicando humiliter et attentè, ut scripturam eandem in formam debitam, et scripturam novam redigi, nostroque muniri sigillo regio juberemus, eamque nostra confirmare auctoritate regiâ dignaremur: nos autem progenitorum nostrorum, qui ad sanctas Dei ecclesias piè jugiter gessisse noscuntur, devotionis affectum, quantum cum Deo possumus vestigiis inhærentes, dictarum religiosarum supplicationibus inclinati, scripturam prædictam et contenta in ea, præfatis religiosis, quatenùs de hiis ritè et legitimè hactenùs usæ fuerunt, et in eorum possessione existunt, auctoritate nostra regia confirmamus, et in formam communem et scripturam novam redigi mandavimus, sub tenore suo, qui sequitur in hæc verba: nostrorum petitionibus nos præbemus exorabiles, maximè in hiis, in quibus ecclesia Christi et loca sanctorum indigent nostri regiminis functione juvari, et illorum animos in nostrâ fidelitate solidamus: et quod majus est, Deo nos gratiores, et in principatu nostro perdurabiles fore confidimus. Quicquid enim in usus necessarios ecclesiis Christi et cultibus divinis dependimus: viz. aut donativa conferendo, aut donativa principalibus edictis confirmando, confirmata sollicitè regendo, ad animarum non solum remedium, sed et temporalis regni statum et patriæ salutem proficere credimus: proindè notum esse cunctis regni nostri fidelibus, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, volumus, qualiter ad suggestum quorundam fidelium nostrorum, Goscelini, viz. vicecomitis, et Emmelinæ uxoris ejus, locum nostræ serenitatis muros Rothomagi dono concessum, in quo ipsi ex proprio censu, in honorem et venerationem sanctæ Dei genetricis, et gloriosæ virginis Mariæ, et S. Amandi gloriosissimi confessoris, omnium simul sanctorum, ecclesiam fundarunt, hunc immunem juris nostri judiciariâ exactione reddentes, et ecclesiasticis usibus mancipantes in perpetuam concedimus: qui locus circa ecclesiam extenditur usque ad vicum per quem ad portam Roddebecce itur; et indè usque ad terram Willielmi de Tornebu. Iterum ab istâ, usque ad terram Radulfi de Warennâ; indè verò usque ad murum civitatis; cujus rei signum est altera pars nostræ elemosinæ, quæ huic conjuncta in alterâ parte muri sita est.

In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis Robertus divina ordinante providentia Norm. dux et rector. Si fidelium

Hæc sunt itaque res, quas donavit sanctæ Mariæ, sanctoque Amando memorati fidelis. In foro Rothomagi unam aream; deindè molendinum in Rannelum villâ, et unum cellarium juxta pontem Sequanæ, positum in loco qui dicitur Poteria. Prata quoque sua, quæ sunt apud Cenille, et terram cultam, cum silvâ quæ est juxta vallem Eicembaldi. Et in monte qui dicitur Cocerel v. acras terræ; et illam silvam quam habent inter aquas; scilicet Guarennam et Sedam, cum terrâ cultâ, quæ pertinet ad illam. Et totum dominium quod hactenùs tenuerunt in Maneholt villâ, cum ecclesiâ et molendino; et quicquid habent in Montvillâ, præter ecclesiam, et in Esletis, et in Freschenis, et in Cardonivillâ similiter, et villa quæ Spinetum vocatur, cum hiis quæ pertinent ad illam; viz. cum terrâ unius carrucæ et toloneo. Donant etiam terram et silvam, quam Malalvert tenet, et terram vineæ suæ, quæ vocatur Poceron, juxta Rothomagum, cum ea, quæ ad illam pertinet.

Ego Emma, dudum conjux christianissimi viri, scilicet Osberni, fidelium dictis ammonita, atque exemplis instructa, pro remedio animarum nostrarum, et propinquorum, amicorum quoque nostrorum, de beneficiis, quæ gratuita pietate contulit nobis Deus, ecclesiæ S. Mariæ et S. Amandi partem concedo, annuente domino; viz. Willielmo Normannorum duce, et fratre meo Hugone Bajocensium episcopo, et filiis meis Willielmo et Osberno, ad opus sanctimonialium ibidem famulantium. Hæc sunt nomina donorum in comitatu Rothomagensi, medietatem villæ quæ dicitur Frames, et ecclesiam villæ ejusdem, cum omnibus quæ ad illam pertinent. Præter hæc concedimus illud mansum, quod michi concessit frater meus Hugo episcopus, et duo molendina, unum in villâ, quæ appellatur Periers, alterum apud villam quæ vulgariter Lumpetaing nuncupatur; et item xii. acras pratorum apud villam quæ vocatur Quatuor Molendina: extra autem muros civitatis xvi. acras de terrâ arabili in præsentia domini Willielmi Norm. ducis.

Willielmus, Osberni filius, sua matre volente, dedit terram de Abavilla ecclesiæ S. Mariæ et S. Amandi; illam quam tenebat Maridage, Maheldis uxoris Radulfi Hachet, et dotem Halvesæ conjugis Radulfi de Ezrartmaisnil, et unum hospitem; et in Rothomago domos quatuor panificorum, et terram Turstini de Adelelvilla. Testes sunt Gofredus de Magnavilla, et Hachenon, et Humfredus de Osbermaisnil, &c.

Ego Hugo, Bajocassinæ urbis, Dei gratia episcopus, sollicitè perpendens, et inhianti animo concupiscens, ut in civitate Domini virtutum, in monte sancto ejus merear fieri gloriæ sanctorum consors, divini voti, quo dicitur, "Veruntamen date elemosinam, et ecce omnia munda sunt vobis," humiliter obtemperans hæreditatis terrenæ ipsum nostri honoris largitorem fieri consortem, ratum duco: proindè terram, quam vulgò dicunt Bochas, cum appendiciis suis; viz. ecclesiam, et Bothebuculum, et terram de Serlosvilla, et terram de Torratoribus, et terram Rogerii Malpasnace, et terram Gocelini Bellatica, Christo et sanctæ ejus genitrici, sanctoque Amando gloriosissimo confessori, ob salutem animæ meæ, in presentia domini mei Willielmi comitis et Normannorum ducis, largior, in loco urbis Rothomagensis, de nomine ejusdem S. Amandi nuncupato, ac victum ancillarum Dei ibidem congregatarum, quibus præest abbatissa Emma, et spiritu et carne soror mea: quam largitionem literis ad futurorum noticiam mandare decrevimus, et nostræ auctoritatis signo, contra perfidorum violentias roborare statuimus, ubi et anathematis dampnatione omnes hujus cartulæ prævaricatores æternaliter, nisi resipuerint, ferimus, et à Christi sanctorumque ejus consortio sequestramus. Hujus itaque privilegii testes et adstipulatores sunt hii, Hugo pincerna, Ansfridus Alabarba, &c.

Baldwinus filius comitis Gisleberti, annuente domino Willielmo comite et Normannorum duce, dedit sancto Amando, et sanctimonialibus ibidem Deo famulantibus, ecclesiam de Moles, et totam decimam quæ ad illam pertinet, pro salute sui, et pro sua matre et propinquis suis et amicis. Hujus rei testes sunt Ricardus frater suus, Hugo pincerna, &c.

Ricardus de Belfou, annuente domino Willielmo comite et Norm. duce, dedit sancto Amando ecclesiam de Almeravilla, et totam decimam quæ ad illam pertinet, et feudum laici c. acrarum, quod Anchetillus presbyter tenet pro filiabus suis. ✠. Will. Norm. ducis et Ricardi.

Willielmus de Cluvilla et Robertus frater ejus, annuente domino Willielmo Norm. duce, dederunt S. Amando et sanctimonialibus, medietatem villæ quæ dicitur Pucene, pro filiabus suis: et Humfredus de Bochin dedit decimam propriæ carrucæ suæ, et unum ortum in eadem villa prædicto sancto, pro se et tribus mulieribus suis. Cujus testes sunt Renaldus camerarius, &c.

Annuente domino Willielmo comite et Norm. duce, Rogerus filius Hugonis, episcopus Constanciæ urbis, concessit ecclesiæ gloriosæ virginis Mariæ, et beati Amandi, Christi antistitis, quæ est infra muros urbis Rothomagi, quando filiam suam Emma Christi obsequio mancipavit, in comitatu Talon, hoc mansum, quod vulgò vocatur Herburmaisnil, cum uno molendino in eodem comitatu; et terram quæ dicitur de Lamara, quam tenet Walchelinus presbyter; et terram quam tenet Turondus presbyter, et Turchitillus frater ejus, cum hiis quæ ad illam pertinere videntur. In hoc etiam dono habetur piscatoria una quæ de censu solvit xv^{s}. monachis S. Dionysii uno quoque anno. Præter hoc tres acræ terræ annotantur, quas Osbernus Ganai S. Mariæ, et S. Amando tribuit, quando filiam suam sanctimonialem fecit. Hujus rei testes sunt Stigandus dapifer, &c.

Gilbertus, annuente, &c. tribuit S. Mariæ, et S. Amando, ad victum monacharum, possessiones quas habebat in Lambertivilla, et in Seccana, ex alodio suæ conjugis, quando effecta est monacha, viz. tres ecclesias, et homines liberos et rusticos, et duo molendina, terras, aquas, et nemora. Testes hujus rei sunt Senfredus capellanus, &c.

Ego Willielmus, Dei gratia rex Anglorum, et dux Norm., concedo S. Amando, de omnibus rebus, quas in Rothomago habent sanctimoniales, ita per omnia liberas consuetudines, sicut S. Audoenus habet suas res. Præterea concedo S. Amando, quatuor viros panificos, ab omni servicio meo quietos et liberos, et moltam suam, sed et moltam similiter omnium civium S. Amandi; et theloneum et exitum, et unam domum in vico Burnengi. Iterum etiam dono S. Amando, ad victum ancillarum Dei ibidem congregatarum, decimas quas habeo in forestis de Aleriomonte, et de Alwit, tam in essartis, quàm in denariis. Dono etiam prædicto sancto decimam denariorum meorum de Barbifluvio, et de S. Jacobo; et decimam meæ molationis de Rothomago. Concedo quoque prædicto S. unum mercatum in Sedana, unaquaque hebdomada die dominica. Testes sunt Hugo pincerna, Willielmus filius Osberni, Stigandus dapifer, et Radulfus de Montpoincon.

Ego Mathildis regina, annuente domino Willielmo Anglorum rege, concedo S. Amando, de dotario meo, terram unius carrucæ in Maintrud, et tres ortos in eadem villa, et unum hospitem Alpleidis; et carpartrem de culturis meis propriis de Maintrud, et de Bures, et de Hulmoid. Testes sunt Sefredus de Valle, et Radulfus de Montegomerico.

Ego Giroldus miles Christi, in præsentia Willielmi regis Anglorum, et eodem annuente, pro salute animæ meæ et Emiciæ uxoris meæ, et parentum meorum et amicorum, concedo sanctimonialibus de S. Amando, ecclesiam de Rolmare, et omnem decimam, et v. acras terræ. De equabus, et de vaccis, de porcis quoque, ac de ovibus, decimam ejusdem villæ: Præterea quatuor hospites dono et concedo similiter, et decimam de quatuor molendinis, quorum duo habeo in villa quæ dicitur Dunu, et duo in altera, quæ dicitur Barentin, et decimam de mercato quod habeo apud Dunu, simul quoque decimam de theoloneo quod habeo apud Archas. Hujus donationis sunt testes isti, Osbernus de Novoforo, &c.

Jshannes archipræsul dedit S. Amando, in ejus dedicatione, tres acras pratorum ulera Sequanam, inter villam, quæ vulgò vocatur Sotavilla, et S. Stephanum, testimonio Fulberti archidiaconi, &c.

In cujus, &c. Teste rege apud castrum suum Rothomagi xxi. die Januarii.

Abbey of Savigny, in Normandy.

SAVIGNY was at first a hermitage: but in 1112 Raoul de Fugeres and John de Landere founded an Abbey here which in 1148 was united to the Cistercian Order. Long Benyngton in Lincolnshire, Field-Dallyng in Norfolk, and Furness in Lancashire were the English Cells to this House. See the Alien Priories, vol. i. 150. Neustria Pia, p. 676—690. Dugdale has given King Edward the Third's confirmation charter to this House.

Abbey of St. Martin d'Acy.

ST. MARTIN D'ACY was a Benedictine Abbey in the diocese of Rouen, founded about the year 1000 by the lords of Aumale or Albemarle. Dugdale has given the charter of Stephen earl of Albemarle to this House, dated in 1115. This Abbey was ruined in 1393. The Church was rebuilt about the middle of the following century, and again with the whole House between 1705 and 1729. Burstall Garth in Holderness, and Wytherness in Yorkshire, were Cells subordinate to this Abbey.

Abbatia S. Martini de Alceio, in Ducatu Normanniæ.

NUM. I.

Carta Stephani Comitis Albemarliæ.

[Ex ipso autogr. in turri S. Mariæ Eboraci.]

✠ In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, hoc notum sit, tam præsentibus, quàm futuris, quia ego Stephanus Albemarlensis comes, monachis sancti Luciani Belvacensis, quibus mater mea Adeliza donavit et concessit ecclesiam sancti Martini de Alceio, constructam et ædificatam ab antecessoribus meis extra castellum Albemarlæ, sicut mater mea concessit, sic dono et concedo ecclesiam sancti Martini, et omnes redditus ipsi ecclesiæ adjacentes, pro remissione peccatorum meorum, et Willielmi regis Angliæ avunculi mei, atque omnium antecessorum meorum. Quibus etiam monachis, præter hæc supradicta, addo et concedo omnes ecclesias et decimas meas Angliæ, quas teneo ab Henrico rege Anglorum, ita quietas et liberas, et sine retentu ullo, sicut de ipso rege teneo. Necnon et ipsos sacerdotes ita liberrimè habeant et teneant à me, ut neque dapifer, neque vicecomes, nec aliquis ministrorum meorum super eos manus imponant. Si verò sacerdotes forisfecerint aliquid, illi justificent. Has ecclesias et decimas, viz. in Holdernesa ecclesiam et decimam de Pagla, quam in dominio habeo. Similiter et de Prestonâ, et de Eschechilingâ, et de Wiforneunic, de Waglâ, de Frohingeham, et de castello de Aldeburgo, et de Mapletona, de Donestal, de Esinctona, de Berestal, de Chinlesei, de Caingeham, de Wifornesel.

In Lindeseia ecclesiam et decimam de Carlentona, et decimam de Wiuelesbi, et de Barowa dimidietatem ecclesiæ et decimæ; aliam verò dimidietatem, quam Willielmus capellanus tenet de me in vita sua, et unam de ecclesiis de Wifornisel, post obitum ejus, ipsis monachis concedo. Quinetiam omnes decimas dominicatus mei; viz. horreorum, id est, totius annonæ meæ, et vaccarum mearum, omniumque ovium, et baconum, et caseorum, atque pullorum equarum mearum. Hæc omnia supradicta ad utilitatem monachorum in ecclesia sancti Martini de Alceio morantium et servientium, ut liberè disponant, et ordinent, confero. Hospitem etiam unum ad flumen Heldone dono. Quientiam transitum de Humbro ad opus monachorum, et omnium illis servientium, et ad omnia necessaria eorum, ita liberè, sicut à rege teneo.

Omnes etiam ecclesias de feudo meo in Normannia, cum decimis et omnibus pertinentiis suis; ecclesiam viz. de Vilers, ecclesiam de Landricurt, ecclesiam sancti Walerici, ecclesiam de Belfraisno, ecclesiam sancti Saturnini, ecclesiam de Ailecurt, ecclesiam de Flamines, ecclesiam de Hillais, ecclesiam de Vilers, ultra nemus, cum duabus partibus decimæ. Nundinas quoque in festivitate sancti Martini, et quicquid utilitatis de eis, ex consuetudine, provenerit. Addo etiam decimam molendinorum meorum et furnorum, et thelonei et traversi de Albemarle, et decimam omnium, quæ navis mea de Anglia attulerit, quæ decimari possunt; et decimam omnium piscium, qui comeduntur in curia mea, sive in Albemarla, sive ubicumque in hac patria. Decimam quoque in Blossavilla, piscium, porcorum, baconum, et lanæ de ovibus meis. Silvam etiam de Mufleres, ad omnes usus necessarios jure perpetuo. Si quis autem hanc donationem meam infringere aut minuere voluerit, divino judicio illum puniendum commendo. Actum est apud Albemarlam regnante Henrico rege Anglorum, et duce Normannorum, et ipso concedente; post, uxore mea, hac causa, et filio meo concedentibus; anno MCXV. ab incarnatione Domini. Hiis viz. testibus, Waltero de Senardiponte, Gaufrido filio Fulconis, Willielmo Bisa, Berengario de Alneto, Gerardo de Caineio, Giroldo de Hornet, Alano de Hambi, Willielmo de Albamarle; Ricardo fratre ejus, clericis. Verò Roberto decano, Alberto canonico, Warnero clerico.

Carta Roberti Lincolniensis Episcopi, de Confirmatione Ecclesiarum in Diœcesi sua.

[Ibid.]

ROBERTUS Dei gratia Lincolniensis episcopus universis sanctæ ecclesiæ fidelibus salutem. Ex suscepti officii administratione nobis incumbit religiosorum virorum utilitatibus in futurum providere; et beneficia, quibus sustentari debent, sicut à fidelibus rationabiliter concessa, et cartis confirmata sunt, pontificali autoritate solidare. Hinc est quod dilectorum filiorum nostrorum monachorum de Albamarla, justis petitionibus benignum præbentes assensum, ecclesias et quascumque alias possessiones in nostra diœcesi à nobilibus viris Stephano comite Albamarlæ, et Will. ejus filio, ecclesiæ sancti Martini de Albamarla, et monachis in ea Deo servientibus rationabiliter concessa et confirmata; scil. paterno affectu eis concedimus, et præsentis scripti pagina roboramus. Ecclesiam de Barou cum appendiciis suis, et decimam dominii de Wilesbi ecclesiam de Grossebi, et decimam dominii de Andelbi, ecclesiam de Carlentona, cum appendiciis suis, ecclesiam de Bitham, cum omnibus appendiciis suis. Omnibus itaque ejusdem ecclesiæ jura servantibus, Dei misericordiam et benedictionem imploramus, è contrario verò, intentibus et injustè vexantibus extremi examinis ultionem comminando inferimus. Actum anno ab incarnatione Domini MClvi. Testibus, Philippo abbate Tornetonæ et Reinfrido ejus canonico; Radulpho abbate de Parco Lude, et Thoma de Brachenb. ejus monacho; Roberto archidiacono Lincolniæ, magistro Malgero, et magistro Warnero, apud Ludam.

Abbey of St. Nicholas at Anjou.

THIS Abbey was founded by Fulk Earl of Anjou in the year 1120, as appears in Dugdale's extract from a Manuscript Chronicle of the House. The Empress Matilda granted to it several Churches in England. Pope Eugenius also confirmed the donations to it.

Abbey of St. Saviour, in the Diocese of Coutance.

THIS is the style of this Abbey as given in King Henry the Second's charter of confirmation in King Edward the Second's Inspeximus. But it seems, in truth, to have been the Abbey of St. Sever in the diocese of Coutance, first founded about the year 558 by Severus bishop of Avranches, and refounded about 1085 by Hugh de Albrincis viscount d'Avranches, afterwards earl of Chester. Hagham in Lincolnshire and Endeston in Somersetshire were cells to the Abbey of St. Sever.

Abbatia S. Salvatoris de Constantino.

Carta Regis Henrici Secundi, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Cart 7 Edw. II. n. 40. per Inspex.]

H. Dei gratia rex Angliæ, et dux Normanniæ, et Aquitanniæ, et comes Andegaviæ, omnibus archiepiscopis, episcopis, comitibus, vicecomitibus, justiciariis, et omnibus fidelibus suis, Francis et Anglis, salutem. Sciatis me dedisse, et concessisse abbaciæ sancti Salvatoris de Constantino, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, capellam sanctæ Margaretæ de Babyndone, cum decimis et elemosinis eidem capellæ pertinentibus; et cum oblationibus curiæ Willielmi, filii Willielmi, filii Johannis, quæ idem Willielmus eidem abbaciæ dedit, et conredii sui decimam in eadem villâ, et pannagium xx. porcorum suorum liberum, et ad usus suos, de bosco præfati Willielmi unaquaque die fessum unius hominis, vel duobus diebus unam summam equi: si verò monachus, qui ibi moratur absens fuerit, cum redierit, et habere voluerit, habebit quantum ei indè in absentiâ suâ retrò fuerit: insuper xvi. acras terræ in eadem villa ad præfatam capellam pertinentes. Item concedo et confirmo prædictæ abbaciæ ecclesiam Omnium Sanctorum de Alingeham, cum capellâ sanctæ Mariæ, et cum omnibus beneficiis ad eandem ecclesiam pertinentibus: et præterea in eadem villâ dimidiam carucatam terræ, et viginti acras prati, et tres acras juxta ecclesiam ad ædificium domorum suarum, sicut Willielmus de Solariis eidem abbaciæ dedit. Concedo etiam eis et confirmo terram quam Baldewynus de Porteseia in insulâ de Porteseia eis dedit, concessu domini sui Adæ de Port; dimidiam scil. hidam et tres acras terræ. Insuper dedi eis et concessi, per totas terras meas, ut in forestis meis accipiant de mortuo bosco, quantum eis necesse est, ad focum suum et ad claudendum haias suas, et pannagium dedi eis liberum in forestis meis. Et volo ut non respondeant de hiis omnibus alicui nisi coram me vel justiciis meis. Hæc omnia dedi eis et concessi in perpetuam elemosinam, pro amore Dei, et pro animâ Henrici regis avi mei, et aliorum antecessorum meorum. Testibus, Ricardo de Humet, Jordano Tessy, Will. filio Joh. Nich. de Vayens, Will. filio Hamonis, apud Cadomum.

Abbey of Trouarn.

THIS Abbey, situated in a Town of its name, upon the river Dive, and dedicated to St. Martin, was founded by Roger de Montgomery Earl of Shrewsbury in the year 1050. Horkesley or Horsley in Gloucestershire was a Cell to this House. See its property here mentioned in the Domesday Survey, vol. i. fol. 166 b. where this Abbey is called "Ecclesia de Troarz."

Et ecclesiam de Mundreham, quam Torstinus de Fontanis dedit. Et decimam de Norburna, quam Radulphus bastardus dedit. Et decimam de Olfani, quam Alscio dedit. Concedo etiam hoc quod Robertus de Romeliolo dedit; scil. ecclesiam S. Andreæ de Witeneher, cum terrâ sacerdotum et decimis, quæ ad ipsam villam pertinent, et ecclesiam de Mapeldra, cum terra presbyteri et terra unius carucæ, cum pratis adjacentibus ipsi terræ, et decimis ipsius villæ, et ecclesiam de Molandâ cum sacerdote, et decimis ipsius mansionis, et terra ad unam carucam, cum pratis, et tres hospites cum terra sua. Et in Espicemut unum hospitem, et ecclesiam de Warocle, cum decimis, quas ipse Robertus prædicto sancto dedit. Et præter hoc volo et præcipio, quod decem hidæ de Horsleya se acquietent, pro septem hidis de omnibus geldis et omnibus rebus, sicut rex Henricus confirmavit per cartam suam. Et præter hæc præcipio, quod ecclesiam sancti Martini de Troarno teneat benè et in pace terram et domos quas Johannes filius Gilberti prædictæ ecclesiæ dedit, quæ sunt apud Wyntonam, de feudo sancti Petri de Hida. Teste Willielmo cancellario regis; comite Cornubiæ, comite Gloecestriæ, Roberto comite Leycestriæ, Rogero comite Herfordiæ, Patricio, comite Wiltesciræ, Humfredo de Buhun dapifero, Richardo de Humez constabulario, Elia Giffard.

Abbey of St. Victor en Caux.

THIS House, situated in a town of its own name in the Païs de Caux, was first founded in 1048 as a Priory, by a religious named Tormor, but in 1074 was made an Abbey by Sir Roger Mortimer. Clatford in Wiltshire was anciently a Cell to this Priory.

Carta Regis Henrici Secundi, de Libertatibus et Privilegiis huic Cœnobio concessis.

H. Dei gratia rex Anglorum, et dux Normannorum, et Aquit. et comes Andeg. archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis me concessisse et præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et abbatiæ S. Victoris martyris, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes donationes, quæ eis factæ sunt, et confirmatæ cartis omnium donatorum suorum; regum scil. comitum, et baronum, et omnium dominorum, et amicorum suorum. Do etiam et concedo prædictæ abbatiæ in propriis rebus et manipastui ejus, libertates et quietancias, de passagio, theloneo, et omni servili consuetudine, per totam terram meam, cis mare et ultra; scil. in portubus maris et in portubus Sequanæ; et in civitate Rothomagensi quietantiam de theoloneo, et de modiatione, et de omnibus aliis consuetudinibus. Præcipio etiam ut habeant satis ad necessaria de foresta de Alwi, mortuum boscum ubicunque invenient: set quia sæpiùs defecit ibi, et non potest inveniri, volo ut habeant præter hoc satis de ramis et frondibus, et residuum carpentariorum, et ea omnia quæ gentes de patria sument, per licentiam, ad ignem faciendum, vel ad alia necessaria; et ad domos reficiendas habebunt de majori bosco per liberationem capto. Volo etiam et præcipio, ut maneria præfatæ abbatiæ de Anglia, scilicet Hunlavintona, Clafort,[a] et Strafella, habeant quietantias et libertates suas, de sciris, et hundrez, et hidages, et danegelt, herbagium et pasnagium sibi quietum, et manipastui eorum in omnibus forestis meis in omnibus civitatibus meis, castellis, burgis, mercatis, passagiis, portubus, cis mare et ultra, do eis quietantiam et libertatem de passagio, theloneo, et omni alia consuetudine. Præter cætera volo et jubeo, ut justè habeant fugitivos suos ubicunque eos invenient. Nec aliquis retineat eos, nec catalla eorum super forisfacturam x^{l}. et similiter habeant nativos suos. Præcipio etiam ut pecunia prænominatæ ecclesiæ non capiatur in dampnum, nec hominum suorum, pro debito vel forisfacto Hugonis de Mortuomari, aut hæredum ipsius, vel quorumlibet hominum suorum. Et si super hoc capta fuerit pro debito vel forisfacto alicujus illorum, reddatur quieta. Volo itaque et firmiter jubeo ut abbacia S. Victoris, et monachi Deo in ea servientes omnia supradicta habeant rata et teneant in libera et perpetua elemosina, benè et in pace, &c. T. Rad. de Wannevill cancellario, magistro Waltero de Const. Abbey of St. Valery, in Picardy.

ST. VALERY is a town situated at the mouth of the river Somme, four leagues below Abbeville, in the diocese of Amiens. Its Abbey, for Benedictine Monks, was founded by King Clothaire, A.D. 613. Dugdale has given King Henry the Second's charter of confirmation to it. The author of the "Alien Priories," vol. ii. p. 62, says, that in late times the income of the abbat of this House amounted to 13,000, and that of the monks to 9000 livres. Takeley in Essex was a Cell to the Abbey of St. Valery. See the mention of the Abbey property there in the Domesday Survey, vol. ii. fol. 20 b. See also the second Instrument printed by Dugdale.

Carta Regis Henrici Secundi, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

Henricus Dei gratia rex Angliæ, archiep. episc. abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, et omnibus ministris, et fidelibus suis, salutem. Sciatis nos concessisse et præsenti carta confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beati Walerici, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, in perpetuam et liberam elemosinam, omnes terras et tenuras suas, et omnes decimationes dominicorum suorum, et omnes donationes, quæ donatæ sunt eis in elemosinam, vel donabuntur; viz. Tacheleyam[b] cum pertinentiis suis, Wallam, et Danesiam cum pertinentiis suis, Urthitun, et Lindesele cum pertinentiis suis, Medelburi et Byleghengre cum pertinentiis suis; et quicquid habuit in Mangedene, et in Botilton, et in Machekes, et in Chavenfeld; ecclesias etiam de Histelworthe, et de Hestune, et de Ticheham, et de Canton, et quicquid habent apud Henton, vel alibi. Nulla autem persona, parva vel magna, per debitum, seu per consuetudinem, aut per violentiam, aliquid ab hominibus et terris et possessionibus prædicti monasterii exigat, non equitationem, seu expeditionem, non pontium vel castrorum ædificationem, non veicula, non summagia, non vectigalia, non navigia, non opera, non tributa, non xenia, non lestagia, non tethingpanie, non timpany. Et habeant quietantiam de exartis et ex vastis nemorum.

Nullus verò forestarius regis quicquam se intromittat de boscis abbatis et monachorum, qui sunt in foresta, set omnem libertatem et potestatem, quam habet rex in boscis suis, habeant et monachi in omnibus boscis suis; et sint ipsi et homines eorum et res ipsorum absoluti et liberi à danegeldis, et omnibus geldis, et de hydagio, et portagio, et passagio, et thelonio, et auxilio vicecomitis et præpositorum, et wardiani, et omni alia exactione, in mundinis, in foris quorumcumque sint, in terris, in aquis, in transitibus pontium et maris portuum; per totam Angliam et Normanniam, et per totam terram meam in omnibus rebus, et in omnibus locis. Sintque abbatis et monachorum, de hominibus suis, et de alienis in eis, forisfacientibus, vel ibi cum forisfacto interceptis, placita omnia cum socca et sacca, et tol, et them, et infangenthef, et utfangenthef, et hamsoca, infra burgum et extra, in viis, et semitis, et in omnibus locis. Habeantque abbas et monachi in tota possessione sua omnem justitiam, de assaltu, et sanguinis effusione, et pacis infractione: sintque liberi et quieti de shiris et hundredis, et placitis, et querelis, et omnibus consuetudinibus. Prohibemus etiam, ne pro aliqua causa ponantur in placitum de tenementis suis, nisi coram me vel coram capitali justitia, quia non permitterem judicium fieri de elemosina mea, et antecessorum meorum, nisi coram me. Nec quicquam teneatur de donationibus, quæ factæ sunt per non sapientes abbates de terris et tenementis sancti Walerici, nisi confirmatione conventus, et sigilli ejus appositione.

Volumus igitur et firmiter præcipimus, quod prædicti monachi hæc omnia prædicta, in omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus et quietanciis prædictis, benè et in pace, liberè et quietè, et integrè habeant imperpetuum, et honorificè teneant. T. Rogero episcopo Sarr. et Walderico cancellario; et Reginaldo S. Walerico.

The Abbey of St. Vandrille, anciently called Fontenelle in Normandy.

THIS was a Benedictine Abbey situated in the diocese of Rouen, six or seven leagues from that city, founded according to Neustria Pia by St. Wandregisilius, A.D. 654. The Dukes of Normandy were benefactors to it. It is said soon after its foundation to have had five hundred monks; but a short time before the French revolution the number was reduced as low as twenty.

The church was burnt in 756, and again by the Normans in 862, and was not entirely rebuilt till the year 1033. The nave remained unfinished even at its suppression, and a beautiful centre tower, built 1331, fell down in 1631 for want of repair, and destroyed two thirds of the choir, the nave, south transept, and our Lady's Chapel. The religious of St. Maur, who were soon afterward introduced, rebuilt the whole. The chief property of this Abbey in England was in the counties of Surrey, Dorset, and Cambridgeshire: see these and other entries in the Domesday Survey, tom. i. foll. 34, 65, 65 b, 75, 78 b, 193. Uphaven in Wiltshire and Ecclesfield in Yorkshire were Cells to the Abbey of St. Vandrille.

Philippi Quinti Regis Franciæ et Navarræ Diploma, Ricardi et Roberti Normanniæ Ducum Cartas recitans et confirmans.

[Pat. Nor. 7 Hen. V. p. 2, m. 8. per Inspex. Vide Pat. 7 Hen. V. p. 1. m. 6.

REX omnibus ad quos, &c. Inspeximus quasdam literas patentes inclitæ recordationis domini Philippi quondam Franciæ et Navarræ regis, progenitoris nostri, factas in hæc verba. In nomine sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis, Amen. Philippus Dei gratia Franciæ et Navarræ rex. Inter cætera virtutum preconia, quibus regalem excellentiam condecet venustari, illud credimus esse nec minimum, si ad Dei sacrosanctas ecclesias et maximè religiosas in suorum conservatione jurium se liberalem exhibeat et benignam. Sanè ex parte religiosorum virorum abbatis et conventus monasterii sancti Wandragisili, Rothomagensis diœcesis, quod ab ipso sancto et prædecessoribus nostris Franciæ regibus pia devotione fundatum in nostra existit, cum omnibus suis membris, regali gardia speciali, nobis fuerunt exhibitæ plures literæ, cartæ, atque cyrographi, seu antiquæ scripturæ; qui quidem cyrographi seu scripturæ, nullo sunt, nec unquam fuerunt aliquo sigillo immuniti, jura plurima ejusdem monasterii continentes, qui in suis quibusdam partibus propter vetustatem nimiam, et palpationem frequentem detrimentum aliquod sustinebant, supplicando humiliter et attentè, ut literas, cartas, cyrographos, seu antiquas scripturas hujusmodi, in formam debitam, et scipturam novam redigi, nostroque muniri sigillo regio, juberemus; eosque nostra confirmare auctoritate regia dignaremur. Nos autem progenitorum nostrorum, qui ad sanctas Dei ecclesias piè jugiter gessisse noscuntur devotionis affectum, quantum cum Deo possimus, vestigiis inhærentes, dictorum religiosorum supplicationibus inclinati, literas, cartas, cyrographos, seu antiquas scripturas præfatas, et contenta in eis, ne fides ipsarum sine memoria, propter vetustatem et deteriorationem earundem, deperire futuris temporibus valeat, præfatis religiosis, quatenùs de præmissis ritè et legitimè hactenùs usi fuerunt, et in eorum possessione existunt, auctoritate nostra regia ex certa scientia confirmamus, et in formam communem et scripturam novam redigi mandavimus, sub suis tenoribus; quorum aliqui sequuntur in hæc verba.

Pax ubique hæc elementa legentibus. Quia humana fragilitate præpediti, atque terrena inhabitatione aggravati, in multis offendimus omnes, eorum nobis patrocinia comparare necesse est, qui et carnis impedimenta viriliter abrupere, et mundana fideliter proterentes inseri, cœlestibus meruere. Quod ego Ricardus,[b] nutu Dei Normannorum princeps, advertens, consideratis Fontanellensis cœnobii privilegiis, suggerentibus abbate et fratribus, nisi nonnullas libertates in unum colligere, quæ sub diversis cyrographis habentur, de sancti Wandregisili possessionibus, quia cartæ, quæ plures sunt numero facile aut negligentia sæpè perduntur, aut fraude malignorum furtim subtrahuntur: igitur hæc omnia quæ subterscripta sunt, ab antiquis temporibus usque ad nostra tempora ad Fontanellense monasterium legitimo jure probantur pertinere; Fontanella, ubi constructum esse videtur illud monasterium, quod pristino nomine sic est dictum, cum viculis ad ipsam respicientibus; videlicet Gotvilla, Bethevilla, Resenciaco, Caldebec, Ansgothmoulins, cum omnium earum justicia, alta, et bassa, per totam hebdomadam nundinarum mediæ Quadragesimæ, et arrestis. Insuper totam aquam fluentem ab Ansgothmoulins ad fluvium Secanæ, cum omni piscaria; decimam quoque totius theolonei, quod Rothomagi accipitur: et in suburbio ejusdem urbis, ecclesiam sancti Laurentii cum hospitibus et terra ad eandem pertinente, et consuetudinibus. Et in eadem urbe domum unam similiter de Archis, et ecclesiam, cum decimis et hospitibus, et piscaria per totam hebdomadam præcedentem festum sancti Wandregisili.

Esclaveles et ecclesiam, cum consuetudinibus in foresta Braemonstier, et ecclesiam. Ecclesiam de Freanville cum pertinentiis, et hospitibus. Ecclesiam de Basleyo, cum pertinentiis, Gliscuriam in plano et bosco, cum ecclesia Bethencourt, cum aqua, molendinis, et pratis. Ecclesiam de Guolemecurt, cum decimis, et aliqua parte terrarum. Ecclesiam de Greinville, cum decimis, terris et hospitibus. Et in Cotherianmont vii. hospites. In Bernovilla terram et hospites. In Estrutat, terram et hospites, et unam navem liberam et quietam ad omnem piscationem per omnes portus Normanniæ. In Fiscammio, unum molendinum. Voranast, et Hotot, cum ecclesia et pertinentiis. Et in Scrutavilla ii. hospites. Louvetot et ecclesiam, cum decimis et terris apud Mallenrier. Liberum quoque transitum battorum eorum, sive navium per Sequanam ascendentium aut descendentium, vina aut blada seu aliqua alia portantium, et ab omni coustuma pontagii vel transversi, quantum extenditur justicia mea in pago Bajocassino. Liberiatum cum ecclesiâ, et omnibus suis appendiciis, et ecclesiam de Calvomonte. Ecclesiam de Chens, cum tota decima, et terram unius carrucæ sufficientem, et ix. hospites. Ecclesiam Masinpatric. Basly et eccl. cum decimis, et hospitibus, et uno molendino. Apud Cadomum unum hospitem, et decimam nundinarum de prato.

In Oximensi pago, ecclesiam de Oximis, cum decimis, et duos hospites; et decimam thelonei. Ecclesiam Cambagi, cum decimis et hospitibus et theloneo. Ecclesiam Ulmiri, ecclesiam de Avenele. Ecclesiam de Argentele, cum decimis et hospitibus. Hæc omnia non ex dono alterius, sed ex mea largitione cœnobium Fontanellense in perpetuam teneat, ad restaurationem ejusdem loci; quia malinguis et perversis dudum subversum fuisse dignoscitur. Quæ mea auctoritate corroboro, ac confirmo, ac cum consilio et auctoritate episcoporum et abbatum meorum æterno anathemate ferio eos omnes, qui indè fraude aut violencia aliquid subtraxerint, aut alienaverint, cum testium subter ascriptorum firma astipulatione. Abbey of Clugny, in Burgundy.

THE Abbey of Clugny, situated at a town of that name upon the river Gosne, was founded A.D. 910, by William the First, duke of Aquitaine and Auvergne, upon his own fee. Odo its abbat, A.D. 912, drew up the Rule for its management, which, being adopted by other Monasteries, gave rise to the Cluniac Order, a sufficient account of which has been already given in a former Volume. For the succession of many of the Abbats of Clugny, see the Annals of Bermondsey, MS. Harl. 231. The Church of Clugny was once the largest edifice of its kind in France, 620 feet in length, and 120 in width. The author of "The Alien Priories," vol. ii. p. 104, says the annual income of its abbat was 40,000, that of its monks 60,000 livres. Montacute in Somersetshire, and Lenton in Nottinghamshire, were Cells to this House; to which Stowe adds two Hospitals in London which have been already mentioned. Dugdale has given the copy of one Charter only to the House of Clugny from Roger Earl of Shrewsbury.

Abbey of Aunay, in Normandy.

THIS Abbey was founded for monks of the Cistercian Order, A.D. 1131, by Richard de Humet, constable of Normandy. Limbergh Magna church, in Lincolnshire, given to Aunay by its founder, afterwards became a Cell to the present Abbey. Dugdale has printed a charter of confirmation to Aunay from William de Similleio, the son of Engeran de Humet, of all his forefather's donations. In a second Instrument, Dugdale gives the lease from this Abbey of perpetual farm of the Church of Kirtlington, in Oxfordshire, for the sum of forty shillings a year, to the Prior and Convent of Burcester, in the same county. For further particulars of the Abbey of Aunay, see Neustria Pia, p. 758.

Abbey of Notre Dame du Voeu, at Cherburgh.

THIS was an Abbey of Regular Canons of St. Austin, founded A.D. 1145, by the Empress Matilda, in consequence of a vow to the blessed Virgin, if she got safe to England on the death of her father Henry the First. Her son Henry the Second was acknowledged a co-founder. Dugdale has given his joint charter with his mother for the endowment of this House, and another charter from Henry alone, in which he speaks of this Abbey as endowed by his mother out of her own appropriate estate. In a separate charter Henry himself gives to this House the manor and church of Haghe or Halgh in Lincolnshire, which afterwards became a subordinate Cell. The Priory of St. Helier in Jersey was also appropriated to the Abbey of Notre Dame de Voeu. See farther particulars of this Abbey in Neustria Pia, p. 813.

Abbey of St. Martin and St. Barbara, usually called St. Barbe en Auge, in Normandy.

THIS Abbey, situated on the river Dive, was founded A.D. 1128. Rabellus Camerarius, with the consent of King Henry the First of England, gave the manor of Beccanford, or Bekeford, in Gloucestershire to this House, where a subordinate foundation to St. Barbe en Auge was afterwards established. King Henry the Second's charter of confirmation gives the full details of the early endowment of the parent Abbey. For other particulars the reader may consult Neustria Pia, p. 716.

[Cart. 9 Edw. II. m. 4, m. 7. per Inpex.]

Henr. rex Angliæ, et dux Normanniæ et Aquit. et comes Andeg. archiepiscopis, &c. Sciatis me concessisse, et præsenti carta confirmâsse ecclesiæ S. Martini et Barbaræ de Eschaiolet, et canonicis in eadem Deo servientibus, in perpetuam elemosinam, quicquid eis rationabiliter datum est, sicut carta regis H. avi mei, et carta Rabelli camerarii, et cæterorum donatorum suorum eis testantur; scilicet, ex dono Odonis Stig. terras et prata cum decima parochiæ prædictæ ecclesiæ adjacentis, et totius dominici sui, quod est apud Mansum-Odonis, tam in terris, quàm in vineis, et molendinis, et virgultis, et velleribus, et vitulis, in agnis, et caseis, et porcis et piscibus; et piscariam inter Mansum-Odonis et Eschaiolet. Ex dono Willielmi Mirebel, et Osmundi Roenot, de Sequantia, decimas suas; quarum duas partes primitùs retinebant. Terram etiam quam idem Odo habebat apud Sanctam Mariam Calidam, cum media parte ecclesiæ et decimæ, ita liberè, sicut in dominio suo habebat. Ex dono Serlonis, ex mansione Malg. terram quam apud Brolium de alodio suo habebat. Item ex dono prædicti Odonis, decimas telonii de mansione Odonis ad luminare ecclesiæ, et terram Safredi Wambasarii, et terram Auschetilli Baconis.

In Constantiensi pago, apud Seovillam, terram cum decima unius molendini, et cum decima villanorum ejusdem vici, quam tenebat in suo dominio. Et insuper oblationes capellæ suæ. Item ex dono Rabelli Camerarii in Normannia, totam terram, quam habebat in suo dominio apud Mansum-Odonis, ultra Dinam, ex parte ejusdem ecclesiæ; et prata, et londam propinquam, et hospitari burgenses in tota terra sua liberè et quietè, exceptis bergensibus residentibus in Manso-Odonis; multam etiam suam et hominum suorum et totius terræ suæ quietam; et locum in Dina ad faciendum molendinum, placitaque omnium hominum suorum libera in curia sua, ita quod si ipsi vel eorum homines querelam habuerunt versùs homines illius, in curia ipsorum teneri eam concessit; salvo sibi jure de suis hominibus, sicut in curia sua; et redecimam vini sui ad cellarium suum, præter primam decimam, quæ solito more datur ad torcularia. Decimam etiam totius corredii sui apud tria maneria, citra Secanam; scilicet apud Mansum-Odonis, et Oistriam, et Thornum, et decimam dominici sui de Cadomo, exceptis quatuor solidis, quos habet S. Georgius. Apud Sanctam Mariam Calidam, terram quam Ascelinus de Monasterio tenebat de illo ad firmam, per unam minam frumenti, et campum de vinea. Apud Horstreham unum fordarium, Hugonem scilicet de Gardino, et unam acram terræ ex dono Roberti filii Alani. Et libertatem quam eis concessit piscandi in aqua, et licentiam capiendi lepores in warenna sua propter infirmos et hospites; et quietantiam omnium pecorum suorum in pastione, sicut suorum dominicorum ubicunque habuerit; et unam virgatam terræ in cultura sua pro escambio terræ Safredi quæ fuit necessaria exclusæ molendini sui.

Et x. libratas terræ, quæ eis dedit in Anglia, in soca de Graham; scilicet apud Colesteor. c. sol. apud Hocheston et Sumerdeby quatuor libras, et in molendino de Estoches xx. sol. In valle de Gloecestria totum manerium de Beccheford,[c] et de Aissetona, undè nichil sibi retinuit, nisi, pro amore Dei, tutelam et defensionem.

Totum etiam manerium de Manul-Gerolt, cum pertinentiis suis; scilicet feodum de Huchemaine, quod tenebat Ricardus de Altaribus; et feodum, quod Fulco filius Teobaldi tenet in prædicto manerio, excepta buxeria, ita liberè, sicut ipse Rabellus et pater suus, et antecessores sui meliùs et liberùs illud tenuerunt de antecessoribus meis; et præcarias de ipsa buxeria, sicut semper pertinuerunt ad Manul-Gerolt; et vivarium suum desuper Mansum-Odonis; et totum boscum suum de S. Maria Calida, sine omni retenemento. Et in Caleto capellam de S. Michaele, quam tenuerunt in suo dominio. Præterea quæcunque prædictæ ecclesiæ à quocunque suorum hominum dabuntur, vel venandabuntur, vel escambientur, salvo jure domini, nisi ultrò concesserit. Pacem etiam faciam inter canonicos et Adam de Maigneio, de quadam terra, quam Rabellus dederat super Dinam, versùs Maigneium, præfatæ ecclesiæ, ita ut dimidia remaneret in dominico canonicorum, et dimidiam teneret Adam de ipsis in feodo, per servicium præstandi unum equum bis in anno ad necessaria itinera eorum infra Normanniam; et eundi ad placita eorum, et alia negotia citra v. vel vii. leugas convenienter. Terram etiam quam Lega uxor Roberti de Albetot dedit prædictæ ecclesiæ, et ipse Robertus posuit super altare, et mansuram Ricardi Freschet, cum terra sua et escambium quod factum est inter ipsos canonicos et Odonem decanum, cum filiis suis, Tho. et Will. Præterea ex dono Theod. de Menul-Maug, capellariam suam de Menel-Maug, et totam tenuram Rob. de Hotot, quam tenebat de eo. Ex dono Rog. de Pilevilla libertatem capiendi terram in maresco de Pilevilla, ad focum suum imperpetuum, sicut ad proprium focum ipsius Rabelli. Et ipsorum cononicorum burgensibus, libertatem eandem, ut ibidem capiant terram ad focum suum, sicut burgenses de Manso-Odonis. Et escambium quod fecit Hugo de Manso-Odonis cum prædictis canonicis; scil. totam terram suam, quam habebat juxta viam versùs Londam, pro qua ipsi dederunt Hugoni duas acras terræ super Dinam, et dimidiam acram ad veterem calciatam subtus Londam; et xiv^{s}. sterlingorum, et iv^{d}. De dono Mariæ filiæ Herberti Preschei dimid. acram terræ. De dono Riculst de Perorio unam virgatam terræ ad quadrariam. Ex dono Mathei Buscardi terram quam habebat inter boscum de S. Maria Calida, et Cathechemille; scil. vallem Buscardi, et Lefajel, et terram de Fonte-vulpis; et totam tenuram Gaufridi Gualdin, cum toto redditu et serviciis, liberam et quietam imperpetuum.

Priory of Bellencombre.

THIS Priory, in the Pays de Caux, of the Order of St. Austin, was founded by the lords de la Heuze; at what time is uncertain: the charter from the Warren family, however, printed by Dugdale, shows it to have been before the year 1135. The author of the "Alien Priories" says, "Here seem to have been two distinct Priories, afterwards united in one." Du Monstier's Neustria Pia takes no notice of this House; though it is mentioned in the Descr. de la Haute Norm. tom. i. p. 170.

Priory of Fougeres, in the Diocese of Rennes.

THE Priory of Fougeres, situated in a town of that name in Britanny, upon the borders of Normandy, was founded about A.D. 1163. Dugdale has contented himself with giving two Instruments relating to the admission of the Canons of this House to the parsonage of Chesthunt, in Hertfordshire. Ipelpen, in Devonshire, has been already mentioned as a Cell to this House established upon the lands given to Fougeres by one of the family de Fulgeriis.

Hospital of the Holy Ghost, at Rome.

THIS Hospital, from an Entry upon the Escheat roll of the 20th Edw. III. appears to have been founded at Rome for the benefit of the English, and was sometimes called St. Mary de Saxia and sometimes Hospitale Anglorum. The Church of Writtle in Essex has been already noticed, as having been given to it by King John.

Hospitale S. Spiritus, in urbe Romana.

De Ecclesia de Wrytele in Essexia ad dictum Hospitale spectante.

[Esc. 20 Edw. III. n. 68.]

Juratores dicunt super sacramentum suum, quod ecclesia de Wrytele, cum pertinentiis suis, non tenetur seu oneratur ad aliquas cantarias, sustentationes pauperum et infirmorum, seu ad aliquas alias diversas elemosinas faciendas et inveniendas in dicta ecclesia de Wrytele, nisi tantummodò ad usus et sustentationes pauperum et infirmorum in Hospitali apud ecclesiam S. Mariæ in Saxia, in urbe Romana constructo, quod Hospitale S. Spiritus communiter nuncupatur: et quod quidem Hospitale Anglorum dicitur, et Anglorum fuit hospicio deputatum, prout in carta domini Johannis quondam regis Angliæ, progenitoris domini regis nunc, qui dedit dictam ecclesiam de Wrytele, cum pertinentiis suis, dicto Hospitali, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, ad usus et sustentationes pauperum et infirmorum illius Hospitalis pleniùs continetur, et prout carta de confirmatione domini regis nunc super eandem ratificata testatur. Dicunt etiam, quod custodes predictæ ecclesiæ de Wrytele nullas cantarias, sustentationes pauperum et infirmorum, aut aliquas alias diversas elemosinas ante hæc tempora fecerunt, seu facere consueverunt, nisi de mera voluntate custodium prædictæ ecclesiæ de Wrytele pro tempore ibidem existentium. Blanche Lande Abbey, in Normandy.

THIS Abbey was founded for Premonstratensian canons by Richard de Haye, constable of Normandy, A.D. 1155. The vill of Cameringham in Lincolnshire, afterwards a Cell to this Abbey, formed a portion of its first endowment. Dodo Bardus gave the canons here a rent of four marks of silver from his manor of Folingeham. See more of this House in Dumonstier's Neustria Pia, p. 842.

Omnibus sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Nicholaa de Haya, filia Ricardi de Haya, salutem in Domino. Noverit universitas vestra, quod ego in libera viduitate et potestate mea constituta, confirmavi Deo et abbatiæ S. Nicholai de Blancalanda, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, pro salute animæ meæ et antecessorum et successorum meorum; totam villam de Kambringham, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis infra villam et extra, quam dictus Ricardus pater meus, et mater mea illis dederunt in puram et perpetuam elemosinam. Habendam et tenendam liberè, quietè, et pacificè ab omni seculari servicio et exactione, cum omnibus libertatibus et aisiamentis ad prædictam villam pertinentibus. Cæteras autem terras et alia dona, quæ sunt de feodo meo, quæ illis collata sunt, de donis hominum liberorum meorum, illis confirmavi in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, sicut cartæ donatorum legaliter et rationabiliter testantur. Ut autem hæc mea confirmatio rata sit et stabilis imperpetuum, eam sigilli mei appositione corroboravi. Abbey of Beauport, in Britanny.

DUGDALE in the former edition of the Monasticon placed this Abbey in Normandy. It was, however, in the diocese of Avranches, and itself a Cell to the Abbey of La Luzerne. It was founded by Alan earl of Britanny and his countess Petronilla, whose charter, dated in 1202, gives, among other possessions in Lincolnshire, the Church of West Ravendale, which subsequently became a subordinate establishment to Beauport.

Mathæo, situm juxta Rothomagum ultra pontem, cum prato, gardino, et omnibus pertinentiis suis, sicut idem archiepiscopus ea antea tenebat et possidebat, in quo quidem loco priùs Fratres Prædicatores habitare solebant: Nos desiderantes ut in eodem loco Domino perpetuò serviretur, ad honorem ipsius Domini nostri, bonorum omnium largitoris, congregationem quandam religiosarum mulierum ibidem collocari fecimus, quæ habitum et ordinem S. Dominici susceperunt, et eidem ordini incorporatæ, curæ et custodiæ Fratrum Prædicatorum, auctoritate apostolicâ sunt commissæ. Quibus, priorissæ viz. et sororibus, divini amoris intuitu, et ob remedium animæ nostræ, et animarum inclitæ recordationis Ludovici regis, progenitoris nostri, et reginæ Blanchæ genetricis nostræ, ac aliorum antecessorum nostrorum, donamus et concedimus in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, locum ipsum, dictum de S. Mathæo, cum ædificiis, tam veteribus, quàm novis, à nobis postea constructis; necnon prato, gardino, et pertinentiis omnibus, ab eis imperpetuum quietè et pacificè possidendis. Insuper quadringentas libras Turonensium annui redditus, percipiendas imperpetuum in vicecomitatu nostro aquæ Rothomag. medietatem, viz. ad scaccarium S. Michaelis, et aliam medietatem ad scaccarium Paschæ: quam pecuniæ summam volumus et concedimus eis reddi de primis denariis, qui ad mensam scaccarii, de dicto vicecomitatu afferentur, per manum illius, qui pecuniam vicecomitatus prædicti recipiet vice nostrâ.

Et præter hoc capellam nostram de Glapion, cum redditibus omnibus pertinentibus ad eandem, quam antea, de consensu diœcesani, concesseramus eisdem. Donamus etiam et concedimus eisdem, in forestâ nostrâ Roverii, juxta Rothomagum, perpetuum usagium, liberum et quietum, viz. de bosco ad ardendum in domo suâ prædictâ, per liberationem forestarii, et in eadem forestâ usagium bosci ad ædificandum, cum opus fuerit, in eadem domo, et aliis domibus et grangiis suis, si quas fuerint habituræ, percipiendum similiter per liberationem forestarii nostri, qui pro tempore fuerit, sine difficultate quacunque. Concedentes etiam eisdem, ut in eadem forestâ lx. porcos imperpetuum habeant ad pasnagium, liberè et quietè; ita quod si aliquando dictum pasnagium deficeret in dicta foresta, poterint mittere dictos sexaginta porcos ad alias forestas nostras, ubi esset pasnagium, similiter liberè et quietè. Insuper eisdem sororibus concedimus, ut imperpetuum habeant xxx. capita vaccarum, et Cathedral Church of Rouen, in Normandy.

THE Reader who would enter minutely into the details of the history of this Church, must consult Pommeraye's Histoire de l'Eglise Cathedrale de Rouen, 4to.

The first Church at Rouen is said to have been built about the year 270: three hundred and thirty years subsequently, this edifice was succeeded by another, the joint work of St. Romain and St. Ouen, which was burnt in the incursions of the Normans, about the year 842. Fifty years of Paganism succeeded; at the expiration of which period, Rollo embraced the faith of Christ, and Rouen saw once more within its walls, by the munificence and piety of the conqueror, a place of Christian worship. Richard Ist, grandson of this Duke, and his son Robert, the archbishop, enlarged the edifice in the middle of the tenth century; but it was still not completed till 1063, when, according to Ordericus Vitalis, it was dedicated by the archbishop Maurilius with great pomp, in the presence of William Duke of Normandy and the bishops of the Province. Of this building, however, notwithstanding what is said by Ducarel and other authors, it is certain that nothing more remains than a part of St. Romain's tower, and possibly two of the western entrances: though the present structure is believed to occupy the same spot.[a]

The Cathedral Church of Rouen is one of those which suffered least in the outrages of 1793: and remains one of the finest Structures of Normandy, in what the English call the Gothic style. Cotman has engraved two very beautiful Views of its exterior. The following are its dimensions: Length of interior, 408 feet; width of ditto, 83; length of nave, 210 feet; width of nave, 27; width of aisles, 15; length of choir, 110 feet by 35½; length of transept, 164; length of Lady Chapel, 88 feet; height of spire, 380; height of towers at the west end, 230 feet; ditto of nave, 84; height of interior of central tower, 152 feet; French measure.[b]

To Dugdale's Extracts from our public Records respecting the possessions of this Cathedral in England, the present Editors have added the Entries relating to it preserved in the Domesday Survey.

Nunnery of St. John Baptist, at Cork.

The foundation of this Abbey of Nuns is stated in an Inquisition of the 29th of Edward the First, in which it appears that William and John de Barry with John Fitz-Gilbert and Philip Fitz-Robert gave various parcels of land, tithes, and advowsons of churches to Agnes de Hereford and other women to serve God in the habit of nuns in a House dedicated to St. John Baptist, in St. John's Street, in the suburb of Cork. Archdale says that this Nunnery, of which there are now no remains, was situated near the present market-house of Cork.[a]

Abbey of Downpatrick.

ARCHDALE ascribes the first foundation of this Abbey to St. Patrick, who was interred therein A.D. 493. Its original inhabitants were secular canons. In 1185 the secular canons were dismissed, and monks of the Order of St. Benedict from St. Werburgh's, Chester, placed herein by Sir John de Courcy, who at the same time changed the dedication of this place from the Holy Trinity to St. Patrick. Malachy bishop of Down, who died in 1201, and Hugh Lacy earl of Ulster, were considerable benefactors to this House, as will be seen in the charter of Inspeximus of the 41st Edw. III. In 1220, as appears from a petition in Rymer's Fœdera, tom. i. p. 250, the monks of Downpatrick besought Henry the Third to assist them in rebuilding their church, which had been then recently destroyed in the wars. The issue of this petition is not recorded: the Abbey, however, is said to have been again destroyed by Edward Bruce at the head of his army of Scots, A.D. 1316; and in 1538 the lord deputy Gray destroyed it for the third time. The Site and lands of Downpatrick were granted, upon the Suppression, to Gerald earl of Kildare. Considerable remains of this Abbey are still in existence. Archdale has preserved the names of ten of its Priors.

Testibus, Malachia Dunensi episcopo, &c."

Inspeximus etiam quandam aliam cartam Johannis de Curci, in hæc verba: "Sciant tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Johannes de Curci, ex parte domini mei regis Angliæ, dedi, et hac mea carta concessi ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis de Dune, terram dextra parte S. Georgii intrantibus murum, usque ad curiam S. Columbæ; et de curia S. Columbæ, per vicum juxta crucem S. Moninnæ, usque ad murum et Mungona, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, tam in terris quàm in civitate, sicuti meliùs et liberiùs Hibernienses habuerunt et tenuerunt, &c. Hiis testibus, domino episcopo R. de Conere, &c."

Inspeximus, &c. "Sciant omnes, tam præsentes quàm futuri, quod ego Johannes de Curci dedi, &c. Deo et ecclesiæ S. Patricii de Duno, et Andræo priori et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, quamlibet decimam vaccam, et quodlibet decimum animal, de omnibus prædis meis, et de omnibus adquisitis, et purchaciis meis de animalibus factis, ab aqua de Lenard versùs austrum; præterquam de Art, quocunque modo factis, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè, &c. pro salute animæ meæ et matris meæ; et pro animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum; et pro animabus omnium illorum, qui consilium et auxilium michi impendent ad conquissendum Ultoniam. Testibus, Jordano de Curci fratre meo; Ricardo filio Roberti senescallo meo, &c." Nos autem tenores cartarum prædictarum, &c. duximus exemplificandas. In cujus, &c. Nunnery of Grany, in the County of Kildare.

GRANY, says Archdale, is situated a mile and a half from Castledermot, in the baronies of Kilkea and Moon. The Nunnery here was founded about the year 1200, and dedicated to St. Mary, by Walter de Riddlesford; but whether it was for canonesses of the Order of St. Austin, or of the Order of St. Brigid, seems undetermined.

Pope Innocent IIId, in a bull dated in the month of May, 1207, which follows this Account, enumerates the particulars of Walter de Riddlesford's endowment, which was also confirmed by King John in the ninth year of his reign.

Archdale notices MARGERY as Prioress of Grany in 1409. He says, "In the patent for suppressing this Nunnery, and placing the Prioress and Nuns in other Houses in the year 1535, before the general Dissolution of Monasteries, it is injudiciously placed in the county of Carlow. This Nunnery paid ten marks and forty pence proxies to the archbishop.

"Ægidia Wale, the last prioress, 20th July, 30th Hen. VIII., was seized of the manor of Grany, and of one hundred mesuages, twenty carucates of land in Grany, Little Daneston, Plankeston, Brodeston, Horganston, and Calrigeston, the same being of the annual value of xxiii^{s}.; that the said Prioress was also seized of the rectories of Grany, Aghirballyhaket, Kyltegan, Kylkorney, Kylmore, Kylcashell, and Kylpype, and the third part of the rectory of Dunlekner, the whole situate and lying in the county of Carlow, of the yearly value of 22l., besides all reprizes; and George, archbishop of Dublin, was also seized of the annual rent of liii^{s}. iiij^{d}., payable out of the rectory of Donabate, in the county of Dublin, parcel of the possessions of this Monastery."[a]

The rectories of the Churches of St. Patrick, Donabate, Kylmacud, and Brey, in the county of Dublin, appropriated to this Monastery, had previously been demised to Thomas Porsivike, rector of Lyonys, and John Fitz-Simon, of Dublin, merchant, with their tithes and other emoluments, for the term of sixty years, at a rent of ten marks of silver, Irish money.[b]

May 4th, 34th Henry VIIIth, the Site of this Monastery with its chief possessions were granted in fee to Sir Anthony St. Leger, Knight.

Grany, says Archdale, is now a burial-place of note. Bishop Pococke, in his Itinerary, has particularly observed upon its ruins.

Priory of Kilcomin, in the County of Tipperary.

THIS Priory, in the barony of Kilnelongarty, nine miles west of Holy Cross, and thirteen and a half from Thurles, was founded, as we learn from Dugdale, by Philip de Wigornia, or Worcester, who was chief governor of Ireland in 1184. It was dedicated to St. Philip and St. James, and St. Cumin, and was colonized with monks from the Abbey of Glastonbury, in Somersetshire. Archdale has no additional intelligence relating to this House.

Prioratus de Kilcumyn.

De Fundatione ejusdem.

[Ex Cod. MS. in bibl. Cotton. authore Joh. monacho.Glastoniæ, f. 101.]

QUIDAM Philippus de Wigornia dictus, constabularius Hiberniæ factus, contulit monasterio Glastoniensi villam de Kilcumyn, cum ecclesia ejusdem villæ, et centum carucatas terræ, quietas ab omnibus secularibus serviciis et liberis consuetudinibus, cum ecclesiis et capellis, burgis, &c. fundans et ædificans ibidem collegium sive prioratum monachorum in honorem sanctorum apostolorum Philippi et Jacobi, atque sancti Cumini. Quod et factum est. Nam missus est illuc à Glastonia quidam Jacobus, cum aliis ejusdem loci monachis, et factus est ibi prior primus.

Monastery of Neddrum, in the County of Down.

SIR JOHN DE COURCY, who reduced Ulster in 1177, two years after, appears to have given to the Monastery of St. Bees, in Coupland, the church in the island of Neddrum, with two-thirds of the land, issues, and profits of the Island: whereupon it should seem that a company of monks were established here. Roger de Dunesforth, an undertenant of the founder, who was still alive, in 1194, gave expressly to the monks of Neddrum the church of Anelori, with various other possessions. Brian de Eschalers also, probably in the same year, gave them a carucate of land in Balichatlan. John, the cardinal legate, in 1202, confirmed the different grants to this House in a charter addressed to Walrann prior of Neddrum, and his successors. All these charters follow the present Account.

Archdale says, " This Abbey did not long exist; the cause of which does not appear. We cannot find an Island of the name of Neddrum; but probably it may be the largest of the Copland Islands."[a]

JOHANNES, miseratione divina, tituli sancti Stephani in Cœlio-monte presbyteri cardinalis, sedis apostolicæ legatus, dilecto filio Walranno priori de Neddrum, et successoribus ejus, salutem et benedictionem. Dignum est et rationi consentaneum, ut viros religiosos, quos divinis officiis novimus cotidie mancipatos, ampliora cura, et sollicitudine foveamus, et eorum petitiones debeamus, quantum cum Deo possumus, promovere; ea propter, dilecti fili in Domino, justis vestris postulationibus clementer annuimus, et personas vestras, et successorum vestrorum, sub beati Petri, et domini papæ, et nostra protectione suscipimus, et vos super hoc præsentis scripti patrocinio communimus. Statuentes, ut possessiones, terras, villas, &c. et bona quæ nunc de concessione nobilis viri Johannis de Curci, seu aliorum proborum virorum justè et pacificè possidetis, sive in futurum, Domino dante, justis modis poteritis adipisci, vobis, et successoribus vestris firma et illibata permaneant. In quibus hæc propriis duximus exprimenda vocabulis; locum scil. in quo domus vestra sita est. Ex donatione memorati Johannis de Curci ecclesiam, in insula quæ vocatur Neddrum, fundatam, cum duabus partibus ejusdem insulæ, et cum duabus partibus totius terræ, quæ ad eandem ecclesiam pertinet, et totam terram illam quæ fuit Gillanharna in Duffran, et tres insulas in Lochwene, quarum nomina sunt hæc; Scatra, Raynche, et Crafne. Ex donatione verò Jurdani de Curci, xv. carucatas terræ, cum decimatione domus suæ.

Ex præsentatione autem Heliæ de Cestria ecclesiam de Balimer, in qua construitur castellum ejus, cum omnibus ecclesiasticis beneficiis ad eandem ecclesiam pertinentibus, et unam carrucatam terræ in eadem villa ex dono Baldwini. Ex præsentatione autem Ricardi Masculi omnes ecclesias, et capellas totius terræ suæ, quas habet in Ultonia, de dono domini sui Johannis de Curci, et de dono aliorum virorum, tam in Clenelhireth, quàm in Lesmochan, et in aliis locis, cum omnibus ecclesiasticis beneficiis, ad easdem ecclesias, et capellas pertinentibus. Et unam carrucatam terræ in Thweth, quæ vocatur Clenesperth, ex dono Stephani Locardi. Ex dono Rogeri de Crost, et Gilberti fratris ejus, duas carrucatas terræ. Decernimus autem ne cui liceat personas vestras molestare, redditus, possessiones, et cætera bona vestra minuere, subtrahere, vel in aliquo perturbare, sed omnia integra et illibata permaneant eorum pro quorum gubernatione, et sustentatione sunt collata, usibus omnimodis profutura. Indulgemus quoque vobis, ut in terris in quibus de episcoporum concessione ecclesiastica beneficia canonicè possidetis, liceat vobis ea per omnia liberè tenere, salva in omnibus apostolicæ sedis autoritate, et diœcesani episcopi canonica justitia. Nulli igitur omninò hominum liceat hanc nostræ protectionis et confirmationis paginam infringere, vel ei ausu temerario contraire. Si quis autem hoc attemptare præsumpserit, indignationem omnipotentis Dei, et beatorum Petri et Pauli apostolorum ejus, domini papæ et nostram se noverit incursurum. Anno Domini MCII. et anno quinto pontificatus domini papæ Innocentii tertii, mense Junii ix. die stante. Datum Duni.

Priory of Ocymild.

NOTHING more is known of this Priory than Dugdale has extracted from the Chronicle of John of Glastonbury, viz. that William be Burgh, probably about the year 1202, gave the vill of Ardimur, its church, and appurtenances, to one Richard, a monk of that Abbey, to found a Priory to the honour of God and the Virgin Mary; which being done, the place was called Ocymild, and Richard was appointed the first Prior.

Archdale says, It is thus mentioned in the Monasticon Anglicanum; but Allemande changes the name to Drymild, and conjectures it to have been in the county of Antrim. If Drymild, he adds, be the true reading, we may with some probability suppose it to be Drumwillen, near Ballycastle.[a]

Prioratus de Ochmild.

De Fundatione ejusdem.

[Ex Cod. MS. in bibl. Cotton. authore Joh. monacho Glaston. f. 101 b.]

ALIUS quoque vir, nomine Willielmus de Burgo, circa idem tempus, dedit cuidam Ric. monacho Glaston. quandam villam in Hibernia quæ vocatur Ardimur, cum ecclesia, et omnibus pertinentiis, &c. Dedit etiam quandam domum religionis ad sui ordinis professionem construendam in honorem Dei, et beatæ Mariæ virginis. Fundato igitur ibidem prioratu, vocatus est locus ille Ocymild; prædictusque Ricardus factus est ibidem primus prior.

Monastery of Arklow,

In the County of Wicklow; a Cell to Furness Abbey.

ARCHDALE states that Theobald Fitz-Walter, fourth butler of Ireland, founded this Monastery for Dominican friars, but his charter, here given by Dugdale, appears to point at a Cistercian foundation. The abbat and convent of Furness, who supplied it with its first inhabitants, were witnesses to the founder's charter. Friars, however, appear subsequently to have formed the Convent: and Pope John XXII. granted an indulgence to all persons visiting this Friary on certain festivals, and giving alms to the friars. Archdale says that in the 31st Hen. VIII. the Prior here was seized of the Church and belfry, Chapter-House, Dormitory, Hall, three Chambers, a Store, Kitchen, Cemetery, and Garden containing two acres; with two Parks, and three acres of land of the great measure of Arklow, and four mesuages in the said town; annual value, besides reprises, 29*s.* 10*d.*

On the 4th Feb. 35th Hen. VIIIth the Site and demesne of this Priory were granted for ever to John Travers in capite, at the annual rent of 2*s.* 2*d.* Irish money.

Large ruins of this noble structure still remain.[b]

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, per Theobaldum Walteri, Pincernam Hiberniæ.

[Ex autogr. in bibl. Cotton.]

OMNIBUS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, Theobaldus Walteri, pincerna Hiberniæ, salutem in Domino. Sciatis me pro amore Dei, et beatæ Dei genitricis virginis Mariæ, et pro salute animæ H. regis Angl. et pro salute animæ regis Ricardi, et pro salute animæ Johannis regis Angliæ, et pro anima Ranulphi de Glainvill, et pro salute animæ comitis Willielmi Marescalli, et pro salute animæ domini H. Dedi etiam eis totam marinam, cum omnibus salinis prædictæ terræ, usque ad terram Moricii filii Moricii, cum wrecca maris, excepta terra et salina abbatis et monachorum de Balkinglas. Præterea dedi eis insulam de Arkelo, ad fundandam ibi unam abbatiam de ordine Cisterciensi, vel alibi ubi viderint, quod fuerit utilius et convenientius ad opus eorum infra eandem terram, et medietatem aquæ prædictæ, cum piscatione, et cum tota venatione, in quantum terra eorum se extendit; et cum omnibus Hibernicis ad prædictam terram pertinentibus, et cum tota sequela eorum, et cum omnibus catallis suis. Hæc omnia dedi eis in liberam, et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam; habenda et tenenda sicut ulla elemosina liberiùs, et quietiùs, dari et teneri poterint, in bosco, in plano, in pratis, pascuis, et pasturis, in moris, muscis, et mariscis, in aquis et molendinis, in madido et sicco, et in omnibus aisiamentis, quæ infra prædictam sunt et esse possunt. Et ego et hæredes mei illos prædictos monachos de omni seculari servitio et demanda adquietabimus, et eis terram illam contra omnes homines, ad posse nostrum, warantizabimus. Hiis testibus, H. Cantuariensi archiepiscopo. Abbey of Beaubec, in the County of Meath.

OF this Monastery, situated at a short distance from Drogheda, our whole information is derived from the charters preserved by Dugdale. Walter de Lacy lord of Meath, in King John's time, appears to have granted to the Abbey of Beaubec in Normandy certain lands in the town of Kilkerran, the liberty of keeping a boat free of toll, &c. These lands, it should seem, immediately took the name of Beaubec. King Edward the Third, in the 6th year of his reign, granted a licence to the abbat of Beaubec in Normandy to assign the manor of Beaubec near Drogheda, with certain mesuages, lands, and payments, to the Abbat and Convent of Furness in Lancashire, soon after which, it is probable, a Cell to Furness was established here: at least we have no certain and distinct account of an earlier Cell. In 1348, King Edward the Third granted a charter which immediately follows the present Account, and which recites all the charters which had been granted up to that time, relating to Beaubec near Drogheda.

[Claus. 22 Edw. III. p. 1, m. .]

Rex dilecto et fideli suo Rogero Darcy escaetori suo Hiberniæ, vel ejus locum tenenti, salutem. Cum Walterus de Lascy dudum per cartam suam dedisset et concessisset Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ et S. Laurentii de Bello Becco, et monachis ibidem residentibus et Deo servientibus, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, totum dominicum carucarum suarum, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quod habuit vel habere potuit in villâ de Killekerran; similiter et totam terram quam Bethani et Anglici habuerunt et tenuerunt de ipso Waltero in eadem villâ de Killekeran, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quæ quidem tenementa nunc manerium de Bello Becco nuncupantur, ut dicitur; tenendum et habendum totum dominium prædictum, et totam terram prædictam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis de ipso Waltero, et hæredibus suis, eisdem monachis, et successoribus suis in perpetuum, in liberâ, purâ, et perpetuâ elemosinâ, adeo liberè, et quietè, in omnibus locis, et in omnibus rebus, cum omnibus libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, sicut unquam elemosina aliqua alicui domui religiosæ meliùs, liberiùs, et pleniùs collata fuit, et concessa, libera et quieta ab omni seculari servicio et demandâ: necnon in liberâ, purâ, et perpetuâ elemosinâ unum burgagium in villâ Marinariorum, cum libertate habendi unum batellum ad usus proprios, sine telonio, consuetudine, vel demanda; subsequenterque celebris memoriæ dominus H. quondam rex Angliæ proavus noster, pro se et hæredibus suis, concessisset et per cartam suam confirmâsset Deo et monachis prædictis, donationem et concessionem, quas præfatus Walterus eis fecit de toto dominico carucarum suarum supradicto, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et de tota terra prædicta, quam Bethani et Anglici habuerunt et tenuerunt; et de dicto burgagio, cum libertate habendo dictum batellum; habendum et tenendum in liberam elemosinam, sicut carta prædicti Walteri, in quâ prædicta donatio et concessio pleniùs continetur, rationabiliter testatur. Ac postmodum abbas et conventus dicti loci de Bello Becco, ordinis Cisterciensis, de[a] licentiâ nostrâ priùs habitâ, pro se et successoribus suis, dedissent, concessissent, et per cartam suam confirmâssent, dilectis nobis in Christo, abbati et conventui de Furneys, dictum manerium suum de Bello Becco, cum pertinentiis suis in Hiberniâ, et quicquid habuerunt in Hiberniâ, tam in dominico, quàm in servicio, sine ullo retenemento; habendum et tenendum prædictis abbati et conventui et successoribus suis in perpetuum, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, adeo liberè et integrè, sicut iidem abbas et conventus de Bello Becco, et prædecessores sui, ex feoffamentis feoffatorum suorum, ea liberiùs et integriùs tenebant. Et nos etiam habitâ consideratione ad hoc, quod donatio et concessio, quas prædictus Walterus fecit præfatis monachis de Bello Becco, de prædictis terris et tenementis in Gilkeran, quæ nunc manerium de Bello Becco nuncupantur, et quas præfatus progenitor noster, per dictam cartam suam, anno videlicet regni sui vicesimo, confirmavit, ut præmittitur, factæ fuerunt diù ante publicationem statuti de terris et tenementis ad manum mortuam non ponendis editi; volentes securitati prædictorum abbatis et conventus de Furneys, ad quorum manus terræ et tenementa illa, nunc manerium de Bello Becco nominata, sic ex adquisito devenerunt providere, donationes et concessiones supradictas, tam videlicet prædictorum abbatis et conventus de Bello Becco, quàm ipsius Walteri, præfatis abbati et conventui de Furneys, concesserimus et confirmaverimus, sicut cartæ eorundem abbatis et conventus de Bello Becco, quam ipsius Walteri, ac dicti progenitoris nostri rationabiliter testantur. Nolentes quod idem abbas et conventus de Furneys vel eorum successores, super possessiones manerii prædicti, ratione adquisitionum prædictarum, vel dicti statuti, seu pro eo quod terræ et tenementa prædicta, de progenitoribus nostris tenebantur in capite, ut dicitur, inquietentur, impediantur in aliquo, seu graventur, sed quod iidem abbas et conventus de Fourneys, et dicti successores sui, prædicta terras et tenementa, manerium de Bello Becco sic nominata, habeant et teneant juxta formam adquisitionem prædictarum, sine occasione vel impedimento nostri vel hæredum nostrorum, justiciariorum, escaetorum, vicecomitum, aut aliorum balivorum, seu ministrorum nostrorum quorumcunque in perpetuum, prout in literis nostris patentibus indè confectis pleniùs continetur; vobis mandamus, quod manum nostram de manerio prædicto, quod per mortem fratris Johannis de Cokerham, ultimi abbatis de Fourneys, cepistis in manum nostram, ut dicitur, si eâ occasione, et non aliâ, in manu nostrâ existat, sine dilatione amoventes, vos indè ulteriùs non intromittatis, exitus si quos indè perceperitis fratri Alexandro nunc abbati et conventui dicti loci de Fourneys liberantes. Teste R. apud Westmonasterium quarto die Maii.

IRISH MONASTERIES

OF THE

CISTERCIAN ORDER.

Abbey of Dunbrody, in the County of Wexford.

THIS Abbey was founded about or soon after the year 1178 by Hervey de Montemorency marshal of Ireland, as a Cell to the English Abbey of Bildewas. Richard Earl of Pembroke to whom Hervey was seneschal, was also a benefactor to this House.

Archdale, from Harris's MS. Collections, states, that in 1182 the Abbat and Monks of Bildewas made a cession to the Cistercian Abbey of the blessed Virgin Mary at Dublin of the whole right and claim which they possessed by the grant of Henry over the new foundation of Dunbrody; John Lord of Ireland, in the lifetime of his father, having confirmed Hervey's grant.

Walter Earl of Pembroke confirmed to Dunbrody the grants of Hervey and Earl Richard, about the year 1296. See his charter below, Num. II., as recited in an Inspeximus of the 22 Edw. III.

In 1380, it was enacted by Parliament that no mere Irishman should be suffered to profess himself in this Abbey.

Henry the IVth granted a confirmation of the rights and possessions of this Abbey in 1402.

DAMIN was abbat of this House in 1308. PHILIP DE CHICHULL, 1340. WILLIAM DE ROSSE occurs in 1355. DAVID DE CORNWALSHE occurs 1363, and 1390. JOHN DEVELYN occurs 1394. JOHN CALF, 1418. ALEXANDER DEVEREUX, 1522; he surrendered Dunbrody, and was consecrated bishop of Ferns, in 1539.

The Site and possessions of Dunbrody Abbey were granted 4th October, 37th Hen. VIIIth, in capite to Osborne Itchingham, at the annual rent of 70*s.* 6*d.* Irish money.

Carta Regis Edwardi Tertii, Donationem Walteri Marescalli Comitis Pembrochiæ recitans et confirmans.

REX omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam, quam Walterus Marescallus, quondam comes Pembrochiæ, fecit abbatiæ de Portu S. Mariæ, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, ordinis Cisterciensis, in hæc verba: "Walterus Mareschallus comes Pembrochiæ, universis hominibus suis, Francis, Anglicis, Walensibus, et Hibernicis, et omnibus præsentem cartam visuris vel audituris, salutem. Sciatis me, pro amore Dei, et pro salute animæ meæ, et pro animabus bonæ memoriæ Willielmi Marescalli patris mei, et Isabellæ matris meæ, fratrum et sororum meorum, et omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum, hac præsenti cartâ meâ, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam confirmâsse abbatiæ de Portu S. Mariæ, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, ordinis Cisterciensis, has terras subscriptas, de dono comitis Ricardi et Hervici de Monte-morecy sibi collatas; scil. Archfitheny, Crostormock; et cum plano nemus ibi per fluctum; et sic cursum per aquam quæ vocatur Kempul, usque ad quendam torrentem, qui venit ab australi parte et cadit in Kempul apud Malpas; et de Malpas, per viam quæ ducit ad Tachmone. Has verò terras, cum prædictis terris, concessi et confirmavi eis, scil. Kalacrum, et Cusduf, et Rathcron, et Coillath, et Tychegan, et Lestolenan, et Tyregoneran, et Knyllescard, et Baligone, et sic per torrentem qui est in oriente de Baligone, et in occidente Drumgulput sit ille torrens terræ illorum ibi, sicut ille torrens descendit in aquam de Banewa: et indè publicâ viâ, quæ ducit de eadem aquâ per extra nemus usque ad Balistragh terminus est terræ illorum, inter eos et nigros monachos, ita quod planum quod est inter viam et nemus, et ipsum nemus in parte illorum sit, et planum ex alterâ parte viæ sit nigrorum monachorum.

"Dedi etiam eis Doncanan et Dombrothy, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Concessi etiam pro me et hæredibus meis eidem abbaciæ, et carta mea confirmavi, quicquid ei poterint in futuro rationabiliter pia donatione et devotione, seu venditione fidelium, salvo servicio meo et hæredum meorum provenire. Volo igitur et firmiter statuo, ut abbatia prænominata, et abbas et monachi illius loci, habeant et teneant omnes prædictas terras, et tenementa prænominata, cum ec-clesiis et capellis, et omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus suis, cum sok, et sak, et thol, et them, et infangethef, benè et in pace, &c. Et habeant sibi omnimodam forisfacturam propriorum hominum suorum, solâ justiciâ vitæ et membrorum mihi et hæredibus meis retentâ. Et per omnes forestas meas pasturam habeant animalium suorum quietam; scil. ad quater viginti vaccas, cum exitu earum unius anni, sive ad totidem alia animalia; et ad mille et quingentas oves, cum earum exitu similiter unius anni, sive ad totidem alias bidentes, salvâ semper venatione mihi et hæredibus meis. Habeant etiam quicquid eis necesse fuerit ad ardendum et ædificandum, per visum forestariorum. Si quis etiam, vel in præsenti, vel in futuro, de hiis quicquam, quæ prædictæ abbathiæ concessi calumpniatus fuerit, non tenebuntur indè monachi respondere, sed ad me pertinebit et hæredes meos calumpniatoribus eorum, vel excambio vel alio rationabili modo satisfacere; monachisque quicquid eis donavi vel concessi, warrantizare, et in integrum conservare: districtè ergo prohibeo, super forisfacturam meam, viz. decem marcarum, ne quis eos vel homines suos, aut servientes, aut possessiones eorum, maliciosè gravet aut vexet, vel in aliquâ re disturbet: quod si quis facere præsumpserit, in forisfacturam prænominatam se noverit incidisse. Et ut hæc mea concessio et confirmatio perpetuæ firmitatis et stabilitatis robur optineat, præsenti scripto munimen impressionis sigilli mei apposui. Hiis testibus, dominis Radulpho filio Nicholai, Johanne filio Galfridi, Rogero de Somery, Ricardo de Burgo, Mauricio de Londoniis, Willielmo de Dene, Milone de Rupeforte, Stephano archidiacono, Henrico de Burmingham; Davide Basset, tunc seneschallo Lageniæ, Rogero de Sottone, Reso de Arderne, Clemente filio Ricardi, et Rogero de Pembrokiâ clericis, et aliis." Nos autem donationes, &c. prædictas, ratas habentes et gratas, eas, &c. confirmamus, &c. T. rege apud Westm. vi. die Augusti.

Abbey of Jerpoint, in the County of Kilkenny.

SITUATED on the river Noire, two miles above Thomastown, in the barony of Knocktopher. This Abbey was founded in 1180 by Donogh O'Donoghoe, king of Ossory, to the honour of the Virgin Mary, for Cistercian Monks, whom he had removed hither from a distant part of Ossory.

John lord of Ireland, in a charter, an exemplification and confirmation of which was granted to the abbat in the 34th Edw. III., confirmed the various donations to this House both before and after the arrival of Earl Richard, more especially detailing the endowment of the founder, whom he calls "Dumvaldus rex Ossoriæ," and the gifts of Felix bishop of Ossory and Manasser de Arsic. This charter will follow presently.

Archdale, from Harris's Collections, says that in 1375 the Abbat of Jerpoint, by petition to King Edward the IIId, set forth that his House was a dependant upon the abbat of Baltinglas, who did use to attend parliaments, and make answer for those abbats dependant upon him; nevertheless the abbat of Jerpoint was often compelled, by writ, to appear in parliament, to his particular loss and distress, and to the great expenditure and costs of his House; he therefore prayed to be exempt for the future from this his inconvenient attendance. The king did thereupon by writ, dated at Kilkenny, October the 28th (where a parliament was then held), exonerate him from all and every such attendance.

This was another of the Abbeys included in the enactment of 1380 respecting the non-profession of mere Irishmen.

Gregory was abbat here 1273. Peter Laurence occurs 1300. Philip, 1356 and 1361. Nicholas Baron occurs 1518 and 1523. Oliver Grace, who occurs in 1530, was the last Abbat. He surrendered his Abbey to the King 18th March, 31st Hen. VIIIth.

This Abbey, with its several possessions, was granted in capite, 13th Dec. 5 and 6 Phil. et Mar., to James Earl of Ormond and his heirs-male, at the annual rent of 49*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.*[a]

Abbatia de Jeriponte.

Carta Johannis Comitis Moritoniæ, Donatorum Concessiones recitans et confirmans.

[Pat. 34 Edw. III. p. 3, m. 14. per Inspex.]

Johannes dominus Hiberniæ et comes Moretoniæ, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, constabulariis et omnibus ministris et ballivis et fidelibus suis, Francis et Anglis, et Hiberniensibus, de totâ Hiberniâ, salutem. Noveritis me, divini amoris intuitu, et pro salute animæ meæ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum, concessisse, et præsenti cartâ meâ confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Jeriponte, et monachis ordinis Cisterciensis, et fratribus eorum ibidem Deo servientibus, omnes donationes terrarum et tenementorum, quas Hibernienses eis fecerunt rationabiliter ante primum adventum comitis Ricardi in Hiberniam; et nominatim rationabilem donationem quam Dumvaldus rex Ossoriæ eis fecit de terris subscriptis; terram viz. Baleochellam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in quâ monasterium ipsum situm est; et terram Cassel Corbrin; et terram Tigi Glassam; et terram Baleynarich; et terram Baleychecbani; et terram Baleyellela; et terram Baley Longsin; et terram Guari, et Machogvail, et Eoda, cum omnibus pertinentiis ipsarum terrarum, in longitudine et latitudine; et terram Bunbili; et terram Raichosalich, et Muliam Mobruoch; et terram Tritiriadoir, et terram Raichellela; et terram Keltorkadub; et terram Ardehen; et terram Raicheda; et Seit Gurth, quæ pertinent ad Raicheda; et sunt collaterales fieda residui; et terram de Raichamackellich; et terram Casslieremaich; et terram Magleth; et terram Baliethnai, Mieig, Areth. Has siquidem terras omnes concessi et confirmavi prædictis monachis, in liberam, et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in longitudine et latitudine; et cum omnibus terminis et divisis et metis, quæ ad præscriptas terras pertinent, sicut carta memorati Dunvaldi regis testatur, et distinguit.

Concessi etiam et confirmavi eis villam Kell Rudi, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, quam habent de dono Felicis episcopi Ossoriæ. Concessi etiam eis omnes terras et omnia tenementa, quæ eis rationabiliter collata sunt, post primum adventum comitis Ricardi in Hiberniam; et quæ de cætero eis rationabiliter collata erunt, ab hominibus de linguâ meâ in Hiberniâ; scil. ex dono Manasseri Arsic. terram de Dadurles in Uthoh; et ex donatione ejusdem et Ricardi filii Folconis, Balemacgillore Weig in Arewy campo; et communiam. Ex donatione prædicti filii Folconis terram propè grangiam Raichellela. Et ex donatione Johannis filii Roberti villam totam, quæ vocatur Clohan, et alio nomine dicitur Dunchrohi, in Congtella. Et ex dono Johannis de Lenhal partem terræ, cujus pars vocatur Raithdoninail, quæ est propè grangiam Raithellela, cum omnibus pertinentiis, et terminis, et metis ipsarum terrarum, sicut cartæ donatorum testantur, et distinguunt. Quare volo, et firmiter præcipio, quod præfati monachi habeant et teneant benè, et in pace, liberè, et quietè, integrè, et plenariè, honorificè, et pacificè omnes terras et tenementa suprascripta, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in bosco et plano, in pratis et pasturis; in herbagiis, et turbariis; in moris et mariscis, et omnibus aliis locis et rebus, et pertinentiis ipsarum terrarum, cum omnibus libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus suis, in liberam, et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, libera et quieta

Abbey of Kilcooly, in Tipperary.

THIS House was a daughter of the Abbey of Jerpoint. It was for Cistercian Monks, dedicated to the Virgin Mary, and was founded very early in the thirteenth century, some say in 1200, others in 1209, by Donogh Carbragh O'Bryan.

Thomas O'Rourke was abbat of this House in 1341. Thomas Shortall was the last abbat: he surrendered this Abbey to the King April 8th, 1539. The Site and lands of this House were granted, together with the Monastery of Athassel, in this county, soon after, to Thomas Earl of Ormond. When Archdale wrote, Kilcooley was the seat of Sir William Barker, bart.[a]

Carta Regis Henrici Tertii, Donationes per Donaldum O'Bryan, Fundatorem ejusdem, confirmans.

[Pat. 30 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 13. per Inspex.]

Henricus Dei gratiâ rex Angliæ, dominus Hiberniæ, dux Norm. et Aquit. comes Andeg. archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis nos concessisse et hac cartâ nostrâ confirmâsse, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, Deo et ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ de Kylleconil,[b] Cisterciensis ordinis, ibidem Deo servientibus, in liberam, et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, donationem et concessionem quam Donallus Obryan fecit eisdem monachis; viz. locum in quo monasterium eorum est situm, et omnes terras et possessiones, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis, sicut meliùs et pleniùs et liberiùs eas Donallus Obryan dedit et concessit, et suâ cartâ confirmavit. Iisdem verò concessimus, ut prædictum est, has terras, cum omnibus pertinentiis; in ecclesiis, in capellis, in decimis et obventionibus, in bosco, in plano, in pratis, in pasturis, in stabulis, et in aquis, in molendinis, in stagnis, et vivariis; in viis, in semitis, in piscariis et piscaturis; in villis infra burgum et extra, et omnibus aliis locis, et omnibus aliis rebus, concessimus prædictis monachis. Quare volumus, &c. Dat. apud Dubliniam vii. die Augusti, anno regni regis nostri quarto.

Abbey of Mellifont, in the County of Louth.

THIS Abbey, situated in the barony of Ferrard, five miles from Drogheda, and one and a half from the Boyne, is stated to have been erected in 1142, for Monks of the Cistercian Order, by Donough MacCorvoill, or Carrol, Prince of Uriell. St. Bernard furnished the first Monks to it from his own Abbey of Clairvaux. Christian O'Conarchy was the first abbat.

King John granted two charters to this House; one whilst Earl of Morton, in 1188, the other in 1203, when King. In these he refers to a previous confirmation from King Henry the IId, and appears also to have been a personal benefactor. King Henry the IIId and King Edward the IIId, as will be seen presently, granted additional confirmations to this Abbey. King Henry the IVth is also stated to have given a confirmation of the Abbey lands in the very first year of his reign.

Archdale has preserved the following Names of ABBATS of this House: Charles O'Buacalla, made bishop of Emly in 1177; Patrick; Mælisa, 1194; Thomas, 1211; Carus or Cormac O'Torpa, made bishop of Achonry, 1219; Matthew, 1289; Thomas O'Hengham; Ralph Hedian; Michael, 1293; Nicholas de Lusk, 1325; Michael, 1333; William Bryan; Roger, 1346; Reginald, 1349; Hugh, 1357; Reginald Leynagh, 1366; John Leynagh, 1368; John Terrour, 1370; Roger, 1472; John Loggan; Henry; John Warren; John Troy, 1486; Thomas Harvey, died 1524; Richard Conter was the last abbat; he had a pension of 40*l.* a year granted to him for life, in 1540, upon the surrender of his Abbey.[c]

The Site of this Abbey remained long with the crown. It was granted, in the time of Charles the First, to Sir Gerald Moor. Some small remains of its buildings are still in existence.

Abbey of Newry, in the County of Down.

THIS Abbey was founded by Maurice Mac Lochlain King of all Ireland, about the year 1150. Dugdale has given the charter of foundation.

Archdale informs us that the Abbey Library, all its effects, and a yew-tree belonging to it planted by the hands of St. Patrick, were destroyed by fire in 1162.

In 1373, the Convent of this place being found to be mere Irish, the profits of the Abbey were taken temporarily into the King's hands.

In 1543 King Henry the Eighth converted this Abbey into a Collegiate Church, of which he made the last abbat of the Monastery warden. The Site and lands of Newry were granted by King Edward the Sixth to Sir Nicholas Bagnal, whose descendants, of the name of Needham, were in possession of them in Archdale's time.

Archdale enumerates the following ABBATS of this House; Finn the son of Gorman, 1160; L., 1237; Ralph, 1329; Roger, 1335; Glaisne, son of Hugh Magennis, 1526; John Prowle, last abbat, and first warden of the Collegiate Church.

The abbat exercised an episcopal jurisdiction over the lordships of Newry and Mourne, which is still in part enjoyed by the owner of the Abbey lands.

Abbey of Rosglas, or de Rosea Valle.

OF this Abbey the present Editors have nothing before them but the foundation-charter given by Dugdale. The Editor of the English Version of the Monasticon places this Abbey in the Province of Ulster.

Abbatia de Rosglas, alias de Rosea Valle.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem.

[Ex ipso autogr. per Jac. Waræum eq. aur. exscripto.]

Dermitius O Demesy rex Ofaliæ, universis nobilibus clericis et laicis, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, salutem. Universitati vestræ notum facio me Dermitium O Demesy regem Ofaliæ, per assensum Muredachi O Concur, dedisse et confirmâsse Deo et monachis S. Mariæ de Rosglas, terras ad monasterium construendum, in honorem beatæ Mariæ semper virginis, et beati Benedicti abbatis, in elemosinam, jure perpetuo. Hæ sunt ergo terræ quas ego Dermitius O Demesy rex Ofaliæ dedi et confirmavi præfatis monachis de Rosglas, in remissionem peccatorum meorum, et parentum meorum; situm monasterii de Rosglas et totam terram de Eiothil et Racheaihar, cum pertinentiis suis, Clonarkerhan, Clonangay, Dere, Ardmidie, et Kilmore, cum pertinentiis suis, Glassigelly, descendens usque Barue, Hadinsefot, usque Hadhildred, Hadelonan usque Barue, Henseredan, cum pertinentiis suis; Thacsartan, et Archadachafernan, cum pertinentiis suis, et cum hominibus ad easdam terras pertinentibus. Has ergo terras omnes suprascriptas do et confirmo prædictis monachis, tenendas in liberam et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, pro salute animæ meæ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum. Quare volo et firmiter præcipio, quod præfata ecclesia de Rosglas, et monachi, et fratres eorum ibidem Deo servientes habeant et teneant prædictas terras, et possideant benè et in pace, liberè et quietè, integrè, et plenariè, honorificè, et pacificè, omnes terras prædictas, cum omnibus libertatibus et pertinentiis suis; scil. in sylvis et planis, in pratis, et pasturis, et mariscis, in aquis, et piscariis, in viis, et semitis, in stagnis et molendinis, et vivariis, in turbariis et omnibus montibus et vallibus, et aliis locis et rebus ad easdem terras pertinentibus, liberas et quietas et solutas ab omni consuetudine, et exactione, et servitio seculari. Testibus, Nehemia Darensi episcopo, Donato Lethlinensi episcopo, Filano filio Filani, Flan O Demesi, Hekinech O Dimesi, Donchad O Dimesi, Fin O Dimesy, Ædo Dimesy, Culballino O Duin, Congal O Kelly, Rocnur Dengulla, Kelach mac Aulaf, et aliis multis.

Abbey of Graignemanagh, called also Duisk, and the Abbey of the Vale of St. Saviour.

THIS Abbey, situated in the barony of Gowran and County of Kilkenny, was founded by William Marshall the elder, Earl of Pembroke, A. D. 1212. Dugdale has printed the Inspeximus of the charter of William Marshall the younger in 1225, reciting the terms of his father's endowment. Hugh Rufus bishop of Ossory was also a benefactor to this Abbey shortly after its establishment.

Immediately following William Marshall the younger's charter, Dugdale has printed King Henry the Third's confirmation of the union of the Abbey of Kilkenny to this House in 1227.

Archdale has preserved the following names of the ABBATS of St. Saviour: Henry, 1342; David Cornwalshe, 1356; John Doun, LL.D. 1415; John Weyng, died 1440; Cahier, or Charles O'Cavenagh, elected 1501; Charles M'Murgho O'Cavenagh, the last abbat, who in 1537 received a pension for life of 10*l.* a year.

The Site and possessions of this Abbey were granted by King Henry the Eighth to Sir Edward Butler knt. of Lowgrange. Queen Elizabeth by a patent dated Oct. 8th in the 9th year of her reign granted them in fee to James Butler junior.

Abbatia S. Salvatoris.

Diploma Regis Henrici Tertii, Cartam Willielmi Marescalli, Comitis Pembrochiæ, recitans et confirmans.

[Cart. 57 Hen. III. m. 6.]

Rex archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam quam Willemus Marescallus, quondam comes Penbrochiæ, fecit abbaciæ sancti Salvatoris de ordine monachorum Cisterciensium in Hybernia, in hæc verba. "Willelmus Marescallus comes Penbrochiæ universis hominibus suis, Francis et Anglis, Wallensibus et Hyberniensibus, et omnibus amicis, et fidelibus suis, salutem. Sciatis nos pro amore Dei, et pro salute animæ nostræ, et pro salute animarum patris nostri, W. Marescalli comitis Penbrochiæ, et matris nostræ comitissæ Isabellæ, atque omnium prædecessorum ac successorum nostrorum, concessisse, et præsenti carta nostra confirmâsse abbaciæ S. Salvatoris de ordine monachorum Cisterciensium, in terra Dowyskir, donationes omnium terrarum, possessionum, cum libertatibus omnibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, quæ prædictus pater noster eidem abbaciæ, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, dedit et incartavit, scil. totam illam terram Dowyskir, cum pertinentiis suis, et Achemolt, pro undecim carucatis terræ, et Tulachenny, cum pertinentiis suis; scil. Clundaf, et Kilmeggeth, et Liscrithan, juxta Kilkenny, pro decem carucatis terræ, unum quoque burgagium in Kilkenny, et aliud in Weyseford; et tertium in insula. Et præterea quicquid ei potuerit in futuro pia donatione seu venditione fidelium, salvo servicio nostro et hæredum nostrorum provenire."

Volumus igitur et firmiter statuimus, ut abbacia prænominata, et abbas et monachi ipsius loci, habeant et teneant omnes prædictas terras, et tenementa prænominata, cum ecclesiis et capellis, et omnibus libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus suis, cum soc, et sac, et thol, et theam, et infangenethef, benè, et in pace, liberè, et quietè, plenariè, et integrè, et honorificè, in bosco et in plano, in pratis, et pasturis, in aquis, et molendinis, in stagnis, et vivariis, in mariscis, et piscariis, et gliseriis, in grangiis et virgultis, in viis et semitis, infra burgum et extra; et in omnibus aliis locis et rebus; et sint quieti ipsi et homines et servientes sui, et res et possessiones eorum, de geldo, et denegeldo, et murdro, et latrocinio, et de pecunia quæ ad murdrum pertinet, vel ad latrocinium, et de vaccarum solutione, quæ dari solebant pro capitibus utlagorum, et de scuagio, et hidagio, et carvagio, et cornagio, et summagio, et utiban, et schiris, et hundredis, et de sectis schirarum et hundredorum, et de exercitibus, et assisis et summonitionibus, et dè thesauro ducendo, et de auxilio vicecomitis, et omnium servientum suorum, et omnibus aliis auxiliis, et de operationibus castellorum, et pontium, et parcorum, et murorum, et vivariorum, et de misericordia comitatus, et de theoloneo, et pontagio, et passagio, et lestagio, et stallagio, et tallagio, et de clausu, wardpeny, et de averpeny, et tethincpeny, et blodvyte, et fithwyte, et hengwyte, et flemeneswyte; et sit ipsa abbacia, cum omnibus terris suis extra forestam, omnino sine regardo forestariæ. Et liceat eisdem monachis de bosco et in omni bosco suo, de aquis et in aquis suis, quicquid voluerint facere; et sint liberi ab omni vexatione, et penitùs extra dangerium forestariorum, et omnium aliorum servientium terræ; de pastu, viz. et omnibus aliis exactionibus quas forestarii et alii servientes terræ solent exigere; et omnibus querelis, et placitis, et occasionibus, et consuetudinibus; et de omni servili opere et seculari exactione.

Et habeant sibi omnimodam forisfacturam propriorum hominum suorum, sola justitia vitæ et membrorum nobis et hæredibus nostris retenta: et per omnes forestas nostras pasturam habeant porcorum suorum quietam à pannagio, et quicquid ad ardendum, et ad ædificandum habuerint necessarium. Si quis verò vel in præsenti, vel in futuro, quicquam de hiis quæ prædictæ abbaciæ concessimus calumpniatus fuerit, non tenebuntur indè monachi respondere; sed ad nos pertinebit, et ad hæredes nostros, calumpniatoribus eorum, vel escambio, vel alio rationabili modo satisfacere; monachisque quicquid eis pater noster donaverit warantizare, et integrum conservare. Districtè ergo prohibemus, super forisfacturam nostram, viz. decem marcarum, ne quis eos vel homines suos, aut servientes suos, aut res, aut possessiones eorum maliciosè vexet, aut gravet, vel in aliqua re disturbet, quod si quis facere præsumpserit, Dei maledictionem, et nostram, simul et forisfacturam præmonstratam se noverit incidisse. Quicumque verò locum ipsum, et elemosinam patris nostri, ac nostram eisdem assignatam promoverint, et manutenuerint, cum Dei benedictione et nostra remunerationem æternam inveniant. Hiis testibus, domino Petro Ossoriensi episcopo, Johanne Marescallo, Thoma filio Antonii tunc senescallo Lageniæ, Henrico le Butiller, Waltero Purcell, Willelmo Crasso, Hamone Grasso, Henrico de Kernet, Reginaldo de Kernet, magistro Deodato, et multis aliis. Nos autem prædictas donationes, &c. confirmamus, &c. Data per manum nostram apud Wudestok x. die Augusti.

[Unio Abbatiæ de Kilkenny huic Cœnobio.]

Rex archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Unionem abbaciæ de Kylkenny factam abbaciæ de Valle Sancti Salvatoris, per abbatem et capitulum generale Cistercii, quam Willielmus Marescallus, quondam comes Pembrochiæ, abbati et monachis prædictis Sancti Salvatoris confirmavit, cum suis pertinentiis, ratam habentes et gratam eam pro nobis et hæredibus nostris præfatis abbati et monachis S. Salvatoris, concedimus et confirmamus, sicut instrumentum prædicti capituli Cisterciensis, et confirmatio ejusdem comitis, quam iidem abbas et monachi indè habent, rationabiliter testantur. Hiis testibus, venerabili patre W. Bathoniensi et Wellensi episcopo, &c. Data, &c. x. die Augusti.

Tintern Abbey, in the County of Wexford.

THIS Abbey was situated on the shore of Bannowbay in the barony of Shelburne, three miles North-east of Duncannon Fort. William Earl of Pembroke, being in great danger and peril at sea, made a vow to found an Abbey in that place where he should first arrive in safety; and the place was the bay in question. He accordingly performed his vow, dedicated his Abbey to the Virgin Mary, endowed it, and settled a Convent of Cistercian monks in it, whom he brought from Tintern in Monmouthshire. Archdale gives the particulars of the Earl of Pembroke's endowment of this House from King: The whole however was not completed in the Earl's life-time, for Dugdale has given King John's charter confirming the bequest of thirty carucates of land to this Abbey in the Earl's Will.

Archdale has preserved the following names and dates of some of the Abbats. John Torrell was the first; another John occurs in 1308; Roger Codd, 1346; David Furlong succeeded; Thomas Wyggemore, 1355; William Walsh, 1356; Thomas Young, 1471; John Power was the last abbat. He surrendered it in the 31st Hen. VIIIth.

The Abbey itself is stated to have been rebuilt in 1447. It was granted, with all its lands and appurtenances, 27th Aug., 18th Eliz., in capite, to Anthony Colclough, at the annual rent of 26*l.* 4*s.* Irish money.[a]

Abbey of Owney, or Wotheney, called also the Abbey of Abbington, in the County of Limerick.

THIS Abbey was founded in 1205 for Cistercian monks, by Theobald Fitz-Walter, lord of Carrick and chief butler of Ireland, who brought its first inhabitants from the Abbey of Savigny in France. Dugdale has given the charter of foundation.

Archdale has recorded a few names of the ABBATS of this House. William occurs 1228; Hugh, 1292; Thomas was deposed in 1297; Henry occurs in 1375; John O'Mulryan was the last abbat.

In 1307 it appears that the abbat of this House paid an annual pension of c^s. to the Prior of Kells in Ossory.

In 1363, the abbat recovered the advowson of the blessed Virgin of Arklow from James Earl of Ormond

Dec. 6th, 5th Eliz., this Abbey, with its appurtenances, was granted, in capite to Peter Walshe, at the annual rent of 57l. 2s. 3d. Irish money, who was to maintain one horseman on the premises.[a]

Abbey of Holy Cross, in the County of Tipperary.

THIS Abbey was founded by Donogh Carbragh O'Brien, King of Limerick, in the reign of our Henry the Second, and dedicated to the honour of the Holy Cross, St. Mary, and St. Benedict. Dugdale has given the charter of foundation, which Archdale dates in 1182. Gregory is mentioned in it as abbat. Maurice M'Amreogh, Richard O'Finnore, and Dionysius O'Congaill, who added a beautiful cloister to the church, were abbats here, but the years in which they flourished are not recorded. Abbat David O'Cussy, or Tussigh, was made bishop of Emly in 1275. Peter O'Connings occurs abbat in 1278; Thomas, 1313; Philip Purcell, 1538. William O'Dwyre was the last abbat.

King Henry the IIId granted more than one charter of confirmation to Holy Cross. Archdale says, that in a general chapter, in 1249, the abbat of Clarevaux subjected this Abbey to that of Furness in Lancashire. He adds that Holy Cross was a daughter of the Abbey of Nenay or Maig in the County of Limerick, and the abbat styled Earl of Holy Cross, the lands belonging to the Abbey being an Earldom; he was also a baron of parliament, and was usually vicar general of the Cistercian Order in Ireland.

On the 3d Oct. 5th Eliz. this Abbey with its appurtenances was granted in capite to Gerald Earl of Ormond.

In the winter of 1559 the great rebel O'Neal made a pilgrimage to a piece of the Cross which was said to have been preserved in this Abbey.

Considerable ruins of Holy Cross Abbey are still in existence.

IRISH MONASTERIES

OF THE

ORDER OF ST. AUSTIN.

Abbey of Ballintobber, in the County of Mayo.

THIS Abbey, for Canons regular of the Order of St. Austin, was founded in 1216, by Cathol O'Conogher, King of Connaught, and dedicated to the Holy Trinity. Bricius Imacin was the first abbat. Thomas O'Ronain was abbat in 1416. Walter Mac Villie alias de Stanton was the last abbat. Archdale, p. 495, enumerates the possessions of this Abbey from an Inquisition taken in the 36th Eliz., and again from another Inquisition taken Sept. 1st, 1614. December 10th, 1605, a Lease of this Abbey in reversion, for fifty years, was granted to Sir John King, kn^{t}.

Abbatia de Ballintobber, alias de Fonte S. Patricii, in Comitatu Maionensi.

De Fundatione ejusdem.

[Ex Registro de Ballintobber per Jac. Waræum eq. aur.]

IN Dei nomine, amen. Sempiternæ posteritati hominibus hac de re solicitis, et ambigentibus, notum facimus per præsentes, qualiter frater Thomas O Ronain, abbas monasterii S. Trinitatis villæ Fontis S. Patricii, ordinis canonicorum regulæ S. Augustini, in cantreda de Karra, deferens in manu quoddam vetustum rescriptum, vetustate nimia consumptum, legibile tamen, rogavit me Donatum O Riagain, publicum notarium, qui etiam hujus muneris eram, ut hujusmodi rescripti seriem in novam formam et recentiorem cartam conscriberem, nec quicquam intermitterem de his quæ per ecclesiasticas personas, vel seculares, huic monasterio concessa ac donata sunt, à tempore Catholi O Conogher, regis Conatiæ, et ejusdem monasterii primi fundatoris, ac Bricii Imacin primi ejusdem monasterii abbatis; qui eodem tempore, ut in antiquiori carta intuebar, decesserunt, quorum animabus propitietnr Altissimus; et ut tam feuda, quàm census, ac etiam decimas et jura quæcunque ab antiquo huic monasterio constituta vel concessa rescriberem, quod et feci, præsentibus Thoma abbate, Eugenio Donail priore claustrali dicti monasterii, Philippo O Ronain dicti abbatis nepote, ex fratre. Anno MCCCCXVI.

Dicti rex et abbas Bricius obierunt an. 1224. Dictum monasterium incœptum est an. Dom. 1216.

Abbey or Priory of Great Conall, in the County of Kildare; a Cell to the Abbey of Lanthonia Prima in England.

HERE, upon the bank of the Liffey, an Abbey was founded, A.D. 1202, by Meyler fitz Henry, whose father was the natural son of King Henry the First. It was dedicated to the Virgin Mary and St. David; and filled by the founder with regular canons from the Abbey of Lanthony in Monmouthshire. Archdale says, that Friar Clynn, in his Annals, places this foundation in 1211.

King John, as appears by his charter, which follows, presently confirmed the grants made to this Monastery by Meyler, A.D. 1205.

Meyler also granted, probably later in the reign of John, the town and church of Ardnochur to this Monastery, the latter of which was recovered by Matilda de Lacy about the 4th or 5th of King Henry the Third.

Archdale gives the following Names of PRIORS of this House. Henry, 1209; William; W. 1214; another William, 1340; Richard died in 1412; Philip Stoyll succeeded; Nicholas (concerned in Lambert Simnell's conspiracy), 1486; Walter Wellesley (afterwards bishop of Kildare) occurs in 1521.

In 1455, the King granted to the Prior of this House a power to acquire lands to the yearly value of ten pounds.

Archdale says, This Priory, with all its possessions, was granted to Edward Randolfe, and in reversion to Sir Edward Butler; and 3d Dec. 3 Eliz. regranted in reversion, for the term of sixty-one years, to Sir Nicholas White, at the annual rent of 26*l.* 19*s.* 5*d.* Irish money. When Archdale published, in 1786, there were but small remains of this Abbey. The Prior of this House was a lord of the Irish Parliament.[a]

Hospital of St. Mary, near Drogheda.

THIS Hospital, situated without the west gate of the city of Drogheda, was founded by Ursus de Swemale, as we learn from an Inspeximus of the 32d Edw. III. given by Dugdale. Archdale says, The Cross-bearers, following the Rule of St. Augustine, were afterwards introduced here; but at what period is uncertain. John Aumell was Prior of this Hospital in 1377; William occurs Prior in 1476. At the Suppression, this House and its possessions were granted to the mayor and citizens of Drogheda. Carta Ursi de Swemele, Fundatoris ejusdem.

[Pat. 32 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 24. per Inspex.

Sciant præsentes et futuri, quod ego Ursus de Swemele, fundator domus Hospitalis S. Mariæ Virginis extra portam occidentalem de Droheda, communi consilio et concensu mei, et Christianæ sponsæ meæ, dedi et concessi, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmavi, in puram et perpetuam elemosinam, pro animabus nostris et antecessorum nostrorum, et omnium fidelium defunctorum, omnes terras et redditus, quos ego Ursus habui in Hibernia, Deo et dictæ domui Hospitalis S. Mariæ, ad sustentationem hospitalitatis miserorum et infirmorum languentium: necnon et omnium illorum qui ibidem de hospitalitate, caritatis intuitu, indigebunt. Verùm etiam inprimis concessi prædictæ domui Hospitalis quadraginta acras terræ, quæ jacent in una cultura extra prædictam portam, super quas jam sæpedicta domus Hospitalis fundata est. Deindè totam terram de Kilneir, salvo redditu domini regis; scil. per annum dimidia uncia auri, quam prædicta domus debet reddere domino regi, per annum, pro omni servicio, pro terra illa, cum prædictis xl. acris terræ. Deindè illam terram in montanis, quam teneo de domino rege; pro qua terra dicta domus debet reddere domino regi per annum decem solidos pro omni servicio. Item et illas acras quas per legalem emptionem de burgagiis in territorio de Droheda habui. Item de terra, quam Radulphus de Kildare tenuit de me in Bodestrata, per annum dicto Hospitali tres solidos et sex denarios. Item de terra, quam Johannes Blundus tenet de me per annum, xvii^{s}. et vi^{d}.

Item de terra Radulphi Blundi mercenarii, per annum xiiii^{s}. Item de terra Adæ de Kayrdif, per annum xvii^{s}. vi^{d}. Item de terra Ricardi Palmerii per annum sex denarios. Item de terra quam Rogerus de Kedwali tenuit per annum, vi^{d}. Item de terra Odinæ per annum xii^{d}. Item de terra Johannis filii Milissand per annum vi^{d}. Item de terra, quam Johannes Walensis tenuit de me per annum ii^{s}. Item de terra propinquiori, quam Boydin senex tenuit per annum xii^{d}. Item de orto Ricardi de Kayrdif versùs molendinum ventorium Hugonis de Watervilla, per annum ii. sol.

Sciendum est, quod isti supranominati tenentes tenent de illo burgagio ad cornerium; de quo burgagio prædicta domus Hospitalis debet solvere domino regi per annum xii^{d}. Item de Gilberto Gardinario pro quinque acris, quarterium minus, quas tenet per annum, tres uno denario minus. Item de cornerio, quod Adam Pelliparius tenet ad orientalem partem capellæ S. Nicholai ultra pontem per annum ii^{s}. De eadem terra de Martino Parmentario per annum xii^{d}. Item de terra Rogeri Molendinarii ad australem capellæ S. Nicholai per annum tres solidos. Item de terra Henrici Palmerii per annum xii^{d}.; tenenda et habenda omnes istas prædictas terras et prædictos redditus Deo et domui Hospitalis S. Mariæ imperpetuum jure et hæreditario, liberè et quietè, integrè et plenariè, sicut ego Ursus eas unquam liberiùs vel quietiùs tenui per prænominata servicia. Præterea volo et firmiter obsecro in Domino, ut quis post obitum meum custos fuerit prædictæ domus illius, per electionem proborum hominum de Drogheda eligatur; et ut dum legalem custodiam prædictæ domui adhibebit, vocetur cognomine Custos, sed non Prior. Cum autem aliquis custos se versùs domum præfatam inhonestè habuerit, quod Deus avertat, à prædicta custodia deponatur, et alius per prædictos probos homines eligatur. Priory of All Saints, Dublin.

THIS Priory was founded by Diarmit king of Leinster, about the year 1166, for Canons of the Order of Aroasia. He endowed it with his land of Ballidubgail.[a] King Henry the Second confirmed this, with various other lands, to the Priory, after his arrival in Ireland.[b] Archdale enumerates other benefactors; Richard Earl of Strigul in 1177; Milo de Cogan, 1184; Theobald Butler, Lord Justice of Ireland, in 1247; Fulk, archbishop of Dublin, in 1263; Hugh Tirrel, Lord of Castleknock, in 1288; &c. This Priory had also possessions in the county of Tipperary. Archdale gives the following Names of PRIORS of this House: C. A.D. 1200; Thomas; William Reve, 1396; William Stewart, 1427; William also occurs in 1478 and 1482; Walter Handcock, the last Prior.[c]

This Priory, with all its possessions, spiritual and temporal, was granted, Feb. 4th, 1538, to the City of Dublin, at the yearly rent of 4*l.* 4*s.* 0¾*d.* Irish money. The greater part of the buildings were demolished in 1590, upon the foundation of an university at Dublin.[d]

" H. Dei gratia rex Angliæ, &c. archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Sciatis me concessisse, dedisse, et præsenti carta confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beati Thomæ Martyris, unam carrucatam terræ de Dunovere, quam Willielmus filius Audelini, dapifer meus, ex parte mea dedit eidem ecclesiæ, quam idem Willielmus fundari fecit extra portam occidentalem apud Dublin, pro salute mea et ipsius, et antecessorum et successorum meorum. Quare volumus, &c. Test. ipso Willielmo filio Audelini; Reginaldo de Curtenei; Hugone de Lacy, Thoma de Basset, Roberto Poer, apud Oxenford." Inspeximus, &c.

"Walterus de Lacy omnibus amicis et hominibus suis, Francis, Anglicis, et Hiberniensibus, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, salutem. Sciatis me concessisse et præsenti carta confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ beati Thomæ martyris de Dublin, et canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, pro salute animæ meæ, et animarum patris mei et matris meæ, cujus corpus in prædicta ecclesia requiescit, et omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum, ecclesiam de Dunelinsablin, cum terra grangiæ eorum, sicut pater meus eam eis dedit, et assignavit; et ecclesiam de Rathouthe, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, et ecclesiam de Domenathmore, cum omnibus pertinentiis; et ecclesiam de Grenocks, cum omnibus pertinentiis; et ecclesiam de Killeglan, cum omnibus pertinentiis; et ecclesiam de villa Magliswine, cum omnibus pertinentiis; et ecclesiam de Knocmarek, cum omnibus pertinentiis; et ecclesias omnes, et capellas, cum earum pertinentiis totius terræ Leonisii de Bromiard, sicut carta ejus testatur; et ecclesiam de villa Willielmi Scorlagge, cum omnibus pertinentiis; et ecclesiam de Lethercor, cum omnibus pertinentiis. Quare volo et firmiter præcipio, quod prædicti canonici habeant et teneant prædicta beneficia, et quæ poterunt de cætero adipisci in terra mea, in puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, cum omnibus libertatibus, &c. Hiis testibus, Hugone de Lacy, Roberto de Lacy, Ricardo del Tuit," &c. Inspeximus, &c.

"Sciant præsentes et futuri, qued ego Walterus de Lacy, pro anima patris mei, et matris meæ, et pro animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum, confirmavi Deo et beatæ Mariæ, et S. Thomæ de Dublin, et canonicis regularibus ibidem Deo servientibus ecclesias eisdem, ex patronorum concessione collatas; viz. ecclesiam de Sydan ex collatione Hay Teling; ecclesiam de Dovenachine, juxta portum Balbii, ex collatione Roberti de Mandeville; ecclesiam de Trevet ex collatione Walteri de Escotok. Confirmavi etiam dictis canonicis perpetuam firmam terræ de Dovenathmor, juxta Grenocks, secundùm quod continetur in carta dicti Walteri. Et in hujus rei testimonium præsenti scripto sigillum meum apposui. Hiis testibus, Nicholao parvo; Simone de Clifford; Nicholao de Slane; Waltero parvo; Johanne de Cramford; Henrico clerico; Johanne capellano; et multis aliis."

Abbey of Ferns, in the County of Wexford.

THIS Abbey was founded at Ferns soon after the year 1166, by Diarmit M'Murchad, king of Leinster, in atonement, it is said, for having previously destroyed the town of Ferns by fire. Dugdale has given his charter of endowment. King Diarmit died and was buried here in 1171. In 1312, the Abbey, town, and castle of Ferns were again reduced to ashes by the Irish rebels. Archdale has recorded no particulars of the restoration of this House. He merely says, it appears in 1389 that the tithes of the island of Barry, on the coast of Wexford, made part of the possessions of this Abbey. One Dowyll was the last abbat: an abstract of the Inquisition of what he held in the 31st Hen. VIIIth is given by Archdale. In the 26th Eliz., a lease of this Abbey, for the term of sixty years, was granted to Thomas Masterson, at the annual rent of 16*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.*[b]

Fernense Cœnobium, in Comitatu Wexfordiensi, fundatum circa Annum Domini MCLviii.

Fundationis Carta ejusdem, per Dernatium Regem Laginensium.

[Ex vetusto exemplari penès Jac. Waræum eq. aur.]

Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, archiepiscopis, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, et omnibus hominibus, tam clericis quàm laicis, Dernatius, nutu Dei, rex Laginensium, salutem. Sciatis quod ego, consilio et assensu principum et optimatum meorum, dedi et concessi et hac mea carta confirmavi Deo et beatæ Mariæ Virginis, quam fundavi apud Ferniam, et canonicis ibidem Domino servientibus, terras illas; scil. Balisifin, Balilacussa, pro una villa, Borin et Roshena, et Kilbridi, pro duabus villis, Balifislan in Fotherth juxta Wexford; et villam quæ vocatur Munemethe in Ferneghenal; et cellam quandam apud Thamoling; scil. capellam S. Mariæ, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, cum terra Baligery, cum omnibus piscaturis ejus; et capellaniam meam; et omnes decimas et primitias de dominico meo Perhukensilich, et quoddam debitum potus, quod dicitur Scaith; scil. de qualibet servicia vel medone, quæ fit in villa Ferniæ, quandam mensuram, quæ vocatur lagena vel galo, de me et hæredibus meis dictis canonicis et suis successoribus, in puram, perpetuam, et liberam elemosinam, pro salute animæ meæ et antecessorum meorum et successorum. Et cellam Finachia in Fernia, cum Baliculum, et Balinafusin; et tria acra juxta eandem cellam. Et ideo volo et firmiter præcipio, quod prædicta domus et antedicti canonici ibidem Deo servientes, habeant et teneant et possideant dictas terras et prænominatam elemosinam, de me et hæredibus meis, sibi et successoribus suis, benè, in pace, plenariè et integrè, absque aliquo redditu debito, et servicio seculari; neque episcopi, neque regis, neque comitis, neque alicujus omninò hominis, in bosco, in plano, in pratis, in pascuis, in piscariis, ad me et ad nostros hæredes pertinentibus, in aquis, in molendinis, in viis et semitis, et in moris et mariscis, in omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus, quas ego et hæredes mei dictis canonicis et suis successoribus dare possumus et warantizare. Ego verò et hæredes mei eandem domum in prædictis terris et possessionibus eisdem canonicis et suis successoribus, contra omnes homines et fœminas warantizare tenemur. Concessi etiam eis, quod in amovendis sive eligendis ejusdem domus abbatibus, nullus hæredum meorum se debent intromittere, sed juxta beati Augustini regulam, per consensum hujus conventus, vel sanioris partis, qui ordinandus est, liberè constituatur; et post ejusdem electionem, antequam ab archiepiscopo vel episcopo crearetur in abbatem, michi vel hæredibus meis, vel eorum senescallis causa dominii præsentetur, ut per nos, ab episcopo benedicatur. Dat. xxi. kal. Februarii apud Ferniam. Hiis testibus, Cristiano Lismorensi episcopo, totius Hiberniæ legato: Donato Leighlinensi episcopo; Josepho episcopo Fernensi; Domnaldo episcopo Osserensi; Malachia episcopo de Kildaria; Celestino episcopo de Glindalacha; Laurentio abbate de Glindalacha; Florencio regis cancellario; Marco capellano; Lorquan filio Dufgillæ, Gillapatric O Murchuda, et multis aliis.

Monasteries of Kells and Inistioge, in the County of Kilkenny.

ST. MARY KELLS was founded by Geoffrey Fitz Robert, lord of Kells, A. D. 1183, for canons regular of the order of St. Austin.

The MONASTERY of INISTIOGE was founded in 1206, by Thomas, the son of Anthony, seneschal of Leinster, and dedicated to St. Mary and St. Colomb.

Dugdale has combined the two Monasteries in one article, because he found them named together in the Register of Kells.

Archdale gives the substance of Geoffrey Fitz Robert's first charter to KELLS. With the advice and consent of Eva, his wife, he granted to his Convent there all ecclesiastical dues arising from his land at Offathi, with the chapel of his castle of Kells; three carucates of land between the towns of Kells and Killry, and the ecclesiastical dues in Pengran, Ballinpistan, Ballincorcardira, Rathmelan, and Distermoholmoc, together with the churches, &c. In another charter he granted them three more carucates of land beyond the water of Righi. The founder died in the year 1211. The subsequent charters of Hugh de Lacy, John Earl of Moreton, and Walter de Lacy, are recited by Dugdale in an Inspeximus of the 14th Ric. II. See Num. II.

The following names occur of the PRIORS of KELLS: Reginald, the first Prior; Hugh, afterwards bishop of Ossory, 1202; another Reginald, before 1331; Nicholas, 1468; Philip Howleghan, the last Prior.

The possessions of which the Prior of this House, who was a lord of parliament, was seized at the time of the surrender, 8th March, 31 Hen. VIII., are detailed by Archdale. The site was granted, 4th Jan., 32 Hen. VIIIth, in capite, to James earl of Ormond.

INISTIOGE had the following PRIORS: Alured, already mentioned; David, who died in 1324; John Modberry, 1355; Milo Baron, alias Fitzgerald, the last Prior, who surrendered his House to the King, 20th March, 31st Hen. VIIIth. This House, its lands, and numerous other possessions, were granted in capite, 4th May, 10 Eliz., to Edmund Butler and his heirs.

Cœnobia S. Mariæ de Kenlis, et S. Columbæ de Inistiock, in Comitatu Kilkenniensi.

NUM. I.

[Ex Regist. Cœnobii S. Mariæ de Kenlis.]

Memorandum, quod dominus Galfridus filius Roberti, baro de Kenlis, venit primò in Hiberniam cum Willielmo mareschallo comite; et idem Galfridus acquisivit baroniam de Kenlis in Ossoria, et baroniam de Elgren et Gren in Momonia. Et postea idem Galfridus fundavit domum de Kenlis[a] in honore S. Mariæ, per consilium dicti comitis; quam fundationem dominus Felix O Duflan B. M. episcopus tunc Ossoriensis confirmavit. Et quia tunc temporis non fuerunt canonici regulares Anglici in Hibernia, dominus Galfridus quatuor præsbyteros divina celebrantes in ecclesia S. Kerani de Kenlis, loco canonicorum instituit, usque fuerit provisus de aliquibus religiosis viris, et habuerunt habitacula eorum circa ecclesiam S. Kerani. Et postea idem Galfridus transfretavit mare versùs Botmoniam,[b] in Cornubia, et duxit secum iterum in Hiberniam, de domo Botmoniæ, quatuor canonicos; viz. Reginaldi de Aclond, Hugonem de Rous, Aluredum, et Algarum. Et tunc dominus Reginaldus creatus fuit in priorem per . . . . cui successit Hugo de Rous, qui postea fuit primus Anglicus episcopus Ossoriensis, qui jacet apud Kenlis. Et prædictus Galfridus filius R. feoffavit dictum domum de Kenlis cum septem carucatis terræ, quarum tres carucatæ terræ sunt inter villam de Kenlis et villam de Kilry; et aliæ tres carucatæ terræ sunt ultra aquam de Righi circa villam quæ dicitur Rathalwey, et illa carucata terræ quam prior Hospitalis Sancti Johannis nunc petit versùs priorem de Kenlis est una carucata terræ, et jacet infra metas dictarum trium carucatarum terræ, inter villam de Kenlis et de Kilry, quam carucatam terræ prædictus Galfridus filius Roberti fundator dictæ domus de Kenlis, simul cum multis aliis bonis, prout in charta fundationis dictæ domus continetur, dedit; quam chartam et cætera omnia fidelium dona, quæ possident, Walterus Marescallus comes Pembrochiæ per chartam suam confirmavit; et est nomen illius carucatæ terræ, quam prior Hospitalis nunc implacitat, villa de Balluscallan, cum terris et nativis, prout continetur in charta fundationis. Et sunt à prima confectione dictæ chartæ fundationis sexies viginti et decem anni. Post multum verò temporis dominus Thomas filius

Anthonii fundavit domum de Inistiock,[a] et rogavit priorem de Kenlis, ut frater Algarus et Aluredus essent in domo de Inistiock ad reformandum et instruendum cæteros canonicos. Et sic creatus fuit Aluredus in priorem apud Inistiock; et Algarus pro communi utilitate utriusque domus, ad eorum privilegia perquirenda, missus fuit ad curiam Romanam, et morabatur ibidem per longum tempus, et creatus fuit in episcopum, ex collatione domini papæ in Lombardia. Et sic per chronica invenitur, quod nunquam fuit prior de Kenlis.

Priory of St. John the Evangelist, in Kilkenny.

THIS Priory was founded in 1211 by William Marshall the elder, Earl of Pembroke: his charter is given by Dugdale. Odo occurs as Prior in 1212. Robert occurs Prior in 1308. James Shortall, 1300. John Purcell, without date. Richard Cantwell, the last Prior, surrendered his House 21st March, 31st Hen. VIIIth. See the state of the possessions of which he was seized in Archdale. This Monastery, with its possessions, was granted to the mayor and citizens of Kilkenny. The ruins of its buildings, in Archdale's time, were remaining in St. John's Street, in Kilkenny.[b]

Prioratus sive Hospitale S. Johannis Evang. de Kilkenny, fundatus circa Ann. Domini MCCXX.

Carta Fundationis.

[Ex autogr. per Jac. Waræum eq. aur. exscriptum.]

Willielmus Mareschallus, comes Pembrochiæ, omnibus tam præsentibus quàm futuris, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, salutem. Notum sit universitati vestræ, me pro salute animæ meæ, et omnium antecessorum, et successorum meorum, dedisse et concessisse, et hac præsenti carta mea confirmâsse Deo et beato Johanni evangelistæ, locum quendam ad caput parvi pontis de Kilkenny; scil. inter ductum minoris aquæ et viam quæ ducit ad Loghmadheran, ab horreis meis; et sexdecem acras de terra libera ex eadem parte aquæ illius, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, ad construendum ibidem domum religionis, in honore Dei et S. Johannis, et ad sustentationem pauperum et indigentium. Concessi etiam et præsenti carta mea confirmavi eidem domui, et fratribus ibidem Deo servientibus, totam parochiam ultra pontem de Kilkenny versùs orientem, et adjacentem eidem ponti, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, absque omni retenemento. Concessi etiam eisdem beneficium ecclesiasticum totius terræ meæ Donfert, quantum scil. indè ad patronum pertinet: et insuper beneficium ecclesiasticum totius terræ meæ de Loghmaderhan eodem modo, cum omnibus pertinentiis, tam in decimis, quàm oblationibus et obventionibus. Et insuper omnes decimas molendinorum, piscariarum, pomeriorum, et columbariorum meorum de Kilkenny. Volo etiam et concedo, quod prædicti fratres deserviant capellæ castri mei de Kilkenny, et indè habeant omnes obventiones, et oblationes, si ego absens fuero, vel hæredes mei: sin autem, tunc dominici capellani mei oblationes ex ea provenientes percipient.

Concessi etiam, et hac præsenti charta mea confirmavi, sæpedictis fratribus locum quendam ad caput magni pontis, ubi primitùs domus earum inchoata fuit. Reddendo de eodem loco michi et hæredibus annuatim meis tres solidos ad duos terminos; sc. medietatem ad Paschæ, et medietatem ad festum S. Michaelis, pro omnibus servitiis, demandis, consuetudinibus, et exactionibus. Concedo etiam eis, quod habeant et possideant pacificè omnes redditus burgagiorum, quæ eis in villa de Kilkenny data fuerunt, et danda; salvo servitio meo; et salvis omnibus, quæ juris mei sunt, et hæredum meorum. Præterea concessi, et intuitu charitatis confirmavi, quantum ad patronatum pertinet, Deo et dicto Hospitali S. Johannis de Kilkenny, ecclesiam de Haghamaw, et ecclesiam de Nova-villa, et totum beneficium Veteris-villæ, cum omnibus prædictarum villarum pertinentiis, tam in decimis, quam oblationibus et obventionibus, et cæteris rebus omnibus ad easdem ecclesias spectantibus. Et præterea concessi, et hac eadem charta mea confirmavi prædictæ domui decimas omnium molendinorum meorum, et fœnorum meorum, in parochiis prædictarum ecclesiarum. Et insuper concessi et hac præsenti charta mea confirmavi prædictæ domui Hospitalis S. Johannis de Kilkenny, triginta marchas argenti de decima redditus mei assisi in Hibernia, percipiendas imperpetuum ad scaccarium meum de Kilkenny, ad terminos prædicti redditus percipiendi per annum assignatos; sc. medietatem ad festum S. Michaelis, et alteram medietatem ad Pascham. Quare volo, et firmiter præcipio, et hac præsenti charta mea confirmo, quod omnes hæredes mei omnes donationes, concessiones, et confirmationes prædictas inviolabiliter teneant et eas ratas et stabiles habeant de me, hæredibus, et assignatis meis, et quod præscripti fratres habeant et teneant omnes donationes, concessiones, et confirmationes prædictas in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, adeo liberè, et quietè, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs et quietiùs dari potest et haberi.

Et præter hæc omnia, concessi, dedi, et hac præsenti charta mea confirmavi dictæ domui Hospitalis S. Johannis de Kilkenny, et fratribus ibidem Deo servientibus, unam carucatam terræ, cum pertinentiis, viz. illam quam Thomas Drake consuevit tenere juxta Kilkenny; tenendam et habendam de me et hæredibus meis, dictæ domui et dictis fratribus, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, solutam et quietam ab omnibus servitiis, consuetudinibus, demandis, et exactionibus. Quare volo, &c. Et ut hæc mea donatio, concessio, et confirmatio perpetuæ firmitatis et stabilitatis robur obtineat, præsentem chartam munimine impensionis sigilli mei confirmavi. Hiis testibus, domino Johanne marescallo, Thoma filio Anthonii, tunc senescallo Lageniæ; Fulcone filio Warini, Waltero Purcell, tunc vic. Kilkenny; Will. Grasso juniore, Hamundo Grasso; Rogero de Hida, &c.

Nunnery of Clonard, in the County of Meath.

THIS House, for regular Canonesses, was endowed, before the arrival of the English, by O'Melaghlin, King of Meath, and dedicated to the Virgin Mary. Pope Celestine the IIId confirmed the different donations to it, A.D. 1195, when Agnes was abbess. Another Agnes occurs as abbess, 1282. Felicia died in 1236. Burgenilda resigned in 1288. Archdale says, this Nunnery was afterwards reduced to so great penury, that it became a Cell to the Nunnery of St. Bridget of Odra, commonly called Odder.

Prioratus de Kluaynard.

Bulla Celestini Tertii Rom. Pontificis, Donationes eidem Domui factas, confirmans.

[Ex ipso autogr. penès Jac. Waræum, eq. aur.]

Celestinus episcopus, servus servorum Dei, dilectis in Christo filiabus, Agneti abbatissæ Monasterii S. Mariæ de Kluaynard, ejusdem sororibus, tam præsentibus, quàm futuris, regularem vitam professis imperpetuum. Prudentibus virginibus, quæ sub habitu religionis, accensis lampadibus, per opera sanctitatis jugiter se præparant ire obviam sponso, sedes apostolica debet præsidium impertire; ne fortè cujuslibet temeritatis incursus, aut eas à proposito revocet, aut robur (quod absit) sacræ religionis infringat. Ea propter, dilectæ in Christo filiæ, vestris justis postulationibus clementer annuimus, et præfatum monasterium de Kluaynard, quo divino estis obsequio mancipatæ, sub beati Petri, et nostra protectione suscipimus, et præsentis scripti privilegio communimus. Imprimis siquidem statuentes, ut ordo canonicus, qui secundùm Domini et beati Augustini regulam, atque institutionem Froensium fratrum, in eodem monasterio institutus esse dinoscitur, perpetuis ibidem temporibus immutabiliter observetur. Præterea, quascunque possessiones, quæcunque bona idem monasterium in præsenti justè et canonicè possidet; aut in futurum, concessione pontificum, largitione regum vel principum, oblatione fidelium, seu aliis justis modis, præsente Domino, poterit adipisci, firma vobis, et eis quæ vobis successerint et illibata permaneant; in quibus hæc propriis duximus exprimenda vocabulis. Locum ipsum in quo præfatum monasterium situm est, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Lesnabruny, Echlem, Balinchuleman, Rosinbarcan, cum earum pertinentiis. Ecclesiam Sanctæ Mariæ de Luscha, cum decem ageribus, de elemosina Johannis Dublinensis archiepiscopi in adjacenti campo, Cuodmua, Arrd, Grenog, Lesamulin, Kellathlechty, cum earum pertinentiis. Ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Dublinia, cum villis, Balinsgellan, Kelmactalmanais, Kelbrigi, Glenduah, cum earum pertinentiis. Ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Damliay, cum villa Balimleochid, cum suis pertinentiis. Ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Thermunfechin, cum villa Achadersamid, cum suis pertinentiis, ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Scrin, cum adjacenti campo Dumdonnuill, cum pertinentiis suis. Ecclesiam S. Odra, cum ipsa villa, et omnibus suis pertinentiis. Ecclesiam Sanctæ Brigidiæ de Athtrim, cum pertinentiis suis. Ecclesiam Sanctæ Mariæ de Kenenus, cum mansione sua in eadem civitate, et villa Disnerthirechan. Ecclesiam Sanctæ Mariæ de Fawor, cum villa Kellarthalgach cum pertinentiis suis. Ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Durmaig, cum suis possessionibus. Ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Cluaynmacnois, ac orientem, cum villa de Kellogainechan, cum suis pertinentiis. Ecclesiam S. Mariæ ad occidentem, cum villa Drumalgach, cum suis pertinentiis. Ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Evachdun, cum villa Kelgel, cum suis pertinentiis.

Sanè novalium vestrorum, quæ propriis manibus, aut sumptibus, sive de nutrimentis animalium vestrorum, nullus à vobis decimas exigere, vel extorquere præsumat. Liceat quoque vobis personas liberas, et absolutas, à seculo fugientes, ad conversionem recipere, et eas, absque contradictione aliqua retinere. Prohibemus insuper, ut nulli sororum vestrarum, post factam in loco vestro professionem, fas sit, absque abbatissæ suæ licentia, de eodem loco, nisi arctioris religionis obtentu, discedere: discedente verò, absque communium litterarum cautione, nullus audeat retinere. Cum autem generale interdictum terræ fuerit, liceat vobis, clausis januis, exclusis excommunicatis et interdictis, non pulsatis campanis, suppressa voce, divina officia celebrare. Inhibemus etiam, ne ullus archiepiscopus, episcopus, vel alia quælibet persona, nisi à vobis fuerit requisitus, in vestro monasterio conventus puplicos convocare, causas seu alia negotia pertractare præsumat, nisi à Romano pontifice, vel ejus legato super hoc mandatum receperit. Novas etiam, et indebitas exactiones ab archiepiscopis, episcopis, archidiaconis, seu decanis, aliisque omnibus ecclesiasticis, secularibusque personis, vobis omninò fieri prohibemus. Ad hæc etiam duximus inhibendum, ne ulli archiepiscopo, vel episcopo, seu aliæ personæ à vobis, pro decimis vestris, injustè aliud petere, et recipere liceat, quàm fuerit à predecessoribus eorum, usque ad hæc tempora requisitum, decimas et possessiones ad jus ecclesiarum vestrarum spectantes, quæ à laicis detinentur redimendi, et legitimè liberandi de manibus eorum; et ad ecclesias, ad quas pertinent, revocandi, libera sit vobis de auctoritate nostra facultas. Eas etiam decimas, quas monasterium vestrum à quadraginta annis inconcussè possedit et in præsentiarum rationabiliter possidet, vobis, et per vos eidem monasterio nihilominus confirmamus. Libertates præterea, et munitiones vestras antiquas, et rationabiles consuetudines monasterio vestro concessas, hactenùs observatas, et eas futuris temporibus illibatas manere sancimus. Sepulturam quoque ipsius loci liberam esse decernimus, ut eorum devotioni, et extremæ voluntati, qui se illic sepeliri deliberaverint, nisi fortè excommunicati vel interdicti sint, nullus obsistat; salva tamen justicia illarum ecclesiarum à quibus mortuorum corpora assumuntur.

Obeunte verò te, nunc ejusdem loci abbatissa, vel earum qualibet, quæ tibi successerint, nulla ibi in qualibet surreptionis astutia, seu violentia præponatur, nisi quam sorores, communi consensu, vel sororum pars consilii sanioris, secundùm Dei timorem et beati Augustini regulam providerint eligendam. Paci quoque ac tranquillitati vestræ, paterna imposterum sollicitudine providere volentes, auctoritate apostolica prohibemus, ut infra clausuras locorum vestrorum nullus rapinam seu furtum committere, sanguinem fundere, hominem temerè capere, vel interficere, seu violentiam audeat exercere. Decernimus ergo, ut nulli omninò homini liceat præfatum monasterium temerè perturbare, aut ejus possessiones auferre, vel allatas retinere, minuere, seu quibuslibet exactionibus fatigare; sed omnia illibata et integra conserventur, earum pro quarum gubernatione, et sustentatione concessa sunt, usibus omnimodis profutura. Salva sedis apostolicæ, et diœcesani episcopi canonica justitia. Siqua igitur in futurum ecclesiastica secularisve persona, hanc nostræ constitutionis paginam, sciens, contra eam temerè venire temptaverit, secundò tertiòve commonita, nisi reatum suum congrua satisfactione correxerit, potestatis honorisque sui careat dignitate, reamque se divino judicio existere de perpetrata iniquitate cognoscat; et à sacratissimo corpore ac sanguine Dei et Domini redemptoris nostri Jesu Christi aliena fiat, atque in extremo examine divinæ ultioni subjaceat. Cunctis autem eidem loco sua jura servantibus sit pax Domini nostri Jesu Christi, quatenùs et hic fructus bonæ actionis percipiant, et apud districtum judicem præmia æternæ pacis inveniant. Amen.

Prioratus S. Johannis Bapt. de Nenath, in Comitatu Tipperariae.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, circa Annum Domini MCC.

[Ex Cod. rubro MS. penès Comitem Ormoniæ.]

UNIVERSIS sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, Theobaldus Walter pincerna Hiberniæ, salutem. Noveritis me divini amoris intuitu, et pro salute animæ meæ, et pro animabus antecessorum et successorum meorum, dedisse, concessisse, et hæc præsenti charta confirmâsse Deo et S. Mariæ, et priori domus Sancti Johannis Baptistæ del Nenath, et canonicis et infirmis ibidem Deo servientibus, sex carucatas et quadraginta acras terræ in Keremath, propinquiores de Louthunlauth; et unam carrucatam terræ et dimidiam in Louthunlauth propinquiores de Keremath, et quatuor carucatas et xl. acras terræ in Cloncurry, et Lesrony, et Balnath, et Beelderg, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Habenda et tenenda sibi et successoribus suis, in puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, integrè, et liberè, et quietè, ab omni seculari exactione. Ita tamen, quod in dicta domo sancti Johannis sint in perpetuum tresdecim infirmi decumbentes ad minimum, qui de bonis dictæ domus commodè sustineantur; ita quod quilibet habeat singulis diebus panem integrum et potum de cellario, et ferculum de coquo, ad minus. Et cum facultas dictæ domus se obtulerit, crescat numerus canonicorum; ita quod sit ibi conventus. Concessi etiam dictis canonicis, pro me et hæredibus meis, quod decedentibus eorum prioribus in fata, liberam habeant potestatem eligendi et confirmandi sibi priorem, sine aliqua contradictione in perpetuum. Concessi etiam eisdem priori et canonicis, quod habeant piscinas, stagna, et molendina, in terris prædictis sibi et hominibus suis. Testibus, &c.

Priory of Bridge Town, or De Ponte Fermoy, in the County of Cork.

THIS Priory, situated on the river Blackwater, in the barony of Fermoy, was founded by Alexander Fitz Hugh, in the reign of King John; and was supplied with canons regular of the Order of St. Austin from the Priory of Newtown in the county of Meath, and the Abbey of St. Thomas in Dublin. King Edward the First's confirmation of the endowment made by Alexander is the only charter granted to this Priory given by Dugdale. The family of Roche contributed largely to the possessions of this Priory. THOMAS occurs Prior in 1375.

A small portion of the ruins of this Priory may still be seen.

Diploma Regis Edwardi Primi, Cartam Fundationis ejusdem Domus recitans et confirmans.

[Cart. 18 Edw. I. n. 99. Vide Cart. 17 Edw. I. m. 22.]

Rex archiepiscopis, &c. salutem. Inspeximus cartam, quam Alexander filius Hugonis fecit canonicis domus beatæ Mariæ de Ponte in Fermoy in Hibernia, in hæc verba. "Notum sit omnibus Christi fidelibus ad quos præsens scriptum pervenerit, quod ego Alexander filius Hugonis dedi, concessi, et præsenti carta mea confirmavi, Deo et monasterio sanctæ Mariæ de Ponte in Fermoy, et canonicis sub regula beati Augustini ibidem Deo servientibus, pro salute domini Jo. regis Ang. et antecessorum, et successorum suorum, et animæ meæ, et patris mei, et matris, et sponsæ meæ, et Grifini fratris mei, et antecessorum, et successorum meorum, locum ipsum ad monasterium construendum assignatum, ipsum Pontem, cum octo carucatis terræ arabilis, quæ sunt inter aquam de Avenebeg et terram Roberti Keting in longitudine; et inter dominicum meum, juxta castellum meum lapideum, et Avenemore, in latitudine, sicut divisæ et perambulatæ fuerint; et ab eadem terra assignata. Et totam terram meam, et nemus meum, et aquam, et omnes montes, et pasturam, quæ sunt usque Glymbride, versùs Corke, inter terram Keting, et terram monialium de Grane. Item quinque carucatas terræ arabilis, super Avenebeke; scil. duas ex dono Mauritii Flandrensis, et tres ex meo; quæ sunt inter domum prædicti Mauritii, et metas terræ de Calcumere; et liberè totam aquam, prout latitudo terræ eorum extendatur, ad stagnandum, et dirmandum, et eorum omnimodos usus, et fructus.

"Dedi etiam eisdem ibidem, in nemoribus, omnia aisiamenta ad eorum et hominum suorum omnimodos usus necessaria; et tertiam partem molendini mei, et piscariæ meæ juxta castellum meum, absque aliquo custu à canonicis exigendo, sive ad lapides, sive ad præparationem vel reparationem aliquam molendini, stagni, et piscariæ. Item omnia beneficia ecclesiastica totius terræ meæ dominicæ, cum decimis molendinorum, et fœni, piscariarum, venationum, et cunctarum rerum, quæ mihi vel hæredibus meis renovantur per annum. Item tria burgagia apud Lincericum, quorum unum tenet Nesta uxor Walteri Crop; reddendo indè annuatim dimidiam marcam; et Siwardus alia duo, reddendo indè annuatim unam marcam. Item feodum unius militis in Olethan. Item aliud feodum in Obathwen. Item villatam terræ juxta Carrig, nominatim illam, quæ mihi jure hæreditario a Remundo fratre meo devenit. Prædicta autem omnia concessi eis tenenda et habenda, in puram, liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam, quietè, pacificè, et honorificè, integrè, et plenariè, absque omni servitio, et exactione, et demando, auxilio, tallagio, et geldo, et absque .... Canes subjurnare homines vel equos ire, vel mittere in exercitum, vel enchenache; et nominatim absque nativa consuetudine, et prout aliqua elemosina liberiùs et meliùs dari potest, in bosco, in plano, in viis, in semitis; in aquis, in stagnis; pascuis, pasturis, moris; piscariis, venationibus, molendinis; mariscis, exitibus, pasturis; in foris, in furcis, et in omnibus aliis libertatibus, et liberis consuetudinibus, quas habeo vel concedere possum. Ad hæc, defuncto priore, vel translato, nec ego, nec hæredes mei, intromittimus nos de aliqua seisina facienda illius domus, vel rerum ad illam pertinentium; sed generalis et libera domus, et rerum dispositio, et gubernatio, fratribus ejusdem loci reservabitur, et liberè gaudent prælati sui electione. Et si fortè inter eos priorem idoneum non possunt de gremio proprio invenire, per eosdem eligatur, vel de domo apostolorum Petri et Pauli, de Midensi, vel etiam de domo sancti Thomæ martyris de Dublinia, de quibus initium, et formam ordinis acceperunt; vel alibi qui sit ejusdem substantiæ ordinis si in prædictis ecclesiis sufficiens, et idoneus non inveniatur.

"Concedo etiam, et volo, ut dicti canonici habeant omnes nativos cunctarum terrarum prædictarum, et curiam suam, de omnibus quærelis et placitis, quæ mergunt de terris suis, et eorum hominibus, exceptis illis, quæ fortè ad regiam coronam pertinent. Iidem autem canonici omnimodam habeant licentiam ubique per totam terram meam piscandi in Avenemore, et in Avenebeg, in polis, et extra polos, sine vexatione aliqua, vel impedimento. Sciendum est autem, quod ego prædictus Alexander et hæredes mei warantizabimus, defendemus, et acquietabimus prædictas terras prædictorum canonicorum, ab omni exactione seculari, et servicio forinseco. Et si egò, et hæredes mei dictas terras et pasturas, aquas, nemora, et montes, præfatis canonicis, contra omnes venientes, warantizare non poterimus, eis rationabile escambium, alias, in loco eis competenti, per visum legalium virorum, plenariè faciemus. Ut autem hæc mea donatio et concessio rata et stabilis, et inconcussa perseveret, præsentem paginam sigilli mei munimine dignum duxi roborare. Hiis testibus, domino Philippo, de Prendelgast; domino Philippo de Barre; domino Willielmo de Kantitune; domino Roberto de Kantitune; domino Henrico de Sancto Michaele; domino Ris. Beket; Mauricio Flandrensis; Mauritio de Porttrahan; et multis aliis."

Nos autem donationem et concessionem prædictas, ratas habentes, et gratas, eas, pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, prædictis canonicis, et eorum successoribus concedimus, et confirmamus, sicut carta prædicta rationabiliter testatur. Hiis testibus, &c. Data per manum nostram apud Westmonasterium xii. die Februarii.

Priory of Toberglorie, in the County of Down.

THE charter here printed by Dugdale supplies all the information with which we are acquainted concerning this Priory: namely, that it was founded by Sir John de Courcy, upon a spot in the suburb of Downpatrick, near a well called Toberglorie, between two roads; and that he gave it as a Cell to the Canons of the Church of St. Mary at Carlisle. King Edward the IId confirmed Sir John de Courcy's grant.

Carta Regis Edwardi Secundi, Donationes Johannis de Curceio, in Fundatione ejusdem Cœnobii factas, confirmans.

[Pat. 12 Edw. II. p. 1, m. 19.]

Rex omnibus ad quos, &c. salutem. Volentes dilectis nobis in Christo priori et canonicis ecclesiæ beatæ Mariæ Karlioli, qui per hostiles aggressus Scotorum, inimicorum et rebellium nostrorum, destruuntur, et depauperantur, gratiam facere specialem, donationes, concessiones, et confirmationes, quas Johannes de Curceio fecit Deo et canonicis regularibus ecclesiæ prædictæ, de loco quem fundavit in honore sancti Thomæ martyris, ad honorem ipsorum canonicorum, juxta fontem quæ vocatur Toberglorie, in suburbio de Dun, inter duas vias, quarum una tendit ad Crems, alia ad grangiam de Saballo, cum tribus carucatis terræ eidem loco propinquioribus, de dominio ipsius Johannis, cum terris, pratis, pascuis, molendinis, et cæteris aisiamentis, in aquis salsis, et dulcibus, in nemoribus, in soc et sac, tol et team, et tac et infangthef, liberè, quietè, et honorificè in omnibus libertatibus; et ita liberè, et quietè, et tam honorificè, sicut aliqua elemosina est quietior et liberior in tota Anglia, &c.

Donationem etiam, concessionem, et confirmationem, quas idem Johannes fecit prædictis canonicis, de uno burgagio infra urbem de Dun, et de tota decimatione domus prædicti Johannis, et hospicii sui, et omnium dominicorum suorum, tam castellorum, quàm aliorum locorum, de quibuslibet cibis et potibus, ratas habentes et gratas, eas pro nobis et hæredibus nostris, quantum in nobis est, præfatis priori, et canonicis, et successoribus suis concedimus, et confirmamus, sicut cartæ, quas indè habent, rationabiliter testantur; et prout ipsi terras et tenementa prædicta huc usque tenuerunt, et libertatibus prædictis usi sunt, et gavisi. In cujus, &c. T. rege apud Eboracum, secundo die Novembris.

Priory of Tristernagh, in the County of Westmeath.

TRISTERNAGH was sometimes called the Priory of Kilbrixy. It was situated in the barony of Moygoish, on the banks of Lough Iron, and was founded about the year 1200, by Geoffrey de Constantine. The particulars of the endowment will be seen in the foundation charter. Archdale says, Adam O'Murredai who died A.D. 1217; Robert, who died in 1224; and Brendan, who died in 1255, were bishops of Ardagh, and great benefactors to this Priory. ADAM was Prior of this House about the year 1280; RICHARD OF DROGHEDA, 1364; WILLIAM, 1412; GEOFFREY DELAMAR, 1468; RICHARD TUITE, 1485; EDMUND NUGENT, then Prior of this House, was made bishop of Kilmore in 1530; he held this Priory, with his bishoprick, till the Suppression, when, 20th March, 1540, he surrendered this House to the King, and received a pension of 26*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* per annum during life.

The remains of this Priory were totally destroyed in 1783.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, per Galfridum de Constantine.

[Ex Regist. ejusdem Cœnobii, per Jac. Waræum, eq. aur. exscriptum.]

SCIANT præsentes et futuri, quod ego Galfridus de Constantine dedi et concessi, et hac præsenti charta mea confirmavi Deo et domui, quam ego, Deo authore, fundavi in territorio de Kilbisky, in honorem beatæ virginis Mariæ, et canonicis ibidem Deo in regulari habitu ministrantibus, pro salute animæ meæ, et patris mei, et matris meæ, et uxoris meæ Lætitiæ, et omnium antecessorum meorum, et hæredum, terras, ecclesias, et libertates subscriptas, viz. locum in quo domus sita est, qui vocatur Tristernagh, cum quatuor carucatis terræ adjacentibus, per divisas quæ illis sunt divisæ, et perambulatæ; et insulas de lacu qui vocatur Loghern, quæ subjacent domui, et de eodem lacu quicquid ad me dinoscitur pertinere apud Kilbisky totam terram, à calciata, per quam itur ab ecclesia ad castellum, et à capite ejusdem calciatæ per viam in valle usque ad situm molendini; et ejusdem molendini situm et stagnum; et sic per stagnum molendini et ductum aquæ usque ad divisas terræ, quam dedi Agneti uxori Thurstani; et sic per divisas terræ ejusdem usque ad crucem sancti Columbæ in magno itinere; et sic per magnum iter usque ad domum quæ fuit veteris capellani Hibernici. Concessi etiam et confirmavi prædictis canonicis meis, ut ipsi, quandoque placuerit, prædictum molendinum et ejusdem molendini stagnum valeant mundare, meliorare, et largiùs facere; et ut nemo aquam indè valeat avertere.

In Cunemuks duas carrucatas terræ, propinquiores lacui Loghyern, inter aquam quæ dicitur Etheio, et aquam quæ dicitur Deloghmuegen; et super eandem aquam situm unius molendini, et duas piscarias, quæ vocantur Dufchara et Carangilly. Concessi etiam jam dictis canonicis meis, ut aquam, quæ vocatur Moylle, per terram meam valeant conducere usque ad domum suam ubicunque voluerint, per largum et sufficientem canalem, sine alicujus contradictione, aut vexatione. In Balirothry unum toftum; et in campo ejusdem villæ totam terram quæ fuit Radulphi carpentarii. Apud Dubliniam extras muros civitatis, juxta Hogges, unum messuagium, sicut illis est divisum et assignatum. In Conatia decem carucatas terræ de terra mea, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in loco eis idoneo et magis competenti. Dedi etiam et confirmavi prædictis canonicis meis, quoad patronum pertinet, ecclesias de Kilbysky; de Balyrothry; de Tyrcloghir; de Rathroin, de Glyn, de Croskeyn, de Killoe, cum earum pertinentiis. Dedi etiam eis et confirmavi dimidiam carrucatam terræ, quæ fuit Awardi, et dimidiam carrucatam terræ, quæ fuit Henrici prioris; et dimidiam carrucatum terræ, quæ fuit Roberti Moyson; et dimidiam carrucatam terræ, quæ fuit uxoris Thurstani; et totam terram, quæ fuit Aluredi vigilis et aliorum, quæ est, ~~scil.~~ inter pontem qui est in valle juxta crucem sancti Columbæ, et domum eorundem canonicorum; pro quibus omnibus dedi prædictis, scil. Awardo, Henrico priori, et hæredibus Roberti Moyson, et Agneti uxori Thurstani et Aluredo vigili, et aliis, pro voluntate sua excambium.

Dedi etiam eis et confirmavi quinque carrucatas de bosco meo, viz. Kilkareth, cum quinque carrucatis de proximo adjacentibus. Dedi etiam eis et concessi et confirmavi communam ubicunque in omnibus boscis meis dominicis, ad omnia averia sua, et omnes porcos suos, cum libertate pannagii et ad omnia alia ædificia sua, et ad omnia usibus suis necessaria. Concessi etiam et confirmavi jam dictis canonicis meis unam carrucatam terræ, quæ fuit Roberti de Stokbord, in territorio de Kilbisky, pro qua idem Robertus, pro voluntate sua, accepit. excambium, secundùm tenorem chartarum et scriptorum inter eos confectorum. Concessi etiam eis et confirmavi totam terram Taurini Carpentarii in territorio de Kilbysky, quam idem Taurinus eis dedit, et charta sua confirmavit.

Concessi etiam eis et confirmavi dimidiam carrucatam terræ de dono Radulphi de Trivers in territorio de Kilbisky; et de donatione Fulconis Flandrensis unum molendinum, quod dedit eis cum stagno et omnibus aliis ad illud pertinentibus; et de dono Stephani Sagittarii unum toftum apud Balyrothry, quod de eis tenet Robertus de Balidonegan; reddendo indè eis annuatim redditum duodecem denariorum, quos eis reddit Willielmus de Curtelagh, et hæredes sui de terra, quam idem Alanus ei vendidit. Concessi etiam eis et confirmavi toftum quod fuit Eadrici Textoris in villa de Kilbisky, et in campis ejusdem villæ, totam terram quæ fuit ejusdem, quam eis vendidit Fœlicia soror Orni Coci, et finabiliter quietam clamavit. Concessi etiam et confirmavi jam dictis canonicis meis, ut de omnibus hominibus suis ubicunque in terra sua manentibus liberam curiam habeant, et ut ipsi et omnes homines eorum, per totam terram meam, habeant liberam emptionem, et venditionem, sine actione alicujus consuetudinis. Concessi etiam et confirmavi jam dictis canonicis meis, et eorum successoribus, quod ipsi habeant, recipiant, et in perpetuum possideant liberè et quietè, tolle, absque contradictione cujuscunque de omnibus et singulis rebus emptis et venditis super terras eorum, ubicunque in villis forinsecis terras habuerint, per totum dominium meum, in propriam, liberam, et perpetuam elemosinam.

Concessi etiam eisdem canonicis meis et confirmavi omnes donationes terrarum, et elemosinarum de feudo meo, quæ eis rationabiliter datæ sunt, vel in posterum dabuntur. Concessi etiam eis et confirmavi, ut ipsi in decessu prioris sui Henrici, et omnium aliorum ipsius successorum, liberam prioris sui habeant electionem, nullius habito vel requisito consensu. Statui etiam, quoad patronum pertinet, ut si (quod absit) de substituendo priore orta fuerit inter canonicos dissentio, aut discordia, convocent quos placuerit viros religiosos et alios discretos, quorum communicato consilio secundùm Deum, procedat electio et substitutio, et ut prioratu vacante, canonici liberam et generalem domus suæ habeant procurationem, et administrationem, donec prior substituatur, nullo omninò in eos vel in domum suam manum mittente.

Quare volo, et omnibus hæredibus meis et hominibus meis firmiter præcipio, ut sæpedicti canonici, quo liberiùs saluti animæ et suarum, et aliorum, quorum bonis sustentantur, possint intendere, omnes prædictas ecclesias, cum omnibus earum beneficis, viz. cum decimis segetum, fœni, molendinorum, hortorum, piscariarum, columbariorum, et omnium aliorum, quæ per annum renovantur, et quibus sancta ecclesia decimas accipere et exigere consuevit, et omnes prædictas terras, cum omnibus suis et cum omnibus hominibus, earum pertinentiis; viz. pratis, et pascuis, maris, et mariscis, aquis currentibus, lacubus, molendinis, viis et semitis, boscis et planis, et cum omnibus aliis præscriptis libertatibus habeant, teneant, et possideant in propriam et perpetuam elemosinam, benè et in pacè, liberè, et quietè, integrè, et honorificè, cum omnibus libertatibus et liberis consuetudinibus, quas ego eis dare possum et confirmare immunes, liberas, et quietas, et à tallagiis, cariagiis, auxiliis, servitiis, demandis, exactionibus, et ab omni seculari officio et exactione. Ut autem hæredes mei hanc donationis meæ chartam forsitan inspecturi et audituri, perpendant quo animo et affectu de toto adquisito meo labore, fame, et inédia, hoc tantillum, non tantum mihi, sed et ipsis in futurum reservaverim, ipsis omnibus hujus donationis meæ benefactoribus, concessoribus manutentoribus, et adjutoribus perpetuam relinquo benedictionem: præsumptuosi verò aufertores, violatores, et contradictores, ne benedictione priventur periculum eis imminens videant et caveant. Cathedral of the Holy Trinity, otherwise Christ Church, Dublin.

FOR the detailed history of the Cathedral Church of the Holy Trinity, Dublin, the reader is referred to Archdale. Dugdale has given, Num. I., the testimony of the White Book of this Church relating to its first foundation; and, Num. II., a charter from King John to the archbishop of Dublin, dated in the 15th year of his reign.

Originally this Church had a Prior and Convent: the Prior sitting as a lord in parliament. GERVASE occurs Prior in 1170.

A confirmation of its rights was obtained by archbishop Laurence, from King Henry the Second, in 1172. Archdale recites numerous donations to it at subsequent periods.

King Henry the Eighth, by letters patent dated 10th May, 1541, changed the Priory here into a Dean and Chapter, confirming the ancient estates and immunities, and establishing Robert Payneswick, the last Prior, as the first Dean.

Ecclesia Cathedralis S. Trinitatis Dubliniae.

NUM. I.

De Fundatione ejusdem.

[Ex Cod. albo eccl. S. Trinit. Dublin. composito per Thomam Fiche, ejusdem domus canonicum.]

INPRIMIS fornices sive voltæ fuerunt fundati per Danos, ante adventum S. Patricii ad Hiberniam; et tunc temporis ecclesia non fuerat fundata et constructa ut nunc est; quapropter S. Patricius celebravit missam in uno fornace sive volta, qui in hodiernum diem appellatus fornix sive volta S. Patricii. Deindè S. Patricius cernens ingentia miracula, quæ Deus ei ostenderat, prophetavit et dixit, "Post multos annos futuros, hic erit ecclesia fundata et constructa, et Deus laudabitur in ea post omnes ecclesias totius Hiberniæ."

Postea venit Sitrius rex Dubliniæ, filius Ableb comitis Dubliniæ, et dedit S. Trinitati, et Donato primo episcopo Dubliniæ, locum ad ædificandam ecclesiam S. Trinitati, ubi fornaces sive voltæ sunt nunc fundati, cum terris subscriptis; viz. Kealdulek, Recraporteacre, cum villanis et vaccis et bladis; necnon aurum et argentum sufficienter ad ædificandam ecclesiam, cum tota curia, contulit. Tunc iste religiosissimus vir Donatus dixit, quod satisfaceret voluntati et mandato istius Sitruic regis, in quantum potuisset; et cum divina gratia ædificavit navim ecclesiæ, cum duobus collateralibus structuris, et solium imagini crucifixi, cum capella S. Nicholai in parte boreali, cum aliis ædificiis ad placitum fundatoris; et etiam prædictus episcopus ædificavit ecclesiam S. Michaelis. Deindè, post multos annos, venerunt Laurentius, archiepiscopus secundus Dubliniensis, et Ricardus comes Striguliæ, et comes mareschallus, et Robertus filius Stephani, et Raymundus, qui desponsavit sororem comitis mareschalli, et fecerunt chorum ecclesiæ metropolitanæ, cum campanis et duabus capellis, viz. S. Edmundi regis et martyris, et Mariæ, quæ dicitur Alba, et S. Landi. Ac etiam dedit ecclesiam S. Michaelis ad mensam canonicorum. Et antequam archiepiscopi fuerunt creati Dublin. placea palatii fuit in dominio prioris et conventus S. Trinitatis Dublin. et ibi fuit ortus illorum.

Et post Laurentium venit archiepiscopus alius, qui nominabatur Henricus; et post Henricum venit alius, qui vocabatur Lucas; et hii tres archiepiscopi successivè præcedentes, ædificaverunt cancellam à choro, cum duabus collateralibus structuris, usque ad locum ubi nunc extat sedes archiepiscopalis, pro cujus notitia Johannes Comyng, et Lucas archiepiscopus sepeliuntur in quadam tumba lapidea in australi latere ecclesiæ. Henricus verò archiepiscopus sepelitur ex altera parte cancelli, ex opposito, sub tumba lignea. Deindeque post multos annos successit Johannes de S. Paulo archiepiscopus: et ubi prædicti tres archiepiscopi omiserunt ædificare cancellam, cum sede episcopali, et magnam fenestram in orientali parte summi altaris, et alias tres fenestras inter magnam fenestram et sedem archiepiscopalem, ex parte australi construxit: in cujus memoriam corpus suum, sub lapide marmoreo, cum imagine ænea in secundo gradu ante prædictum altare, in suo ultimo eulogio sepeliri disposuit. Ac subsequentes cives Dubliniæ, moti ex quodam magno miraculo S. Laurentii episcopi prædicti (ut in ejusdem vita pleniùs continetur) capellam magnam beatæ Mariæ Virginis, ex boreali parte cancelli, honorificè fundarunt et construxerunt.

Carta Regis Johannis, Archiepiscopo Dublinensi.

[Cart. 15 Joh. m. 3, n. 26.]

JOHANNES Dei gratia, &c. omnibus, &c. Sciatis, quod nos divini amoris intuitu, pro salute animæ nostræ, et H. regis patris nostri, et omnium antecessorum et successorum nostrorum, concessisse et hac carta nostra confirmâsse venerabili patri nostro H. Dublinensi archiepiscopo, et successoribus suis, episcopatum de Gleudesach, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et abbaciam de Gludesach cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, salvo tenemento Th. abbatis, scil. dimidio candredo, quoad vixerit, de eodem archiepiscopo tenendo; ita tamen, quod post decessum vel recessum ipsius T. illud dimidium candredum, et quicquid ad illud spectat, redeat ad dispositionem et dominicum Dublinensis archiepiscopi. Exceptis feodis trium militum, quæ retinuimus in manu nostra in loco magis idoneo, in illo dimidio candredo, ad custodiendum forestam nostram. Et terram de Coillach, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, pro xx^{l}. terræ, quas ei in baroniam dederamus, et carta nostra confirmaveramus; tenendas de nobis, et hæredibus nostris in feodo, et hæreditariè, pro servicio unius militis; tali tamen conditione, quod cum in Hiberniam venerimus, si voluerimus, prædictam terram in propria manu nostra retinere, excambium eis ad valenciam, in loco tuto et competenti, assignabimus, antequam indè disseisientur. Et ecclesiam nostram de Trinn, in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, ad faciendum indè præbendam unam in ecclesia sancti Patricii in suburbio Dubliniæ. Et quod habeant nundinas in villa de Surdes, quæ est de archiepiscopatu Dublinensi singulis annis circa festum sancti Kelumkilli, per octo dies duraturas, sicut idem archiepiscopus ea tenet in præsenti, et sicut cartæ nostræ, quas prædictæ ecclesiæ Dublinensi, tempore quo fuimus comes Moreton, fieri fecimus rationabiliter testantur. Quare volumus et firmiter præcipimus, quod prædictus archiepiscopus, et successores sui habeant et teneant omnia supradicta; scil. episcopatum et abbaciam de Glindenth, et terram de Caillach, et ecclesiam de Trinn; et nundinas de Swerdes, benè et in pace; et cætera ad ea pertinentia, sicut prædictum est. Testibus domino P. Winton. episcopo; W. de Ferrariis comite Derebiæ, et aliis. Data per manum R. de Mar. apud Porstkot xxx. die Julii, anno xv.

SCOTTISH MONASTERIES.

Priory of Coldingham;

Cell to the Cathedral Priory of Durham, in England.

DUGDALE, in an Extract from a Manuscript in the Bodleian Library, and Bede, in his Ecclesiastical History, both favour the conjecture that Coldingham Priory, which was for Nuns as well as Monks, was founded by Ebba, or Æbba, aunt of Egfrid, king of Northumberland, some time before 673; in which year Ædilthryd, or Etheldreda, Egfrid's wife, took the veil under Ebba as a Nun.[a]

Pennant speaks of Coldingham as the most ancient foundation of its kind in Scotland, and conjectures, from the name of Coludi, by which Bede mentions it, that its site had been originally inhabited by the religious called Culdees.

Another Abbess of Coldingham, of the name of Ebba, at a later period by two hundred years, immortalized this place for heroism. She, and her Nuns at her instance, to preserve themselves inviolate from the Danes, cut off their lips and noses, thus rendering themselves objects of horror. The Danes, from disappointment, burnt both the Monastery and its inhabitants. From this time till 1098, Coldingham lay deserted, when Edgar, King of Scotland, founded upon its site a Priory of Benedictines, which he bestowed upon the Monks of Durham, with all lands, waters, wrecks, &c.

Smith, in his Appendix to Bede, Num. xx. pp. 760-764, has printed various charters relating to this House, as a Cell to Durham. One of Edgar's states that that monarch attended the dedication of the Church of St. Mary of Coldingham, and offered a grant of endowment to it, upon the altar, of the vill of Swinton.

In 1216, this Monastery was again burnt by King John. It was afterwards rebuilt, and, in 1327, according to an Instrument given by Dugdale, taken under the especial protection of King Edward the Third.

A Chartulary of this House is preserved in the Library of the Dean and Chapter of Durham,[b] who also possess a very large collection of original charters relating to this House, with Seals appendant. Bishop Nicholson, in Num. vii. of the Appendix to his Scottish Historical Library, edit. 1776, p. 111, has printed a List of them.

The Harleian MS. 4623, tom. i., also contains another Index of Charters, entitled, "Cartæ Priorum et Conventus de Coldingham."

Another Harleian MS. 4693, fol. 19b, preserves a Drawing of the SEAL of this House. It represents, in the area, a figure of the Virgin Mary seated, bearing a mound and cross; the word MARIA upon a label behind her. Inscription round, SIGILL . . . . ONE . . RIS . DE . COLDINGHAM.

SANCTA verò Ebba, ex regali progenie orta: soror enim Oswi Northanhumbrorum, et Egfridi regis amita fuit; quorum temporibus, velut mater regni et decus enituit, quæ regnum mundi, et omnem ornatum seculi contempsit propter amorem Filii Dei, quem mundo corde dilexit; et à sancto Finano Lindisfarnensi episcopo, sanctæ conversationis velamen accepit: dominicam servitutem nobilitati prætulit; spiritualem paupertatem divitiis, et honoribus spontaneam abjectionem. Petebatur autem à quodam Scotorum tyranno, rege Eadano, in uxorem; quo raptum meditante et amore simul et violentia eam persequente, traditur ad montem Coludi, id est Coldyngham, fugisse, et ad preces ejus à meridie in altum mai . . . se erigens, subjectæ vallis alveum transcurrens, hosti triduo continuis fluctibus obstitisse; et cooperante Domino, munitionis præsidium virginis præstitisse. Carta Regis Edwardi Tertii, de Protectione.

Rex omnibus ballivis et fidelibus suis ad quos, &c. salutem. Sciatis, quod cum prioratus de Coldyngham in Scocia, cella prioratus Dunelmensis, priorque et monachi cellæ prædictæ Anglici, et in prædicto prioratu Dunelmensi professi existant; et in eadem cella, de voluntate et dispositione prioris Dunelmensis morentur: Nos volentes præfatos priorem et monachos dictæ cellæ de Coldyngham, eo pretextu, favore prosequi gratioso, ipsos priorem et monachos cellæ prædictæ, homines, terras, res, redditus, et omnes possessiones suas suscepimus in protectionem et defensionem nostram specialem. Et ideo vobis mandamus, quod ipsos priorem, et monachos cellæ illius, homines, terras, res, redditus, et omnes possessiones suas, manuteneatis, protegatis, et defendatis. Non inferentes eis vel inferri permittentes injuriam, molestiam, dampnum, aut gravamen. Et si quid eis forisfactum fuerit, id eis sine dilatione faciatis emendari. Nolumus enim, quod de bladis, fœnis, equis, carectis, cariagiis, victualibus, aut aliis bonis, seu catallis ipsorum prioris et monachorum cellæ prædictæ, contra voluntatem suam, ad opus nostrum, vel aliorum, per ballivos, seu ministros nostros, aut alterius cujuscumque quicquam capiatur. Abbey of Lindores, in Perthshire.

THIS was a rich Abbey, founded by David, Earl of Huntingdon, brother to William the First of Scotland, upon his return from the Holy Land, about the year 1178. Its inhabitants were Tyronensian Monks, drawn from the Abbey of Kelso. Pennant says, their revenue in money was 2240*l.* 14*s.* 4*d.* Scots; and they had, besides, twenty-two parish churches dependent on them.[a]

The Harleian MS. 4693, fol. 21 b, preserves a drawing of the fragment of a Seal of Richard, abbat of Lindores, early in the fourteenth Century. A more perfect drawing of the COMMON SEAL is in the possession of one of the Editors of this Work: it represents the blessed Virgin, with the divine Infant in her lap, having his right hand extended, and an orb in his left; the Virgin herself is crowned, bearing in her left hand a small shrine. Legend, SIGILLVM . SANTE . MARIE . . . . DE . LVNDORE. A fragment of a Register of this Abbey is stated, by Gough, to be in the Library of the Advocates at Edinburgh.[b]

Cœnobium de Londors.

Carta Fundationis ejusdem, per Davidem, Huntendoniæ Comitem.

[Ab ipso autographo, per Jac. Balfoure, eq. aur. et baronem Lyon, exscriptum.]

Universis sanctæ matris ecclesiæ filiis, et fidelibus, tam præsentibus quàm futuris, comes David, frater regis Scotiæ, salutem. Sciatis me fundâsse quandam abbaciam apud Londors, de ordine Kelchoensi, ad honorem Dei et S. Mariæ virginis, et S. Andreæ apostoli, omniumque sanctorum, pro salute animæ regis Davidis, avi mei, et pro salute animæ comitis Henrici patris mei; et pro salute animæ regis Willielmi fratris mei, et reginæ Armegard, et omnium antecessorum meorum; et pro salute animæ meæ et Matildis comitissæ sponsæ meæ; et pro salute animæ Davidis filii mei, et omnium successorum meorum; et pro salute animarum, fratrum et sororum meorum. Concessi etiam, et hac carta mea confirmavi prædictæ abbaciæ de Londors, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, in liberam, et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, ecclesiam de Londors, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, et terram ad prædictam ecclesiam pertinentem, in bosco et plano, sicut eam magister Thomas tenuit et habuit. Et ecclesiam de Dunde, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis. Et ecclesiam de Fintriche, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis; et ecclesiam de Inuerurin, cum capella de Munkegin, et omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis: et ecclesiam de Durnach; et ecclesiam de Prame; et ecclesiam de Radmuriel; et ecclesiam de Inchemabanin; et ecclesiam de Culsamuel; et ecclesiam de Kelalemund, cum capellis earundem ecclesiarum; et terris et decimis, et omnibus aliis pertinentiis earum ad proprios usus et sustentationes eorundem monachorum. Quare volo et concedo, ut prædicti monachi habeant et teneant in perpetuam et puram elemosinam, prædictas ecclesias, cum capellis, et terris, et decimis, et omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis, sine omni servitio, et consuetudine, et auxilio seculari, et exactione, benè, et in pace, liberè, quietè, plenariè, integrè, et honorificè, sicut aliqua abbacia, vel domus religionis, in toto regno Scotiæ, meliùs, liberiùs, quietiùs, pleniùs, et honorificentiùs aliquas ecclesias, vel aliquas alias elemosinas haberet, possidet. Has autem ecclesias prænominato monasterio de Londors, et monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, ita liberè et pacificè jure perpetuo possidenda concessi, et confirmavi, ut in succedentium nullus aliquid ab eis nisi solas orationes ad animæ salutem exigere præsumat. Hiis testibus, Willielmo rege Scotiæ, Johanne episcopo Aberdonensi; Radulpho episcopo Brechinensi; Osberto abbate Kelchoensi; Henrico abbate de Aberbrodock; Simone archidiacono de Aberdoen; Roberto decano de Aberdoen; Valtero officiali; Matheo de Aberdoen, clerico domini regis; David de Lindeseia, Valtero de Olifard; Roberto Basset, Valkelino filio Stephani; Villielmo Vascelin; Galfrido de Watterveille; Normano filio Malcolmi, constabulario de Inuerurin; Henrico de Bruile; Matheo Falconario, Simone Flamang, cum multis aliis.

Abbey of Aberbrothic.

THIS Abbey, says Pennant, was founded by William the Lion, in 1178, and dedicated to our celebrated primate Thomas à Becket. The founder was buried here. The monks were of the Tyronensian Order, and were first brought from Kelso, whose abbat declared those of this place, on the first institution, to be free from his jurisdiction. The last abbat was the famous Cardinal Beaton, at the same time archbishop of St. Andrew's, and, before his death, as great and absolute in Scotland as Wolsey was in England. On the Reformation, John Hamilton was commendatory abbat. In 1608, it was erected into a barony, in favour of his son James; then was conveyed to the Earl of Dysart; and, finally, bought by Patrick Maule of Panmure, with the patronage of thirty-four pounds.

The revenues of this Abbey were very great. In the year 1562, they were reckoned two thousand five hundred and fifty-three pounds Scots, besides the vast contributions of corn from the tenants, who paid their rents in kind. The ordinance for the yearly provision of the House in 1530 will serve to give some idea of the great charity and hospitality of the place. There was an order for buying 800 wethers, 180 oxen, 11 barrels of salmon, 1200 dried cod-fish, 82 chalders of malt, 30 of wheat, 40 of meal: all which appears additional to the produce of their lands, or what their tenants brought in. This profusion of stores would seem very extraordinary, when the number of monks did not exceed twenty-five: but the ordinance acquaints us, that the appointments of that year exceeded those of 1528, notwithstanding in the last the king had been there twice, and the archbishop thrice. In the chartulary of the House, these visits are complained of as an intolerable burden, and with reason; for, besides loading the Abbey with vast expense, it deprived them of the means of exerting their usual hospitality towards the poor.

John, King of England, granted this Monastery most uncommon privileges; for, by charter under his great Seal, he exempted it a teloniis et consuetudine in every part of England, except London.

Robert Bruce here convened the nobility of Scotland, in 1320, when they framed their remonstrance to Pope John in favour of their independence of the English.

See the Taxt Roll of this Abbey, in 1617, MS. Harl. 4623, tom. ii. fol. 95. See also MS. Harl. 4613. Sir James Balfour, according to Gough, had a Register of Aberbrothic Abbey in his Library. Two others, one in quarto, written about or before 1400, the other in folio, t. Jac. IV., are said to be in the Advocates' Library at Edinburgh.

A Drawing of part of the Seal of Adam, abbat of Aberbrothic in 1293, occurs in the Harl. MS. 4693, fol. 21 b.

Pennant has given a View of the Ruins of this Abbey, which have, since, considerably decayed.

In 1608, this Abbey was erected into a temporal lordship, in favour of James, Marquess of Hamilton. It afterwards belonged to the Earl of Dysart, from whom it was purchased by Patrick Maule of Panmure, ancestor to the Earl of Panmure, whose estates, when Cardonnell wrote, were possessed by the Hon. William Ramsay Maule, brother to the Earl of Dalhousie.

Annexed to this Abbey was the right of patronage of thirty-four parish-churches. The revenues amounted, at the Reformation, to 2483*l.* 5*s.* Scots money, and in wheat, barley, &c. 5459 Scots bolls.

Abbathia de Aberbrothe.

Carta Fundationis per Willielmum Regem Scotorum.

[Excript. ab autogr. per præf. Jac. Balfoure.]

WILLIELMUS Dei gratia rex Scotorum, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, et omnibus probis hominibus totius terræ suæ, clericis et laicis, salutem. Sciant præsentes et futuri, me pro amore Dei, et pro salute animæ meæ, et pro salute animarum antecessorum et successorum meorum, dedisse, concessisse, et hac mea carta confirmâsse Deo et ecclesiæ quam fundavi in honorem Dei et S. Thomæ archipræsulis et martyris, apud Aberbrothoicke, et monachis ibidem Deo et S. Thomæ servientibus et servituris, in liberam, et puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, Aberbrothoc cum tota schyra sua, per rectas divisas suas, in bosco et plano, terris et aquis, in pratis et pascuis, cum omnibus justis pertinentiis suis; et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ; scil. Aberbrothoc, cum plenariis decimis suis, et cum omnibus aliis pertinentiis suis. Dedi et concessi eisdem licentiam et libertatem faciendi burgum et habendi portum et habendi forum unaquaque die Sabati, in eadem terra. Concessi etiam eis imperpetuum hanc in eorum burgo libertatem, ut omnes eorum burgenses, qui in eodem burgo terram vel domum habuerint, et in eo manentes fuerint, et burgenses eorum qui in toftis eorum manent, in burgis meis quieti et liberi sint à thelonio et consuetudine per totam terram meam, et per omnes portus terræ meæ, de omnibus mercibus et mercaturis suis propriis, quas emerint vel venderint. Dedi et eis concessi Athyn, per rectas divisas suas, et cum omnibus justis pertinentiis suis; et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, cum plenariis decimis suis, et cum aliis justis pertinentiis suis. Dedi et eis Achinglas, per rectas divisas suas, et cum omnibus justis pertinentiis suis: et Dunechtyn cum tota scira sua, per rectas divisas suas, et cum omnibus aliis justis pertinentiis suis; et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ cum omnibus ad eam justè pertinentibus; et Kingoldrum, cum tota scira sua, et per rectas divisas suas; et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ, cum omnibus ad eam justè pertinentibus; et ecclesiam S. Mariæ de Veteri Munros, cum terra ejusdem ecclesiæ quæ Scoticè Abthen vocatur, per rectas divisas suas; et cum decimis plenariis et omnibus aliis justis pertinentiis suis; et ecclesiam de Benchoryn, cum omnibus justis pertinentiis suis: et ecclesiam de Clampnes, cum omnibus justis pertinentiis suis; et ecclesiam de Hancwy-litle in Tyndale, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, in capellis, et terris, in decimis, in elemosinis, et in omnibus aliis ecclesiasticis rectitudinibus, consuetudinibus, et beneficiis, cum communi pastura et omnibus aliis asiamentis ejusdem parochiæ: et unum plenarium toftum in singulis burgis meis, quæ habeo et habiturus sum; et licentiam capiendi in forestis meis quæcunque eis necessaria fuerint ad ædificia sua, et ad usus proprios. Et unum rete super aquam meam de Perthe, quæ vocatur Stock; et unum plenarium rete super aquam de Northescke, juxta Muros; et unam salinam juxta salinas meas in Kars, apud Strevelyne, cum quinque acris terræ, et cum pastura et focali ad prædictam salinam sufficientibus. Concedo etiam eis liberam terram suam, cum sacco et socco, cum thol, et teme, et infangeltheife; et ferrum et duellum; fossam, et furcas, et liberam electionem abbatis, et firmam pacem intra divisas de Aberbrothoc. Præterea concessi iis, et hac carta mea confirmavi, ut omnia tofta, quæ iis dedi in omnibus burgis et maneriis meis, per totam terram meam libera sint et quieta ab omnibus auxiliis ad me et hæredes meos pertinentibus. Quare prohibeo firmiter, ne quis de prædictis terris auxilia vel operationes aliquas exigere præsumat super meam defensionem.

Concessi etiam iis, ut nullus hominum suorum in terris eorum manentium non capiatur pro alicujus debito nisi pro debitis eorum propriis. Concessi eisdem et confirmavi ut omnes terræ, quas iis dedi, et homines super illas manentes, communem pasturam habeant, cum omnibus vicinis suis, ita liberè, et plenariè, sicut homines, qui in terris illis manebant, antequam illas dederam in elemosinam, et meliùs et pleniùs habere solebant in tempore meo vel antecessorum meorum. Præcepi et jam, ut omnes homines in scira de Aberbrothoc, et de Athyn manentes, qui ipsum molendinum non habent, et eorum homines veniant molere ad molendinum de Aberbrothoc, et non alibi eant molere super meam defensionem. Præterea dedi eis ecclesiam de Inneruys, cum una carucata terræ, quæ dedi eidem ecclesiæ in honore sanctæ Mariæ in perpetuam elemosinam, et cum omnibus aliis justis pertinentiis suis. Dedi etiam iis ecclesiam de Abickerdour; et ecclesiam de Innerbondyne; ecclesiam de Baneffe; ecclesiam de Gamryne; et ecclesiam de Tarways; et ecclesiam de Nug; et ecclesiam de Fyuyne; et ecclesiam de Cula in Marr; et ecclesiam de Katryne; et ecclesiam de Innerlunane; et ecclesiam de Panbryde; et ecclesiam de Fethmeffe; et illas tredecem acras terræ juxta eandem ecclesiam, quas Willielmus Cumyne vicecomes de Forfar eis per præceptum meum dedit; et ecclesiam de Monieky; et ecclesiam de Cuthryne; et ecclesiam de Abirnythy, cum capellis, terris, decimis, et oblationibus omnimodis, cum communi pastura, et omnibus aliis asiamentis, et cum omnibus aliis ad prædictas ecclesias justè pertinentibus: Tenendum in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, ita liberè et quietè, plenariè, et honorificè, sicut aliqua elemosina in toto regno meo liberiùs, et quietiùs, pleniùs, et honorificentiùs tenent et possident. Dedi etiam iis et concessi batellam passagii mei de Munros, cum terra ad prædictam batellam pertinente, cum omnibus rectitudinibus ad batellam et ad terram illam pertinentibus, quam scil. terram Helias clericus meus de Munrosse tenuerat. Tenendum in liberam, puram, et perpetuam elemosinam, liberè et quietè ab exercitu et expeditione et operatione, et auxilio, et ab omnibus consuetudinibus et omni servicio et exactione. Dedi et iis concessi custodiam de Brecbenoch, et terram de Forglint, cum prædicto Brecbenoch, faciendo indè servitium quod in exercitu debetur nostro, de terra illa, et de Brechenoch. Dedi et iis unam carucatam terræ in Monechen, super aquam de Bervyne, quam Willielmus de Munford, et Humphridus de Berkelay, et Walterus Scotus, et Alanus filius Simonis, et alii probi homines mei per præceptum meum eis mensurarunt; Tenendum in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, cum communi pastura et cum omnibus asiamentis ad terram illam pertinentibus, ita liberè, plenariè, et honorifice, et quietè ab occupatione et ab omni seculari exactione, sicut aliquam elemosinam suam liberiùs et quietiùs, pleniùs, et honorificentiùs tenent, in regno meo. Testibus domino Alexandro filio domini regis; Henrico abbate de Kalkow; Willielmo de Bosco, cancellario; Philippo de Valon, camerario; Johanne de Maxuswell; Roberto capellano domini regis, Roberto de S. Germano et Gilberto de Strewelyne clericis domini regis, magistro Martino et magistro Radulpho medicis; Jordano Cumyne; Waltero Cumyne. Apud Selkirke, 25. die Februarii.

Abbey of Dryburgh. in Berwickshire.

THIS Abbey was founded by Hugh Morville, constable of Scotland, and Beatrix de Campo Bello, his wife, in the time of David the First, a copy of whose charter of confirmation and endowment was communicated to Sir William Dugdale by Sir Thomas Balfour. It was situated upon the banks of the Tweed, in Teviotdale. The monks of Dryburgh were Premonstratensians, and were brought from Alnwick, in Northumberland, in 1152. The Church was dedicated to the Virgin Mary. The Irish Abbies of Druin la Croix and Woodburn were considered as daughters of this Abbey.

Dryburgh was burnt and plundered by the English in 1323. King James the Sixth gave this Abbey, with its revenue, to the Earl of Mar, who erected it into a temporal lordship, together with Inchmahomac in Perthshire, in favour of Henry Erskine, the Earl's third son, by the Lady Mary Stewart. This Abbey has been since purchased by the Earl of Buchan.

A Copy of the Chartulary of Dryburgh Abbey, a quarto volume, upon paper, is preserved in the Advocates' Library at Edinburgh. The Harl. MS. 4623, tom. ii. fol. 85 et seq., has a Taxt Roll of Dryburgh, A.D. 1630. See also MS. Harl. 4613.

There are scarcely any reliques of the Church of this Abbey, though there are considerable remains of the Conventual buildings.

Cœnobium de Drybrughe.

Carta Davidis Regis Scottorum, de Dotatione ejusdem.

[Exscript. ab autogr. per. præf. J. Balfoure.]

DAVID rex Scottorum, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, justiciariis, baronibus, vicecomitibus, ministris, et omnibus hominibus totius terræ suæ, Francis, Anglis, et Scottis, et Gallawidensibus, salutem. Sciant, tam posteri, quàm præsentes, me concessisse, et dedisse, et hac mea carta confirmâsse ecclesiæ S. Mariæ de Drybrughe, quam fundavi, et fratribus canonicis ibidem Deo servientibus, pro salute animæ meæ, et pro salute animarum prædecessorum et successorum meorum, ad tenendum de me et hæredibus meis, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam, ecclesiam de Drybrughe, cum capellis, decimis, oblationibus, et omnimodis pertinentiis suis; ecclesiam de Lanarke, cum terris et decimis et omnibus rebus ad illam justè pertinentibus: Et ecclesiam de Pedynane, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis: Et in eadem villa illam carucatam terræ, quam Nicholaus clericus meus de me habuit et tenuit, ita quietè, et liberè ab omni seculari exactione, et consuetudine eisdem fratribus perpetuò possidendas, sicut aliqua alia ecclesia vel ecclesiæ terræ meæ elemosinas suas meliùs et quietiùs tenent et possident; ita tamen, quod in ecclesiis illis officium divinum honestè fiat. Dedi iis insuper landam illam quæ vocatur Caddysleya, cum pastura infra forestam meam, pro salute animæ Henrici filii mei, in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam; et unum manerium in burgo meo de Caruile iis dedi, cum tribus rudis terræ ad illum pertinentibus. Dedi dictis fratribus et iis confirmavi illam terram et omnia ad eam pertinentia, quam Beatrix de Bello Campo de Rogero Janitore emit, et iis in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam dedit. Et illud etiam toftum extra portam occidentalem de Rogesbrughe, quam Johannis capellani fuit, ita liberum et quietum eis concedo, sicut carta Henrici comitis filii mei iis donatum et confirmatum. Concedo etiam et confirmo iis illam terram quæ est inter murum ejusdem portæ, quam Ada capellanus meus iis concessit, et in liberam et perpetuam elemosinam dedit, cum eadem libertate quam eidem Adæ concesseram; scil. ut nullus super plenarium forisfactum meum de illa terra censum aut aliquam omninò consuetudinem quando in burgo advenerit præsumat exigere. Præterea præfatis fratribus concedo ut liceat iis in nemoribus meis accipere ea quæ necessaria habuerint in usibus suis, et ædificiis, ita ut nullus eos injustè disturbet, et ut sint liberi et quieti in omni regno meo de teloneo et omnibus secularibus exactionibus et consuetudinibus, sicut aliqui viri religiosi in tota terra mea liberiores inveniuntur; viz. quantum ad se et propria catalla sua. Volo itaque et præcipio, ut prædicta domus prænominatas elemosinas, donationes, et libertates ita liberè, quietè, et honorificè teneat et possideat sicut aliqua ecclesia in omni regno meo liberiùs et quietiùs tenet et possidet. Testibus Henrico comite filio meo, Ada comitissa sua, Walterus cancellarius, Duncanus comes; Hugo de Morvilla, Walterus de Lindesei; Robertus Avenell; Walterus Ridell; Herbertus camerarius, Nicholaus clericus, Aluinus filius Arkill, Even marischallus, Gillecolme Mackthumpethin, Mackbeth, Macktorphrin, Meuin filius Colbani.

✠ Ego Robertus S. Andreæ episcopus confirmo.
✠ Ego Gregorius Dunkeldensis episcopus confirmo.
✠ Ego Andreas Katenensis episcopus confirmo.

Abbey of Dumfermling.

PENNANT says, This Abbey was begun by Malcolm Canmore, and finished by Alexander the First. He says it was probably first intended for the pious and more useful purpose of a religious infirmary, being styled in some old manuscripts, Monasterium ab monte infirmorum. David the First changed it into an Abbey, and brought into it thirteen monks from Canterbury; but at the Dissolution it supported twenty-six. Its endowments were very considerable. At the Reformation, the revenue, in money alone, was two thousand five hundred and thirteen pounds Scots. Some of the grants were singular: that of David I. gives it the tithe of all the gold found in Fife and Fotherif; a proof of the precious metal being then discovered in streams flowing from the hills. Another from the same monarch invests it with part of the seals taken near Kinghorn; and a third, by Malcolm the Fourth, gives them the heads (except the tongues) of certain small whales called Crespeis, which might be taken in such part of Scotchwater

(the Firth of Forth) where the church stood; and the oil extracted from them was to be applied to its use.

In 1303, Edward the Ist burnt down the whole Abbey excepting the Church and Cells, pleading in excuse of his sacrilege, that it gave a retreat to his enemies. In plain words, because the gallant nobility of the country sometimes held their assemblies here to free themselves from an English yoke. The church, however, which escaped the merciless hands of the invaders, afterwards fell a sacrifice, in common with other Romish establishments, to the blind zeal of the early reformers; and, with the exception of the nave, was entirely demolished in the year 1560. The nave was preserved, in consequence of the Reformers having converted it into a Presbyterian place of worship.

In 1817, the parish church, occupying the nave of the old church, having become ruinous and unsuitable for a place of worship, the heritors of the parish of Dumfermling, and the magistrates of the burgh, came to the resolution of building an entire new church, which was completed in 1820.

Malcolm Canmore, the first founder of Dumfermling, appointed its church to be the common cemetery of the kings of Scotland, in place of the celebrated Iona or Icolmkill, the original place of royal sepulture in the Hebrides. Robert the Bruce was the last of the Scottish sovereigns buried here, in 1329.

A Chartulary and Rental of Dumfermling Abbey, in various hands, from the 13th to the 16th century, on vellum, is preserved in a folio volume, in the Advocates' Library at Edinburgh, The Harleian MS. 4628. contains "Confirmatio Jacobi Secundi Regis Scotiæ omnium terrarum de Dumfermling in speciali et majori forma."

[Exscript. ab autogr. per præf. Jac. Balfoure.]

In nomine Patris, Filii, et Spiritus Sancti, ego David Dei gratia rex Scottorum, authoritate regia, ac potestate, Henrici filii mei, assensu et Matildis reginæ uxoris meæ, episcoporum, comitum, baronumque regni mei confirmatione et testimonio, ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis de Dumfermlinge, prædecessorum meorum, pietatis studio, et largitionis .... omnia subscripta concedo, et pace perpetua confirmo. Patris itaque et matris meæ dona subsequentia propono; hæc. scil. Pardusin; Pitnaurcha; Pittecorthin; Pilbaclachin; Lavar; Bolgin; schiram de Kircaldunt; Inveresc Minorem. Dona regis Doncani fratris mei, duas villas nomine Luscars. Dona regis Edgari fratris mei, schiram de Galland. Dona comitis Ethelredi fratris mei Hales. Dona Alexandri regis fratris mei Prunros, schiram de Gaitmilk; Pitcomarchin; Baltherin; Dunsbinin; Kethe. Dona Sybillæ reginæ Beeth. Et hæc prædicta prædecessorum meorum dona concedo liberaliter præfatæ ecclesiæ imperpetuum cum omnibus suis appenditiis et rectis divisis. Dona denique propria subsequuntur, Dunfermelin citra aquam, in qua eadem ecclesia sita est, Kingoren cum suis appenditiis, qui propinquior est Dunfermlin; Inveresc Majorem, et molendinum, et piscinam, et Suinthetune, et Cresbarrin. Et ecclesiam de Infresc, et Wymet, cum suis rectis divisis. Fotheros juxta S. Andream, cum suis rectis divisis. Et Pethenach cum suis rectis divisis. Et unam carrucatam terræ Petioker. Præterea do et concedo, assensu Henrici filii mei, et pro salute animarum nostrarum et antecessorum nostrorum, in perpetuam elemosinam, Nithbren cum suis appenditiis, et Belcristin, cum suis rectis divisis, in pratis, et pascuis, excepta rectitudine, quam Keledei habuerunt, et habere debent, cum omnibus rebus ad eas justè pertinentibus, sicut datæ fuerunt prædictæ ecclesiæ in dotem die qua dedicata fuit. Præterea do eidem ecclesiæ unam mansuram in Berwick; aliam in Roxburghe; aliam in burgo de Hadingtune; aliam in Edinburge; aliam in Linlithcu: aliam in burgo de Streuelin; et in eadem villa duas ecclesias, et unam carrucatam terræ, quæ adjacet ipsæ ecclesiæ. Et omnem decimam meorum dominiorum in frugibus et animalibus, et in piscibus de propriis retibus. Et etiam in denariis. Et decimam mei Can totius Castensis provinciæ, et mansiones regii presbyteri, ita plenè sicut ipse sanus et incolumis tenuit. Et unum rete et dimidium et unam mansionem in burgo de Dunfermlin, liberam et quietam; et omnem decimationem denariorum firmæ burgi; et decimationem molendini et de omnibus dominiis meis de Dunfermlin; et unam mansionem in burgo de Perthe; et ecclesiam ejusdem villæ; et unam mansionem, quæ pertinet ipsæ ecclesiæ. Et omnem decimam de dominio meo. Omnia autem dona prædicta ita liberaliter et quietè præfatæ ecclesiæ concedo, sicut ego terras meas proprias possideo, defensione regni mei, excepta et regali justitia, si abbas in curia sua aliquem negligentia de justicia decederit.

Concedo etiam octavam partem de omnibus placitis et lucris meis de Fyffe et Fothriffe, et omnem decimam totius mei Can, et brasei de Fiffe, et de Fothreife, exceptis rectitudinibus quæ abbaciæ de Dunkelden pertinent. Et decimam omnium venationum, qui capiuntur inter Lamberemure et Tay; et medietatem coriorum et seporum et sagiminis omnium bestiarum qui occidentur ad festivitates tenendas in Strevelin, et inter Forth et Tay. Concedo etiam ut habeant in nemoribus meis omnia necessaria ad ignem, et ad ædificia sua; sicut mihi ipsi, et hominibus eorum, sicut et meis. Volo itaque ut omnes oblationes, quæ ad majus altare ejusdem ecclesiæ offerentur, sine calumpnia liberaliter habeant, et de Selichis, qui ad Aldkingorne capientur, postquam decimati fuerint. Concedo ut omnes septimos selichos habeant; salis quoque et frumenti, qui ad opus meum ad Dumfermlin allata fuerint omnem decimam concedo. Præterea pater meus et mater mea dederunt ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis parochiam totam Fothreife, et sic concedo. Denique do et concedo, in elemosinam imperpetuum ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis, tractum de Aldstelle, et omne quod justè ei pertinet. Tractus iste datus est in Berwich liber et quietus. Præter hæc et prohibeo ne aliquod namium accipietur super terram vel super homines S. Trinitatis, pro forisfacto alicujus, nisi pro ipso forisfacto illorum. Concedo etiam, quod justè reddantur ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis omne servitium, quod pater meus et mater mea et fratres mei ei dederunt, et omnes sui Cumerlach,[a] à tempore Edgari regis usque nunc, cum tota pecunia sua, ubicunque inveniatur: et prohibeo super meum foresfactum, ne injustè retineantur. Concedo abbati et monachis ut habeant omnes homines cum omni pecunia eorum, in cujuscunque terra fuerint, qui fuerunt in terris die qua oblatæ et datæ ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis. Concedo quoque præfatæ ecclesiæ decimam de omnibus meis silvestribus equabus de Fothreife et de Fyffe. Concedo abbati et monachis ut habeant per totam terram meam theoloneum quietum de cunctis rebus, quas mercati fuerint ad propria eorum necessaria.

Præter ista supradicta, dono et concedo abbati et monachis, ut habeant singulis annis v. mercas argenti ad vestimenta eorum de primis navibus qui venient ad Strevelin, vel ad Perthe. Concedo etiam ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis passagium et navem de Innerkethin, sicut habui in meo dominio; tali conditione, quod peregrinantes et nuntii ad me venientes, et à me redeuntes, et homines curiæ meæ, et filii mei liberi sint in passagio: et si contingat aliquem istorum sine precio transire non posse et abbas indè clamorem audierit, et illud non emendaverit; ut illud ego ipse emendare sine abbatis et fratrum ecclesiæ molestia possim. Concedo et volo quatenus abbas et monachi ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis non respondeant alicui calumnianti de hominibus qui fuerunt in terris die quo oblatæ et datæ fuerunt ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis. Concedo et ecclesiæ S. Trinitatis decimam totius mei Can de Clamanan, abbas et monachi S. Trinitatis citra Lambermure, in tota regia potestate singulis Sabbathis in curia habeant unum corium. Et in sexto Sabbatho habeant duo coria et duas partes de sepo. Et sextam pellem arietum et agnorum. Concedo eidem ecclesiæ dimidiam partem decimi mei de Ergaithel, et de Kentir; eo scil. anno, quo ego recepero indè Can: supra taxatam autem ecclesiam, cum omnibus qui Dei dante clementia, in præsenti sunt præsens testatur privilegium, et optinet, et in futuro eadem adquirere clementia valebit in summæ pacis tuta tranquilitate et ab omni liberè maneat, tam secularis quam ecclesiasticæ potestatis subjectione permaneri decrevimus, excepta sola et canonica obedientia, quam debet unaquaque matri suæ per orbem ecclesia; cujus et jura, in hoc privilegio prænominata et dignitatis privilegia immutilata servare et stabilitate perpetua firmare. Nos qui præsentes sumus successoribus nostris sub hac conditione confirmando mandamus, et mandando confirmamus, ut si quis in ea perturbare voluerit, nostræ defensionis statuta devellere, imminuere et violare contenderit, non ignoret se contra ipsum mundi Salvatorem niti: et ideo nisi resipiscerit, æternæ damnationis sententiam incurrere, eumque Deus de libro vitæ deleat, qui ecclesiæ præfatæ de concessæ potestatis jure aliquid abstulerit, Amen. Fiat, fiat. Hujus privilegii testes assertatoresque sunt, Walterus cancellarius, Duncanus comes, Hugo de Morevilla; Waltero de Lindeseia; Osberto priore de Jedbrughe; Johanne abbate de Kelchow; Isaac priore de Scona; Matheo archidiacono.

✠ Ego Villiel Moraviensis episcopus confirmo.

✠ Ego Arnaldus episcopus S. Andreæ confirmo.
✠ Ego Cormacus Dunkeldensis episcopus confirmo.
✠ Ego Macbethe Rosmarkensis episcopus confirmo.

Balmerinoch Abbey, in Fifeshire.

THIS Abbey of Cistercian monks, transplanted from Melrose, was begun by K. Alexander II. and his mother Emergarda, in 1229, on lands purchased by her for a thousand marks from Richard de Ruele, who resigned this and the lands of Cultreach and Ballendean to her in 1215, for this pious use. Various other donations were bestowed on it; among which may be reckoned Corbie, and Birkill, and its parks, bequeathed by Laurence of Abernethy, because the royal foundress had left him in her will a legacy of two hundred marks sterling. The Preceptory of Gadvan in Fife also belonged to this Abbey; and two or three of the monks also resided on it. The revenues of the place were not large, not exceeding 704*l.* 2*s.* 10½*d.* in Scots money. At the Reformation Balmerino was erected into a Barony, in favour of Sir James Elphinstone of Barnton.

Such is Pennant's Account of Balmerinoch. This Abbey, dedicated to the Virgin Mary and St. Edward, was a structure of considerable beauty. Its remains at the present time are small, situated about four miles above Dundee, upon the Frith of Tay.

A Register of Balmerinoch, a quarto volume, is in the Advocates' Library at Edinburgh. There is likewise a Taxt Roll of this Abbey, A.D. 1617, in the Harleian MS. 4628. tom. ii. See also MS. Harl. 4613.

Abbatia de Balmerinach.

Carta Fundationis per Alexandrum Regem Scotiæ.

[Exscript. ab autogr. per præf. Jac. Balfoure.]

ALEXANDER Dei gratia rex Scotorum, episcopis, abbatibus, comitibus, baronibus, justiciariis, vicecomitibus, præpositis, ministris, et omnibus probis hominibus totius terræ suæ, clericis et laicis, salutem. Sciant præsentes, et futuri, nos ad honorem Dei et gloriosæ virginis Mariæ, et sanctissimi regis Edwardi; et ad exaltationem sanctæ religionis, pro salute nostra et omnium antecessorum et successorum nostrorum; et pro animabus illustris regis Willielmi, patris nostri, et Ermengardis reginæ matrisque nostræ, et omnium antecessorum et successorum nostrorum; quandam abbaciam Cisterciensis ordinis fundâsse apud Balmerynach in Fyffe; vobisque monachis ipsius ordinis ibidem Deo servientibus, et imperpetuum servituris, dedisse, concessisse, et hac carta nostra confirmâsse totam terram de Cultrach et Balmerinach in Fyffe, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, scil. Ballindan, et Ballindard, et Corbi, per suas rectas divisas, et cum omnibus aliis ad prædictas terras justè pertinentibus, quas etiam Adam de Stawell, frater et hæres Richardi Revell nobis ad opus dominæ Ermergardis reginæ, matris nostræ, in plena curia nostra apud Forffar quietas clamavit, et in manu nostra pro se et hæredibus suis per fustum et baculum resignavit. Concessimus etiam præfatis monachis Cisterciensis ordinis, ad fundationem prænominatæ abbaciæ Jethmure in Anegus, per suas rectas divisas, et omnibus justis pertinentiis suis. Et nos et hæredes nostri manutenebimus et warantizabimus prædictis monachis prædictas terras cum omnibus pertinentiis et libertatibus suis imperpetuum contra omnes homines. Quare volumus ut prædicti monachi omnes prædictas terras habeant et teneant de nobis, et successoribus nostris, in liberam, puram, quietam, et perpetuam elemosinam, in terris, et in aquis, in pratis et pascuis, in moris et maresiis, in stagnis et molendinis, in viis et semitis, in salinis et piscariis, et omnibus aliis asiamentis ad prædictas terras justè pertinentibus, ita liberè, et quietè, plenariè, et honorificè, sicut aliqua elemosina liberiùs, et quietiùs, pleniùs, et honorificentiùs, ab auxiliis et exercitibus, tallagiis, toloneis, et omnibus exactionibus, consuetudinibus et serviciis secularibus, in regno Scotiæ tenetur, aut possidetur; ita quod nihil horum omninò præter solas orationes ab eis per totum regnum Scotiæ possit exigi. Teste Andrea episcopo Morraviæ; Waltero Cumym comite de Munintetht; Waltero Olfaril justiciario Laodoniæ, Waltero filio Alani, seneschallo et justiciario Scotiæ; comite Patricio, Henrico de Bull; Thoma de Hay; Johanne et Waltero fratribus suis; Thoma filio Randulfi; Galfredo, et Willielmo de Nethyn, clericis nostris. Apud Clacmannan tertia die Februarii anno regni nostri septimo decimo.

De Cœnobiis Cisterciensium Regni Scotiæ.

[Ex Mænelogio Cisterc. autore Chrysost. Henriquez, ædito Antverpiæ, An. 1630. p. 147.]

FLORUIT in Scotia monasticæ religionis vigor, variisque in locis, inter ipsas rupes, vel abstrusas valles, monachorum cœtus, Dominum in canticis et hymnis celebrantium et collaudantium reperire erat. De aliis alii loquantur; ego nè Cisterciensium ascetarum, et virorum principum, qui nostrum institutum ibidem propagarunt, memoria pereat, monasteriorum Cisterciensis ordinis, origines, et fundatorum nomina, paucis commemorabo.

S. David, Scotorum rex, Macolmi pii et Margaretæ sanctæ filius, ex quatuordecim monasteriis, à se splendidè fundatis, sex Cisterciensi ordini attribuit; nempè MELROSA vulgo MAYLROS, in Marchia, ad Tuidi amnis ripam.[a] MACHLINE, in Cuningamia; NEWBOTLE, in Lothiania; KILFLOS, seu Cella Florum, in Moravia; HOLME[b] in Cumbria; Dundrenam, in Gallovidia, cujus novissimus superior fuit Edvardus Maxvell, filius Johannis Maxvell, cognomento Justi, et Heroici; baronis de Herreis, et frater Willielmi, cognomento Humani; atque Roberti Maxvell equitis aurati.

Henricus, cognomento Heroicus, princeps Scotiæ, filius S. Davidis, et conjux ejus Ada de Warrenia, Gulielmi comitis Warreniæ et Surriæ filia, fundarunt HADINGTON in Lothiania.

S. Macolmus, cognomento Virgo, S. Davidis regis, ex filio Henrico nepos, fundavit CUPRUM in Angusia, MANNELL in Sterlinia, et ABERMORENOCHTON, quod postea regina Emirgarda auxit.

Willielmus rex Scotiæ, cognomento Leo, regis Macolmi casti frater, et uxor ejus Emirgarda de Beumont, fundarunt BALMERINOCH in Fifa.

Dominus Patricius Dumbar, comes Marchiæ, et uxor ejus Agatha, fundarunt COLDSTREAM in Marchia.

Eufemia comitissa Marchiæ construxit propè LAMERMURE, monasterium S. Bothanis.

Altera comitissa Marchiæ, cujus nomen temporum injuria periit, fundavit EGLES in Marchia.

Comes Fifæ fundavit NORTHBERWICK, ubi dominicæ crucis fragmentum, magna cum veneratione asservabatur. Erat autem prioratus, sicut et prioratus quoque fuit Bellus-locus, seu Beaulieu, in Rossia.

Dominus Willielmus Comin, comes Buchaniæ, fundavit DEER in Buchania.

Dominus David Lindsay, baro de Clemeste, fundavit monasterium de ELCHO in Strathernia. Hic cum aliis nobilibus Scotiæ, sancto Ludovico regi Franciæ in expeditione Jerosolymitana se adjunxit comitem; quo in numero primarii fuerunt; D. Patricius Dunbar, comes Marchiæ; D. Walterus Stuart, baro de Dundonald, progenitor Jacobi et Caroli regum Scotiæ et Angliæ; et dominorum Ludovici Amadei, et Jacobi ducum Lenoxiæ, Jacobi comitis Moraviæ, et aliorum complurium nobilium. Adjunxit se ipsis etiam Edovardus Maxvell, baro de Carlaverok, progenitor baronum et comitum Maxvelianæ familiæ; nominatim Roberti comitis de Nithsdale; Johannis baronis de Herreis; Heberti castellani de Kirconell, et multorum aliorum.

Rolandus Macdonal, princeps Gallovidiæ, fundavit abbathiam Vallis-lucis, vulgò GLENLUCE, in Gallovidia, cujus ultimus abbas fuit D. Laurentius Gordon.

Domina Dervogilla Macdonall, filia Alani, Brigantini reguli, fœmina devotissima, fundavit monasterium Dulciscordis propè MITHAM amnem, quatuor millibus passuum ab oppido Dumfrisiæ; hujus cœnobii benefactores fuerunt Maxvelli domini de Kirkonell; qui in vicinia castellum, territorium, et habitationem habent, à Maxvelianis regulis rectè oriundi; cujus loci novissimus abbas fuit Gilbertus Brunus, natalium splendore, variaque doctrina conspicuus, qui nonnulla ingenii sui monumenta nondum in lucem ædita reliquit.

Johannes dominus de Kirconell fundavit SACRUMBOSCUM, seu nemus, vulgò HALYWOD; ex cujus cœnobiarchis fuit Johannes Maxvell filius Maxveliani dynastæ. Ibidem professionem emisisse ferunt Johannem de Sacrobosco, qui librum de Sphæra Astronomica, et aliqua alia opera scripsit. Præter prædicta cœnobia, alia nostri instituti ibidem constructa fuerunt; sed fundatorum nomina non reperio.
